"Long Beach, California.
June 30, 1933.

"Your Committee in the case of accusations against Brother Thomas Grice beg leave to report that the investigation convinces us that there is sufficient evidence of imprudent and unministerial conduct to require trial under the provision of the Discipline, paragraph 269 (d) 'Imprudent and Unministerial Conduct.'"

Walter C. Loomis, D.S.
Will A. Betts,
C. B. Dalton,
S. S. Sampson,
John Nicholson,
C. R. Montague."

The Bishop stated the three methods by which the trial could proceed. On motion of Frank Linder, the Conference ordered that the trial be by Select Number.

On motion of C. C. Seitter, the Conference ordered that this number be chosen by nomination from the floor.

Foochow Area: Willsie Martin for the World Service Council, stated that while $65,000 would be the amount necessary to support that Area, that our contributions for Foreign Missionary work should exceed that, and that in addition to that there should be carried on the other work now supported by designated gifts.

Designated Gifts: On motion of A. Ray Moore the following resolution was adopted:

"Whereas the last General Conference made it obligatory on the Conference Treasurer to list in separate columns in the Conference Minutes the designated gifts for each of the seven Boards, and whereas some of the churches have sent their money direct to the World Service Office, making special designations and when those vouchers are returned to our office they do not show to which Board the designations were made and the lump sum of the remittance was put into the voucher making it impossible for us to comply with the General Conference order on those particular remittances,

"THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That, the Conference Treasurer hereby be relieved of any responsibility for the division of any such vouchers provided however that he show a total equal to the full amount given by each church for World Service."

Unified Financial Program: On motion of A. Ray Moore the following resolution was adopted:

"Whereas financial interests have been in such a chaotic state that it has seemed impossible to carry out any concerted action by way of a unified financial program for the Conference, and

"Whereas the present Commission on Conference Unified Financial Program has been in existence for the past three years and while there has been the finest spirit manifest yet the time has not seemed opportune for this program to be put into effect, and

"Whereas there is still a need that such a program be put into effect whenever it may seem to be practicable;

"Therefore be it resolved, that authority be given to Bishop Baker to name a new committee representing all financial organizations in the Conference whenever he may deem it to be advisable."

Pensions for Local Preachers: On motion of A. Ray Moore the following resolution was adopted:

"WHEREAS, all pensions of Retired Local Preachers were formerly administered by the Board of Pensions and Relief, and whereas the last General Conference took this responsibility from that Board and placed it with the Annual Conferences, and whereas no Endowment Funds have been raised to care for these worthy Retired Supply Preachers and Widows of Retired Supply Preachers, nor can any money be taken from the regular Conference Claimants for this purpose,

"THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That for this year we take an offering to aid these Special Claimants and,

"FURTHER BE IT RESOLVED, That authority be given to the Board of Trustees of this Conference to establish a permanent Endowment that will yield some assistance in this direction."

Board Financial Review: On motion of A. Ray Moore the following resolution was adopted:

"WHEREAS the General Conference extended the privilege to every Annual and Lay Conference to establish a Board of Financial Review, and whereas the duties of said Board are to study the financial conditions and policies of institutions within the Conference who seek financial aid from the pastoral charges, and whereas it provides that this Board shall be consulted by each institution before launching a financial campaign, and whereas in this Conference we have been using the Commission on Finance in a limited capacity for the same purpose,

"THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That we constitute the Commission on Finance as our Board of Financial Review."

Committee On Personnel: Alonzo Reynolds presented the following resolution and it was adopted:

"Because of the experience this Conference has had with overcrowding, a condition that can be relieved and its recurrence prevented by intelligent action based upon an accurate knowledge of important governing factors, such as the probable number of men retiring each year, probable expansion or shrinkage in the number of our churches or other institutions,

"I move that a committee of five be appointed to study the future personnel needs of this conference, to report at the next Annual Conference."

Camp Meeting: J. M. Barnhart called a meeting of the Executive Board of the Methodist Camp Meeting Association and made an announcement having to do with the reorganization.

"There are two mortgages on the Plaza Community Center; one for $8,500 to the Board of Home Missions, and one for $41,500 to the California Bank. Interest on these two mortgages to the extent of about $3,500 is due and unpaid. August First is the interest paying date for the larger mortgage. There are current operating bills, to the extent of about $1500, bringing the total amount needed to $5,000.

"The movement is now under way to raise this $5,000 before August First and several hundred dollars in cash are already in hand and others subscribed, and the work is going forward under a volunteer committee.

"The informal proposal has been made to the Board of Home Missions to cancel the $8,500 mortgage if and when the $41,500 mortgage is paid. Informal assurance has been given by the Board of Home Missions that every effort will be made to arrange this if it can be done.

"A plan is now formulated and volunteer committee organized for the purpose of presenting the needs of the Plaza to the Conference in the Fall, with a view to raising funds for wiping out this indebtedness and clearing the institution so that it will be free to do its work and will not be under the necessity of making further appeals to the Conference.

"This preliminary organization was perfected as a result of the personal interest and solicitation of Bishop Baker, who has made at least one special trip down to Los Angeles in behalf of the project, and will be making others."

Orders of the Day. The following Orders of the Day were fixed on motion of the Secretary, to follow the report of the Old People's Home: Group Insurance, Good Will Industries.

Phillips, J. W. Robinson, C. J. Shepherd, Roy L. Smith, Mrs. Silas Sprowls, R. Zurbuchen.

Aptitude Test: Frank Toothaker presented the following resolution and it was adopted:

"Because it becomes increasingly important that young men shall be well advised concerning their life work, and that our Conference shall be both supplied with efficient ministers and guarded against misfits,

"I move that this Conference undertake a study of the usefulness and dependability of aptitude tests as indicators of probable success in a chosen vocation, with special reference to the possible value of such tests in guiding young men into or away from the ministry, and that a committee of five be appointed to make and report such a study at the next Annual Conference."

A recess was taken.

Reception and Address to the Class: The class to be received into Full Membership was called to the front, consisting of the following: Celso L. Acosta, Harold E. Broughton, Casiano Castorena, Carlos E. Lopez, Alfredo R. Macias, John B. McGee, Fletcher H. Scharer, Joseph H. Thompson.

Seated with the Class were the Undergraduates.

The hymn, "Jesus, the Truth and Power Divine", was sung, and the Bishop spoke to the class, the address in part being as follows:

"I consider the purpose of this hour to be to give the Chairman of the Conference an opportunity to share with his younger brethren his convictions in regard to the ministry and fellowship of the Conference into which they are entering.

"Several months ago I heard the presentation of the Laymen's Inquiry report in New York City. It was made by Professor Hocking, one of the great philosophers of the world today. And in the midst of that report he said, 'I am a hot believer in the necessity of the church.'

"Are you a hot believer in the necessity of the church? And do you have underlying reasons for your belief? Do you think that the church is indispensable in the life of society and the individual?

"We support the church because of the unquestionable good which comes through the church, because of the ideal that shines through the church.

"Father Terrill remarked one day, 'The question is not what kind of a church have you belonged to, but what kind have you longed for?'

"You are a Methodist. Have you any convictions in regard to the Methodist Episcopal Church which have led you to choose to work in its ministry rather than the ministry of some other church? We ought to examine ourselves in regard to matters of this sort.

"You will soon answer the question as to whether you have studied carefully the doctrine and polity of the Methodist Episcopal Church and believe in it. If you don't, you ought not to come into the Annual Conference, least of all to accept a place of responsibility in it. There are men who are apparently in the Methodist Episcopal Church in order that they may be a part of the wrecking gang.

"There are many men young or old, who are thoroughly socialized in their philosophy these days, but thoroughly individual in their practice. This is one of the blind spots of men who are socialized in thinking, many of them. There is a lack of sportsmanship. I charge that there are many men in the Methodist Episcopal Church today who simply are not good sports. They have claimed to come into the team but they are not a part of the team.

"If you are going to use a hammer, build something! That is a good motto.

"You are a minister in the Methodist Episcopal Church. Why a minister at all? There are tests and standards which will help those who are looking toward the ministry, to find out whether or not they are adapted to the work of the ministry.

"The old idea that a man having given his heart to the Lord, he must serve in the church in the ministry or some specialized field of church life is a wrong idea. We need men whose hearts are consecrated to service, in all walks of life.

"Sometimes a man has gone into the ministry because he feels that he could be a Christian more easily that way than in other walks of life. That isn't a reason for going into the ministry.

"I am always sorry when I hear a man speak apologetically about his ministry. I have heard a man say that 'when I am in a group of people I hide it as much as I can'. I have no apology to make. I am proud of the ministry. But I never hang my head in shame. I cannot conceive of a loftier calling, and it is my conviction that if a man is a man—I mean if there is genuine, sincere manhood in him—he very soon discovers that there is far more recognition than he deserves, because of the fact that he is a minister.

"I remember a sentence from Chesterton, 'There are no uninteresting things, there are only uninterested people.'

"Certainly the ministry is not uninteresting.

"What are some of the qualities needed in a minister in the Methodist Episcopal Church at this present time?

"I am very sure we cannot overstress the importance of intelligence. There is great danger of men dying at the top.

"I share Mr. Wesley's opinion that a man has no business in the ministry if he doesn't give time to reading. We have got to know our time, the currents of thought and feeling. How can we preach to a time that we do not know?

"We need to have thought out way through to the place where we have great convictions.

"I should like to say to the laymen sitting here today that I hope you will give your ministers freedom and support them. They may say some new things to you. 'For some men there was nothing like the pain of a new idea.' Don't be afraid of the new ideas that come through your ministers. We have a tradition in the Methodist Episcopal Church of freedom in the pulpit.

"We must restate our beliefs in the light of present knowledge and in the vocabulary of the present day.

"I hope you will be interesting in your preaching. That is a quality much needed. I do not mean that you ought to move on superficial lines.

"It is a great thing for us to study other men, different types of preachers, through their books, and when we have opportunity, to hear them.

"I am of the opinion that we ought to do a great deal of reading outside of what you might call professional reading.

"We ought to try to be as effective in our style as we can. I do not mean pretty. But we ought to seek to know good English and use it effectively.

"Study the way Jesus used words. He knew the secret of speech.

"I hope you will be urgent. A quality that is much lacking in the ministry of today—A passion.

"It is the business of the ministry, like Jesus to enter into the deepest recesses of the mysteries of the world. If there is the quality of experience, there will be increasing effectiveness in our ministry.

"I haven't wanted to exhort you. I have wanted to say to you, though, some of the things that to me seemed important for my ministry, for your ministry, for the life of the church today."

The Disciplinary Questions were asked and by vote of the Conference, the Class was received into Full Membership in the Conference.

"Blest Be the Tie That Binds" was sung.

Introductions: The Bishop introduced the following:

J. Randolph Sasnett, Director Wesley Foundation, University of Washington; D. L. Coale, pastor of the Methodist Church South, of Long Beach, and Professor Paul A. Schilpp of the College of the Pacific, and Official Delegate of the California Conference, who extended greetings.

The announcements were made and the Conference adjourned with the benediction.

State Church Federation: The report of the California State Church Federation was read by Field Secretary Ralph W. Bayless and was also discussed by Dr. Guy Wadsworth, Moderator of the Presbyterian Synod.

Periodicals. Roy L. Smith presented the following report of Special Committee on Periodicals and it was adopted.

"It is not too much to say that we are living in a world completely new which seems to have little or no connection with the world into which we were born. The problems which we were trained to meet are not the problems we are compelled to meet. The sins against which we were warned are not the sins which have swept us off our feet. Our pastors face congregations of people completely bewildered, both in their economic thinking and their religious interpretations.

"In the face of this unprecedented situation the minds of Christian people are being made up by unchristian, or non-christian influences. Pagan opinion is being substituted for Christian idealism because our people never hear the Christian position expressed outside the pulpit, and the Christian preacher finds his position tragically weakened because he seems to stand alone.

"The hope of the church is in an informed membership. We believe our church papers are rendering service of incalculable value, but, like the preacher, their usefulness is limited to their hearing. It is impossible for the editor to secure a larger hearing, without the aid of the pastor. And the pastor can render no greater assistance to himself than in building up a body of Advocate readers. We strongly urge every pastor to give himself with abandon to pushing the church papers this year.

"We suggest that each pastor appoint within his membership this year one person who will serve as book-agent for the congregation. Such an agent, with the assistance of the pastor, could select six or seven books of devotions, sermons, etc., and make a personal canvas of the entire membership selling as many as possible and in other ways stimulating the reading of religious literature.

"We strongly urge the organization of a 'distribution service' in each church, composed of boys who will, under proper guidance, distribute tracts and religious literature from house to house. In this connection we call the attention of our ministers to the new leaflets being prepared by our own publishing house, samples of which can be obtained from Dr. John W. Langdale, 150 5th Ave., New York.

To Dr. Edward Laird Mills and to Dr. W. E. J. Gratz we extend our word of great appreciation for their services as editors of the Pacific Christian Advocate and Epworth Herald, respectively, and assure them of an increased support during the year ahead."

"Since we understood that an effort is being made to influence the World Service Commission to declare that only fifty per cent of World Service giving may be designated to World Service causes, we take the following action:

"This Conference declares its belief that such an action would contravene and nullify the spirit and intent of the legislation of the last General Conference on designation of funds and it declares its purpose to be guided by that legislation and designate as completely as individuals, charges and the Conference may determine.

"But we reaffirm the actions already taken by this Conference to protect and maintain the established quotas from this Conference to the respective Boards of the church."

Commercializing Sacred Things. Bede A. Johnson presented the following resolution and a division of the question having been called for, each section was adopted separately and the resolution as a whole was adopted.

"Because of the widespread practice of the business world in using the ministry and the sacred things of the church to advertise their business,

"Be it therefore resolved by the Southern California Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church:

"First—that we urge our ministers not to allow themselves to be used in broadcasting or otherwise in any kind of religious services if these are sponsored by or controlled by business that will directly or indirectly reap advertising benefits therefrom.

"Second—that we vigorously protest the use of the sacred music of the church in connection with business advertising.

"Third—that we consider the use of the great pictures and art of the church by commercial institutions as advertising reprehensible and should be rebuked by the church.

"Fourth—that we advise the discontinuance of our churches and pastors in the participation in Easter Sunrise Services where the services are sponsored by or held on the premises of commercial institutions."

Willsie Martin requested that he be recorded as voting "No" on the first section.

Group Insurance. C. V. Gustafson presented the following resolution and it was adopted.

"Because there is a real need of inexpensive life insurance for the men of the Conference, and

"Because there is a possibility that the present group insurance plan may not be permanently feasible, and

"Because there is likewise a need of inexpensive life insurance for both active and retired ministers and also for laymen of our church,

"We instruct the present group insurance committee to study the possibility of mutual or cooperative insurance for all members of our Conference and for lay members of the church and to bring in a report next year at the Annual Conference session."

Supply Pastors. On behalf of the Board of Trustees, F. G. H. Stevens stated that there were four claimants who were entitled to support as retired Supply Pastors or widows and an additional offering was needed to cover their claims. An offering was taken which amounted to $225.30.

Pro Rating. M. S. McGee read the following report of the special committee on prorating and it was adopted:

"This report is an attempt to express the findings and the recommendations of your committee in the matter of the pro-rating of ministerial support. Our investigation reveals a serious decline this year in all forms of ministerial support due obviously to falling incomes upon the part of our church membership. It reveals also a serious failure to pro-rate with the result that the various forms of ministerial support have been received in the following proportion:

Pastors	86%
District Superintendents	80%
Conference Claimants	75%

We find it impossible to carry out the pro-rating at this conference because of salary conditions affecting ministers where pro-rating has not been carried out. Instances are revealed where pastors receiving but meager support themselves have borrowed money in their effort to pro-rate and thus observe the law of our church.

"We recommend therefore, in order that the Conference Claimants Fund for this year may be increased at least $4\frac{1}{2}\%$ by the amount of \$4050, thereby bringing it up to $79\frac{1}{2}\%$ to the average for all forms of ministerial support, an offering and pledges be taken from pastors and laymen present to be paid within thirty days after the adjournment of Conference.

"We further recommend that when the Conference Treasurer sends out the estimates for the coming year a letter be also enclosed to be read by each pastor at the first official board meeting and then turned over to the local church treasurer, emphasizing both the law of our church in the matter of pro-rating the items of ministerial support, as well as the importance of monthly remittances to our Conference Treasurer.

"We also call attention of this Conference to paragraph 90 of our discipline reading as follows:

"In each Annual Conference, the Bishop presiding shall inquire of each Pastor if he has carried out the Disciplinary plan for the support of the ministry and the Benevolence Causes; and of each District Superintendent, if he has required the pro rata distribution of the moneys received for Ministerial Support and has urged in the Quarterly Conferences the collection in full for all the Benevolence Causes."

"And we further urge that this Annual Conference shall observe paragraph 340, Section 3, constituting its Conference Stewards a committee on pro-rating ministerial support for the purpose of examining the records of amounts paid on ministerial support by the pastoral charge, computing the pro-rata distribution thereof and keeping a permanent record of the defaults, and with authority to make proper adjustments.

"We would finally urge upon the Conference the utmost loyalty to the spirit of this legislation."

On motion of H. W. Peck it was ordered that the statistical columns carry both claim and amount paid for Conference Claimants, if there is space for the same.

Methodist Emblem. W. C. Eddy presented the opportunity to order the new Methodist emblems.

Equalization of Salaries. E. W. Stricker presented the following resolution and it was adopted:

"We believe that the great disparity in salaries that creates the consciousness of professional levels, grades or classes in our Conference is one of the major hindrances to a deeper spiritual life and a sincere brotherly feeling. We further believe that the present rating system often makes it impossible for our administrators, when making appointments, to put men in the places where they will render the greatest service to the Kingdom and to the Church. We also believe that it is impossible for our ministers to speak consistently in condemnation of the un-Christian economic order with its extremes of wealth and poverty as long as any of our brothers are in desperate need, while others receive salaries which more adequately provide for their needs. In view of these facts we recommend that the Fellowship Fund Committee be instructed to study the systems now in operation in the Scotch Presbyterian, Wesleyan Methodist and Roman Catholic churches in our own Foreign Missionary Board and in any other organizations which have as their ultimate aim remuneration according to need and appointment with the ideal of service paramount, and that they bring in a report with concrete proposals for action at the next session of the Southern California Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church."

Social Problems. On motion of Gross Alexander the officers of the Social Service Commission were made the Committee on Social Problems, etc.

Conference Statistics. C. E. Leitzell gave some interesting figures of the amounts raised by the Conference during the past years for pastors' salaries and Conference Claimants apportionments.

University Church. On motion of W. C. Hodgson the following were appointed as Committee on University Church: C. M. Crist, Owen C. Coy, E. J. Inwood, Bruce R. Baxter, and the pastor.

A recess was taken.

Following the call to order a devotional service was held, consisting of hymn, prayers and solos.

The Bishop took the chair at 11:08.

Hardy A. Ingham. On motion of E. J. Inwood the Bishop was requested to appoint Hardy A. Ingham as Executive Secretary of the Conference Claimants Endowment Fund.

Committee on Committees. The Cabinet reported the following nominations for the Committee on Committees and they were approved: John Gabrielson, H. H. Hocker, E. Dow Hoffman, Richard N. Merrill, R. R. Detweiler.

Triers of Appeals. The Cabinet reported the following nominations for the Triers of Appeals and they were approved: S. S. Sampson, D. Roland Martin, Leo C. Kline, A. J. Hughes, W. C. Buckner. Reserves: H. K. Holtzinger, W. C. Hodgson.

Transfers. The Bishop announced the following Transfers:

To the California Conference: R. Zurbuchen, R. E. Farley, Herbert Brooke.

From the California Conference: William Rogatzsky, R. E. Orr, and F. H. Prince.

Arthur Chalfant. Question 38 was asked and the following note was ordered:

"Arthur Chalfant left in the hands of the Triers of Appeals."

Resolutions: Frank Webber read the report of the Committee on Resolutions.

The Secretary put that part of the report dealing with the presidency of Bishop Baker and it was adopted.

The remainder of the report was adopted. (See report).

On motion of C. O. Kimball it was ordered that after the reading of the appointments the Conference should adjourn sine die.

The Bishop spoke of the difficulties of administration especially because of the adjustment of charges in the change from six to five districts, and expressed his appreciation for the fine helpfulness of all.

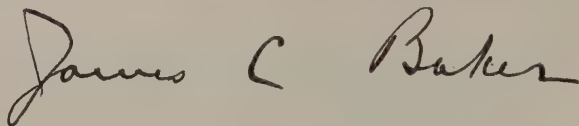

The hymn, "O Master, let me walk with Thee", was sung.

The appointments were read, including those of the Deaconesses and the Conference adjourned with prayer and the benediction of the Bishop at 11:58 p.m.

(The minutes of the sessions of Friday morning, Saturday morning, Saturday afternoon, Sunday afternoon, and the three sessions of Monday were examined and found correct.

J. E. DUNNING, Chairman,
Committee on Examination of Minutes).

We certify that the foregoing is a correct and official record of the proceedings of the Southern California Conference at its Fifty-eighth Annual Session.

Organization Session of the Lay Conference

The second annual Lay Conference of the Southern California Conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, was called to order June 28th, 1933 at 3:30 p.m. at Long Beach, California, by its President, Mr. Wilmot T. Smith.

A committee on credentials was appointed by the chair, Mr. Clark Standiford being named chairman.

The chair also appointed a committee on nominations.

After a roll call it was moved that the members responding be certified to the Secretary of the Conference as accredited members; the list also to include those later accredited by the committee. Seconded and carried. Secretary instructed to prepare such a list.

The Nominating Committee tendered the following report:

For President, Wilmot T. Smith; Secretary, Mrs. Tray LeRoque; Treasurer, G. L. Mowry.

Moved that the report of the committee be accepted and the nominees be declared elected. Seconded and carried. They are elected.

Report of the treasurer showed a balance on hand of $3.40.

There was discussion, a motion and several amendments, all relative to some action to be taken, or recommendations made to the end that members might be returned one or more times, the thought being that it was difficult for a member to be fully appreciative of his duties and privileges if in attendance at only one annual conference. Motion tabled.

Moved that the chair be empowered to appoint at least one man in each district as his assistant or the assistant of the credentials committee. Amended: "add a man or woman." Seconded and carried.

The following were appointed: Chas. Robinson, Dr. Ben R. Crandall, I. J. Reynolds, W. R. Stewart, and Franklin Robinson.

Motion to adjourn.

Adjourned Session

At a special called meeting of the Lay Members, held at 12:15 p.m., Thursday, June 29, 1933, the following action was taken on motion of Adna W. Leonard, Jr.: "that a Legislative Committee be appointed to consider such matters of conference legislation as will be voted on in united session and to provide, if possible, opportunity for preliminary discussion and information; and empowering the chair to appoint such committee."

The following were named on the committee: Adna W. Leonard, Jr., Clark Standiford and M. J. Bicknell.

The chair was also authorized, by vote, to appoint a nominating committee to name officers to be elected at the next annual session. Following members were named: E. L. Bandy, chairman; Dr. Agnes Edmonds, Guy Jaggard, Mrs. R. D. Brown and E. H. Gibson.

VI

Reports

(a) District Superintendents

ARIZONA DISTRICT

Roger Babson predicts that when the economic horizon brightens Arizona will be one of the first localities in the country in line for expansion, and why not, with her widely varied and undeveloped resources? The last frontier of the Pacific Basin!

It has been a good year in the churches. We have sounded "The breadth and length and depth and height" of the love of Christ. It is no idle talk, but a real conviction, to say that the pastors of the district are bigger, better and holier men than they were twelve months ago and while there have arisen difficulties, many, there has been such universal success in surmounting them that we do not have the disposition to attempt to recount them. It has not been unusual when some pastor has been handed his decimated missionary check to have him come back and say to me, "If there is some other fellow who needs this more than I do, you pass it on to him."

The parsonage personnel has been blessed with abounding health, with but few exceptions. Brother S. J. Lindsay's family has been under the shadow of great affliction during the whole year. Both Mrs. Lindsay and the daughter Elizabeth have been very near the gates of the Eternal City.

There have been no births, no deaths but, we have made a gain in statistics by one marriage. Harry Branton has added Mrs. Thomas L. Handy Jr. and her charming family to the parsonage residents and the congregation at Prescott has received them with enthusiasm.

Extensive improvements have been made on our property at Prescott. New furnishings have been placed in the parsonage and both church and parsonage have received several coats of paint which gives the whole plant a new dignity and attractiveness.

The Yuma Church was similarly brightened and the men folk of the congregation have made the lot back of the church into a splendid playground for both old and young.

First Church Tucson was beautified by the addition of a charming fountain and spacious patio. This was the gift of Brother and Sister C. R. Montague in memory of their lovely daughter Electa who went to her eternal home from the parsonage at Fullerton. Bishop Baker, on behalf of the church, accepted and dedicated this gift. The church is making a heroic struggle to get from under the burden of a debt that is altogether too heavy, but notwithstanding the disturbing influence of financial concern, the things that matter most in church life have been steadily advancing.

Some worth while things have been happening at Williams, the gateway to the Grand Canyon. The re-modeling of a building, which was proposed to be used for a dance hall, is steadily going forward and is being changed into a really creditable and commodious Church School plant and Social Hall. A large part of the carpenter work has been done by the pastor. If some benevolently minded person would pass us a check for six or seven hundred dollars this worthy and much needed undertaking might be quickly completed. Williams is now a four point circuit and covers a territory of four thousand five hundred square miles. Just now the church has the additional responsibility of ministering to two government re-forestation camps within her borders.

Somerton has enjoyed a period of house cleaning and the results are a more inviting and pleasant church and a satisfied and happy congregation.

The parsonage was not forgotten and by the touches of some fairy has been transformed into a very comfortable and attractive home. Plans are already under way for temporary relief of the Church School which has completely outgrown its present quarters.

At Douglas the parsonage was renovated and some furniture purchased which was an exceptionally good way to make the new pastor and family feel at home. It has been really a remarkable year for this church. The Sunday night service does not seem to be a serious problem for at the hour of evening worship it is not uncommon to have the capacity of the building taxed to the limit.

The Glendale Church, which has never defaulted in its regular payments on its debt has, in a most friendly and cordial manner, been given a three years' moratorium on the principal. This will give the congregation a breathing spell until times are improved.

Tempe has had a delightful year in the Wesley Foundation unit. The enthusiasm and devotion of a large body of college young people so bound to the church in Christian fellowship is beautiful.

Mesa has been advancing. They have improved the grounds and re-conditioned the Social Hall.

First Church Phoenix has painted the basement and the young people of the Church School have carpeted and draped the Beginners and Primary rooms.

Garfield Phoenix has had a year of sane, wholesome and continuous revival. The Woman's Aid Society carries the banner for the highest per cent of financial gain over last year.

Two of our hardest hit churches, Bisbee and Hayden, have taken great comfort in sending in their Conference Claims in full.

Holbrook has the faith to be working on plans for a new church building.

A year ago conditions at Ajo were reported so hopeless that no pastor was appointed to that field. The people who remained by the stuff felt most keenly the need of public worship and so agreed among themselves not only to continue the Church School but to conduct one worship service each Sabbath, selecting a leader from among themselves. They carried on for five months and then an honored retired member of this Conference, John Nicholson, without the promise of a dollar, agreed to go over and shepherd these loyal and devoted people. He has endeared himself to the whole town and has baptized ten and received forty-five persons into church fellowship. Twenty-nine of these coming on confession of faith. This would seem to be a fairly good piece of work for a retired brother.

The outstanding victory in temporal matters on the district was at Globe. On behalf of the pastor and church I wish to express our most sincere appreciation to the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension and to the pastors and churches of this Conference, who, through their designated gifts, made possible the cancelization of a mortgage for fifteen thousand dollars which was bearing 10 per cent interest, and likewise the liquidation of six thousand dollars of unsecured local debts. I doubt if any church in Methodism has ever had to struggle with a more unwise and unjust financial burden than has the church at Globe.

Some very practical improvements have been made on the property during the present year. Mr. E. E. Buffum of Long Beach presented the church with a set of beautiful Velour Drapes for the large window just back of the pulpit. Relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Ira B. Childs, who passed into the beyond early in the year, placed an Illuminated Cross within the sanctuary, in memory of these loved ones. The apartment house, owned by the church, which has been a constant challenge to the minister to dare to preach a social gospel, has been razed and the ground it occupied is being put in shape for a playground for children. The revolving loan of $5,500 made by the Board of Home Missions was on the condition that we did not sell this tenement house but wreck it and consecrate the space it occupied for the happiness and welfare of little children. The Presbyterians knocked at our door, which was gladly opened, and for six months our pastor has been serving both congregations.

The visit of Bishop and Mrs. Baker to Arizona was an occasion of delight and profit to our people. They were with us for ten days and these friends of ours traveled by automobile over fifteen hundred miles. They visited the Painted Desert, the Petrified Forest, Meteor Crater, the Cliff Dwellers and the Grand Canyon. Eight special dinners and luncheons were attended. The Bishop gave twelve addresses, one of these being to the general assembly of the State Teachers College at Tempe. He contacted all but eight of the churches on the district and attended a District Meeting, the pastors all being present.

The Epworth League Institute, this year, was a distinct success. One hundred and ninety-five young people were registered. These, with the faculty and other attendants, made this one of the largest Institutes Arizona has had.

While the whole district has been doing well under the serious conditions with which we have all been confronted, yet there are some future projects in this great territory that ought, in the interest of the Kingdom, to have consideration in the immediate future. Yuma and Chandler at this hour have an unquestioned opportunity of taking the leadership of these respective towns, if they can secure adequate accommodations to properly minister to the municipalities. But for the serious losses of our own people, which in some instances has meant their all, both of these points already would have had new buildings under way. This Conference could do no finer piece of Christian statesmanship than to divide some of its missionary funds with these two vitally important points of our Arizona work.

We are deeply grateful for the brotherly love and assistance that has come to us from the California churches. We are under special obligations to R. N. Merrill and the congregation of First Church, Long Beach, and it is with inexpressible sorrow that we witness the disaster that has befallen this city.

We are glad to offer this word of cheer to our Bishop, that not a church on the Arizona District is asking for a change of pastor this year.

Out in the abandoned copper mines of Arizona a new life is springing up for the unconquerable soul of man is at work digging and finding gold. And so out of the destructive and discouraging moral conditions which engulf us may it not be that we shall turn from the pursuit of the grosser elements of life to the finer, purer and more precious.

The statistics of this unit of our Conference do not bulk large but we have lived and loved and labored and we leave the results with Him who also, "loved us and gave Himself for us".

WILL A. BETTS.

FRESNO DISTRICT

Whatever has been achieved on the Fresno District this year is due to two things; first of all the splendid spirit of co-operation in carrying out the district goals as worked out at the beginning of the year, and secondly, to the individual initiative of the pastors in supplying a program adapted to the local needs. We believe we have had a program but it has left ample place for individual initiative.

The evangelistic program this year has been carried on for the most part without the assistance of outside evangelists, the pastors co-operating and doing their own preaching through exchanges. I have myself conducted evangelistic meetings for rather brief periods in seven charges of the district.

The visit of the Oxford Group to Fresno and other California points has made itself felt in the lives of both ministers and laymen. Not a few ministers will come to Conference this year with changed motives and attitudes. Whatever criticism one may have for the movement, none can question the sincerity and the reality of what has happened to many of our ministers and laymen. Several men have said to me, in substance, "I never have gone to Conference with such utter unconcern as to what was going to happen to me personally."

We have this year emphasized the unifying and clarifying of the religious educational program throughout the local church. J. L. Corley has given special attention to the Fresno District, visiting most of the charges, giving valuable assistance in at least making a beginning in this respect. Mr. James McGiffin has greatly strengthened the Alliance of the Epworth League organization and registered real progress in working out the new set-up.

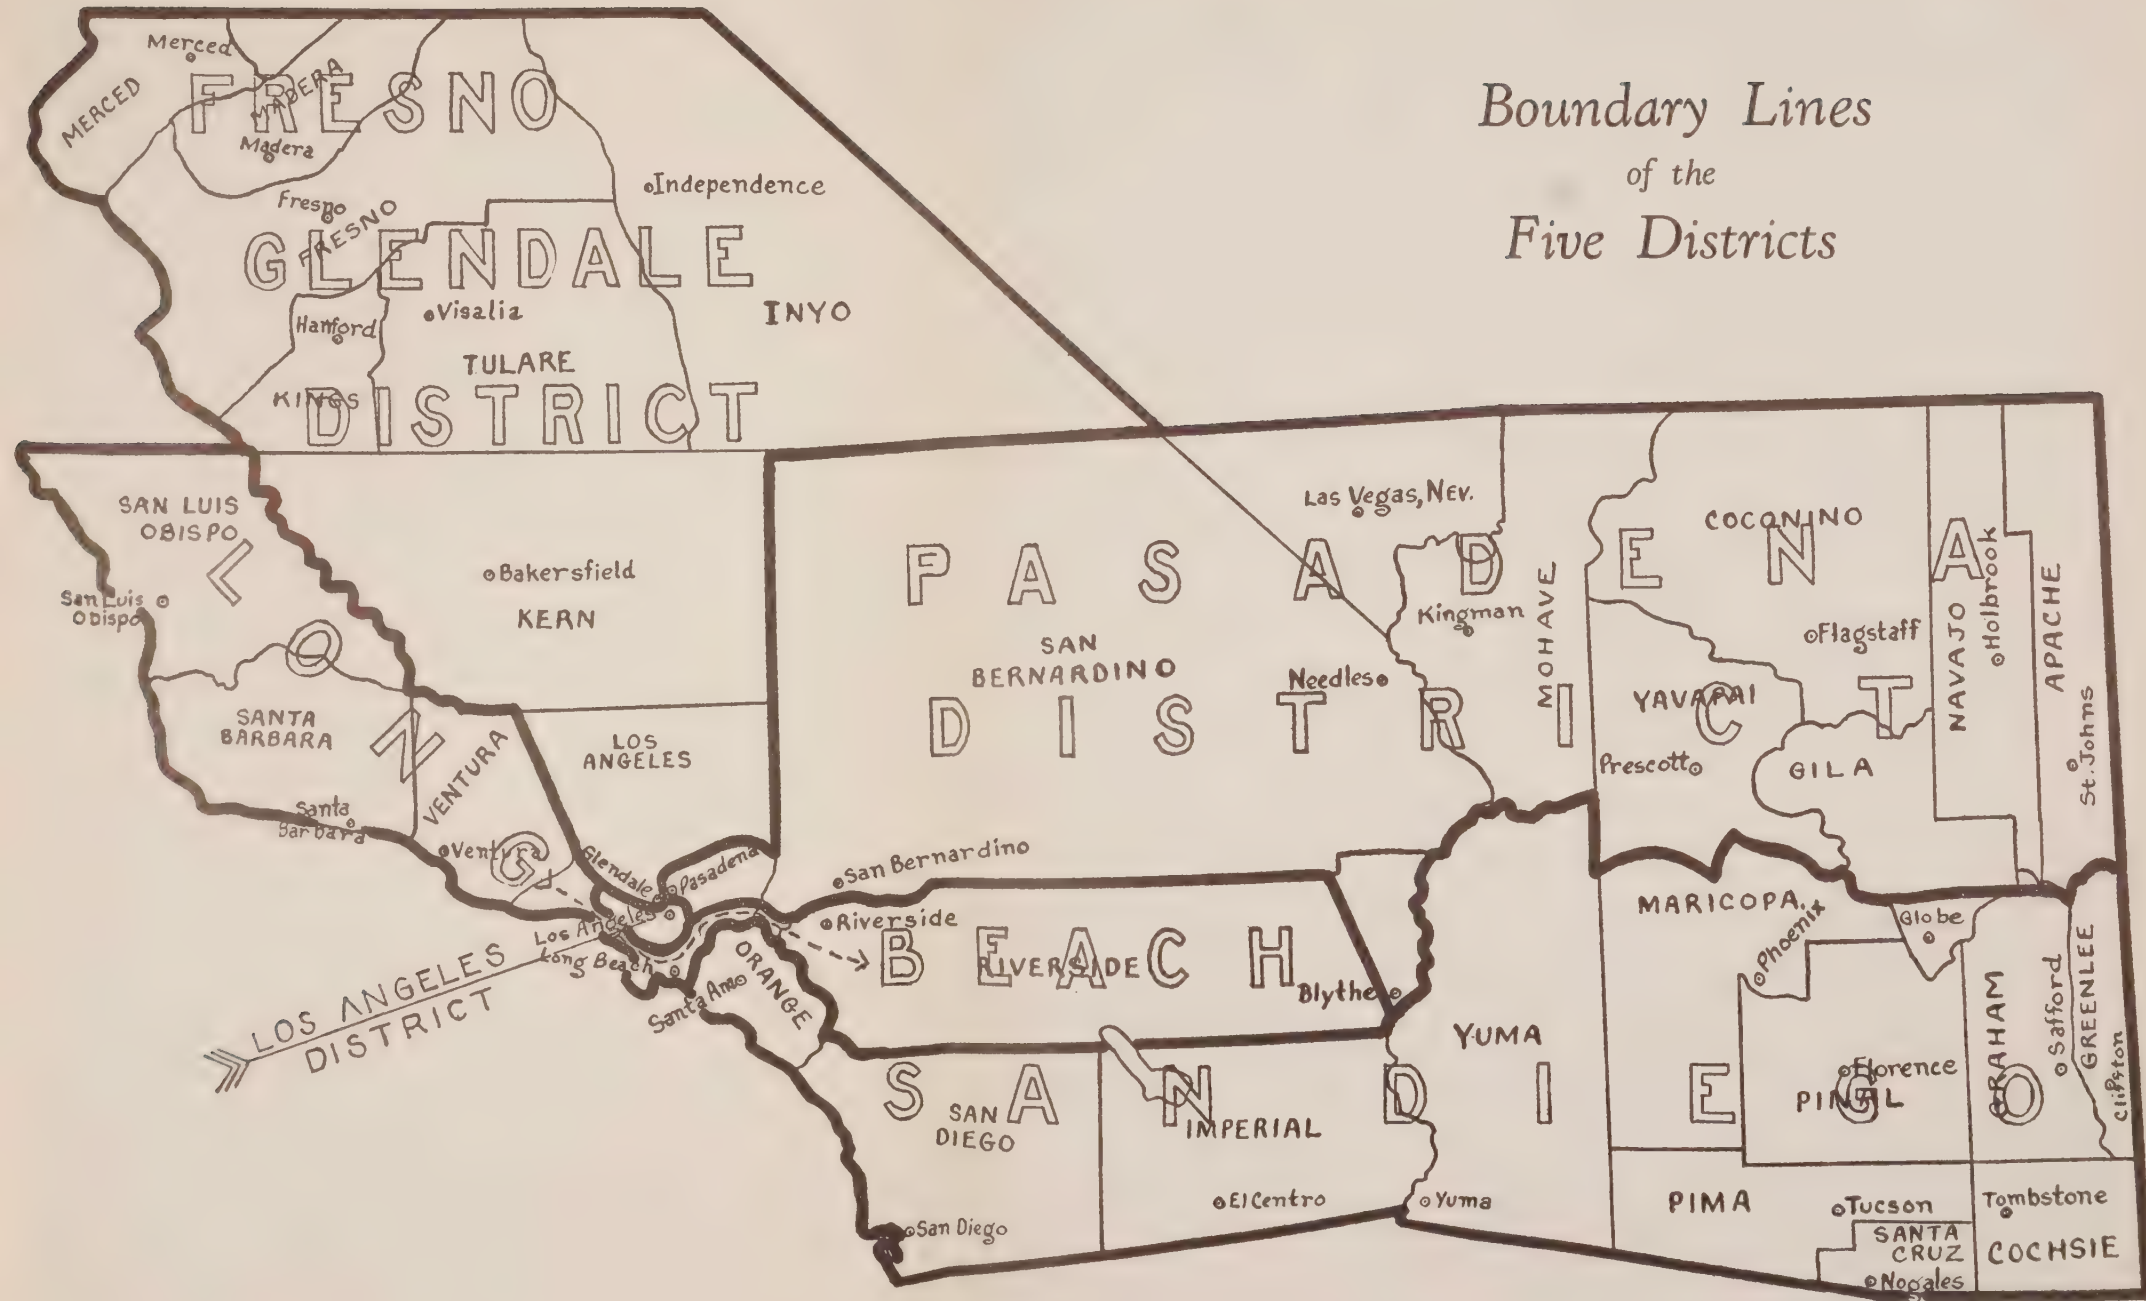

World Service has held a deep interest through the use of the Parish Abroad plan and special projects in the home field. Bishop Edwin F. Lee was with us in the fall for a series of four sub-district meetings. Through his stimulating presence and the co-operation of the Foreign Board and missionaries and nationals in Sumatra, we believe there is a deeper and more spontaneous interest in our world-wide task. While there has been a decrease of 15% over last year in our giving, yet we believe, in the light of economic conditions, that this is a real achievement, to have had no greater decrease.

Space does not permit of a statement regarding the very trying economic and financial situation and perhaps it might not profit us much to review these facts. In spite of very discouraging circumstances, ministers and their churches have carried on in a spirit that is most enheartening. Knowing what has happened to our people financially we can only marvel that they have so uncomplainingly and heroically carried on.

With insurance money from the fire at Carruthers, a comfortable house has been bought just opposite the site of the church and a splendid new church plant far superior to the old plant is in process of erection and will be ready for dedication soon, without a dollar of debt.

On Sunday, May 21, while we were holding the Randsburg Quarterly Conference at Inyokern, the church and parsonage at Randsburg caught fire and were completely destroyed. Bother and Sister Ovall suffered the loss of all their personal possessions. Only a small amount of insurance could be carried because of the great fire hazards but plans are under way for rebuilding church and parsonage. Randsburg is one of the few remaining typical mining towns of the old pioneer days. The old church was a land mark with rich association of the early days. Many could not restrain tears when the bell tolled its death knell as the old bell tower tottered and fell in flames. Increased mining activities make it imperative that we rebuild at once as we have the sole Protestant responsibility throughout the entire Randsburg region. We shall require assistance from outside and bespeak the sympathetic consideration of the Conference. Randsburg is to be one of the approved projects under the Home Board for the coming year.

Fire in the church at San Joaquin wrought heavy damage but fortunately adequate insurance has put the building in much better condition than before the fire.

First Church, Fresno, has again this year met its obligations in full on its bonded indebtedness. This church has in addition to its local and benevolent budget paid in the past three years on the indebtedness, including interest, the sum of $43,112, and this at a time when the most gilt-edged bonds in the valley are being reported in default.

First Church, Bakersfield, has during the year rewritten its subscriptions on the building indebtedness on a two-year basis to the extent of $12,800. Some of the smaller churches have experienced considerable difficulty in keeping open but none has closed; in fact, two churches have been added—Tipton and Armona. Armona has been listed as abandoned property. When we proposed that the church building be moved to Carruthers a large group of people met to utter protest, promising the re-establishing of services. The recent Fourth Quarterly Conference reported an average attendance at the Sunday School of 75, with an enrollment of 100, and morning and evening preaching service of from forty to sixty. I recommend this to my colleagues as an effective technique for bringing a dead church back to life.

Trinity Church, Fresno, put on an intensive campaign to raise $6500 on indebtedness and while the goal was not reached in full, it will be possible through certain modifications and readjustments to validate the subscriptions. This splendid achievement of Trinity is one which seemed a year ago quite impossible.

Fresno Methodism: Last year in our report we set forth rather fully the situation at Trinity Church, Fresno. A new chapter is now being written involving all of Fresno Methodism. With three Methodist Churches located in overlapping territory, forced into active competition, each church with a burdensome debt and with insufficient population to support it, we have been compelled to seek some new basis of operation.

Under the leadership of Bishop Baker we have had several conferences during the year, as result of which we have worked out a program for a federation of First Church, Grace Church and Trinity Church into a Fresno Parish. According to this plan there will be one Quarterly Conference and one Official Board, one Membership Roll, one Unified Budget for Local Expenses and Benevolences, with one Every-Member Canvass carried on under a composite finance committee. For the present each unit will administer its capital indebtedness under a separate Board of Trustees.

The parish is to be administered under a single pastoral leadership, with an officially related staff. The pastor of First Church will be head of the staff, and the pastors of Trinity and Grace Churches his associates. Each pastor will be responsible for preaching services and pastoral oversight of the congregation worshipping in his particular unit. All matters of correlating and unifying the program of pastoral work and activities will be carried on under the direction of the unified staff.

In this plan it is recognized that the care of the student life at Fresno State College shall be the major responsibility of the pastor at Trinity Church. This plan has been approved by Bishop Baker and adopted by the Quarterly Conference of the three churches involved and definitely comes into operation upon the adjournment of this session of the Annual Conference. The purpose of the plan is to eliminate the spirit of competition by removing its cause and to unite the force of Methodism in Fresno for a concerted and statesmanlike approach to our common problems. Its success will depend upon the sincerity of the efforts of the co-operating congregations in carrying out the plan and upon the harmonious relationships of the personnel of its leadership. This plan is frankly experimental in its form of operation and will need to be worked out in detail as specific situations arise. The groups involved believe that this is one way out—that we have crossed the Rubicon and that the future of Fresno Methodism is at stake. If we can successfully operate the plan we believe we shall be able to save not only our property but what is of great significance, unify and consolidate our forces. We believe that the hearty and enthusiastic support with which it has been launched gives promise of a bright future.

One of the outstanding events of the year was the visitation of Bishop Baker, who spent an entire week travelling into the remotest corners of the district, from Atwater to Bishop and Randsburg, when he visited no less than 45 churches, spoke in four sub-district meetings, preached on several occasions and held many informal conferences with practically all of the ministers of the district. We fully realize that it was a hard and trying trip for Bishop Baker but one that was genuinely appreciated by both ministers and laymen.

Death has not visited a single parsonage home but the messenger of life has brought three lovely daughters to gladden the homes of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Cliff, Brother and Sister Bruce Ellis and Brother and Sister Harold Cunningham. One of the rewarding features of the life of a district superintendent is his associations with his fellow ministers and their families. He can stand with fortitude all the long-range bombarding from across No-Man's Land so long as he has his own "buddies" who believe in him and stand with him in the thick of the fight. We have truly had a glorious year. Thank God we have not been working for money, else we should have been poorly paid. I count this one of the richest years of my ministerial experience and have no doubt but it has been in many respects one of the most rewarding years in the ministry of every man on the district. We thank God for a victorious year.

LEONARD OECHSLI.

LONG BEACH DISTRICT

Some of our parsonage folks have been sick during the year; Wilfred Kent, Daniel Dundas, Paul J. Kluth and J. B. Soules have taken time off. Mrs. A. C. Abbe has spent several months in the hospital. Mrs. E. J. Bradner continues to fill all the duties of a pastor's wife from a wheel chair. Don Ford, who was appointed last year to Whittier shortly after a major operation, has continued to convalesce and is now doing full time duty.

During the past year death has broken the ranks of the Long Beach District only among those in the retired relation, taking Mrs. Arthur Chalfant and W. T. Butcher. After years of suffering the spirit of Brother Butcher was relieved of the burden of a broken body.

The depression continues to show itself in a lack of parsonage babies; only one addition arrived this year, a fine baby daughter at the home of Brother and Sister Carter at Moorpark. Kemp Winkler and wife got one by transfer from a Northern Conference. Both father and mother are doing as well as could be expected.

A continued illness of more than three months will compel the retirement of Wilfred Kent. His final years of service among the people of Lompoc will ever remain a benediction.

Two exchanges of pastors were made during the year: Raymond E. Marshall came to be the pastor at Redondo in exchange for Ray Willing Smith, and the place of Walter W. Ralph at Canoga Park was taken by Fletcher Homan.

The spirit of most of the churches has never been better; only a very few suffer from pessimistic strangulation. The fidelity of the preachers during this most trying year cannot be surpassed anywhere.

I shall not attempt to give any totals in statistics as the report given by the Superintendent seldom coincides with the final figures of the Conference minutes.

Your Superintendent has conducted during the year thirteen weeks of revival meeting, spending Sunday and the entire following week at each of the following churches: Ventura, Oxnard, Simi, Moorpark, Tujunga, San Fernando, Burbank-First, Magnolia Park, Roscoe, North Hollywood, North Los Angeles, Sherman Oaks and Chatsworth. Three more weeks were planned, including Van Nuys, Sepulveda and Canoga Park, but the series was cut short by the earthquake and the needs at Long Beach.

The outstanding event of the year on the Long Beach District occurred at 5:55 P.M. March 10 when one-fourth of the churches suffered from the shake-down which ruined millions of dollars worth of property and took more than 100 lives. The churches injured were: Huntington Park, Lynwood, South Gate, Compton, Seal Beach, Hynes, California Heights, Atlantic Avenue, Maywood, Artesia, Grace, Belmont Heights, East Long Beach and First. The damage ranged anywhere from demolishing the plaster to the entire destruction of the church. We wish to express our appreciation for the hearty response in the emergency collections taken the first Sunday after the quake in the churches of the California and Southern California Conferences. The value of a church paper was proven in this emergency. Edward Laird Mills visited the scene of the quake personally and gave generous space in the Christian Advocate. Some of the damaged churches assumed their own loss and accepted no help. With the collections provided, the need of every church has been met with the exception of Atlantic Avenue, Grace Church, First Church and East Long Beach; East Long Beach lost its building which cost $65,000, leaving them nothing but a hole in the ground and an $18,000 debt. The quake shook off everything but the mortgage; it will take in the neighborhood of $25,000 each to repair Grace Church and First Church. The Quarterly Conference of First Church has very graciously relinquished any claim for help. A plan to secure aid for the other churches will be presented later in the session. The earthquake brought many lessons of sacrifice and brought out the best side of human nature as folks passed through this new experience. Neighbors got acquainted with each other as they camped in the public square and drank out of the community coffee pot. Soon after the quake the city was rocked with a gigantic explosion taking nine lives. The spirit of the city is shown by the automobile agency on American Avenue who have had their plate glass windows demolished four times in six months: first, by the high wind; second, by a big truck; third, by the earthquake; and, fourth, by the explosion. Long Beach will replace its plate glass as many times as they are smashed and will restore its institutions as may be needed.

The two conspicuous debt reductions are at Santa Barbara and San Pedro, the former reducing its major debt $9000 during the year. They have reduced from $104,000 to $64,000 in four years; San Pedro reduced this year $7000. Their decrease has been from $65,000 to $35,000 in four years. New church buildings are being started at Maywood and California Heights. Maywood has sold part of its property and can now see daylight ahead. Plans have been completed for a new church at North Long Beach. The churches at San Luis Obispo and Chatsworth have been made to look like new by excellent paint jobs.

The young people have carried on their work with the usual enthusiasm, holding a fine annual convention at Santa Barbara. The Woman's Home Missionary Society, the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society and the Woman's Aid continue to function successfully. The extent of their labor cannot be recorded in any ten-minute report. The Annual District Meeting held at San Luis Obispo was an inspiration to the city and an uplift to the pastors who attended. Our own Bishop Baker was the principal speaker.

Among the interesting items that might be culled from the year's work are the following:

The Woman's Aid made 68,000 calls and turned in 6500 Goodwill Bags.

The pastor at Chatsworth raised the money to paint the church and then climbed the ladders and helped do the work.

Fletcher Homan showed himself friendly to one who was not a member of the church and was voluntarily given a check for $500 to pay the entire church debt interest for a year. E. J. Inwood had his sermon topic already announced for the service of Earthquake Sunday. His topic was "Things That Cannot Be Shaken." His church was practically unharmed while other churches in the vicinity were shaken down. Leo Kline has been such a good pastor since the quake that he has lost only nine members from the congregation, although it has shifted about from place to place and has had no permanent home. R. N. Merrill, pastor of our great First Church, has continued to be a friend of all and on account of his previous experience in the hurricanes of Florida was able to render much fine service. Douglas Ewan made 2800 calls during the year. On the day following the quake he made 100 calls. A greater part of the relief work at Watts has been in the hands of George Richmire. The interior of the church at Moorpark has been entirely rearranged; it now looks like a church. Last year a petition was sent in from Sepulveda asking for the return of the pastor, signed by every member of the church but one—who had writer's cramp. She has recovered and the request is unanimous.

The Relief Committee of First Church, Santa Monica, expended $980 in supplies and cash. The "Happy Hunts" at Bardsdale have resulted in many conversions among young people. The average attendance of the Sunday School at Hynes has increased 40%. The largest per cent in gain of church membership on the district was at North Los Angeles—42%. The pastor has his Retired Relation and is past his three score years and ten. A pretty good example for some younger men.

Following is the report of members received during the year by all the churches receiving 25 or more: Sepulveda, 25; Artesia, 25; North Los Angeles, 26; Torrance, 27; Ventura, 28; Sherman Oaks, 28; Van Nuys, 29; Venice, 29; Maywood, 29; Santa Monica, 33; Chatsworth, 35; Compton, 36; Santa Maria, 36; Burbank-First, 41; Whittier, 42; Lynwood, 43; Redondo, 47; Santa Paula, 49; Belmont Heights, 55; Canoga Park, 57; Inglewood-First, 59; Grace-Long Beach, 86; Santa Barbara, 91; First-Long Beach, 104; Huntington Park, 111; San Pedro-First, 120. And topping the list—North Hollywood, 130.

I wish to express my very hearty appreciation for the sympathetic help of Bishop Baker, who has measured up to every requirement, helping us in our earthquake needs, visiting throughout the district and giving wise counsel on every occasion.

WALTER C. LOOMIS.

LOS ANGELES DISTRICT

The greatest difficulties of the year just closing have been encountered in the field of finance. It has been with increasing difficulty the local budgets have been met, and in many instances mid-year adjustments have been necessary. The banks have been most cooperative in helping our churches to work out their capital debt problems, and there have been no foreclosures upon any church.

There has been much comment as to the total of debts on churches in the Los Angeles District, amounting to $1,017,000. Of two of the largest churches of other major denominations in the city, one has $334,000 capital debt, and the other $690,000, or a total of $1,024,000 on two churches, as against $1,017,000 on thirty-eight Methodist Churches. As soon as times warrant we must have a campaign for the purpose of reducing these church debts.

One pastor in his annual report to the Fourth Quarterly Conference said: "We are still three jumps ahead of the sheriff." And this same pastor paraphrased the eleventh chapter of Hebrews thusly: "What shall I more say? For time would fail me to tell of the devoted ones who through faith endured tiresome sermons, wrought wonders, obtained pledges, stopped the mouths of hungry men and women—with food, quenched the violence of criticism, escaped the sheriff's warrant, out of weakness were made strong, waxed valiant in the good warfare, and turned to flight armies of fears."

The Boston Herald a few months ago, in an editorial entitled "Churches in the Storm," stated that statistics indicate that churches are weathering the economic storm better than secular enterprises. In the last three years the ratio of failure among the industrial concerns of the country has been one in ten. Among the 54,000 churches of six leading Protestant denominations, the ratio has been one in 2,344. For making comparisons of contributions for religious purposes, showing a favorable condition, the editor concluded: "It is not at all unlikely that various churches will come out of the depression stronger than they were in a period of prosperity. The number of large donations may dwindle. The grand totals may be smaller. The activities of the organizations will therefore be curtailed. But, with more members contributing, the foundations will be firmer. A wealthy congregation dominated by a small number of liberal givers may be inferior in various ways to a less wealthy one where everybody lends a hand."

We have come through the year far better than any of us had dreamed. These ministers have been real leaders, and the people have rallied and have given sacrificially of time and of talent and of possessions. There is a better fellowship, a finer morale, and a more satisfactory cooperation. While the prayers have been majoring in petition for spiritual prosperity, they have seemed to be answered.

The Lenten period was generally observed. In several churches evangelistic meetings were held and home evangelism programs were conducted. We joined with the other denominational groups in the city, under the City Church Federation, with pre-Easter programs, which culminated on Easter with the addition of thousands of new members added to the Protestant Churches. A most impressive Communion Service, inter-Church, was held on Good Friday morning, with over three hundred ministers participating.

There has been one change in pastors, in the middle of the year, when Roy L. Smith, after a twelve-year most successful pastorate in Simpson Church, Minneapolis, succeeded Elmer E. Helms at First Church. He has gripped the situation thoroughly from his first service in October, and the year is closing most splendidly. Brother Helms, after his twelve remarkable years in that great pulpit, is asking at this Conference session for the Retired Relation.

J. H. Durbahn, a leader in German Methodism and in the merger of the German Conference with the Southern California Conference, who has been for the last nine years the beloved Superintendent of the Pacific Old People's Home, and having a total of forty-seven effective years in the ministry, is asking at this session for the Retired Relation.

No effective minister has passed away during the year. Following a long period of illness, Jean, the beautiful daughter of Brother and Sister W. C. Hodgson, stepped across the threshold into the Eternal the latter part of January. Memorial Services for Geo. F. Bovard were held in the Wilshire Methodist Church September 27, 1932. His name and that of the University of Southern California are almost synonymous. The widows of two members of this Conference—Mrs. Harriet Parker Haywood and Mrs. S. W. Carnes, have passed away. Shortly after Conference last year a former member of this Conference, successful pastor and District Superintendent, Dr. Byron H. Wilson, died suddenly in this city where for so many years he labored. The mothers of Willsie Martin, Mrs. Alonzo Reynolds, and Mrs. R. Zurbuchen passed away during the year, and also the brother of M. W. Beckwith, and the father of J. E. Dunning.

Among the many laymen who have ceased to labor and gone to their reward, we mention three, who have meant much in their leadership and fine results to the Kingdom and to the church during their lifetime: Frank H. Ballinger, John Huber and William Knickrem.

The parsonage homes of John W. Robinson and wife, and Wendell L. Miller and wife, have each been blessed with a little girl.

S. A. Thomson, still hale and hearty, celebrated his ninety-first birthday on May 12, receiving the felicitations of his many friends.

It is most encouraging that in this year when we thought we would have great difficulty in maintaining our work even on a minimum basis that we have been successful in two enterprises. The first one of these, which has been on the program of the City Missionary Society for the last three or four years, is the Robertson Boulevard Community Church. The sanctuary unit has been completed, and the old building has been repaired and remodelled so as to make it fairly useable for Church School and social purposes. This new sanctuary is certainly a model in modest priced building. The cost was $6,500. I only wish we had sufficient funds to finance two or three more such projects in key sections of the city which would normally be allocated to the Methodist denomination. The dedicatory services were held on Easter Sunday, with Bishop James C. Baker in charge. The church is showing a healthy growth, and gives promise of being one of our strong organizations. The pastor, Virgil Wesley Cazel, is to be highly commended for his splendid leadership.

The other project is the Sunset Community Center, at 1001 Sunset Boulevard, to be a branch of the All Nations Foundation. Our old Epworth Church property which has been an eye sore and source of grievance to us for years, is right in the center of the section of the city which has the highest percentage of delinquency. By action of the City Missionary Society, Superintendent McKibben has gone forward organizing his committees, and the work of renovation and installation has begun. On June 13 fifty civic, social and religious leaders sat down to a luncheon to inaugurate this project. I think it is fine that we are able, as a denomination, to furnish this opportunity for spreading of these helpful agencies. The City Missionary Society, the Los Angeles Rotary, Kiwanis, Exchange and Friday Morning Clubs are participating in furnishing and equipping this new Center.

During the month of May, the Twelfth Anniversary of the founding of All Nations was celebrated by over six hundred who participated in the Anniversary banquets. The All Nations Foundation and the Church of All Nations have been steadily progressing throughout the years.

The All Nations Clinic, with seventy-two physicians, dentists and optometrists voluntarily giving of their time, made available thirty thousand services to individuals. The All Nations Boys Club, with its 1040 members, is the center for the life of the boys in the area it serves. The Community House, caring for women and girls above nine years of age, is the one bright spot in many a girl's life in the community. The Child Welfare Clinic supported by an unknown donor, is being widely quoted by leaders in this field. The All Nations Children's Department, carried on by the Woman's Home Missionary Society, renders fine day-by-day service. Over 750 individual children are cared for during each year in kindergarten, manual training, story telling and Bible classes. Thirty-five people have been received on probationary membership and nineteen received into full membership, and fourteen baptized during the past year.

Under the leadership of Bishop Baker we have set up in each Methodist agency a committee for the purpose of consummating in the very near future coordination of all these groups.

And what we say concerning the work of the pastors and of the churches, we also would say concerning the Epworth League, the Religious Educational program, the Wesley Foundation and Religious Conference, the Woman's Societies and the Brotherhoods. They have all wrought well.

Before the World War, Professor Harnack in Germany said—"If darkness shall ever come over the world, and God and every spiritual virtue grow dim, it may be that the personality of Jesus will save us."

JAMES LEWIS GILLIES.

PASADENA DISTRICT

Ten minutes is too brief a period in which to picture the acts of fifty apostles and twenty thousand believers. The reporter is compelled to choose what phase of the work he will present. In general, reports have dealt with financial and kindred matters. Such will be printed in the Minutes. I do not in the least reflect on the importance of them. I hold them sacred. Money represents life given, and its use, therefore, is expressive of personality, and personality is central.

I asked the preachers and members to tell me of their personal interviews in which they sought to lead people to Christ and the church or into a deeper religious experience. Much can be presented without violation of the proprieties though time forbids more than a few examples.

A man whose name has been a household word over Southern California was in hospital. He had three afflictions: a broken leg, too much indulgence in strong drink, and a suit for divorce. The Methodist preacher went to see him. "I am glad you have come," said the patient. They talked of the accident and other matters. "Perhaps you do not know of my other trouble," said he. "Yes, I know," answered the preacher, "and that is the reason I have come. I thought you might like to talk to someone." He thanked the preacher and said, "My broken leg will heal, but what can heal my broken heart?" That was the open door for which the minister had been waiting. He boldly entered it and fervently presented the genius and power of the Great Physician of souls to that man's blessing.

A distracted and trouble-ridden man came again and again to one of our pastor's study seeking a way out of a divided and defeated life.

"The Cathedral of the Foothills"—Upland

He found it in the Man of Galilea, who said, "I am the Way." But it took months of patient and skillful counselling by that pastor.

One minister told me that at least a thousand people had poured their troubles into his sympathetic ears this year.

One college student heard his pastor preach on prayer, and said to his mother: "I've got to have it out with that preacher if I am to go to church." He did and is now an excellent worker in the church.

A pastor sensing the spiritual hunger of a family went to their home to win them. All the members of the family were out save the man. The preacher carried the battle daringly and skillfully to the very citadel of his soul. After discussion and some passages of Scripture read from an old family Bible they knelt in prayer, and the prayer of the penitent was heard. Later the other members of the family were won.

When one of our preachers opened his study door in response to a knock, he was confronted by a high school student who wanted to know how a young person was going to find a sure standard of living when all the moral standards of our day seem to have tumbled into utter confusion.

A member of an official board sought out his pastor to confess that he had held a resentment against him and that he was divided, dissatisfied, and defeated. When two frank souls get together something worth while is bound to happen.

One of our pastors met a man on the street and fell into conversation with him. He soon sensed a hunger in that man's life. He went to that home and led the whole family to God and the church.

Some of our preachers are skillful in evangelism on the golf course, and one of them has won several men to yield to God and invest their lives in the far-flung enterprises of the church. One man thus won is a retired executive of a world-famous business concern.

An ex-superintendent of schools of one of our greatest cities was approached by one of our preachers on several occasions. Finally he came to the study for a serious interview and there yielded himself to Christ and has since united with the church.

Two women working side by side in an orange packing house, one a Christian, the other not. The Christian brought her neighbor to Jesus.

The members of the Welfare Committee of one church won several families to Christ and membership in the church.

An employer of many men spoke to one of his employees about the defeated moral life of another man. The employee opened his heart and confessed that he was himself living a sinful life and was sick of it. He said his conscience had been stirred by his employer's Christlike life in business. Like Andrew with the Greeks, he brought him to Jesus.

Not the thief on the cross, but a bootlegger dying with tuberculosis, was sought out by one of our pastors. He fervently held before the needy heart of that prodigal son of God the redeeming grace and power of Jesus. The pastor says there is no doubt of his conversion, and then adds, "His childhood training helped."

This recital should be enough to excite the Bishop, the superintendents, the pastors and the laymen of this Conference to vow before Almighty God their determination to give this phase of their work its right and proper place.

These preachers have been Father confessors to thousands. Their personal interviews have been the most fruitful of all their activities. They have opened the Door of Life to many a soul, and have pushed it wider for many who were entering; they have comforted the dying and the bereaved; they have helped some to escape prison and to be given another chance to go straight; they have gone after sheisters who have robbed helpless and unsuspecting people of their property and compelled them to return it; they have paid utility bills to prevent the turning off of gas and light and thus have saved homes from cold and darkness, one pastor, at least, spending $400 of his salary to relieve distress. They have saved young women from selling their bodies to buy bread, and young men from the destruction of strong drink; they have saved families from wreckage by setting the feet of husbands and wives in new paths of mutual understanding and responsibility; they have steadied many who were losing faith in God and man; they have lifted some out of that black well of despair which ends in suicide; they have looked into the depths of hearts that were beaten by sin and have led them into that experience which the Master described when He said, "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God." They have given to some a new comprehension of the meaning of a Christian social order; they have fed the hungry, visited the prisoner, and clothed the naked; and I think the Master is saying to them, "Blessed." These apostles of Jesus Christ had nearly four thousand interviews.

Many of our pastors witness to a new and vital reality and power of God in their lives. "This has been the year of years to me personally," writes one. "I have been changed. Your Retreat in Monrovia started it. Then Oxford. Then—oh, many things. My home circle is changed. My children remark on a changed Daddy and upon their own change. The Lord has had a time with this preacher, but I think He has been having a bit more success lately."

These preachers report that they have read 703 books during the year, which is an average of 14 each, and that they have made over twenty-seven thousand calls.

Death did not invade any of our parsonage homes, but it laid determined hands on Frances M. Larkin, who was Secretary of the California State Federation. He joined the Southern California Conference in 1888 and early took his place as a leader, filling the pastorates of several of our strong churches, the superintendency of the Los Angeles District, and, for ten years, the editorship of the California Christian Advocate. He had an active mind and was virile in debate whether spoken or written.

After fifty-one years of fruitful ministry Alfred Inwood seeks the Retired Relation. Not a man that hears this but feels a tug at his heart, for he has become a tradition in this Conference. Many men have come and gone during the last half century, but we had begun to think that he would go on forever, and now he asks for retirement. For nearly forty years every young man who has joined this body has had the good fortune to come under the advice and guidance of this rare man of God. In its heart of hearts this great Southern California Conference rises and says along with God, "Well done, Alfred Inwood—Good Minister of Jesus Christ, Scholar, Brother, Gentleman, Christian."

This report closes with expressions of deep appreciation of the co-operation of the pastors and churches, the hospitality of the parsonage homes, and with profound thanksgiving to Almighty God for His love and care.

CHARLES F. SEITTER.

SAN DIEGO DISTRICT

A new world spirit is changing all things and making all things new. Surely the call of God is now as of old time to Go Forward. We have felt this new world spirit the past year throughout the length and breadth of the San Diego District, and, with a hilarious optimism, pastors and laymen alike have labored to make the spirit of Christ regnant and dominant in all the areas of life and in all human activity. All year long this superintendent has kept before his imagination the glorious spirit and effectiveness of the Freeborn Garretsons, Peter Cartrights, Jesse Lees and Francis Asburys, and has called upon the pastors and people to preach God and righteousness and judgment and the power of God unto salvation has given by faith in Jesus Christ.

We started the year by a series of group conferences in which we studied and accepted the Kingdom Program as handed down to us by our constituted authorities.

We followed up these conferences with a series of rallies in various sections of the district—Santa Ana, Riverside and San Diego in which Bishop and Mrs. Baker were with us and gave to us lavishly out of their rich experience in the leadership of the churches. These were most effective gatherings and created a new feeling of comradeship and a spirit of holy daring.

Bishop Baker conducted a memorable retreat for pastors only, during his visit at Riverside, which we made homey for him by giving him the heaviest snowfall Riverside has ever known. Roy L. Smith, attending the Institute of International Relations at the time, unexpectedly dropped in on us and spoke to us also in a challenging way.

At this meeting by the group study method Bishop Baker and the brethren agreed on these as among the chief guiding principles in our work of Christianing the world: The invincibility of God, the worth of human life, the lordship of Jesus, prayer, confession of sin to God and the leadership of the Spirit.

In high heart we went forth from that mountain top experience and all the year through we kept the fires of evangelism burning on the district. We report this year, received on confession of faith and into full membership in the church 824 new members, about a 5 per cent increase. Evangelists McIntire, Meade and our own Bob Young have given good service along special evangelistic lines. Many of our pastors have made full proof of their ministry in their own charges as evangelists, while some of the pastors have exchanged services. The Brotherhoods have been heard from, the Oxford Group have done much good among our pastors, and the Epworth Leaguers have been instant in season and out on the Christian way of life. Jim McGiffen has just returned from a fruitful period in the southern part of the district.

I need not press the fact that this has been a difficult year financially and has called for retrenchment. The trouble is that you can go such a little way with retrenchment. It isn't in the church as it is in politics. There wholesale murder or destruction, cutting away is in order. The trouble is too often in our church enterprises when we think of cutting back we get to cutting down. Mergers are in order at times but our supreme need now is a resurrection. Jesus came to give life and that is in order with his followers now. We doubtless can improve our methods and we may need new tools and there is such an animal as a budget. But the question, "Why the Budget?" is always in order but always should be secondary and hardly ever is! Our need now is not the figurehead but a new head, a new way of looking at things, Christ's way, a new heart; not so much money as a spiritual resurrection, not a recovery of old methods but the recovery of life.

And so on the San Diego District we have suggested to estimating committees and finance committees that they keep within bounds, keep modestly in the background and we have given ourselves to prayer for light, vision, new life, new heads, new hearts, new churches, new programs, a new power to serve. There is so much you cannot buy with money.

All over the district we have preached this doctrine in private conversation with both laymen and preachers and in official conferences and for hours after the adjournment of our routine meetings and on Sundays as well as week days and the response has been encouraging.

Were there time we could bring you many interesting stories. Suffice it to say that we have put finances in a secondary place with the result that we have come to the end of the year in fairly good shape financially and with a new morale. My report is based upon facts sent in as of June 20 and those facts show that, taking in supply charges and feeble appointments as well as charges at par right across the district our deficit on the salaries of all our pastors, supplies and regular pastors alike, is less than 17 per cent or not more than 7 per cent below an ordinary year, or about $17,000. You might call this our deficit but we have made it the sacrificial gift of our pastors to the cause. So that there is not a cent of deficit on the entire district so far as pastoral claims are concerned and our laymen have matched the spirit of our pastors by not making any cut backs in salaries, of preachers, always small enough, God knows. But three churches in the entire district have cut back at all. Our laymen are aiming to give the pastors a comfortable living and sympathy and understanding and our pastors are determined to give a fuller measure of inspiration and spiritual service.

Only 16 charges will report any deficit on current expenses and of that total $13,000, more than half of it is on defaulted interest on property claims.

We have paid on property indebtedness in addition to interest $8377 and on improvements $11,835, not counting expenditures of $200 or less—Coronado, $1300; Escondido, $1600; National City, $360; First-Riverside, $425; First-San Diego, $1100; First-Santa Ana, $650; Santa Fe Springs, $3900; new parsonage, Wintersburg, $1100; La Mesa, $1400.

We have received financial gifts as follows: Hemet for educational work, $6500; Chula Vista, for parsonage, $500; Newport Beach, two properties valued at $5000; Point Loma, $2000. Newport Beach has signed up a lease for its old property for $3000, making a total cash gain of $17,000.

Special Features—January 1, Newport dedicated the first unit of its new building at a cost of $22,000. This was made possible by the generosity of one of our outstanding Methodists who took our pledges and put up his cash. This church serves the five communities about Newport Bay just as does the Union High School, Russel Stroup, pastor.

John Ashley, by almost superhuman efforts, has raised $1000 in cash from the discouraged group at Park Boulevard, San Diego, and with $2000 from World Service designations has refinanced that beautiful and strategic plant, saving a foreclosure, adding 74 new members.

Some Special Notations—World Service: This year the report as of June 20, $24,888, a loss of about 17 per cent.

Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, $15,974—gain.

Woman's Home Missionary Society, $10,670—7 per cent loss over last year.

Ladies' Aid Calls, 53,308; pastors' calls, 33,919; personal calls in special visitations, Fullerton, 12,000; Park Boulevard, 4400; grand total of calls reported, 103,727. Of the Aid calls—First-San Diego, 8000; Orange, 6755; Asbury-San Diego, 4760. Goodwill Bags, 1783.

Every pastor on the district has given a full measure of sacrificial service and has been eager to do his utmost for the Kingdom. Every pastor's work has something distinctive about it and but for limitation of time necessarily placed on these reports I would be delighted to give these incidents in the acts of the modern apostles.

Death has not invaded any of our parsonage homes but Brother and Sister Crawford Trotter have had a trying year, greatly bereaved by death of near kin on both sides of the family, and Mrs. Trotter was seriously injured when an electric train in which she was riding collided with a heavy truck. She has, we are glad to say, fully recovered.

The stork left a baby girl at the Banning parsonage, making Brother and Sister Warren happy. Brother Wahlquist took unto himself a wife this year to share his innumerable activities, Mrs. Grace A. L. Ward, Fullerton, formerly a missionary in the foreign field.

Finally: Not a church on the district asks for a change of pastors; not a pastor demands a change of appointment. Several pastors have made extraordinary financial sacrifices but as already said, we close the year without one cent of deficit on the salary accounts. There isn't a sluggard or a slacker in the whole group of pastors. They are a group of men with indomitable courage and unfailing optimism.

"Hereby know we that we dwell in Him and He in us because He hath given us His Spirit. And we have seen and testify that the Father sent the Son to be the Savior of the world."

RESOLUTIONS

We gladly record our sincere appreciation of the able administration of Bishop James C. Baker. We love him for his brotherliness. His kindly, sympathetic spirit has created a finer atmosphere in our entire Conference. His stimulating messages, drawn from the storehouse of great literature, have lifted us above the ledges of pride and envy, challenged our complacency, developed a new spirit of team-work and revealed anew "The secret of an ardent and indiscourageable faith."

We thank Bishop Baker and the Cabinet for postponing the opening of the Conference one day on account of the state election, and although we lost this battle, we register a vow to keep up a continuous campaign against the iniquitous liquor traffic until the final victory is won. And that goes for all the other evils of our social and economic order.

For the fourth consecutive year, we express our gratitude to Richard N. Merrill, our pastor-host, to his staff of willing workers, to the local Conference Entertainment Committee led by F. W. Curl and H. C. Harter, to the Committee on Decorations especially, for their beautiful service. The gorgeous baskets that graced the platform at the Municipal Auditorium on Sunday were memorials—one presented by Mrs. I. Frank Roach of Long Beach in memory of her husband, I. Frank Roach, for six years a member of this Conference, at the time of his death a member of the St. Johns River Conference. Another presented by Mrs. Myrta Harshaw, member of our local conference entertainment committee, in memory of her husband, J. G. Harshaw, at the time of his death a member of the Erie Conference; and a third by the wife and children of S. M. Swartz, at the time of his death a faithful member of First Church Long Beach, whose tower chimes are a permanent memorial to the memory of this good man. To the Epworth Leagues of First Church, for courtesies extended to the Bishop and the Cabinet, to those who made possible the admirable Cabinet arrangements and to all the other members of this great church who have so graciously ministered to our needs.

We pray God's blessing upon this church and all the other churches of the earthquake area, as they courageously set themselves to the task of reconstruction, and we pledge our loyal assistance where needed.

We wish to thank the co-operating churches and organizations for courtesies extended, and facilities placed at our disposal, especially the First Baptist Church and the Y.W.C.A. We greatly appreciate the beautiful music provided by the choirs of First Church Long Beach, First Church Santa Monica, and First Church Hollywood.

We are greatly indebted to the city of Long Beach for the free use of their wonderful Municipal Auditorium during the week and for the Sunday services. We are also indebted to the City Convention Bureau for our souvenir programs.

We appreciate the space and publicity so generously given by the newspapers of Long Beach, The Press-Telegram and the Sun.

We are grateful to our Conference Secretaries and all the other Conference officers for their usual fine service. We record our hearty appreciation of the fidelity, integrity, and good judgment of our Conference Treasurer, A. Ray Moore. We thank the Program Committee for a well organized and well-balanced program.

The inspirational addresses of Dr. E. Stanley Jones were the giant hours of this Conference. For many of us, life can never be the same again. Our appreciation of his soul-searching and life-changing messages can find adequate expression only in Christ centered living, fully surrendered and completely committed to the Christ who is "not a way, but The Way."

FRANK WEBBER.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

J. L. Corley, Executive Secretary, reports: To focalize Christian Education—to relate the various educational agencies of our Conference in search of common objectives and ideals and their realization, is the purpose of our Conference Board of Education.

Members of the Board, representing the children, youth and adults of our churches, the University of Southern California, Wesley Foundation, Spanish American Institute, Pacific Palisades, Southern California Council of Christian Education, educational departments of the Woman's Home and Woman's Foreign Missionary Societies and Boy Scout work, meet at intervals to plan for the great, common task.

After ten years of the most devoted service Alfred Inwood relinquished the presidency. His counsel and guidance have been invaluable. Attended by a large number of the members of the Board a luncheon was held for Brother and Sister Inwood, with tokens of appreciation by spoken word and gifts. George A. Warmer was elected as the new president.

Miss Frankie P. York, for ten years office secretary, passed away October 24, 1932. Because of her very deep interest in the work, her wide acquaintance, her untiring devotion, her place was not easily filled. Miss Edith G. Black, a director in a number of our larger churches, was selected to take Miss York's place.

A committee early outlined a program for the year 1932-33. We mention a few.

With Others—Congregationalists, Disciples, Presbyterians, Baptists, Methodists, with employed staffs, and smaller denominations with official representatives, twenty-one in all, hold annually about 60 training schools, have organized 31 community councils, promoted eight age group conferences, a Fine Arts Institute, weekday and vacation schools, summer conferences, and sponsor the National Committee for Christian Religious Education in China. The Council has full endorsement of our Board.

For Others—Some time has been given to finding support for the Christian Education movement started two years ago in China. "I know of no single piece of Christian work in China today which is producing better results." (D. Willard Lyon.)

Workmen Not Ashamed—Study and training are necessary. In all schools and classes more than 2000 Methodist teachers have been enrolled. This Conference still leads in the number of accredited teachers for training courses.

Inter-Conference Seminar—Forty from the south registered and attended a ten-day seminar at Stockton, January 9-19th, led by Charles F. Boss and Owen M. Geer. Results: fine fellowship, sharpened insight, deepened spiritual experience, increased devotion.

Standing Committees—Elementary, Young People's, Adult, Leadership and School Committees have held numerous conferences. The young people's committee, having an office and employed director, is the most active.

A Great Opportunity Neglected—Methodists had much to do with organizing the University Religious Conference but the year past have had about the least to do with its support. This ought to be corrected.

Magnificent Distances—It is physically impossible for one personally to cover this huge conference in a year—or several years for that matter

—even if that were desirable. Concentration is a better policy. Though in many other parts of the Conference, the year has especially been devoted to visitation of the churches in the Fresno district.

Week-day Schools—"If some syndicate should extract the chief vitamin from the milk which you feed to your children," said Maurice Rossman in a recent address, "it would be termed a criminal offense, and treated as such. Yet education is offered to your children in the public schools, with Christ, the chief character building influence, extracted." Only through inter-church week-day schools can this life giving Vitamin be adequately supplied for all of the children.

The Long Beach demonstration weekday school under Miss Abernathy, was proving increasingly successful. It is with extreme regret that we announce, because of the earthquake, this promising project will probably cease.

Many Useful Things—Space permits only the mention of Leadership Institutes in Phoenix, Covina, Merced, our participation in the young people's summer institutes; numerous missionary and educational addresses; issuance of "Objective" cards and reading lists for discussion groups; conferences with directors of religious education; letters to superintendents and pastors emphasizing the peculiar opportunities of Easter and summer seasons; Annual Meeting in January; Missionary and Elementary Coaching Conferences; two-day discussion of "Rethinking Missions"; one-day Conversation on the Liquor Problem, Missionary Education Movement Board meetings, etc.

Looking Ahead—Religious Education Week this year is September 24-October 1st. Every church should observe it. Special materials are available. Rally Day, Sunday, October 1st, can be made to climax a great work. The offering on that day is vital to our Conference program, especially important for the young people. Last Rally Day the total offering was $1136.03, less than the year previous.

The Home—What can we share with the home? Good or bad, it remains the most potent educational influence. What kind of education is the child in the average American home today receiving? The Church must give the question continued and constructive attention before we can expect any great changes in the character of citizens we are producing.

Books to Rent—Will a circulating library be used? Will Church groups pay a little rent for training books in lieu of buying them for their classes? Shortly we hope to send out the plan.

The Supreme Value—Human Personality. We glibly acknowledge it, then continue in slavish devotion to institutions, organizations, materials. When the day comes that we intelligently plan to integrate all our instrumentalities, our means, to be used as needed to meet human needs and develop human personality, then will we be skillful workmen in building the Kingdom of our Christ.

Children's Work

Miss Alice Louise Brown, chairman, says: The volunteer committee gives many hours to study and development of a united leadership, correlating all the interest appeals made to our children in the local church. They have carried on some definite activities while looking forward when a worker may be put in this field to serve the interests of our children as is now done for the young people.

1. For Children's Leaders—Three one-day conferences with children's workers were held.

2. Teaching Resource Materials were listed and exhibited, including Missionary, Temperance, Social Relationships, World Peace and Friendship, Personal Evangelism.

3. Study and Promotion of Experimental Work in certain local churches includes curriculum development, use of expanded Sunday morning session, unification of missionary societies and church school work for children.

4. Personal Counseling of local church workers has been given.

Epworth League and Young People's Work

James McGiffin, Director, reports: One foremost purpose, learning to "Live as Well as Pray, Thy Kingdom Come," has guided the policies and unified our efforts. In striving toward its objective, which includes the specific goals of World Peace, Social and Economic Justice, Racial Cooperation and understanding and Christian comradeship, the group feels itself linked with the world-wide Epworth League, and with the Church as a whole.

During the year special emphasis has been placed upon the training of the Alliance officers for their task in the local churches. This has been accomplished by means of two series of District-wide Alliance Officers Training Conferences.

Among the outstanding activities are the Institutes. Two Mid-Year Institutes were held primarily for the training of officers, one at Hi-Pass in San Diego County, and one at Mesa, Arizona. Two others were held at High Sierra and Camp Seeley, chiefly for the purpose of developing church-centered recreational leadership, with Lynn Rohrbough of the Church Recreation Service, Delaware, Ohio, directing activities.

Five Summer Institutes were held last year, and will be held again this year at Arizona, High Sierra, Idyllwild, Arroyo Grande and Pacific Palisades. The program includes three types of class groups: First, a Quest Group for the discussion and study of some problem of interest to the student, endeavoring to guide the student in reaching a conclusion in accord with the teachings of Jesus, and in formulating a plan of action to carry out this conclusion in daily life. Second, an Enrichment Group, designed to stimulate knowledge, appreciation and growth along one of several cultural lines. Third, the Project Group in which various activities planned for the benefit of the whole Institute are carried out, such as planning the Morning Watch program, etc. Attendance at all the Institutes last year totalled 800.

The five district Conventions were held this year in February and March. The objective of "Live as well as Pray, Thy Kingdom Come" was used as the theme for the addresses.

The Department at its local headquarters prepared mimeographed helps for officers, handled supplies and secured new material, provided secretarial service for the District and Conference officers, handled correspondence and consulted with officers who have sought help concerning their work in the local church.

The field activities of the Director this past year have been directed especially to the cultivation of the Alliance work. The number of meetings attended total 283, the total distance traveled amounts to 25,400 miles and the approximate total of the number of persons in attendance at these meetings is well over 12,000. Meetings participated in included: 55 local League and Church School classes, 28 church services, 50 summer and mid-year Institute sessions, 25 Alliance meetings, 5 District Conventions, 11 Conference Cabinet meetings, 30 committee and commission meetings, 2 leadership training courses of ten sessions each, 20 outside committee meetings. Interdenominational and interracial group contacts were made.

The financial outlook for the coming year has been strengthened by an intensive campaign this spring to secure a pledge from every Chapter in the Conference.

As we look back over the past months it is a source of satisfaction to realize that the young people of our churches are accepting the challenge of building a new world—not only in their own hearts and lives, but in society.

Adult Work

Charles A. Kent, Chairman, says: Adult education relates to an age division of religious education, beginning at the twenty-fourth year. Why adult education? Why not? When should education cease? Thorndike assures us that we can learn as well at fifty as at fifteen. The function of education is to train folks as early as possible to educate themselves as long as possible.

The agencies of adult religious education are the Sunday School, the worship service, the Church press, our colleges and universities. The lecture method is not the best technique in teaching. The adult Sunday School Class should never duplicate the worship service.

The field of adult education is as wide as the interest and need of human life. But through the sharing of experiences the leader may find the particular field of the interests of his group. It is better for the group that he discover this through the discussion method rather than for him to choose the series of lessons, or, for a committee of the group to choose, far better than to follow slavishly the International Lessons.

University of Southern California

From the President's office the following statement: The Administration of the University under the leadership of President R. B. von KleinSmid has devoted much of its energies during the year to an extensive reorganization of the curricula and courses of several schools and colleges of the University. A serious attempt has been made to eliminate non-essential courses from the present list of 1750 courses.

To set forth more clearly the nature of the curricula in music and speech, these schools which formerly were classified as separate minor divisions of the University, now have been given the status of school divisions in the College of Letters, Arts and Sciences. These schools now plan to serve the general student body of the University. The department of journalism has now been raised to the status of a school in the College of Letters, Arts and Sciences.

The College of Letters, Arts and Sciences now includes the work of twenty-five departments of instruction and the school divisions of journalism, music, philosophy, social welfare, and speech. The Board of Trustees has recently established the University Junior College which offers a separate two-year curriculum from which students may enter the other school and college divisions of the University when they have attained a satisfactory standard of scholarship in specified curricula.

The more clearly to separate the instructional from the research functions of the Graduate School, the University Trustees have recently established the School of Research which opens in the fall of 1933 with a staff assigned to the directing of research work of students who are candidates for the doctorate degree in philosophy.

Dean Bruce R. Baxter reports: The School of Religion of the University of Southern California has just completed one of the best years of its history. There have been no changes in faculty relationships and the total enrollment in all School of Religion classes has been 621.

Twenty-three graduate students are enrolled as candidates for the Master of Theology degree and in this group there are eight different denominations represented. Seven out of the twenty-three were granted the degree this June, five being Methodists. Through increasing the requirements for the Master of Theology degree the School requires a minimum of two years, following receipt of the A.B. degree, for the completion of the work for this degree. We are certain the raising of the standards will gain the approval of the Conference. The School of Religion is now rated as a Professional School.

One of the most interesting features of the year's work has been the Religion Forum under the leadership of Robert Taylor. This has brought addresses and forum periods conducted by many of the outstanding religious leaders of the Southland. The series closed with a scholarly address by Bishop Baker. We appreciate the support which has been given this Forum and wish to thank Dr. Edward Laird Mills for the interest which the California Christian Advocate has shown. The Forum will continue through next year, meeting at four o'clock each Monday afternoon, and will be a study of various denominations.

Wesley Foundation Work

From Virgil W. Cazal, Director, U.C.L.A.: Of 6900 students in the University, 998 of them are either members of or preferred the Methodist Church—the largest group on the campus, Presbyterians, second. Through several years of practical experience our Wesley Foundation has successfully worked into the program of the University Religious Conference, which is a unique corporation of Jews, Catholics and Protestants, housed in its own building, cooperating but without compromising religious positions. The student advisors of all faiths form a cooperative staff. Into this scheme our Wesley Foundation program fits with perfect harmony. Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Wesley Cazal, who are the advisors to our students, have found the happiest relationship with the University administration and with the general student body.

The year was started by a Leadership Retreat. Upperclassmen were instructed in the best methods in which to contact freshmen for the Methodist program for the year.

1. The Protestant denominations were organized into a student worship committee who conducted beautiful Vesper Chapel Hours each Monday afternoon in the Westwood Church. The Rosewood Church and its pastor, Carl Seitter, have also been most helpful and cooperative at the Junior College during the entire year.

2. Each week at least one meeting has been held with outstanding Christian faculty members or ministers assisting in discussions of great problems facing the world today. Outstanding was the Christian Life Vocations Convention, which included all the colleges and universities of Southern California.

3. Mrs. Cazal and the Advisor have held many enjoyable parties in their home, at mountain and beach retreats, and in the social hall of the University Religious Conference.

4. A commissary has been set up for a group of needy students, beds have been moved into the basement of our building, and a happy family of eight fellows is enjoying the opportunity of educational and spiritual development.

Spanish American Institute

Charles D. Lewis, President, Board of Directors, reports: The Spanish American Institute is the child of the Southern California Conference, approved by it and the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension and supported by money raised by the initiative of the above agencies.

Its Purpose has been to take promising Mexican boys and young men, place them in a Christian institution, under Christian instructors, associate them with the Methodist Church at Gardena, enlarge their horizon, increase their efficiency, secure their commitment to Christ and either pass them on to some higher agency for further training or send them out to be workers and leaders among their own people.

Fifty-four boys have been in attendance under the leadership of a faculty of three teachers. The public schools have been used to furnish secular instruction while the home and Christian environment has been furnished at the Institute. They have access to the work of the house, kitchen, farm, garden, poultry raising, care of horses and cows, print shop, local town and church and the guidance of the faculty.

Cutting the budget down to $20,000, we will come to July 1st with a very small indebtedness of approximately $5000, reduced to about $250. The faculty this year have taken whatever came as remuneration for their services. Some one exclaimed in amazement, "They must love the institution a great deal." And they do.

The President, Dr. A. C. Stevens, is particularly happy in his ability to win the confidence of the boys and to create in them a desire to realize just the thing in themselves for which the Institution exists. He has met with fine success in his contact with the field and has created much interest by his addresses in churches and clubs and other groups and by the presence of the boys with him as deputations.

Our Lincoln Day, February 12th, was a fine success this year. The interest of the more than two hundred who were present was heightened.

Next year we will run within a budget of $16,000 which we think can be done with a good degree of efficiency.

Effort shall be made to secure, largely through the Mexican pastors and churches, older boys who may have already manifested an interest in the Christian life and goals.

A larger number of Mexican instructors shall be brought to the faculty and an effort made to associate the students with a Mexican church, that they may become a part of the life and program of a normal church life.

They shall be led to look toward the Latin American Mission as furnishing a continuation of life, effort and outlet, when they shall have left the school.

Believing that permanent results of our effort can be had only when a Christian family has been established, the leaders of the Institute and of the Frances DePauw School have discussed the location of these institutions in such close proximity that the boys of the one and the girls of the other might find in a Mexican church opportunities for normal relations in Christian activities.

We appeal to the authorities above and to the supporting constituencies to see that this consummation is speedily achieved.

The Spanish American Institute is the only remaining training school for Mexican young men of the Methodist Church in all of the West. There is certainly a great need and an ample field. The Master said, "Make Disciples." This is our effort to do so by supplying an essential need among Mexican folks.

Pacific Palisades

Dr. Waite, Educational Director, says: The Pacific Palisades Association presented its Eleventh Annual Six-Weeks' program during the summer of 1932. In addition to the usual regular Assembly features, strong courses of lectures on world conditions were offered with special reference to the struggle between China and Japan, and conditions in Russia, Germany and India. Courses of particular interest to ministers were offered by our own Bishop Baker, by Bishop Chitambar, Dr. E. Guy Cutshall, retiring president of Iliff School of Theology, Professor Lowstuter of Boston School of Theology and Dr. Miles H. Krumbine of Cleveland, Ohio. By common acclaim the program was recognized as one of the strongest in the Association's history.

Woman's Home Missionary Society

Mrs. L. F. Sedgwick, President, says: The Woman's Home Missionary Society, recognizing the essentially missionary character of Christianity and the value of more adequate education to the life of the Church, acquaints its members of all ages with the active problems of Christian and social life through Standard Study Courses which also present methods of extending the Gospel to all people.

In work conducted by the Deaconesses among needy in congested settlements, in Girls' Camps, and in Homes and Schools for children the great aim is to prepare young people for happy, useful lives and Christian citizenship.

Cooperating with other educational agencies a united effort has been presented in many Church Schools to inform children of opportunities for service and to give them a well-balanced knowledge of our Church's activities at home and abroad.

The program also embraces scientific, moral and religious instruction as to narcotics, alcohol, and law observance since these issues must be met by education.

Woman's Foreign Missionary Society

Mrs. Cora M. Cassill, Conference Secretary, says: For the adult membership the program included a deeper study of the Bible, with an outline in the "Missionary Friend." "Lady Fourth Daughter of China" has been used as the text book and has given a picture of China's new womanhood. The young people also have studied about China. The challenge of the year has been to strengthen leadership and develop the prayer life of our young people. In about fifty churches correlated work is the plan for the juniors with more than five thousand children receiving missionary instruction. We also have one hundred sixty-two organized missionary groups with about five thousand boys and girls that receive their training through the senior society.

Boy Scout Work

Byron P. Hovey, Field Executive, reports: Character building and training for citizenship are the two fundamental elements found in the program of the Boy Scouts of America. Fun, adventure, knowledge and service are the key words of Scout activity. Every boy and man enrolled in the Scout organization pledges himself to follow this code: The Scout Oath—"On my honor I will do my best: 1—To do my duty to God and my country and to obey the Scout law. 2—To help other people at all times. 3—To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight."

As Field Scout Executive, representing the Methodist Church in the Los Angeles Council, I have a growing feeling that my work is one of being a missionary to the boyhood of our great city and there are two aspects to this: First, the contact that I have with the boys themselves. The Scout membership of the Los Angeles Council at the present time is 5731—every one a potential citizen. Second, is the ministry of advising with and motivating the leadership of 1378 adult Scout leaders.

In our city we have 217 Scout troops, 70% of these meet in and are sponsored by churches. Thirty troops are sponsored by Methodist churches. Here again is an opportunity not only for the director, but for the churches, to teach thousands of boys the meaning of Reverence.

Council of Religious Education

H. V. Mather, Executive Secretary, reports: Methodist participation in the work of the Southern California Council of Religious Education is large. Jesse Lee Corley participates as a member of the Cooperative Staff, which is made up of the employed field workers of the various denominations. Methodist Church Schools contribute toward the support of the Council; send many students to the Community Leadership Training Schools; attend the annual State Convention, and the many Community Conventions and Conferences.

The Southern California Council of Religious Education is the denominations in cooperation in the field of Christian education. Thirty-one Community Councils are auxiliary to it, and bring the cooperative program to local churches.

During the year closing June 1, 1933, fifty-eight interdenominational schools and classes were organized and conducted, enrolling upward of 4000 students. Six hundred sixty-three International standard credits were earned by Methodist students.

The Council supervises Week-day Religious Education and Vacation Church Schools, sets up training institutes for workers in the Vacation Schools; gathers data regarding the schools which are held each summer; maintains standing committees on all phases of work in the Church School without duplicating the programs of denominational groups.

The Council conducts four training schools each summer at Idyllwild Pines; the schedule this summer is as follows:

Adult Conference—July 16-22.

Junior High School Camp—August 7-14.

Older Girls' School—July 30-August 10.

Older Boys' School—August 9-20.

Thirty-one Community Councils of Religious Education receive aid and guidance continually. Once each year a conference is conducted for the officers of Community Councils. The Council's State Convention for 1933 will be held at Long Beach, October 11, 12, 13.

LOS ANGELES MISSIONARY AND CHURCH EXTENSION SOCIETY

The Los Angeles Missionary and Church Extension Society has been fortunate in developing two projects this year. The first of these, which has been on our program for the last four years, is the Robertson Boulevard Community Church. The sanctuary unit, costing $6,500, was completed, and the old building repaired and remodelled to make it useful for Church School and social purposes, and dedicated by Bishop Baker on Easter Sunday.

The other project is the Sunset Community Center, at 1001 Sunset Boulevard, a branch of the All Nations Foundation. Our old Epworth Church property, which happens to be right in the center of the section of the city which has the highest percentage of delinquency, gave us an opportunity to furnish equipment for this most important social service agency. Leaders in religious, civic, educational and social service agencies are splendidly back of this project.

The All Nations Foundation and the Church of All Nations have been steadily progressing, both in usefulness to the community and in leadership in the field of Christian social service. The Church of All Nations has received 35 into probationary membership, 19 into full membership, and 14 baptized during the past year. The All Nations Foundation, consisting of a Clinic with its staff of 72 doctors; a Boys' Club with 1040 members; a Community House caring for women and girls above nine years of age; a Child Welfare Clinic supported by an unknown donor; a Children's Department caring for 750 individual children during the year in kindergarten, manual training and Bible classes; all under the supervision of Robert A. McKibben, is doing a wonderful piece of service on the East side. All Nations celebrated its 12th anniversary during the week of May 17-24, when over six hundred participated in the anniversary banquets.

The total income at All Nations for the year is as follows: Service fees, $16,1660.56; Woman's Home Missionary Society, $2,100; Community Chest, $20,604.64; Board of Home Missions, $3,310.75; Gifts, $3,842.47; Unknown donor, $7,200; or a total of $53,218.42; and the expenditures for the year amounted to $57,257.97.

The City Missionary Society has helped the following churches during the year: Annandale, Bethel Trinity, Calvary, All Nations, Compton Avenue, Florence Avenue, Gardena, Harbor City, Melrose Park, Robertson Boulevard, Saint Mark's, Sunnyside, South West Community, Union Avenue, Westland and Woodcrest.

UNIVERSITY CHURCH

Your Committee is certain that University Church chose wisely in selecting its present site at the campus. The building has proved entirely satisfactory. The many visitors comment on the beauty of the church and its adequacy for every kind of work.

This church has a vital relation to the University of Southern California, and especially happy associations with the School of Religion. Phi Chi Phi, the honor society of the School, holds its monthly meetings and banquets at the church. The students do their practice preaching in Healy Chapel and some of them fill the pulpit at regular church services. Dr. Robert Evans, Director of the Religious Conference at University of California, Los Angeles Branch, is starting a similar organization at the University of Southern California, and plans to have the activities in University Church. The School of Music will be only one lot removed from the church and will make valuable contribution to the church music. Robt. J. Taylor and Miss Gertrude Jean Hutton, both of the University of Southern California, have given valuable assistance during the past year to the Church School, which is perfectly organized and claims one of the finest High School Departments in the city. The church has lacked funds to properly equip the college section. However, plans are under way for decorating and furnishing the student quarters, and by the time the new year opens the college students will have a very attractive department.

The financial strain of the past year has been very great. Heavy interest charges have been paid the day they came due, and more than $8000 has been paid on indebtedness. But we find that some subscriptions once counted good have been cancelled, and many of the monthly payments on subscriptions have either stopped or been greatly reduced. Property now owned by the church, which three years ago was appraised by the banks at $30,000, is now rated at less than one-third that amount. The Conference Committee apportioned $5000 of World Service designations for this past year to University Church. Of this less than $1000 has been received.

University Church has a bright future. If it can receive the balance of the promised $35,000 (about $13,000), this church can work out of its heavy burden. Your Committee believes that the church is entitled to every dollar of that money, and that this conference ought to stand back of the church until every dollar is paid. Few churches are as strategically located as this one, and with financial strength to carry out its ambitious undertaking University Church will become one of the greatest character building factors in the state.

We believe the pastor and his faithful officials are to be commended for the way they are working out the solution of a very difficult problem.

C. M. CRIST.

PLAZA COMMUNITY CENTER

Even in the face of these distressing days and the evident need for material and temporal aid, the Plaza Community Center realizes that the deepest needs of us all are the spiritual needs. The church of Jesus Christ is the only organization in the world to meet adequately those demands, bringing humanity into right relationship to Jesus Christ and through His transforming grace and power receiving strength, courage, new hope and new life. As a Christian Missionary institution, therefore, we have thus outlined the ultimate aim and chief objective of the Plaza Community Center.

Ours is a missionary work chiefly among the Latin Americans of Los Angeles and its environs. Consequently, the question is asked, "How much longer are we going to have very many Mexicans to work among?" While a definite movement is now on foot toward repatriation and thousands have returned to Mexico, there will always be the industrial demand for Mexicans in large numbers to take care of certain specialized activities in Southern California. The majority of these people are alienated from any church whatsoever, and constitute a legitimate and fertile field for true missionary effort in winning them for Christ and His Church. Moreover, there is much which needs to be done for the "second generation" Mexicans, who occupy a peculiar and very difficult place in our economic and social life. Our program for the coming year will take this into account as never before.

Having passed through the most critical period of our history financially, we have come through the year in the spirit of victory. Although resources were materially decreased, and demands have been greatly increased, the sacrificial spirit and earnestness of the entire staff have made possible a balancing of the budget in order to meet a desperate situation. The volume of work has kept up, while there was need for more sympathy and personal interest than ever.

Many of us are realizing as never before how much sympathy and understanding can mean when we are in difficulty, and have felt the enervating influence of adversity upon our ambition and energies. This kind of assistance is especially appreciated by our Mexican brothers who fall an easy prey to exploitation of every sort and find themselves utterly forsaken by any to whom they can turn in time of trouble. Numberless cases of this sort have found a haven in the Plaza Community Center and bear testimony to the salvation there afforded.

Besides our maintenance problem, we faced a crisis in our building program. With unpaid subscriptions by the thousand and waning contributions to this fund, we were falling in arrears with our obligations to the bank. In the emergency, and with a sincere interest in this missionary enterprise, a goodly number of our pastors and influential Methodist laymen, under the leadership of our Bishop and the pastor of our First Church in Los Angeles, rallied to our support, and have made provision to handle this whole matter in a prompt and efficient manner. The desire and intention of the committee having this in hand is to carry out the wishes of the larger group who wanted the enterprise freed from debt and permitted to do its work. A larger and still more constructive program is outlined for the future to make this a center of Methodist missionary activities in our great city. At such a time as this, we are especially grateful for the interest manifested by our many friends and their commendation of what has been done and is being accomplished.

A total of 16,532 were registered in the clinic and general welfare departments. Employment was found for 385, and relief was given to 371 families. In the clinic there were 2629 children as patients, and 2841 free patients, who received medical care to the value of $1738. These are simply general figures, which do not indicate how long drawn out many of these cases were, nor the sympathetic interest and nervous energy expended in following them through to a successful conclusion.

Our ladies auxiliary, the Plaza Community Center Club, has most loyally supported the cause, and has been a source of real encouragement, at the same time that they have assisted materially with funds for maintenance.

Our Children's Home, at a surprisingly small per capita cost, is now caring for 20 boys and girls, who are here receiving Christian training and home life. The Home is located at 72 West Alegria Street in Sierra Madre, on four combined lots, which gives ample room for this large family.

Our Christian Training School has been merged into an Interdenominational School of Christian Instruction, with five denominations taking an active interest in the work. Fifty-three students were enrolled last fall, under the instruction of six teachers representing three denominations. The Superintendent of the Plaza is the Dean of this school, which is having a far-reaching influence in our evangelical Mexican churches in Southern California.

We ask that you visit us and acquaint yourself in more detailed fashion with the program being carried out, and that you will follow us with your prayers and with your efforts to interest still others in the carrying forward of this missionary enterprise.

LATIN AMERICAN MISSION

We just passed a Santa Fe section in the Mojave Desert. It was a crude cabin, but made beautiful with hollyhocks and geraniums. A sweet little girl, clean and smiling, waves to our flying Limited. Then we see alongside this lonely "home" three little crosses over little graves. The crosses, like the graves, vary from tiny to the size of a ten-year-old child. Three crosses. Evidently they died at the same time—too far away for doctor, minister, or comfort of friends. Three would have emptied our home and hearts! They have at least one left. The father keeps storm drains, ties and rails in order, guarding us from flood, plots or wreck. We felt better ready in a similar lonely task after seeing those three crosses, to keep the Trail in order for the Spanish, the Mexicans, Italians and Portuguese who have not yet died without physician, preacher or portion of the Bible.

The Mission is much larger but has less than half the support of a year ago. It now includes Denver, the sugar beet country, three circuits in Kansas, a great new work in El Paso—all started formerly and now a part of the Mission. Final reports are not in. The year has been marked by the heroic fortitude of workers, by great sacrifices and unusual spiritual victories, with 54 workers in our 45 circuits. The 47,436 visits and 13,242 services, and ministry to 31,375 needy folks, show these results: 301,283 attendances at services, 1,015 conversions, 5,096 members now enrolled, all classes. There are 4,730 enrolled in the 65 Sunday Schools, and 1,478 in the 52 Epworth Leagues. Significant facts are 2,597 Bibles sold, 86,333 tracts given, and $16,031 total giving. (Last statistics available).

The Chinese Center at Mexicali has been acquired chiefly for the Mexicans and registered under Mexican laws. Pedro Robles has had up to 426 at a service there. Q. P. Royer and his equally devoted and helpful wife have served mightily.

Denver, under Pastor Seneca B. Garcia, a "P.K." product of Albuquerque School for Mexican boys, has a great report, even though he and his wife and large family live in the "subterraneo" dug out under the Colfax Church they use. 156 decisions, 535 members, giving, $1,264. He has 35 tithers and 2,200 tracts and 15 Bibles were placed besides 1,072 visits and 422 folks "helped to help themselves." And Seneca Garcia is only one son of one of eight pastors raised up in a little town Donana, New Mexico, resulting from a free thinking Spanish school teacher being won by a Mexican local preacher.

We would like to report the progress on the Watts project, the campaign now going forward to complete and reorganize the Plaza Community Center, the very interesting "Little Farms" movement for needy Mexicans, which began at Santa Monica and has surprisingly reached out into Stockton and Las Palmas Colony near Tia Juana, Lower California.

But time and printers' space would fail to tell! As Sergeant Alvin Work recently said, "America awake! This is no time to be disencouraged." But let us remember the three crosses in the desert!

VERNON M. McCOMBS,
Superintendent.

PACIFIC OLD PEOPLE'S HOME

Another year of the Pacific Old People's Home has come to a successful close. To say that it has been a year of unprecedented financial strain, a year of stubborn problems and of difficult situations would be telling the truth, but no news. These things have been the experience of most banks and business houses, and probably of every Home in the country. It is news, however, for which we are devoutly grateful to kind Providence that with Pacific Old People's Home 1932-33 has been really a good year. We have been able to keep out of debt; to retain our buildings, grounds, furnishings and equipment in first class condition; to render hundreds of dollars free room and board; and despite having from eight to fourteen vacant rooms also reducing our room and board rates at least 25% and more, and besides all this contributing $2,000 to the Retired Ministers Fund, we have balanced our budget. These gratifying achievements to us are a new assurance of God's abiding blessing on this institution, and were accomplished only by the diligent work and splendid cooperation given me by the employees of the institution and especially the Board of Trustees. I wish at this time to give grateful testimony to their efficiency, their devotion and spirit of loyalty.

Just a few notes about the management of the Home. All the buildings and the rooms therein are kept clean and in order. The steadily increasing need for repairs and necessary replacing of more pieces is a natural consequence of unusual usage. Each resident's room is her limited territory, and over that one and only rug she or he take all their steps; hence the life of our rugs is not unreasonably short.

Considering the general unrest among servants, I have been quite successful in keeping the domestic machinery in motion with less friction than would seem possible, but this achievement has been at the expense of much anxiety to the management and infinite patience together with personal effort at tactful lubrication.

The individual gardens are a source of great pride and a diversion to the residents, who enjoy the little plots, cultivating flowers.

The entertainments at intervals during the year have provided reasonable diversion and were much appreciated and we gratefully acknowledge our indebtedness to the numerous clergymen and laymen who have conducted the Sunday services and weekly prayer meetings; to the flower Mission for beautiful flowers and dainties for the table frequently sent, and to all other friends of the Home who have in any way contributed to the comfort and happiness of the household.

On Thanksgiving Day the usual bountiful dinner was served, and especially enjoyed was our beautiful Christmas tree and the delicious dinner and supper served to the residents and their guests.

The general health conditions have been below the average; but the number of deaths has been practically the same as in former years.

The religious life of the Home is looked after as much as the physical welfare. In all possible ways the spiritual life of our people is cultivated, and their spirits sustained by a living faith. In the chapel on the grounds they gather every Sunday morning for the preaching service, Dr. John C. Guenther bringing to them inspiring messages. Sunday School classes are held every Sunday morning and are attended by a goodly group who enjoy the study of God's word. Every Wednesday evening our family gathers for the mid-week prayer service.

For many years there has been organized within the Home an auxiliary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society.

Now, my brethren, I have come to a time in my life when I deem it necessary to lay down the burdens and responsibilities which the Church entrusted to me forty-seven years ago; of which the last nine years I spent as executive of the Pacific Old People's Home. At the close of the Conference held in Pasadena nine years ago I promised myself and my Master that I would take up the work of the Superintendency of the Home and give myself with unstinted devotion to the work of Christ in the care of the aged. I have tried to fulfill that vow; with what success, I must leave to the considerate judgment of the Board and friends of the Home. I have had many days of joy; some of sorrow and perplexities and occasional heartaches, just as you all have had them, but I have had the cooperation and personal interest of a faithful Board of Trustees in administration, and have been sustained and led by Him in whose name we carry on this work. This entire Conference will join with the Superintendent, the employees and the Trustees in giving thanks to God that we have been able to provide a Home for some saints who have topped the hill and begun the descent toward the shadowed valley. Here they await in peace and quietude the summons of the King. I ask for the Retired Relation and shall cease to be the Superintendent of the Home.

In closing I would remind that the opportunity of the Pacific Old People's Home in Southern California for leadership in the care for aged is beyond our imagination and has never been fully appreciated. I am convinced that in asking for the appointment of C. E. Leitzell the Board has done wisely, and that he will prove to be a wise, energetic administrator. We must now march onward and forward in the name of the Lord. There is no more Christlike service in the Church of God today than that which finds its expression through our Homes for the Aged.

GERMAN MERGER

A meeting of the Commission on Merger, of the Southern California Conference was held on Wednesday, May 10, 1933, at 10:00 A. M. at the home of J. H. Durbahn, 1061 North Kingsley Drive, Los Angeles. Present: J. H. Durbahn, W. C. Schmutzler, R. Zurbuchen, C. F. Seitter, Willsie Martin, E. J. Inwood.

In the absence of H. D. Kamp on account of sickness, E. J. Inwood was elected secretary. Willsie Martin presided.

J. H. Durbahn read a communication from A. Ray Moore, including a letter sent by A. Ray Moore to the German preachers in the California Conference.

It was moved by C. F. Seitter and carried that we recommend to Bishop Baker and Dr. Hamilton, District Superintendent, that the German charge in Stockton be merged with the English church, and that the property be actually turned over, in accordance with the understanding at the time of the merger, and whatever funds there are in the treasury be turned over to the Southern California Conference Endowment Fund.

It was moved by C. F. Seitter and carried that we suggest to the Board of the Pacific Old People's Home that they assist our Pension Fund by turning over to the Board of Trustees the sum of $2,000.

It was moved by C. F. Seitter and carried that the Merger Commission recommend to the First German Church of Los Angeles that it pay whatever amount it feels it can to the Pension Fund out of the income property in keeping with the provisions of the Merger Agreement.

W. C. Schmutzler reported the situation as regards the San Diego work and property. It was the feeling of the Merger Commission that the present arrangement was the best that could be made and that it should be continued.

J. H. Durbahn reported that the property at East Oakland has been sold but the proceeds have not yet been turned over to this Conference. On motion of R. Zurbuchen it was recommended that the East Oakland property proceeds be turned over to our Conference Endowment Fund, and that J. H. Durbahn be authorized to represent us in this and all other matters in his contemplated visit north. It was further resolved that A. Ray Moore and J. H. Durbahn be a committee on property vested formerly in the California German Conference and located within the bounds of the California Annual Conference.

It was moved and carried that we recommend the continuance of the Merger Commission, as its work is not yet completed.

On motion the meeting adjourned.

WILLSIE MARTIN, President.

EDWIN J. INWOOD, Secretary Pro-tem.

Pursuant to the authorization of the Merger Commission that Dr. J. H. Durbahn be authorized to represent us pertaining to our church property in the North; the Brethren of the erstwhile California German Conference, active and retired, residing in the California Conference met on May 15, 1933. J. H. Durbahn who was sent to us by the Merger Commission of the Southern California Conference was elected Chairman and William Rogatzky, secretary.

In lieu of a certain letter written by A. Ray Moore, Treasurer of the Southern California Conference regarding the Merger Agreement of the former California German Conference we would like to submit the following, namely: The financial statement appended to the Merger Declaration was a careful estimate of the funds of the California German Conference. It was so conservative that the valuation of the listed properties holds true to this very day with little variation. It is true in the Merger Agreement is a provision for the turning over to the Southern California Conference of churches, parsonages and income properties when they cease to be used for church services in the German language. Of these, South Hollywood, San Jose, San Diego, Fresno, Escondido parsonages, churches, income properties and last but not least the Pacific Old People's Home, which belonged to the Ministers and Dependents Pension and Relief Association, and provision was made that a certain amount of revenue of the Home for the Aged should flow into the Pension Fund so that none of the retired ministers receive less than $25.00 for each service year. All these properties were transferred by deeds to the Southern California Conference and is their property to be used as they see fit.

We heartily make the following recommendations to the Southern California Annual Conference:

1. We recommend that the Bishop and District Superintendents be respectfully requested to see to it that the following properties be transferred into the Southern California Conference as soon as possible: Stockton church, parsonage and rent house, East Oakland parsonage, First Church Oakland, Santa Rosa Church and parsonage.

2. That at least $3,000 of the Pacific Old People's Home funds be transferred to the Retired Ministers fund of the Southern California Conference as soon as possible.

3. That the First German Methodist of Los Angeles in some form or other arrange to meet the emergency for the Retired Ministers Fund.

4. That A. Ray Moore and J. H. Durbahn be requested to visit the California Annual Conference, conferring with the members of said Conference regarding the church property of the former California German Conference located within the bounds of the California Conference.

J. H. DURBAHN, Chairman.

WILLIAM ROGATZKY, Secretary.

METHODIST HOSPITAL OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Thirty years of humanitarian service provides the background for this all too brief report of hospital activity for our fiscal year now closing. Methodism does humbly express acknowledgement of our collective opportunity to have had a part in this, a Christian undertaking.

In providing what is today considered adequate hospital service, our resources have stood the test well. Our successes can be attributed to the loyal cooperation of a faithful organization and a zealous Board of Directors. Our failures can be charged to conditions over which mankind seems to lack control at this time.

The purpose of the hospital has been and must continue to be—to provide a haven for persons requiring the type of service we are equipped and prepared to give. Now, as never before, we are confronted with the pressing problem of financing hospital operation out of earned income. With earnings at the lowest level in the last decade, our deficit for this year will approach ten thousand dollars exclusive of ever-present and active depreciation of buildings and equipment. Earnings have not made funds available to offset obsolescence of equipment or for proper plant maintenance. It does not now seem possible to procure relief from large capital indebtedness unless a complete refinancing program is worked out by the Directors.

Our total earned income amounted to $153,104.91 from all services rendered in caring for 4,074 bed patients who received 30,929 hospital bed days' care. An average of 85 patients per day were served reflecting a plant-bed occupancy of thirty per cent of our total bed capacity but in reality sixty-one per cent of the hospital beds in actual use during the year. The first and third floors of both north and south wings have been closed for many weeks. Average cost to the patient for complete service was $4.99 per day and average cost to hospital in rendering this service was $5.30 per day.

Patronage has been confined to surgical and obstetrical work with limited volume of medical and pediatric cases. Incoming patients have consistently demanded and received hospitalization at the lowest possible cost. Hospital rates have not been reduced during the year. In purely competitive fashion other Los Angeles hospitals have lowered their rates below our levels and we have lost some patronage because of our present rates. Visiting physicians to the hospital seem to be of one belief—lower hospital rates before beds fill up.

Our School of Nursing continues to hold the interest of a far greater number of candidates for nurses' training than we can possibly enroll in the school. Keeping before them the true state of unemployment among professional women the Board authorized no admission of student nurses in September, 1933. It is reasonable to assume that improvement in Registered Nurses' employment will occur at an early date and that the school will soon resume an activity approaching normal. The student body numbers sixty-three at this time and the graduating class of last January numbered thirty.

Probably other hospitals will be compelled to reduce their volume of free or part-pay service during these trying times. Certainly few hospitals have been forced to lower their volume of such service to the low point we experienced last year. In value, service unpaid for by the patients amounted to $2,394.65 or a total of 493 bed days' service. We occupy the unique position of not having an active endowment. During the year no funds from any source in any amount have been given to the hospital. The day must come when our income will be augmented by income from endowment and by gifts from individual benefactors.

Our needs for new equipment and furnishings for the hospital and nurses' residence are very real and should soon be provided for. Good work cannot be done unless good tools are at hand.

To the fine and steady leadership of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, we of the hospital bow in respect and admiration. Their task of raising funds with which to amortize capital indebtedness and to pay interest thereon has been a most difficult one.

C. C. HURIN, Supt.

CONFERENCE DEACONESS BOARD

An unveiling of the motives and a recital of the services of the deaconesses of our Southern California Conference, who are like good deaconesses everywhere, would supply complementary line and colour to the master-piece of the ages which bears the descriptive title "He went about doing good."

In Christ-like service our deaconesses have ministered to the sick and the suffering, they have clothed the illy clad and fed the hungry and for thousands of children of 21 nationalities they have set the stage in clubs and classes for the play of happy imagination.

Many adults, disturbed and some of them distressed by the economic stress, have been counselled with and encouraged to ask guidance of the God who gives wisdom to all liberally without blame. Young people trying to see clearly through the maze of swiftly changing social and spiritual conditions have been helped in a spirit of understanding.

We do not wonder that many folk to whom our deaconesses have ministered in multiplied ways have asked them "Where shall we find Him of Whom your lives speak?"

The Deaconess Home had provided the house of spirit beautiful where the "between hours" have been spent in rest and inspiring friendships. Thoburn Terrace and Robincraft carry on their ministries for nearly forty deaconesses and missionaries who are resting happily at evening time.

In this day when balm for human needs of body, mind and spirit is so greatly needed our deaconesses have presented the "healing of the seamless dress."

The Conference Deaconess Board understands that the retiring allowance, promised to these deaconess, ministerial coworkers, at the end of the work day, is not being paid in some instances, because of lack of funds. A constructive study of this situation should be made.

Financial retrenchment in some of our churches and the consequent relinquishment of parish deaconesses will make available several of these splendid workers.

Perhaps some day a fine and generous souled man or woman will make possible the betterment and enlargement of our deaconess home.

The Board presents to the Bishop and the Conference the following deaconesses as probationers: Miss Alice Pierpoint of Pasadena; Miss Edith Curl of Long Beach; Miss Laura Price of Long Beach and Miss Eleanor Clay of Pomona. Miss Mollie Quimby will be consecrated at a later date, when matters of transfer have been attended to.

These new workers will no doubt carry on according to the tradition of their predecessors. God's blessing upon you.

H. K. HOLTZINGER.

CONFERENCE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

In the report to Conference last year your treasurer stated that it had been a trying year and that he was not sure that we had reached the end of the difficulties. We now feel that the "trying year" was an easy one compared to the one through which we have just passed. Like most every other organization, we have been facing some very perplexing financial problems. Again and again we have felt that we could not meet our obligations but every time help has come in a wonderful way. Sometimes we have needed as much as $20,000 to $30,000 ten days before payments were due and did not know where it was coming from, yet when the time came we were able to pay every bill. We have much for which to be thankful and we feel that Divine Providence has been with us throughout the year.

Never before have we tried so hard to find right counsel. The problems have been so great that it has been impossible to always find the proper solution, but we give thanks to a faithful Board of Trustees, every member of which has given of his best in trying to help. Without any remuneration they have been generous with their time and this Conference owes them a real debt of gratitude. We would also express our appreciation to certain bank officials and other financial leaders in the city of Los Angeles who have rendered valuable assistance in trying to help us solve our problems.

We are inviting you to study carefully the attached Condensed Financial Statement of our Certified Public Accountants. Every transaction of all departments of our office has come under their review and they have been most painstaking in discovering every detail. This task has become so large that it requires the entire time of one man from the Auditor's office for almost a month to go through our books. We welcome the very careful analysis that is made and their report is an important document. It is examined by the bank and by the Insurance Commissioner of the State of California and is an additional protection for those holding annuity contracts with us.

By comparing this statement with the one rendered last year, found on page 136 of the Conference Minutes, you will note that the assets of our two major funds have increased a little more than $50,000. It should be stated that this is book value and that is all the Auditor could put into the report for, with the present day decreases, no one is able to give the actual valuation of real estate or securities. We have reason to believe that in most cases it does represent the potential values.

You will notice that the amount of Mortgages and Notes has decreased $84,000, that the Invested Securities have decreased $24,000 and that the Properties Owned have increased by $163,000. A part of this increase has come from properties that have been given us during the year. Other changes in the figures are accounted for by the fact that we have been compelled to take over properties on which we held mortgages.

During these troublesome times we have not made any foreclosures, but have tried to give everyone a square deal without sacrificing the interests of the organization. Some have voluntarily given us a deed to the property involved and by so doing have materially benefited us, but we do not know of any of these who have been dissatisfied in the way they have been treated. Many opportunities have arisen where we could have taken advantage, yet no sharp practices have been entered into. Your Trustees have worked on the theory that it is possible, not only to care for the interests of the Claimants, but to give a lesson in Christianizing our financial transactions.

We are aware of the fact that we have a good deal of real estate, but much of it has been given to us. A short time ago we had an analysis made of our holdings and it was discovered that we were in a better condition by owning these properties than if the value of them had been in securities. We are not making any special endeavor to sell at this time but when conditions are better we expect to dispose of much of it.

We wish it were possible to say that there had been no losses this year, but with as large a fund as this has become it would be very difficult to go on year after year without some loss, and with the hectic conditions of this day, it would be impossible. We do say, however, that they have been at the minimum. We have some securities that are not paying dividends and others in the hands of committees, but some that looked doubtful a little while ago have recovered and are back on a paying basis again. We have tried to watch these with utmost care and to improve our position we have made a number of trades and I am glad to say that we are in a better condition than we were a few months ago.

Our greatest embarrassment has been from reduced income. It has been very hard to collect interest that is due. There may be some loss from this source, but we expect most of the amount due will be paid in the near future.

Frequently we are asked as to our losses in the earthquake that visited this section on March 10th of this year. Our property damage has amounted to about $20,000, but this does not represent all that it cost us. We have lost a good deal from rental income, due to damage to the buildings, and in addition three gifts amounting to $30,000 which would have been in our treasury had it not been that the earthquake caused property losses to the donors which made it impossible for them to complete their gifts to us. We are looking for some one to take the place of these.

We are not unmindful of a question that has gone through the Conference with reference to payments to the claimants. Some have felt that perhaps we used for other purposes the money that has been given for the claimants. We can answer that rumor with one sentence; namely, not one dollar of money paid for this purpose by the churches or from any other source has been used for anything but paying the retired preachers and widows. The trouble has not been because of any transfer of funds, but from the fact that the actual cash has not been in the hands of the treasurer.

In the last three years there was voted out of surplus from the Conference and Hough Endowment Funds the sum of $67,000 which was to go to the Board of Stewards for the benefit of the Conference Claimants. (This was done by the Board of Trustees in an endeavor to hold the rate at $25 per year of service. If it had not been done the rate would have been cut long before it was.) During that same time the earnings amounted to $42,571 which means that there was voted from these funds $24,429 more than was earned in that period.

Dividends are voted from surplus but surplus funds are not entirely represented by cash. This money had been invested and it was impossible to get it out without jeopardizing our interests, therefore we did not have these amounts in our treasury and it has been necessary for us to pay the Claimants out of moneys that have been collected for next year. At our request the Auditor went into this matter with great care and shows in his report that every dollar contributed for the Claimants has been paid to them. After definitely showing this to be true, he makes the following comment: "Although the Balance Sheets of these two funds showed surpluses out of which said dividends were declared, yet the fact was overlooked that these surpluses were not all represented by cash—that is, part of the cash was tied up in the form of Accounts Receivable, Notes Receivable, Investments, etc. This accounts for the fact that there has been a heavy drain on the cash resources of the two Funds during these years, and from the further fact that there are not sufficient funds on hand at present from which to pay the balance of the liability set up." We have faced this situation and within a short time we expect to have it well in hand. All of this has been done to help our retired brethren and not to deprive them of anything.

We doubt if anyone realizes the magnitude of the work done by your Conference office. Year by year it has increased in volume and a recent survey shows that it is ten times as great as it was seven years ago. Much credit is due the employees of the office for their faithful work and we commend them for the many hours of overtime they have given that the records might be as nearly perfect as possible. The Auditor made this comment which I think deserves a place in this report: "We are pleased to report that accounting matters were well handled during the year under review, and that we were rendered valuable assistance and co-operation by your staff during our auditing engagement."

In conclusion, will you allow me to say a personal word. I am well aware that there may have been some anxiety as to the safety of our funds. This is not unreasonable nor surprising for these are perplexing days, but every effort has been put forth to conserve all the interests and we are thankful for the measure of success that has come. Permit me to give you one additional sentence from the Auditor's Report: "From the detailed audit which we have made of the operation of the two funds which are the subject of this report, we are of the opinion that the Board of Trustees and the Treasurer have administered the affairs of these funds so as to give the maximum protection and conservation possible under the circumstances." Personally, I have never had as hard a year as this one, but I am anything but discouraged. We deeply appreciate the patience of this Conference and rejoice in the confidence you have shown. The plans for the future have been laid with every assurance that we will succeed. The task that confronts this Conference is not an easy one but we believe it can be accomplished. We covet your prayers and continued interest.

A. RAY MOORE.

COMMISSION ON FINANCE

We are happy that in the presenting of this report we are to have the cooperation of the laymen in helping us to determine our procedure for the coming year in meeting the many financial problems that present themselves. Recognizing the necessity for reduction in our apportionments and yet wishing that these might be made wisely and not hamper the work of the Kingdom more than is absolutely necessary, your Commission appointed a sub-committee of three laymen and three ministers to go carefully over all the items to be considered in this year's financial report. Their report was later made to the Commission as a whole and the recommendations which are now brought to you are the outcome of careful consideration by the Commission.

Conference Claimants: The largest item in our apportionments, once again, is that of the Conference Claimants. Those who are Conference Claimants are the retired members of our Conference, the widows and minor children of deceased Conference members. In accordance with order of the General Conference, the amount to be paid is figured on the basis of so much per year for the years spent in the active ministry. Last year our estimates were on the basis of $20 per year of service for our retired brethren, the total amount apportioned being $90,000. It is our hope this year that our Conference investments will bring in returns that will enable us to reduce this without endangering our payments to the Claimants. Recognizing these facts and at the same time the insistent demand for reduction in all our apportionments, your Commission recommends that the apportionment be set at $85,000. If the apportionment is not met it is the old saint of God whose work is finished who suffers, together with the widow who shared in his toil, or the little children of some good soldier who has fallen in the fight, and we commend to all our pastors and laymen the duty of meeting this obligation to the last penny wherever it is possible.

District Superintendents: Your commission, after hearing the report of the sub-committee on apportionments which had gone quite thoroughly into the matter of District Superintendents' salaries and expenses, makes the following recommendations: That, for this coming year the salary be fixed at $3000, a reduction of of $600, house rent $600, a reduction of $120, traveling expenses $900, an increase necessitated by the actual expenditure of our District Superintendents in the administration of their districts in these days when the advantage of the pass in their work has been reduced. In addition to this, there is $500 for office rent at the Headquarters. This makes a total of $4500 per Superintendent—a reduction of $420 for each Superintendent. We wish to record our appreciation of the fine spirit manifested on the part of the District Superintendents in adjusting these estimates to the lower figures.

Conference Church School and Wesley Foundation: The Commission on Finance would refer these items once again to our Conference Board of Education for their recommendations.

City Missionary Society: We approve the apportionment of $11,000 set by the City Missionary Society and to be apportioned to the Los Angeles District only.

M. & E. Society: Recognizing the magnificent work which the Missionary and Evangelistic Society has done throughout its twenty-seven years existence—$268,334 having been raised and spent entirely for the aid of our work in the most needy charges—and that lately it seems to have suffered through the misleading name and a misunderstanding of its purpose, your Commission presents the recommendation that the name of this society be changed to the "Conference Missionary Society" and that the designation "Conference Missions" be used in the Statistical Tables. We also recommend that the Annual Conference be asked to give wide publicity both as to the purpose and needs of this fund. Further, in order to make the organization more effective we would suggest that the membership of the Board be reduced to the district superintendent and one layman from each district. The apportionment we would recommend be $15,000 instead of $18,000, apportioned last year—a reduction of 16-2/3%, but this is done in the hope that by stressing this offering we may receive our full apportionment instead of a small portion of it as heretofore.

Annual Conference Expense: This fund was planned to cover travel of ministers to the seat of the Conference, and an expense allowance per day while here. Last year this allowance was paid at the rate of $1.50 per day for five days, for the ministers only.

We recommend that this fund for this year cover travel and allowance expense for both ministers and laymen. That the travel allowance be at the rate 1c a mile for 200 miles or less, and $1\frac{1}{2}$ c per mile for distances over 200 miles.

That the allowance for entertainment be at the rate of $1 per day, not to exceed three days for laymen and five days for the ministers.

That $2600 be apportioned for this purpose and that each delegate be paid the same percentage of his claim as the percentage which the total receipts bear to the total claims.

That $1400 be included for publication of the Minutes, thus making a total for the fund of $4000.

That the purpose of this fund be made clear by changing the title to "Travel, Entertainment and Minutes".

Office Expense: We recommend that the amount for office expense shall be as follows:

Our portion of salary of Treasurer	$ 500.00
Bookkeeping and Accounting	2,000.00
For stationery and postage	520.00
Our share of the rent	480.00

Total$3,500.00

These items are the same as last year but if the World Service money is still sent through our Conference office and the arrangement which we are hoping to make with the World Service Office is not allowed, $500 additional must be included for the handling of those accounts.

Episcopal Office Expense: This is a new item. It was recommended that $1,000 be apportioned for Episcopal Office Expense. This takes the place of the former Area Expense.

State Church Federation: The Commission recommends $1,500 for the State Church Federation. This is a reduction from $2,700 apportioned last year.

Episcopal Fund and General Conference Expense: These apportionments are determined by the General Church and will be distributed according to the figures received by the Headquarters.

A resolution was adopted expressing the appreciation of the Commission to A. Ray Moore for the splendid spirit of co-operation which he has shown in this time of financial stress in carrying on the work with the least possible friction.

HARRY W. WHITE, Sec.

FELLOWSHIP FUND

After a two year study of the problems involved, the Conference created the Fellowship Fund. Actual operation of the Fund began in 1931. In its first year 196 ministers, or 62% of the effective members of the conference participated, sharing salary in the total amount of $4050. Thirty four men, most of whom shared in sustaining the Fund, received grants from it supplementing sub-minimum salaries. Such success in its first year encouraged those who believed in the plan and awaited its practical trial.

A fair estimate suggests that our Fund total for this most difficult year will be about $3000. (At the time of writing we have distributed about $800.) Such an amount is inadequate to meet every claim, but viewed from the standpoint of the purpose of brotherly sharing, it is a surprising success. We are reminded that small beginning in days of poverty have later become mighty movements. Such indeed is the history of the missionary movement, Chaplain McCabe building for his "Million for Missions" in the depression days after the Civil War. Beside numerous individual queries, three conferences, Troy, New York East and St. John's River, inquired for our plan in some detail. The Stockton Seminar in Religious Education investigated the field of fellowship of salary and recommended our plan as the most feasible to come within their knowledge.

With sincere appreciation for the splendid and sympathetic help of the District Superintendents, District Committees and our brother ministers, which makes this report possible, we recommend continuance of the 1932 plan. We further recommend another year's suspension of the order for publication in the Minutes of amounts and names of participants, and in lieu thereof the preparation and distribution to all participants of a mimeographed report of the Fund for the current year.

FUNDING ANNUITY YEARS

This committee was appointed a year ago "to assist the Treasurer in preparing a plan for funding the years of service." There has been a prevailing feeling that it should not be a difficult matter to provide pensions for every retired minister with the amount of money already in our endowment funds owing to the fact that removals from the list by death should offset the obligation that comes from new members coming onto the fund. This does not prove to be the case. The first claimant on our funds was in 1876. Just one man retired that year followed by two more the next year. Ten years later there were 11 on the roll and by 1917, forty years later, although 42 retired men had died, the list had grown to 59. By this time a new problem had arisen in the fact that, upon the death of the 42 retired men and 57 who died while on the active list, 41 women and 2 children had come onto the roll, making a total list of 102 claimants in 1917. During the next ten years (by 1927) 79 active ministers and 67 retired passed away and the claimants list had grown to 115 men, 62 women and 13 children, making a total of 190. At the present time, (1933), there are 127 men, 70 women and 12 children, or a total of 209 on our roll, with more than 20 men entitled to retire this year. Note that the 1933 total of 209 is more than double the total of 102 in 1917, only 16 years ago.

With every passing year, the annuity years are increasing by the number of men in the active ranks. There are now 296 men on the active list adding 296 annuity years each calendar year. At the present legal rate of $25 per year of service, this would be adding $7400 each year. The legal rate in 1917 was $18 per year of service. For comparison, however, assume that $25 had been the prevailing rate since 1917. On that basis, the total liability of the Conference Claimants Fund, in 1917, would have been $159,000, covering an accumulated total of 6,360 annuity years; in 1927, $236,775 covering 9,471 annuity years; in 1933, $272,775 covering 10,911 annuity years. This gives an idea as to how fast it is growing.

To stop the increase, something should be done to fund the accumulations that come from the men in the active relation. For three years our treasurer has been studying this problem and has worked on several plans. Representatives of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, upon our invitation, have submitted a plan and the committee has considered it carefully. Some modifications will be necessary, but in principle the committee endorses the plan and believes that the Conference should enter into some such arrangement as soon as practicable. The plan calls for a payment from each active minister of 3% of his salary and a payment from the Conference of about $2400 per month. Your committee does not know when it will be practicable for the Conference to pay this amount of money nor whether the ministers want to pay 3% of their salaries, but the committee makes the following recommendations:

1. That a vote be taken of the ministers as to whether or not they desire to enter into such a plan if it can be adjusted so it will be equitable to all concerned.
2. That a committee be named to continue the investigations and that everything possible be done to hasten the time when we can enter into such a plan. It looks like a serious situation if something is not done soon. The plan suggested will in no way affect those already on the retired list or those past 65 years of age.

L. M. PRATT, Acting Chairman.

DESIGNATED GIFTS

1. We reaffirm the action taken last year by this Conference in the interest of balanced support of all our World Service agencies, recommending that pastors and local churches keep carefully in mind the pro-rata distribution of their total giving to World Service causes on the accepted basis of 38% to the Board of Foreign Missions, 38% to the Board of Home Missions, 20% to the Board of Education, and 4% to the other Boards.

That since racial work is the responsibility of the entire church it should not be shouldered on local Conferences, so we again recommend that the per cent of designation from within this Conference for such work be determined by a recognition of the principle of such proportional responsibility.

2. That this Annual Conference recommend to the churches of the Conference that the giving to World Service that is applied to the Board of Home Missions be designated to the causes which shall be recommended by the Conference Board of Home Missions and the Committee on Designated Gifts. A detailed statement of such designated projects to be submitted to this Conference for consideration and adoption.

We recommend the same apportionments for the maintenance program as were set up a year ago:

Regular District Maintenance	$ 7,974
Alaska	516
Chinese and Filipino Mission	2,679
Japanese Mission	3,239
Hawaiian Mission	5,024
Spanish American Institute	8,821
Plaza Community Center	4,478
Latin American Mision	13,829
Board of Home Missions General Fund	43,958

And for possible designation if granted by the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension.

For Church Extension:

Maywood	$ 6,500
Fresno, Trinity	5,000
Normal Heights, San Diego	10,000
Randsburg	2,000

3. The Committee recommends, in harmony with the action of the World Service Council, that the Southern California Conference take the FOCHOH AREA as an area for Foreign Responsibility, subject to such adjustments in individual cases as may be temporarily necessary. The details of such an adjustment to be worked out by the World Service Council and the Board of Foreign Missions.

4. That the Conference shall designate to the Wesley Foundation work within this area and to the Wesley Foundation and Religious Conference in Los Angeles such sums as shall be deemed necessary for the adequate maintenance of this work. Further, that the Conference designate to the Conference Church School work for the cause of education, represented by J. L. Corley, such an amount as shall be deemed necessary for the adequate maintenance of this work. It being understood that all these amounts shall be presented to the Conference for consideration and ratification.

The following amounts are presented for ratification by the Conference for the above causes:

Conference Church Schools	$ 5,000
Wesley Foundation—
At Tucson	800
At Berkeley	500
At Tempe	200
At Fresno	600
At Stanford	600
At U.C.L.A.	4,000
Total	$11,700

5. It is recommended that the Conference Treasurer's office, in conjunction with the district superintendents, shall work out proportionate amounts for all these designated gifts for each charge in the Conference and send the same to the pastors of the said charges.

6. We recommend that a campaign of education to further all this work be undertaken in each district by the district superintendents and the World Service Council.

WILLSIE MARTIN.

WORLD SERVICE COUNCIL

The World Service Council, after meeting with Dr. Diffendorfer and further correspondence with the Board of Foreign Missions, recommends that the Southern California Conference assume the FOOCHOW AREA as a Conference wide Area of Foreign Responsibility, subject to certain necessary adjustments where churches in other Conferences are supporting specific pieces of work in the Foochow Area and where churches or individuals in the Southern California Conference are obligated to and reluctant to yield certain designated work in other areas.

The Council recommends this area—

1st. Because it is believed that we can handle the responsibility for it financially.

2nd. Because "within the bounds of this area can be found almost every type of missionary work—evangelistic, educational, medical and industrial and agricultural. There are factors in connection with each of these phases of work that are of real interest. There is a strong evangelistic spirit in the entire area and a determination to make the Church a real force in the life of the community. Foochow is the home of the Fukien Christian University, one of the great union Christian colleges of China. There are Methodist high schools and day schools scattered throughout the territory. There is in Foochow, also, a union hospital conducted by the Congregational Board, the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, and the Methodist Foreign Board. In the other Conferences there are effective hospitals doing important work. There is also a union high school in Foochow, emphasizing vocational subjects and rural education, which is noted for its peculiar type of missionary endeavor. There are, therefore, within this area varied interests which will appeal to individuals of various tastes and to the young as well as to the adult."

3rd. The third reason why we recommend this area is because we believe that the great world struggle today is between Christianity and Communism, between an evangelistic faith and a crass materialism, and that the front line of this conflict is today in China. We recommend this area because it places us thus in the front line of the fighting for a Christian world.

Furthermore, we recommend that the World Service Council of this Conference be empowered to work out the necessary adjustments and details with the Board of Foreign Missions.

As far as practicable we recommend that each church have some designated project within this area for which it shall assume full or partial responsibility. And that it also assume a part of the Foochow general area responsibility for which there may not be specific designations.

GOODWILL INDUSTRIES

City, state and nation have put their stamp of approval upon a program of work relief instead of direct alms, a program such as Goodwill Industries has been fostering for a generation. This public program, however, largely fails to comprehend the handicapped and aged who must beg or be pauperized with relief or institutional care. Goodwill Industries not only gives the chance which relieves physical distress, but gives the inspiration of a vital Christianity that combines faith with works in building and maintaining personality. It is our Methodist church in action among the handicapped and destitute in Southern California.

Out of Los Angeles Goodwill have grown autonomous organizations in San Diego and Santa Ana, and branches in Long Beach and San Bernardino. In addition, from these centers, eighteen stores have been operated this past year, serving thousands of thrifty but needy people, who made 445,935 purchases of reconditioned clothing and household articles. These purchases brought in $235,662, while sales of salvage rags, paper, metal and glass added $76,156. Out of a total income of $400,319, donations in cash amounting to $37,037 were received, of which $8,341 came from Community Chests. For every dollar donated $6.85 was paid out in wages, a total of $253,817 being used for wages, earned by the workers who had the privilege of spending it for their needs as self-respecting citizens. These wages were paid for 1,130,828 hours of work to 2,398 different people. 961 other persons were found jobs outside the Industries.

Some 330,000 homes in Southern California have Goodwill Bags and into these have gone materials of all sorts which have provided the work and the wages. The Woman's Aid Societies have had a large part in developing interest among our Methodist women with reports of activity for Goodwill at every meeting of many societies.

Despite a falling off of resources this past year, Goodwill has maintained a high standard of service, has decreased its debts and added to its necessary equipment.

For fourteen years the Goodwill Industries has occupied the old historic Baker Block. It was admirably located for our purpose and has served us well. But two things now conspire to make our removal to another location necessary and advantageous. First, we have outgrown the present quarters. Second, we are disturbed by a constant threat of the property being confiscated for public purposes. A new location has been procured, considerable money has been obtained toward the erection of a new building, through the efforts of E. F. Gates, and before the next Annual Conference it is the hope of the Board of Directors that the Goodwill organization will be housed in a plant more adequate and in a location less congested and fitted to do a larger ministry to the poor and the handicapped.

It is our belief that as large as the usefulness of the institution has been, we shall soon be in a position to extend the usefulness of the organization and render a much wider and varied form of ministration. We think a new day for the Goodwill is about to dawn, and the physical equipment which has been so much needed, will be actualized.

Out of an earthquake, Long Beach Goodwill Industries is rising to new vigor and success under the direction of Mr. Wray Andrew. At San Bernardino, Mr. George Harris is organizing adjacent cities, even reaching into Imperial County last winter. Mr. John Winterbourne is maintaining a good record in Santa Ana. In San Diego, Myron Insko, with only part time devoted to Goodwill, has injected Goodwill into the public consciousness in splendid fashion.

We rejoice in the privilege of daily serving the needy in the name of Christ and our Methodist Church, and are profoundly grateful for the splendid cooperation we have had from our Conference members and laymen this past year.

FREDERIC H. BLAIR.

CALIFORNIA STATE CHURCH FEDERATION

As I assume responsibilities in connection with the California State Church Federation, I find much to encourage the soul.

About 80% of the Protestant denominations are related to this state organization and correspond closely to national relations to the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

Marked evidences of a growing appreciation of Christian fellowship, understanding and cooperation are seen on every side.

Church budgets are cut to irreducible minimum, but brotherly Christian understanding was never richer. The truth of that motto on the American college, at Beyriut, Syria, said, "The realm in which we agree is vastly greater than the realm in which we differ," is becoming a genuine and living reality in our day.

Christian cooperation is one of the unmistakable purposes of God and why should it not be? "In Christ we are one." In Him we have a common possession and under Him we have a common command.

Superintendents' Councils: I have a new and enlarged appreciation of the fine cooperative work being done by the three Councils in the State, Los Angeles, Fresno and San Francisco. As the result of these monthly deliberations much Home Mission money is being saved; a more efficient kingdom program is being rendered to the state; new allocations are wisely made and some flagrant cases of denominational competition are being removed through exchange of property and religious responsibility. The State Federation seeks to help make this work effective.

Going Cooperative Work: At Boulder dam where the government is spending one hundred sixty-five million dollars under the cooperative engineering guidance of six great construction companies, there is a superb demonstration of Christian teamwork. Ten denominations have merged their support for this great program of Religious Education, Social Welfare and Worship.

At the Yosemite National Park, an excellent Interdenominational Religious program goes forward again this season. Five services are offered each Sunday, when Catholic, Jew and Protestant alike may attend the service of his choice.

Finance: It is my understanding that the Federation has always had a good financial record. Coming to the end of the year with all bills paid. However, with the illness and sudden death of Dr. Larkin, resulting in a weakened federation program, in addition to the economic situation, the financial progress has been greatly retarded.

The Federation is now operating on a greatly reduced budget. Its only means of support is denominational aid and your most genuine financial aid is solicited.

Clearing House: The State Federation seeks to be a clearing house for the Protestant Churches within the State and also a connection with the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

It seeks to help do cooperatively that Social, Legislative and Religious work which cannot be done single handed.

During the recent session of Legislature, a bill was introduced which would place a tax on every piece of church property in the State. The Federation took the initiative and assembled the ablest church leaders possible representing Jews, Catholics and Protestants. Our presentation was so overwhelming that the bill was killed in the committee.

Much work was done in connection with the Race Track Gambling Bill. However, our effort was late, effective work must be done preceding the special election in June.

The New Challenge: Great social, political and religious tasks confront the church today as it attempts to project its program of social service, comity and religious education and evangelism.

The modern method of securing results is by cooperation. The forces of sin are highly syndicated and cannot be routed by a single effort. The need of the hour for the Protestant churches is to merge all her forces for a given task at a given place, for the common cause.

When asked how he was able to win so many battles, Napoleon replied, "On the field of battle I bring all my forces together." In the cause of righteousness, that is the need in California today, and to this task the State Church Federation dedicates its strength.

RALPH W. BAYLESS.

NUMBER OF DISTRICTS

Soon after the close of our last Conference session which created this commission, we began to collect such data and information as would promise to be of assistance in our findings. After an extensive correspondence with members of the commission and others, the commission met in January and formulated a plan for five districts.

Matters of Consideration: We tried to consider the problem intelligently in relation to the following interests: First, the demand for economy. Second, the supervision of our work in these trying times in order to conserve our forces and advance our interests. Third, the interests of the pastors in the matter of appointment. We also considered, with maps before us, possible geographical divisions in relation to the number of districts.

After thorough consideration the commission came to the unanimous conclusion that a five district plan could be worked out which would be of distinct advantage to the Fresno and Arizona Districts, giving them a number of charges near Los Angeles and near the coast, and still not increase the number of charges per district beyond the point of reasonable supervision.

The commission submitted its findings to Bishop Baker, having in mind that under the law of the church the Bishop and his cabinet must fix the boundaries of the districts, after the Annual Conference shall have determined the number.

At the request of the Commission on Finance of our Conference, a representative group of about ninety ministers and laymen, who were selected by their various districts met in Los Angeles April 18, for further consideration of the problem. This meeting was called in order that the commission on finance might approach its task more intelligently. This meeting has the hearty approval of our commission. At that meeting we submitted the proposal that our Conference be divided into five districts.

After long discussion, this proposal was approved by that group who join the commission in submitting to you for your consideration, the motion that the Southern California Conference be divided into five districts. We believe that our churches can be economically and effectively administrated on this plan and that the readjustment can be made with satisfaction to the churches concerned and to the members of the Conference.

FRANK LINDER.

WORSHIP AND MUSIC

At a Conference on worship, Joseph Fort Newton said, "Worship is, first of all, an attitude such as every soul must, in its highest moods, always assume in the presence of this amazing universe. * * * Worship is an atmosphere in which the heart is made pure, and the mind clean. * * * It is an act, solemn, specific, sacrificial * * * a yielding of the whole being in deliberate and utter self-surrender to One higher, wiser and holier than ourselves."

It is this high relation into which we ministers seek to bring our people, and into which minister and congregation must come together. Worship is not so much thinking thoughts about God as it is consciously experiencing God. Surely the achievement of so great a spiritual result is worthy of our deepest thought and our wisest planning. One of our young people defined it thus: "Worship is thinking about God with one's feelings." This simple definition may help some of us to find our way in planning how to secure earnest and vital worship in our public services.

We find psychology placing increasing emphasis on the power of the emotions to influence conduct—thus testifying to the untaught wisdom of our fathers in Methodism who truly thought about God with their feelings. The last few decades have witnessed a disastrous lessening of the emotional power of our services, since attention has been more and more concentrated on the sermon, and on the intellectual power of him who preaches it, instead of on the Lord and our relation to Him. This emotional power must be recaptured, though not through the old methods which no longer "speak to our condition." It can be reclaimed through proper direction and training of our people in worship. They need to be trained to worship through whatever forms they now use, as well as through any new forms that may be adopted. They need to be trained to think about God with their feelings, through the hymns, and the prayers, and the Scripture, and even through the sermon itself. A revival is needed in worship: worship in the congregation, family worship, private worship, group worship—worship wherever the Burning Bush is encountered in some solitary place at "the back side of the desert", or wherever one meets God when two or three are gathered together. To many of our people—nay, verily, to most of our people—worship is either a lost art, or one they have never discovered.

The form in which our public worship is cast is not so essential as that whatever form is used shall be made alive—charged with reality and feeling. There is a logical order, as we are so often told nowadays, which the mind follows in a complete and ideal worship experience; but who ever seeks God with the whole heart will find him through any form, or without a form. Nevertheless, we should earnestly seek for such orders of worship and methods as will for us and for our people procure most vividly the sense of the presence of God, and of our personal communion with Him. These means may be variously enriched, or may be entirely simple.

All of us have been in formal services which were utterly lifeless, and in other formal services which thrilled with power; and we have been present at informal services which were vivid and radiant, and at still other informal and haphazard occasions, even in some which consumed much energy, and utilized large volumes of sound, concerning which our experience was like part of Elijah's on Horeb—"and yet the Lord was not in the earthquake."

Let each one of us consider what experiences bring our own souls nearest God, and then shall we see clearly as to bringing our people nearer Him. One element having high power is the experience of silence before God, long used by the Quakers, and now brought anew to our attention by the Oxford Groups. What does the modern American need more than to keep silence before the Lord, even if for no more than three minutes at a time?

Bishop Thirkield says, "The Methodist Episcopal Church is not a ritualistic church. It is however, a church with a ritual." Whenever we do use ritual, we should use it, not as a necessary evil which must be gotten through with as soon as may be, but should so charge its words with holy feeling that it draws our people closer to our Lord. And in our worship services, a printed prayer, to be recited together, may be a mere form, or it may be a means of high grace, according to whether it is merely uttered (or muttered), or whether it is offered with all the heart and mind and soul and strength, in which latter case it accomplishes that union in prayer to which our Master made so sweeping a promise.

Though the earnest soul shall find God from any situation, or amid any surroundings, certain things assist. One might find God in a barn, and some men have done so; but the barn did not assist. Worthy church architecture does assist. We forgot this when some of our churches were built. When better times come, it would be possible for a small sum to remodel many a barn-like structure into a sanctuary, instead of a mere auditorium; nor would it necessarily be in the Gothic.

Symbols assist. They are a kind of religious shorthand whereby from a small space there is conveyed through the eye a vast volume of impression. They offer another means of thinking about God with the feelings. We should use more of them, and train our people to understand them.

As to music, which is so important an aid to worship, there has been a very notable improvement in our churches during the past few years, though many church musicians need to be more rigorous in applying to music the selective test as to whether it appeals to the spirit of the worshipper, and draws him nearer God. The name of a great composer, or the possession of musical style, is not alone sufficient to admit a selection into the repertoire for worship.

We await with anticipation the new hymnal, promised for 1934. We are also promised that the words of the stanzas will be printed between the music staves, and that the number of hymns will be about 600 instead of 750, as before. May it be as much of an improvement over its predecessor as that was over the hymnal before last! And may God lift us through its use into higher and higher experiences of Him through worship.

REPORT OF WARREN C. McINTIRE CONFERENCE EVANGELIST

During this Conference year I have worked in seventeen meetings, as follows:

Six Campmeetings—Delanco, New Jersey; Beulah Grove, Ohio; Scottsville, Texas; Conneautville, Pennsylvania; Fig, North Carolina; and Clarksburg, Ontario, Canada.

Two Prayer Conferences—one for the Christian and Missionary Alliance Mission in Lawrence Park; and one for the Nazarene church in Washington, both in Pennsylvania.

Nine Revivals—one for Asbury College, Wilmore, Kentucky; one Union Meeting in La Habra, California, splendidly organized and ably directed by H. O. Simmons, the Methodist, Nazarene, Four Square and Baptist churches uniting in the campaign; one for the Christian and Missionary Alliance Mission in Lawrence Park, Pennsylvania; and six in Methodist Episcopal Churches: Windfall, Pennsylvania; Tenth Street, Erie, Pennsylvania; Burdett, New York; Chula Vista, California; Fairview, Camden, New Jersey; and Cranbury, New Jersey, with the Presbyterian people cooperating.

I come to the close of this year with a deep sense of gratitude to God for His abundant mercy and the rich blessings of His love which He has bestowed upon me. Providential kindness has attended me while traveling some nineteen thousand miles, strength has been given for the arduous labor of the work, and after seventeen more campaigns for souls I can again testify that "Jesus Never Fails."

I wish that I knew how to thank my Heavenly Father and accord my Christ adequate glory and praise for the answers to prayer and the scenes of victory witnessed at the altar as more than eleven hundred precious souls have received the Grace of God by faith. A most striking aspect of the meeting this year has been the awakening and saving of many people long in the membership of the church, some prominent leaders. Their new zeal and joyful spirit has brought a new day of power into their churches. In each of four places the pastor rejoiced to see practically the entire group of his young people saved, launching the church upon a new era of enthusiasm and usefulness.

Telling the simple story of Christ and His love and forgiveness I have seen that it still has a mighty attraction for sin-troubled men and women, and that the liberty and power of Pentecost still meets the need of the Lord's children who long for power over sin and to make their lives count effectively for Christ. For all that has been accomplished I give all the honor and glory and praise to God Triune for it has been the work of the Blessed Holy Spirit.

I have had most delightful fellowship with the good pastors with whom I have been associated in evangelism. May God bless them, theirs and their churches. In my own soul I am enjoying blessed fellowship with Christ, the Holy Spirit abides in all His fulness, and I am happy in my work. Increasingly I am thanking God for my call to evangelism.

I have received for my work $2,006.87.

PACIFIC PALISADES

Pacific Palisades Association brings its twelfth annual report to your body and this summer offers its twelfth annual program to the public.

Its early years were characterized by glowing vision, financial success, together with daring adventure in investments. This was followed by a period of collapse entailed by the Huntington purchase, until early in 1927 disaster seemed almost inevitable. From this the Association, after months of anxiety and effort, was saved for the time by the intervention of Mr. R. C. Gillis and the Pacific Land Corporation, who purchased the heavily mortgaged subdivided properties, the Association retaining approximately one hundred forty acres upon which its institutional buildings and improvements are found. The new purchaser immediately invested large sums of money, now aggregating approximately $1,000,000, in the improvement and advertising of the property. This resulted in stimulating public interest and for a time the prospect of realizing the original purposes of the Association seemed bright indeed. This period of apparent success reached its climax in the sale of the beach to the State in 1931, which sale seemed definitely to assure the Association the ultimate possession of its reserved properties free from the lien of the trust and the accumulation of approximately a quarter of a million dollars endowment.

Then came the world plunge into the financial abyss. Sales were completely wiped out, collections on outstanding contracts abruptly ceased, payments from the Land Corporation to the Association, made regularly up to this time, became impossible, with the final result of large defaults under the trust indenture which has led the bondholders to organize a Protective Committee and to take the initial steps toward foreclosure. Under orders from the bondholders the California Trust Company as trustee made legal demand for the possession of the property and the Pacific Land Corporation surrendered its holdings, which are now being administered by the trustee for the benefit, first of the bondholders, and then of the other parties at interest. Since the bonds were originally issued by the Pacific Palisades Association, bear its name and are listed as its securities, and since all properties in the original trust estate remaining unsold at the present time are subject to the mortgage, the reserved properties of the Association are in jeopardy with the rest. Owing, however, to the fact that our legal relationship to the matter is slightly different than that of the Land Corporation, the Association has not surrendered its properties, but remains in possession of them. This possession cannot long continue unless some way can be found to cure existing defaults and to make provision for the future carrying of the properties involved.

It is needless to say that your Board of Trustees is passing through a period of difficulty and uncertainty, growing not alone out of the relationship of the properties to the trust, but also from the relation of the whole enterprise to the Conference and the church. Until the policy of the bondholders with reference to the Association has been made clear your Board can make no definite recommendations. It is certain, however, that the church must make larger use of the plant if its maintenance and operation are to be continued. Located as it is within the city limits, subject to city taxation and to all city ordinances with reference to improvements and sanitation, it is too expensive to be maintained simply as a meeting place for the Epworth League Institute, a possible camp meeting, and the few other occasional gatherings of our own church group. Only year round operation along lines similar to those now pursued but with a more general and loyal use of the facilities there provided can justify the maintenance of the institution. Without such a program its existence should be terminated as soon as possible, which process would require at least a year and perhaps longer.

Owing largely to the condition of the times, the number of groups other than our own which have been booked for the year 1933 is smaller than heretofore, and attendance upon such groups as have already come, has been slightly smaller. Of the twenty-three thus far booked for the present calendar year, all but three are other than Methodist.

The three weeks' Summer Schools and Assembly program for 1933 begins July 10 and continues through the 30th. The opening week, in which the Interdenominational Conference and the Methodist Camp Meeting Association are cooperating, presents Dr. E. Stanley Jones as the chief attraction. He will speak twice daily except Saturday, his morning addresses dealing with the individual religious life, the evening addresses discussing the problems which the church faces on its missionary frontiers. During the following two weeks the program will offer the usual music and entertainment features, together with four series of addresses of special value to our ministers and laymen. Dr. H. Arthur Steiner, of the University of California at Los Angeles, will discuss the Rooseveltian Reconstruction Policies and the Honorable Chester H. Rowell of San Francisco, with Professor O. W. E. Cook, of the University of Southern California, will discuss the European situation. Dean Baxter of the University of Southern California will present a series of six addresses discussing the general theme "What Can a Man Believe?" and Dr. Henry Kendall Booth, whose writings place him among authorities in his field, will present a series of addresses dealing with "The Background of the Life of Jesus."

Pursuant to the requirements of the Association's Articles of Incorporation the following are named for approval and nomination by this Conference as eligible to election to the Board of Trustees of Pacific Palisades Association:

TEMPERANCE ACTION

President Franklin D. Roosevelt started on a reckless journey when he asked for the repeal of the 18th Amendment without any substitute to protect the home, the community, and the economic program for the rebuilding the trade of the nation.

"The repeal of the 18th Amendment means a complete sell-out to the liquor interest." One of our splendid college presidents says: "I am convinced that unconditional repeal will spell the wide increase of poverty, suffering and corruption. But the thing that finishes me is that we go into the liquor business to save taxes. I have listened to this appeal repeatedly and I resent it as contemptible."

The Methodist Episcopal Church will not back down or give up the fight against this iniquitous traffic. She lives to protect the weak from this hideous, destructive child of the devil, and to help organize the strong to fight this enemy of all righteousness. Listen to our discipline and law of the Church:

"Both science and human experience agree with the Holy Scriptures in condemning all alcoholic beverages as being neither useful nor safe. The business of manufacturing and vending of such liquors is also against the principles of morality, political economy and public welfare. We therefore regard voluntary total abstinence from all intoxicants as the obligation of the citizen, and the complete prohibition of the traffic in alcoholic drinks as the duty of civil government." (Discipline '74 sect. I).

"A member of the Church who after private reproof, and admonition by the pastor or class leader, persists in using, buying, or selling intoxicating liquor as a beverage, or who signs a petition in favor of granting a license for the sale of such liquors, or who signs a petition of consent for the sale of such liquors, or who applies for a license for the sale of such liquors, or who as attorney or otherwise procures a license for himself or others for the sale of such liquors, or who becomes bondsman for any person or persons engaged in such traffic, or who rents his property as a place in which or on which to manufacture or sell intoxicating liquors, shall be brought to trial, and if found guilty, he evinces no real humiliation, he shall be expelled." (Discipline 291 Sect. 2).

Our ancient slogan, "The liquor traffic cannot be licensed without sin," still stands; and your Committee on Temperance Action recommends the following:

1. That the letter, embodying the stand of our great Church, to be sent out by the Bishop and his cabinet, be printed in such large numbers that, after being read in our pulpits, it shall be distributed among the members of the Churches and congregations.

2. That "The Committee on Temperance" be made a strong working committee in each Church, that our young people be given large recognition on said committee; and that this committee plan a program each month in the Church School.

One of the worthy tasks of these committees shall be to see that the teaching of "the effect of alcohol on the human system" be taught in the public schools. In this connection, we ask our pastors to continually point out the economic waste, the burden of taxation, the poverty it breeds, the crime it fosters, the corruption it creates and the suffering it brings to the innocent.

3. We believe the whole traffic in liquor is illegal, and base our opinion on the many traditional deliverances of the U. S. Supreme Court, and we commend the fight now going on in the courts to demonstrate and convict that traffic and its supporters of criminal action.

4. We urge pastors and people to oppose the racketeering of the wet press, and the unholy deliverances of degenerate owners and editors. We pledge our influence to keep these purveyors of righteousness from the homes of our people.

We commend the Los Angeles Times for its splendid stand on Prohibition, and the 18th Amendment, but we regret and deplore the fact that the Times has seen fit, for the revenue received, to accept and publish advertisements of beer. Such advertising seems inconsistent where a great moral issue is involved.

We recognize the liquor traffic as the product of the materialistic philosophy of the profit motive prevailing in our present capitalistic economic order.

5. We insist that the Anti-Saloon League, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and all kindred organizations, which bid for our support, form a federation for action in every state-wide and national campaign.

6. We call on the Church everywhere in pulpit and pew, in Epworth Leagues and Mid-Week Fellow Services, in Missionary Societies and Woman's Aid organizations to plan for passionate, devotional, consecrated prayers for the help of God in this mighty task.

7. That a permanent Temperance Commission of nine members be created to carry out these recommendations. That the Commission provide for interviews and consultations on local campaigns; and, whenever necessary, it shall ask for a contribution of 25 cents per member as a voluntary offering from members of the Church and adult classes to finance its work.

8. We recommend that each pastor keep the avenues open to the mourner's bench, and to the altar of consecration, that the prodigal voter and political renegade may find the way to repentance, forgiveness, and dedication to justified life and sanctified service.

JOHN OLIVER.

GROUP INSURANCE

- I. That we regard the Group Insurance Plan as one of the most valuable assets possessed by this Conference at the present time, and that by all means it should be maintained and wholeheartedly supported by the members of the Conference.
- II. That in view of the fact that many members are delinquent in their premium payments, though this in no way endangered the protection which they have received through the faithfulness of those who did pay in full, we realize that this condition is unethical, and unfair and cannot continue indefinitely.
- III. That we recommend that we continue the present plan for another year on the following condition:
 - (a) That sufficient members of the Conference enter the plan this year to make the required number to keep it in force.
 - (b) That those delinquent on the year just closing pay their premium within the next thirty days.
- IV. Unless these conditions are met the plan will be dropped permanently but that all premiums paid in on the new year will be refunded.
- V. In case the Conference adopts this Report we recommend that a committee be appointed to assist the Treasurer in maintaining the membership in this group in good standing.

For the Committee:

W. A. REYNOLDS.

E. DOW HOFFMAN.

SOCIAL PROBLEMS, INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS, AND STATE OF THE CHURCH

Conference Institutions. We request prior to next session that the boards of trustees of institutions responsible to this Conference, employing more than ten full time workers, shall provide opportunity for the employees to nominate not less than one-tenth of the governing board, from among those employed, to be elected by the Conference.

We request the Program Committee for next session to provide a series of Retreats for ministers only, and a series of Round Tables discussing social problems, etc.

A committee having already been authorized to study a more scientific adjustment in admitting new members to our Conference, we instruct this committee to study the possibility of the development of a scientific personnel administration program for the entire Conference.

Los Angeles County Investigation. Whereas a committee of legislators is proposed to conduct a far-reaching investigation into the government of Los Angeles County and City, therefore Resolved that we endorse the Cobb-Redwine Resolution No. 50 and urge its passage.

Reserve Officers' Training Corps. Recalling the action of the General Conference asking for exemption from military service for those members of our church to whom war and preparation for war is a violation of conscience, we request the authorities of our State Universities at Berkeley, Los Angeles and Tucson, to exempt Methodist students from the R.O.T.C. on the grounds of conscientious objection, and we hereby pledge the moral and official backing of this Conference, seeking such exemption, provided that it be understood that no conscientious objector shall participate in the financial profits of war. The Secretary of the Conference is asked to send copies of this paragraph to the governing boards of these institutions.

We protest against the action of Provost E. C. Moore in forcing the withdrawal of anti-war petitions from the campus at U.C.L.A., and hereby earnestly request that this suppression of the fundamental right of expression of legitimate opinion be rescinded. The Secretary is authorized to communicate this action to Dr. Moore.

Emergency Relief. We highly commend the State Welfare Department and the Emergency Relief Commission of the State of California, and the several County Welfare Departments for their labors.

But we wish to register our sincere protest that the emergency relief provided by the Federal Government, the State and Counties of California, to date has been inadequate and does not express the Christian way of "being our brother's keeper".

The $20,000,000 bond issue just voted June 27th by the people of California as their gesture and contribution towards meeting the needs and necessities of our 800,000 unemployed and destitute citizens, provides but $25 per annum per person. This bond issue we approve, as the first one, but we look to the next Legislature for further relief measures.

In this matter of unemployment and destitute relief we would put the welfare of the poor above the welfare of the large landowners.

Racial Inequality. Our great leader and brother in Christ, E. Stanley Jones, during his ministry among us, gave it as his solemn judgment that:

1. The time has come in America for Christians of America to rethink their racial attitudes.
2. That the Great Shadow that now falls across the souls of non-white Christians is a racial shadow.
3. And that at this point the Christian Religion is being challenged by the whole world.
4. That to the culture which can give the world "Brotherhood", belongs the future.
5. That it is either Karl Marx or Jesus Christ of God that shall rule the world.

THEREFORE, we recommend:

1st: That Round Table Conferences be held in every church and by and between white and non-white churches of our conference on "Rethinking our Racial Attitudes".

2nd: That this Committee during the fiscal year study the racial or national church problems of our Conference and of our Methodism.

We hold it as unthinkable in this crisis day that color and not culture should bar any brother or sister in Christ, of our own denomination, or any others, from our circle of fellowship.

Prohibition. The public health, the public morals and the public safety are endangered by the manufacture, distribution, sale and consumption of alcoholic beverages.

There are acts which the federal or state legislature cannot do. They cannot change innocence into guilt or guilt into innocence.

Not even by an unanimous popular vote can that which is morally wrong be made legally right.

THEREFORE, we affirm:

First: That the liquor traffic cannot be legalized without sin.

Second: That we want no part in aiding nor any revenues from the traffic in spirituous liquors.

Third: We deplore the action of the National Congress, the President of the United States and the California State Legislature and the Governor of the State and our several municipal governments in their leadership to make that which is morally wrong legally right and we refuse to be bound in conscience or in action by this legislation.

We covenant before God to:

Publicly announce from our pulpits that the people called "Methodists" do not propose to balance personal, state or national budgets with the broken bodies and damned souls of men.

To "Buy Dry" unless in cases of extreme necessity. To form and operate a co-operative store if necessary.

To insist upon the recognition of, and respect for the General Rule of our Church respecting "Drunkenness, buying or selling spirituous liquors, or drinking them, unless in cases of extreme necessity".—Discipline, page 34, paragraph 30. (See full disciplinary quotations in Temperance report).

And to take such other action as our passive resistance to the evil traffic in spirituous liquors may of necessity demand.

"Persons who ride with an intoxicated driver without taking steps to protect themselves are guilty of contributory negligence".

We do not desire to "ride with the liquor traffickers to their kind of prosperity" nor do we care to be charged by the plaintiffs of the future nor by our own children "as guilty of contributory negligence".

Moving Pictures—We urgently request National supervision of both the production and distribution of moving pictures. We vigorously protest the block-booking system in vogue and deplore an impression created abroad concerning American customs and institutions. The billboard advertising is often worse than the pictures, the shorts more salacious than the features. At no time has the industry made any reasonable attempt to enact the moral codes so often press-paraded from the office of the movie czar, Mr. Will Hays. Until hypocrisy is less flagrant, or adequate nationwide machinery is set up to correct the same, we call upon our people to establish boards of review wherever possible that the morals of growing children may have some safeguard. This statement is made in the interest of decency and social health for our and future generations.

We commend Mr. Eastman for the informing articles on the question in the recent issues of the Christian Century and pledge ourselves to disseminate the truths contained therein."

Tobacco—Through enticing and seductive advertising by radio, press and billboards, the malicious and greedy tobacco interests have missed no opportunity to aim their poison darts directly at their intended victims, the youth of the world, regardless of sex, and we who oppose their nefarious and enslaving schemes must likewise appeal to the youth, enlisting its vision, its courage, its idealism and its indomitable enthusiasm in a determined combat with a conscienceless enemy.

A nation's greatest asset is its children, therefore, we are strongly opposed to the vicious type of advertising by the tobacco trust aimed to capture the boys and girls in the interest of the cigarette habit. We urge careful consideration of this problem by our churches.

Social Creed. The recently revised Social Creed adopted by the Federal Council of Churches, endorses application of the Christian principles to acquisition and use of wealth; social control of credit and money; the right to self-maintenance; a living wage and a just share of the products of industry; the safeguarding of workers against injury and disease; sick, accident, old-age and unemployment insurance; reduction of hours of labor; one day of rest in seven; limitation of the work of women; the right of both employers and employees to organize for collective bargaining; abolition of child labor; economic justice for the farmer; repudiation of war; reduction of armaments; the right of free speech, free assembly and the free press.

That these ideals may be realized we should have social evangelists. We heartily endorse the appointment of our Edwin P. Ryland as an evangelist for this purpose.

We petition our resident bishop in his appointment of superintendents and others, to consider their qualifications as leaders in this regard.

Our superintendents are instructed to foster in the quarterly conference and churches these ideals by distribution of literature and by securing membership for the Methodist Federation for Social Service, and by holding Round Tables and discussion groups.

Our President and Secretary are instructed to send a copy of this report to the President, the Supreme Court of the United States, to the Governor of California, with an earnest appeal to obtain the release from San Quentin of Thomas J. Mooney, and the release from Folsom of Warren K. Billings.

Inasmuch as the city of Los Angeles represents the key to social situations in the Southern California Conference, the secretary of the conference, be and is hereby, authorized to send a letter to the newly elected mayor of the city of Los Angeles, indicating to him that it is the belief of this body that he was elected under the mandate to preserve the Constitutional rights of American citizens and maintain American traditions of free speech and assemblage; and that this body expects him to rid the city Police Department of the un-American, un-patriotic, so-called "red squad"; and that we intend to follow his administration with scrutiny in this general direction.

The conference committee on Social Problems, International Relations and State of the Church be and they are hereby authorized and directed to investigate or provide for the investigation of the organization and activities of the Better America Federation of California, with respect to intimidation, domination, and repression of labor or its leaders in their endeavor to better their condition, and with further regard to denial or encouragement of denial of freedom of conscience, of speech, of assemblage, and to investigate also the organization and activities of the American Civil Liberties Union, and to report their findings to the annual conference at its next session.

That we appeal to the public to avail itself of the people's right of review of unjust judicial decisions, particularly in cases involving the championing of social change.

The widespread tendency toward fascist reaction and suppression of ideas, with its political tyranny, looms up with hideous threats even in this country. We repudiate the movement, and its methods, as revealed in its practices, specifically in its mistreatment of racial minorities.

It is the church's business to resist in a Christly manner Atheistic Bolshevism and to inspire the youth of America to "go Christ's Way of Life." We deplore the growing tendency towards support of this anti-religious social philosophy with its program of suppression of, and destruction of Christian Ideas and Ways.

Attention is called to the American Committee on the Struggle Against War, and the National Congress against war to be held in New York City on September 2-4. We hereby request the appointment of three representatives from this body to that assembly to serve without expense to us.

There is scheduled to take place at Sacramento, California, July 22-23, 1933, the California Congress of Farmers and Workers, to which we wish to nominate five delegates and alternates as follows: J. E. Dunning, G. W. Alexander, Bruce Ellis, C. D. Lewis, Frank Toothaker, alternates, Carl Allen, J. L. Corley, A. W. Reynolds, C. B. Dalton, Harold Baker.

The issue is joined. Either the churches are going to bring forth prophets who shall follow worthily in our time the mighty example of the great prophets of Israel, and who are prepared to follow the Christ of action to actual Calvaries, or our social pronouncements will prove as meaningless and illusory as the vain glorious and voluminous prayers of those who sought diligently for the advent of Messiah, and forthwith crucified him when he came.

RECTOR JOHNSON.

METHODIST EMBLEM

Complying with the instructions of the Conference of last year to submit a satisfactory design for a Conference Emblem to this session, the Emblem Committee has sponsored a Conference-wide contest during six months of the year, a cash prize having been offered for this purpose. The judges selected for this contest were Mrs. W. C. Hodgson, artist; Mr. L. L. Smith, architect; and F. G. H. Stevens of this body.

Many excellent designs were received, but the judges and the committee were unanimous in their selection of the one submitted by Mr. F. D. Harrington, an architect of Los Angeles, which you see before you on the platform. This design is distinguished for its uniqueness, beauty, simplicity, symbolism, and versatility. In addition to being admirably adapted to usage upon the highways and at street intersections, it may be reduced and used in various ways.

We recommend the bid of California Poster Service, 614 W. Florence Ave. Metal, 18 gauge black iron. All required colors in the best grade of lacquer. Star to be made with gold leaf. In lots of 50 to 100, $1.38 per sign.

We recommend that this design be adopted as the Official Emblem of the Southern California Conference and used whenever possible in connection with matters pertaining to this body. However, it is the opinion of the Committee that unless fifty of our churches are sufficiently interested in the project to agree to order one or more of the emblems within the next four months, the matter of using them upon the streets and highways should be held in abeyance until some future time when conditions may warrant the Conference in going ahead with the project.

We further recommend that a poll of the Conference be taken to determine approximately the number of ministers and churches who might be interested in securing one or more of the emblems at this time, in order to ascertain whether it will be worth while to push the matter of attempting to secure orders and having the emblems made.

W. C. EDDY.

The fine appearance of this Conference Journal is to be attributed largely to two factors:

1. For 18 years consecutively it has been published by the Wayside Press.

2. For 13 years the same man, Mr. Herbert H. Stephens, has been in charge of the makeup.

Our appreciation is due, and is hereby expressed, both to the firm and its courteous employees.

THE SECRETARIES.

MISSIONARY AND EVANGELISTIC SOCIETY

This is one of the most important organizations in our Conference. During its twenty-seven years existence it has paid over $250,000 to assist the pastors in our weaker charges. Its history is full of incidents where many a pastor's family would have been in want had it not been for this society.

During the last few years the receipts have been very much less than formerly which is, no doubt, due to the fact that the people do not realize its importance. You will note that the collections this year are $5400 less than last year. The Commission on Finance is making a recommendation that, if carried out, should greatly assist this worthy cause. It should be on the hearts of the people for it is doing a most excellent work.

Memoirs

In Memoriam

GEORGE FINLEY BOVARD

George Finley Bovard was a veritable modern Saul among the prophets, "from his shoulders and upward he was higher than any of the people", and, likewise, "there was not among the children of Israel a goodlier person than he". With his six feet three inches he was not only a tall prince in Israel and every inch a man, but he possessed a winsome personality—he was always the considerate gentleman, and was a genial comrade and friend.

Beginning with his bachelor's degree from DePauw University in 1879 he continued his studious habits and was easily classified among the ripe scholars of his generation. He was ordained as a Methodist minister in 1883 and became a preacher of sympathy, force and persuasiveness. While he was yet in the forties, after notable successes as pastor and district superintendent, he became in 1903 the President of the University of Southern California, where he remained for eighteen eventful years. As educator and administrator he became renowned among his contemporaries, Primus Inter Pares, and brought his University up to the front ranks of the educational institutions of America. On the campus there is an imposing building which bears his name, but, for that matter, the entire institution is monumental to the indefatigable versatility of this scholarly man, who consecrated all earnest endeavor in behalf of Christian Education.

Brother Bovard was born in Alpha, Indiana, August 8, 1856, and was the seventh son of twelve children, mirabile familia; eight of his brothers won honorable distinction as Methodist preachers. Among them was Marion, who was the first president of the University of Southern California; Freeman D. who was the brilliant editor of the California Christian Advocate; Melville, who went as a missionary to Africa, and William S., for years the efficient secretary of the Board of Education.

He was twice elected, 1900 and 1904, as a delegate to the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was cosmopolitan in his vision and sympathies, and an optimistic patriot who never apologized for his uncompromising Americanism. He was unusually well-poised and was never carried away by fanatical crises, but ever firmly stood four square to every wind which blew. He would have made a good model for Robert Browning's ideal,

"One who never turned his back, but marched breast forward."

It was his indomitable perseverance, and unwavering faith and prudent leadership which brought his university safely through its experimental years.

In his passing all of Southern California is sorely bereaved, and especially are his confreres in the Conference forlorn and desolate. His name has stood first on our Conference Chronological Roll—a member since 1883. We hardly know how to get along without this gracious stalwart companion.

As Antony said of Brutus,

"His life was gentle, and the elements
So mixed in him that nature might stand up
And say to all the world, This was a man".

The funeral services were held in the exquisite Wilshire Methodist Church, attended by a great throng of sorrowing friends. Appropriate addresses were made by President von KleinSmid, Dean Bruce R. Baxter, Elmer E. Helms and Bishop Locke.

His remains were laid to rest in beautiful Hollywood Cemetery.

CHARLES EDWARD LOCKE.

WILLIAM T. BUTCHER

William Theodore Butcher was born in Hardin County, Iowa, fifty-six years ago. He was graduated from Knox College in Illinois in 1898. The same year he was united in marriage to Miss LeOtta Pearl Wright. To this union five children were born: Arthur Milton, Margaret, William Theodore, Elsie Lois and Dorothy LeOtta. Two of the children died in early youth. Following his graduation and marriage Brother Butcher settled on a farm and with joy and much success tilled the soil.

After five years spent on the farm he yielded to the conviction that he should further prepare himself and enter the ministry, a lure of his heart from childhood. He literally gathered all together and sold it, farm, stock and equipment, and forthwith entered the Chicago Seminary, from which he was graduated. Thus, with splendid equipment, he entered the ministry of the Congregational Church.

Pleasing in appearance and winsome of personality he soon won recognition among the churches of his denomination. At Abbingdon, Illinois, his work was monumental.

Brother Butcher came with his family to Rialto, California, where he served the Community Church. While at Caruthers the mother of his children fell asleep. He sought and was admitted into the membership of our Conference and served the following charges: Caruthers, Calexico, Mission Hills San Diego, and Grace Los Angeles. While in the San Diego charge he met Miss Pauline E. Webster and on Thanksgiving Day 1926 he led her to the altar of marriage. Four months after this happy event he was stricken by a severe accident which cost him six years of intense suffering, culminating in his death.

Mr. Butcher was a man of deep personal opinions of right and wrong. He was a man filled with enthusiasm for his work, a great favorite with the children and young people, and a marvel of hopefulness.

The automobile accident which terminated his ministry did not terminate in any way his plans of living. He must simply change the emphasis, which he did. Though a helpless invalid, requiring the constant care of his family, he undertook to carry on a business activity. Each Sunday morning he wheeled himself to the nearest Methodist Church where he taught a Sunday School Class and interpreted spiritual living under afflictions. About two years ago he moved into the parish of First Church Huntington Park, and soon sought out the pastor, Bro. S. S. Sampson, desiring some place in the religious program of his church. He became the teacher of an Adult Sunday School Class, to which he ministered with the greatest efficiency.

His death came very suddenly and sweetly. His funeral services were in our church at Huntington Park, in charge of his pastor, S. S. Sampson, assisted by many of his brother ministers. He leaves a widow, one son and two daughters, all carrying on the work which he so nobly began.

JOHN S. TROXELL.

FRANK RICHARDS SPECK

Frank Richards Speck, a retired member of the Southern California Conference, was called to his eternal home on the early morning of August 16, 1932. The funeral was conducted from the A. L. Moore & Sons' Memory Chapel in Phoenix, Arizona, on August 18th. Beautiful music was rendered by a quartette of Brother Speck's friends. His brother ministers—O. L. Enyeart, S. J. Lindsay, Edwin Stricker and Will A. Betts—participated in the service.

Brother Speck was born in Birmingham, Ohio, in 1883, and entered Ohio University in 1907, where he completed a musical and commercial course. At the outbreak of the World War he became the song leader at Camp Sherman and after eighteen months he was made Y. M. C. A. secretary at Camp Sherman Base Hospital.

He was admitted into the Southern California Conference in 1921 and served a number of charges very acceptably and was greatly beloved by those to whom he ministered. Ill health contracted during the World War compelled him to retire from active work in 1926. However, he was not idle and during these years of declining strength, like his Master, went about doing good, and even from his bed he continued to try to win men to Christ. He gained considerable renown throughout the country by his artistic "sand painting". He used the varicolored sands that nature has scattered on the Painted Desert, in beautiful pictures. His last piece of this kind of work is a marvelous replica of Arizona's Natural Bridge. Brother Speck is survived by his beloved wife and three daughters—Mary Kathryn and Ruth Speck of Phoenix, and Mrs. Robert L. Brion of Chandler, Arizona—also three sisters in Ohio and one sister in Indiana.

WILL A. BETTS.

FRANCIS MARION LARKIN

In the Christian Advocate, New York, February 9th, 1933, James R. Joy, the editor, draws this life-like sketch of our late friend and brother, Francis Marion Larkin—

"California Methodism has produced brilliant and forceful figures—none more dashing and dynamic than Francis Marion Larkin, whose heart ceased to beat last week. A gentleman by birth and breeding, cultured, chivalrous, emotional, intellectually acute, ready in debate, strong in his convictions and courageous in their expression in the press or in the forum, he was indeed a dashing and dynamic figure. For twenty years his voice was influential in the General Conference debate, for eleven years, as editor of the California Christian Advocate, his pen took an influential part in the discussion of denominational and moral issues. As editor and as executive of the State Federation of Churches he was a fighter for civic righteousness, who feared no foe, and whose leadership good men and women gladly followed. He was well named 'Francis Marion' for the 'Swamp Fox' was not keener on the scent of the enemy nor quicker to strike the lethal blow, than Frank Larkin."

Brother Larkin owed much to his father, who was a successful and high-minded banker of the old school, a man of sterling integrity. He owed much to Ohio Wesleyan and to Boston, and both intellectually and religiously he was heavily in debt all his days to Borden Parker Bowne, under whom he took his doctorate in philosophy and for whom to the end of his life he had a reverent regard.

We may not invade the privacy of his beautiful home life save to say that his college friend, Cora Carhart, who later became his wife and a melpmeet, brought to the enrichment of his intellectual life her own wide and accurate reading, sound literary judgment and flashing, sardonic wit and racy humor, besides giving to him lavishly of her affections and the full measure of a loyal devotion, that was always his undergirding.

To this happy union of gallant spirit was born but one child, a son, Gail, now one of the attorneys of the Southern California Edison Company, always the pal of his father and in whom his father had a deep pride.

For more than a quarter of a century I knew this fearless man of God, who to the last wore the white flower of a blameless life, intimately, and I speak for myself but also for a great company of Methodist itinerants who also had close fellowship with him, when I say, we loved him greatly, believed in him utterly without question, trusted him under many varying cimcumstances and never found him wanting. We knew him to be true to his ideals and to himself to the end.

When we recall his elastic step and flashing eyes it seems impossible that he had passed his seventieth milestone before death claimed him. But such was the case for he was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, August 15th, 1861 and his body was laid to rest in quiet San Gabriel cemetery January 31st, 1933.

Besides filling with distinction the positions already referred to in the more general work of the church, he had happy pastorates at University Church, Los Angeles; Grace Church, San Francisco; and First Church, Redlands. He was for four years superintendent of Los Angeles District. For many years he was a trustee of the University of Southern California.

Say not he has died. He has gone on before us. He shall live forever.

JAMES ALLEN GEISSINGER.

MRS. CHARLES LEACH

Darle Junkin Leach, widow of Charles Leach combined in her personality the best of evangelical Christianity. From Scotch Presbyterian ancestors, she inherited strength and sturdiness, which coupled with a gracious experience of experimental religion as taught by Methodists, made her a woman of strong and aggressive Christian character.

Mrs. Leach had a mind of remarkably penetration and quickness, an unbounded energy that made her overwhelming when she set herself to holy tasks.

These gifts, consecrated to the Master, she brought to the parsonage when she became the bride of Charles Leach, a devoted young Methodist preacher. Married in Iowa, in 1877, fifty years ago they came to Southern California and were among the company of noble pioneers who laid the foundation of Methodism in the great southwest.

Her convincing addresses and sturdy spirit had much to do with organizing both the Women's Missionary Societies in 1886. She made such a deep impression upon Frances Willard that Miss Willard urged Mrs. Leach to become her companion in the Temperance Crusade.

She was one of the noble souls of a past generation and all that she did was done for love of her Lord and Saviour. In those days when her body was frail, but mind keen and soul on fire, it was a tonic for a Methodist preacher of this day to visit her for he gained strength and purpose from her loyalty and devotion.

For years Mrs. Leach was an invalid, but never was a stronger spirit housed in frailer body. Her only daughter, Nellie Leach, cared for her mother with a tenderness and devotion we have never seen excelled. Her only son, E. J. Leach, lived not far away, and spent much time with this devoted mother.

October 15, 1932 was her coronation day, for then she was released from suffering to be forever with her Lord.

The funeral was held in Grace Church, Los Angeles, where for many years she had been a member. Floyd J. Seaman, the pastor, was in charge. Addresses were made by W. E. Tilroe, Alfred Inwood, former pastors, and Fred Ross, intimate friend of the family and who here gratefully acknowledges his debt to this remarkable Christian character.

FRED H. ROSS.

MRS. S. W. CARNES

Miss Mary M. Davis was born in Ohio, where she was married to Samuel W. Carnes. Early in their married life they came to California and went into business. Brother Carnes, anxious for an education, entered the University of Southern California, and while a student felt the call to the ministry which he entered in 1895. The rest of his life was given to this Conference. Sister Carnes was as definitely consecrated to their ministry as was her husband. Their service was often given to opening new fields, building new churches, and laying the foundations for some of our larger churches now. Mrs. Carnes took her full share of the burden and responsibility in these building enterprises.

She never outgrew her fondness for the Epworth League and other organizations of youth. For many years she was a member of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and her name is inseparable from that great movement. She always wore the White Ribbon and had several medals for special work in Temperance and Prohibition. The work of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society was on her heart to the day of her death.

Sister Carnes had been a member of University Church since the time of her husband's retirement in 1923. She out-lived her husband by more than three years. Her health was not good and it was with great difficulty she attended the services, but she was as faithful to her church as any member could be. This good woman passed on February 10, 1933, leaving a son, Dr. Welcome Carnes, Pastor of Mt. Vernon Methodist Episcopal Church, New York, and Mrs. Edna Kelso, a niece who has been a member of the family since she was two years of age.

W. C. HODGSON.

MRS. BENJAMIN S. HAYWOOD

Harriet Augusta Porter was born in New Orleans, Louisiana, May 11, 1863. Died in Riverside, California, August 23, 1932.

In these few words and in two lines, a human life can be condensed. But how little it tells, though it spans all.

Every life has both a history and a biography. The history comprises the main essential facts of birth, residence, marriage, occupation, death, things which are common to all lives. The biography deals with character, influence, aspiration, and ideals, things which are peculiar to each life and constitute that mysterious force called personality, in which no two people are alike. It is of the latter this brief sketch speaks.

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever; its loveliness increases; it shall never pass into nothingness." So wrote the immortal Keats, whose fame exemplifies his beautiful lines, though he said it would be as "a name written in running water." The world will not let it die.

In the opinion of this writer, after an intimate acquaintance of 50 years, no few lines so fittingly portray the character of Harriet Porter Haywood as the words of Keats above quoted.

Beauty of person; born of Scotch parentage, she inherited the peculiar charm which marked her as a "Bonnie Scotch Lassie" as her devoted husband like to call her. Her beauty of face and form fulfilled all the requirements of his fond appellation.

When the writer first knew her as a student at Cornell College, Mt. Vernon, Iowa, where her husband met and wooed her, she was a picture of loveliness, heightened by her modest unconsciousness of it.

She had taken her high school course at Ames, Iowa, where her parents lived after returning north from Louisiana while she was very young.

Beauty of Manner; Her quiet gentleness, her always lady-like attitude toward all, her invariable kindness of speech, her marked self-forgetfulness and solicitude for others, impressed all who met her.

Beauty of Faith; Marrying Benjamin S. Haywood on May 6, 1885, they went almost immediately to Western Nebraska, then a pioneer region; her constant faith in her husband, in his work, in his future, as well as her firm faith in God's presence with them and sure providences over them, sustained her and greatly helped him in his early years of teaching, and entrance into ministerial work, under trying circumstances.

That same steadfast faith upheld her and was a great inspiration to him in their subsequent remarkably successful missionary work in Mexico, Porto Rico, and in all his extensive pastoral and promotional work after their return to the United States. No preacher ever had a truer help-meet than she to her husband. Never a weight upon his hands even in years of serious ill health. Her faith and cheerful courage were always his stay and strength. It was the "Faith which works by love."

Beauty of Spirit; This is what the Bible calls the "Beauty of Holiness." It means the purity of heart that enables the possessor to see God; to know His will and do it cheerfully; the inner light which dispels all shadows in life; the quiet of soul which comes to those who "dwell deep" in God's love, and are serenely content. It is what the old French proverb means which says, "Only great hearts know the greatness of just being good." She knew because she had that great heart.

The writer was called to be with her much when the supreme test came to her in the sudden death of her husband while she herself lay in the "Valley of the shadow", but God was with her. His "rod and staff comforted" her and she lived, for nearly three years, until God said, "It is enough, come up higher", and re-united her with her husband. Their devoted daughter, always a comfort to them, Mrs. Mabel Dye, of Whittier, has a rich heritage in the precious memories of the home life they reared her in and the love bestowed upon her.

GEO. W. WHITE.

MRS. ARTHUR CHALFANT

Alice Hills was born in Merrimac, Wisconsin, March 28th, 1860, and died at Huntington Park, California, February 8th, 1933.

At the age of sixteen she experienced a definite spiritual awakening and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church and remained a loyal, faithful member until called by death to the Church triumphant.

In 1883 she was united in marriage with the Reverend Arthur Chalfant, beginning, at the age of twenty-three, the exactions and responsibilities of a pastor's wife, and for nearly fifty years graced the parsonage home.

She was the mother of three children, two daughters and one son. The daughters preceeded the mother in death—the son, Earl R. Chalfant survives his mother.

Full of years and good works she entered into well earned rest.

WOMEN'S AID FEDERATION

Met at the Long Beach Municipal Auditorium at 10:00 a.m Thursday, June 29, 1933.

The outstanding feature of the session was the wonderful accomplishments of the respective District Presidents, reporting 285 Aids, 15,659 members, 227,413 calls, 20,691 Good-will bags, and raising $140,697.71.

Many interesting questions led by Mrs. Mathews, Chairman of Public Affairs; and the most inspiring message given by Mrs. Baker, wife of our Bishop. A challenge to the laywomen of every Church to retrieve this disaster of our last election. The Crisis both in National and Home life through liquor traffic. To make a place on our Aid Program for reports of this question. The effect of the movies on our childhood and youth of today. That the same honesty, love, devotion, nobility of character that dominated us in the past come again and we give of our untiring efforts to our pastor's family and parsonage and give tools to our minister to work with. Money for books.

This most wonderful meeting of 1500 women present due to our President, Mrs. Van de Water and her co-workers, was brought to a close with a prayer from Mrs. R. Zurbuchen.

Newly elected officers:

President	Mrs. C. F. Van de Water, Long Beach
First Vice President.....	Mrs. L. C. Lancy, Los Angeles
Second Vice President	Mrs. Florence Young, Riverside
Recording Secretary	Mrs. B. L. Goodheart, Los Angeles
Treasurer.....	Mrs. A. L. Howard, Fresno
	MRS. B. L. GOODHEART.

MINISTERS' WIVES ASSOCIATION

The annual banquet of the Ministers' Wives Association, with their daughters as guests, was held on Thursday evening, June 29, 1933.

Mrs. Walter C. Loomis, the President, presided, and after voicing a welcome to those present introduced Mrs. James Chamberlin Baker. Mrs. Baker's response served to strengthen the feeling that we are all working together in the same great task.

Our hostess, Mrs. R. A. Merrill, and Mrs. Roy L. Smith, were introduced. Mrs. F. Woodcock, the only charter member of the M.W.A. yet living, was also presented.

Miss Martha Hasse sang two solos. She was accompanied by her mother.

Mrs. L. J. Taber gave the toast, "To Daughters", to which Miss Oechsli responded with a toast "To Mother".

We were then favored by a group of solos by Mrs. Roy L. Smith.

Mrs. Willsie Martin spoke upon the theme, "Our Responsibility to Daughters".

The annual business meeting of the Ministers' Wives Association was held Friday afternoon, June 30, at 2 p.m.

The hour was opened with a devotional period led by Mrs. R. Zurbuchen. "Perfect obedience to Christ must not only be attained but must also be maintained, if one would have a fruitful life."

After a solo by Mrs. C. T. Orr, a motion that we dispense with the minutes was carried. Mrs. D. B. Loofbourrow gave the Treasurer's Report as follows:

Balance on hand	$17.26
Interest received52
Dues collected	7.20
Total	$24.98
Expenditures	5.84

The report was accepted as read.

A motion was carried to the effect that notes of greeting be sent to the following members, absent on account of illness: Mrs. J. L. Gillies, Mrs. H. S. Putnam, Mrs. Z. D. Bancroft, Mrs. S. J. Lindsay, Mrs. G. C. Chapman, Mrs. R. B. Scott.

After a spirited discussion concerning the Conference activities of the Ministers' Wives Association the following motions were carried:

1. That we have a Ministers' Wives and Daughters Banquet preceded by an informal hour and that reservations be restricted to active ministers' wives, retired ministers' wives, ministers' widows and their daughters.

2. That the Secretary note the opinions and desires expressed in the discussion of next year's program and hand the same to the incoming Executive Committee for their guidance.

Mrs. C. R. Montague presented the Report of the Nominating Committee and the following officers were unanimously elected: President, Mrs. Geo. B. Cliff; Vice President, Mrs. H. K. Holtzinger; Secretary, Mrs. W. A. Reynolds; Treasurer, Mrs. John Gabrielson.

Mrs. W. A. Reynolds gave the following report of the Resolutions Committee, which was adopted:

Report of the Committee on Resolutions: It is with a real sense of pleasure and gratitude that once more we find ourselves the conference guests of Dr. and Mrs. Richard N. Merrill.

We wish to thank Rev. and Mrs. Douglas Ewan, and the office staff for their Christian courtesy extended continuously to us.

We deeply appreciate the presence of Mrs. Baker, our Resident Bishop's wife. Her spirit of friendliness and lofty womanhood gives us a new courage to face parsonage problems and privileges.

We wish to record our gratitude for the fact that Mrs. Loomis, a busy wife of a District Superintendent, has been willing to lead our association.

We desire to express our thanks to the Y.W.C.A. for their hospitality to us during the Conference.

In view of the fact that modern life is becoming more and more complex and that our civilization presents problems which demand new frontiers of Christian thought and action, we recognize that our husbands are called to face new crises and testings. We therefore dedicate ourselves anew to the high calling of ministers' wives: we resolve to stand firmly with them whatever the test may be and to endeavor to make our parsonage homes more truly Christian.

Respectfully submitted,

Mrs. W. Alonzo Reynolds.

Mrs. M. W. Beckwith.

Mrs. H. E. Carlson.

After another solo by Mrs. C. F. Orr, Mrs. H. I. Rasmus, Jr., led a most interesting discussion on "Should the Church own a parsonage next door to the church, and should it be furnished?"

The majority sentiment seemed to favor a comfortable, roomy parsonage, located conveniently near the church. It was felt that the Woman's Aids should take a more definite responsibility as to the furnishing of the parsonages than is typified in many places at present. To this end a committee consisting of Mrs. Gross Alexander, Mrs. Paul Huebner and Mrs. F. L. Gilbert, were instructed to draw up a recommendation which would express the sentiment of the Ministers' Wives Association.

The following recommendation was offered and accepted unanimously:

"We, the Ministers' Wives Association, respectfully recommend to the Woman's Aids of the Southern California Conference that the parsonages of the Conference be uniformly furnished as far as possible.

That the furnishings include rugs, draperies, kitchen stove and refrigerator, living, dining and bedroom furniture, and sufficient provision for heating."

Mrs. Gross Alexander was requested to see that copies of the above recommendation be sent as suggested.

Mrs. Ramus brought the very valuable discussion to a close by reiterating the heart sentiment of the group, as expressed by Mrs. Lincoln A. Ferris, "We will be happy wherever we are."

After a report on "Some High Lights on My Trip to England" by Mrs. W. A. Jennings, and a most entertaining reading by Mrs. H. C. Taylor, the meeting was adjourned.

MRS. ROBERT A. McKIBBEN, Secretary.

An exception was made in the case of E. J. Inwood who has been present at roll call for 49 years. As he was on a trip to England his voice had been preserved on a dictograph and he thus gave his greetings to the Conference on the 50th year of his membership.

Brother Inwood was Secretary of the Conference for 19 years, since which time he has always had the privilege of nominating the Secretary. This year, at his request, his District Superintendent, Will A. Betts, placed in nomination F. G. H. Stevens as Secretary and he was elected and named as his assistants, W. C. Botkin, C. O. Kimball, Glenn R. Phillips, Irvin A. Engle, and Wilbur Fisk, and they were confirmed.

The election of O. W. Reinius as Statistician last year was confirmed. The election of A. Ray Moore as Treasurer last year was confirmed. R. J. Coyne was elected Chorister.

C. A. Kent offered the following resolutions and they were adopted:

"1. That the area of the Conference be the pews back to and including the second row from the row underneath the gallery.

"2. That all visiting members of other conferences, all accepted supply pastors, and all deaconesses be invited to sit within the area of the conference.

"3. That the Standing Committees, Commissions and Boards as printed in the Journal of 1933, be the Official Committees of this session.

"4. That the printed program become the official program, with such changes as may be necessary.

"5. That the Rules of Order, as printed in the Journal of 1933, be the Rules of Order for this session of the Conference.

"6. That the printed Journal of this session become the official Journal of the Conference, and the Secretaries be authorized to edit all reports.

Inquiry was made as to the officers of the Lay Conference, and it was stated that Charles F. Reiche had been elected as President and E. L. Bandy as Secretary, but that they had also taken action that these new officers should not take office until the close of the present Conference session, thus giving the interim between sessions for the planning of their program. (Action changed on Wednesday.)

Communion Service: The Communion offering was received for the Necessitous Fund administered by the Stewards, and was later reported as $119.10.

The ritual for the Communion Service was used, the music consisting of two numbers by the double quartet, "God So Loved the World" and "O, Bread of Life."

The Communion was administered by the Bishop, with the assistance of the pastor host and the District Superintendents.

Memorial Service: The Memorial Service was then conducted, with W. L. Y. Davis, Chairman of the Committee on Memoirs, presiding. The service was held in memory of the following members of the conference, and wives or widows who have died during the past year:

George B. Graff, Lincoln A. Ferris, Wilfred Kent, C. R. Montague, F. C. Buck, and Leandro Fernandez, a retired member of the erstwhile Southwest Spanish Mission Conference, whose membership was not transferred to any other Conference; Mrs. J. W. Leach, Mrs. E. H. Baab, Mrs. J. W. Van Cleve, Mrs. George Finley Bovard, Mrs. W. H. Marks, Mrs. W. A. Swain, Mrs. C. G. Belknap, Mrs. J. E. Ferris, Mrs. P. H. Bodkin.

The program was as follows:

Organ	Lyman R. Bayard
Hymn, "Faith of Our Fathers"	J. E. Houlgate
Prayer	Luther A. Rice
Scripture	G. E. Monkman
Roll Call of Honored Dead of Past Years, The Secretary
Roll Call of Honored Dead This Year..	W. L. Y. Davis
Address	Walter C. Buckner
Hymn, "In the Sweet Bye and Bye,"	C. H. M. Sutherland
Benediction	Robert E. Wright

Reference was made to the degrees which had been conferred this year by the University of Southern California upon Emory Foster, son of George E. Foster, deceased member of this conference, the honorary degree of Doctor of Pedagogy, and Doctor of Divinity upon Alfred Inwood.

District Superintendents' Reports: The Bishop stated that the character of the Superintendents would be passed at the Executive Session in accordance with Conference rule.

The following Superintendents read their reports: Will A. Betts, Long Beach District; Leonard Oechsli, Fresno-Glendale District; C. F. Seitter, Pasadena District; J. A. Geissinger, San Diego District; J. L. Gillies, Los Angeles District.

Appreciation: As J. L. Gillies had completed his six years of service, one term on San Diego District and five years on Los Angeles District, the men of his district desired to express their appreciation of him and his work. Mrs. Gillies was escorted to the platform and Charles D. Lewis, as the district representative expressed their love for him and as a token of their regard and esteem presented to them a floor lamp.

Brother Gillies responded briefly.

Pre-Conference Reports: As the majority of the reports had been published previous to Conference, the Secretary asked for and received the approval of the Conference on his action in editing the same.

Publication of Minutes: The financial report of the Secretaries for the publication of the Minutes was adopted. (See report.) It was stated by the Secretary that more than fifty charges had failed to meet their pro rata apportionment on the Travel, Entertainment and Minutes fund last year, many of these being within a short radius of the seat of the conference. The Conference ordered that since the pastor had been designated as the one to be held accountable for the full payment, that the Secretary should designate one of their number to collect the full amount due for the present year.

Group Insurance. The report on Group Insurance was considered. An amendment was adopted, eliminating the permanent disability clause from the policy, and the report as thus amended was adopted. (See Report.)

The report carried with it the adoption of a new Rule of Order, No. 26.

The Bishop announced that the report of the Secretary of the Lay Conference, giving the delegates present, would be asked for at the opening of the Wednesday morning session.

The announcements were made and the Conference adjourned with benediction by S. A. Thomson at 5:20 p.m.

SECOND DAY

Wednesday, June 27, 1934

Delinquent Reports: Conference Treasurer Moore reported that 77 charges had not yet reported.

Committee on Committees: Adna Leonard, Jr., introduced the following resolution and it was adopted:

"Believing that the list of committee assignments of this body as printed in the Year Book indicates that a very small minority of the membership is given any part in the committee work of the Church with much interlocking of committee memberships, and that the selection of personnel has not been upon a basis of equal representation of laymen and preachers; and

"Believing that the 'Committee on Committees' as at present constituted could not know the personnel of the various districts well enough to make any better selections than have been made;

"BE IT RESOLVED that we request the cabinet together with the President of the Lay Conference and four laymen appointed by him, to select at once a committee on committees to consist of one layman and one minister from each of the five districts of the Conference, and that all committee memberships, excepting those pertaining strictly to pastoral matters, be selected with equal representation as to laymen and preachers, and this committee to report its committee membership selections for 1934-5 not later than this Thursday morning's sessions in order that all committees may meet and organize on Thursday afternoon before the laymen have left the seat of the Conference."

Lay Conference Session: C. I. D. Moore, on special privilege, presented the following resolution and it was adopted:

Re-election of Lay Delegates: C. I. D. Moore presented the following resolution and upon the request of Russel E. Clay, which request was approved, the vote was taken by orders. The Lay Conference voted in the affirmative, and the Ministerial Conference voted in the affirmative.

"Whereas seventy per cent of the lay delegates to this Conference are in attendance in that capacity for the first time, and for that reason have not been familiar with Conference procedure, a fact which has in no small degree prevented that effective service which experienced delegates are capable of rendering, therefore

"Resolved that it be hereafter suggested to the individual churches to elect such delegates as will probably be able to serve for at least three years, as and when they may be re-elected, and that the District Superintendents remind the individual churches of this matter at the quarterly conference next preceding the date for election of lay delegates."

$100,000 Campaign: The following resolutions were presented by A. Ray Moore and F. G. H. Stevens and after extended debate were unanimously adopted:

"Whereas the Conference Endowment Fund has suffered from the economic depression in the same manner as other business organizations, not worse but as badly, and

"Whereas the income has been greatly reduced from the fact that much of the money due us has not been paid because the same conditions have affected those obligated to us, and

"Whereas approximately one-half of the amount we need was caused by the loss we sustained by the earthquake of 1933, and

"Whereas the time has come that unless new money is put into the fund, we will not be able to carry on and meet our obligations, and

"Whereas the financial and moral credit of every Methodist church and institution within our Conference would be greatly affected if anything should jeopardize this Endowment Fund, and

"Whereas from expert financial advice we find that if this $100,000 in new money can be put into the fund during the coming year, the endowment fund will be put on a safe and sound basis,

"Therefore Be It Resolved, that we, the members of the Southern California Conference in United Session, pledge our individual support in the raising of this $100,000, and that as ministers and laymen, we will endeavor to fully acquaint our Official Boards and the membership of our churches, with the urgent need of protecting the accumulated assets in this fund, and

"Be It Further Resolved, that we will give every personal assistance possible to the plans presented by the Board of Trustees for carrying out the declaration of this resolution and the securing from each of our churches its equitable share of this amount."

Commission on Finance: That paragraph of the report of the Commission on Finance dealing with the $100,000 campaign was adopted, and the report as a whole was adopted. (See report.)

Reception and Address to the Class: The hymn "Jesus, the Truth and Power" was sung.

Bishop Baker addressed the class to be received into full membership in part, as follows:

"My dear younger brethren, I purpose to speak to you informally and directly, as though we were sitting together talking over the work of the ministry, as older and younger brother.

"Just as Franklin had his little note book in which he jotted down guiding principles, as John Mott had his little note book in which he jotted down guiding principles for his life, it is a sound and valid thing for us to jot down certain things, the virtues we will seek to practice, those things we would like to acquire in order to be more effective ministers.

"The first thing—I stand in a great succession. This seems to me of great importance at times like these, that we should realize that we do stand in a great succession.

"We need the enrichment of life which comes out of a sense of continuity, and we need the stimulus and incitement of lives that have been worthily lived, gone on before us.

"I believe that we need to realize the catholicity and magnificence of the succession in which we stand, and no man can do his work worthily in a vocation, who does not honor with all his soul his vocation.

"The second thing—I will remember my contemporary comrades and will have toward them the kind of an attitude I should like them to have toward me."

"There are conferences in which cliques develop. There are conferences in which there arise divisions. And the conference is all torn apart and nothing that is great prospers in such a conference.

"There isn't anything we need to seek with greater devotion than the spirit of comradeship, with mutual respect and affection, living our lives together in order to have a closer union with each other.

"Why don't we pray more together as we meet?"

"We need to be generous in our spirit and attitude. We need to avoid gossip. No danger greater in a conference than the danger of gossip. Avoid evil speaking. Life and death are in the power of the tongue.

"You can tell something of the quality of a man's life by the generosity of his appreciation.

"3. 'I will work hard and intelligently at my task.' The very frequent charge against ministers is that they are lazy. And sometimes they are and sometimes they are not. Sometimes the charge is made when people do not understand what industry really means because if a man is industrious in his study they think he is not doing anything of value. But we have our own schedule and therefore it is very definitely for us to hold ourselves rigidly to a schedule. We have not held ourselves to hard or rigid programs of study or work programs in our study or in visiting our people and other things we are supposed to do, as ministers.

"It is a sin for a minister to be lazy.

"Sometimes people talk as though the Methodist ministry has not been interested in intelligence, but the facts show that from the very beginning great stress has been laid by the leaders of our church upon intelligence.

"If we are to deal with the greatest of all human interests, religion—then we can not be too industrious in trying to equip ourselves for our work.

"4. 'I will seek to achieve the open mind.'

"Which again is one of the hardest things for a preacher to do. We very quickly become dogmatic. We very quickly lose flexibility. We soon cease to be teachable. We are speaking Sunday after Sunday, and unfortunately our people cannot talk back to us, and soon we come to believe that all wisdom resides in us, our minds so readily become closed and hard and inflexible.

"It is a wonderful thing for one to achieve the virtue of the open mind. I do not mean a mind open at both ends.

"I remember always with stimulus the remark of Pastor Wagner to us in seminary: 'Young gentlemen, be curious—keep your incurable youth!' The man with an open mind is incurably youthful.

"There is an endless zest of interest when you believe that new light may be expected continually on the Word of God and on the whole realm of experience.

"5. I have sought to have for my life the principle 'I will not trim.' I will have an honest mind in so far as I can achieve, and I will speak honestly, recognizing that integrity of the mind and of speech is at the very heart of character."

"There is no one for whom we have greater contempt than for the man who says what he thinks people expect him to say.

"May I say to the laymen here present, that there isn't anything we need to cherish more in the church than the idea of a free pulpit. We should wish our ministers to speak the word as God gives it to them, and we should recognize the fact that free speech is the only way in which we can understand the problems that we face.

"We need to cherish the idea of a free pew also. It is a hard thing for a preacher to grant freedom of opinion among his laymen.

"6. Then with this principle I have put, 'I will seek to be a good teacher. I will seek to achieve sound pedagogical skill.'

"Keep free from personalities when dealing with great issues.

"There is no greater mistake than to bring in personalities when dealing with great issues for three reasons: (1) We assume a place of judgment to which we have no right. (2) We very easily become hypocrites. A lot of denunciation is really a new species of bigotry and hypocrisy in the name of liberalism. Flee hypocrisy. (3) When we indulge in personalities we lose our case often for the reason that the issue is lost sight of and someone is offended.

"There is no virtue in being a martyr. What we want to achieve is Christian character, and a Christian social order. In the process of doing that we may have to walk the way of sacrifice and suffering and then it is an honorable thing, but if we seek that as an end in itself, as a means of parade, why then we have failed to understand our task.

"7. 'I will not take myself too seriously.' The ability to laugh at ourselves and with others is a thing that will save us from madness and it will also save us out into larger and larger usefulness.

"The last thing, 'I will take time to be alone with God.'

"What we do with our aloneness—thinking of a great philosopher's remark—that it is which gives the quality to our life and the vision to our heart, the integrity to our spirit and the dynamic which enables us to move forward. The great preachers of history have been great effective ministers of society because of the abundant life that was in them that caught them up into the spirit of God.

"So the remark that is often quoted: 'We need to be more concerned with the making of the preacher than we do with making of the sermon.'

"Do not make any mistake about this my younger brothers, from the very beginning rigidly, steadfastly, without exception, hold yourself to this and it becomes not a hard task but a beautiful opportunity as God moves in upon our life, enriching and renewing, cleansing and empowering, becoming so real to us that no matter what anyone else may say we can say 'I know whom I have believed' and live our lives in the steadfast assurance of His undergirding and re-enforcing life."

The two members of the class, James H. Hughes and Harry I. Smith were called to the altar, they answered the required Disciplinary questions and the Conference voted to admit them into membership.

The Bishop closed the service with a prayer of blessing and benediction.

"Feeling that we need to give more attention to Evangelism in our Annual Conference session, in order first of all, that our own experiences may be enriched, and also that we may carry back to our churches a new evangelistic passion and purpose; and feeling that the building of plans and programs will be vain unless our own hearts and the hearts of our people are fired with a deeper desire to win and hold people for Christ:

"Be it, therefore, Resolved, that we urgently request those who prepare the program of our next Conference, to make a larger place for the subject of Evangelism.

"Resolved also, that we ask for the appointment of a Conference Commission on Evangelism, comprising ministers and laymen, to study the needs and possibilities of this field and to bring to the next Annual Conference session an evangelistic program which will challenge us to a great forward movement to win and hold men and women for Christ and the church."

1935 Presidency: J. E. Dunning presented the following resolution and it was put by the Secretary and adopted:
To the Board of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church:
Dear Fathers and Brethren:

The Southern California Annual Conference hereby affirms its high appreciation of the presidency and the residential supervision of Bishop James Chamberlain Baker. For three years he has given invaluable service to this conference in its annual sessions. Anticipating that there may be a disposition to assign another bishop to the presidency of this conference in 1935, the Southern California Annual Conference hereby earnestly and respectfully requests the Board of Bishops to assign Bishop Baker to the presidency of this conference next year for the following reasons:

1. Bishop Baker's intimate knowledge of the present problems, the churches, and the personnel of the conference render him peculiarly fitted to administer the conference in the face of the difficult problems likely to arise next year.

2. Two district superintendents must be appointed next year, the two districts including half the total area of the conference. We earnestly submit that Bishop Baker should be assigned the privilege and the responsibility of making these two important appointments.

3. Bishop Baker has significantly won the confidence of the laymen as they have sat with the ministers in the united sessions. A break in his presidency at this time might imperil the mutual understanding and good-will which has been created. Another year of his presidency would, we believe, go far towards establishing the laymen in their cooperative relation to the Annual Conference.

Conference Officers: Maynard W. Beckwith was elected as Treasurer for next session.

O. W. Reinius was reelected as Statistician for next session.

Resolutions: H. I. Rasmus presented the report of the Resolutions Committee. That portion of the report dealing with the presidency of Bishop Baker was put by the Secretary and carried.

The remaining sections of the report were carried. (See report.)

Closing: On motion of C. O. Kimball it was ordered that after suitable devotions and the reading of the appointments, the Conference should adjourn sine die.

The hymn "O Master let me Walk with Thee" was sung and the Bishop read a portion of the scripture.

EIGHTH DAY

The appointments were read, including those of the Deaconesses and the Conference adjourned with prayer and the benediction by the Bishop at 12:16.

(The minutes of the sessions of Sunday afternoon, Monday morning, Monday afternoon, Monday evening and Tuesday midnight session were examined and found correct.

CRAWFORD TROTTER, Chairman,
Committee on Examination of Minutes.)

We certify that the foregoing is a correct and official record of the proceedings of the Southern California Conference at its Fifty-ninth Annual Session.

Organization Session of the Lay Conference

The third annual Lay Conference of the Southern California Conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, was called to order at 10:10 A.M. on Tuesday morning, June 26, 1934, at Long Beach, California, the president, Mr. Wilmot T. Smith, presiding.

Mr. Smith gave a brief address of welcome and called on B. H. Scudder of Tempe, Arizona, for the opening prayer, after which the assembly joined in the singing of a hymn.

The Treasurer of the organization, Guy Mowrey, of Torrance, was not present, but the delegate from Torrance reported for Mr. Mowrey, that there was $2.25 in the treasury. No bills were presented.

The following persons were named as the Nominating Committee by the president, there being some changes in the personnel, by reason of the fact that not all those named last year were returned this year: E. L. Bandy, chairman; R. H. Kee, Miss Clark, C. M. Allen, Guy H. Jaggard, the committee then retiring for the purpose of preparing the list of nominees for the positions to be filled.

The Credentials Committee was named as follows: C. E. Carver, chairman; Chas. F. Reiche, C. E. Teach, Otto Benedict.

Delegates handed in their credentials and the committee retired for the purpose of checking such credentials against the list of those regularly elected by the various charges.

Mr. Adna Leonard, chairman of the Legislative Committee, which committee was elected last year for the purpose of considering such matters of conference legislation as would be voted on in the united session, and providing, if possible, for preliminary discussion and information relative thereto, reported for the committee, bringing before the assembly a report and recommendations on the following matters as printed in "Preliminary Reports" to be submitted to the combined session, "Committee on Committees," p. 29, and "Salary Equalization," p. 26.

Relative to the first report on "Committee on Committees," Mr. Leonard read a resolution by the Legislative Committee, relative to the appointment of more lay members to the various committees, and it was moved, seconded and carried that the consensus of opinion was that the resolution be approved and be offered on the floor of the Conference tomorrow, Mr. Leonard, by motion, being delegated to present the resolution.

There was much discussion with regard to the second question on which the committee reported, the greater part of the discussion centering on the matter of pro-rating in connection with the payment of Conference Claims, and the equalization of salaries. Several motions were offered, some seconded, but it was finally moved, seconded and carried that the matter be tabled.

The Credentials Committee reported as follows: 161 delegates were seated, there being 34 from the Fresno-Glendale District, 28 from the Long Beach District, 40 from the Los Angeles District, 26 from the Pasadena District, 33 from the San Diego District, which delegates will be certified to the Secretary of the United Session as accredited members, together with those who may come in later and be accredited by the committee.

The Nominating Committee submitted its report and from those named the following were elected: President, Chas. F. Reiche, 712 Rowan Bldg., Los Angeles; Vice-president Chas. W. Stream, Palm City, Calif.; Secretary, E. L. Bandy, 308 N. Stoneman, Alhambra; Treasurer, Mrs. Helen Scripps, Glendale, Calif.

The Nominating Committee also offered the following recommendations:

*That the present group of officers continue in office until the end of this United Session, the new officers to take office next year. Moved, seconded, carried and so ordered.

That a change in the matter of election of delegates be suggested to the General Conference, that the Conference be divided into three sections, each section electing the delegates by classes, and each class to serve for a three-year period, in order that each Annual Conference would seat only one new class each year, and thus provide, at all times, a group of two classes in the Conference that would be familiar with the general mechanics of the organization.

Motion made that the name of the Legislative Committee be changed to "Committee on Analysis". Seconded, carried and so ordered.

Mr. Leonard, who has acted as chairman of this committee, stated that he preferred not to serve another year and suggested that the President appoint another committee.

Motion to adjourn.

*Changed by vote of Lay Conference on Wednesday.

MRS. I. RAY LeROQUE, Secretary.

Reports

(a) District Superintendents

FRESNO-GLENDALE DISTRICT

Prior to the present alignment of the districts, the old Fresno District exceeded in size the combined area of New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut. The new arrangement added eighteen charges extending over three great California valleys from Glendale to Livingston. Re-organization of the women's missionary societies, the Women's Aid Society and the Epworth League as well as the readjustment of the entire plan of district administration has been difficult. The diversity of character of the work suggests that this report follow the geographical outline of the three great valleys.

The San Joaquin Valley: Caruthers has during the year completed a fine new church building at a cost of $5228 dedicated last October by Bishop Baker without a dollar of indebtedness. This was accomplished by the very careful management of the pastor and the co-operation of the people in supplying a large amount of volunteer labor. The building is far superior to the old structure destroyed by fire and, together with the parsonage which was bought for much less than the cost of construction, gives Caruthers a splendid working equipment. In spite of financial stringency some church debts have been liquidated and others greatly reduced. Visalia celebrated the burning of their mortgage, as a result of the faith and hard work of the pastor, who went out alone and raised the money. Livingston was having its local budget greatly crippled by monthly payments on the parsonage indebtedness. By the efforts of the pastor the debt has been raised. Porterville raised $4,089 on principal and interest, First Church, Fresno, $4,000, and both Reedley and First Church, Bakersfield have made substantial reductions in their debts. Taft has transformed the appearance of their church at an expenditure of $500. Armona has painted the church and parsonage, landscaped the grounds, and is asking for a full-time pastor. While the pastor at Reedley was away on his vacation the parsonage was completely renovated inside.

Fresno Parish: We entered the year with the hope that under the parish plan we might successfully work out our problems with the three units working as one. While we have been disappointed in many respects the plan has lessened the spirit of competition to some extent but in the same degree it has retarded aggressive occupation of the overlapping field. In the second place it has clarified the situation and brought us into a clearer understanding of the enormous difficulties we are facing. At the fourth quarterly conference just held, with Bishop Baker present, the very highly involved and complicated situation was fully gone into. The results of that conference will come before this session through a report of the Conference Board of Church Location before you at that time.

Through the initiative of the ministers of the Methodist Church, a number of meetings have been held of the leaders of the Jewish, Catholic and Protestant groups in an effort to find out in what matters we might be able profitably to work together for the strengthening of religious and social influences. As a result of these religious conferences the religious forces of the San Joaquin Valley have united in publicly taking a stand for justice in wages, the rights of free assemblage and free speech, the right to bargain collectively on the part of labor, and to take a united stand against resort to the vigilante and terrorism and the injustice of the inconscionable greed of power companies, finance corporations and banks in grinding down the growers. Many of our preachers have suffered in order that our people might have knowledge and that justice might prevail. We have reason in this Episcopal Area to thank God for a leader who does not wait to see which way the wind will blow but has the courage to lead us forward in the battle for social justice.

San Fernando Valley and Glendale: The heavy debt on the church at Roscoe compelled the official board to decide reluctantly to deed the property over to the bank. To the surprise and relief of the loyal group, the bank offered to cancel the $8000 indebtedness in return for two lots belonging to the church. The lumber company holding a note for $1800 offered to cancel $1000 of their note. The church has taken new heart and life with their debt reduced from nearly $10,000 to $800. Magnolia Park, hearing of this, went out on a campaign to get lots donated, and this church is hoping to make a very substantial reduction of its principal indebtedness. North Hollywood has made quite extensive alterations in the worship unit of their church, greatly increasing the seating capacity. Montrose: As a result of the terrific flood of January 1 our church at Montrose was totally destroyed. After patient and careful study of the over-churched situation in the valley, the members agreed to throw their strength into other churches.

First Church, Glendale, in providing one morning service for all departments of the church, is attempting to do away with the cleavage between church and church school, to offer a more complete program opportunity for all ages, to cut out duplications, and to provide one service within a time schedule in which all can participate. To a reasonable degree it has accomplished all of these purposes. This plan has proven itself adaptable also to small churches as has been demonstrated in the brief trial given it at Corcoran.

Owens Valley: After four years of negotiation with the City of Los Angeles regarding church property, we appear at last to be on the eve of a settlement. The four principal religious bodies in the valley—Episcopalian, Presbyterian, Methodist and Catholic—united in a proposal whereby there would be a united Protestant Church in each of the towns—Lone Pine, Independence, Big Pine and Bishop, and a Catholic Church in Lone Pine and Bishop. Property for these churches is to be retained and all excess property, comprising six church buildings and three parsonages, will be sold to the city at a valuation to be agreed upon (valuation set by the city on the Protestant property is approximately $45,000). After necessary repairs and modernization of plants, the balance of money derived is to be placed in a trust fund, the interest from which is to be used in the support of the churches in Owens Valley. No money is to leave the valley except to repay loans given by Home Mission Boards.

In Lone Pine we have already united the Episcopal and Methodist Churches, now known as Trinity United Church. The union was auspiciously launched June 10 when Bishop Sanford and the district superintendent were present with the Methodist pastor and the Episcopal rector for the service. The Episcopal Church building, a very attractive and worshipful memorial building, will be used and the Methodist building will be moved over for use as a social and educational building. The property remains in the custody of the Episcopal Church but the pastor is always to be appointed by the bishop of the Southern California Conference. The book of common prayer is to be used in the public service of worship.

At Independence and Big Pine the Methodist Church will continue to function as in the past. Negotiations are under way at Bishop looking to the uniting of the Presbyterian, Episcopal and Methodist Churches. It has not yet been determined whether it will be a federated or a community church.

The church at Randsburg is still a dream of the future. Plans have been completed and a loan of $2000 promised from the Home Board. It will be difficult to build as we should with the money now available but we are determined that we shall do all in our power to realize the dream of Bishop Baker when he expressed the hope that here in this drab and unbeautiful desert mining town we, as a church, might plant a thing of beauty that will be a joy forever in its loving ministrations. Catholics, Mormons, Seventh Day Adventists and others are giving money and labor to make this dream come true.

District Retreat: In the midst of the confusion and the disturbances in our social and spiritual life, the Bakersfield Retreat led by Bishop Baker did much to help those who attended, particularly the laymen, many of whom are not awake to what is taking place in the world about them and have sometimes been quick to think their pastors were being carried into extreme radicalism.

World Service: During the year adjustments have been made by the Board of Foreign Missions by which the district Parish Abroad will be transferred from work in Sumatra to the Conference Parish Abroad, the Foochow Area.

The women's organizations have been active during the year. The increased interest in the work of visitation on the part of the women of the aid societies, as well as their indispensable financial aid, is worthy of special mention. James McGiffin has carried forward his work with the young people in a way that is making him invaluable. J. L. Corley is heading up a conference-wide Family Institute at Camp Sierra the last of August with a program so attractive that it deserves to be utilized by large numbers of our families.

Statistics for the year are not available and are not very satisfactory. Receding figures do not indicate the accomplishments of the year and are rather distressing. This conference ought to know and realize that as many as twenty members of conference on the Fresno-Glendale District will probably receive less than $1200 salary this year. Many of these will receive less than $900. Most of them are serving in fields from which we do not dare to withdraw. The help of the Board of Home Missions has almost vanished.

In the light of our responsibility for the small communities it is imperative that our churches shall throw their full support behind the Conference Missionary Society and equally imperative that as preachers we determine that the Fellowship Fund must not fail. We would be recreant to every duty if we do not as pastors and churches share with these men who are holding the fort in the smaller communities.

Personals: We are thankful that again death has not come to those of the active ranks. In April Brother Langstaff, for many years a faithful local preacher of this conference, passed to his reward. The two "blessed events" of the year were the arrivals of Phyllis Joan Chamberlin and Alice Gertrude Gray. H. C. Mullen, Harry Earle and Mrs. David Loofbourrow have each been in the hands of the surgeon during the year. The last act of a rather unhealthy personal episode was performed by the surgeon for me in January.

Will you permit me to express my gratitude to Bishop Baker for his kindness and great patience with me—to Hardy A. Ingham for so generously helping me in my work—to Walter Buckner and H. C. Hodgson for holding quarterly conferences—to the pastors and their people for their loyalty and solicitude.

LEONARD OECHSLI.

LONG BEACH DISTRICT

It is with a sense of humility that I find myself representing the pastors and churches of the Long Beach District. To give a complete resume of the labors and achievements of these fifty-five parishes in so few minutes, as are allotted to this report, is an impossibility. I am deeply grateful for the spirit of brotherly kindness with which I have been received and for the delightful hospitality of the parsonage homes which has been accorded me.

The death angel came and called Mrs. Hazel Roach, the beautiful daughter of Carl M. Ross, our pastor at San Jacinto. Brother Ross and his family have our sympathy. We sorrow with them but we also rejoice with them in the hope of a reunion in the morning.

About the middle of the year, after consultation with the Bishop and the Superintendent, Harold E. Baker decided to accept the position of Superintendent of the San Luis Obispo County Hospital. To fill the vacancy thus created Bishop Baker consented to the transfer of Gordon C. Chapman of Globe, Arizona, to San Luis Obispo.

A bright-eyed baby boy has taken up his residence in the parsonage at Lompoc and all of the Gilbert household are happy over his coming. Two beautiful babies, a boy and a girl, knocked at the door of the Atlantic Avenue parsonage and were joyfully received. This will account for the important and haughty look that you will notice on the face of Fred Trotter.

E. J. Inwood, who has been a member of this Conference since 1885, fails for the first time to respond to the roll call. The Official Board of Belmont Heights ordered Brother and Sister Inwood to pack their luggage and to get out of the country and, today, they are very near if not already in the land of his birth. The church was glad to see them go but lest they might like "Merry old England" too well the Quarterly Conference unanimously requested that they be returned to Belmont Heights for the eleventh year.

We would pay the highest tribute to the women of the Aid and Missionary Societies. As usual they have led in the matter of good works and loyalty to every department of the church. Thank God for these Marthas and Marys who in many cases have literally saved the life of the church.

The minutes of this Conference will reveal that the district, as a whole, has made progress. The most serious situation that confronted us at the beginning of the year was the rehabilitation of the earthquake stricken area. Some phases of this problem were utterly discouraging and apparently unsolvable. However, it is a pleasure to report that out of devastation and ruin our churches have emerged victoriously.

The appearance of First Church today reveals the fact that the pastor and people of this society were content with nothing short of a complete triumph over the ruin caused by the jamboree of nature. Despite the unusual burden of the rebuilding operations this church is closing the year with all of its financial obligations met in full. These loyal people have set a most wholesome example for all the churches. They have pro-rated in ministerial support every month this year and in each year's budget there is incorporated a substantial amount to be used to supplement the support of underpaid ministers throughout the Conference.

Grace Church has completed the task of the rehabilitation of its educational plant, as well as redecorating the auditorium, making it more perfect in utility and more beautiful in appearance.

Atlantic Avenue faced the problem of rehabilitation on faith. The people added to their faith, prayer and works, and the results were that when the job was finished every bill was paid, not with borrowed money, but with cash placed upon the altar by a devoted people. They said it could not be done but they did it.

Through the gracious influence of Bishop Baker the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension Society was led to give a boost to our most sorely stricken church—East Long Beach. Due to this action of the Board, together with the splendid cooperation of some of the churches of the Conference, there is now rising from the ashes of complete ruin a beautiful and adequate house of worship and educational plant, the corner stone of which was laid on Sunday afternoon, June 17. This congregation is paying as the work goes on, and when the new building is finished the only debt against the property will be that represented by the old mortgage, which at the time of the earthquake, was $18,000. This has been generously reduced, by the holder, to $12,000, together with a substantial decrease in the rate of interest and the relinquishing of all interest from the date of the earthquake until the new building is occupied, which we confidently hope will be in the early Fall. Hail to this little group of the most persistent and loyal folk that can be found anywhere.

The Hynes church has repaired all of its earthquake damage. Compton has done likewise and celebrated the anniversary of the earthquake by selling a bit of their property to the United States Government for the consideration of $9,000. This society reports the largest net gain in membership on the district.

The motto of the Long Beach District this year has been—"No more debts until we free ourselves from the shackles that are now retarding our progress."

California Heights built a neat little chapel which is all paid for.

North Long Beach

North Long Beach started at a financial zero but erected the first unit of a perfected plan that when completed will be one of the finest appearing and working plants in this locality. When the first unit was finished every bill was paid. Bishop Baker dedicated both of these buildings.

Grandview, San Pedro, needed more room and in answer to the challenge "Let us get the money and build" this splendid little company started after materials and cash and on Sunday afternoon, June 24, this addition was dedicated free of debt.

Oceano has taken on new life and the Sunday School must have room for its growth, so this group who are determined to keep the church going in this sea side community met the same challenge to "Get the money and build." They succeeded and a few weeks ago the new building was completed and dedicated, free of debt, by the pastor. That the event might be more impressive and important a Methodist Episcopal Community Church was organized and its name will appear in the minutes next year in connection with the Arroyo Grande Charge.

Bishop Baker has given to us most generously of his time and ability. He participated in the program of the week, in First Church, which celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of Methodism in Long Beach and the completion of the repairs of the damage done to this church by the earthquake. He also officiated at the reopening of Atlantic Avenue and Grace churches; conducted two retreats of ministers and their wives, one in Long Beach and one in Riverside, and in addition to this his addresses and counsel have left an impress for uplift in numerous other points.

There have been received into membership by transfer, confession of faith and preparatory membership, 1550. Thirty-three churches report a net gain; eleven hold their own and eleven show a decrease of 940, leaving us a net gain of 619.

During the year we have paid on new buildings $54,519, on improvements $10,000, on indebtedness $11,000, and on interest $22,766, making a total of $99,638, which is not very bad for a poor year.

Nothing that can be said of this field would be complete without this observation: There is among our people a manifest yearning for and a determination to reach after the deeper things of the spiritual life. This goal is reached only by those who unreservedly yield themselves to the companionship and leadership of Jesus.

We are going forward with the unalterable conviction that whatever else is necessary for the reclamation, reformation and reorganization of society, we have in the Gospel of Jesus Christ the one thing needed for the security and healing of the nations.

WILL A. BETTS.

LOS ANGELES DISTRICT

Last Wednesday night I held the fifty-ninth and final Fourth Quarterly Conference in my six-year term ending at this annual session. Five of these years have been spent on the Los Angeles District, the first having been given to the San Diego District. Four of my predecessors on this metropolitan district have been known to me personally, men whom I hold in high favor. I have felt highly honored in being in such a succession: Francis M. Larkin, Edwin P. Ryland, Byron H. Wilson and Lewis Thurber Guild. My sincere appreciation to them, to Bishop Baker and my colleagues in the Cabinet, and to the pastors and laymen.

"All the world's a stage,

And all the men and women merely players;

They have their exits, and their entrances,

And one man in his time plays many parts."

Men come and go, but the Church goes on! The Methodist system of itinerancy furnishes opportunity for varied talents in given fields.

In the catalogue of blessings with which Albert Schweitzer sums up his recent autobiography, he concludes with this as the greatest blessing of all—"That I recognize everything which I have experienced as happiness for what it is, and accept it as something for which I must bring God my offering of thanksgiving."

The last year there has been no loss by death in any parsonage home. Some serious cases of illness have given way to better health.

The widows of three retired ministers have died: Mrs. Geo. F. Bovard, Mrs. J. W. Van Cleve, and Mrs. P. H. Bodkin.

The new arrivals are: Merrill Chester Lewis, Margaret Anne Kendall, William Frederick Gaylord Hessel, Robert Spurgeon Reeves, and Anita Mae Robinson.

Don W. Prosser, Assistant Pastor at Mount Olive, took unto himself a wife.

There have been no changes in pastoral leadership. John S. Troxell, after thirty-six years of successful ministry in our brotherhood, asks for the retired relation. Five young men have been recommended by their respective Quarterly Conferences for Admission on Trial at this session.

70 x 80 Feet (Built by donated labor)

One church project has been completed, that of Maywood, where a most satisfactory temporary edifice was dedicated. Under existing conditions, campaigns either for new buildings or in payment of debts have been impossible. The Los Angeles Times, under caption—"Fifty Years Ago", dated April 21, 1884, reported a total of 22 church societies, and 19 buildings, in the City of Los Angeles. Today Methodism alone has over 60 church edifices in the same city, with 25,000 members. The value of the church property is $4,407,668. Fifty-three have a total indebtedness of $1,320,764. These debts are sapping the very life of some of these churches, and greatly hinder the legitimate work of the church. It is marvelous how interest and tax items have been met, and the local church budgets and Benevolences and World Service maintained at so good a level.

Not only in the field of finance do we find difficult problems, but we have entered a new era in our relation to youth, society, religion, politics, the social order, world affairs, war, and the movies. The church must adjust and adapt itself to these changes, and with courage, intelligence and spiritual passion, meet the issues. Roger Babson last week admonished the ministry to revitalize its message.

Dr. Hartman, in a recent issue of Zion's Herald, gives a timely word: "If the Church of Jesus Christ fails in this hour, it is her own fault." "This distraught world! Everybody at sea! Doubt and confusion, disappointment and despair abound. Everyone seeking guidance, seeking for light, asking for leadership. More desperate thinking about God than we dream. The church is the one institution that has the answer. And what is it doing? It appears to be content with old doctrines, regular services, endless committee meetings, and general pettiness and futility. The hearts of men are wide open! They will listen to the church! They are hungry for God! It is now harvest time for souls! A little hard work, with the help of the spirit of the Living God, and every church in the land would rejoice in an ingathering. The age needs a gospel with iron in it! Face men with the cross! Tell them that God demands all—all or none! Make the invitation hard. Do not tone it down. In their heart of hearts men yearn for the cross, for reality. They are sick and tired of the cheap and the false. Wide open! Man—What a chance for the church!"

The church festivals have been observed during the year, and individual and groups of churches have carried on home visitation evangelism, and we are gratified with the results, noting an unusually goodly number admitted on Profession of Faith, and the reports would indicate quite a net increase in membership for the year.

Wesley Foundation: The Wesley Foundation at U.C.L.A. and Los Angeles Junior College has ministered to large contingents of our Methodist students in an educational and social and spiritual way, which has brought very good results. At the University of Southern California the pastor at University Church was appointed during the year as Student Advisor of the Methodist students of that university, and he reports a campus organization of Methodist students for the coming year, and a planned program.

The Coordination of Agencies: The Study Committee for the seven agencies of Methodism located in metropolitan Los Angeles, has held three meetings during the year, and is now divided into sub committees for study. Dr. Geo. B. Mangold is directing this study. The Personnel and Values Committees have been very active. Data are being collected for the Committees on Capital Expenditures, on Financing and Service. These committees are ready to meet and tabulate their findings as soon as the necessary facts are in hand. These committees will report their findings back to the agency boards during the coming year. They should be in position to report at the Annual Conference session in 1935.

The response to the special appeal for Plaza Community Center resulted in sufficient funds to meet emergency needs.

The Women's Aid and Foreign and Home Missionary Societies continue their splendid ministries on a high level of interest and success. Our Young People hearten us with the vital interest they take in the work of the Epworth League, with Institutes and Religious Educational Departments. It is a joy to note the many leaders being developed among them.

This report contains few statistics, and no detailed report of the doings of pastors and people. They have wrought well, and the reports they have brought to this annual session, made possible by intensive and consecrated service and sacrificial giving, must give to them a sense of sincere satisfaction. How can one report the real work of the ministry and the church? These cannot be tabulated. The best results are in such a realm and with such unpublished methods that no statistics can be made.

Geo. H. Betts, in his recent book—"Teaching Religion Today", writes of the tangibles and the intangibles of the resources of modern religion. The tangibles consist of money, building and equipping churches, provision for training church school leaders, and overhead personnel programs. But the intangibles are the potent things of the spirit, the forces that quicken our motives, influence our behaviour, find expression in exalted personality and worthy character. It is the tangibles that take hold upon attitudes, that shape ideals, that set the goals for high ambition and effort, and that give spiritual tone to a philosophy of life. If we fail to take account of the intangibles of religion, or if we neglect them for values that can be expressed in statistical reports and activities and programs of church and Sunday School rolls, and of "Apportionments all met", then we shall find ourselves with a lot of sounding brass and tinkling cymbals on our hands. We may gain the whole world of tangibles, and lose the soul of religion, because we miss its intangibles.

JAMES LEWIS GILLIES.

PASADENA DISTRICT

The eastern half of Riverside County; part of the state of Nevada, with the largest dam in the world; half of Arizona, with the largest canyon in the world; San Bernardino county, the largest county in the world; the better portion of Los Angeles county, the most vocal county in the world, salute you. So far as size and quality go the Pasadena District marches to the head of the class with quiet dignity.

I hereby pay my tribute of praise to J. Lewis Gillies, my old college friend and fellow Missouri compatriot, for we both were born in that foreign land. Brother Gillies' administration of the Los Angeles District and the City Missionary Society has been marked by strength and discerning judgment. His automatic retirement from the district by the law of the church brings a sense of loss to every member of the Cabinet. I now reveal a dark secret: We are Diogenesing for a strong man to take his place. The Cabinet and the whole Conference, under the pall of fear last Fall for the health, even the life, of Leonard Oechsli, are grateful to God for his recovery.

Declining health forced Walter B. Niles of Holbrook to retire. Bishop Baker brought to Holbrook Brother and Sister Ray W. Ragsdale from Boston. Charles Orr exchanged with I. V. Johnson, who came to Jerome. These four young people will greatly strengthen the forces of our Conference. In September O. W. Butterfield went to Teachers College, Columbia University, and W. H. D. Hornaday was appointed to fill the vacancy.

Death has not broken our parsonage ranks this year, but devastating sickness laid a heavy hand on A. E. Schultz and Mrs. S. J. Lindsay. Both are improving.

Last August Mrs. F. H. Scharer presented her husband a lovely little laddie. In May a pair of twins came to grace the home of Brother and Sister Harry Branton.

Shrinking salaries have imposed on many pastors a hardship relative to the purchase of new books. No man can live richly without constant reading. I have tried the experiment of starting some of my books on a circuit around Arizona and parts of California and Nevada. The plan has been well received.

After many years of useful service in its community our church congregation of Altadena voted to disband.

Two Quests were held for our ministers and their wives, one at Balboa Island, where we were favored with the presence of Bishop and Mrs. Baker. Mrs. Baker is an adornment to any group. Bishop Baker conducted our discussions during the two days and it was a singularly enriching experience for us all.

The other Quest was for the Arizona group and was held in majestic Oak Creek Canyon. Bruce Baxter and Mrs. Baxter contributed richly to our discussions.

Debts are taxing the courage and resources of a dozen churches on the Pasadena District. Some of these congregations have seen days when it seemed that the battle must go against them, but a day of brighter hope has dawned for most of them and, given time and fair conditions, they will emerge. At a cost of $2500 Puente erected an educational and social hall free of debt, thus matching the record of Upland last year.

We are watching with interest those churches that have initiated the United Family Morning Service. This plan has far-reaching possibilities and is being recommended to the careful consideration of all our congregations. The church schools throughout the district are in healthy condition for most part, some of them having made marked advancement in numbers, leadership and spirit. J. L. Corley is an able director of our Religious Education program and is in wide demand. The Conference will be glad to know that the church at Boulder City, an interdenominational responsibility, has a church school of 400 in attendance, and is the largest in the state of Nevada.

Our Young People's work bristles with interest. The reports of some of the Epworth Leagues to the Quarterly Conferences read like the Acts of the Apostles fitted into the new world in which we live. Their enthusiasm for Christ and his way of life sets the bells ringing in the belfries of all those who believe a Christian social order can be achieved. Mr. James McGiffin's leadership of our young people's forces is virile and forward-looking. The Epworth League Convention held in February was one of inspiration, solid work, and joyous play.

World Service received attention. I secured Dr. Stanley Jones for a district meeting at Pasadena in July. An afternoon meeting brought together about 400 ministers and missionaries of many denominations and later permitting 7000 laymen to hear him.

Three Parish Abroad meetings were held, one at Pasadena, one at Trinity, Pomona, and one at Williams.

The Women's Missionary Societies have continued their customary zeal and effectiveness.

The Woman's Aid Societies have intensified and expanded their activities. More than 65,000 calls are reported. Literally thousands of articles of apparel, thousands of meals, thousands of bouquets, thousands of loving messages, thousands of goodwill bags and tens of tons of materials to the Goodwill Industries, have proven their sisterly friendliness. While poverty exists the church must help the poor, but it must not rest day or night until it has cured the cause of poverty.

The meaning of salvation and the work of the church is coming in for a broader interpretation. Pastors and laymen are becoming convinced that the vast movements afoot in the world must become the deep concern of the church. The church must concern itself with everything that has to do with folks. It is gratifying that many preachers and laymen have made provision for such study in Church Night and other programs. A significant effort to get laymen and preachers to study these vexing problems together in the spirit of frankness and fellowship was initiated by the Pomona group last Fall when the Pomona Methodist Breakfast Club was formed. The results have been most gratifying and will justify a proposal which that group will make to the Conference.

The depression has driven many ministers and laymen to God in earnest search of help. Many have awakened afresh to the invincibility of God, the lordship of Jesus, and the recoverability of man. Pastors have written of striking manifestations of the act of God in the redemption of people from special sins, of members of the churches lifted into new and vital knowledge of Christ and his way of life, of answer to prayer for the sick and sinful, and of the winsomeness of a gospel that went about beseeching men to be reconciled to God.

An encouraging phase of pastoral oversight is emerging in the form of personal interviews. All sorts of people with all sorts of burdens and problems are coming in increasing numbers to our pastors.

These preachers have read books, preached sermons, comforted the bereaved, assured the dying, buried the dead, married the lovers, directed churches in a modern world, have made some 30,000 calls, and much more. By their side have stood their wives and children. Likewise by their side have stood the lay workers as faithful and devoted as the preachers themselves. Thank God for them all.

This report closes with expressions of sincere appreciation of the wise and brotherly counsel of Bishop Baker, the fine fellowship of the superintendents, the loyal co-operation of the pastors and laymen, and the cordial hospitality of the parsonage families. To Almighty God our Heavenly Father I give thanks for his love and care. Amen.

CHARLES F. SEITTER.

SAN DIEGO DISTRICT

Immediately after conference last year I proceeded to group the churches of San Diego District geographically, establishing the Orange County, Escondido, San Diego, Imperial Valley and Salt River Valley Groups. The meetings were well attended and we received a written report from each church, but one, signed by the proper committee heads. We were through with this round of conferences before Christmas. As a result we had an excellent report on actual conditions and carried over no deficits on finances. Besides we had agreed on objectives and goals for the year.

By a misunderstanding among the superintendents the report blanks were not sent out this year for the end of the year but I think from my Fourth Quarterly Conference reports that there will be slight gains in membership, Conference Askings and Current Expenses; but some falling off in World Service.

Stanley Jones was with us in two great rallies at the very beginning of the year and made a fine impression. E. E. Helms and Roy L. Smith have been in most sections of the district inspiring the churches and rendering help to the pastors. Occasionally other men have visited the district, especially R. N. Merrill. The Foochow Area program has been well set up by J. L. Corley and Frank Toothaker. Bishop Baker has been in the San Diego group and in the Orange County group and has, in his usual gifted manner, greatly comforted the preachers and the churches, has contacted the field personally and most effectively. The marvelous thing is that his physical strength seems never to flag. We have missed Mrs. Baker this year but we still remember her delightful visits last year.

All up and down the District, in group meetings, at conferences, in Sunday sermons, and in personal conferences, I have tried to share my vision of the eternal gospel and the vision of life, as it lives in Christ, and His teachings, with the churches and preachers.

This is the close of my fifth year on the District, and I think there is still a most delightful comradeship existing between the churches and pastors, and the Superintendent has been the recipient of innumerable courtesies at the hands of both the churches and pastors and he hereby expresses his appreciation of this cooperation and good will.

Sickness has entered the parsonage homes rather more frequently this year than ordinarily, possibly due to the long financial strain in the country at large. Mrs. Q. P. Royer, Mrs. R. B. Scott, Mrs. John Ashley, Mrs. Ed. Stricker, Mrs. Gordon Chapman and Mrs. H. O. Simmons have all been patient sufferers, but are now on the mend, if not entirely convalescent. Twice the grim visitor Death has invaded our parsonage homes; Saturday before Palm Sunday C. R. Montague, our pastor at Tucson, left us with almost no warning, and left a large empty place by going. He was a fine preacher, an indefatigable worker, and a faithful pastor. Brother Junius Meade, assistant pastor, has carried on there since. Mrs. J. E. Ferris, after a brief illness, was called from the Church Militant to the Church Triumphant, and left behind a very brilliant record as public school teacher, missionary, worker and lecturer among the women, and a most capable pastor's assistant. Brother Ferris has been ill not a little the past year but is better now.

New babies welcomed on the District are Anna May Wahlquist and Wm. Charles Hoffman.

There are a few personal notations that must be made. Q. P. Royer has been continuously in the Imperial Valley for 26 years, and this year finishes five years in a second pastorate at Calexico. Geo. A. Warmer is called back for his eighth year at Santa Ana most enthusiastically. Frank Linder has received a similar urgent request for the eleventh year. One of our churches will bring up a recommendation to the Annual Conference to memorialize the next General Conference for an indeterminate pastorate, and I think our churches in San Diego district are quite generally for it.

J. E. Vandagriff leaves the pastorate at Mission Hills under assignment to the Chaplaincy in the Conservation work at Fort McArthur. He will give himself to vocational guidance work.

Myron Insko has done so well in developing the Goodwill Industries of San Diego that he will give his whole time there this coming year, and Point Loma asks for a full time pastor.

Under the direction of the Bishop and with the unanimous vote of the charges at Higley, Gilbert and Chandler, a larger parish plan has been launched, to be known as Chandler, Gilbert and Higley charge, with Norman Taylor as pastor. Norman Taylor has felt the challenge of the work there to such an extent that he asked Miss Rosalind Gregory of Riverside, to come over and help him.

Ajo—John Nicholson; Hayden—Claude Brown; and Bisbee—Charles Roberts, have felt the stringency caused by the free copper shipped in from Africa and closing the copper mines in these communities. The prospect is good that conditions will be better next year.

When Gordan Chapman and Mrs. Chapman, on account of the latter's ill health, were transferred to San Luis Obispo, Brother and Sister Broughton were sent to Globe, and have proved a happy fit.

In accordance with the authorization of the last Conference, the property of the abandoned church at Tustin has been deeded to the Costa Mesa Church, and there is prospect of a sale. Brother W. I. Lowe has been doing well in the difficult field at Costa Mesa.

Improvements at Mesa, Somerton and Tucson in Arizona. El Centro has changed its location and renewed its plant. Extensive additions have been made at Wintersberg. Rehabilitation of earthquake damage at Santa Ana, Garden Grove and Huntington Beach. We have a fine parsonage built and paid for at Santa Fe Springs. Fullerton is reducing its principal at the rate of $1000 a month.

New League institute in Laguna mountains, more than 200 present.

There have been only a very few decreases in salary, and several churches have returned to the old level of ministerial support. A number of the churches will pay out 100% on everything. Three of our churches are struggling with very difficult debt situations, but we hope to weather the storm in each case.

Paul well sayeth Jesus has brought both life and immortality to light, while the drift of modern humanism which has affected all of the churches and deeply influenced Methodism of today, leaves the eternal meaning of life to one side. We live in an epidemic of secularism. I am clear that we need a Kingdom of God movement in America and in Methodism which will aim to hear and understand what Jesus has to say, not only in regard to the economic problem, but the total meaning of life, the eternal significance of life.

We need to see the shortcomings of present civilization, and it is well enough to make charts and blue prints of a better order of society than we have yet achieved. But if we wish to bring in the Kingdom of God and save the world, we shall have to experience the grace of God in our own hearts, and spread our religion by the power of contagion. Without doubt Christianity has its social implications, and if man is to be Christian in all the relationships of life, then the preacher has the infinitely difficult task of seeking to guide parishioners with varying histories and temperaments into Christlikeness. And the preacher must never be a mere politician. When we leave God, as revealed in Christ, out of our thinking, as the prevailing modern thought does, and refuse to ask—"After death what?", we break down the major moral restraints and spiritual sanctions, and like hogs to their trough, men rush to get their swag, and the finer things of life are trampled under the split hoofs of greed and avarice and selfishness, propensities as much at home in overalls as on the higher ranges of human life. We must bring to men's lives, their imaginations and consciences alike, a quick sense of God and eternity. We are set to plead the cause of eternity with human hearts. Civilization can be saved only as it is saved spiritually.

RESOLUTIONS

It is with a deep sense of debt that we record our appreciation of the presidency of Bishop James Chamberlain Baker over another session of this body. His quiet dignity, his unfailing good humor, his impartial judgment and his steady grasp upon the complex affairs of the Conference give ever the assurance that every interest of the individual and of the Church will be conserved. His morning devotional messages, his address to the Class, his Sabbath day sermon have carried warmth, courage, direction and inspiration to our hearts.

The participation in the Annual Conference of Wilmot T. Smith, past-president of the Lay Conference, and Charles F. Reiche, president-elect, is deeply appreciated.

For the fifth consecutive year, we express our gratitude to Richard N. Merrill, minister-host; to his Official Board, the Church Staff, the local Entertainment Committee, and other valuable workers.

The entertainment of the Retired Ministers, their wives, and widows, has been beautifully given.

The cooperation of the sister Methodist Churches of Long Beach and their ministers, the First Presbyterian Church and the First Baptist Church, and the courtesies extended by the Young Women's Christian Association and the Young Men's Christian Association have put us deeply in their debt.

To the Officials of the City of Long Beach, we express our appreciation, and our gratitude goes to the Municipal Convention Bureau for the use of the Municipal Auditorium and the provision of the souvenir programs.

We thank the Long Beach Press-Telegram and the Long Beach Sun for splendid publicity.

The Conference Program Committee has done a masterful piece of work. We commend them for bringing to this Annual Conference Albert E. Day. To those others who made the various programs outstanding—to the musicians: Lillian Marie Brandvig and the Choirs of First and Grace Churches, Long Beach; First Church, Pasadena; White Temple Church of Anaheim; the Wesley Foundation Verse-Speaking Choir; Miss Anne Aaronsen, Miss Elizabeth Kirksey, and Raymond Parmelee; and Emory Foster, we say "Thank you." We would express our gratitude to Walter C. Buckner for his fine chairmanship of the evening services.

The exquisite bouquets, distributed throughout the Church and placed in the Municipal Auditorium, were provided by the florists and the churches of the city. The dainty boutonnieres, distributed by the Young Matron's Class, deserve special mention.

Since the year 1934 marks the Methodist Sesquicentennial and Jason Lee anniversary, we rejoice in the fact that Edward Laird Mills could bring the anniversary message, and we tender to him our sincere appreciation.

The courtesies offered our members by the hotels and apartment houses of the city were generous considerations we shall not soon forget.

Our hearts have been gladdened by the return to active service of our Conference Treasurer, A. Ray Moore. He has been ever in our prayers and the fact that he is so far restored to health is a source of unending thanksgiving to us. We extend our profound appreciation to him and his fine office staff; to our Conference Statistician, O. W. Renius, and his splendid helpers; to our Conference Secretary, F. G. H. Stevens, and his efficient assistants for the faithful performance of herculean tasks.

We are not unmindful of, nor insensitive to, the much labor of love performed by our District Superintendents. The memory of this is ever in our hearts. To J. L. Gillies, retiring from the district superintendency after six wonderfully fruitful years, we proffer our heart's richest affection.

To the Conference Chorister, R. J. Coyne; our organist, Lyman Bayard, go our thanks.

The unfailing cooperation and generosity of the committee chairmen, as well as their statesmanlike presentation of reports and causes, made this Conference noteworthy. They, too, claim a large measure of our gratitude.

To those who had in charge and contributed to the success of the programs for the Women's Organizations, the Conference Brotherhood, the Young People's work, the Sunday afternoon service of recognition, baptism, ordination and consecration, and the Latin American Mission, we offer commendation.

The caretakers of the host Church, E. O. Dickey and George R. Moore, have given a singularly high type of service.

We feel that this Fifty-Ninth Session of the Southern California Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church has been deeply significant. Many have labored to make it so; to these may God add the measure of His blessing.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Let this mind (disposition) be in you which was also in Christ Jesus. (Phil. 2:5) . . . that you may always prove yourselves to be blameless and spotless—irreproachable children of God in the midst of a crooked and perverse generation, among whom you are seen as heavenly lights in the world, holding out to them a Message of Life. Phil. 2:15 (Weymouth).

Without the one, the other cannot be. Without the mind of Christ we shall not be able to hold out to the world the Message of Life. But the mind of Christ—His awareness, insight, outlook, understanding and comprehension—is not a mushroom achievement; it comes in a process of learning and growing. Jesus, Himself, "grew in wisdom." We are to continue "in order fully to equip His people for the work of serving—for the building up of Christ's body—till we all of us arrive . . . at mature manhood and the stature of full-grown men in Christ." This your Board of Education conceives to be the central purpose of the Church. It is no light or simple undertaking.

To succeed in this primary aim of the Church it appears wise, first, to unite in one body all in the Conference engaged in the great business of education. Look into this report and see there the statements of not less than sixteen groups and organizations, created by the Church, whose sacred responsibility it is to seek to enrich and ennoble personality after the pattern in Jesus Christ and to "equip His people for the work of serving." The work of all these represents a prodigious investment of time and energy, thought and prayer, money and talent. I invite your studious perusal of the appended statements, for they come from those you have placed in these positions, devoted and hard-working servants of the Church.

It is important that we see the program of the Church as one of educational evangelism in which we are equipping ourselves, not alone for our individual advantage, but to live Christ-like lives in all relationships. It becomes clear that, beginning with the individual, our task is not complete until the process of redemption takes in the whole of life—the total social order. Yet it is imperative that we learn to hold constantly in mind the supreme importance of human personality.

The year has been a full one. Visitation of the churches in all parts of the Conference has continued with extra time devoted to the San Diego District. Direct responsibility to our six Wesley Foundation projects and to the World Service Commission, as Secretary of the educational committee of our Parish Abroad, have added greatly to our duties. The Children's, Young People and Adult Committees of our Board have been entrusted with the important task of preparing study manuals on Foochow for their respective age-groups. These probably will be ready by next fall.

Discussion conferences under Dr. Forsyth and Mr. Boss of the Chicago office were very well attended and pronounced as most helpful. We hope to have both these leaders again next year and applications for membership in these Seminars at any time are welcomed. District discussion groups, led by Bishop Baker, demonstrated a new and wonderful way of creating an intelligent church. An experiment was tried in the way of five all-day Conversations on vital issues, held at Firch Church, Los Angeles, and led most acceptably by our social evangelist, Dr. Ryland. A previous day's discussion on the liquor question resulted in renewed impetus to the matter of education on alcohol and the production through an interdenominational committee, in cooperation with Mrs. Mary M. Morehouse, of some excellent age-group manuals on this subject.

Valuable materials, relating to important phases of the work, are mailed to the churches. We seek to make of our office a resource station and the increasing number of requests by mail and the almost constant stream of workers from all parts of the Conference who call at the office for advice and materials attest the success of these efforts.

An interesting development of recent months is the unified worship period and shortened Sunday morning programs in a number of our churches. None are more enthusiastic about it than the churches in which the experiment is being tried.

We have had great encouragement in our task. Bishop Baker has given of his time without stint. His help and the inspiration of his presence in a number of discussion groups has been invaluable and very deeply appreciated. District Superintendents, Pastors and a host of devoted laymen offer constant cooperation and make possible any advance or improvement achieved in our work. Think of the opportunity before us with 110,000 enrolled in the Church Schools alone, led by nearly 10,000 officers and teachers!

Participating in a greater or less degree in the activities of the constituent groups of the Board, whose all too inadequate reports are herewith submitted, the secretary finds his time fully but delightfully occupied.

Children's Work. With the increasing emphasis upon Christian Education as a whole life process, we find the importance of childhood experiences not less but more urgent. The church which does not provide adequate leadership for her children cannot offset this by a fuller program of Christian development for young people and adults.

The Committee, Alice Louise Brown, Chairman, entrusted with the work among our children have given much time in studying how to make this leadership more effective. Main emphasis has been on better correlation of the activities of the various agencies of the church, with representation on the committee of the Women's Missionary Societies, Scouts and Camp Fire as well as the League and Church School. A manual on correlation and another on temperance have been prepared, and four one-day conferences held dealing with correlation. Temperance education has received special attention.

The educational promotion of our Foochow Area Plan among the children of the Conference has been entrusted to this committee.

A visit from Miss Sarah E. Green, Director of Children's Work for the Board of Education of our Church, is being negotiated also for the fall months when one-day institutes on children's work will be held.

Your committee is gladly giving such leadership as is possible on a volunteer basis but no adequate leadership can be given in this great field, where we have over five thousand local workers striving to maintain an educational program parallel with that of the public schools, until someone is secured to give full attention to this division of our work.

Young People's Work. Christian Youth Building a New World is the slogan of the young people of the Southern California Conference. It represents a nation-wide movement embracing the youth of thirty denominations committed to making a world in which the teachings of Jesus are effective.

Recognizing that more learning comes during leisure than in school, training conferences to deal with this growing problem have been instituted.

The program includes seven Institutes this year, beginning June 1 and carrying through to the end of August. Over 100 ministers of this Conference will be used as instructors, more than 1000 young people will be reached with a program which will spiritually strengthen their lives, increase their capabilities for understanding service and deepen their sense of responsibility in the task of world building toward the Christ ideal. The Institute planning committee has had constantly in mind the building of a program that will carry over into definite responsibilities in the local church.

A series of Conference-wide Coaching Conferences for Alliance and District officers has been held to stimulate them to build a Christian philosophy of life that will challenge youth everywhere to genuine Christian living.

A long felt need for a closer relationship of young people's activities on and off the college campus has been consummated with the coordination of the Wesley Foundation and our Young People's program.

Your Department of Epworth League and Young People's work has had no small part in the program of the World Peace Commission regarding military training at tax supported institutions. The Hamilton-Reynolds case has been at the center of our social action program. With the support of the Social Service Commission the case has been carried through the State Supreme Court, to the United States Supreme Court. We feel sure that we are moving forward to an important victory for the Kingdom of God.

In these days when young people find themselves in a world that is tumbling in upon them, the church faces its supreme test in its endeavor to bring to them the challenge of the task of "Christian Youth Building a New World." First, we challenge the individual to commit his total personality to Christ and his program; second, the home, seeking to create in the family circle the spirit of understanding and recognition for the personality of each member of the family; third, to raise the standards and promote a program of action in the local church; fourth, to participate in community enterprises which aim to provide opportunities for abundant living for the citizens in social, economic, political and racial situations; fifth, the pursuing of problems out into the larger field of national life; and, sixth, building a world where the ties of international relations shall operate upon love instead of hate, prejudice, fear, selfishness and greed—with one great goal of peace among all men.

Adult Work. Three outstanding projects are included in the program of the Department of Adult work for the year.

A series of five all-day Discussions on vital subjects were held at First Church, Los Angeles, Dr. E. P. Ryland, presiding. Although experimental, the Discussions made a definite contribution, as a demonstration of the value of the method of problem raising and solving in church and community.

To help the older young people find a larger place in the Church, the Departments of Adult and Young People's Work sponsored an exploration conference with this age-group. The young people considered their needs and interests and the essentials involved in planning their program. Constructive plans and programs are developing.

The third enterprise developed by the Adult Work Committee is the Family Institute to be held at Camp Sierra, August 28-September 3, with a program planned for every member of the family, from the Vacation Church School for the children to the Institute classes for the Adults under experienced and capable leadership. The Laymen's and Ministers' Discussion Convention, August 31 to September 3, will consider vital elements in the Church's set-up and program, both from the laymen's and ministers' viewpoint. Camping rates are very reasonable and Camp Sierra is a delightful vacation location. Why not invest instead of spend your vacation this year? "All roads lead to Camp Sierra in August."

University of Southern California. Notwithstanding the depression, the University has forged ahead under the able leadership of President Rufus B. von KleinSmid, and the efficient educational work of Vice President Frank C. Touton.

Rigid economy has been practiced without curtailing educational breadth and thoroughness in the twenty-one departments, seven school divisions and technical schools, and in the Junior College established last year. Scholarship standards, already high, have been raised still higher.

The Administration has sought with positive insistence to lift the social and ethical tone of instruction and conduct of campus life. Faculty and administrative officers have responded to this emphasis. A noticeably improved campus morale is evident. It is seen in sorority and fraternity groups, campus social events, athletics, sports, and musical and dramatic offerings on and off the campus.

Dean of Women Dr. Mary Sinclair Crawford and Counsellor of Men Dr. Francis Bacon are doing an amazing amount of good in personal work and vocational advising.

The Graduate School, under the seasoned leadership of Dean Rockwell D. Hunt, is attracting wide attention.

The School of Religion is keeping pace with other schools on the campus. Lacking its own distinctive building, its instructors and classes are integrated, as other classes, with the life of the campus. Dean Bruce R. Baxter has won and holds the respect and love of faculty and students to a marked degree. John G. Hill, in the absence of Dean Baxter, on sabbatic leave, is the Acting Dean. This marks the twenty-seventh year of his connection with the University.

The present year's enrollment in the entire University is about 13,000; in the School of Religion, 373. Two important achievements mark the year for the Graduate School of Religion. Its recognition by the University Senate of the Methodist Episcopal Church as one of the five Graduate Theological Seminaries, thus placing it on a par with the best schools of religion in the United States. Very recently, since this recognition, the curricular requirements have been lifted from 74 units to 81 units.

The Forum of Religion, directed by Robert J. Taylor, and the Forum of Philosophy, directed by Ralph T. Flewelling, have presented timely subjects given by outstanding scholars and experienced leaders of the campus and city, as well as of neighboring schools. These Forums will continue next year.

Wesley Foundation. The Wesley Foundation Movement has, during the past year, become an integral part of the program of the Board of Education, not only in our Annual Conference, but in the activity of the General Board of Education in Chicago, with the appointment of H. D. Bollinger as assistant secretary in charge of Wesley Foundation.

One-twelfth of all the Wesley Foundations in America receive their entire or partial support from this Conference and work through our Board of Education. The following brief notations regarding this most strategic work must suffice:

Tucson—University of Arizona, Mary J. Ryan, Director. The past three years have brought a steady increase in the number of participating students. "We have enrolled in our Wesley Foundation 125 students, 25 more attend from time to time." Seven courses of study were provided during the year. Significant activities include a Sunday Evening Fellowship following the church service, dramatics, deputation team, music, social groups, prayer groups and service activities. Sixteen students have been officers and teachers in the Church School.

Tempe—Arizona State Teachers College, H. N. Beimfohr, pastor and director. There were 125 Methodist preference students on the campus. Of this number 75 became active workers with 50 others who attended occasionally. Lambda chapter of the National Society of Wesley Players, consisting of 25 members, has had a busy year. Deputation teams, social and devotional activities have provided a full program.

Fresno—State Teachers College, Ray E. Orr, Pastor and Director. The director has devoted much time to a study of the needs of this strategic college, and has developed a program affecting the entire campus as well as the Methodist preference students.

Stanford—R. H. Silverthorn, director. "We are just completing five years work in the Wesley Foundation at Stanford." A very efficient Board of Directors of twelve men, mostly professors, and a student cabinet of fifteen plan the program of activities which touch a goodly number of the almost 500 Methodist students that every year find their way to Stanford from almost every part of the world."

Berkeley—Of the 1160 Methodist students in University of California at Berkeley, 250 have participated in the program of the Wesley Foundation. About one-fourth have come from Southern California. The work has shown a finer response, keener interest and in every phase of the program. Students have been active in anti-R.O.T.C. campaign on the campus and interested in many projects social and economic. The chief emphasis this year has been on vital religious experience in the lives of individual students. The church may count on the Christian leaders now being trained at the Wesley Foundation at the University of California.

Los Angeles—University of California and Los Angeles Junior College—David C. Shipley, director. At L.A.J.C., 110 students participated in the classes in Bible, the Monday Forums, and Fellowship groups. As assistant pastor to Los Angeles Methodism, "The Foundation has directed many students to places of service in their local churches. At U.C.L.A. the educational program: campus discussion groups, Wesley Forum, a class in Bible, and a series of lectures on the Bible by Carl Knopf. Devotional program: weekly United Protestant chapel services, and two student Vesper Communion Services. Creative activities: Wesley Verse Speaking Choir, and Methodist Student Intercollegiate Fellowship and Banquet. One hundred thirty-five students have taken part in this Foundation program.

Spanish American Institute—Eighty boys have been enrolled in the Spanish American Institute during the 1933-1934 school year. Added emphasis has been given to preparing each student for useful vocation or trade. Printing, where thirty boys have been supervised by Messrs.

Wood, and woodshop and wood carving engaging the interest of twenty boys with Rev. Luis Marischalar and Ignacio Hernandez as teachers. On the school farm thirty boys have acquired some knowledge of the soil and its cultivation, instructed by C. C. Geisert. Altogether this department shows 14,000 hours of teaching.

Gardena public schools furnish the academic lines for half of each day, the boys returning to the Institute for Bible study, physical education, and industrial classes. An ungraded room for special students has kept a group on the campus full time, under J. P. Howe. Mr. Howe has also supervised the physical education, assisted by Ignacio Hernandez, whose work as coach has been most satisfactory. In this department there has been 18,000 hours of activity. Football, basketball and baseball teams have given a good account of themselves, and never failed to show good sportsmanship in victory or defeat.

Pres. A. C. Stevens has supervised the religious education, assisted by Alfredo Macias, a graduate of U.S.C. Daily prayer, chapel services, Sunday worship have had a marked influence in the life of the boys. Seven young men have pursued definite lines of study toward full time social and religious leadership. In the Bible classes, Russel Clay has offered courses in the social principles of Jesus. In this field of religious education there has been 16,000 hours of worship and instruction.

The poverty of the Mexican homes has placed a great burden upon the Institute. A number of students are unable to make any contribution whatever toward their education. It is significant, therefore, that the students have this year, in lieu of money, given 20,000 hours of work. The farm has yielded more in food-stuffs than ever before, due in part to the added labor contributed.

The annual cash payment per boy has been $25. The annual cost for each is $185. The difference between the two amounts is met by the support of the Board of Home Missions and the oft times sacrificial giving of the many friends of the school, who, without asking for credit, so believe in the work that they faithfully maintain it. A quotation at this point illustrates this spirit: "I believe in the obscure fidelity of people here and there and everywhere which keeps the world from breaking up."

The Policy Committee has under favorable consideration a plan, worked out by Mr. Howe, which proposes to increase the opportunity open to our students for guidance into vocational and practical handwork. The small percentage of those who should go to college, on the basis of exceptional academic standing will of course be encouraged.

Commencement Day, May 31st, has as its speaker, Harry Henderson, General Secretary of the Y.M.C.A. in Los Angeles. Fifteen boys received diplomas of whom seven completed the requirements of high school. The Franco medal, presented by Rev. Hector Franco of Garden City, Kansas, was awarded to Antonio Hernandez of Riverside for the best all round record in scholarship, citizenship and athletics.

With a capable and sacrificially spirited staff, and a loyal constituency of friends, giving steady support, the future of this school is assured.

Pacific Palisades—Pacific Palisades for 1933, the Summer Schools and Assembly Program for the Conference year was abbreviated to a three weeks' period. During the first week record-breaking crowds attended the ministry of E. Stanley Jones, overflowing the auditorium. His messages made a profound impression, deepening the religious life and quickening a more intelligent interest in those activities seeking to establish the Kingdom of God among men. The remaining weeks of the program offered a variety of interests with courses of lectures by Dr. Henry Kendall Booth of Long Beach, Dean Bruce Baxter and Professor O. W. E. Cook, both of the University of Southern California, Dr. Arthur Steiner of the University of California at Los Angeles and Baron von Rechenberg of San Francisco. Twenty-three other educational groups, chiefly of young people, made use of the facilities of the Association during the season.

Woman's Home Missionary Society—Having endorsed and accepted the correlated plan of missionary study, the Woman's Home Missionary Society refrained from aggressive organization among Junior children, but results have not reached our expectations. However, in cases reported, where whole-hearted cooperation has been given through Sunday school departments, our efforts were justified in that a large number of children received missionary instruction than before.

At present the Society is cooperating with the two other Missionary Boards of our Church on a plan whereby older groups, including college age, will be given a comprehensive view of the entire missionary program of the Methodist church.

In the Queen Esther organizations a study course has been followed by 1500 girls, 200 of whom were in Camp for special study. The Christian influence is uppermost in the training in our homes and schools, the work of Deaconesses in settlement activities. Children thus taught influence many families otherwise untouched.

Women's Foreign Missionary Society has made this a year of "Adventuring in Faith." With the steadfast courage and faith as the eight women who first adventured in a world conquest for Christ, we have looked beyond the immediate discouragements and with full reliance upon God and His leadership have continued carrying His light to the world.

The Young People's Department with 106 organizations, supports four missionaries. The Summer Camp at Pacific Palisades adds much to the religious education of the group. Well planned study programs and a Missionary Workers Training Course are bringing results.

Mrs. Fletcher White, Junior Superintendent, reports that 106 churches are giving their children education in world-friendship either in King's Herald Bands or Little Light Bearer Circles, or in some form of correlation; and are contributing to the support of three missionaries of the Society. Especial emphasis has been given in leadership training.

Boy Scout Work—During the last year in addition to directing organization and set-up of Central Division of Los Angeles Council, Byron P. Hovey, Supervisor, Los Angeles District, has had two major responsibilities. First, the development of the Cubbing program, the new younger boy program of the Boy Scouts of America. Second, he has directed the activities of the Scouts of the entire Council in the many civic service and good turn enterprises. In doing this he has specialized in the training of the boys in actual service work, in leadership and in citizenship.

The paramount need at the present time is a greater emphasis on the spiritual values of life and experience. Everything is being done to promote this phase of the program.

Southern California Council of Religions Education—The Methodist Episcopal Church is one of the twenty denominations which participates in the building and carrying out of the program of the Southern California Council of Religious Education. Cooperation of the Conference Board of Education is greatly appreciated.

In spite of reduced income, the Council has succeeded in maintaining its service. Its major activities are: standard leadership training schools and classes, vacation church schools, community conferences, conventions, integration of denominational programs in children's, young people's and adult work, church school administration and field organization.

Several new phases of work have been initiated: Young Married People's Work: a representative committee has done a remarkable piece of research work in this field, and has made available to local churches the results of its study. Social Education: A special Committee on Social Education is suggesting ways and means of interpreting the Christian attitude in great social problems. The chief accomplishment of the committee has been the publication of a series of six age-group Guides on the liquor problem. Junior High School Work, so often neglected, is receiving the attention of a special committee.

The New Leadership Education Program: The Southern California Council is the agency through which all groups in Southern California are becoming familiar with the new program of leadership education, gradually taking form under the International Council.

Twenty-seven communities in Southern California have inter-denominational organizations auxiliary to the Council. A new plan of annual convention will be inaugurated this fall. Instead of a single convention for all of Southern California, eight regional conventions will be held between October 10 and 30 at the following points: San Luis Obispo, Ventura, Bakersfield, Riverside, El Centro, Santa Ana and Los Angeles. The Council will, as usual, conduct four inter-denominational schools and camps at Idyllwild Pines.

Sunday, May 6, was set apart for the observance of Council Day in Southern California in which a goodly number of Methodist Schools joined. The Council is endorsed by our Conference and our churches are urged to support, financially, this strategic enterprise in inter-denominational Christian education.

We recommend that wherever possible, pastor-laymen fellowship groups or breakfast clubs be organized throughout our connection, and that the services of our own denominational leaders be used whenever advisable.

SCHOOL OF RELIGION

In 1928, in the interim of the Conference sessions, the Trustees of U.S.C. changed their method of election of Trustees, which formerly was by election of this Conference, and became a self-perpetuating body. This was done with the knowledge and virtual consent of Bishop Burns and some leaders of the Conference.

The Conference, at its session in 1928, took the following action: (page 95):

"We respectfully request the University Trustees to set aside from their funds an amount of money that shall represent our past contributions to the University, and that shall constitute the beginning of the foundation contemplated, and that our acceptance of this report is conditional on such equitable cooperation."

The above action was with the idea of establishing a School of Religion with the Conference as the sustaining and controlling power of the school. A commission was appointed, consisting of J. Lewis Gillies, J. L. Corley, J. A. Geissinger, John Oliver, and F. G. H. Stevens. This Commission made a very full report at the 1929 session, pages 29-31.

The position of the U.S.C. authorities in dealing with your commission was that, from a practical standpoint, the University had carried Maclay School of Religion at a loss for years, and thus had wiped out any obligation to return either direct contributions or the endowment.

Bishop Burns appointed an inter-Area commission to study the matter of a School of Theology on the West Coast, following the close of Kimball in the Northwest. Some progress was made by this commission, but the depression stopped any chance of further proceeding at present.

Some vital negotiations are now in progress regarding the relationship of our Methodist Episcopal Church, the University as a whole and the School of Religion. Further negotiations are delayed, due to the absence of President von KleinSmid.

We recommend that this commission be continued.

CONFERENCE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

It is so easy to make a good report when the tide is upward and strong, but a very different thing when the results of a depression have to be recounted. While this is the eighth report your treasurer has brought to this Conference, it is, without a doubt, the most difficult one he has attempted to make. We are glad to say, however, that with all the dark and foreboding, there is much for which to be thankful and we give most hearty thanks to the Divine Leader who has been so manifestly guiding in these trying days.

For nine long months your treasurer was laid on the shelf and went through the most trying experience of his life. There were times when he expected never again to lay hands on the reins of this office, but thanks to an ever-understanding Father, he is back and bids fair to take his place once more. This illness made it more difficult to cope with the trying situations through which the funds were passing, and this Conference owes a great debt of gratitude for the loyal and unceasing efforts on the part of your Board of Trustees. Again I call your attention to the fact that while they are busy men in their own fields, yet they have given most generously of their time and effort without one cent of remuneration. They have had brave hearts or the battle would have been lost. Nor can we be thankful enough for the appointment last year of Hardy A. Ingham as Executive Secretary. His appointment could not have been more providential. Appointed, as he was, to go into the field and seek to increase our endowment, yet when your treasurer took sick on the 16th of August he came to the rescue and carried on magnificently. With conditions as they were, it was enough to have broken the courage of any man, but he has gone on heroically and the Conference is greatly indebted to him for the service he has rendered.

Through all the years your Board of Trustees has tried to give you a picture of the conditions of the funds. Never has anything been hidden, but this year they determined to give the information in greater detail that you may know exactly what the conditions are. That this might be done, every property has been re-appraised and the auditor's report will show three sets of values. One will be the book value representing the estimated value of the property at the time it was given us; the second what competent appraisers feel is the "depression" value, and third what might be termed a future or "potential" value. The same thing has been done with our securities so that we come to you today with an auditor's statement that shows our present worth and conditions as nearly as it is humanly possible to do so. It is the most conservative report that could possibly be presented.

By comparing this statement with that of last year it would seem that a big reduction has been made in our holdings. This does not mean that we have made sales of property, for that has been impossible without too great a sacrifice, but it does show the new values that have been set up. Our difficulties are not unlike those of other organizations. The principal trouble has been from the fact that income has so greatly decreased without decreasing our obligations. Every effort is being made to increase our collections and to reduce our expenses to the minimum. Commendable progress is being made in both of these.

We are not ready to accept the results of the depression as being our fault, but we are willing to say that, unless we go forward at this time and cure some of the conditions left us as a result of that depression, then we can be charged with being derelict to the trust imposed upon us. It is imperative that we enter into a forward-looking program. Your Board of Trustees has recognized this for some time and has made a careful study trying to find out what is the best thing to do. Last December the Board appointed a committee of three competent laymen that they might go into every item of our business. This committee, composed of Messrs. Henri Lindsey, Arthur M. Loomis and C. H. Martindale, has spent much time and given valuable advice. In addition to their survey, our books have been audited by Certified Public Accountants, requiring the time of one man from their office for one full month to make the report. With these reports in hand a committee of twenty-five laymen from our churches, five of whom are bankers, met with Bishop Baker and your Board of Trustees on June 6, 1934, and spent two hours in careful analysis and discussion as to what would seem to be the best program for the future. After this careful study was made and, at their invitation, your treasurer offered the following suggestions as to the needs of the organization in order to put it in a sound financial condition. That we raise $20,000 in the next 30 days to meet some pressing demands, an additional $10,000 within the next 90 days and undertake the raising of $100,000 total within a year. After full particulars had been given as to these needs, a motion was offered and unanimously carried expressing confidence in the conduct of the affairs of the Board of Trustees and stating that the raising of this additional $100,000 was an imperative need and should be entered into by the Conference without delay.

Within the past five years your corporation office has become a great business concern with many intricate problems. During the first three years of that period there was a steady advance and the assets of the corporation grew very rapidly. Then came the depression and the big problem of the past two years has been to conserve as much of the holdings as possible. At all times there should be a steady flow of new money to increase the endowment funds if we are to meet the increasing needs of the claimants of this Conference. Last year your treasurer tried to both conserve and to make the needed advancement, but the load was too heavy. It was and is a physical impossibility for one man to do both of these and at Conference time last year we asked for the appointment of Hardy A. Ingham to care for the promotional work. Had your treasurer retained his health it is believed that we would be in a much better position today, but again one man tried to do both and it was impossible.

We now come to announce a new program and we believe it will meet with your approval. Under this new arrangement your treasurer will be assisted in the business of the corporation by a business manager allowing the treasurer to give most of his time to the promotional work. This is an imperative need if both conservation and advance shall be carried on successfully. After careful consideration your Board of Trustees has secured the services of a promising young business man who has been very successful in just such work as we have in our office and at the same time has been active in many lines in the work of our church. The Board is glad to announce the appointment of Mr. J. Wesley Hole as the Business Manager. We bespeak for him your hearty support and co-operation in the intricate task before him.

From time to time there has been some discussion as to whether the Claimants were receiving all of the money that has been paid into the fund by the churches. In our report last year full explanation was given, but we are glad to state again that not one dollar of money given by the churches for the support of the Claimants has been used for anything else, not even for office expense. The difficulties we have encountered have been on account of our inability during the past two years to earn any dividend on our invested funds, and principal can never be used for this purpose. In order that this may be clear, the Board has set up a separate fund with a separate bank account to be known as the "Board of Stewards Fund." Into it will go every dollar received from the churches on apportionment and no checks can be drawn upon that fund except for the Claimants.

And now in conclusion will you allow me a personal word? I am most grateful for the many prayers and well wishes that were offered in my behalf. I am ready to acknowledge that I took on too big a load to carry successfully. I am also saying publicly that I am resigning from boards and committees and am giving myself without reserve to the one task of building this fund to where it should be. I have every faith that it can be done and with your help and that continued Presence that has been with me so closely this year, I set myself anew to the task.

A. RAY MOORE.

AUDITOR'S REPORT

June 14, 1934.

Board of Trustees,
Southern California Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church,
Los Angeles, California.
Gentlemen:

We have continued the audit of the books and records of A. Ray Moore, Conference Treasurer, to date April 30, 1934, and hereby certify that the following condensed financial statements of the Conference Endowment Fund and the Hough Endowment Fund, in our opinion, set forth the true financial condition of said funds, subject to details and comments in our complete report, on file in the Treasurer's office.

Due to continued shrinkage in values during the depression years, we have deemed it advisable, in compiling our report, to ascertain as nearly as possible, the estimated or appraised values of the various assets owned, and the results thereof are expressed in the financial statements presented on the opposite page.

A condensed summary of the reduction in the value of Conference assets is shown in the following tabulation:

—ACCOUNT AFFECTED—
	Amount Reduced	Capital Donations	Annuity Donations	Reserve Pension Fund	Surplus
Accounts, Notes & Contracts	$ 22,953.48		$		$ 22,953.48
Listed Investments	12,691.75			$ 250.00	12,441.75
Unlisted Investments	129,282.31	$ 7,289.30		1,662.50	120,330.51
Properties	389,868.74	6,277.28	346,591.75	1,630.47	35,369.24
Miscellaneous Assets	17,822.80				17,822.80
TOTALS	$572,619.08	$13,566.58	$346,591.75	$3,542.97	$208,917.78

The extensive decline in value of assets owned by the Conference, plus the semi-frozen state of those remaining, make the operation of the Fund extremely difficult, and presents a serious problem. Obviously, considerable outside capital will be needed during the next year, to refinance certain aggravated situations and further, a program of readjustment of liabilities is necessary in order to conform to current conditions. We understand that progressive steps are already under way, looking toward both objectives.

We are of the opinion that both Trustees and Treasurer have preserved the assets as well as possible under the circumstances prevailing during the last four years, and despite the critical status of the Conference Endowment Fund, we believe that execution of the plan contemplated by the Board of Trustees and their advisors will restore its affairs to a sound basis. The affairs of the Hough Endowment Fund are in fair condition and operations have resulted in a profit during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

ARTHUR M. LOOMIS & COMPANY,
Certified Public Accountants.

ALL NATIONS FOUNDATION

Thirteen may be an unlucky number for some organizations, but surely the thirteenth year of the existence of All Nations has been most worth while.

Services to individuals who are not eligible to County care have now reached a new peak of approximately 40,000 per year at our clinic. Seventy-two doctors and dentists, who volunteer their services, make possible this medical care of those caught in misfortune's jam.

The Federal program for transients uses the All Nations Clinic, in an attempt to meet the medical and dental needs of the patients for whom they are responsible. In addition to this increase in service there is now available, through the Community Chest funds, four beds per day at the Methodist Hospital for individuals who are not eligible to County care, residing within Chest territory. This has given us an additional $5800 from the Chest.

Community activities through the All Nations Boys' Club, Children's Department under the Women's Home Missionary Society, and the All Nations Community House, have become increasingly effective in meeting the problems of life which are confronting the childhood of the All Nations area. It is heartening to find the many trained lay and professional men and women who are voluntarily giving of their service to make possible the creating of activities at All Nations for the 1200 children who would otherwise be deprived of such privileges.

Because of the splendid response of interested friends, the camp fund this year will make possible a much larger number being taken to camp. Every boy and girl who has gone to All Nations Camp has gained in weight, contrary to the common experience of campers in Southern California.

The Boys' Club has been the recipient of a Studebaker bus to replace our six-year-old worn-out bus given by Mr. R. R. Bush.

Through an unknown donor, 1200 children of our organization have been given thorough and complete clinical service, revealing 3220 problems facing these same children, physically, mentally, socially, vocationally, and spiritually. Through a coordinating plan of action within the institution over 1500 of these same problems have been met and solved during the past 18 months.

The program at Sunset Center, or the old Epworth Church, has indeed been most heartening. This property, which has been lying idle for six years, is now a beehive of activity for boys and girls of that area. Originally sponsored by two churches and four service clubs, it has now received the assurance of complete support from the Los Angeles Kiwanis Club to the extent of $2500 or $3000 for the coming year. A joint organization by the City Missionary Society and the Kiwanis Club will be set up for the operation of Sunset Center.

The Church of All Nations, which is the spiritual heart of the All Nations Foundation, has had a most successful year. Its church nights have been largely attended. Activities sponsored by the church have met with a splendid response on the part of those who come from various racial and national backgrounds. The financial goals set up at the first quarterly conference have been met in full.

The most satisfying result of the impact of the program and spirit of All Nations is the constructive change in the attitude of individuals, as well as the community at large. This is not only observed by us, who are directly connected with the work, but has attracted the attention of the local divisions of municipal government, such as our playground departments, the schools, the police, and sheriff. In addition, All Nations received national attention and commendation at the recent National Conference of Social Work in Kansas City for its unique service to individuals and to the community at large.

Thus, the thirteenth year has proved to be the most satisfying and worthwhile year in the history of the organization. All Nations is a co-laborer with the churches of the Southern California Conference in the service of our Master.

ROBT. A. McKIBBEN.

UNIVERSITY CHURCH

University Church is entering upon the third phase of its "Forward Program." Much progress has been made this past year toward the realization of its ideal as "a university church." The pastor was appointed by the Bishop as Student Adviser to Methodist Students, campus University of Southern California, in addition to his other duties. University Church, pastor and choir, were privileged to sponsor the first radio program of the University Religious Conference, and has worked in co-operation with the University Religious Conference in promoting religion on the campus at S. C. The student approach this university year has been through the Wesley Club of the church; but this coming year a campus-wide Student Committee representing conference churches has been organized and the work planned a year in advance. For the most effective work among students an associate pastor, giving all his time to the more than 800 Methodist students, should be appointed. Lack of funds will probably prevent this at this session of the Conference, but it is an obligation to bear in mind.

University Church has faced its building debt, totaling more than $112,000 if the $22,000 of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension Society, granted by "designated gifts" may be considered in the total. University Church through and by official action of its official board, board of trustees and Quarterly Conference—after approval of its plan for debt amortization by the leadership of the annual conference—has set about to amortize its debt and to arrive at its destiny or goal as a university church.

The Committee believes the best solution of the debt problem of University Church, the best interests of the Kingdom of God in the great city of Los Angeles, and the best interests of the Southern California Annual Conference can, and will be, served by the plans now under consideration and in negotiation which calls for a closer merger of interests with the University of Southern California.

We believe that University Church has a great and glorious future, and that her new venture will be to "the glory of God in Christ Jesus."

CLYDE M. CRIST.

PLAZA COMMUNITY CENTER

Looking back over this extremely difficult year, we find cause for deepest gratitude in a number of things—the wonderful divine Providence, the unfailing loyalty of our many friends, the generous assistance of new friends, the sacrificial heroism of our entire staff, and the opportunity of rendering a large and greatly-needed service in the Master's name to a multitude.

The campaign which the Annual Conference allowed us during this past year for lifting the entire indebtedness from our central plant was just getting under way, when an unlooked-for emergency in our Conference Claimant affairs arose. The only thing left for us was to abandon our larger goal, and merge a minimum emergency—asking for ourselves with the amount needed to tide over the affairs of the Conference Board of Trustees. This again leaves the Plaza Community Center presenting its financial needs in order to clear its main debt, and get out of the way for other needy and worthy causes.

The plan which has been evolved for doing this would scatter the burden throughout the entire Conference in such a way as not to overload the smallest church, and at the same time to give to all the opportunity of lifting what they consider their share in the needs of this missionary center of activity. In view of our having had to step aside for the good reasons already given, we hope that not only the Conference, but all of our good laymen as well, will recognize the necessity and justice of our being allowed to proceed with our postponed campaign. We earnestly ask that all may cooperate in this heartily to the end that the goal may be reached and this missionary institution released to do its work. The plan consists in securing the necessary number of pledges from persons, groups or churches for five dollars per month for a period of two years, which would keep up the work and pay off the mortgage at the bank.

We are thankful indeed for the many sacrificial contributions made last January, which averted the crisis of foreclosure that we faced, and made possible the writing of a new trust deed as well as assuring the year's interest. We must now pay off the principal, and avoid the continual payment of interest and threat of default. With the actual commencement of work on the new Union Depot, our Plaza property is greatly enhanced in value and location, and must be held for Methodism.

A further interest has been awakened in this building through the suggestion that it be made our "Methodist Headquarters". Our Bishop and the Cabinet, as well as the other groups and individuals who maintain offices at Headquarters have signified their willing and even enthusiastic acceptance of the proposition. If this can be carried, it will give Methodism a most strategic and desirable location as a part of the new Civic Center which is now taking form at the very gate of the city.

The work of the Plaza Community Center, through its clinics, its employment bureau, legal welfare, and general welfare departments has kept up its large volume of service in spite of financial handicap. This was made possible because the entire staff were willing to continue for this, the second year, to receive only forty-five per cent of their former salaries. This should not longer continue.

The Children's Home and the Christian Training School have enjoyed their largest enrollment; the former caring for twenty-one boys and girls, and the latter matriculating eighty-three.

Special mention should be made of the splendid work done by the pastor of our church, B. E. Garcia, under whose leadership the Sunday School has almost doubled, the Sunday congregations have been considerably increased, and the other organizations of the church strengthened, while a new sense of personal responsibility and a spirit of cooperation pervade the membership. There have been 20 conversions and 42 new members received during the year.

We ask the continued interest and the earnest prayers of all those who believe in this Christian ministry of love and service.

W. T. GILLILAND.

PACIFIC OLD PEOPLES' HOME

In bringing this my first annual report as Superintendent of the Pacific Old Peoples' Home I want to express my appreciation of the remarkably fine cooperation given me by my predecessor, J. H. Durbahn. No one could have given his successor finer or more helpful assistance than he has given me.

In taking up my work at the Home I discovered that there are very few people who know very much about this institution, though it is the property of this Conference. Some of you may not know that we have ten buildings on the grounds; a church where services are held every Sunday for a congregation about half of whom are not members of the Home. There is a parsonage, parlor, matron's quarters and office on the first floor and nine rooms on the second floor. There are seven bungalows accommodating from eight to twelve people. We have comfortable accommodations for seventy-two people.

The ground, buildings and furnishings were valued at $135,438 last year. In re-appraising our assets this year the Home itself was appraised at $100,000.

Our family at the Home is composed of a choice group of Christian people with high Christian standards and ideals all of which has given your Home the reputation of being the most desirable old peoples' home in Southern California.

The members of the Home are here as roomers and boarders paying from $40 to $50 per month or as life members paying from $3,000 to $4,000 as an admission fee. The amount is determined by the age of the individual at admission. These charges and fees are necessary because the Home does not receive one dollar from the churches of the Conference and never has.

One of my greatest embarrassments as Superintendent is the fact that there are so many fine people who come seeking admission and I am compelled to tell them we cannot admit them because they cannot meet the financial requirements. I have more than seventy-five such applications in my desk now. At the earliest possible date an endowment must be provided that will enable the church to fulfill its obligation to these worthy and deserving people. At the last meeting of our Board they recommended that we ask the Commission on Finance to renew our designation of priority for such campaign as soon as practicable. We bespeak the favor of the Conference and full cooperation for this important work.

Our greatest need just now in the way of equipment is a new modern hospital building. A building that would not only provide for our life members but make it possible for us to care for people who are too sick to be cared for at home and yet not sick enough perhaps to require hospital care. We have had to deny admission to several people of this character. Such a building could be built and equipped for not to exceed $35,000. I am convinced that there are people in this Conference who could and would make this building possible if I could find them. Will you help me locate these individuals?

Finances. Within the last thirty days all of the properties have been re-appraised and our audit for this year will reflect current values and a reserve of more than $11,000 has been set up to provide for unseen losses. Our real estate holdings aside from the Home have been increased this year more than $95,000 and there is no indebtedness against any of it.

In spite of the fact that the recent appraisal reduces our property valuations by more than $47,000 and the fact that we have paid out on foreclosures or in lieu of foreclosures $10,732 or a total of $58,368 and that we have had a heavy expense in repairing our property that we have had to take over, our assets as reported in the audit of this year are $6,185.13 greater than last year.

The reserve set up for life members and annuitants has been increased from $62,909 to $115,470 and a reserve of $11,000 has been set up for possible losses on notes and mortgages, which accounts for the increase in our liabilities.

While this has been a strenuous and difficult year the fine cooperation of our Board and the gracious providence of our Heavenly Father has made it a real joy to serve in this worthy undertaking. I covet the cooperation of the members of this Conference and pledge you my best endeavor to make your Old Peoples' Home what it ought to be—an institution where Methodism will serve those who need such care as we have to offer.

GERMAN MERGER

A meeting of the Commission on Merger of the Southern California Conference was held on Tuesday, June 12, 1934, at 9:30 A.M. in the office of Willsie Martin.

Present: Willsie Martin, Charles F. Seitter, A. Ray Moore, W. C. Schmutzler, B. C. Voll and J. H. Durham. B. C. Voll was elected a member of the Merger Commission in place of R. Zurbuchen who was transferred to the California Conference. Willsie Martin presided. J. H. Durbahn was elected secretary.

It was moved by Charles F. Seitter, and carried, that we recommend to Bishop Baker and his cabinet of the California Conference in session June 13th:

1. That the German charge in Stockton be merged with the English church and that the property be actually turned over in accordance with the Merger Declaration, and that whatever funds there are in the treasury be turned over to the Southern California Conference Endowment Fund.

2. That J. Schneider, who is looking after the San Jose property, give an itemized statement of receipts and expenditures of same.

3. That an inquiry be made as to why the motion of R. Zurbuchen made a year ago that the proceeds from the East Oakland property be turned over has not been carried out.

4. That Willsie Martin convey by letter these facts to Bishop Baker and the Cabinet of the California Conference for action.

W. C. Schmutzler reported that the entire church and income property in San Diego now belongs to the Southern California Conference, and that the property becomes available in the next few years.

B. C. Voll, Pastor of First German Church, Los Angeles, spoke very encouragingly regarding their church property and the ultimate disposition of the same.

It was moved by W. C. Schmutzler and carried that we ask the board of the Pacific Old Peoples' Home to again designate $2000 from their funds to the retired ministers fund.

It was moved by J. H. Durbahn, and carried, that we recommend the suspension of the Merger Commission and in its place create a committee of three for adjusting properties of the former California German Conference.

The following are recommended to serve on said committee: A. Ray Moore, Willsie Martin and J. H. Durbahn. They are requested to visit the 1935 California Annual Conference, conferring with the members of said Conference regarding all the church property of the former California German Conference located within the bounds of the California Conference.

WILLSIE MARTIN, President.

J. H. DURBAHN, Secretary.

The following is the conference action covering the recommendation made in the last two paragraphs of the above report, as adopted at the time of the consideration of the report:

"That a committee be raised to survey the whole question of the properties of the former California German Conference and report at the next Conference. The appointment of the Committee to be made by the Bishop."

METHODIST HOSPITAL OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

The Methodist Hospital of Southern California has been an active participant in all of the difficulties which seem to be characteristic of the times. Also, in accordance with the spirit of the times, a "new deal" has been had by the Methodist Hospital within the last year. Whatever doubts there may be concerning other "new deals," there is no doubt of the valuable results achieved by the "new deal" of the Methodist Hospital.

In the month of September, 1933, a new superintendent was installed, and radical changes in hospital policies were instituted. At that time, Mary K. West, formerly superintendent of nursing, became superintendent. Her administration has been marked by an increase in patronage, the development of a fine spirit of cooperation from hospital employees, and from the medical staff in particular. Miss West, in her gracious manner, has cultivated this spirit of cooperation, and the fine and efficient leadership which she has given has been a most constructive force in the improvement of the condition of the hospital. The average occupancy has increased from fifty-four, for the month of September, to seventy-nine, for the month of April.

During the year 1933, 578 babies were born in the hospital. The surgical division has been completely repainted and renovated, and a number of the wards and private rooms have been repainted. Other important improvements in the hospital plant have been made, although great needs still exist, especially for the renovation of one floor of the hospital and of the obstetrical division.

Our medical staff has been completely reorganized and has held regular monthly meetings throughout the year. The hospital has the aid and interest of the doctors who use its facilities.

The hospital has an affiliation with "All Nations Clinic" whereby a limited number of cases are sent to the hospital each month through Community Chest aid. "All Nations Clinic" has its own staff of doctors and its own social service department. Every case must go through the routine channels of the clinic. Since the hospital has no other means for free service, a good many patients are referred to the "All Nations Clinic" from the hospital office. We regret that we have no funds with which to care for free patients. This is one of the difficult problems in the work of the hospital.

Through the Casler-Botkin gift, ten people have been taken care of to the amount of $572. As you know, this fund is limited and is for aid to ministers, deaconesses and others of like position.

There are at the present time thirty-five students in the school of nursing. Eight of them will complete their work this summer and there will be a graduating class of twenty-seven next year, all of whom will finish by July of 1935. Twenty-five nurses graduated during the last year. For various reasons the Board of Directors have felt it best to admit no students this year. With a smaller student group, a large group of graduate nurses are employed. The hospital has a splendid type of young woman in both student and graduate groups. We may not have the newest buildings nor all of the latest equipment, but our facilities are adequate and we do give excellent nursing care to our patients. Of the student group of thirty-five, twelve are Methodist girls. Approximately one-half of our graduate nurses are from Methodist homes.

The greatest need of the hospital at the present time, is the cooperation of the Methodists of Southern California. The tremendous burden of debt which the hospital has, can never be eliminated unless the hospital patronage is substantially increased. This result can only be obtained through the help, not only of the ministers, but also of the entire church. We sincerely urge that such support be given.

ARIZONA HOSPITAL

The writer has been making this annual report to you for the past ten years.

I may be wrong in my judgment but I have reached the conclusion that the Methodist Episcopal Church, as a Church should take a large amount of interest in the problems and load of our hospitals.

I am amazed at our progress in every line in ten years. As typical of our progress, ten years ago we had a small school of nursing with only seven students and our first graduating class consisted of one. Today we limit our school to fifty, and our graduating classes run from fifteen to twenty. The standards have been raised, the requirements to graduate greatly increased and the time lengthened from two and one-half years to three years.

Few people realize the effort and cost to the hospital to run a school of nursing. Few people appreciate what a school does for young girls taken in without experience, disciplined, trained and prepared to go out in the world and render service worth while to this suffering world.

The writer used to think that a hospital was to care for those who could pay for the service when needed, and that if they were unable to do this it was the obligation of some other organization to provide that care. Today, after the experiences of the last four years of carrying a heavy load and meeting, every day, heart-broken, discouraged, despondent, sick people, the discouraging thing to him is that there is not some program whereby they could all be cared for without funds.

As far as I am concerned, I am willing to see all our organizations go down if something better can take their place and service be given to suffering humanity regardless of their financial condition. But I believe the church, our church, should provide this service.

In the past year we have reduced our expenses of operation more than $50,000 from the year 1931, and at the same time we increased our charitable work until the past year we did more than $20,000 of charity work, this at a loss of $10,461.50. And yet we are almost proud of the fact that we lost that money because we know that the loss was spent on people who needed our help and who received our service and went away prepared to fight on.

Ten years ago we had cared for 1,029 patients; our turnover in patients the past year was just under 3,000. We find that many expectant mothers, many a sick person, under present trying conditions, will not assume the additional financial burden of hospital bills. This condition is gradually changing.

We have been unable, for the past two years, to meet the interest payment of our bonded indebtedness of $250,000. In the near future we must face this problem and work it out in some way.

The hospital has sustained the greatest loss in its history, in the death of our beloved president, Mr. K. S. Townsend. Mr. Townsend has directed the Institution during these years in a most successful manner. Without his inspiring and forceful leadership and munificent contributions the present institution could not have been erected. His greatest gift to the Institution however was himself. He had vision and faith as no one of the rest of us had. He was our president for the past ten years and passed on to his reward in January of this year. The writer was induced to give up other lines of endeavor ten years ago by Mr. Townsend to assume the office of manager.

I acknowledge our debt of gratitude to the members of the Medical Staff, Board of Directors, to the nurses, office force and all others who have demonstrated their willingness to spend and be-spent in order that the pain and misery of humanity might become less.

J. O. SEXSON.

CONFERENCE DEACONESS BOARD

A report of Deaconess activities is a recital of the good that elect women have done.

They have given service in Christlike spirit to the extent of time and opportunity.

The past year has been one of the busiest in the history of the home.

The amount of cash with which to work has been small but an increased number of calls have been gladly and enthusiastically responded to.

More than twenty thousand children have been contacted in classes, clubs and kindergarten; 6500 calls were made; twenty-six hundred families and individuals received material relief. Employment was given or secured for almost a thousand persons; garments, food, bedding and other supplies valued at five thousand dollars have been distributed and given with such faith, hope and love that these ministries of kindness, like the loaves from the Master's hands at the seaside, have multiplied in results. Thousands of pieces of literature, Bibles, Testaments, Gospels have been given. Many meetings were conducted and six hundred meetings were attended.

These sketchy statistics breathe the very atmosphere of benediction.

A difficult year has been superbly met with service.

Robincroft's year has been a duplicate of previous ones—gracious, and achieving. Folks get older, toll is taken of physical strength but the spirit of all that is Robincroft has grown stronger and more beautiful. Generally the house has been full. Some property betterments have been effected, principally roof on the veranda. The next project is the repair of the large flat roof.

The ends of the earth meet at Thoburn Terrace. Missionaries who have served in China, India, Canada and various parts of the United States, ministering to God's children of all colors, live under the same roof keeping company with glorious memories of the yester years.

Here is a veritable demonstration of how the Lord through the church "settles the solitary in families".

These missionary folk, resting a bit as time goes on toward life's evening, have given an aggregate of 574 years of service for Christ and the kingdom and the fruit of this ministry is God blessed as He speaks by His spirit comfortably to his servants.

Miss Mollie Quimby, who has given splendid service to our hospital at Phoenix, is to be presented to Bishop Baker for consecration at this session of conference.

Our probationers have "carried on" finely throughout this trying year. They have added effective preparation for life's fuller ministry in the fields for which they shall be chosen.

Perhaps better financial conditions and an increased spirit of optimism will make it possible for additional churches to enlarge their effectiveness through the work of the deaconess.

H. K. HOLTZINGER.

COMMISSION ON FINANCE

Your Commission on Finance submits the following report out of a year of unusual activity.

Through the illness and enforced absence of our Treasurer, A. Ray Moore, for over nine months of the Conference year, it was necessary for the Commission on Finance to assume a larger responsibility than usual. The splendid leadership of Hardy A. Ingham and the hearty co-operation of the office staff is highly commended by this Commission and very greatly appreciated.

Budget for the Year: We are submitting to you a recommendation for apportionments, almost entirely like those of last year, as follows:

District Superintendents	$23,000
Conference Claimants	90,000
City Missions	10,000
Conference Missionary Society (M & E)	12,000
Entertainment, Travel and Minutes	4,000
State Church Federation	1,500
Episcopal Office Expense	1,000
Harbor District	1,757

Episcopal Fund and General Conference Expense: The apportionments for these two items will be sent out by the office upon information received from the General Church Headquarters.

The largest item of the above, as usual, is the $90,000 for Conference Claimants. Without hesitancy, we recommend the apportionment of this amount, because of the fact that from no other source this next year will there be funds available for the Conference Claimants Fund. We have had no dividends from the Book Concern for two years and owing to the general financial condition nothing can be realized from the Conference investments, therefore we must look to the apportionments from the churches for the funds for the Retired Ministers and others dependent upon this fund.

Office Expense: You will note from the above list of apportionments that we have eliminated the item of Office Expense. In connection therewith we submit the following recommendation for your consideration:

“RESOLVED, That we recommend doing away with the Office Expense Item in our Conference Apportionments, and instead apportion the percentage of cost for handling the funds among the various individual funds in proportion to the relation their collection bears to the total. Also, that for this coming year an amount necessary to cover this item be added to the various apportionments so that they may not suffer loss from the change in method of meeting the expense.”

World Service Collections: In our report last year we referred to the expense in our office caused by the local handling of World Service Funds, with the recommendation that provision be made for payment of this expense by World Service Headquarters. We were unable to make such an arrangement with the World Service Office and in lieu thereof we bring the following recommendation:

“Whereas the handling of World Service collections through this office, as arranged by Conference action, has occasioned considerable office expense, not otherwise provided, and

“Whereas we were unable this past year to arrange with the World Service Headquarters for the payment of such expense, now therefore,

“BE IT RESOLVED, That we recommend to the Annual Conference that it instruct the Conference Treasurer to send out with the World Service apportionments a request for authorization by all contributing persons and churches to deduct a sufficient percentage of the contribution to cover the actual Commission expense in handling these funds through this office.”

$100,000 Campaign: The Conference Board of Trustees came before your Commission and presented a request for authorization to take to the churches a campaign for $100,000, the amount needed to properly protect the Conference investments. On the statement of the Board of Trustees as to the very critical situation of our Conference Investments, we urgently recommend the Annual Conference to assume responsibility for raising the $100,000 needed to save the Conference investments.

Commission on Finance Membership: We recommend that in the appointment of membership to the Commission on Finance by this Annual Conference to replace the retiring members that two members of the Board of Trustees be named. This we do in view of the fact that the financial matters of the Conference are so inter-related that we believe there should be a closer relationship between the two Boards which this will provide.

Superintendents' Salaries:

“Whereas, the payments of the churches throughout the Conference on Conference Apportionments for District Superintendents' salaries are largely held up until the second and third quarters of the Conference year, and

“Whereas, the payment of the Superintendents' salaries is dependent upon the receipt of funds from the churches by the Headquarters office, as there are no other funds provided from which these salaries may be paid, now, therefore

“We request the Annual Conference to instruct the officers of this Commission to borrow not to exceed $5000 to meet the deficit in the District Superintendents' salaries during the early months of the Conference year, to be repaid later within the Conference year from the funds received for such salaries from the churches.”

R. O. DEACON.

FELLOWSHIP FUND

As we close the third year of the operation of the Fellowship Fund we present the following report and recommendations:

1. In 1931-32 we distributed $3629 which maintained a minimum salary of $1200 for all married ministers. With but $3359 available in 1932-33 we were able to maintain a minimum of $900 in most, but not all cases. It would have required $13,442 to guarantee a support of $1200 to all married men. But for the Fellowship Fund one minister would have received only $575 support from all other sources; another but $580. We report with deep regret that while in 1931-32 62% of our membership cooperated with the Fund, the percentage of participation declined to 58% last year. We recognize the economic stress upon every man, but cannot fail to confess that, in the main, such pressure falls most pitilessly, and with greatest damage upon those who receive the least support. We urge that every man search his own heart to see whether or not he seeks security for himself first, and shares only if there remains a surplus.

2. We recommend the following changes in plan, to become effective for 1934-35. Amend Sec. 4a of the 1932 Plan so that it reads: "We recommend that all participating members contribute to the Fund quarterly in advance the following percentages of their cash salary, inclusive of cash income from Missionary and Evangelistic Fund, City Missionary Fund, and Board of Home Missions Funds; Under \$1200— $\frac{1}{4}$ %; \$1200 to \$1599— $\frac{1}{2}$ %; \$1600 to \$1999—1%; \$2000 to \$2499— $1\frac{1}{2}$ %; \$2500 to \$2999—2%; \$3000 to \$3999— $2\frac{1}{2}$ %; \$4000 and over—3%."

3. We direct serious attention to the recommendations in the 1932 Plan, Par. 5 (1932 Min. p. 97) urging the formation of circuits or self-sustaining charges; and to Par. 7, concerning conference admission requirements and the continuance of ineffective ministers. Rapid and drastic social and economic changes render action upon these recommendations increasingly imperative.

4. We further call attention of all pastors, laymen and administrators to the fact that the Fellowship Fund is not an "appointment fund," and that no promises can be made or agreed upon anticipating appropriations from this fund in aid to charges which do not promise a minimum standard of support, inclusive of grants from other maintenance funds.

5. We recommend another year's suspension of the order for publication in the minutes of amounts and names of participants, and in lieu thereof the distribution to all participants of a complete mimeographed report for the year closing with this conference session.

FRANK M. TOOTHAKER.

SALARY EQUALIZATION

After some hours' discussion of the following report it was ordered that action be deferred for one year, and each pastor and lay delegate present the matter before their official board, and that the whole matter be printed in the minutes for study, and that the committee be continued.

I.—Commission. "Brethren, we believe the time has come, and now is, when we should lay in this great conference, foundations of brotherly understanding, of sacrificial devotion, of mutual helpfulness, to the end that we may build an house not made with hands, but made with hearts attuned to the will of God made with confidence in our brethren who are true yoke-fellows in the Gospel, and made of faith unfeigned in the ability of Jesus Christ to establish the Kingdom of God on earth." With these words the chairman closed the first report of the Fellowship Fund. The conference adopted that plan, and for three years we have worked by it, revised in the light of continuing experience. But now, in the words of last year's resolution, (p. 40—1933 Minutes) "we believe that the great disparity in salaries that creates the consciousness of professional levels, grades or classes in our Conference is one of the major hindrance to a deeper spiritual life and a sincere brotherly feeling. We further believe that the present rating system often makes it impossible for our administrators, when making appointments to put men in the places where they will render the greatest service to the Kingdom and to the Church. We also believe that it is impossible for our ministers to speak consistently in condemnation of the unchristian economic order with its extremes of wealth and poverty as long as any of our brothers are in desperate need, while others receive salaries which more adequately provide for their needs." These statements are our commission.

We have co-opted others to aid our work, especially Stanley McKee and Harold Cunningham, and have sought the counsel of many, personally and by mail. We have investigated the systems operating in the Roman Catholic, Protestant Episcopal, and German Methodist Churches, and the plans used by mission boards. We have studied living costs, going into detail as far as time permitted. We are indebted to government reports, personal sources of information, studies in ministerial support conducted by Murray Leiffer and the reports of our San Francisco Area Seminar for much of the backlying factual data upon which the balance of this report is built.

II.—Basic Principles. 1. We agree that support in the ministry should be upon the basis of a just maintenance, and not upon the human estimates of the relative importance of the services of ministers called of God and by the Church.

2. We are convinced that flat equalization of income does not constitute support on the basis of a just maintenance, which must be arrived at by making adjustments for such items as, (a) local living costs, as compared with some accepted standard, (b) costs inherent in regular and certain special types of ministerial service, (c) individual family needs, individual situation, (d) length of service, (e) on account of perquisites.

3. We believe that the aim of appointments should be to secure adequate ministerial leadership for every field of service, and adequate opportunities of service for every minister.

4. We accept the principle as basic that we must guard any economic brotherhood within our ministry by admitting to the Annual Conference only men of tested ministerial calling and capacity. To this end we recommend to the Conference Relations Committee and the Board of Ministerial Instruction (1) added vigilance in the application of present tests of ministerial calling and talent, (2) the use of additional measures for determining ministerial calling and talent, and (3) the extension of their activities to reach and guide possible candidates for the ministry during their school days.

5. We believe that the support of the ministry should be raised by apportionment to the church within an Annual Conference.

III.—A Method of Administering a Plan Based Upon Such Principles. 1st. The powers of the Conference Stewards and the Commission on Finance shall be extended, and their functions enlarged to include the operation of this plan.

(a) They shall make the apportionments for the support of all ministers and conference claimants on the basis of church membership, church property values owned or equities held, and ability of the constituency to give as far as that may be ascertained.

(b) The apportionments shall include such amounts as the Conference Stewards deem necessary to set up a Contingent and Hospitalization Fund, to be drawn upon at their discretion for emergency needs as they arise.

- (c) The Conference Stewards shall have power to review and adjust the amounts apportioned to a charge, on recommendation of the District Stewards, who may conduct hearings, or use other suitable means of weighing the claims of charges as touching their apportionment for ministerial support.
 - (d) The Conference Stewards shall secure and maintain a file of information necessary to the operation of this plan, including the following:
 - (1) Ministers index—containing data pertaining only to the minister and his family, his conference relations, his state in life, birth-dates of his children, and any other pertinent personal facts by which a basic minimum standard of support may be adjusted to represent a just maintenance for him.
 - (2) Charge index—containing data determinate of living costs, and costs peculiar to that particular appointment, and any other facts which would determine in part a just maintenance.
 - (3) This data shall be prepared by the minister and local Finance Committee (or local Board of Stewards), prior to the Fourth Quarterly Conference, and presented to the District Superintendent as part of the reports of that Conference.
 - (e) The Conference Stewards shall each year establish a basic minimum standard of support which shall provide a just maintenance for the minister. This minimum of support shall be increased or decreased by such amounts as may be established as the proper adjustments for each item included under II-2, and as determined by information recorded under the provisions of paragraph (d) above.
2. The Annual Conference shall establish the total amount to be apportioned.
3. The Conference Treasurer shall be authorized, in conformance with the stipulated legal requirements of the state and church, to receive and disburse all funds under this plan.
- (a) Local treasurers shall remit funds raised on apportionment to the Conference Treasurer each week.
 - (b) Funds for ministerial support shall be remitted to them by the Treasurer in bi-weekly installments, provided however that he may not remit in advance of receipts for the account of ministerial support.
 - (c) The Treasurer shall retain one percent of each minister's support, paying the same into the Reserve Pension Fund to guarantee adequate retiring pensions as security of old age.
4. Each charge shall be responsible for supplying its ministers with a parsonage or parsonage rent.
5. In order that this plan may include our entire active ministry, we present it as our judgment that each travelling elder under special appointment who is employed by any institution, organization or department of work, whether or not organically related to or controlled by the Annual Conference, should request the Treasurer or proper financial authority in that institution, organization or department of work, to remit to the Conference Treasurer monthly all that part of his stipulated salary, excepting house rent or its equivalent, such remittance to be considered that institution's fair share of the appointment for ministerial support. It is our further judgment that from the date of the operation of this plan, and in consideration of and prior to the appointment of one of our ministers to such institutional or departmental service, all such institutions shall agree to co-operate with the Conference on the basis herein suggested. The Conference Board of Stewards shall each year report to the Cabinet what institutions served by ministers under special appointment are cooperating as above suggested, and in what degree they each pledge cooperation for the succeeding year.

IV.—Present Action. 1. We recommend Conference adoption of Section II, as a statement of basic principles.

2. We further recommend that the Conference authorize the operation of the plan tentatively advanced in Section III, beginning in July, 1936, provided (a) that the General Conference shall approve all necessary permissive legislation, and (b) that satisfactory detailed plans are finally approved by the Annual Conference of 1936.

3. We further recommend that as an initial preparation, the Fellowship Fund Committee be instructed to secure for the Board of Stewards all that information called for in Section III, Par. 1, d.

4. We suggest that the Fellowship Fund Committee be instructed to prepare a suitable memorial to the General Conference, asking such enabling action as appears necessary to give permissive authority to this Conference to institute a plan for ministerial support based upon the principles outlined in this report; such a memorial to be submitted to the Annual Conference of 1935.

PRORATING

Your Committee on Prorating has discovered, through the medium of somewhat heated correspondence from both laymen and preachers, that we need to examine again the law of the Church on this matter. The Discipline provisions on prorating read as follows:

"Paragraph 94, Section 4. The amount raised for Ministerial Support shall include the several sums raised for the Pastor, District Superintendent, Bishop and Conference Claimants, also house rent paid by the Charge for the Pastor, or a fair rental value if the Pastor lives in a parsonage.

"Paragraph 328. These amounts shall be 'pro-rata' claims, and no claim may be paid in greater proportion than the other claims." If all Ministerial claims are met in full there is no question concerning prorating. If not, the question has repeatedly been asked, "Who is responsible for prorating?"

If the local church treasurer pays the pastor more than his rightful percentage, he has paid him money, a part of which by the law of the church, belongs to another. If the pastor accepts and applies to his own use more than his fair percentage, he has taken that which by the law of the Church belonged to another. The General Conference has definitely fixed the Minister's responsibility by declaring (1926 Journal—508) "A Minister who refuses to prorate ministerial support may be brought to trial for violation of the law of the church." Paragraph 90: "In each Annual Conference, the Bishop presiding shall inquire of each District Superintendent 'if he has required the prorata distribution of the moneys received for ministerial support.'" Each year the District Superintendents answer affirmatively, yet each year there are men on their districts who have not prorated. In these difficult years, on some of the charges, it can be done only by sacrificial concern for the rights of others.

Some men with small salaries have borrowed money in order to prorate even in part. Others, whose salaries are adequate, are quite satisfied to take for themselves a larger percentage of the amount raised in their charges for Ministerial Support, than the law of the Church permits.

Be it resolved that the Bishop appoint a Pro-rating Committee, composed of five laymen and five preachers, one layman and one preacher from each District, whose duty it shall be at the next session of the Conference to call all Pastors and lay delegates before them whose Churches have failed to pro-rate in accordance with the law of the church as to District Superintendents, Conference Claimants, and Bishops, and ask them to explain why;

That in case there are Quarterly Conferences which refuse to accept the apportionments, the District Superintendent shall call together the members of the Commission on Finance residing on his district and give opportunity for such Quarterly Conference to present their objections to the apportionments.

Be it further resolved that this Committee be instructed to send out a report form at three months intervals during the year to be filled out by the Pastor, showing amount of the claims paid to date, as to (1) Pastor's salary, including house rent, (2) District Superintendents, (3) Episcopal Fund, (4) Conference Claimants.

GEO. B. CLIFF.

PERSONNEL

It is the conviction of this Committee that the regular constituted bodies of the church are better able to act as a Personnel Committee than any specially appointed body not familiar with men and circumstances. The action of a special Personnel Committee is in danger of contravening the disciplinary rights of regularly constituted bodies, such as the Conference Relations Committee and the Cabinet. However, we recommend that a more careful investigation be made by these authorized bodies at the door of the Conference in order that men unfitted for the ministry may not be encouraged. We believe that if there is to be a special committee that all the duties of the so-called Personnel Committee may be better performed by the Aptitude Committee.

WALTER C. LOOMIS.

APTITUDE TESTS

The Committee has not met, but has cleared by mail, finding itself in substantial agreement on the following report.

An increasing study and experimentation is going on in the field of objective testing of personality. It is clear that no one test can be devised to disclose the many faceted and elusive thing we call the human personality. But enough has been accomplished, and sufficient results have been checked against subsequent experience, to leave no doubt that here is a tool worthy the use of those who would most effectively build on the foundation of Christ. Aptitude testing and good counsel based upon it, has proved its value in helping defeat unemployment for many capable, but misplaced persons. Re-employment service agencies, notably in New York and Minneapolis-Saint Paul have thus dealt helpfully with thousands of individuals. Clearly, had such work been done at the outset of their careers, many a heartache and tragedy would have been averted.

Out of these studies emerge two enlightening facts of great importance for us: First, each profession has a distinctive "profile" which differentiates it from other professions. It is thus seen that personal traits required for success in one calling may predispose one to failure somewhere else, and it is therefore possible to guide persons toward the type of service in which they will most surely work with efficiency and satisfaction. Second, success in a given calling comes to those who do not vary in marked degree from the personality profile or norm of those who experience success in that calling. By the same token, the least successful are those who diverge most radically from the personality pattern of the successful group. The disclosure of the nature of this divergence may prove helpful in at least two ways. It may help the person to correct himself at the point where he has been predetermining his failure. Or it may serve to guide him into another occupation which calls for his particular type of person. In either case something of the supreme value of personality has been conserved, and better work has resulted. Anyone familiar with the personnel problems of our ministry requires but this brief mention and suggestion to understand how properly suited tests would prove of distinct value in adjusting such problems, and creating a better ministry for our Master's Kingdom work.

We therefore request the Annual Conference:

1. To continue this committee, requesting the appointment to its membership of such persons as have had experience in the field of personality testing, if such can be found in our Conference.

2. To direct this committee, working in co-operation with the Conference Relations Committee, to begin securing such personality tests of our active ministry as shall finally construct a personality profile of our Conference.

3. To request the Conference Relations Committee to give the same tests to all young men anticipating entrance to the Conference; and the Board of Ministerial Instruction to contact ministerial candidates in school, securing, if possible the results of the same tests.

4. To include within the report of the Commission on Finance, an asking of $50 to make possible the above study.

FRANK M. TOOTHAKER.

WORLD SERVICE COUNCIL

1. The World Service Council appointed a "Continuance Committee" to work out, in conjunction with the Board of Foreign Missions, an educational program which should visualize the Foochow Area for the churches of this Conference, arouse a fresh missionary impulse and secure a new dedication to our world wide task.

This Committee has already accomplished much in providing information and arousing interest. Letters with study material have been sent to all the pastors. A booklet has been issued visualizing life and conditions in the Foochow Area, with emphasis on human interest material. Maps have been made. Study booklets are being prepared by the Standing Age Group Committees of our Conference Board of Education. An assortment of cuts and mats portraying Chinese life for use in Church Bulletins are being assembled. Letters have been written to missionaries asking for all kinds of publicity material. 2500 copies of Basic Facts have been prepared and distributed to the pastors. Jesse Lee Corley and his office have assumed the major burden of this campaign of education. Under the direction of Frank Toothaker four missionaries filled 140 speaking engagements within the Conference. As missionaries from that area return to California their services are being solicited to carry forward this intensive educational campaign.

To demonstrate the unity of our Christian enterprise and also to promote a deeper understanding and to furnish a medium by which facts and plans might easily be made available, the Continuance Committee enlarged itself, giving to the Foochow Area an equal representation. Mr. George K. T. Wu, dean of the Anglo Chinese College in Foochow, was made secretary of the Chinese section of this committee and Mr. Henry V. Lacey was also made a member.

We approve this action in enlarging the membership. We recommend that this Committee be continued and that the personnel of it in this Conference be elected by the World Service Council and that it continue its campaign of education.

2. The World Service Council recommends: that the month of October be set aside as cultivation month in this Conference for World Service interests; that the World Service Council in each charge be asked to arrange programs and present exhibits which will educate our people about our total world task.

At present the most neglected field, as far as knowledge of or interest in is concerned, is the field of Home Missions. We therefore recommend that the Conference Board of Home Missions be asked to prepare a plan of education for use in the local church to visualize the needs of Home Missions with particular reference to work within this area and this Conference.

3. The World Service Council requests each church to see to it that no Board suffers in the allocation and designation of funds and that as far as can be done under the legislation of the church that every charge in this Conference attempt to maintain the ratios between the Boards.

4. We recommend that provision be made to finance the routing of World Service funds through the Conference treasurer's office and that a certain per cent be kept for that purpose.

To do this we recommend that the designation for benevolences by the Official Board of each church in its Every Member Canvass shall read as follows: "For World Service and other benevolences under the direction of the church, I promise to give $."

5. We request each district superintendent and pastor to make such plans for the district and local church as will make these plans for education, inspiration and cooperation effective for the district and local church. We further ask each district superintendent to submit a written report to the Conference World Service Council before May 1st, 1935, summarizing the response to World Service educational programs on his district and also stating what changes or improvements he feels should be made.

6. But while we must be ready at all times to improve our methods of approach and our technique, the Conference World Service Council does not believe that our major hope of success lies in improved methods or new techniques.

7. We believe that missionary work either at home or abroad, or religious education, will never thrive again until the main concern of our churches is not for a plan, but a life made dynamic by Christ; not for a system of ethics, but for an inner spiritual urge. We call our ministers and our laymen to remember that our sufficiency is of God. The world will not be saved by discussion groups. It will be saved as Christ motored lives are flung against a dying world. We want something to make the dry bones of the plan live. That something is the spirit of Christ actual and real in all our Churches and in the life of each of us.

8. The World Service apportionment sent to this Conference is $166,799. We recommend that this sum be set as the amount we shall try to raise in Conference for World Service causes, and that the quota to the individual churches shall be based on that figure.

WILLSIE MARTIN.

DESIGNATED GIFTS

1. Keep in mind a general pro rata division to the Boards.

In the interest of an equitable and balanced support for all World Service agencies we again suggest that pastors and treasurers of World Service Funds in the charges of this Conference aim as far as possible to maintain a pro rata distribution of their total giving to World Service causes on the accepted basis of 38% to the Board of Foreign Missions, 38% to the Board of Home Missions, 20% to the Board of Education, and 4% to the other Boards.

2. Racial Work in this Conference does not belong to this Conference alone but must be maintained by the entire church.

We reaffirm the statement of this Conference that racial work is the responsibility of the entire church and should not be shunted onto Conferences, where the races served may be centered, for either spiritual guidance or financial maintenance. So we again recommend that the amount designated from within this Conference for such work in this area be based on a recognition of the above principle of church wide responsibility for all racial work.

3. Designation for Home Missions.

We endorse the following recommendations that come from the Board of Home Missions of this Conference—(a) That Church Extension funds be granted in these amounts to the following Churches and ask the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension in Philadelphia to allocate the Church Extension funds gathered in this Conference to these designated projects:

3. (a) Chino $1500.

The completion of the $4,000 already apportioned by the Board of Home Missions to Maywood, and

The completion of the $5,000 already approved by the Home Board for Normal Heights.

That the amounts for the various items (which follow) shall be determined by the Conference Board of Home Missions and by a representative of the Home Board and when so determined that the appropriate share of these amounts be given to each charge.

(1) General District Maintenance.

(2) Maintenance for territorial and racial work.

Alaska.

Hawaiian Mission.

Chinese and Filipino Mission.

Japanese Mission.

Mexican Work—

(a) Spanish American Institute.

(b) Plaza Community Center.

(c) Latin American Mission.

(3) Board of Home Missions General Fund.

4. Foreign Missions.

We recommend that as far as circumstances will permit that the giving from the churches of this Conference to the Board of Foreign Missions shall be designated for the Foochow Area, the Southern California Conference field of Foreign Responsibility.

5. Designations under Board of Education.

We recommend that this Conference shall designate to the Wesley Foundation Work within this area a sum adequate to maintain this work at its present level. We further recommend that the Conference Church School work shall be granted the right to an allocation of funds sufficient for proper maintenance.

For these two major educational interests we recommend the following amounts for ratification by this Conference:

- (1) Conference Church Schools$5,000
- (2) Wesley Foundation$6,700

Applied as follows:

U.C.L.A.	$3,900
(This includes the Methodist quota to the University Religious Conference)
Stanford	$ 600
Berkeley	$ 600
Tucson	$ 700
Fresno	$ 600
Tempe	$ 300

We recommend that the Rally Day Offering shall be designated and applied to the Young People's Work in this Conference under the Board of Education.

6. Amounts for each charge to raise.

It is recommended that the Conference Treasurer's office in conjunction with the district superintendents, shall work out the proportionate amount which each charge in this Conference should raise so that the amounts designated to the various boards shall be fully provided for; and that the amount for each charge shall be sent to the pastor and treasurer of each church in the Conference.

7. Campaign of Education.

We recommend that the District Superintendents, the pastors and the World Service Council in each church undertake a campaign of education in each charge to acquaint our entire Conference membership with the total program we are supporting.

8. We recommend that World Service Funds from this Conference for Negro Education under the Board of Education, shall be designated to Samuel Houston College.

GOODWILL INDUSTRIES

When alphabetical administrations of various sorts are paying out millions of money for relief extracted from the taxpayers, it should be a satisfaction to Methodism that the Goodwill Industries, affiliated with the Board of Home Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church, last year gave 6 million hours of work to 52,000 different persons and paid therefor more than 2 million dollars in wages, besides another million for operating expense. Still more satisfying is the fact that more than 2½ million of this sum came directly from the cast-offs of 1,200,000 homes.

In this Conference, Industries in Los Angeles, Long Beach, San Bernardino and San Diego are affiliated with the Board of Home Missions and report to it. Santa Ana has not retained its affiliation this past year but has maintained its work in Orange County. The affiliated Industries the past year gave 842,139 hours of work to 2935 different persons, paid out $176,388.86 in wages out of a total expense budget of $296,049.55. No deficits were incurred and liabilities materially reduced. With a total net worth of $320,637.22 there were only $27,972.79 of liabilities of any sort against these organizations at the close of their fiscal year.

During the year San Diego has made marked progress and now occupies larger and better located quarters than last year with increasing service month by month. Cooperation with Federal and local relief organizations enabled them to give more than usual service and has built up fine public confidence. San Bernardino also moved into more spacious quarters and has shown material progress. It has consolidated its work to advantage. Long Beach reoccupied its earthquake ruined store, rebuilt and enlarged, and now handles the entire Harbor District with an additional store at Wilmington. Los Angeles remains in its historic old building but still hopes for funds to build adequately on its new site. More than 350 persons per day were given work there last year. The great need there, as elsewhere, is more money and particularly more and better materials with which to help the needy handicapped and destitute who throng the doors.

The churches can do much to meet this need if they will remember that Goodwill is Methodism's challenge to poverty and need, send their papers and cast-offs of every sort to Goodwill Industries and seek to eliminate indiscriminate giving by their membership. In gathering up the fragments that nothing be lost, the human fragments are the chief interest and the saving message of Jesus is preached daily in every Goodwill. If "Not Charity but a Chance" is offered the distressed individual, our church is offered a magnificent opportunity to service our cities through the scientific, Christian social service program of the Goodwill Industries. We, of Goodwill Industries are grateful to the conference for its whole hearted cooperation and for the privilege of serving God and our fellow men in the Goodwill way.

FREDERIC H. BLAIR.

PACIFIC PALISADES ASSOCIATION

The conference year 1933-34 began for Pacific Palisades Association with the briefest, but in some respects the most successful, session of its annual Assembly. The ministry of E. Stanley Jones attracted an attendance which overflowed the auditorium capacity of the Assembly Grounds at every session. The week will long be remembered for the illumination and inspiration which this prophetic spirit brought to his hearers. The remaining weeks of the Assembly, though commanding a much diminished attendance, were nevertheless fruitful and enabled the Association to close the season with a program budget more nearly balanced than ever before in its history.

In most other respects the Conference year now closing has been a year of difficulty and disaster. The history of the Association is known to the Conference and need not be recounted. Born at the beginning of a boom, its real estate ventures were at first attended with great success. Then came the purchase of the Huntington Palisades properties. The ensuing collapse found the Association with wide spread obligations, liquidation of which had always assumed the continuance of a rising market. Temporary deliverance was found by the sale of the sub-divided properties to the Pacific Land Corporation in 1928. But this corporation, after investing approximately a million dollar more than it took out of the property, was forced into default by the continued depression and by litigation which embarrassed its sales program, until its difficulties finally culminated on May 15th of the current year in foreclosure. This involved all the unsold properties placed by Pacific Palisades Association under the trust indenture securing the $3,500,000 bond issue of April 1, 1926, of which $1,293,500 remains outstanding. The bondholders, organized as Palisades Corporation, are the present owners.

The outlook for the future of the Association is not promising. Your Board of Trustees has negotiated an operating lease for the present summer season, and has asked an option on the institutional properties with a view to securing to the Church the opportunity to reacquire them should the terms of the option be favorable, and should the church and its authorities deem it worth while to do so. Detailed plans cannot be proposed at this time since the new owners have not yet adjusted their own finances so as to be able to make a binding commitment with reference to an option. Meanwhile, the Association must continue in legal existence until all matters connected with its operations have been closed. Should no plan for the repossession of the property be found, the Association should be in position to present at the next session of the Conference, a request for authorization to discontinue.

Substitution of fee title for the 99-year leases under which the property was originally sold is now nearly complete. This protects these investors against any possible clouding of the title to their property by deficiency judgment should the new owners take such proceeding. As of June 12, 1933, only sixty-one of these leases remain outstanding, of which number seven are in process of conversion and twelve others are involved in estates, which fact always retards procedure.

The year has brought to the Association one notable development in connection with the litigation which had been instituted against it by a group sponsored by an organization known as the Property Owners Association. This suit, the initiation of which was reported to the Conference in 1932, sought to impress a trust upon all the Association's properties and alleged that since this trust existed from the first, the Association had therefore no absolute legal right to buy and sell, and particularly that the purchase of the Huntington Palisades properties, and their subsequent sale to the Pacific Land Corporation, was a fraud upon the original founders and investors. The Supreme Court ruled against the plaintiffs at every point, declaring that from the plaintiffs' own showing of fact there was utter negation of such a trust from the very beginning. This has not only vindicated the legality and good faith of the Association's activities in the matters complained of, but has effectually set at rest a vexing question and removed the possibilities of further expensive auditing and litigation.

No Assembly program is being offered for the current year. Whether these programs will be resumed must depend upon the ultimate outcome of the entire enterprise. The grounds will be operated under the Association's management for the current season for the housing of camp meetings, conferences and institute groups. Of particular interest to the members of the Conference are the sessions of the Southern California Holiness Camp Meeting, June 29 to July 9; the Methodist Episcopal Camp Meeting, August 12 to 19; the Epworth League Institute, August 11 to 18; and the meeting of the Standard Bearers July 21 to 28. Twenty other groups will also use the grounds during the period of our tenancy under the present lease.

Pursuant to the requirements of our By-laws we are submitting the following list of names asking that the Conference nominate them as eligibles to election to any vacancies which may occur in the Board of Trustees of the Association:

Walter C. Buckner, C. B. Dalton, J. Lewis Gillies, W. R. Morehouse, Glenn Randall Phillips, A. Ray Moore, Ray C. Harker, James E. Dunning, John Anson Ford, F. G. H. Stevens, J. L. Corley, James B. Fox, C. D. Lewis, R. G. Bose and Charles A. Kent.

OREN B. WAITE.

TEMPERANCE

We are firmly convinced that the only solution for the evils of the liquor traffic are drastic measures that will eventually completely destroy the demoralizing commerce in intoxicating liquors. When the 18th Amendment was the law of the land a great cry went up concerning the evils of Prohibition. National Prohibition at its very worst was far better than the legalized and almost uncontrolled traffic in intoxicants that now prevails. Every promise made by the advocates of repeal has been violated, and the traitorous liquor business stands before us once again convicted of gross hypocrisy.

In California, Constitutional Amendment No. 2, which the voters adopted in 1932 by a strong majority, provides "That no public saloon, public bar, or barroom, or other public drinking place where intoxicating liquors to be sold for any purpose shall be kept, bought, sold, consumed or otherwise disposed of, shall ever be established, maintained, or operated within the State." This provision, however, has been rendered null and void by reason of the fact that the Board of Equalization has gone beyond any province which belongs to that Board, or even to the State Legislature by declaring that beer of 3.2 by weight, is not intoxicating. Consequently, the old saloon has not returned in name, but beer gardens, lunch counters, and soda fountains are serving the same purpose. The old saloon was the gathering place of those who wanted intoxicants. In today's substitute, the child eating an ice cream cone rubs elbows with the old toper guzzling his beer. The soda fountain bids fair to become the "respectable" training school for tomorrow's drunkard.

Promised prosperity has not arrived. Unemployment is even now increasing, poverty as rampant as ever, the farmer's plight a major problem, and the tax-burden still increasing in heaviness. Add to this the new problem of law enforcement against the victim of legal drinking, and the illicit drink traffic and all fair-minded men must confess that alcoholic prosperity exists only in the distorted vision of the intoxicated. Great was the pre-election "ballyhoo" of the liquor interests, but sad is the awakening of the gullible public.

We need to ask ourselves seriously, in the classical expression of today, "How did we get this way?" It is easy to place the blame upon a well organized and strongly financed minority representing the once defunct liquor business. It is a simple matter to denounce venal politicians and deceived voters. The most important thing for us in this hour is to realize our own folly and confess our own failure. With the advent of National Prohibition the church entered into a Fool's Paradise, believing that the Kingdom of God had arrived by way of legislative enactment. We seemed to forget that social welfare depends not so much upon law enforcement as upon citizens possessing a keen sense of moral responsibility. We shouted for law-enforcement but did very little to train a generation of intelligent voters with a high regard for human rights, and strong convictions concerning every evil that debases and corrupts. Had we continued a systematic, consistent teaching ministry in the Church of Christ, we would have produced a generation of well informed citizens immune to the propaganda of the liquor interests. Today's debauchery and devastation are calling us to repentance.

What must be the signs of repentance? An aggressive educational program, based upon the latest thoroughly verified scientific facts. The sentimental sob-stories that were often used in the past will not suffice for the new day, nor will it be enough to merely teach the effects of alcohol upon the physical and mental life. The liquor traffic is a business enterprise strongly entrenched in our present economic order, rendering no useful service, but operated for profit only.

We recommend to our ministers and laymen a study of the Rockefeller Report, as well as books by leading economists which clearly reveal the facts that we are dealing with interlocking interests. As a result of such studies, an awakened church arises and demands that the government devise ways and means of taking all profit out of the liquor business, thus depriving it of its only reason for existence, and paving the way for its rapid destruction. We request the Committee on Temperance to prepare a plan by which the profit may be taken out of the liquor business, offer the same to appropriate governmental agencies, and present it at the next Annual Conference.

The Southern California Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church must also say to all our temperance organizations that only as they unite into a strong, aggressive force under the best and most intelligent leadership available can we continue to give them our moral and financial support. We see no good reason for more than one organization capably manned to occupy this field.

The church in action against the liquor traffic must cease being fooled by self-seeking office seekers who are politically dry but void of moral convictions. We need the courage that will suffer defeat rather than compromise. We can afford to support only seekers of public office who have demonstrated their willingness to suffer defeat in the interest of righteousness. Professed "dryness" is not sufficient proof of moral and intellectual fitness for a place of public trust and responsibility.

The church in action must also find ways and means of utilizing every avenue of publicity that is now used by the liquor interests, advertising by radio, the newspaper, the billboards and the magazines.

In promoting effective alcohol education in our Church Schools, Epworth Leagues, organized Bible Classes, and other groups we urge upon our ministers, Church School superintendents, leaders of young people's groups, and others that they use freely the material available in the office of our Conference Director of Religious Education. We also call upon that office at all times to be ready to supply the latest and best materials available. We commend the work being done by Mr. Vierling Kersey, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, in promoting temperance education in the public schools, and hereby pledge our wholehearted cooperation in every endeavor to create a citizenry that is able to approach the entire liquor problem with a high degree of intelligence.

We realize that the present legal status of the liquor business in California is very unsatisfactory, for under the present system of granting licenses the sale of liquor is no longer confined to certain restricted areas, but may be granted to places of business located almost at the very doorsteps of our public schools. We call upon our ministers and laymen to insist that the Board of Equalization in granting licenses hold rigidly to its implied rule of not granting such to places of business located less than two hundred feet from school or church properties.

We urge upon the united dry forces to work for such legislation as will best serve the interest of the people against the encroachment of the liquor traffic. We urge our people to support with all our dynamic the re-establishment of local option.

Liquor Taxation:

BECAUSE the liquor traffic is a vandalism of personality and not a legitimate business,

BECAUSE the traffic in intoxicants and narcotics cannot be licensed without sin,

BECAUSE no nation can drink itself into prosperity,

BECAUSE the legalizing of the sale of intoxicants results always and inevitably in cheapened personality, lessened home income for the necessities and comforts of mother and children, in inefficiency, in immorality, in political corruption, in broken homes and broken hearts,

THEREFORE we, the ministers of the Southern California Conference, representing 500 ministers, do deny and protest the right of taxing beer, wine and other intoxicants for purposes of government revenue.

We condemn the dastardly method used to create an appetite for alcohol by the sale of liquor-flavored candy and warn our people to be on the alert against this cowardly attempt to make our children victims of the drink habit.

In light of the drunken debauch brought on our nation by an active and avaricious minority, the stupid indifference and legarthy of the great majority and the responsibility of the Church of informing the people and awakening them to action, be it resolved:

That we begin at once to take advantage of the growing volume of scientific educational materials dealing with the evil effects of alcohol and request our district superintendents, in cooperation with pastors and the Conference Board of Education, to systematically inaugurate throughout their districts, campaigns of education on this subject among our people.

We further would commend for use in this connection the materials and personal services of those persons and organizations who seek to approach this question in an honest, thorough-going, scientific manner.

We call upon President Roosevelt to instigate, at the end of the first year of repeal, a careful study by an impartial commission of the actual effects of legalizing the liquor traffic upon:

1. Unemployment.
2. Federal State revenue.
3. Cost of law enforcement in cities, states, and nation.
4. Consumption of liquor, arrests for drunkenness, and accidents due to drunk driving.
5. Illicit manufacture, and sale of alcoholic liquors.

We hereby ask the Secretary of the Annual Conference to refer this request to Mr. Roosevelt.

JOHN GABRIELSON.

SOCIAL PROBLEMS, INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS, AND STATE OF THE CHURCH

Preamble. Religion achieves value in proportion as it includes the entire range of life. The state of the church at a given period is to be gauged, not by statistical records of increase or decrease, but by the degree of its understanding and interpretation of the ideas comprehended in Jesus' proclamation of the Kingdom of God.

"I am controlled by the love of Christ," Moffatt translates Paul as saying. In that spirit this committee has approached its task. Realizing that in such a report as this, proposals will be introduced that are wholly foreign to the past thinking of many, we urge all our people to be controlled completely by the love of Christ in its consideration.

This report is not legislation. It is rather a challenge to every Methodist honestly and fearlessly to study the issues raised. It is an attempt to set before us some of the goals toward which we should strive.

Anti-Social Force. By anti-social forces, we mean those influences in the social order that destroy life at its best. We have only to read the papers or look about us to see influences which continually play upon the individual to distort the truth, pervert moral standards, and weaken the body.

Advertising, when used to introduce new products or sell wholesome commodities, renders service. But when the skilful psychological appeal is used to sell harmful products, it becomes anti-social. Newspaper, radio and billboard combine to assure us that a certain brand of cigarette will not affect the nerves. Even the comic section is used for this subtle appeal. Liquor is made attractive by being pictured in luxurious and beautiful surroundings. We are never told that at the last "it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder."

We ask for truth in advertising, and witness with regret the weakening of the bill before Congress concerning pure foods and drugs. We suggest to newspapers that they resume the practice of refusing liquor advertisements.

In the general news of the day frequently only half truths are stated, events contrary to the paper's policy are played down. Christians need a skepticism of the press.

The radio, a significant instrument of communication, information and entertainment, is all too often kept upon a dead level of mediocrity. It is dominated by commercial interests, with culture and religion permitted only by sufferance. A strong public opinion is needed, looking toward more and more public control and regulation.

The Chinese have a proverb, "One picture is worth a thousand words." What is the motion picture saying to America and the world? All too often vice and crime are portrayed as normal activities. The sinners in silk on the silver screen are admired and imitated throughout the land.

The motion picture industry is a business run for profit. Appeal to the lower emotions is considered necessary for the success of most pictures. The result is that the crude, vulgar and indecent type of movie is in the vast majority. Even when a splendid picture of the type of "Little Women" is run, it is frequently accompanied by such a feature as "Wine, Women and Song." Recent studies such as "Our Movie Made Children" illustrate in detail the exact physical and moral effects of the movies upon youth.

We protest against the block booking system and endorse proposals for Federal regulation of production and control. We approve the "Legion of Decency" of our sister denomination, the Roman Catholic church, and pledge our enthusiastic cooperation in a crusade for clean movies.

However, we do not have confidence in any promises for reform in movie production or practices made by the Hays organization. We trust that our Roman Catholic friends will not cease in their insistence until the theatres of the United States of America are morally decent and constructively recreational, and until the movie export trade is so conducted that it will not falsify our standards of life to the detriment of the building of a moral world community. The "Legion of Decency" should be promoted throughout our church. We request the Board of Education of our Conference to aggressively undertake such a procedure.

We deplore the growth of lotteries and race track gambling. Yet there is no moral difference between these illegal types of gambling and stock market or other speculation. Our Christian public needs a clear conscience upon the whole matter of speculation, investments and unearned wealth.

The pressure of modern life has forced over one million persons of the more vicious and unscrupulous type into lives of crime. The worst effects of criminal activity can be curbed by prompt enforcement of the law, but a more permanent solution will only come as we increase economic security for all the people. Our young people must have opportunity for work and self expression.

Business Practices. Recognizing the comparative helplessness of the individual business man to free himself from the grasp of an economic system, and realizing that in many instances the yielding of men to current practices of business does not represent their studied effort to participate in unethical, unsocial, and unChristian activities, we believe nevertheless that there should be a complete and drastic re-appraisal of the practices of business with the view to ridding society of the waste incurred. Among these practices we mention: (1) The increasing pressure of unscrupulous competition. (2) The use of "high pressure" salesmanship. (3) The use of half truths and absolute untruths with the appeal to fear in advertising. (4) The adulteration of foods, drugs and other commodities. (5) The artificial restraint of trade by monopolies in natural resources, patents and processes, and trade agreements. (6) The issuance of stock dividends as a production charge against the productive capacity of an industry or service. (7) The pyramiding of holding companies, the "reorganization" or "refinancing" of corporations in such a way as to dissipate assets or to give fat fees to chosen beneficiaries, or the unscrupulous use of bankruptcy and receivership proceedings. (8) Manipulation of stocks, real estate, or other vendible securities in violation of the principles of the common good. (9) The appeal to public officials for special privileges. (10) The attempt to use the schools and other public institutions to hamper the extension of public ownership of public utilities. (11) The payment of excessively large salaries and bonuses to business executives. (12) The attempt to cripple public education for the sake of the reduction of taxes on business, as is now being sponsored in the program of the United States Chamber of Commerce. (13) The evasion of responsibilities to employees in matters of wages and hours of labor, and the evasion of fees and taxes through technicalities. (14) The excessive development of installment selling. (15) The unmerciful use of foreclosures and reposessions. These things violate our social creed.

Industry and Agriculture. The Social Creed asserts these, among others, as standards for a Christian industrial relationship:

"A frank recognition that all ownership is a social trust involving Christian administration for the good of all. Adequate provision for impartial investigation and publicity, conciliation and arbitration in industrial disputes. The right of labor to organize with representatives of their own choosing, and where able, to share in the management. The supremacy of the service, rather than the profit motive in the acquisition and use of property on the part of both labor and capital, and the most equitable division of the product of industry that can be devised." (Discipline, 1932, Par. 561, Sec. 2 (2) .)

The Federal Government created N.I.R.A. and N.R.A. which would, if supported by employers and employees, ameliorate industrial conditions. We declare our confidence in the integrity of the President's effort to relieve industrial distress, our appreciation of the vast responsibility that has been placed upon him and our sympathy with him in the cause of the industrial welfare of the people as a whole. We commend the attempt to abolish child labor, and the effort to establish maximum hours and a minimum wage for industry.

However, we hold with the New York East Conference and similar bodies that present legislation does not adequately meet the emergency in which we find ourselves, in this period of transition to a new social order.

We, therefore, call upon our government to devote itself to the building of a cooperative order through "the fullest possible cooperative control and ownership of industry and of the natural resources upon which industry depends," as taught by our church.

Among the provisions of N.R.A., "7A" has to do with the cause of much of the unrest and strife in the industrial section of society.

"Sec. 7 (a) Every code of fair competition, agreement, and license approved, prescribed, or issued under this title shall contain the following conditions: (1) That employees shall have the right to organize and bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing, and shall be free from the interference, restraint, or coercion of employers of labor, or their agents, in the designation of such representatives or in self-organization or in other concerted activities for the purpose of collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection; (2) That no employee and no one seeking employment shall be required as a condition of employment to join any company union or to refrain from joining, organizing, or assisting a labor organization of his own choosing; and (3) That employers shall comply with the maximum hours of labor, minimum rates of pay, and other conditions of employment, approved or prescribed by the President."

Secretary's Note: (On motion of D. W. Wilt, the conference ordered that section 7 (2) of the NRA code be amended by striking out in the second line the word "company" so that the entire section reads: "That no employee and no one seeking employment shall be required as a condition of employment to join any union or to refrain from joining, etc.")

It is evidently the purpose of some employers in this area to deprive labor of its rights under 7A. Indeed the question as to the right of labor to organize in any other than so-called company unions is the paramount issue in most labor disputes at this time. Efforts on the part of employers to prevent labor from exercising the rights provided for in 7A are reprehensible and contain seeds of anarchy. Employers may and do organize for their common interest and without interference. We not only justify the right of Labor to do the same but also strongly urge it to exercise that right.

Industry is a community interest. The employer, the employee and the consumer are all involved in it. The employer must give up the outworn and discredited idea that he can "run his business as he pleases."

In many industries the actual wages paid are distressingly low. The wage rate per hour is no true index to monthly or yearly incomes. In one industry, girls who receive 45c per hour averaged only from $4 to $8 per week during 1933. The migratory workers render an essential service. They "follow the crops" and so must live in such camps as are provided. Many of these camps are unfit for human beings. These men and women and children should not be crushed down into the economic mire and compelled to live under such conditions in order that others may benefit.

At the same time we recognize the fact that increased wages alone will not solve this problem nor appreciably raise the standards of living of these people, without more adequate education in social hygiene, home-making, thrift, and striving to inculcate in them qualities of self-respect and pride. We suggest to churches in the communities in which these people reside or camps are located, that they take the initiative in enlisting cooperation of the other religious forces of the community in a united effort to put on an educational and social welfare program adapted to their needs.

We hold to be utterly un-American the growing tendency to infringe upon the right of free speech and free assembly of minority groups in this state in violation of constitutional prerogatives, and call upon officials and individual organizations to refrain from the use of extra-legal methods in dealing with labor problems and groups.

Many small farms are nominally owned by the farmers, but are really owned by those organizations to which they are hopelessly mortgaged. In another great section, according to the report of Federal Commission, over 90% of the major crops are grown or financed by shipper-growers, so most of the work is done by paid labor, not by small landowners. The immediate needs are for a better feeling to be created among all the parties concerned, for the constitutional and legal rights of even the humblest worker to be conserved, and for an organization of the workers' own free choosing to be created and maintained.

In many instances the returns to the farmer last year were less than the cost of operation; so that even the most socially minded farmers have found themselves utterly unable to meet the reasonable demands of farm labor for increased wages.

We suggest that it might remove sources of irritation if growers and workers would seek occasions for conference in which each group might lay its problems before the other. In this connection we commend these standards of the Social Creed.

"That the tiller of the soil shall be encouraged in his efforts to own the land he farms, and that society be protected by efficient production and conservation of fertility. That the cost of market distribution from farmer to consumer shall be cut to the lowest possible terms, both farmers and consumers, sharing in these economies. That there shall be every encouragement to the organization of farmers for economic ends, particularly for cooperative sales and purchases." (Discipline, 1932, Par. 561, Sec. 2 (3) .) While we do not believe in the exaggerated reports of a Red Menace, we would caution industrial and agricultural workers against the undoubted activities of Communist agitators who as false friends of the worker seek not the amelioration or improvement of the workers condition but rather the overthrow of our system of government which offers to the workers an American and a democratic as opposed to a Russian revolutionary means of solving their difficulties.

Real wages paid in factories, laundries, stores, and public eating places can be ascertained only with great difficulty. They are abnormally low. Fear of unemployment and its attendant want causes many workers to endure in silence the grossest injustices. A worker may be made "a partner in the business" or receive only "tips" for his hire, and the law is evaded by renting to the worker the implements needed in the business, thus making the worker to appear to be in business for himself.

We recommend that consumers use care to ascertain the conditions under which goods are made and offered for sale.

We recommend that the State Commission, existing to enforce measures governing workers' camps, be properly financed so that it may function.

We approve the principle of compulsory arbitration of labor disputes of all sorts.

While we have no objection to peaceful picketing, we condemn the introduction of violence into industrial disputes. The resort to violence by either labor or employer inevitably alienates the good will of the public, means that the other party will employ force, and immeasurably multiplies the difficulties of the use of arbitration. We commend the I.L.A. in their efforts to restrain violence and their efforts to keep communism out of their program.

Interracial Relations. The General Conference of 1932 declared that translating the ideals of Jesus "into racial relations means: (a) The practice of the Christian principle of the same protection and rights for all races who share our common life. (b) The elimination of racial discrimination, and substitution of full brotherly treatment for all races. (c) The fullest cooperation between churches of various races, even though of different denominations. (d) Educational and social equipment for the special needs of immigrants."

Against the background of this statement, we deplore the presence of lynching.

We protest against the practice of the importation of immigrant groups to flood the labor market in profitable times and the companion evil of failure to recognize responsibility to this same group when their labor is not so profitable.

We insist that racial differences shall not lessen the concern of Christian people for justice in all labor disputes.

We urge a policy of fellowship and acquaintance between churches of various racial groups.

We recommend that the Board of Education assist in the organization of round table discussions and conversations upon inter-racial problems.

We insist upon the equal treatment and recognition of all delegates at conference and conventions connected with the Methodist Episcopal Church, regardless of race or color.

International Relations and Peace. "The patriotisms of the Methodist Episcopal Church has never been challenged. Neither our motives nor our loyalty must be impugned when we insist upon the fulfillment of pledges made to the dead and assert our Christian ideals to the living.

"In these terms, as in the General Conference of 1924, we set ourselves to create the will to peace, the conditions for peace and organization for peace.—The agencies of our church shall not be used in preparation for war; they shall be used in preparation for peace." (Discipline, 1932, Par. 562.)

We recommend the fullest cooperation with the various organizations now at work to promote goodwill and international understanding. We commend the work of E. Guy Talbott in the National Council for Prevention of War, and request the Bishop to reappoint him to his present position as Western Regional Secretary for the coming year.

We commend a recent press release from the headquarters of the American Legion which states "The American Legion is best equipped of all organizations to discourage the opinion that war is inevitable. And it is best equipped to point out to American youth that war is not a romantic adventure, but rather a horrible tragedy."

We propose an eight-fold program of governmental action:

(1) We endorse that part of the American Legion program for Congressional action which would remove profit from war by providing that if the government draft men in time of war, labor, transportation, capital and industry should likewise be subject to the draft.

(2) We commend the action of the United States Congress empowering the President to place embargoes upon the shipment of war materials to belligerent nations, and we urge that the President use this power to prevent all such commerce with nations engaged in war. This would materially lessen the duration of such war and insure our neutrality.

(3) We affirm the proposal of the present Administration that the United States should lead the world in effective and real limitation of armaments. We call upon the President to reconcile his support of the Vinson Naval Appropriations Bill with his insistence upon disarmament and his repeatedly enunciated "good neighbor" policy.

(4) We commend the investigations of the manufacture and sale of war materials throughout the world, and of the activities of those who in the interest of profits from armaments would foment war and oppose every move for disarmament and peace; and we recommend that the manufacture and sale of war munitions become a government monopoly.

(5) We reaffirm the stand of the church in reference to America's participation in the World Court, and we endorse the petition now being circulated urging the United States government to define the conditions upon which it would consider entrance into the League of Nations. Furthermore, we urge that the President immediately seek to put into international operation his suggestion for a non-aggression pact to extend and define the Kellogg-Briand Pact.

(6) The United States has learned that financing belligerents is poor business, and also a very dangerous factor leading us into active participation in war. We therefore recommend that we refuse to allow any nation engaged in war to borrow money in this country in any way.

(7) We commend the government of the United States for adopting the policy of refusing to use the armed forces of the United States to protect the life and property of Americans in other parts of the world.

(8) We urge upon the government of the United States the necessity of adopting legislation that would curtail the rights of our people to travel upon the high seas in time of war.

We also believe it is the Christian duty of the members of our Church to carefully study the causes that make for war, such as racial antagonisms, tariff barriers, ruthless commercialism.

Although the Church has declared against the war system, and gone on record as ready to support the conscientious objector, there is nothing in the statements of our Church which would place a stigma upon those who cannot now take a pacifist position. We believe in freedom of conscience for all. We do, however, urge upon our people to seriously consider what, in the light of the New Testament, are the demands of Jesus upon those who pledge their allegiance to Him.

We also hold, in the words of the General Conference, "that our country is benefited by having as citizens those who unswervingly follow the dictates of their conscience, and that a policy of denial of naturalization to aliens of this character is contrary to the ideals of the nation into whose very structure the principles of political and religious liberty have been built." (Discipline, 1932, Par. 562.)

We also commend to all our members the following pledge prepared by Dr. A. W. Palmer of the Chicago Theological Seminary:

"Resolution Against Aggressive War.

"Believing that the hour has come for complete abandonment and repudiation of aggressive war and territorial invasion by Christian people everywhere;

"Be it resolved that we register our conviction on the following three items, and call on all other Christian bodies throughout the world to join us in their support and promulgation:

"1. We heartily approve the principle of President Roosevelt's suggestion that aggression be defined as the sending of hostile military forces across the boundary line of another country;

"2. In line with this, we announce in advance the complete disassociation of the Church as far as we are able to effect it, from any war which would involve invading the homeland of any other nation. Reserving the right of self-defense by such means as may seem to us wise, effective, and Christian, we do now at the same time pledge to the world that we will not make it necessary for any other people to defend themselves against us. We are convinced that this is a basic minimum requirement of international good ethics.

"3. To make this policy as effective as possible, we further recommend the world-wide signing of personal non-invasion pledges by Christian people everywhere saying: 'Reserving the right of national self-defense by such means as may seem to me wise, effective, and Christian, I from now on repudiate all aggressive war. I will cross no national boundary line to kill and destroy, nor will I support my government in sending its army or navy to do so.'

Rights of Conscience in Military Training and Service. We reaffirm the position of our Church expressed by the General Conference of 1932: "We believe it to be the duty of the churches to give moral support to those individuals who hold conscientious scruples against participation in military training or military service."

We congratulate our Methodist youth in Maryland, Ohio, and California who have challenged the right of tax-supported schools to discriminate against students because of their objection to military drill on religious grounds. In our own State two young Methodists, Alonzo Reynolds and Albert Hamilton, were dismissed from the University of California at Los Angeles, for refusal on these grounds to engage in military training. In order to establish the legal rights of these and other young men of similar convictions, your Social Service Commission has, through a committee consisting of Bishop Baker, F. M. Toothaker, Willsie Martin, Geo. A. Warmer, C. F. Seitter, James McGiffin, and John Gabrielson, carried the issue through the State Supreme Court. This Court found against the students and the case was appealed to the Federal Supreme Court. On appeal Justice Sutherland stated that "novel and important Federal questions" had been presented. We expect that a hearing on the case will be held early in the fall. All through these proceedings the spirit of friendliness has been maintained between our group and the University. We urge moral and financial support to this case.

We also affirm as ours the conviction expressed by the General Conference of 1928, and again in 1932, "that we are opposed to all military training in high schools and to compulsory military training in colleges and universities."

An Appreciation. We record our high appreciation to Bishop Baker for his clear exposition of the Social Creed of the Church, published in a series of five articles in the Christian Advocate, Pacific Edition, and now reprinted in pamphlet form, and recommend its widespread distribution and study.

Principles of a Christian Society. The General Conference of 1932 adopted "A Christian Appraisal of the Acquisitive Society". That indictment is even more timely now.

"Confronted with the spectacle of the breakdown of our social and economic structure around the world, with its toll of human want and misery, it is clear that the Church must not acquiesce in the continuance of the present status. The least definition with which the Christian conscience can be satisfied is that society is an organized cooperation for providing the largest possible measure of life for the greatest possible number of its members. As our Bishops declared in 1930, 'We cannot escape the conclusion that a more equitable distribution of wealth is basic.'

"The present industrial order is unchristian, unethical, and antisocial because it is largely based on the profit motive which is a direct appeal to selfishness. Selfishness is never morally right, never Christian, and eventually never benefits anybody.

(On motion of Charles Kent the Conference ordered to insert in the action of the General Conference of 1932 under the title "A Christian Appraisal of Acquisitive Society" an amendment as follows:

"We are profoundly convinced that no economic planning in the interest of all the people can be completely socially effective so long as it is based solely on the principle of private profit.

"We believe the Church should advocate the public ownership and operation of public utilities and of the principle means of production and transportation."—The Secretary.)

"The present calamity is becoming increasingly threatening, so that it makes imperative a reconstruction of our economic order. We must stir the conscience of mankind to create a social way of life in which all men have opportunity to develop their capacities to the fullest possible extent."

The General Conference further advocated "the replacement of our present policy of unplanned competitive industrialism by planned economy definitely aiming at the assurance of economic security."

Probably the first element in a Christian industrial order would be production for use instead of profit.

A second element would certainly be security for all, including an equitable wage for every worker, health and unemployment insurance, adequate pension as soon as he becomes relatively inefficient, and adequate care for all dependents in case of death.

It cannot be too often emphasized that any deviation from the democratic ideal and method is a denial of the sacredness of personality.

A Christian order seeks justice with liberty and is not attained through the use of force. A dictatorship of fascism, of communism, or of any other compulsory mechanism cannot achieve democratic ends or preserve our democratic institutions.

We believe, therefore, that every principle herein stated is wholly consistent with those fundamental American ideals enunciated in the preamble to the Constitution of the United States: "to establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity."

To this end we stand upon the democratic rights of freedom of speech, of assembly, and of the press, and complete liberty of conscience, as guaranteed by the Bill of Rights.

INVESTIGATION OF THE BETTER AMERICA FEDERATION OF CALIFORNIA

Pursuant to instructions of the Annual Conference, the committee on Social Problems, International Relations and State of the Church requested a special group "to investigate or provide for the investigation of the organization and activities of the Better America Federation of California." This group consists of Russell E. Clay, Kemp Winkler, Charles F. Seitter, Glenn R. Phillips, F. W. Audrain, H. O. Weber, A. M. Wilkinson and Gross W. Alexander.

On June 12th, a three-hour interview was had with Harry Lee Martin, Joseph P. Howe, Captain C. W. Hoffman, George Campbell and Miss Margaret A. Kerr, of the Better America Federation, by representatives of the committee. By mutual consent, a stenographer reported the meeting. Our chairman indicated we came in "the spirit of Christian courtesy and brotherhood." In reply, Mr. Howe invited us to "ask any questions" that might arise in our minds; and Mr. Campbell closed the conference by asserting: "I think that if there were more investigations made of the Better America Federation and what they are really trying to do, it would be better for us all." Those present were either avowed church members or sympathizers. In all probability many of the members of the Federation are quite religious. Miss Kerr told two of our committeemen that she regarded Communism and radicalism generally as "the Anti-Christ."

A copy of the record of this interview as corrected by officers of the Federation is being filed with the Secretary of the Conference, together with certain other data and documentary material.

I. HISTORICAL. In May, 1920, with a board of men, many of whom were prominent in the industrial and commercial life of the state, the Better America Foundation was incorporated. H. M. Haldeman was founder-president, and M. M. Brenneman was secretary. Norman Hapgood, in his book, "Professional Patriots," states, "the organization once wore a franker name—The Commercial Federation of California—though its officers, office and staff remained identical when changed to Better America."

When asked if the policies and general program of its predecessor were projected into the new Federation, Miss Kerr answered, "Generally speaking, I imagine so." She went on to explain that "they felt that the name (Better America) represented the purposes better than the Commercial Federation." For years, the Federation operated under the slogan: "Less government in business; more business in government." President Martin informed us "that is still the policy of the institution."

Membership includes corporations, associations, and individuals who approve the constitution of the Federation and the constitution of the United States as interpreted by the Federation. Right to reject applicants is reserved and exercised by the board of directors. Support is maintained by voluntary subscriptions. The size of the membership and the amount and exact sources of the income together with the subscription lists are not made public. Other investigators have reported that the corporation "is supported chiefly by public utility companies and certain large commercial interests of Southern California." (Hapgood "Professional Patriots," p. 174.) In quoting evidence presented at a public hearing before the California Commission on Immigration and Housing, in 1922, Franklin Hichborn reports that the Southern California Edison Company alone contributed the sum of "$3,000, given in $250 a month installments" in each year—1921 and 1922. "The so-called Los Angeles 'Americanization Fund' is supported by pledges aggregating $160,000 a year for five years, $800,000 in all, for the support of the Better America Federation."

II. PURPOSES AND UNDERLYING PHILOSOPHY. According to the articles of incorporation, its purposes are: "To re-awaken in America a realization of the responsibilities of citizenship; to induce a more general and intelligent acceptance of those responsibilities; to oppose through printed and spoken word, all efforts to substitute any other theories of government in place of the Constitution of the United States; to oppose the development of class consciousness and the class domination of government, business or society; to demonstrate that the interests of employers and employees are mutual, and that the prosperity of both depends upon each accepting and adhering to the Golden Rule; to support the employee and employer in all the rights guaranteed them under the Constitution of the United States; to defend the right of private property as the only practical incentive to the full exercise of individual energy, skill and thrift." "Opposition to crime and racketeering," is a further aim and activity, according to the secretary-manager, Miss Kerr. (Trsc, p. 4.)

Unquestionably, one of the chief concerns of the Federation is the exaltation of the Constitution of the United States, with a view to maintenance of a static constitution. For a creed, President Martin declared, "the Better America Federation first takes the Constitution of the United States." (Trsc., p. 6.)

In order to fully comprehend their conception of the Constitution, we refer to a pamphlet circulated by the organization entitled "Behind the Veil," of which numerous editions have been struck off. In this, we read:

"During the past twenty-five years, subtle plans have been developing for the gradual weakening, leading to the ultimate abandonment of the Constitution of the United States. This entire movement has been adroitly directed by the Communist Internationale. In order to lessen the efficiency of the Government, an order was issued to the Communist party of America to gradually create a spirit of dispute, criticism, agitation, and, by degrees, amend it as frequently as possible and thus weaken its integrity and ultimately undermine it. Ignorantly and blindly, we have fallen into the trap thus set. The movement towards disintegration of the Constitution began right here in California, twenty-five years ago, with the agitation for the Initiative, Referendum and Recall. There is no intention of here arguing for or against these measures; we are not concerned in this paper with political discussion. The only purpose is to clearly point out the cause and the manner by which we have been gradually drifting away from the safeguards of the Constitution so that today we are in perilous danger. Whatever may be speciously said in any argument in favor of the Initiative, Referendum and Recall, it is self-evident that they are in vital variance with the Constitution and are fostering that very danger the Constitution so carefully provided against—of vesting direct action in the hands of the people-at-large instead of delegating action to carefully selected Representatives which is the hallmark of this Republic. . . . Not one of the (22) States which has adopted these measures could have done so if the State officials had been true to the oath each of them had taken to support, maintain and defend the Constitution of the United States, for the axiomatic reason that all three measures are in direct conflict with the Constitution itself. But yielding to the clamor directed and fomented through underground channels by this diabolic committee of incendiarism and revolution, State after State has fallen an easy victim to the intrigue, and the indications are that it may be possible for still other States to do so, and this constitutes the first body blow toward minimizing the strength of Constitutional foundations. The second body blow was struck in 1913, when the election of United States Senators was delegated to the direct action of the open primaries."

Senator J. M. Inmann, speaking of the Better America Federation on the floor of the State senate concerning their activities indicated "they simply want big business to be free to engage in unregulated and unbridled exploitation of the people. The greedy advantages of the few, as against the many, is their religion." He went further and declared, "We see the Better America Federation using what control it possesses to serve the special interests. Under a false title, which would seem to indicate that the organization is aiming to make American citizenship and better national life, we find it being used openly and actively in trying to aid these corporate interests in their endeavor to evade just taxation." (Hapgood, p. 66-7.)

Most dreaded of all situations is direct control by the people, as evidenced by the attitude of the Federation toward the Initiative, the Referendum and the Recall. (Hapgood-Ibed, p. 134.) "Employees of the Department of Justice, now employed by the Federation, admit frankly that the Federation is an offshoot of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association and is closely associated with the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce," writes Lew Head. (Open Forum, 7-7-28.)

"The Better America Federation is using patriotism as a cloak for an ulterior purpose," states the Sacramento Star in an editorial. "It throws the liberty-loving folds of Old Glory over itself and blinds the unwary to the real, rotten heart that attempts to pulsate beneath it." It tried to "wreck the Los Angeles Y.W.C.A.," when the Y.W.C.A. endorsed the social creed of the churches, reports the daily. "Inspired by the success of the old German Government, the Better America Federation desired to use the schools to popularize its own peculiar conception of Americanism."

The Federation is a consistent and persistent advocate of military preparedness. Repeatedly in its literature, the peace movement is derided and maligned. For example, in a Bulletin dated May 31, 1928, is a story headed, "Methodists Follow Radicals in Attack on R.O.T.C." Herewith follows the introductory sentence: "The Methodist Conference at Kansas City in opposing all military training in high schools and compulsory training in colleges and universities followed the lead of the radical pacifists, Pinks and Reds who are making a determined drive against the R.O.T.C. as well as against all preparedness measures in the United States."

Regarding military training in high schools and colleges, Captain Hoffman frankly indicated to our committee, "I think it is utterly ridiculous to call military drill athletics; it is not for that purpose. I get just as disgusted with people who bring that up as with people on your side. Military drill is for the purpose of teaching men to protect their country in time of emergency." (Trsc. 15.)

The question of highest loyalties was being discussed at the conference, with particular reference to conscientious objectors as for example Dr. MacIntosh and the youths at U.C.L.A. Miss Kerr stated, "We don't believe in fractional patriotism." And Captain Hoffman volunteered, "I think it is the policy of the Better America Federation that we, in a word, have particular concern in what we term pacifist organizations, as a general term. In rendering our country defenseless by such a movement here, we are endangered by countries which may attack us." (Trsc., p. 16.) While an individual was allowed freedom of conscience under the Constitution, we were informed definitely that if one acted upon such freedom in refusing military service, "The consequences of his act will be upon his own head." (Trsc., p. 13.)

In reply to a question as to whether or not pacifism and socialism were as dangerous as Communism, President Martin replied, "The seeds of sedition and of danger—the seeds of it—are in all three. The development is much greater in the Communist party than any other manifestation." (Trsc., p. 21.) The logic of these statements compels the conclusion that the Federation considers pacifism a crime.

Concerning the condemnation and interference with the functional activity and pulpit utterances of the clergy, the following excerpt from an article in the Bulletin of May 24, 1929, gives enlightenment respecting the attitude of the Federation: "If McConnell (speaking of Bishop Francis J. McConnell) were just a plain, ordinary citizen, we would say that he is an unmitigated liar. Being an exalted prelate of the American hierarchy, we suppose we must temperately say only that he is guilty of a slight terminological inexactitude. Maybe the time will come when the thousands of splendid, straight-thinking churchmen will clean house and select as spokesmen men who are truly representative of their ideals." During our interview, Miss Kerr, in answer to a direct question, stated, "We would not wish to do anything to create turmoil within Methodism. We have taken the position that it was up to Methodism to clean house itself." (Trsc., p. 34.)

MR. AUDRAIN: Does the Federation concern itself with the utterances of ministers from their pulpits where subjects of interest to the Federation are concerned? MR. MARTIN: Yes. MR. AUDRAIN: Does the Federation make recommendations for so classifying such men, to their membership? MR. MARTIN: No. MR. AUDRAIN: Does the Federation recommend any position to be taken by its membership relative to the relationship of that membership to the ministers? MR. MARTIN: No. (P. 9.) MR. AUDRAIN: Does the Better America Federation admit that the Methodist Episcopal Church, through its ministers and laymen, has a right to advise its people on matters of public interest, where loyalty to Christ is involved? MR. MARTIN: Yes, where belief in a single, supreme divine Being is involved. MR. HOWE: Isn't that covered by the statement that we subscribe to the Constitution of the United States? It is a simple question of religious freedom. MR. AUDRAIN: Does the Better America Federation advocate restriction of such matters to be considered by the Methodist Episcopal Church? MR. MARTIN: Matters of conscience, no. MR. AUDRAIN: On matters of political, international and economic interest? MR. MARTIN: It is entirely without our province.

These questions and answers should be read with the foregoing article concerning Bishop McConnell, in mind, and in the light of other utterances and documents. Captain Hoffman gave an address on "A Soldier and His God" at the Highland Park Methodist Episcopal Church, December 15, 1931. We reproduce herewith a transcript of a part of his report of his address on that occasion as given to a committee of the Ministerial Union.

MISS KERR: "Dr. Hoffman, just what are your recommendations to the American Legion for the elimination of such ministers from their pulpits as refuse to perform what they consider to be their proper functions?"

DR. HOFFMAN: "I said, and I make this recommendation to American Legion posts: It is the duty of every American Legion man to affiliate himself with his church. If the minister is right, get behind him and help him in every possible way, and let him know why you are supporting him. If he has been misguided by those agencies whose chief effort is to misguide our ministers, endeavor to help him back to the realization of the truth and keep him there. If he refuses to come back to the gospel as laid down in the scriptures and to support American institutions, then kick him out and get in his place someone who will. I do this on an absolutely personal basis and not in behalf of the Federation. I also advised them to go to school with their children and ascertain what they are being taught and if the teacher is misguided or is wilfully destroying American ideals in the minds of the children, follow the same course of procedure." "Further, I told them that these men who are assumed to have dedicated their lives to Almighty God are as a matter of fact aiding and abetting in every move the work of the most powerful anti-Christ movement ever seen in the history of Christianity."

MISS KERR: "Did you state that you went to seven churches before you found one that was not tainted?"

DR. HOFFMAN: "I said that I went to a number of churches, the seventh one being a church in which I could worship." (This from the standpoint of Americanism.) "And I will be very glad to name all but one—that one minister has since come around."

III. ACTIVITIES. The following are some of the activities of the Federation:

Bulletin. The Federation issues a bi-weekly news letter containing information concerning matters of interest to the membership. Some of the titles of articles are: "The Red Menace," "The World Endangered," "The Enemy Mobilized," "America on Guard," "Radicalism is Not a Dead Issue," "School for Anarchy," "Communist Youth Activities in Los Angeles Schools," "Oxnam Plays True to Form," "Borah and Lenin."

Constitution Contest. One of their public programs has been the annual oratorical contest on the Constitution. One view of its purpose was stated by the Executive Student Council of Stanford University, which withdrew from the contest, as follows: "We feel that the purpose and conduct of the contest is not in accordance with our ideals of free thinking. The contest is arranged as propaganda for the unchanging permanence of the Constitution and not in the spirit of unbiased liberty. At a previous contest a Stanford student presented what he believed to be honest criticism of the Constitution and one of the judges left the platform during the speech. We do not care to participate under these conditions." (Nation, April 6, 1927.)

Legislative Bureau. Though the committee was informed by the secretary-manager that the Federation was "a non-political organization" (transcript, page 12) we find that the Federation has been active in legislative matters. The Bulletin of March 4, 1921, carried the following announcement: "In the past week there has been opened by our organization at 531 Ochsner Building, Sacramento, California, a legislative Bureau where proposed legislation coming before the present session will be thoroughly analyzed and recommendations made in connection therewith. This work will be done by Messers. Henry M. Willis and Harry Hill."

Your committee studied six bulletins issued by the above bureau within a few weeks of its organization. One of the former directors of the Federation, A. S. Lavenson, said, "The biggest thing that the Better America Federation has done is to get the criminal syndicalism act on the books and keep it there against the efforts of those who are trying to repeal it." (Hapgood-ibid, page 65.)

The Federation was asked if they had anything to do with the introduction of the bill respecting criminal syndicalism. Mr. Martin replied: "My information is that we had a great deal to do with it and would renew the activity today."

Concerning activities in the last legislative session, The California Classroom Teacher, issue of March 15, 1934, p. 16, states: "It is alleged that the Better America Federation had the criminal syndicalism act written into our tenure law" and that "The bill was rushed to Governor Rolph about 10 p.m. and signed by him before midnight."

On questioning about this accusation the officers of the Federation gave several answers. The secretary of the Federation finally said, "We are credited with the inspiration of it," while Mr. Howe said, "There are lots of things that we would like to get credit for." Mr. Martin stated, "I am very keen for any law that will get them on the carpet and hold them right there without a chance of budging until the case is tried on its merits." (Transcript, page 29.)

That their political activities are not confined to the legislature is shown by their Bulletin of November 1, 1932, wherein on page 5 the headline "READ THIS AND THE NEXT PAGE BEFORE YOU VOTE" appears. These two pages are given over to a discussion of John Beardsley and Arthur E. Briggs, who are candidates for judges of the Superior Court of Los Angeles County. Their liberal views and connections were therein outlined.

The Speakers Bureau. The Federation maintains a staff of speakers furnished by it to luncheon clubs, women's clubs, church organizations, patriotic organizations and schools. Sometimes the entire group did not know the sponsoring organization.

Intelligence Bureau. The Federation maintains an intelligence bureau which acquires and catalogues information concerning speeches given individuals and groups.

Information Service. The information gathered by the intelligence bureau is filed and used to send to individuals and groups who inquire about contemplated speakers. Captain Hoffman stated that, "One of the principal reasons for maintaining the bureau is that there are so many organizations that will not list a speaker until they have asked us whether or not a contemplated speaker is subversive. (Transcript, p. 24.) Miss Kerr stated that, if asked, they sent out information about given persons but not a list. To the direct question: "You don't take the initiative in sending out information?" both Mr. Martin and Miss Kerr said, "Yes, occasionally." (transcript 24.) The Federation had a chart prepared by LeRoy F. Smith, August, 1930, called the "Tie That Binds," which listed 126 persons and checks the organization with which they were connected. The names of the Methodist Federation for Social Service, Woman's International League for Peace and Freedom, The People's Lobby, League for Independent Political Action, League for Women Voters appeared on the chart. The chart stated that it shows the "interlockages which exist between various types of radical, pacifist, defeatist, Socialist and internationalist societies." The list includes 36 ministers, some of whom are Dr. W. R. Bowie, Sherwood Eddy, Stanley High, Bishop McConnell, Bromley Oxnam and E. F. Tittle. The major accusation was that they favored recognition of Russia.

Anti-Radical Activities. One of their major activities lies in informing their constituency as to dangerous magazines and newspapers. One of the pamphlets circulated, known as "Bootlegging Mind Poison," states: "There is another, the Christian Century, using the church for the sole purpose of destroying Christianity and civilization through the advent of Communism." Other magazines on the dangerous list are the World Tomorrow and the Survey. This pamphlet says that there are 534 such publications, "here to destroy."

The Federation was charged by one teacher (see Nation, July 27, 1921) with having reported him to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction as teaching unsound economics and for having so much difficulties with the "one hundred percenters of the community," that he was forced to seek his livelihood in other quarters." The committee has information relative to other cases of more recent date wherein the Federation has taken an active part in the seeking the dismissal of teachers.

Another instance of their vigorous anti-radical activity is described by Hapgood in the following words: "Most conspicuous of these efforts was the long campaign of the Better America Federation against the I.W.W. in California as a result of which about 164 members of that working class organization were sent to prison under the criminal syndicalism law solely for their membership in it." (Ibid, p. 40.)

Circulation of Books and Pamphlets. These are written by both members and non-members and are given out for public circulation. Hapgood comments on this phase of their work, "The Better America Federation in Los Angeles evidently works closely with national agencies distributing the Defense Society and Security League pamphlets and the attack on the Y.W.C.A. as radical, issued by the National Founders League." (Ibid, p. 96.)

The officers of the Federation stated to the committee that they circulated Pastors, Politicians and Pacifists by LeRoy F. Smith and E. B. Johns. Also T.N.T. by Edwin Marshall Hadley. The former deals almost wholly with the claimed subversive activities of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ of America and contains an activity personnel in the back thereof describing the asserted radical activities of Stanley High, Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Bishop Wm. F. McDowell, Dr. H. E. Lucock and Dean Shailer Mathews, who are listed by the committee as typical instances.

The Federation maintains a cooperative relationship with the police department of some California cities. Mr. Martin said: "We ask them for information and they ask us for information." (Transcript, p. 31.) The committee was advised of an instance wherein information was asked by correspondence, of the Federation and he was answered by the police department.

The secretary of the Federation when asked if the tactics of Captain Hynes and the Red Squad of the Los Angeles Police Force were extreme, replied: "The briefest answer is that the Communist party moved their headquarters to San Francisco after Captain Hynes conducted a campaign against them here."

The committee realizes that its work has not been exhaustive, but merely fragmentary and submits the report with the hope that the conference will find it of value as the basis for consideration of future policies and action.

REPORT OF SUB-COMMITTEE OF COMMITTEE ON SOCIAL PROBLEMS, INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS AND STATE OF THE CHURCH TO INVESTIGATE THE CIVIL LIBERTIES UNION

History and Nature. The present American Civil Liberties Union is a development, outgrowth, and reorganization of World War time organizations, namely, American League to Limit Armaments.

American Union Against Militarism.
The National Civil Liberties Bureau.

1. The American League to Limit Armament was organized in 1914 apparently to combat militarism by "influencing Congress to prevent enactment of laws enlarging the military establishment of the United States, and also for the purpose of disturbing the harmony between the United States and Great Britain."

2. American Union Against Militarism: In the early part of 1915, the members of the executive committee of the American League to Limit Armament felt that the League's scope was not wide enough and an Anti-Preparedness Committee was formed, which later became the American Union Against Militarism. The passage of the Selective Draft Act caused the Union (A.U.A.M.) to increase its activity, and it immediately undertook to assist all persons desiring to avoid the draft, and to protect all persons from so-called "infringement of civil liberties." The Union opened branch offices under the name of Civil Liberties Bureau, in Washington, D. C., and in New York City. With the passage of the Espionage Act the American Union Against Militarism withdrew from the field of propaganda, leaving the carrying on of its objectives to its two chief branches at Washington and New York known as The Civil Liberties Bureau.

3. The National Civil Liberties Bureau: From a letterhead of the Bureau (N.C.L.B.) the avowed purpose was "the maintenance in war times of the rights of free speech, free press, peaceful assembly, liberty of conscience and freedom from unlawful search and seizure." It naturally became known as a clearing house for conscientious objectors.

Though the ostensible object of the Bureau (N.C.L.B.) was to protect free speech and civil rights and liberties during war time, an examination of its files shows that it purposed—

1. To assist any radical movement calculated to obstruct the prosecution of the war; evidenced by the Bureau's activities in collecting funds for the I.W.W. and "Masses" defense.
2. To discourage in every possible way naturally timid selectives and discontents from doing military duty, and pointing out to mothers and friends the means employed by others to escape military service.
3. To furnish attorneys for conscientious objectors and persons prosecuted for violation of the Espionage Act.
4. "Boring from within" in churches, women's clubs, the American Federation of Labor, etc., in order to spread radical and pacifist propaganda.
5. And working toward "an after war program" dealing with the new aspects of civil liberties.

The National Civil Liberties Bureau continued its activities and followed its avowed purpose until its reorganization into the American Civil Liberties Union, January 12, 1920.

4. The American Civil Liberties Union is not ashamed of its origin and the general public is welcome to know its policy. The National Civil Liberties Bureau was reorganized into the American Civil Liberties Union "in order to deal with the new aspects of civil liberties since the Armistice," particularly, to deal with the many state laws and local ordinances restricting free speech and free assembly; and especially to dramatize civil liberties in the Industrial Conflict.

Nature of the A.C.L.U. Its nature may best be judged, and of right, by the pronouncements of its leaders and members, by the content of its literature, and by the fruitage of its words and deeds.

Attached to this report are certain documents, pamphlets, statements and other evidence which reveals the nature of this organization—

What it is.

What its principles are.

What it does.

Where it gets its money.

Who controls its policies.

1. What is the American Civil Liberties Union? "The American Civil Liberties Union is an incorporated association which fights for free speech, free press, free assemblage wherever these rights are violated in the fields of government, industry, education and race relations."

This statement is taken from the booklet (page 3) issued by the national headquarters of the Union at 100 Fifth Avenue, New York City, December, 1931, and distributed by the Southern California Branch at 1022 California Building, Los Angeles.

2. What are its principles? "The Civil Liberties Union stands on the general principles that all thought on matters of public concern should be freely expressed without interference. Orderly social progress is promoted by unrestricted freedom of opinion. The punishment of mere opinion, without overt acts, is never in the interest of orderly progress. Suppression of opinion makes for violence and bloodshed. This is the historic American position on free speech stated once for all by Thomas Jefferson: 'It is time enough for the rightful purposes of civil government for its officers to interfere when principles break out into overt acts against peace and good order.'" (Same booklet, p. 34.)

This general principle on "free speech" is further expanded in a four-page pamphlet, "Civil Liberty," issued by national headquarters, dated Dec., 1933.

In this statement defining the position of the Union (A.C.L.U.) on the issue of free speech, quote:

"There should be no control whatever in advance over what any person may say."

"There should be no prosecutions for utterances on matters of public concern, however radical, however violent. Prosecutions should be brought only for acts or attempted acts and language specifically inciting to the commission of such acts."

"There should be no censorship over the mails by the postoffice. Privacy of communication should be inviolate. Political matters should never be subject to a political censorship. The granting or revoking of second-class mailing privileges should have nothing whatever to do with a paper's opinions and policies.

"If libelous, fraudulent, or illegal other matter is being circulated, it should be seized by proper warrant through the prosecuting authorities and tried before a jury. The business of the Postoffice Department is to carry the mails, not to act as censor.

"There should be no control over the distribution of literature at meetings or hand to hand in public or in private places. No system of licenses for distribution should be tolerated."

The above declarations of policy on free speech and free press and free radio the Union holds as necessary to orderly social progress.

The Union affirms that it is its policy to defend and protect with its legal aid and financial resources and with other means at hand—with publicity, organized protests, demonstrations—any person, citizen or alien, in the free expression of their opinions, thoughts and beliefs; however radical or violent said expressed opinions, thoughts and beliefs may be.

It further affirms that it is the policy of the Union "to proceed against public officers violating these rights" which the Union claims for any person. The Union believes it is justified, holding to the principle that, the Union's "Services are essential for whatever degree of tolerance we can achieve, and will be until a political and economic opposition arises strong enough to defend its own rights." Page 5, Annual Report, 1929-1930.

The Union therefore assumes the stand of "friend to organized government by opposition."

In addition to its major issue—Free Speech and Free Press—the Union stands for:

Freedom of Assemblage: Meetings in public and private places, parades, and processions should be freely permitted.

The Right to Strike: This right in labor and industrial disputes should never be infringed by law.

Law Enforcement: While policing of strikes is a public function, any injunction of police or military forces which infringe civil rights of citizens or aliens is to be opposed.

Search and Seizure: In cases involving radical or working-class activities, arrests without warrant, entering upon private property, seizure of papers and literature without legal process, the Union holds that such practices should be contested, and therefore institutes court action and other pressures "against public officers violating these rights."

The Right to a Fair Trial: Every person charged with an offense should have the fullest opportunity for a fair trial, and for obtaining counsel and bail in a reasonable sum.

Immigration, Deportation, and Passports: No person should be refused admission to the United States on the ground of holding objectionable opinions. To present restrictions against radicals of various beliefs is wholly opposed to our tradition of political asylum.

No alien should be deported merely for the expression of an opinion nor for membership in a radical organization.

Citizenship papers should not be refused to any alien because of the expression of radical or pacifist views, or activities in the cause of labor.

Liberty in Education: The Union holds that it must combat attempts to maintain a uniform orthodox opinion among teachers and to place legal restrictions on teaching. So, too, the Union combats efforts to establish religion in public schools. . . . Compulsory patriotic exercises conflicting with religious or conscientious scruples should be opposed, as should compulsory aspects of military training in schools.

Race Equality: Every attempt to discriminate between races in the application of all principles of civil liberty here set forth should be opposed, the Union holds as should all legal discrimination based on race.

Censorship: The many censorships by administrative officials, over movies, the theater, the radio, and publications, should be abolished, and control left wholly to the determination of juries in civil or criminal proceedings.

Thus it will be seen that the American Civil Liberties Union is interested in many fields of human endeavor, in government, industry, education, religion and race relationships.

The variety of issues tackled by the Union is well illustrated in eight campaigns indicated below, as the main work of the Union for the year 1932-33:

"The variety of issues tackled by the Union is well illustrated in this program. In itself it is sufficient answer to those who charge us with merely being 'defenders of radicals.' The reports under each specific head indicate the work done.

1. Country-wide campaign in the larger cities to set aside special places in parks or on the streets where public meetings may be held without permit. This is the only way to avoid constant interference with meetings.

2. National campaign against the Department of Labor's illegal raids on aliens, on deportations for opinion and on anti-alien legislation—notably the Dies bill for the deportation of Communists as such; protection of alien political refugees in the United States; admission of alien pacifists to citizenship.

3. National campaign against the Post Office censorship, censorship of the radio, and the tapping of telephone wires to obtain evidence.

4. Campaign for state anti-injunction laws modeled on the federal law, in the 38 state legislature meeting in 1933.

5. Release of political prisoners—Mooney and Billings in California, the Centralia men in Washington, and the sedition prisoners in Pennsylvania.

6. Campaign against the unprecedented array of laws and regulations restricting freedom in education, both in schools and colleges.

7. National campaign against third degree, directed to specific remedies in law.

8. Civil rights for American Indians through passage of bills pending in Congress.

Organization and Personnel of the Union. The American Civil Liberties Union has stated in its published literature that it has over 3000 members and contributors, with nearly 5000 people active in one way or another in its work. This number includes 500 cooperating attorneys, 800 correspondents and investigators and 500 speakers, ministers and writers who serve on a voluntary basis. It is directed by a Board of Trustees who act in consultation with a national committee numbering about 70 and scattered throughout the country. The Board, a smaller body, is composed of members who live in or near New York City, holding weekly meetings. Its national headquarters are at 100 Fifth Avenue, New York City, where its activities are managed by two Directors, a Research Secretary and a Publicity Director. The Union also maintains a representative in Washington. The Reverend Harry F. Ward serves a Chairman of the Board of Trustees, though the active direction of the affairs of the Union are under the management of Roger N. Baldwin. The only salaried officers of the Union are the Director and Secretary, the former of whom receives $2400 and the latter $900 for part time work. The Washington representative, Mr. Edmund D. Campbell, an attorney, is paid at an hourly rate for whatever work he does. Mr. Arthur Garfield Hayes and Morris L. Ernst, general counsel for the Union, volunteer their services.

In response to a question as to the racial, political and religious affiliations of the membership, Mr. Harry F. Ward in a signed statement says that there are no marked racial trends in the membership and that while citizenship is not a prerequisite to membership in the Union it is his belief that there are "very few aliens in the membership since it is not the habit of aliens to join this kind of an organization. . . . The list reads like that of almost any middle-class organization and is distributed over the entire country."

A study of the personnel of the National Committee reveals the names of the following prominent individuals: Hon. Chas. F. Amidon, for thirty years United States District Judge in North Dakota; Hon. Geo. W. Anderson, recently retired judge of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, next to the United States Supreme Court, the highest court in America; Prof. Felix Frankfurter, of Harvard Law School; Prof. Edwin M. Borchard of Yale Law School; Fremont Older, publisher of the San Francisco Call; Norman Hapgood, former American Minister to Denmark; John Haynes Holmes, minister of the Community Church in New York; Henry R. Linville, president of the American Federation of Teachers; Rev. John A. Ryan, head of the Social Action Department of the National Catholic Welfare Conference; Oswald Garrison Villard, publisher of The Nation, and Norman Thomas, Socialist, candidate for President in 1928 and 1932. At least 42 members of the Committee are American born and 52 known positively to be American citizens. Forty-eight are found in "Who's Who in America" and come from a wide range of vocational and professional circles. The teaching profession has 15 representatives, lawyers 14, clergymen 7, writers 7, one artist, one banker, one consulting engineer; 5 editors and journalists, 3 lecturers, one publisher, two retired federal judges, one railway consultant, 2 social workers, 4 trade union executives, one factory worker and 6 of no specified profession or occupation.

An equally wide range of religious interests is represented in this National Committee, the list containing the names of well-known Protestants, Catholics and Jews, and others without any known religious affiliations, although in the opinion of Dr. Ward the membership is chiefly Protestant Christian where religious affiliations exist. Politically, 44 members have not declared their allegiance to any party, 11 are members of the Socialist Party, 9 claim allegiance to the Farmer-Labor Progressives' group, 6 to the Democratic Party, 2 to the Republican Party, one to the Communist Party and one to the Single Tax Party.

From this survey it would appear that the organization represents a fair cross-section of American society.

The Southern California Branch, with headquarters at 1022 California Bldg., Los Angeles, California, is organized on the general plan of the National organization. For ten years it has been under the direction of Reverend Clinton J. Taft, a Congregational minister. The chairman of its Executive Committee is Mr. John Beardsley, a Los Angeles attorney, who also serves the Union as counsel. The statements with reference to the personnel of the national organization would seem to apply to that of the local body. If anything, the influence and activity of Protestant Christians is more prominent in the local branch than in the parent organization. The frequently heard charge that it represents a disguised Communistic organization is not sustained by the facts, although the charge is made plausible to the casual reader because cases contesting the alleged violation of the Constitutional rights of Communists and other radicals have attracted the attention and action of the local branch more frequently than any other type of cases in Southern California.

Activities of the Union. The legal activities of the Union consist principally in providing legal talent for the defense of those who claim their constitutional rights relating to free speech, a free press and the freedom of assemblage have been violated. However, it is the policy of the Union, in addition, to provide legal aid in cases involving failure to receive a fair trial, the right to strike, the right of citizenship for alien pacifists, unlawful search and seizure, the right to refuse to bear arms or to enlist for military training, racial discriminations and violation of criminal syndicalism acts.

The majority of those involved in these cases are members of radical, left wing labor, and communistic groups. It is, no doubt, for this reason that the Fish committee of the Congress of the United States in its investigation of communistic activities in this country said in its report:

"The American Civil Liberties Union is closely affiliated with the communistic movement in the United States and fully ninety per cent of its efforts are on behalf of communists who have come into conflict with the law."

In Southern California particularly, the legal activities of the Union relate principally to upholding the right of free speech and free assemblage in behalf of radical and communistic groups. In Los Angeles, attorneys for the Union have obtained restraining orders and temporary injunctions in both federal and state courts restraining the police from breaking up meetings of such organizations as the Friends of the Soviet Union and the Communist Party. The Union has supplied legal talent and taken a very active part in behalf of the pea, lettuce and cantaloupe pickers in the Imperial Valley, and in maintaining the right of these workers to assemble in public gatherings and to organize.

The Union indulges in these activities for the reason that it stands on the general principles that all thought on matters of public concern should be freely expressed without interference. In a pamphlet issued by the National organization dated December, 1933, under the heading of "Free Speech," the Union holds:

"There should be no control whatever in advance over what any person may say. The right to meet on private property and to speak freely should be unquestioned. There should be no prosecution for utterance on matters of public concern, however radical, however violent. Prosecution should be brought only for acts or attempted acts and language specifically inciting to the commission of such acts."

In the same pamphlet under the heading of "Freedom of Assemblage," the Union holds:

"Meetings in public places, parades, and processions should be freely permitted, the only reasonable regulation being the advance notification to the police of time and place. No discretion should be given the police to prohibit parades or processions, but merely to alter routes in accordance with the imperative demands of traffic in crowded cities. There should be no laws or regulations prohibiting the display of red flags or other political emblems."

The officers of the Union are very outspoken in upholding the above principles. According to the official government report of a hearing before the Fish committee, Roger N. Baldwin, a director of the National organization, and stated to be its guiding spirit, testified as follows:

"The Chairman: Does your organization uphold the right of a citizen or alien—it does not make any difference which—to advocate murder?"

"Mr. Baldwin: Yes.

"The Chairman: Or assassination?"

"Mr. Baldwin: Yes.

"The Chairman: Does your organization uphold the right of an American citizen to advocate force and violence for the overthrow of the Government?"

"Mr. Baldwin: Certainly; in so far as mere advocacy is concerned.

"The Chairman: Does it uphold the right of an alien in this country to urge the overthrow and advocate the overthrow of the Government by force and violence?"

"Mr. Baldwin: Precisely on the same basis as any citizen.

"The Chairman: You do uphold the right of an alien to advocate the overthrow of the Government by force and violence?"

"Mr. Baldwin: Sure; certainly. It is the healthiest kind of thing for a country, of course, to have free speech—unlimited."

That the civil rights of citizens who have radical beliefs are frequently violated, there seems to be no question. Reverend Clinton J. Taft, director of the Southern California branch of the Union, submitted a tabulation showing that from January 1, 1932, to November 26, 1932, 148 persons had been arrested and booked at the Los Angeles police station on a charge of suspicion of criminal syndicalism and that not one of these cases was actually brought to trial or tried. During the same period, 272 persons involved in radical meetings or activities were arrested under such charges as disturbing the peace, unlawful assembly, vagrancy, etc., and that these cases were disposed of as follows: 20 dismissed in court without trial; 51 cases put off calendar, but not tried; 6 mistrials; 19 verdicts of not guilty; 31 convictions from which no appeals were taken; 20 convictions—appeals pending. It is apparent from the above that these charges were preferred against these persons in most cases only for the purpose of harassing them.

That the civil rights of these citizens have been violated without cause is further evidenced by the fact that judges in both the Superior Court of Los Angeles County and the Municipal Court of Los Angeles City have rendered judgments for damages against police officers for unlawfully interfering with and breaking up public meetings of these radical groups. The attorneys for the Union have been active in prosecuting these cases for the injured parties.

In a limited report such as this, it is impossible to set forth the variety of issues tackled by the Union. Certainly not all of its efforts have been in behalf of radicals, for much of its legal activity has been put forth in campaigns for state anti-injunction laws modeled on the federal laws, campaigns against the third degree, and campaigns against laws and regulations restricting freedom of education in schools and colleges, and other similar issues.

We do not believe the Union to be a communistic organization. We also feel that the Union is sincere in its belief that it is performing a distinct public service in upholding the rights and privileges set forth in the bill of rights of our constitution. On the other hand, whether or not the extreme position taken by the Union in maintaining these rights is a sound one, is open to debate.

OREN B. WAITE.

GROUP INSURANCE

At this writing 209 members are included in the Group Insurance Plan of our Conference. This is but 8 more than necessary to keep the policy in force. During the year one member has died, $1000 being promptly paid his beneficiary, making 6 such death claims since the inauguration of the Plan.

To economize on space we recommend that the substance of the report for the year 1931 found on page 36 of the Journal for that year be adopted, subject to the necessary modification of figures for the current year. Note that the present premium rate can be further reduced in two ways. First, by the entrance of more of the younger men into the Plan, thus reducing the average age of the entire group. Second, by more prompt remittance of premiums in full when due, thus freeing the dividend completely for use in reducing the premium.

Believing thoroughly in the present Plan which protects many otherwise unable to gain such protection, believing the plan should be more fully incorporated into the Conference policy and program, we strongly recommend that by the adoption of this report there shall be added to the Conference Rules of Order "Rule No. 26" as follows:

26. All applicants for admission into this Conference into full membership, including those by transfer or from other denominations shall be required to join the Group Insurance as a condition of such entrance; provided, that this rule shall apply only to such as are under appointment by the Bishop to a pastoral charge or to a special appointment.

On the matter of "Mutual or Cooperative Insurance for all members of the Conference and for lay members of the Church" as referred to this committee in the resolution adopted last year and recorded on page 38 of the Journal, your committee has no recommendation and, should it be desired by you, asks for an extension of time.

COMMITTEE ON COMMITTEES

In keeping with the request expressed by Bishop Baker at the last session of our Annual Conference, p. 22 of the minutes, your Committee on Committees has prepared a complete list of the members of the Annual Conference, in the active pastorate or special appointments, with their committee membership. As a result of this study we desire to present the following summary: We account for 242 men in full membership and serving in the pastorate, or District Superintendency; 6 Probationers in pastoral appointments, and 23 men in special appointments. 109 of those who serve in the pastorate, or District Superintendency have membership on Boards, Commissions, or Committees. 132 hold no such membership, 12 men in special appointments serve on committees, etc., and 6 of the men who hold the Retired Relation. The total membership of the Annual Conference is 447. 127 men serve on Boards, Committees, or Commissions.

The Board and Committee membership is divided as follows: One man serves on 13, one man on 12, and one on 10. Nine hold membership on 9; two on 8, three on 7, five on 6, five on 5, six on 4, seventeen on 3, twenty-nine on 2 and fifty-four serve on 1.

It is very difficult to overcome this situation when the Committee on Committees with the District Superintendents must do the work assigned in a few hours after the adjournment of the Conference session. It must also be borne in mind that many of these Boards and Committees are elected directly by the Annual Conference. The Committee on Committees should be selected early in the Conference session and thus be given an opportunity to keep in touch with the Secretary and be fully informed on new committees ordered appointed, and the personnel of the committees elected by the Conference.

It is difficult for many of these Board and Committees to secure the attendance of members living at a distance from Los Angeles. In order to overcome this we recommend that a calendar be arranged in Methodist Headquarters, on which should be placed the meeting dates of the more important groups. Committee chairmen, guided by this could then arrange for the meeting of several committees on the same date. The expense involved in traveling some distance to attend committee or board meetings is an item that enters in, and we recommend to the Commission on Finance to increase the fund for Travel and Entertainment sufficiently to allow nominal traveling expenses for those who must come 100 miles or more to attend such meetings, this to be applicable for only one meeting per year.

WORSHIP AND MUSIC

For many years worship as a principal element in our church services has been so neglected by the evangelical church that to many Christians the word itself has conveyed a kind of theoretical meaning rather than an idea of a definite experience. Therefore your committee recommends that our churches begin to teach earnestly the theory of worship and the practice thereof. Our Church Schools should teach not only Biblical history, biography and literature, but also the value and practice of worship. Worship Committees may well be appointed for our Church Schools, with young people serving thereon. Soon the worship in such a school would be very different from many of the present "opening exercises," and would assist in making the church services more attractive to our youth.

Churches which adopt the Unified Worship Service, combining the Morning Service and the Church School, should be especially watchful that the worship values be not lost in what could easily become an over-emphasis on time-saving.

In a recent Advocate article on "Creative Worship," Philip S. Watters thus describes its fundamental principles:

"Reality: God should be really present in consciousness, and all statements or assumptions should be in harmony with that faith.

"Progression: The service should move with definite direction, carrying the worshippers from an attitude of repentance to a sense of forgiveness and to a new and enlightened consecration. Sincerity: Only such expressions should be asked of the people, whether in hymn, or reading, or prayer, as will truly express the feeling and attitude of those participating. Unity: All matters not contributing to the main purpose of the service should be eliminated. Coherence: Each portion of the service should be made to grow into that which follows in the progression. Climax: The people should be led to a climax of experience in renewed dedication. The necessity for reverence in all worship could, it would seem be taken for granted, yet reverence is often destroyed. The importance of vitality in the service is also plain, yet often little or no thought is given to keeping the service alive for the people in the pews."

"Those who go to church to hear a sermon are oftentimes disappointed: those who go to worship God are never disappointed." The worship period should prepare the people for the sermon, and should inspire them to go forth and translate the sermon into action. And we who preach should take care that the sermon continues the spiritual vision of the worship period into illumination as to God's will for us, and his empowerment of us for its accomplishing. "God is Light," exclaims John; and it is our high calling to be so filled with the light of His Spirit that the sermon shall become a truly illuminative portion of the worship.

The public worship of the Roman Catholic Church has been principally the objective worship of the Mass, wherein the thought of the worshipper is directed away from himself towards God. In these latter years the worship of the evangelical denominations has been very largely subjective, as is evidenced by the number of hymns in common use which describe the feelings and states of mind of the worshippers. Outside of our services our own feelings already claim too much of our attention. We need to foster a type of worship which will indeed fix the attention of the worshipper upon God, yet which will so establish and deepen a right relation with him as to awaken in us the feelings that will produce the truest and richest inward attitudes and outward acts.

We still await with high hope the publication of the new Methodist Hymnal which was announced for 1934. When it shall come into use in our churches, we advise the use of more of the objective hymns than of the subjective. The latter type almost entirely fills the lighter collections of music ordinarily used in Church Schools and Prayer Meetings.

The universal appreciation of beauty in its many forms, now being increasingly recognized and ministered to in America, should be eagerly utilized for the service of God, since it is already being exploited for the service of gain. Beauty is not an end in itself; but it can render powerful assistance in the temple of God. All the forms of beauty in the world come from God and operate by his laws; and he has so created the human soul that it echoes response to the messages which God speaks to us through the beautiful.

In our worship services the Scriptures should retain a large and hallowed place. The most appropriate and exquisitely fitting language of devotion, especially for confession of sin, or for adoration, is the language of the Scriptures. Next to it in fitness and power is the language of the "Book of Common Prayer." Whoever would compile, construct, or revise a worship service or a ritual, should beware lest in his search for spiritual reality, or for modernity, he descend from those lofty heights to the level of the commonplace wherein is found neither true impression nor true expression.

The methods of worship are many, and each of us finds that certain of them help him more than others. Yet through whichever ones we employ, if we will seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, direct access to God, and reality in our experience of him, the highest and holiest values of that wonderful relation we call "Worship" shall be added unto us. We recommend that our sanctuaries be kept open during the day and that at their portals be placed invitations to the passers-by to enter for worship and rest.

LYMAN R. BAYARD.

PERIODICALS

No small part of the success of early Methodism was due to the fact that John Wesley went everywhere through the realm, scattering religious literature. Millions of pages of tracts, written in the language of the plain man of the street, were distributed among the common people. One enthusiastic historian declared that "John Wesley brought on the Wesleyan Revival because he sowed England knee deep with tracts and religious pamphlets."

Study of the religious mind of the plain people has convinced us that there is a serious need for a revival of this type of evangelism. The fastest growing cults and sects are employing printed matter with great effectiveness. Meanwhile, the Church, through neglect, is allowing the people to be fed on spiritual perversions and sterile philosophies.

The fault lies not in the fact that we are not printing books and periodicals, but that they are, for the most part, guilty of two faults—(1) They are too expensive for general circulation. The average layman cannot be persuaded to buy books in large numbers on any subject at prices ranging about the two dollar mark. Our Methodist Book Concern has established an enviable record for the manufacture of beautiful books, and we congratulate them. But we feel the need of good books cheaply printed and available for wide distribution among our people. (2) A very large part of our printed material is prepared with the scholar, or at least the trained mind, in view. This committee feels a very serious need for books and pamphlets on the great spiritual problems of ordinary people, written in a style that will appeal to the unschooled.

In all our list of publications there is scarcely a page of printed material that could be put into the hand of a new convert, explaining the process of growth and development in the spiritual life. Even such fundamental matters as "How to pray," "How to read your Scriptures," and "How to make your religion work" are almost entirely ignored, so far as material for plain people is concerned. If an honest seeker came to the average Methodist pastor, asking for some little handbook that would teach him the way to find God, that preacher would be almost helpless in supplying the material requested.

There is a technique to be followed in the development of the devotional life which, if clearly set forth and explained, would be of enormous aid to scores of thousands of our people who have never been able to tap the sources of power that ought to be available to them in their religion.

The Methodist Church should attempt to supply such material, a series of inexpensive handbooks (not exceeding ten cents) which pastors might circulate in large numbers among their people on such subjects as "How To Meet Temptation," "Daily Devotions," "How to Master Moods," etc. This material should be written in plain language, clearly in harmony with the best accepted psychology, and with a convincing spiritual enthusiasm.

Likewise, there should be included, a monthly publication for daily use as a devotional manual, to be circulated on a subscription basis.

We express to Dr. Edward Laird Mills our continued confidence in his editorial management of the Pacific Christian Advocate. His trenchant editorials and fine social judgment are a matter of great pride and satisfaction to us. But we respectfully suggest to the editors of the church papers the importance of including among their columns more of the personal and devotional type of discussions. We find the pages filled with stories of missionary enterprises, and in them we have a deep interest. But that which will sustain the missionary interest is a personal religious conviction.

We likewise express our appreciation of the general tone and subject matter of the Epworth Herald, our young people's paper, under the able editorship of Dr. W. E. J. Gratz. We agree with the general attitude of the editor on war and most social problems but in view of the article on sabotage which appeared in the Herald during the editor's absence, and which very rightly provoked a storm of criticism, we believe that great care should be exercised in allowing individuals to express their opinions through the columns of the paper which may be interpreted as the attitude of the Methodist church.

One year ago we urged each pastor to appoint a secretary of good literature whose duty it would be to assist in the circulation of religious reading matter in the local congregation. We renew this suggestion and urge its active inauguration.

In a day of confusion and bewilderment, when the economic issues are so mixed with selfish exploitation and political prejudice, our people need the church paper to assist them in reaching their religious conclusions about current issues. It is almost impossible to build a spiritually effective church out of a membership that gets all its religious convictions from the headline of the daily newspapers. Therefore, we call upon our pastors to redouble their energies in securing subscriptions to the Advocates. Many a pastor would not, today, find himself in conflict with his laymen on social issues if those same laymen had been reading their church papers for the last fifteen years, or even the last year. For the sake of social effectiveness, as well as evangelistic zeal, we urge most strongly that our pastors shall bend every effort to the task of getting a church paper into every home possible.

We desire likewise to express to the editorial board of "Religion and Life" for what we believe to be the outstanding journal of religion and scholarship our deep and sincere appreciation.

With appreciation of the scholarly and sympathetic work of Dr. John Langdale, our book editor, and with appreciation, likewise, to our editors of Sunday School material which is, we believe, the best obtainable in this field, we respectfully submit this report.

WARREN C. McINTIRE CONFERENCE EVANGELIST

During this Conference year I have held nineteen meetings, as follows:

Five Campmeetings—Delanco and Aura, New Jersey; Belsano and Bentleyville, Pennsylvania; and Douglas, Massachusetts.

One winter convention for the Southern New England Holiness Association, in Providence, Rhode Island.

Two Prayer Conferences—one in a Nazarene church in Providence, Rhode Island; and one in a Christian and Missionary Alliance church in Jamestown, Pennsylvania, with Methodist and Evangelical people co-operating.

Eleven Revivals—one for a Christian and Missionary Alliance church in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; three for Nazarene churches in Danielson, Connecticut; Livermore Falls, Maine; and Worcester, Massachusetts; seven in Methodist Episcopal churches: Mooers, New York; Uxbridge and Bradford, Massachusetts; Newport, Cedarville, and Delanco, New Jersey; and Catlettsburg, Kentucky.

I also delivered the evangelistic addresses for the Kentucky Mountain Missionary Society at their annual conference, held at Mt. Carmel, Kentucky.

I thank God for the victories of this year. The Lord has been mighty tucky.

to save and strong to deliver. To see the Spirit of God work among the people in revival after a revival to bring victory, can not but be a great inspiration to one's faith. It has been my privilege to see a thousand and fifty-four precious souls arise from an altar of penitence and give testimony of having received the forgiveness of their sins or the cleansing of their hearts. For this I gratefully give God all the honor, glory, and praise; and rejoice to have seen such displays of His power and grace as I have witnessed. Reports from pastors tell of the abiding influence of their revivals indicated by increased attendance upon all the services of the church, deepened spirituality, the establishment of the converts in godliness, higher levels of conduct, and more zeal for the salvation of the lost.

The experiences of this year have given me a greater appreciation of the pastors who are keeping true to God, endeavoring to preach Christ in all His fullness, and help their people resist the fearful tides of sin and walk humbly with God. To these men I pay high tribute and thank God for their friendship.

I want to thank God for all His Goodness and mercy that has accompanied me through blistering heat and bitter cold, and on every journey. But best of all has been His grace in my heart. I love Him sincerely and have a consuming desire to be all He can make of me, do all He can enable me to do to win precious souls to Christ, and build up the church He purchased with His death and resurrection. I am wonderfully happy in my work and sincerely thank God for my call to this ministry of evangelism.

I have received for my work $2,492.48.

CALIFORNIA STATE CHURCH FEDERATION

A "new epoch in American Religious History" began a quarter of a century ago with the organization of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. Today there are 22 millions Protestant church members in the 25 national denominations participating with the Federal Council.

The California State Church Federation, the child and servant of the denomination, seeks to be a channel for united strength and action and service for Christ and His church. An illustration or two will suffice:

Yonder in the Yosemite National Park a teeming multitude of people pour in and out of the valley. Through a united effort, a well-rounded recreational and worship program is provided each week suitable for the religious life of Catholic, Jew and Protestant alike. During the last season 31,990 individuals were in attendance upon the worship programs.

In the San Quentin prison where there are near 6,000 inmates, during the past year there has been organized a strong Federated Protestant church. Nine denominations are coordinating their effort and contribution through one central well-organized plan. A cooperating committee representing the above denominations establish policies and programs. Within the prison itself there is a well organized church with a membership of 600 many of whom are very devout Christians. Some thrilling stories of transformed lives, blossoming into beautiful Christian character, have come from within the prison walls within the past few months.

The three Denominational Superintendents' Councils—Los Angeles, Fresno and San Francisco—have held upward of twenty meetings during the year.

The industrial and economic troubles of the state have called for considerable attention on the part of the Federation's special committee on Social and Industrial Relations. A carefully prepared 15-page document only two weeks ago was mailed to 2400 clergy and Rabbis within the state. A series of inter-faith conferences on The Social and Economic Situation of the State are now being planned for early fall.

California Church Council. One central Protestant interdenominational organization, to be known as the "California Church Council," is contemplated as the result of present merger plans which will unite for common action the following organizations: California State Church Federation, Northern Council of Religious Education, Southern Council of Religious Education, the Superintendent's Councils of Los Angeles and San Francisco, and the Home Mission Council of San Joaquin Valley. Other groups within the state may join the merger.

An all-state meeting in Los Angeles May 14th unanimously approved a constitution which has been referred to all Evangelical church bodies in the state for final approval. The Council will be formally launched about November first.

The purpose of the Council will be to provide a general inter-denominational agency for co-ordination and co-operation in extending the Christian way of life. It will maintain fraternal relations with the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, the International Council of Religious Education, the Home Missions Council for North America, and other national organizations which may become affiliated with this council, and it shall act as the accredited auxiliary of these national organizations.

It will be a state-wide Council but will be composed of two areas to facilitate administration. The denominations will constitute the constituency units. Local Religious Education and Church Councils will share a vital relation to the state organization. It is proposed that there be two secretaries, one living in the north and the other in the south. There will be two major commissions dealing with business and program. The latter will function through the Departments of Work, which will be: Christian Education, Evangelism, Missionary Education, Social Relations, Home Missions, and Comity. These in turn will function through the recognized age group levels and other channels corresponding to the needs of the cause.

This merger contemplates the greatest unified step ever taken in the history of California, and is another evidence of the fact that "the bonds of our common cause are stronger than the issues that separate us." The Council should and can be the social and spiritual spearhead of a united and cooperating church for building the Kingdom of God in our great state.

CONFERENCE MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Last year the name of this fund was changed from the Missionary and Evangelistic Society to the Conference Missionary Society in order that its purpose might be more easily understood. It is one of the most important organizations in our Conference and should receive most hearty support. It is used to supplement salaries of underpaid pastors and many a situation has been saved because of its timely help. It should be on the hearts of our people for the need is great and it has become a real missionary project.

Memoirs

In Memoriam

CHESTER R. MONTAGUE

Our brother, Chester R. Montague, died in the harness, March 24, 1934, at the parsonage at Tucson. This was the Saturday before Palm Sunday, when he was announced to preach and receive new members into the church. The preceding Tuesday evening he had preached vigorously at a C. W. A. Camp near Tucson. He was stricken early Wednesday morning, Thursday morning when I stopped to bid him good-bye, he had his secretary in his room to receive his final instructions for the advertising and the Sunday services. A little later he got out of bed and throwing his arms around me said—"Jim, I'll see you at Conference." Palm Sunday morning that he had looked forward to with such eager anticipation, Dr. Walker, Head of the Department of Educational Psychology at the University of Arizona, pronounced his eulogy from the pulpit. The next day the churches of Tucson joined in a service of farewell, and the final services were held in Fullerton on Tuesday.

A word of appreciation, written by his son William, was read by the pastor of the Fullerton Church, E. D. Hoffman.

Participating in this service, among others, were Dr. J. E. Farmer, who had been his first Presiding Elder, and who had officiated at the wedding of Brother and Sister Montague in 1897, and E. E. Helms, former pastor of First Church, Los Angeles, who had known him since his boyhood days, gave the principal address. R. N. Merrill, John Oliver, Bruce Baxter and Junius Meade, associate pastor of Tucson, also had part in the final services.

Brother Montague was born October 3rd, 1875, in Buffalo, New York. He was converted at the age of fourteen and united with the Grace Church in Buffalo. His determination to study for the ministry led him to Chicago where he studied for a time in Northwestern University, and was graduated from Garrett Biblical Institute in 1903. In 1931 Brother Montague received the D. D. degree from the University of Southern California.

He united with the Wisconsin Conference in 1897, and was united in marriage the same year, to Miss Winnie T. Aga, of Green Bay, Wisconsin. To this happy union were born four children: Electa (deceased); Richard, now living in Whittier; William, a resident of Fullerton; and Charlotte (Mrs. Geo. W. Peterson), of Tulare.

After sixteen years in the Wisconsin Conference he transferred to Southern California on account of Mrs. Montague's health. In this Conference he has served acceptably at Laton, Reedley, Lindsay, Fullerton, Monrovia, Trinity Pomona, and Tucson, going to the latter charge four years ago. The beautiful church at Tucson owes much to his knowledge of building and his aesthetic sensibility. He and Mrs. Montague gave the beautiful patio to this church in memory of their daughter, Electa, who died in Fullerton, July 15th, 1923.

Brother Montague was a builder. He took a delight in keeping the church and parsonage properties in good repair. He was a faithful pastor, and a man of enormous energy; a tireless evangelist, a man of marked mystical spirit, yet he was not a recluse, for he was always active in community affairs. However, he made his pulpit his throne. In all his charges he left a reputation for evangelical preaching of a high order.

In the last Conference at Tucson, just a few days before his death, much was said of the way in which he had brought harmony and unity and spiritual vision to this important church. He was a lavish giver of both his money and his life. He never spared himself, and in his entire ministry he had the intelligent sympathy and cooperation of his wife and also his entire family. He was fond of friends, given to hospitality, and liked to call his house the Hotel de Montague, and right royally he and his good wife looked after all the needs of their guests. You were made to feel welcome at their home.

He leaves behind him a record of passionate, devoted ministry, and his life and work will always be remembered in this Conference with joy.

JAMES ALLEN GEISSINGER.

WILFRED KENT

Wilfred Kent was the son of Thomas Oliver and Ellen Stevens Kent. His father was English born, a local preacher. His mother a yearning-hearted and radiant-spirited woman. They pioneered in South Dakota and northeast Iowa.

He was born in Linden, Wisconsin, April 5, 1873; one of seven children, five of whom graduated from Cornell College.

In early youth he went from the farm to Nora Springs Seminary. He taught in the country schools of Iowa. Later he attended Upper Iowa University and Cornell College, graduating from the latter in the class of 1901, with his brother Charles, and sister Anna.

The two brothers went on to Drew Theological Seminary and graduated with honor in 1904. That autumn Wilfred joined the California Conference, and in December was married to Miss Ethel Kaye of Washington, Iowa. In 1911 he transferred to the Southern California Conference. He retired in 1933 because of broken health.

His spirit entered the Land of Peace January 8, 1934. Funeral services were held in Santa Ana, George A. Warmer in charge, assisted by Charles A. Kent, brother of the deceased, and Fred H. Ross.

He was dearly loved by the communities he served. Quiet, self-effacing, uncomplaining, trustful, he thought no evil and spoke no unkindness. Sorrow was his in an unusual measure. While pastor in Olinda he lost his only daughter, little Dorothy, from dyptheria. She was carried from the home while he lay at the point of death from the same scourge. In 1923 his son, Everett, six feet three inches tall, just entering U.C.L.A. as a junior, was taken with lobar pneumonia and laid away in just one week's time. He leaves one son, Earl, besides his devoted wife who shared life's stormy way and his tenderest love.

He was one of God's princes, going without knowledge to his appointments and serving them with such a measure of the spirit of Christ as leaves in the memory of those who knew him a sense of the Jesus of Nazareth incarnate in him.

C. A. KENT.

GEORGE R. GRAFF

George R. Graff was born September 17, 1866, in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

He was a child of the Methodist parsonage; hence he had a goodly heritage as his father, brother and uncle were members of the Philadelphia Conference which he himself joined upon entering the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was a nobleman by birth as his name was originally Von Graff, and a nobleman in character.

His educational training was secured at Princeton University, Princeton, New Jersey, and later, having been compelled to go to Colorado for the benefit of the climate, he was graduated from the Iliff School of Theology, Denver, Colorado. While serving a pastorate in the city of Denver, he met and married Vernie Weaver, a granddaughter of Bishop Simpson, a Deaconess working in that city. In transferring to the Colorado Conference, he served churches in Denver, then in 1902 he transferred to the Southern California Conference and was pastor at Azusa, Burbank, Huntington Beach, Fullerton, San Fernando, East Hollywood, Escondido and other cities.

Handicapped by frail health for years, he retired from active service in 1927, but so great was his passion for the work to which he had consecrated his life he served for several years as the President of the Robinson Park Association of Retired Methodist Ministers, and also as Honorary Associate Pastor of the Holliston Avenue Church in Pasadena, California, with Alfred James Hughes. Declining to accept any salary for his services, he endeared himself to the members and friends of the Church by his visitations among them. His inspiring leadership in the meetings in which he participated, and the various services he rendered as his health would permit; his undaunted courage, unfailing humor, genial friendliness, and confident faith in God, despite the physical limitations under which he labored, imparted strength and courage to many who were fainting and perplexed. His radiant personality brought cheer into darkened lives and helped many a distressed soul.

He was much beloved by the young people in his churches, and several young men through his influence are now preaching the gospel.

The Epworth League said: "The passing of George R. Graff leaves an unfilled place in the hearts of the young people who have learned to love him. His jolly laugh and quick wit, along with his young heart won him a welcome to all young people's meetings and affairs. We shall miss the twinkle in his eyes and the friendliness of his voice, that told louder than words of his understanding of youth."

His masterful eloquence stirred the Annual Conference several times. When at Burbank he plead for the ranchers there, that the city of Los Angeles would not take their water away from them. Then when he gave the Memorial address of Bishop Neely, extemporaneously.

Much as he loved his church, his interest in other organizations, service clubs, fraternal orders, and similar societies enabled him to extend his influences in a Christian friendliness that won for him exceptional recognition.

After a lingering and painful illness, which he endured uncomplainingly, on July 2, 1933, he passed through the gates into the City in which it is said there "shall be no more pain" and "Death shall be no more."

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Vernie W. Graff of Pasadena, California; a sister, Mrs. Frank R. Davis of Norristown, Pennsylvania, and two brothers, J. W. Graff of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and J. P. Graff of Perth Amboy, New Jersey, beside a host of friends. They will feel that life is a bit lonelier now that he is gone on ahead and will live in the hope of a blessed reunion with him in the life eternal.

BISHOP CHAS. L. MEAD.

LINCOLN A. FERRIS

When on Sunday morning, October 29, 1933, Lincoln A. Ferris was admitted to the company of the immortals, many of us felt anew the nearness of the invisible world.

He was born in Blenheim, New York, October 19, 1867; received his training in Colgate University and Drew; had happy pastorates at Oak Hill, Port Ewen-on-Hudson, Dobbs Ferry, New York; Mount Vernon Place, Baltimore (two pastorates); St. Paul's, Newark; Binghamton Tabernacle, Independence Ave., Kansas City, and San Diego, Glendale, Ontario and Santa Barbara in our own Conference.

The funeral service was held in Ontario Methodist Church. His body was laid to rest in beautiful Forest Lawn Cemetery. He is survived by his wife, Ida Simmons Ferris, and by a son and daughter by a former marriage: Wallace Ferris of Englewood, New Jersey, and Helen Ferris, missionary in China, who is home on furlough.

Lincoln Ferris had the heavenly gift of preaching. He did not try to preach, he preached. His preaching glowed.

Fluent, radiant in aspect, winning and persuasive, of quick and vivid imagination, there were times when his thought orbit was like the sweep of a planet. He used his glorious gift right royally, uttering forth the good news of the riches of the divine love in Jesus Christ. Dr. L. P. Jacks wrote of "the lost radiance of Christianity." Lincoln Ferris never lost it. The light of God was upon him. A boy came home from an Institute saying, "I do not remember what he said. I could only look at him."

How humble he was. Like Moses, he did not know that he had a shining face. How generous he was in his estimates of his brethren. Envy, jealousy and suspicion hid themselves from his shining goodness. How prayerful he was. His prayers had wings. When he said those simple words "Jesus, Master," one knew that his life was under the supreme domination of Jesus Christ. He was the friend and the inspirer of young ministers. They gathered around him like bees in a clover field in June. He loved books and knew them. It seemed at times as though he had read everything. He loved the stars and was a student of them. The last time we sat together, he swung his six-foot telescope across the skies and showed me the blazing splendors of Sirius. The charm of his life was a certain beauty of goodness. I knew him intimately for many years. As nearly as any man I have known, he "wore the white flower of a blameless life."

Years ago Bishop Quayle in a chapter on "The Preacher—a Mystic" wrote this in description of Lincoln Ferris: "One such preacher I will describe. His face is lucent, his eyes are gentle, yet soaked with fire which might at any time leap into tongues of flame like erupted mountains. His hand pressure is gentle. He owns a bleeding and a broken heart. His face has smiles, you could not infer his grief by any word or sigh. His voice is wistful and has sweetness like a man at dream. He walks the fitful walks of life unfretted. He brings memories of the tempest. The sunlight kindles while he fares along his journey. His sayings are big with peace. Angels and he are at rare friendship. His life abides not in sunset but in noon. I wonder sometimes as I meet him, as I hear him, whether I have met angel or man, and then I know I have met both. He is man-angel. He has met the Lord. Along the ways, sore haunted and beset by drift of tears like windblown rain, and walking tired ways, where there is neither rest nor sleep, yet he walks with God. This mystic, with his torch of poetry alight, this mystic with his battle shout, this preacher-mystic—God is with him, and he touches the listless lute of human nature to the music native to it, but neglected or forgot. Such preacher-mystic—a beatitude upon him."

Lincoln Ferris is not dead. He believed and we believe that death is forever swallowed up in victory.

MERLE N. SMITH.

FRANK C. BUCK

Frank Conover Buck, a retired member of our Southern California Conference and residing in Long Beach, passed to his heavenly home Sunday, April 29th, 1934. For more than six months he had been in poor health, but was not seriously ill till about four weeks before his death.

Bro. Buck was born August 15, 1875, in McClain Co., Illinois, and began his ministry in that state, becoming a member of the Illinois Conference in 1898.

In 1903 he was transferred to the Southern California Conference and up to his retirement had served the following charges: Chesbro Memorial, Bakersfield; Santa Maria; Bakersfield; La Mesa and Del Rosa. In 1915 he took the Retired Relation, having been a Supernumerary the preceding five years. In that year he assisted in the organization of Belmont Heights, Long Beach, and in 1916 supplied for a time Zaferia, now East Long Beach.

During his later years he lived in almost complete retirement. Sincere and conscientious he sought to serve and honor his Lord, his stay and comfort to the very end.

The funeral service was held in Long Beach, Wednesday, May 2nd, conducted by Will A. Betts, assisted by other pastors, R. N. Merrill delivering a most appropriate message on "The Significance and Challenge of Life." Members of the conference acted as pallbearers and the body was laid away in the Sunnyside Cemetery, Long Beach.

There remain to survive him his wife, Nora M., and his son, Edwin H., besides two sisters and two brothers.

WILL A. BETTS.

LEANDRO FERNANDEZ

(Member of the erstwhile S. W. Spanish Mission Conference, but as he was Retired and was not assigned to any other Conference when this Conference was disbanded, his memoir is included here.)

Leandro Fernandez was born the 27th of January, 1845, in one of the Northeastern States of the Republic of Mexico. After serving in the Mexican Army with the rank of Captain, he came to the United States at the age of 35. He felt the desire to visit a Protestant church on a certain Wednesday night in 1880 in the city of El Paso, Texas. This visit to the prayer service led to his conversion while the Christian work in the border city was at its beginning.

After his conversion he made rapid progress in the Christian life and two years later he was appointed to Tucson, Arizona, as a probationer in the Colorado Conference. Soon the work developed so in New Mexico and in Arizona, that a Mission was organized, the New Mexico Mission, and in this Mission and its field he labored faithfully as a pastor until 1904 at which time he was made a Presiding Elder of the El Paso District. His labors were abundant in this capacity and at the end of six years he was transferred to the Northeastern District of the State of New Mexico. At the end of six successful years as District Superintendent he was retired at Las Vegas, New Mexico, in 1917, Bishop F. J. McConnell, presiding.

He was called to his reward at sunset, April 29, 1934, in one of the hospitals of the city of Los Angeles.

His wife preceded him to her reward several years ago and he leaves only a son, George, to mourn his death.

A beautiful service was held at the Plaza church, Los Angeles, Monday, May 7, with B. E. Garcia, in charge. Many of the pastors of the Latin American Mission were present and accompanied the remains to Evergreen cemetery where several Masonic bodies were represented, taking charge of the final burial ceremony.

In Brother Fernandez, the Methodist Church in its Spanish-speaking division, found a great leader, an able preacher and a consecrated pastor. He labored faithfully for many years and it was time for him to heed the Master's call to rest, but we know that his works follow with him.

"Blessed are they that are perfect in the way,
Who walk in the law of Jehovah."

LUIS P. TIRRE.

MRS. W. H. MARKS

May Victor Marks was born April 30, 1861, in the historic mining town of Jacksonville, Oregon. She passed to the "land that is fairer than day" on September 3rd from her home in Pasadena, where she had been a resident for twenty-eight years.

The funeral service was held on September 6th in the Washington Street Church, Pasadena, where for many years she had been a member. H. H. Stranberg was in charge. Fletcher G. Watson read consoling scripture selections and the obituary. Friends in large numbers filled the church and the floral tributes bore evidence of the love and esteem in which she was held.

She was married in 1882 to W. H. Marks and she was a worthy co-partner with him in the ministry. She had a world vision. Her missionary zeal was captivating. Sister Marks became the president of every Missionary Society in every church of which she was a member during the fifty-one year period of her married life. She organized many groups of the Loyal Temperance Legion. She taught a class in the Church School for twenty years. This class which is known as the M. P. C. Class has sent out several missionaries and scores of religious workers in various fields. Her interest in the youth of the church was vital and they referred to her as the "radiant Christian."

"How could such a little woman live such a big life?" It was a life lived by faith. When her daughter, Inez, had accepted the missionary challenge and was starting out for China, Sister Marks said, "Inez, nothing can limit God but a limited faith." This gives us the secret of this charming life. Through faith she "subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness and obtained the promises." Her life was energized by Hebrews 11, sustained by John 17, comforted by John 14, because she lived in the heart of Romans 8 where emphasis is placed on a dynamic Christian experience.

H. H. STRANBERG.

MRS. C. G. BELKNAP

Mary Josephine Sumner was a product of sturdy New England stock. She was born in Lubec, Maine, August 3, 1844. She received her education in that commonwealth and there she grew into beautiful womanhood. In 1870 her family faced westward and made the long trek to California, settling in Kernville, Kern County, California, where for thirty years her father was Justice of the Peace. Here she became one of that noble group whom Schauffler described as "Masters by Proxy"; a teacher in the public schools of Kernville.

In 1882 God opened a door for her into a lovely room of romance. She was wooed and won and wedded by C. G. Belknap, a minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church. For many years these two shared the labors, the joys, the privileges of our itinerant ministry. Many are the charges in this Conference that were enriched by her lovely Christian personality. To this union two sons were born, Covington and Fred. In 1906 her good husband passed to his reward.

Since that time Mrs. Belknap made her home in Los Angeles and Glendale. She found a spiritual home in the old Westlake Church and on the merger of that communion with Wilshire she continued her membership in the Wilshire Methodist Church. For a good many years Mrs. Belknap was an invalid and during the latter years she was confined almost entirely to the house. But she never complained or fretted. She was a devout Christian and one felt instinctively that here was a saintly soul. The years in their passing only added to the loveliness and beauty of her spirit. Her life was characterized by considerateness, patience, courage and trust. She was a good woman, a faithful wife, a devoted mother, a loyal friend, a very gentle gracious lady. Her devoted son saw that she had every comfort and care.

In fullness of years at the blessed age of eighty-nine she "fell on sleep" October 15, 1933. She is survived by one son, Fred R. Belknap, and by a sister, Mrs. Alice M. Brown, and by a niece, Mrs. Edward M. Pallette, all of Los Angeles, and a nephew, Sumner Brown of Kernville, California. Her mortal remains lie in the family plot in Santa Barbara but her lovely spirit hath found its real home in "the other room" in our Father's house.

WILLSIE MARTIN.

MRS. J. W. VAN CLEVE

Mrs. J. W. Van Cleve, who slipped the tether of her broken body, December 18, 1933, outlived many of the generation of founders, who laid so well the beginnings of our work here in Southern California, the Bovards, Frank Larkin, F. D. Mather, J. B. Green, Will A. Knighten and many another knight of the Cross.

She was born in Saron, Ohio, September 29th, 1844. She was educated in the young ladies' finishing school, as it was called in those days, at Marietta, Ohio. Her father's family later moved to Leavenworth, Kansas, where she taught in the public schools. Being threatened with tuberculosis, she pressed westward to Oregon, where her brother, William Gird, was engaged in the raising of stock.

After a rest and restoration of her health she resumed her work as a public school teacher in Albany, Oregon, where she met Joseph W. Van Cleve and they were married in June, 1872, two years later coming to Southern California. Dr. Van Cleve later became superintendent of the Los Angeles district.

Two children were born to this union, Laura, who died at the age of two years, and Roy Gird Van Cleve, at present principal of the Fairfax High School in Los Angeles. Dr. Van Cleve returned east for 11 years, serving in the So. Illinois conference and again transferred to Southern California Conference in 1885, dying in 1896. They had thus lived together for 24 years.

Mrs. Van Cleve was for a time preceptress of the University of Southern California. She was a life member (honorary) of the Ebell Club, one of the founders of the W.H.M.S. and one of the organizers of the Methodist Hospital and the Frances De Pauw School. She was a member of the Rebeccas and the Eastern Star and for years one of the most influential members in University Church.

Mrs. Van Cleve was born a leader of men and women and the men of the church had a high regard for the soundness of her judgment. She was eminently fair but fearless and always eager to carry her share of responsibility. She had hosts of friends and was always generous with her pastor both in support and frank counsel, which she could give without offending.

She was a great sufferer for several years before death released her but brave and patient to the last. Southern California Methodism owes a large debt of gratitude to her as does the present writer.

JAMES ALLEN GEISSINGER.

MRS. E. H. BAAB

Josephine Baab, a born Ludwig, was born May 6, 1861, in Brown County, Ohio. When a child she moved with her parents to Illinois and settled near Moweaqua where her parents erected the first German Methodist Church and arranged a cemetery on the same plot of ground. Her parents were sincere Christians and by them she was brought up in the knowledge of God.

In early life she was converted and joined the church and remained a true Christian to the end. In her youth she cared not for worldly follies, but dearly loved the church and her Bible and delighted in associating with God's people.

In the romance and fellowship of church work Josephine Baab gave her affections unreservedly, though with sweet maidenly modesty, to her pastor, Emil Baab who, as a young preacher just from college, was sent to Moweaqua, the parental home of his future wife. With him she was united in marriage March 1, 1883, and with him spent twenty-two years of trustful, happy married life. She was a devoted wife and mother, to whom the care of home were but added joys, and the bonds of family life were sweetly precious.

Sister Baab was the true helpmate and inspiration of her husband in seven pastorates and maintained the leadership of the family life during her husband's required absence from home in the superintendency of the district. The pastoral charges were Moweaqua, Redbud and Summerfield in Illinois. On account of ill health they came to California and served the following charges, Perris and San Fernando, Prospect Park, San Diego and Zions Church, Los Angeles. She was a devoted mother of five children, two of whom preceded her to the homeland. The other three, two daughters and one son, cherish the memory of a loving mother's tender devotion and tireless service poured out unstintedly in their behalf.

The end came on November 27, 1933, in the presence of her children in her lovely home. In triumph she went home to God.

A service was held at the South Hollywood Church by her pastor, C. E. Leitzell assisted by E. P. Ryland and Rev. A. A. Hunter. Interment was made in the family plot of the Oakdale Cemetery.

J. H. DURBAHN.

MRS. W. A. SWAIN

Kittie Graham was born May 21, 1859, near Viola, Illinois. She was united in marriage with W. A. Swain on December 28, 1887. The life of Sister Swain centered first in her home. There was her throne. She was interpreter of God in that center that wrecks or builds civilization.

Sister Swain was greatly interested in the school. She sought by sacrifice and devotion to give her dear ones the finest advantages of all the schools had to offer. The women of the parsonage are wizards of finance, and Sister Swain, though left a widow when the children were young, gave her son and two daughters the opportunities for development where many might have despaired.

Her son, Frank, was a Rhodes scholarship man, and he and his sisters have in these later years lavished their love upon their mother, and have been to her as she said: "A rock of Gibraltar to me."

Her life was closely related to the church. She was a pastor's wife for ten years. She shared the struggles, the triumphs, and the joys of a minister's life. She invested her fine talents and strength in various types of church work. She was versatile, tactful and successful. She was a cheerful, sunny soul. The Christian virtues came to bloom in her life. How fragrant is her memory.

How sparkling and exhilarating was her wit. With her humor she brightened the lives of many.

The words of faith on her lips at the close of life's day were: "When I am weak, then am I strong. My strength is made perfect in weakness." She knew the repose of faith, the peace and serenity of an abiding trust. She carried in her heart the words of Christ: "My grace is sufficient for thee." She knew that there are no joys like the joys of the ransomed, and no hopes like the hopes of the redeemed. She did not build her faith amid the "scaffolding of despair," but upon the Christ of the ages. And when the twilight of time was ready to melt into the twilight of eternity, with her dear ones about her and amid the benediction of neighbors and friends, and with the favor of God upon her spirit, she slipped away to

"That land of pure delight Where saints immortal reign."

"She painted no Madonnas
On chapel walls in Rome,
But with a touch diviner
She lived one in her home
She wrote no lofty poem
That critics counted art,
But with a nobler vision
She lived them in her heart.
She built no great cathedrals
That centuries applaud,
But with a grace exquisite
Her soul cathedraled God."

RAY C. HARKER.

MRS. GEO. F. BOVARD

Emma Josephine Bovard was born near Stockton, California, nearly seventy-one years ago. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Henry Bradley, pioneer residents of the state. When she was eleven years of age she came with her parents to Los Angeles. Here her father established the largest furniture store in the city on Main Street, near the site of the present Federal building. The family residence was at Hill and Olive Streets, at that date the fashionable residential section of the town, and it was in this home that she was married. Her education was received in the public schools of the city, in the Academy connected with the University of Southern California, and then in the College of Liberal Arts of that University. Here began for her a lovely, lifelong romance, for here she met and was betrothed to George Finley Bovard, a member of the first graduating class.

In 1883 he was ordained a minister in the Methodist Episcopal Church and became a member of the Southern California Conference. On October 1, 1884, they were married. Mrs. Bovard for many years was the gracious lady of the parsonage in notable charges here in Southern California. For eighteen years she shared with her husband the strains and burdens and remarkable achievements which marked the development of the University of Southern California under his presidency.

She was a devoted, loyal and devout member of the Methodist Church from childhood till her translation. She always took an active and vital part in all the activities of the church. She was also prominently identified with the cultural and philanthropic movements of the city and helped to organize the Women's Club in the University of Southern California.

Three children were given to Dr. and Mrs. Bovard, Warren, Edna, and Gladys. She is survived by her two daughters, Mrs. Edna Malcom of San Juan Capistrano and Mrs. Gladys Swiggett of Glendale; by six grand children, and by her sister, Mrs. Grace Bradley Vogle of Hollywood.

Mrs. Bovard was a quiet, modest lady, but she possessed great force of character. Her judgment was wise and discriminating. She was noted for her tact, good sense, fine taste, a feeling for the appropriate and the timely. A delicious sense of humor, quiet but real, added to her charm. She was kind in speech as well as deed. She was very alert mentally, had a finely organized mind and was a woman of unusual poise and balance. She was genuine, sincere and straightforward. Honor and goodness were of the warp and woof of her nature. She lived in a wide world. Her interests and enthusiasms reached out to farflung horizons. She was a wonderful wife and mother, a true and loyal friend. She was never demonstrative, but her religion was like some deep river—there was power in it. Her courage was unusual, her faith was wonderful and her trust was beautiful. Hers was a radiant Christian life that grew steadily more lovely.

On December 31, 1933, she heard the summons of the Master whom she followed so loyally to come up higher and she entered into the Church Triumphant. Tributes of affection and messages of faith were brought by Dr. Rufus B. von KleinSmid, Bruce Baxter and her minister, Willsie Martin at a lovely service of honor at the Wilshire Church, her home church.

God has called her into a greater country where dwell the good and true. She has entered into fullness of life and joy.

WILLSIE MARTIN.

MRS. J. W. LEACH

Mrs. Anna B. Leach was born in Washington County, Missouri, December 9, 1841.

She came to California with her parents in the great cavalcade of 1849. Her father, Hugh H. Bell, later became Associate Justice of the Superior Court of Amador County.

On September 5, 1861, she became the bride of a young Kentuckian, John W. Leach, who had also come to California in the gold rush of 1849. He had found some gold but he had also found God in the golden west and heard the call to preach.

For fifty years this devoted couple traveled together in the ministry of the gospel. The last thirty-two years were spent in the Southern California Conference. Brother Leach died at Tulare, California, February 13, 1911, at the age of eighty-four.

These were years of pioneering, with many privations, but this good woman, devoted to her family, her church and her Christ, accepted all that came, good and bad, without complaint, but with constant expressions of thanksgiving for the blessings of God.

At the age of ninety-two, this lovely Christian lady, mother of eight children, five living, fifty years a pioneer pastor's wife, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. M. Moore, at Inwood, California, after an illness which confined her to her bed for less than two weeks. Sturdy, steadfast, faithful to the end.

WALTER C. BUCKNER.

MRS. J. E. FERRIS

Mrs. Mabel S. Ferris was born in Terre Haute, Indiana, December 30th, 1870. She was the daughter of Oliver P. and Mary E. Sanders. She graduated from the Terre Haute high school and also from the Indiana State College. She was a teacher for five years in the public schools of Indiana.

In 1896 she was married to James E. Ferris, a young minister of the Episcopal church. A call came to these young people to a position in Africa. They took charge of Umtali Academy, a school—kindergarten to high school for white children. The government recognized the Academy as the Umtali Public School. In this school a class was held for the training of young girls for public school teaching. Mrs. Ferris had charge of the methods and practice of teaching. Several young women became the trained teachers from this school for the public schools of this new colony. A vacancy occurring in the Old Umtali Training School—the same treatment was given to the negro boys as teachers for the colony. Many negro teachers received their training under her scholarly supervision.

Returning to America, Mrs. Ferris gave her thought to the work of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society. In Utah, she was the Corresponding Secretary. In Arizona she was state secretary of the Junior Societies. One year she was the Secretary of the Junior Work for the Pacific Branch. In the home church where she was the pastor's wife, she increased the work of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society. She had two great interests in living—her home and her church. She was intensely religious, an energetic student of the Bible and religious and missionary books. In her daily studies, she called attention to her text for June 1—Job 22:21: "Acquaint now thyself with him and be at peace. Thereby good shall come unto thee." This was the day of her surgical operation, after which she had ten days of living. But she was in peace.

In all the places of life she made friends with those upon whom her religious and intellectual life had made impression.

The funeral was in charge of J. A. Geissinger assisted by E. H. Nicholson and several of the ministers of San Diego. Services were held in La Mesa. The burial was in Roosevelt Memorial Park in charge of Roy L. Smith.

In addition to her husband, James E. Ferris, she leaves a sister, Mrs. Frances Sanders, a nephew, Walter M. Sanders, New Milford, New Jersey, and a niece, Helen Fackler, Crossville, Tenn.

J. E. FERRIS.

MRS. P. H. BODKIN

When Mrs. Arabella E. Bodkin entered into rest, on Friday morning, June 15th, the company of the redeemed in heaven greeted a kindred spirit. A long life of loving fellowship and sweet communion with the Lord Jesus prepared her for an abundant entrance into the realm of eternal joy and happiness.

Arabella E. Bodkin was born May 18, 1856, in Southwestern Ohio. Her father, the Rev. Jesse Bodkin was a Methodist minister in the Cincinnati Conference.

From this home of Christian atmosphere, Arabella early in life identified herself with the church and remained a faithful and useful member until death.

Having chosen the Christian life she felt the call for a higher education. De Pauw University offered her the opportunity she desired; there she spent four happy years, graduating in the class of 1877. It was in this class she met the Rev. Patrick H. Bodkin, an enterprising Methodist preacher, who was putting on the whole armor preparatory to his 45 years in the service of the Cross.

They were married Jan. 31st, 1879, at her home in Washington, Iowa. This union was blessed by two children, Jesse and Florence.

Brother and Sister Bodkin entered the Iowa Conference and served four years, then they transferred to the Austin Conference, Texas, and stationed at Fort Worth. In 1885 they transferred to the Southern California Conference and were stationed at Ontario.

The ministry of Brother Bodkin was marked by five outstanding achievements in this Conference: The organization of Union Ave., West Adams, Echo Park, Edendale and Blythe Methodist Churches.

In every charge in which they served Mrs. Bodkin's influence in the Church and community incited holier Christian living, purer social enjoyment, a nobler and more loyal citizenship.

Hand in hand she walked by the side of her husband through the years, shirking no duty, shrinking from no task however hard, scattering with lavish hand the seed of the Kingdom; believing always that He who set the task would bring it to a fruitful harvest.

Mrs. Bodkin was a familiar figure in many conventions, and for years was one of the most diligent workers on the Pacific Coast in the cause of Home Missions and represented this Coast at a number of the National Conventions.

She was elected First Corresponding Secretary, of W. H. M. S. of the Southern California Conference, which office she held for 25 years. Later she was elected one of the National Vice Presidents.

She was one of the founders of the Methodist Hospital of So. Calif., and one of the first women elected to the General Conference, and was the second woman to be ordained a Minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church. She was a member of the Vincent Church in Los Angeles.

The prolonged period of suffering was borne with a patience begotten by the Son of God who was her pattern and her stay. When the evening shadows grew longer and the days of her earthly stay grew shorter her faith in God grew stronger.

Her work will live on though she is gone, and in the great Judgment Day many will rise up and call her blessed.

Her daughter Florence, a beautiful Christian girl, died March 25, 1912, and her husband went to his reward Jan. 19, 1923. She is survived by her son Jesse Irving Bodkin, who indeed was a faithful loving son to her in her declining years, and grandson, Jessie Hamilton Bodkin; and two sisters, Mrs. Hattie B. Johnson and Mrs. Carrie B. Johnson.

History of The Arizona Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church

By WILBUR FISK

Former Secretary of the Arizona Mission

A sketch of a divine drama enacted amidst the deserts and distances of the vast empire of Arizona, noted for its varied topography, scenic beauty, salubrious climate, unsurpassed healthfulness, and overarched by skies the most beautiful that ever bended over the habitation of man.

The characters involved in this drama were possessed of culture, conviction, courage and consecration. They were men possessed of eloquence, not always indeed of the variety that is distinguished by the graces taught in the schools nor the costly ornaments and studied contrivances of speech, but of the kind that is produced by the quiet persistent plodding activity of men and women possessed of a supreme passion to promote the physical, intellectual and spiritual welfare of people like themselves by humble yet exalted Christlike service.

The motive which actuated these pioneers in their activities and formed the main spring of their achievements was not that great financial emoluments nor high renown would accrue to them, but rather the motive power that moved in the lives of the apostles of old, and was voiced in the words of Paul when he said, "For me to live is Christ" and "The love of Christ constraineth me".

Chapter I

The Period of Early Pioneers

There is a tradition that Rev. J. L. Dyer, the Presiding Elder of the New Mexico District of the Colorado Conference, held the first meeting and preached the first sermon under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal Church within the bounds of the Territory of Arizona. The exact time and place of this meeting are not definitely known except that the place was a fort or military post. It seems that it was the custom of this energetic pioneer to start out from some point on his district and travel in a given direction until he came to a settlement, and there he would hold a meeting or series of meetings, and then he would proceed to another point. The definite facts stated are that the preacher was Rev. J. L. Dyer and that the meeting he held was within the bounds of the Territory of Arizona.

Authentic Records. We turn from tradition to the solid foundation of well authenticated records. Two ministers of the Methodist Episcopal Church who arrived within the bounds of Arizona about the same time, one, Chaplain Alexander Gilmore, a member of the New Jersey Conference, the other Rev. Charles H. Cook, a member of the Rock River Conference. It is of interest to note the motives which led these two ministers into this, at that time, wild and inhospitable yet interesting, even fascinating region of our country.

Chaplain Gilmore came, as we might well suppose, by order of the War Department of the United States Government. On account of the uprising of the Apache Indians, the authorities at Washington found it necessary to send soldiers into Arizona in order to protect the lives of the settlers and the immigrants who were journeying to and from their homes in the East to the golden shores of California. Chaplain Gilmore was attached to one of these companies which had been ordered to report for duty in Arizona. In order to reach the place of service, the Chaplain crossed the continent and arrived in San Francisco, where he was joined by other officers and men who were to be associated with him in the service. Together, these soldiers boarded a vessel and sailed out of San Francisco Bay and down the coast to Cape St. Lucas, where they entered the Gulf of California and proceeded to the mouth of the Colorado River. Here, they embarked on a steamboat with only eighteen to twenty inches draft. On this vessel they were to navigate the Colorado River, the channel of which, for the most part, was very shallow and was constantly changing and shifting its course, almost disappearing in one place and forming a new channel in another. After considerable effort, the boat reached Fort Yuma. Here, the detachment was joined by other officers and men, and then all proceeded north to Mohave. Here, they debarked and started on a march of one hundred and fifty miles in order to reach Fort Whipple on Wednesday, December 7, 1870. Here, they went into permanent quarters. The Sunday following, Chaplain Gilmore conducted services with the soldiers at the camp. Then he went to the town of Prescott and held services with the townspeople. In February of the next year, 1871, the Chaplain organized a Sunday school in Prescott, and he was chosen superintendent. To this and other religious services in Prescott, the Chaplain gave as much of his time as was consistent with his duties at the Post until the arrival of the regularly appointed Superintendent of the Mission. Nor did this loyal minister of the gospel cease his work for the kingdom after that event, but continued to cooperate with that official, assisting him in every way possible, by teaching in the Sunday school, preaching to the congregation when the Superintendent was absent, visiting the towns and mining camps widely scattered throughout the Territory.

The Rev. Charles H. Cook felt the call of an inward urge and came to Arizona. He desired to carry the gospel, which had been such an important factor in his own life, to the Pima Indians of whom he had read recently in a series of absorbingly interesting magazine articles. The facts set forth in these articles led Mr. Cook to consecrate his life to the work of evangelizing these much neglected peoples. Accordingly, disposing of what property he had in the East, he purchased a small stock of such articles and goods as he thought he might need and took up his journey to the West. A part of the way he traveled by railroad, then by stagecoach, buckboard, freighters' wagon, muleback or afoot, using any means that were available, until he arrived at Fort Bowie Sunday, Dec. 4, 1870. Here, he preached to the soldiers with great interest, as he met one of the men who had served with him in the Civil War, a fact which gave him added influence. This was the first sermon preached by a minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Arizona. While Mr. Cook felt considerable responsibility in this work, he was not satisfied to spend all of his time preaching to white people. He had made the long trip and had undergone many hardships in order that he might carry the gospel to the red man. He would allow nothing to stand in the way of this, his major engagement.

After remaining at Bowie for a time, he pushed on to the west and finally arrived at a Pima village situated on the banks of the Gila River, some distance south and east of Phoenix and north and west of Casa Grande. Here, he started his chosen work for the evangelization of the Pimas. He had not proceeded long before a new opening came to him. He received an appointment as Government teacher. This opening not only supplied much needed funds, but gave him access to the tribe, both in teaching the young people and preaching on Sunday to those whom he could induce to attend Sunday school and public worship.

Joins Presbyterian Church. Interest grew, and he soon felt the need of more and better equipment. The Methodist Episcopal Church realized the need and importance of this work, but was powerless to assist as the missionary society of that church had no funds set apart for any such purpose. The work of the Mission and the need of better equipment came to the knowledge of the Presbyterian Church, and the authorities of that church became greatly interested in Mr. Cook and his growing enterprise. It was not long until the representatives of the two churches met and came to a mutual and amicable agreement. Mr. Cook joined the Presbyterian Church, and that organization took over the work for the Pimas, and it has been greatly prospered. One has only to visit that mission to be convinced of the vast amount of good that has been done by the now sainted Dr. Cook in laying the foundation, and by those who have come after him in building the superstructure, not only of material equipment but of noble characters among the descendants of those to whom Dr. Cook preached in those early days. The contrast between the results of Dr. Cook's work and the work of the Mission of the Roman Catholic Church will be commented on later in this narrative.

Home Missionary Heroism. We pause in the more formal account of events in the history of the far flung Mission field, to point out some of the peculiar features of the work in this vast Territory. There is a halo upon the brows of the men and women who embark on shipboard to cross the ocean for a foreign shore to seek to spread the gospel and to establish the kingdom of Christ in distant climes. This is as it should be. We glory in and are thankful for every such achievement of consecrated Christian heroism. But, had it not been for the pioneer preachers who have pushed out to the frontiers of our own homeland, there would have been little or no home base from which to derive the men and money necessary to open up and cultivate the foreign fields. Ever since the "Christmas Conference" of 1784, the "Circuit Rider" or "Mounted Cavalry", Methodism has been pushing forward in adventures for the Redeemer's kingdom. Many of these heroes have gone to their graves carrying with them facts of thrilling interest numerous enough to fill volumes.

Glezen Asbury Reeder, the third pioneer preacher to arrive within the bounds of the Territory of Arizona was the first Superintendent of the Mission. His appointment was made by Bishop Matthew Simpson, under whose supervision this vast region was placed immediately after it had been set apart by Congress as the Territory of Arizona. The circumstances leading up to the making of this appointment are of absorbing interest. The Bishop was holding the session of the North Ohio Conference at Mansfield, Ohio, in September, 1872. Early in the session, he approached Mr. Reeder and asked him if he would be willing to take charge of the work of the church in the Territory of Arizona. The Bishop did not require an immediate answer, but gave him six hours in which to make up his mind and to give his answer. To use Mr. Reeder's own words, "Neither tongue nor pen can ever tell the struggle of my heart during these six brief hours in which I had to decide the question." There was no telegraph line between Mr. Reeder and his wife so as to advise with her upon this question, which necessarily involved so many other matters of mutual interest to both of them. But, in the face of the circumstances, there was only one conclusion at which he could arrive. He who had pled, prayed, begged, and almost begged himself for the cause of missions, how could he do other than accept the challenge and go forward on this great adventure? On the other hand, to comply with the Bishop's request meant the giving up of wife and children, all of the endearments of home and the companionship of his brethren in the ministry for years, and perhaps forever, and brave perils unequalled in any Methodist Mission on the face of the globe. All of this taxed the faith and tried the metal of this heroic messenger of the Cross. But he made his decision and consented to go. The appointment was announced.

Starts on his Mission. Given the privilege of selecting an assistant missionary as a companion and helper in the new field, he selected Rev. John Mitchell, Mr. Reeder's presiding elder; but he declined the offer, and Mr. Reeder had to undertake the work alone. Accordingly, leaving his wife and children in Berea, Ohio, he proceeded to San Francisco, thence by ocean steamer to San Pedro, by railroad to Los Angeles, thence by stage to San Bernardino, thence 250 miles across the hot desert by what at that time was an indispensable vehicle, the buckboard, to the Colorado River to Blythe opposite the site of Ehrenberg. It was just as the sun was rising that this devout and courageous herald of the gospel crossed the turbulent Colorado River and stepped on Arizona soil. In a spirit of reverent devotion, he lifted his eyes to heaven and his heart to God and fervently declared, "I claim Arizona for Christ." Thus settled in mind, he went forward from place to place notwithstanding every foot of the whole Territory seemed to have been dedicated to sin and Satan. One of the first persons to whom Mr. Reeder was introduced after landing in Arizona was a Jew merchant on crutches with a flattened bullet attached to his watch guard. That bullet had been extracted from the man's own body. He had been seriously wounded in an encounter with the Apaches thirty miles distant on the same road over which Mr. Reeder was to travel in a short time on his way to Prescott. It was not long until the buckboard was ready, the mail sacks loaded and the carriers ready to start. (The Missionary had taken his seat in the none too comfortable vehicle and was on his way journeying towards the capital of the Territory, which was also to be the headquarters from which he was to administer the affairs of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Arizona.) As the missionary traveler and his companion proceeded on their journey and came to the region where they were most likely to encounter the Apaches, they were met by a detachment of United States soldiers under whose protection they were escorted the rest of their journey to their destination.

Difficulties. Perhaps the condition of this new field of labor at this time may best be described in the language of the Missionary himself: first, the Apaches were in open hostility—they were on the war path; second, the influence of the saloon affected all; third, Romanism was well established and was none too cordial to the incoming of other denominations; fourth, vice was universally prevalent. Facing these difficulties, had it not been for the conviction deeply embedded in the conscience of this messenger of the Cross, that God and one man are a majority, this pioneer preacher would have returned at once to the safety and the comforts of his home in Ohio. (It is interesting in connection with the obstacles to be overcome to examine a little more in detail the extent and difficulties of this new field of religious endeavor. The size of this new parish alone had something of a challenge in it.) The Territory comprised an area of 112,920 square miles, or, to visualize it a little more perfectly by comparison with the better known regions of our country, it is three times the size of the state of Ohio, or to put it in another way, Arizona is as large as the whole of New England with the state of New York added. At the time of the arrival of Mr. Reeder, in 1872, the population of the Territory, according to the statement of the Missionary himself, was estimated to be a little less than 30,000 souls divided as to races as follows: whites 3,000, Mexicans 5,000, Indians, a few more than 20,000 souls, of which about three-fourths belonged to the Apache tribe, the fiercest and most belligerent of all the tribes that inhabited the southwest part of our country.

Oatman Massacre. So savage were they at this time that neither man nor animal was safe anywhere they roamed, which meant the larger part of the Territory. So bloodthirsty and cruel were these Apaches that, according to the estimate made at the time when Mr. Reeder writes, no fewer than one thousand white people had been murdered between the time of the Oatman family massacre and the time of this record. Upon one of his itineraries, Mr. Reeder passed the spot where that tragedy occurred. It is called Oatman Flats and is located several miles west and north of Gila Bend. The Missionary had the opportunity of meeting some of those who had helped to bury the unfortunate victims of the awful tragedy. Nor was this the only one of its kind. Our Missionary records the fact that so frequent were these experiences that it was no uncommon occurrence to find the roadside of almost every highway lined at varying intervals by shallow graves dug by the next company of freighters or immigrants who chanced to pass that way. One such grave might have been that of our intrepid Missionary had it not been, as he himself believed, for the preserving care of a kind Providence.

Night Journeys. It was much safer to travel by night than by day. Darkness offered a protection either from some superstitious fear or from some hazard. The favorite time for the Apaches' murderous work was in the early morning just at sunrise. They would locate an immigrant's camp or a miner's cabin and would lie in wait all night until sunrise, and, from some ambush or vantage ground, they would fall upon their unsuspecting victims with murderous savagery. This being the case, Mr. Reeder tells us that he traveled much at night and had ample opportunity to study the constellations of the starry heavens while traveling hundreds of miles through these Apache infested regions.

Hasayampa Tragedy. One instance affords a vivid and striking example of the uncertainty of life in those troublesome times. One Saturday morning about two o'clock, thoroughly chilled, Mr. Reeder leaped from the buckboard in which he had been riding all night, to run a while in order to get warm. By the light of the moon, he discovered the prints of moccasin tracks in the sand. This fact he communicated to his traveling companions in an undertone. They did what they could to speed up in order to escape from their would-be captors. They finally reached the Hasayampa Valley about sunrise, when Mr. Reeder met two as fine appearing young men as he had ever seen in the Territory. One of the young men was named Taylor and the other's name was Jack Swain. Mr. Reeder was especially drawn to Jack and had an interesting conversation with him about his mother. The Missionary urged the young men to meet him in the services which were to be held the next day in Wickenburg. Before they parted, Jack promised to bring his mother to church. However, neither Jack nor his mother were present in the services. Before the young men reached their home, the Apaches had captured them and, together with another young man by the name of McDonnold, had murdered all three of them.)

The Saloon. The murderous atrocities of the Apaches were not the only hindrance to the work of the missionaries in Arizona. As elsewhere, so here, the Saloon was busy with its blighting work. In the early seventies, there were no fewer than five wholesale establishments. As distributors of their products, there were two hundred saloons (or in other words, forty retail saloons for every wholesale house.) A saloon for every fifteen of the white population both old and young. Nearly every way-station was licensed and stocked with liquor to be sold for twenty-five cents a glass. A cigar sold for the same price. It was conservatively estimated by many of the best informed that at least five-eighths of the population both drank and smoked. The inhabitants represented about thirty nationalities and nearly every state in the union. Even the Indian could manufacture his "Tis-Win", which would make the "Drunk" come, such as his white brothers drank. After preaching in, or in front of, a saloon, some one of his congregation, wishing to show his appreciation for the services, would step up to the preacher and ask him what he would have. When he would reply, "Nothing," he would be urged to take a cigar or a glass of wine with the assurance that we, in Arizona, don't know how to treat a man except to offer him a drink.

Romanism. A third powerful element that Mr. Reeder met in the prosecution of his work was the influence of Romanism. It was claimed by Bishop, Priest, and the Sisters that Rome had held sway, in southern Arizona particularly, for two centuries. Whether this statement is true or not, it is quite certain that the Roman Catholic Church has been established for generations within her borders. In proof of these claims, the Catholics point to the old missions with their chimes of bells with primitive dates inscribed upon them. On one of his trips through a Pima Indian settlement, Mr. Reeder saw one of the relics of Catholicism—a brass baptistry bearing a heart shaped indenture upon the inner surface and corresponding projections on the outer surface. This had long remained buried twenty feet under ground, inverted over a living spring of water in a section of what appeared to be a desert, although there were ruins of a town. The exact spot where the relic was found had been preserved by tradition among the Pima Indians. This interesting relic of the past, Mr. Reeder was strongly tempted to covet, when he drank of the water from the spring which it contained. He was reminded that, possibly a century before, it had held the consecrated water used by the Pima Indians. We are told in one account that, when members of this tribe were persuaded to accept the Roman Catholic faith, they were required to cut off their hair and to be baptized. Then, by counting their beads, giving liberally of what they had and calling themselves "Papagoes," they were accounted good Catholics. Though priests and sisters of St. Joseph Church had been there for more than a century, Mr. Reeder testifies that he had failed to find in all of his travels a single Indian that could read or write. They continued to speak the Pima language, and did not show much improvement either in their physical or moral condition.

Jesuit Missions. Two of their mission churches were at that time more than a century old. One of these was about a mile southwest, and the other about nine miles south of Tucson. The latter still supports seven good bells and, up to the year 1874, was the center of general attraction. Our Superintendent says he never visited it without a thrill of interest. It was very evident that the Jesuits had long held sway in all of that region. The Church displays grandeur of architecture, considering the material at command which entered into its construction. That structure was, and, for that matter, still remains in striking contrast to the dwelling places of the people who live in the vicinity and to whom it is expected to minister. That an institution, which has for its purpose the betterment of its adherents and constituents, should have resulted in so little improvement, materially, intellectually or spiritually, certainly betrays a weakness and inefficiency which is, to say the least, inexcusable.

The Mexican population, as has been stated previously, numbered 5,000. With few exceptions, these people were dominated by the Roman Catholic Church and, most of them, were uncultured, ignorant, profane, and some were even vicious. They were held in complete subjection to their priest and bishop and were ready to do their bidding, even to acts of violence.

A Midnight Visitor. Mr. Reeder declares, that, after he had become well known, from his having been chaplain of the Senate, he was convinced that he was being watched with a suspicious eye. This conviction was strengthened by an experience which he had while he was in Tucson. One Sunday evening he preached on the subject "Temperance." At two o'clock the next morning he was awakened by someone at his door trying to get in. But, fortunately, the night before, Mr. Reeder had fastened his door with unusual care. Upon hearing the noise, he called out, "Who is there?" In reply the answer came, "I want to see you." Mr. Reeder replied, "Wait until morning." "No," came the response, "I want to see you now." At that time, he heard inaudible conversation with indistinct expletives which satisfied him that his nocturnal visitors were intent upon doing him bodily harm. This belief was further strengthened by the fact that the same night, about the only Protestant Mexican family in the community, consisting of the parents and two small children, were found with their throats cut from ear to ear, in their own home. The murderers were pursued, caught and hanged without the process of law. About this time, the lately appointed Chief Justice of the Territory, who was an ardent Catholic, wishing to prove himself a faithful son of Rome, gave a thoroughly prepared lecture against our free public school system, before both houses of the Territorial legislature of Arizona. For one hour and three-quarters, he measured his ability in warning Arizona and the whole country against forcing the Catholics to defend themselves in their religious rights. These facts demonstrate the true sentiment which Romanism entertained at that time.

Vice and Violence. There were other elements with which our early missionaries had to contend. Vice was everywhere prevalent; not a commandment in the decalogue but was trampled under foot repeatedly. Life was one of the cheapest things in the market. In one village, Mr. Reeder was assured that more people had died by violence than from disease, and, from his own observation, he was convinced that the death of one-half of the adults was caused by violence and vice. Many of the inhabitants were going about under assumed names, having fled from other parts of the country and Europe to escape the requirements of the law. Some of the men were living with squaws and Mexican women in semi-heathen conditions. One very depraved-looking man confessed that the preachers at that time were becoming too thick for "us fellows," and he wished that the United States would get into war with Mexico and capture the state of Sonora, that there might be an outlet for his kind. Our Missionary spent one night with a man who had killed four men without ever having been arrested. Before the Missionary left on his journey, he preached a plain gospel sermon, in which he denounced sin and crime, and offered the help of the Saviour to all penitent sinners.

Three Years of Labors. Mr. Reeder labored in Arizona for nearly three years, and the question naturally arises, what of the results? So far as is known, there are no statistical tables available from which we may compile numerical results. But from a brief statement left by himself and the utterances of his life-long friend who preached his funeral sermon, and an acquaintance of the writer, Mr. Neils Petersen, who knew well this Godly man, we are safe in summing up these conclusions. From 1872 to 1875, all stocks in trade and articles for sale had to be freighted across desert waste, for the most part by twelve-mule teams; hence, everything was sold at wartime prices for merchandise and edibles. Board in Prescott was one dollar per meal, or fourteen dollars per week, while in Tucson it was half that amount. For three months Mr. Reeder lived on one meal per day rather than pay these prices. Traveling by buckboard was twenty-five cents per mile. Two years out of the three, Mr. Reeder slept in his blankets on the ground, in the rain or snow. When we take all of these facts and circumstances into consideration, it is not to be wondered that no more substantial or visible results were accomplished. It is certainly true that this consecrated, heroic and self-sacrificing man gave three years of as faithful effort as was ever given by any man to the Master's cause. He spent at the rate of one dollar a day, or one thousand dollars, for the period of time that he remained in this field. Tracts, Testaments, Bibles, and other good books were scattered as liberally as this Missionary's means would permit.

The first camp meeting which was ever attempted in the Territory, lasted for two weeks. It is stated on good authority that one-third of all who came on the grounds knelt at the altar of prayer. It is confidently believed that those who sought the Lord in this meeting became prominent defenders of truth and righteousness in after years. It is well to state that the location of this camp meeting was in a grove of mesquite trees two miles south and three-quarters of a mile west of Tempe on land belonging to Mr. Niels Petersen, who was a charter and honored member of the Methodist Church at Tempe, and its most liberal supporter. Protracted meetings were held in several of the towns and mining camps with varying degrees of results. A number of lots were bought and paid for in some of the settlements. One church was set upon its foundation, enclosed with windows and doors, and considerable grading was done about the building. Much of this work was performed by Mr. Reeder himself, with his own hands. During his stay in Arizona, Mr. Reeder delivered, besides many addresses and lectures, four hundred and twenty sermons. He traveled no less than 14,000 miles by the various means then in vogue; on foot, mule, burro or horseback, buckboard, twelve-mule freighter, stage, rowboat, ocean steamer, and cars. Nor were all of these labors and sacrifices offered to Moloch, for the light of a glorious Gospel of the Lord Christ had been lifted up throughout all of this broad Territory by sermons, lectures, testimonies, and especially by the life of this cultured, consecrated Christian gentleman.

Rev. D. B. Wright, the fourth Methodist missionary to appear upon the scene of activity in the work of the church, was a member of the conference. He arrived in Arizona about the time that Mr. Reeder, whose health had failed, was leaving for his home in Berea, Ohio. Mr. Wright was placed in charge of the work in Prescott. Upon his arrival in this growing town, he set himself to work to more firmly establish the enterprise that had already been started. The church building, which had been acquired from the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, was not finished. Mr. Wright proved himself a consecrated, energetic and patient workman for the kingdom. He remained on this work six years, adding the finishing touches on the church building, and, like his predecessor, doing most of the work with his own hands. The Presbyterian Church, being without a pastor, very cordially united in the public worship with the Methodists, and the work progressed harmoniously for some time. Prescott, being very closely associated with Fort Whipple, the population was made up in part of the officers and their families and men of the army. These officers and many of the men belonged to a highly intelligent class, and were quite indifferent to the cause of religion. Pastor Wright and Chaplain Gilmore most harmoniously cooperated in the work for the promotion of the cause that was dear to both of them.

An Infidel Doctor. One of the physicians of the town, who had a very large practice both in the town and in the surrounding country, was known as a pronounced infidel. Notwithstanding this fact, the doctor was always careful to call upon Mr. Wright to visit any of his patients who were critically ill and not likely to live. One day Mr. Wright made bold to ask this infidel doctor why it was that he, a pronounced disbeliever in religious matters, was so much interested in having the minister of the gospel visit his dying patients. The doctor frankly replied that, while he did not believe as the preacher did, he thought a dying man had a little better chance in going into eternity that way than in going any other way.

Journey to the Field. Although Arizona was a home mission field, it took a vast amount of both time and effort to reach this field. When the Bishop appointed Mr. Wright to Arizona, the missionary was advised to go to his field of labor by boat. Accordingly, he started out from New York May 9, by the steamer Colon. On May 16 they reached Kingston, Jamaica, Where Mr. Wright landed and made a friendly visit with the English Wesleyan Methodist missionary Mr. Smyth. After a brief sojourn here, Mr. Wright again boarded the steamer and resumed his journey. In due time, he reached Panama. Here, our Missionary took another steamship and, on June 11, he reached San Francisco. Here, the passengers were transferred to another boat by the name of Newburn. (This vessel had seen service in the Civil War under the name of the United States.) On their way along the coast to Point Isabel, the Captain put on a Fourth of July celebration in mid-ocean, for the entertainment of the passengers. This experience, the passengers very greatly enjoyed. At Point Isabel, the passengers were transferred to a Colorado steamer for Ehrenbergh. From this last named place, Mr. Wright proceeded by that almost indispensable means of travel in that early day, the buckboard, towards Prescott, where, after three days and nights of continuous travel through hostile Indian country, he arrived on July 22. It was in Prescott that Mr. Wright met Superintendent Reeder and Chaplain Gilmore for the first time. It should be stated that in all, Mrs. Wright, who is described as a woman of unusual culture and refinement, shared her husband's lot in labor and sacrifice, and contributed her share in the Masters' work. Besides the regular work of the pastorate already alluded to, these three men, with true Methodist zeal of the times, joined forces and made their way south over one of the most difficult mountain roads to be found, and the rest was over a desert road to Phoenix. They crossed the Salt River at what was, at that time, called Haydens Mills, now known as Tempe. This was a grist mill owned by Charles T. Hayden, father of Hon. Carl Hayden, afterwards elected United States Senator from Arizona. These pioneers continued their journey south for two miles and then turned west for the distance of about half a mile, to a mesquite grove where they proceeded to arrange their camp, and where they were joined by Rev. Charles H. Cook, previously mentioned in these sketches. Here, they started their meetings, and continued for two weeks with the success already alluded to.

Rev. J. J. Wingar was the fifth Methodist minister to arrive in Arizona and engage in work. Leaving his home in Kansas, June 26, 1877, in his covered wagon, with his family, he proceeded on his way over roads that in places were almost impassable, through sections where provisions were scarce and hard to get, even at great expense. To add to their discomfort, their road led through a country infested with war-mad Apaches, who were at that time robbing and murdering travelers without mercy. That this Missionary and his family escaped bodily harm is remarkable. After enduring these experiences, together with heat and, at times, cold, wet and dry seasons, almost unendurable for nearly three months, this intrepid soldier of the Cross arrived in Prescott on September 18, 1877. Here, Mr. Wingar remained with his family until February, 1878. There being no superintendent on the ground, the mission board sent him to Florence. He entered upon his work promptly. He gathered a group of children and young people together and organized a Sunday school and conducted services regularly until the following July when, on account of the influx of people who were employed in the Silver King mine, Mr. Wingar moved the base of his operations to Pinal, formerly known as Pickets Post, but later known as a point in the vicinity of the prosperous mining town of Superior. Here, he organized a Sunday school and held preaching services which he continued until June, 1879. A very vivid portrayal of conditions in this camp has been left us in the following account.

At Pickets Post or Pinal were four stores, a half dozen saloons, one church, tents, shacks and various other dwellings for the inhabitants. The male population of the camp was composed of miners from the coast, most of whom had lost all interest in religion. Some of them had, in their early life, been Christians. Not a few had been Methodists. Many of them had been members of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. Only a few of the children had enjoyed the advantage of Sunday school. It can be readily seen from this description that the organization of Sunday schools and the carrying on of Church services was indeed a new departure to many of the population of these and many other mining camps like it. Mr. Wingar not only did pioneering in starting Sunday school work in Florence and Pinal, but, while prosecuting the work at Pinal, he heard of the flourishing mining district of Globe and determined to visit that field and start the work of the kingdom there also. Accordingly, in the month of June, Mr. Wingar started out on foot; following the trail over the Pinal mountains, he walked the distance of thirty-five miles to the town of Globe, arriving there late Saturday evening. The next day, Sunday, he took steps towards the organization of a Sunday school and preached to the people who had assembled together. The next day, Monday, this energetic missionary returned to his home in Pinal by the same means of transportation, on foot (by which he had come the Saturday before). Not a small achievement to walk seventy miles and hold services in three days!

Rev. M. M. Bovard. In this pre-organization period of the Mission, one fact that should be recorded. In the year 1873, Rev. M. M. Bovard, who had recently graduated from De Pauw University, was chosen for work in Arizona with the thought, it seems, that he was to take over the Superintendency of the Mission, thus relieving Mr. Reeder, whose health was being undermined by the strenuous life required of one in that position, with its attendant hardships, exposures and accompanying danger from the dreaded Apaches. Mr. Bovard, immediately upon receiving his appointment, left his home in the East and started for his new field of labor. After the long and tedious journey by railroad, he arrived in San Bernardino. Here, he received the information that stage travel had been suspended, that the Apaches were on the war-path. This fact and the consequent circumstances were communicated to the Missionary Society, and Mr. Bovard was given permission to remain in Southern California and take work in that Conference. The brilliant record which he has left in this Conference as minister, organizer, and educator, and first President of the University of Southern California are matters of common knowledge.

Chapter II

The Organization

In the spring of 1879, while Dr. George H. Adams was in the east raising money to pay off a debt on one of the churches in Colorado, Bishop Matthew Simpson met him in the city of Philadelphia and, in the course of their conversation, the Bishop approached the subject of the Arizona Mission and proposed that Dr. Adams take the superintendency of that mission. The energy manifested and the success that had attended the Doctor's efforts in some of the important charges which he had held in Illinois and later in Colorado, and his achievement as Presiding Elder for twelve years were no doubt important factors which led the Bishop to fix upon him as a suitable person to carry forward this important enterprise in Arizona. Bishop Simpson did not require an immediate answer but told the Doctor he might have a few days in which to consider the proposition. In the course of a few days, Dr. Adams called upon Bishop Simpson and laid his plans before him. He told the Bishop of the particular work that he had in hand and that he felt that he must prosecute that work a little further before it would be wise to give it into other hands. The Bishop assured Dr. Adams that he would hold the appointment to the Arizona Mission open for him for a year, if necessary. After working on his problem in Colorado until July, Dr. Adams left Philadelphia, stopped off in Colorado, made his report to the Conference then in session, and proceeded with Mrs. Adams to Arizona.

Tour of Inspection. They reached Yuma Sept. 3, 1879, after a journey close to 5,000 miles across the continent from New York to San Francisco, then by way of the Southern Pacific. The trip was ended with a stage ride of forty hours' duration, including no stop for sleep, at Prescott on September 5. Except for some degree of weariness on the part of Mrs. Adams, according to the Doctor's report, they were both in excellent health. In Prescott, they found Rev. D. B. Wright with his accomplished wife, where they had been laboring for about five years. After two or three days of rest, Dr. Adams started out on a tour of inspection in order to acquaint himself with his prodigious parish. This first trip was of unusual interest; it consumed about a month in time and required nearly one thousand miles of travel in distance; all but about fifty miles of which was done by stage, including thirty miles over the Pinal Mountains on the back of a mule over a narrow and, in some places, quite precipitous mountain trail. He records, wherever he went, he met with a most cordial reception at the hands of the people, who, although not religious, were anxious to hear the gospel. These people were not impervious to the truth, nor were they half so bad as their rough western exterior would indicate. There had been a very marked change in conditions in the nine years that had intervened between the arrival of the first superintendent, Mr. Reeder, and the second, Mr. Adams.

Tombstone. An interesting account is given of the service held at Tombstone on this first round of his Territory wide parish. Tombstone is located seventy-five miles east of Tucson in the very heart of the silver mining region, the activity of which at that time in that camp gave promise that it would some day become a large and flourishing city. Dr. Adams arrived in the camp at four o'clock on the morning of Tuesday, October 7, 1879. It was a memorable day, not only because it was his first visit to the town, but also because of the business transacted and the first religious service ever held in the place. By ten o'clock of the same day, the Tombstone town's site company had permitted the Doctor to pick out a lot for a church building, and, when all of the necessary arrangements had been made for the erection of the edifice, he announced that he must preach to the people that evening, as he was under the necessity of leaving town by the stage early the next morning. Accordingly, a few notices were devised and posted in conspicuous places throughout the town, and the question arose as to the location where the meeting was to be held. A Jewish merchant, who was just completing a building in which he was soon to open a dry goods store, offered his unfinished building for the purpose. There were no floor nor windows in the building. In their enthusiasm for the novelty of having a religious meeting in the town, a number of the townspeople got together and brought in some planks and improvised a number of seats. A few candles were brought in at the hour for meeting and one kerosene lamp was procured. Three women were present in one corner of the building to assist in the singing. Aside from these, the congregation was made up entirely of men, only one of whom made any pretension to a religious life. The hour for the services arrived, and the few seats immediately in front of where the speaker was to stand were quickly filled. In some of the space back of the seats, the men sat on the ground. The doorway was crowded and the windows were filled with those eager to see and hear what the speaker might have to say. And still they came until the street in front of the building was filled with a great concourse of people. By the light of the small flickering kerosene lamp and the few candles, the Missionary conducted one of the most remarkable religious services in all of his eventful career. There were but two small hymn books in the town, which were used by the women and two men who assisted in the singing. As the services were opened, every hat was removed from the bushy unkempt heads in an instant. Every eye was instantly fixed upon the speaker while he read from the Scripture. He then asked them to sing old Coronation, as he repeated verse after verse of the old hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name." All who had not forgotten it or who had heard it before, joined heartily in the service of praise. After prayer, Dr. Adams preached with unusual power of utterance. In the course of the sermon, the preacher reminded his audience of their early training, the home life of other days, the religious associations of their childhood; he urged his audience by the memories of the past, the examples of their fathers and the prayers of their mothers and the love of the Saviour, to assert their manhood and to resist the evil influences around them. The audience listened with eager, almost breathless attention, throughout the entire discourse. Clad in their miners' garb, as they quit their day's work, they sat or stood, every eye fixed and every ear strained in intensity as they listened to the end of the discourse. It was a thrilling experience. At one point in the sermon, when the speaker was reminding his audience of their mothers' prayers and Sunday school influence from which they came, one of the men stepped out in front and, offering his hand to the preacher, said, "That is me you are talking about." The speaker paused and, taking the proffered hand, he exhorted the man to proceed with the work of reform. The Missionary proceeded with his address to the close, and then the congregation sang the hymn, "Rock of Ages Cleft for Me." Thus, the first religious service in the afterwards notorious town of Tombstone came to a close. The congregation crowded around the speaker and grasped his hand, expressing their thanks for the message of the hour in terms and looks which betokened the depth of emotion which they felt in their souls. Having concluded this memorable day's work, Dr. Adams left to continue his journey on a visit of inspection to other towns and camps of his wide parish.

The Second Year. Dr. Adams' superintendency shows that six missionaries were working in the field, with Phoenix and Camp Verde added to the list. One of the principal obstacles in the way of progress of the work was the difficulty in getting missionaries to man the charges. Besides the two appointments mentioned above, the value of church property had been enhanced to the amount of $15,000. One very important item on the list of expansion of the work was the securing of a fine corner lot, one hundred thirty-eight feet by one hundred fifty feet, in one of the best localities of the town of Tucson. It is reported that in a year's time the property increased in value from $500 to $2,500. At this time, the Methodists were worshipping in the Presbyterian Church, the use of which had been granted for one-half the time.

Globe City had a year of great prosperity under the pastorate of Rev. J. J. Wingar. A new church had been built, costing $3,500. This pastor, like not a few others of his co-laborers in this field, demonstrated his versatility by soliciting subscriptions, superintending the construction and laboring with his own hands in the erection of this edifice. Surely such men "make substance things hoped for." Mrs. Clinton B. Fisk, wife of General Clinton B. Fisk, endeared herself to the people of Globe, not only by her generous gifts but by herself soliciting gifts for this enterprise from her friends in the East. The church was dedicated November, 1880, the indebtedness, amounting to $1,000, being raised with a nice margin. The Sunday school was prospering and gave good promise of its future possibilities.

Prescott, which had enjoyed the distinction of being the only Methodist organization in the Territory having a church edifice, was greatly prospered, and the building underwent some needed repairs. A parsonage was built, much of the interior painting on the structure being done by Mrs. Adams while they occupied the parsonage, as the Doctor was serving as pastor of the Prescott church and also superintending the Mission. This he was able to do by using such assistance as was available, in the person of the chaplain from Fort Whipple and lay preachers who resided in the city.

The Church Advances and takes on a much more hopeful aspect. The construction of the Southern Pacific Railroad made a vast improvement in the accessibility in the southern part of the Territory, and ushered in a new era of progress in the opening up and settlement of this vast and varied region. An asset to this progress was the vigor which the Superintendent was putting into his work. During the first fifteen months of his administration, he spent only thirty-two days at his home, the remainder of the time having been occupied in traveling from place to place, looking after the many interests which fell to his lot as administrator of the church activities. It will be remembered that, when Dr. Adams entered upon his duties, there was only one Methodist Church within the bounds of the whole territory; that was at Prescott. During the first half of the year 1880-1881, two edifices were completed, at Globe City and at Tombstone. During the last half of the year, three more buildings were added to the list, at Phoenix, Pinal and Tucson, all of which were substantial, neat, commodious and, withal, well suited to the needs of the communities where they were located. The value of church property had now reached the sum of $35,000, which was nearly twice as much as was owned by all of the other Protestant denominations. The outstanding event, as it is related to Arizona Methodism, was the organization of what was to be known, for thirty-nine years, as the "Arizona Mission."

Rev. G. F. Bovard Appointed to Phoenix. While Methodism was begun in Prescott, from its very beginning the church in Phoenix began to assume the greater importance, and has continued to occupy that relation to the work down to the present time. It is, therefore, interesting to dwell somewhat in detail upon its organization. In the fall of 1880, Rev. George F. Bovard was appointed to the work in this thriving little town, but some temporary arrangement had been made with Judge Ivy H. Cox, a local preacher of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, to supply the Phoenix work, and he was actually engaged in that work in connection with Rev. Mr. Hedgepath of the Southern church in a building owned by that denomination. Consequently, when Rev. Mr. Bovard arrived in Arizona, the Superintendent sent him to Prescott temporarily. It so happened that when the Territorial legislature began its session early in 1881, that body chose Judge Cox as chaplain and notified the Judge to that effect. He hastened to the seat of the government and assumed his duties at once. This left the Phoenix Methodist work without a pastor. Dr. Adams immediately advised Mr. Bovard of the situation and appointed him pastor. An amusing incident is told by Judge Cox. When he reached Prescott, the superintendent of the Sunday school invited the Judge to speak to the Sunday school children. With his usual dignity and in his accustomed oratorical style, he stood up before the children and began his remarks by saying, "Your Honor." The inappropriateness of the address caused no little amusement, for all present.

Phoenix Church Organized. Mr. Bovard went immediately to Phoenix, to the great regret of the people of Prescott. Up to that time, there was no formal organization of our work in Phoenix, but, on January 11, a group of Methodists met at the home of Mrs. George Coates and Dr. Adams, who was present, took charge of the meeting and proceeded formally to organize the Methodist Episcopal Church of Phoenix. A committee was appointed to arrange for a regular place of meeting. The committee consisted of Father Coates, the father of George F. Coates, and Mr. Bovard. The place selected was a double adobe house located not far from the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Father Coates being a carpenter and Mr. Bovard being able to use a saw and hammer with considerable skill, they got some lumber, laid a floor and made seats sufficient to seat about one hundred people. By Saturday evening they were able to make their announcement, through the Phoenix paper, that services would be held on Sunday, January 16. A Sunday school was organized on the same day. Mr. Bovard then announced that services would be held every night following for two weeks. Mr. Bovard, while he preached every night, was fortunate in having several preachers in his congregation and, with their help, the revival meetings went on to a successful close. Among those who rendered valuable assistance were Rev. James B. Herer, Rev. O. S. Frambes and Rev. David B. Herritt. The results of the meeting were forty-nine accessions gathered in.

Building. Steps were taken immediately to secure a lot on the corner of Washington St. and Second Avenue, where the Ford Hotel was later erected. The lot cost $300. Mr. Bovard, being acquainted with surveying instruments, was able to locate the corner of the lot. Having accomplished this task, he proceeded to clear off the brush and to dig the trenches and otherwise to assist in laying the foundation; he also had general supervision of building the brick church which was thirty-six by fifty-two feet in size. The edifice having been completed, the dedicatory services were held, May 22. Dr. George H. Adams preached the sermon at 11 o'clock. In the evening, a praise service was held. Thus, the work in the new building was started with great enthusiasm. Mr. Bovard continued his pastorate at Phoenix with great acceptability until the last of August. When Mr. Bovard was appointed to the work in Arizona, it was the understanding that he was to stay there for one year only, as he had previously determined to finish his college course, and this seemed the auspicious time for him to begin that work. It is no uncommon thing for a pastor, upon leaving a charge, to preach a farewell sermon; but it was the unusual experience of Mr. Bovard to preach three farewell sermons. After the first farewell sermon, it was his plan to take the stage for Maricopa, but the Salt River had over-flown its banks, and it was impossible for him to get away. On the following Friday, he could have gone, but, in view of the fact that there was no preacher to take his place, the brethren persuaded him to stay over Sunday and to leave on Monday, so he preached another farewell sermon; Sunday night there was another awful downpour of rain; the next morning the river was impassable so he remained; about Saturday of that week he could have gone, but the brethren again persuaded him to stay over Sunday; following that Sunday, he said, "I will go whenever it is possible to cross the river," so he left the following Thursday.

Final and Florence were left to be supplied at the beginning of this year, but Rev. E. H. Brooks, who had been appointed to Globe, was transferred from that work to this charge. He carried on the work very successfully, especially the Sunday school.

Globe having been left without a pastor by the transfer of Mr. Brooks to Pinal and Florence, Rev. D. W. Calfee was appointed to Globe. Through his earnestness and energetic preaching, he attracted large congregations. While on this charge, he had the reputation, by his strong sonorous voice, of "delivering the gospel around to the homes of the residents of the city." Especially was this true in the summer evenings when the people were sitting on the porches of their houses. At this time, the Globe property was without debt, excepting $100.

Rev. B. F. Edwards, from the Kansas Conference, had been placed in charge of the work at Tucson and carried it forward with much success.

Chapter III

Organization of the Arizona Mission

The missionaries from the various charges within the bounds of the Territory of Arizona assembled in Tucson on the eighth day of July, 1881, and were entertained in the home of Governor Hughes. There being no edifice belonging to the Methodists, the Presbyterians gave them the use of their building for their meetings. The opening session of the annual meeting met at 9 o'clock. Bishop Thomas Bowman called the meeting to order, and the following ministers were present: Rev. G. H. Adams, superintendent; Rev. W. C. Green, Prescott; Rev. G. F. Bovard, Phoenix; Rev. E. H. Brooks, Globe; Rev. J. J. Wingar, San Carlos; Rev. W. G. Mills, Tucson; Rev. J. P. McIntire, Tombstone; Rev. G. M. F. Herritt, a local preacher of Phoenix. The meeting was opened by Rev. G. H. Adams reading the Scriptures. All present joined in singing a hymn, and prayer was offered. Rev. C. W. Green was elected secretary, and Rev. J. J. Wingar was elected statistical secretary. The following committees were elected:

Education—J. P. McIntire, W. G. Mills.
 Missions—J. J. Wingar, E. H. Brooks, G. H. Adams.
 Church Extension—G. F. Bovard, C. W. Green.
 Temperance—J. P. McIntire, G. J. F. Herritt, C. W. Green.
 Church Property—G. F. Bovard, W. G. Mills, J. J. Wingar.
 Sunday schools—W. G. Mills, G. M. F. Herritt.
 Book Concern Accounts—G. H. Adams.
 Benevolent Collections—J. J. Wingar.
 Periodicals—W. G. Mills, E. H. Brooks, J. P. McIntire.

Rev. G. H. Adams, superintendent, presented a report of the work throughout the Territory, which showed remarkable progress during the last two years. The report was listened to with careful attention and was ordered to be placed on file among the conference papers, to be preserved. The characters of the ministers were examined and passed as their names were called, and reports were made in detail of the condition of the work on their various charges. A communication from the editor of the California Christian Advocate to Bishop Bowman was read, and, on motion, it was referred to the committee on periodicals. On motion, the conference adjourned to meet at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, the hours for meeting and adjournment having been previously fixed at 9 a. m. and 12 a. m. respectively. The doxology was sung, and Rev. G. M. F. Herritt pronounced the benediction.

The second session of the Methodist Episcopal Church Conference was held Saturday, July 9, at the Presbyterian Church, Bishop Bowman presiding. The Conference was opened by singing, reading the scriptures and prayer by Rev. J. J. Wingar. The minutes of the previous session were read and, after some corrections, were approved. Rev. Mr. Hurd, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, was introduced to the Conference. After discussion as to the renewal of licenses of local preachers, the matter was left in the hands of the Quarterly Conferences. The report on Missions was presented and, after discussions by Reverends Adams, Mills, McIntire, Wingar and Bishop Bowman, was adopted. The report on church extension was presented and adopted. The report on periodicals was presented and adopted, "The California Christian Advocate" was recommended as the organ of the Mission. The report on temperance was presented and adopted, and a committee was appointed, consisting of Rev. G. H. Adams, Rev. J. J. Wingar and Rev. C. W. Green, to arrange for a temporary convention to be held in Phoenix some time in the month of April, 1882. A committee on camp meeting was appointed, consisting of Reverends J. P. McIntire, J. J. Winegar and C. W. Green. Reports on education and Sunday schools were presented and adopted. On motion, the conference adjourned, to meet at 2 o'clock p. m.

The conference met at 2 o'clock pursuant to adjournment, Bishop Bowman presiding. The conference opened with singing, and prayer was offered by Rev. G. M. F. Herritt. The minutes of the morning session were read and approved. A committee, consisting of G. H. Adams, G. F. Bovard and G. M. F. Herritt, was appointed to secure a permanent place for a camp meeting. A vote of thanks was passed to all the citizens of Tucson who had assisted in entertaining the members of the conference. A vote of thanks was extended to Bishop Bowman for his kind and able administration in presiding at the conference. Phoenix was selected as the place of the next annual meeting. On motion, the conference adjourned, to meet at 8 o'clock p. m., July 10.

On Saturday evening, a good sermon was preached by Rev. J. P. McIntyre of Tombstone, after which Bishop Bowman ordained Rev. E. H. Brooks to the order of deacon. Sunday morning, the conference love feast was held at 8:30, led by Rev. J. J. Wingar. It was a religious service of great interest and power, and was enjoyed by all. At 11 o'clock, Bishop Bowman preached a masterly sermon from the world, "For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ," which made a profound impression upon the congregation. At the close of the sermon, the Bishop ordained Rev. E. H. Brooks to the order of Elder. At 4 o'clock, the ministers held an informal meeting and discussed the best methods of church work on the frontier. Sabbath evening, the Bishop delivered a highly interesting lecture on missionary observations in India and Europe. He then addressed the conference feelingly in relation to their work, and proceeded to read the list of appointments, and the conference adjourned sine die.

The appointments were as follows:

Superintendent—G. H. Adams.
 Tucson—W. G. Mills.
 Tombstone—J. P. McIntyre.
 Globe City—E. H. Brooks.
 Pinal and Florence—To be supplied.
 Phoenix—G. F. Bovard.
 Prescott—C. W. Green.
 Verde—To be supplied.
 Tonto Basin—To be supplied.
 Safford and Clifton—To be supplied.
 San Carlos Reservation—J. J. Wingar.
 Agent Bible Society—D. W. Calfe.

With the drawing to a close of the first formal meeting of the Mission, the pastors turned to their tasks with new courage and determination to make the most of their opportunities. The new year upon which they entered was not without its toils and dangers, as well as its hardships and disappointments. Although the cruel Apache was not so much in evidence in the larger settlements, he was still abroad in the land, and, in certain localities, these pastor missionaries were frequently called to "take their places along with the other citizens of the community and, with gun in hand, stand guard through the night in protection of those to whom they were to preach the gospel on the coming Sabbath." (G. H. Adams.)

Rev. Joseph Berry at Tucson. No annual meeting of the Mission was held in the autumn of the year 1882. Consequently, the administration of the Mission was left entirely in the hands of the Superintendent, and, from the next available list of appointments, which was in the year 1883, there seems to have been almost an entire change throughout the Territory. One very important change, is the appointment on September 30, 1882, of Joseph F. Berry to Tucson. This appointment was made in part because of the health of the new pastor. In the superintendent's report to the next annual meeting of the Mission, in the year 1883, we read that Tucson has had a most gratifying period of prosperity under the pastorate of Rev. Joseph F. Berry. He is an excellent pastor and eminently successful in the administration of every department of the church. It is of much interest to the people of Arizona, and particularly of Tucson, to know that one of its early missionaries was afterwards elected to the Episcopacy and was, for a number of years, senior Bishop of the church.

Fresh Indian Uprising. This period of time was a season of trial and testing, particularly from the Indians previously alluded to. In one instance, when a camp meeting had been planned and the campers had reached their camp and were pitching their tents, a messenger rode into camp; the campers, warned of the approach of the Apaches, were compelled to break up their camp and travel in great haste by the light of the stars, with the savages only a few miles in their rear. On account of these dangers, immigration was greatly retarded, and business interests, as well as religious work, suffered depression; still, the population was growing slowly, and the church was more than keeping pace with the material development of the country. The church property had the conservative valuation of $40,000.

New Difficulties. Arizona was a hard field to fill. The cost of living always had been high, more than twice the cost of living in the East. The church membership was small, pastors had to live by faith in the people, and to work by faith in God. Many times the hands of the missionary grew weary, and his heart grew faint. It was at this time that the Superintendent writes that he and his few collaborators were encouraged to remain because they realized that they were the outposts of the church; the picket line on the frontier, with the great Methodist army standing behind them, and they felt that they had the sympathy and the support of Methodism. Thus, in the year 1884, the record of the work showed a checkered condition since the Territory came to be inhabited by the white man. For a long time, the interior was accessible to the outside world only by the most difficult and laborious means of travel; the burro and the mule teams came, then the buckboard and the old stage-coach. Finally, the iron horse was introduced, and then it was that the opening of the wide expenses of this rich and diversified territory assumed the proportions of a civilized state. Not only was there a gradual evolution in the vehicles and means of conveyance, but the roadways were undergoing a change from the precipitous mountain trails to the steel rails and, finally, to the smoothly paved roads of the present times. It should be of interest to know that, between the date of his arrival in Arizona in 1879, up to the time of the building of the railroad between Ashfork and Phoenix, Dr. Adams made forty-nine trips by stage between Phoenix and Prescott, and other points in the northern part of the Territory, in the prosecution of his work.

The Arizona Methodist. Besides his periodical visits to the different charges and outlying camps, Dr. Adams began publishing a four-page paper which was called the "Arizona Methodist," published quarterly each year. It was devoted to giving the news from the churches as well as articles of general interest, with an occasional sermon by Dr. T. DeWitt Talmage.

The Arizona Wesleyan University. One evening, Dr. Adams went into a Chinese restaurant in Phoenix and sat down for his dinner. Thinking of the needs of the Mission, the idea came to him that some provision should be made for higher education under the influence of the church. He resolved to take steps immediately to make plans at least for such a work for the future. He remembered that there was a woman of his acquaintance who had a ten acre tract of land just west of Phoenix, which he believed she would be willing to sell. Accordingly, the next day, he called up and asked if she would sell her little ranch and what would be the price. He found her willing to sell for a hundred dollars per acre. Dr. Adams immediately had a contract drawn up and made a down payment. He then started out among his friends and acquaintances to raise the one thousand dollars. He met with some encouragement and proceeded to give his own note for the balance of the money not raised. Articles of incorporation were drawn up by a competent lawyer, and a board of directors was constituted, and thus the enterprise was auspiciously started. Among the names of those who were members of the board of directors of this infant institution, we find George H. Adams, William Christy, Henry E. Kemp, G. L. Pearson, B. N. Pratt.

In the early or middle eighties, the Board concluded that the time had arrived for opening the school. Accordingly, the Rev. O. S. Frambes and his accomplished wife were placed in charge, and the place selected for holding the classes was the First Methodist Episcopal Church building. Forty students were enrolled, and the school work was prosecuted, beginning Nov. 15, 1886 and continued to the last of May, 1887, but it was soon discovered that the building was altogether inadequate for such work, and it was decided to suspend further operations until a better place could be procured. The periods of depression following so quickly upon those of prosperity caused constant delay in inaugurating any campaign for the building of a suitable structure in which to house such an enterprise, and so the years passed on, and no further move was made in that direction. In the meantime, the Territory went forward in the work of education, both in providing for public schools, not only for the lower grades, but for high schools, and even for a university and normal school-work. Thus the necessity for a church school became less obvious. The Mission, however, continued the Board of Directors in existence and kept the property intact, together with certain funds, consisting of a few thousand dollars still, looking forward to a time when the occasion might arise when a university might be needed.

Finally, after the lapse of nearly forty years, Arizona and, particularly, Phoenix had become a great health resort. From lack of accommodations for the scores and hundreds of sick people who needed care, the idea of a hospital under the auspices of the Methodist Church began to make a strong appeal to the Methodist constituency, and a building located in the same block with the First Methodist Church was secured. A few nurses under deaconess management were provided. It was not long before their quarters were found to be entirely inadequate, and those who had charge began to cast about for larger accommodations. The Methodist Episcopal Church, South had purchased five acres of land some years before in the northeastern part of the city, for a camp ground. They had been using this for camp meetings year after year, but the city of Phoenix kept making encroachment upon the camp ground. Streets were opened up in that vicinity. Paving had to be done, water mains had to be laid and the other necessary improvements which follow in the wake of a growing and expanding community had to be made. The heavy tax upon the camp ground association was altogether greater than it could bear. By a happy move of real statesmanship, the two Methodisms came together, and, by joining forces, the burden was lifted from the camp meeting association, and the Deaconess Association purchased the camp ground, thus providing more adequate room for the expansion of the hospital. The directors of the Arizona Wesleyan University came to the assistance of the hospital by the sale of the university grounds to the city of Phoenix, for a city park, and the proceeds were donated to the hospital association with the idea that this would furnish a place which, in some measure, would carry out the purpose of education in the training of nurses and help to care for the sick.

The Second Meeting of the Mission. The second annual meeting of the Mission was held on Dec. 21 to 23, 1883, in the town of Tucson. Bishop Edward G. Andrews presided at the conference, and David McFawn was elected secretary of the meeting. The regular business of the conference was transacted. The report of the various standing committees were read and revealed an unusual interest in the general work of the church and activities of the work in Arizona. The report of the Superintendent fully set forth the difficulties of the field, but, notwithstanding all of these, there was a fine spirit of optimism that revealed a great faith in God and man, and in the unexplored resources of the great empire which he and the little band of devoted missionaries were seeking to win and to hold for the Lord Christ. The statistical reports showed some increase in the number of probationers, in the number of baptisms and in the value of church property. There was, however, a falling off in the number of full members. The appointments, as read at the close of the meeting, were as follows: Superintendent George H. Adams; Globe, William George; Phoenix, G. L. Pearson; Pinal, D. W. Calfee; Tombstone, David McFawn; Tucson, J. W. Robinson; the remaining eight charges in the list were left to be supplied by the Superintendent as early as possible in the year.

Third Meeting of the Mission. In 1884, the Mission met in Phoenix, October 9 to 13. Bishop Cyrus D. Foss presided, and David McFawn was reelected Secretary. The reports of the committees were read, and the regular business of the Mission was transacted. The report of the Superintendent was read, and it represented the work. There had been no marked change in the work; the missionaries had been faithful. The report bore the usual marks of hope and courage that had been shown in the previous reports. There were some changes in the list of appointments. Flagstaff and Holbrook were united and placed under the pastoral care of Rev. J. T. Pierce; Globe received J. W. Johnson; D. W. Calfee was appointed to Phoenix; George L. Pearson was appointed to Prescott Circuit. This appointment was made in order to conserve the health of Mr. Pearson. J. W. Robinson was reappointed to Tucson. The statistical report remained very much as it was the previous year. For the years 1884, 1885, 1886, 1887, 1888 and 1889, so far as the standing committees' reports were concerned, they were all in due form and recorded no very important variation. The Superintendent's report canvassed the field very much as previous reports had done.

Fourth Meeting. For the year 1885, the charges which received pastors were as follows: George H. Adams was continued as Superintendent; Flagstaff and Holbrook, James G. Eberhart; Globe, J. T. Pierce; Nogales appears on the list for the first time, and David McFawn was appointed pastor; Phoenix, D. W. Calfee; Pinal, F. W. Johnson; Prescott, N. L. Guthrie; Tombstone, George L. Pearson; Tucson, F. W. Downs. The charges on the list which were left to be supplied were as follows: Benson, Clifton, Phoenix Circuit, Prescott Circuit, St. Johns and Tonto Basin.

Fifth Meeting. 1886 appointments were as follows: Superintendent, George H. Adams; Benson and Clifton to be supplied; Flagstaff and Holbrook, N. L. Guthrie (No. Nebr.); Globe, D. W. Calfee; Mineral Park, to be supplied; Nogales, David McFawn (Detroit); Phoenix, to be supplied; Phoenix Circuit, O. S. Frambes (So. Cal.); Pinal, J. H. Gill (Colo.); Prescott, J. G. Eberhart; Prescott Circuit and St. Johns, to be supplied; Tombstone, G. L. Pearson (Detroit); Tonto Basin, Wilcox and Yuma Verde were left to be supplied; Tucson, F. W. Downs.

The list of appointments for 1887 was as follows: Superintendent, George H. Adams; Clifton, to be supplied; Flagstaff, N. L. Guthrie (No. Nebr.); Globe, F. W. Downs; Holbrook, Kingman, Pinal, St. Johns, Tonto Basin, Yuma Verde and Tucson were left to be supplied; Nogales and Benson, J. H. Gill (Colo.); Phoenix, N. F. Norton (Upper Iowa); Prescott, J. G. Eberhart (Rock River); Tempe, O. S. Frambes (So. Cal.); Tombstone, G. L. Pearson (Detroit); Wilcox, E. K. Crew (Colo.).

The list of appointments for the year 1888 was as follows: Superintendent, George H. Adams; Benson and Wilcox and Bisbee, J. A. Crouch; Flagstaff, N. L. Guthrie (No. Nebr.); Globe, F. W. Downs (So. Illinois); Holbrook and Kingman, to be supplied; Phoenix, N. F. Norton (Upper Iowa); Prescott, G. L. Pearson (Detroit); Tempe, G. H. Gill (Colo.); Tombstone, J. G. Eberhart (Rock River); Tucson, A. H. Gunnet (Missouri); Yuma, to be supplied.

While Brother J. A. Crouch was a student at the University of Southern California he was taken very ill. While he measurably recovered, the continued recurrences of his trouble for some time, made it seem very unwise for him to continue his studies. This led him to seek the healthful climate of Arizona. Accordingly taking the agency for a book and being assigned to work in the Territory he proceeded to Phoenix. Here he met Colonel William Christy, a prominent member of the Methodist Church of that city, and Brother Crouch having been acquainted with the Colonel's two sons at the university a very cordial friendship sprung up between these new acquaintances. With his characteristic hospitality the young student book agent was made abundantly welcome in the Christy home.

Whenever the pastor of the Phoenix Church was absent from his pulpit the young U. S. C. student was cordially welcome to fill the pastor's place. His earnest zeal and enthusiastic evangelism were greatly appreciated by the congregation.

It was not to be wondered at that when the Colonel met Superintendent Adams that he gave a very fine recommendation of young Crouch.

When the meeting of the Mission arrived in the autumn Brother Crouch was appointed to the Wilcox and Benson charge, and took hold of the work with great enthusiasm. When Crouch arrived in Wilcox the only male member of his church to whom he had a letter of introduction greeted him cordially and one of the first questions he asked was: Are you married? Crouch answered that he was not. The man replied: "I am sorry. I advised Dr. Adams not to send us a single man. I am sorry he did not take my advice."

When Brother Crouch had been on the charge about three months he received a message from Dr. Adams requesting him to meet him in Benson at a certain time. He complied with the request and in reply to the inquiry as to how much money he had received since he came on to the charge the new pastor replied he had not received any. With his usual promptness of action and business like manner, Dr. Adams started out and in a couple of hours returned and placed one hundred and fifty dollars in Brother Crouch's hands.

A few days after this incident Crouch started for a brief visit in the East. While on this visit the young preacher was married and soon returned to Wilcox with his young bride.

It is needless to say that he was the recipient of many many messages of congratulations. Superintendent Adams was in Denver when he heard the news and contrary to Crouch's expectation instead of felicitations upon the happy event the Doctor administered a scathing rebuke, citing the fact that the Discipline was very explicit on that matter, that a young preacher should not take so important a step as marriage without first consulting his Presiding Elder or Superintendent.

Brother Crouch assured him that while he had written to his intended's father for his consent, when he saw Dr. Adams last he had received no reply from the old gentleman and of course when he started on his mission to the east he was far from being sure of the consummation of the important event. Whether this explanation fully satisfied the Doctor or not he later returned and sent his very much belated felicitations.

No Home Mission field ever opened such an opportunity for varied service as did Arizona in its early history. Besides preaching, pastoral work and holding of revival meetings on account of the sparsely settled communities and the wide stretches between neighbors it was no uncommon thing for the early settlers to suffer for want of medical care and attention. One such instance will serve to illustrate this kind of work.

When J. A. Crouch was paster of the Gila Bend circuit his widely scattered appointments and parishioners necessitated much travel. One night when he was returning home, seeing a light off to the side of the road in a lonely shack, he was moved to stop and inquire concerning the occasion of light at that unseasonable hour. Upon entering the shack in response to his knock he found the only occupant lying in bed in great distress. Having suffered himself from respiratory troubles he was not long in concluding that the poor man was threatened with some serious form of lung trouble. With his usual promptness of action, Brother Crouch brought in wood and made a fire, heated water and proceeded to apply the customary treatment that had proven so successful in his own experience. This done, he watched by the sick man's bedside until the crisis had passed and the man was in a fair way towards recovery. Months after this incident, one day when he was in a public gathering, a man approached our missionary and assured him, after inquiring if his name was not Crouch. Upon being assured that it was, the man grasped the preacher's hand with great cordiality and assured him that he owed his life to him and then reminded him of the kindly treatment that he gave him in the lonely shack on the desert by the highway.

Many other instances might be cited of the helpful ministry of this consecrated man. Nor was the missionary alone in his devotion and practical ministry. Mrs. Crouch was as thoroughly devoted to such work as was the minister.

Nor was their ministry confined to the white people of the communities where they served. The distressed among the Mexicans and Indians shared in these helpful ministries as time and strength would permit during his entire public ministry which covered a period of thirty-six years. Eight years of this time were devoted to work among the Yuma Indians whom he served in a manner which scope included not only teaching the precepts and practice of religion but health and sanitation, advice in regard to their business interests as it was related to their agricultural operations.

Nor was Mrs. Crouch in the least unmindful of the opportunities that opened themselves to her so far as housekeeping operations of the women of the tribe were concerned. The use of the sewing machine and such other appliances as they might be able to secure they were taught to use.

Not a few times by his zeal for their welfare Brother Crouch laid himself liable to violent personal harm as he sought to defend the financial interests of these poor Indians against their crafty and avaricious neighbors who lived near the reservation. A detailed account of these activities would enlarge this account beyond the allotted scope of this narrative.

The list of appointments for the year 1889 was as follows: Superintendent, George H. Adams; Benson and Wilcox, N. L. Guthrie (No. Nebr.); Bisbee and Clifton, to be supplied; Flagstaff, G. H. Gill (Colo.); Gila Bend, J. A. Crouch; Globe, N. F. Norton (Upper Iowa); Holbrook and Kingman, to be supplied; Phoenix, D. F. Howe (Illinois); Prescott, G. L. Pearson (Detroit); Tempe, F. W. Downs (So. Ill.); Tombstone, C. F. Spray (Ind.); Tucson, A. H. Gunnett (Missouri); Yuma, to be supplied. During the closing period of the superintendency of Dr. Adams, the discipline requirement that, when a Methodist Church South was already in the field and doing the work of that particular field, the Methodist Episcopal Church should not enter, was particularly regarded. In reviewing the lists of appointments, it will be noted that Nogales was dropped from the list after the year 1887 on account of the above ruling.

Tempe Organized. During the same year, Supt. Adams, realizing that the time had arrived for opening work of the church in the town of Tempe, sought an interview with the Presiding Elder of the Methodist Episcopal Church South in regard to this particular field. In course of the conversation, it was definitely agreed that the Methodist Episcopal Church should be responsible for the work in Tempe, and that the other church would remain out. Contrary to this agreement, to quote the exact words of Dr. Adams, "The hammers of the carpenters who built the Tempe church had no sooner ceased to ring than the representative of the South church came into town and negotiated for the purchase of a lot about three blocks distant, after which he set to work to build a church on the newly acquired lot. There was no little indignation among the townspeople when these facts were made known, but it was then too late for the Methodist Church to withdraw, and, under the circumstances, it was not its place to do so. However, these two churches continued to work with more or less harmony for about twenty-five years, when the leading members of the Southern church, learning that the Methodist Episcopal Church was planning to seek a new location in a more strategic part of the city, and to construct a new plant, with a fine Christian spirit, gave up all of their former associations and church affiliations and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, where they have continued to work together with such splendid harmony that a stranger, coming among them, cannot distinguish those who were formerly members of the Southern church, and those who had always been members of the Methodist Episcopal Church. It should be noted that the first building erected for the worship of the Tempe Church was constructed during the pastorate of Rev. O. S. Frambes. This genial and capable man was so versatile that he seemed to fit into any position. Not only in the pulpit and college classroom was his ability recognized, but, when occasion required, he could don his overalls, and, saw and hammer in hand, he could, as he did in the case of the Tempe Church, actually frame and construct the building of a church edifice. When the Tempe church had been so nearly completed that it could be used, a time for the dedication was fixed, and Rev. A. H. Gunnett came from Tucson, where he was pastor, and preached the dedicatory sermon, at the close of which Superintendent Adams took charge and managed the finances.

List of appointments for the year 1890.

For some time prior to the close of the year 1889, failing sight made it very evident that Superintendent Adams could no longer discharge the duties of his office. He sought medical advice both in the West and in the East, consulting the best specialists to be obtained, but no permanent relief was afforded or hope for the future given. While his sight did not fail entirely, yet it was so seriously impaired that he saw objects dimly. He was, therefore, relieved of the office of superintendent and took the retired relation in the Colorado Conference, of which he had been a member for years. Dr. Adams retained his residence in Phoenix and entered the field of life insurance, and for many years supported himself and his wife. Mrs. Adams was also blind for many years previous to her death.

George F. Bovard Third Supt. As a worthy successor to fill the office vacated by the retirement of Dr. Adams, Bishop Goodsell very happily selected George Finley Bovard, who, in the early days of the Mission, had so successfully managed the organization of the Church at Phoenix, attended to the selection and purchasing of the lot for the first edifice, surveyed the ground, with his own hands helped to clean off the brush, and dug the trenches for the foundation and then assisted the carpenters in the construction of the building. When the edifice was completed and dedicated, the energetic pastor proceeded to announce the beginning of a revival service following immediately after the dedication. This series of meetings, so auspiciously begun, continued for two or three weeks. At the close of that time, the pastor had the great joy of seeing forty-nine new members from among those who had been converted, or had been revived during the meetings, added to the church.

The appointment of Superintendent Bovard took place in October, 1890. An item in the California Christian Advocate of January 28, 1891, reads as follows: "Rev. G. F. Bovard, Superintendent of the Arizona Mission, writes very hopefully of his work. He was in the midst of a most blessed revival at Flagstaff; souls are finding Salvation every night. He has preached every day since January 3rd and expects to keep at it all the way round during the quarter. He could immediately place two more men in the field if he had $500."

The foregoing statement very fittingly characterizes Superintendent Bovard's work throughout his entire term of office. This fact is fully attested by the resolutions which were passed at the last quarterly conference before his term expired.

At the close of the conference year of 1896 to 1897, the appointments that were read by Bishop John P. Newman, who presided at the conference, were as follows: Superintendent, S. A. Thompson; Alhambra, supplied by G. B. Pratt; Flagstaff, C. P. Wilson (So. Cal. Conf.); Gila Bend, to be supplied; Glendale, supplied by W. T. Book; Globe, L. L. Rogers (So. Cal. Conf.); Kingman, J. M. Baxter (So. Cal. Conf.); Phoenix, E. D. McCreary (Cal. Conf.); Prescott, C. K. Jenness (Cal. Conf.); Safford and Solomonville, F. W. Downs (Cal. Conf.); Tempe and Masa, S. L. Guthrie (Prob. Central Ill. Conf.); Tombstone and Benson, David Roberts (So. Cal. Conf.); Tucson, E. R. Foley (New York East Conf.; White Hills, supplied by W. E. Blakely; Wilcox and Pearce, to be supplied; Williams and Ashfork, A. M. Gibbons (So. Cal. Conf.); Winslow and Holbrook (N. H. Bartlet) (So. Cal. Conf.; Yuma and Fortuna, supplied by J. A. Crouch (So. Cal. Conf.). Besides the changes that were made in the list of appointments, it should be noted that two of the brothers were received on trial, S. L. Guthrie and N. H. Bartlet. N. H. Bartlet was elected to and ordained a deacon, under the missionary rule. J. A. Crouch, a local deacon, was elected to the order of a local elder, and he was duly ordained to that office.

In Superintendent Bovard's report of the work of the Mission for the year 1895 he called attention to the fact that "located sixty miles north of Wilcox is Safford a very promising charge. It is located in one of the most fertile valleys of the Territory, through which the Gila Valley, Globe and Northern Railroad is building. On the first Sunday of the Conference year the new church was dedicated and the new pastor, Rev. David Roberts, of the Southern California Conference, was introduced to his parishioners. Brother Roberts has done most excellent work. The membership has been increased, the Sunday school interests have been advanced and the Church has been beautifully furnished at an expense of three hundred dollars, some local indebtedness has been paid and every department of the Church work has had faithful attention. In addition to doing regular station work in Safford, Brother Roberts has preached every Sunday afternoon in Solomonville, superintended two Sunday schools and taught two Bible classes. It is not to be wondered at that before the close of the year some ailment should be manifest. After about eight months of this arduous and faithful service, "heart trouble set in." It was not due, however, to overwork, neither was it due to the altitude, climate or diet, but wholly to the presence in his congregation of a charming young lady, cultured, Christian, a Methodist, who since September, the 3rd, has been known as Mrs. Roberts. 'It is not good for man to be alone'. Brother Roberts is in good health and reports all Benevolent assessments raised in full."

The happy event alluded to in Superintendent Bovard's report marked the commencement of the twenty-seven years of active service Brother Roberts gave in Arizona. The seven charges that he served received unmeasured good not only from the public ministry but also from the influence of the kindly disposition and genuine cordiality of this thoroughly good man.

Whether his appointment lay in the agricultural community or in a mining camp he ever kept in mind his one supreme business. While his parishioners were cultivating their fields their pastor was seeking to cultivate their spiritual natures. If his charge was a mining camp, while his members and parishioners were devoting their time in seeking the precious metal in the depths of the earth and storing it up in order to enhance their earthly possessions a hundred or a thousand fold, this man of God was devoting his thought and energy to the moral and spiritual welfare of his flock. The men and women, the boys and girls of his parish were his constant care.

One instance is worthy of special mention. In the year 1898 Brother Roberts was assigned to the work at Bisbee, a typical western mining town. He was sent there to lay the foundation of our work. One of the first tasks which confronted Brother Roberts was that of educating the people of the church to give. From the very beginning The Copper Queen Mining Company with high minded generosity provided a hall and paid a preacher to come and hold services in the town. A benevolent design and well meant on the part of the company, but morally disastrous to the development of the people. Hence it was that the new pastor had to inculcate the Christian grace of giving to the Lord's cause. This was no easy task. It was no small triumph when we read in the report of the first year's work that the pastor had within two months after entering upon his work organized a society of nineteen members, secured a hall for meetings at an expense of ten dollars a month, where he held services three Sundays out of each month. The remaining Sunday he held services at Benson, a town some distance away. A lot was procured in Bisbee centrally located on the side of the mountain where it was necessary to build a heavy retaining wall at a cost of $800. These people, unaccustomed to giving to the church at the beginning of the year, had so far become schooled in this fine art as to have contributed nearly $1000 in cash for the good cause.

Without neglecting other work on his charge Brother Roberts might be truthfully called a boys' man. He had the happy faculty of gathering the boys of the community about him. He enjoyed their sports and was quite in his element when he was accompanying a group of Boy Scouts on some hiking and camping trip. Who can measure the colossal influence of such a devoted man upon a group of boys in the formative period of their life?

An Unusual Experience. It is expected of the superintendent of a mission that he visit the charges in his territory, hold the quarterly conferences, assist the pastor in revival meetings and look after the varied interests of the churches, but in the case of Superintendent Bovard there were an unusual number of exceptional experiences. One of these experiences occurred in the year 1895.

The quarterly conference for the Alhambra-Glendale charge was fixed for a certain afternoon and the superintendent called on the genial pastor of the Phoenix First Church to borrow his horse and buggy with which to drive to Glendale. The request was gladly granted and Dr. George L. Pearson, the pastor, hitched up the horse and smilingly wished the superintendent a safe journey and an early return. When Dr. Bovard started out the sun was shining and the air was just cool enough to be pleasant. He had proceeded only three or four miles on his journey when he was not a little startled by a loud roaring sound which seemed to be coming nearer and nearer. The explanation of the noise was soon apparent. To his great astonishment as he looked across the open space to the right of the road he beheld coming from the north a wall of water some three or more feet high sweeping down upon him. It broke upon him just as he was driving on to a bridge which ordinarily spanned a dry wash. When horse and buggy were completely on the bridge the flood lifted the whole structure, horse and buggy with our superintendent, and bore them all a short distance and in an instant all were struggling in the flood. With quick presence of mind Dr. Bovard reached for his knife and cut the straps of the harness. The horse, being liberated, swam to the embankment on the right-of-way of the Phoenix, Prescott and Santa Fe Railroad which ran parallel with the road and which had not yet received the cross ties and rails, and started off in the direction of Glendale. The superintendent, using the same kind of "horse sense", took refuge upon the same elevation. Unfortunately by the time Dr. Bovard reached the embankment the flood had cut a channel through the embankment and the horse was on one side of the crevice and the man was on the other side. The horse was rapidly disappearing in the direction of Glendale. To add to our superintendent's misfortune he had lost a perfectly good twenty dollar Chinchilla overcoat, carried away in the flood.

The situation was certainly perplexing but fortunately Dr. Bovard did not have to wait long for, looking in the direction of Glendale he saw a man approaching leading a horse. As he drew near he recognized Dr. Pearson's property. The man leading the animal was a Mexican and how he was to make him understand that he wanted that very horse was a perplexing question and how the two men were to get close enough to transfer the animal was a puzzle.

Dr. Bovard was not long in finding a solution to the problem. Holding a bright silver dollar in sight of the Mexican and by the use of motions and his imperfect use of the language he soon persuaded the Mexican to bring the horse around the cut in the embankment. This done, Dr. Bovard mounted the animal and started back to Phoenix.

But the night was fast approaching and there was no indication of the flood subsiding. Seeing a school house a short distance from the road the doctor decided to take refuge in it. He tied the horse to the hitching post and waded into the building. He soon found that he was not to be alone for two Mexican boys had already taken refuge in the school house. These three partners in distress were not long in getting acquainted and finding a good supply of wood at hand they made a fire in the stove and proceeded to dry their flood saturated clothing. Dr. Bovard made the boys feel quite at home by telling them that he was a padre and that they would have a good time together until the flood subsided.

After they had become somewhat comfortable the preacher was transformed into the school teacher and with chalk in hand he went to the blackboard and proceeded to ask the names of the various objects in the room and placing them on the board their interest was aroused and sustained during the evening. When he saw that the boys were getting sleepy they brought benches up to the stove and he made them as comfortable as possible while he took up his nocturnal vigil to keep the fire burning that they might not suffer any ill effects from the drenching that they had all received and the chill of the night.

When the morning dawned the boys went home and our superintendent mounted the horse and rode to Dr. Pearson's parsonage and reported the experiences of the previous day and night.

It was not an easy matter to find suitable garments in the parson's wardrobe with which to clothe this six-foot three modern Saul; however, after some searching, clothing was secured in which he could appear upon the streets of Phoenix. When Dr. Bovard arrived at the parsonage he proceeded to remove his water-soaked, adobe encased boots and in order to dry them as quickly as possible they were placed on the cook stove. When they were believed to be sufficiently dry the process of removing the mud was undertaken and along with the mud the soles of the boots came off also. This necessitated some new footwear. However, when the process of rehabilitation had been completed the superintendent and the pastor set out to recover the buggy that had been left at the scene of the wrecked bridge. After little delay the vehicle was recovered and returned to the parsonage.

No little interest was manifested in this unusual experience of the superintendent by the jovial pastor and his generous flock.

The man who later became the president of the University of Southern California was subsequently heard to remark that he learned more Spanish in that long-to-be-remembered night in that flood marooned Arizona school house from two Mexican lads than he ever learned before or after in the same length of time as a climax to the experience of cloud burst on the desert of Arizona.

By the foregoing list of appointments, it is clear that a change in the superintendency was already contemplated even before the meeting of the Mission began. In consequence of this fact, when the committee on resolutions made its report, after felicitating the Mission on account of the presence of Bishop Newman, after thanking the pastor and his people for the hospitable entertainment, the railroads for special rates to the missionaries and the press for accurate accounts of the proceedings of the various sessions of the meeting, the committee turned its attention to the contemplated change in the superintendency, and added the following resolution in regard to these two brothers: "Your committee desires to express, in the most emphatic manner, their appreciation and admiration of the high character, manly virtues and noble qualities of their retiring Superintendent, G. F. Bovard, M. A. We cordially bear witness to his fidelity to the trust placed in his keeping, and to the uniform Christian courtesy and kindness under all of the circumstances of his arduous and responsible office. He ever did his duty; he shirked no responsibility and hesitated at no personal discomfort; he has done a true man's work in a true man's way, taking upon himself cheerfully the censure of the thoughtless or evil disposed, if thereby, he might promote the welfare of his fellow men. His seven years of self-sacrificing work in the Territory have been fruitful; the seed sown will bear fruit while the Territory lasts. We will feel keenly his loss, we regret his removal, but recognize his need in other work and congratulate him upon his attractive prospects. May Heaven's choicest blessings rest upon him in his new field of labor. We welcome the new Superintendent, Rev. S. A. Thomson, to our homes and to our hearts, and pledge obedience and support to all just commands, trusting that, under his wise supervision, the work may advance along the whole line, to the honor and glory of the Great Master."

The new officers were introduced and spoke briefly.

Mr. Geiger directed the singing of familiar hymns.

A challenge to check up on personal satisfaction, with the thought of bringing one's self up to date in attitude and action, was contained in the address of Dr. Roy L. Smith, with the topic "Mistaken Good Men."

The meeting adjourned at five o'clock.

M. J. BICKNELL, Secretary Pro Tem.

FEDERATED AID MEETING

June 28, 1934.

Over 1700 women attended the Annual meeting of the Federated Woman's Aid of the So. Calif. Conference, on Thursday morning, June 28th, at 10:00 A.M., at the Presbyterian Church. The President, Mrs. C. F. Van de Water, presided. Mrs. R. A. Young, of Riverside, presented a very spiritual message at the devotional hour, using as a theme "Without Faith, it is impossible to please Him." Report of the welfare work of the Conference was given by the First Vice President, Mrs. L. C. Toney. Reports of the five districts were given, showing far-reaching results in the year's work under difficult times. A total number of members of the Woman's Aid is 15,314, total number of Aid Societies is 290, total calls made 239,940. Good Will bags 17,140, Bouquets 80,175, total receipts $117,306.83. One of the finest talks the Federated Aid has ever had was given by Dr. Frederick P. Woellner, whose subject was "The Next Step," stressing the need to keep the high ideals that are our tradition and to stay in the middle of the road. He brought out the thought that wrongs can be righted without wrecking the Ship of State. It was a most comprehensive address. Mrs. J. L. Matthews, Temperance Chairman, pointed out the things that had been promised at the last election in case of the repeal of the 18th Amendment, and how far these promises had failed of fulfilment. She said "A drunken Nation never would bring the millenium." Mrs. Watson, Acting Chairman of the Nominating Committee, nominated the following officers for the next year, all of whom were elected:

MINISTERS' WIVES ASSOCIATION

The activities of the Ministers' Wives Association for 1934 were varied in order that greater fellowship and unity within the Association might be accomplished. The Executive Board requested each District Superintendent's wife to apply the "Big Sister" plan to her district. Reports from a number of the women revealed very definite friendship gains.

The Annual Business Meeting was held Thursday evening at five o'clock in the Y.W.C.A. Mrs. W. A. Matson led a very impressive devotional period in which Mrs. George Warmer assisted with a vocal solo.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary and Mrs. John Gabrielson presented the treasurer's report as follows:

Balance on hand	$19.14
Dues received, 1934 session	13.15
Total received	$32.39

Check to Mrs. M. F. Holtzinger for flowers	2.00
Tax on 3 checks (including one to new treasurer) ..	.06
Total Disbursements	6.55
BALANCE ON HAND	$25.74

Mrs. George B. Cliff, our president, presented a Ministers' Wives Association pin which had been used in former years to help identify the ministers' wives. The motion was made and carried that a committee be appointed by the president to look into the matter of buying pins for the Association next year.

A bill for $2.00 for banquet decorations was presented by Mrs. H. K. Holtzinger and was ordered paid.

A discussion of plans for the coming year brought a number of suggestions and the motion was made and carried that the plans for Association activities be left with the Executive Board.

We then adjourned to the dining room for the Fellowship Dinner where provision had been made for the women to eat together without a program. At this time the ministers' daughters present (special guests of the evening), brides and newcomers to our conference were introduced. Mrs. James C. Baker, wife of our well-beloved Bishop, was presented.

Mrs. Luther A. Rice offered the report of the Resolutions Committee as follows:

1. We wish to express our deep gratitude to Almighty God for his care and guidance during the year and for bringing us together to enjoy this period of fellowship and inspiration.

2. We wish to thank our gracious hosts and hostesses, Dr. and Mrs. Richard N. Merrill and Rev. and Mrs. Douglass Ewan, and all others who again are extending fine courtesies and making our stay here pleasant and profitable.

3. We greatly appreciate the kindness of the Young Woman's Christian Association for allowing us the privilege of holding our business session in such pleasant surroundings.

4. We wish to express our heartfelt sympathy to the members of parsonage homes who have this year been saddened by the loss of loved ones. Those of our number who have answered the call are:

Mrs. J. N. Leach, Mrs. E. H. Baab, Mrs. J. W. Van Cleve, Mrs. George Finley Bovard, Mrs. W. H. Marks, Mrs. W. A. Swain, Mrs. C. S. Belknap, Mrs. J. E. Ferris, Mrs. P. H. Bodkin.

The memory of their friendship and faithfulness in service will remain a benediction to all who have known them. We recommend that the secretary be requested to send a copy of this resolution to each home of the deceased.

5. We compliment our president and her staff of officers whose program shows thought and understanding of our need of greater fellowship.

6. We anticipate with pleasure the privilege of the open forum to be led by Mrs. James C. Baker, whose friendliness and sympathetic counsel always add greatly to our meetings.

7. We wish to remember all ministers' wives who are unable to attend our meetings because of illness or responsibilities in the home, praying God's blessings upon them, and hoping they will be able to be with us next year.

8. Resolved, that we pledge ourselves individually to the support of the action taken by the ministers of the Conference against the social problems of our day.

Respectfully submitted,

Mrs. Luther A. Rice,
Mrs. C. Sumner Reynolds,
Mrs. Arthur L. Nagel.

The report of the Nominating Committee was given as follows:

President, Mrs. Frank Linder; Vice-President, Mrs. Kemp Winkler; Secretary, Mrs. Paul Huebner; Treasurer, Mrs. Frank Toothaker. Resolutions Committee: Mrs. Wilsie Martin, Chairman; Mrs. George Warmer; Mrs. George Richmire. Nominating Committee: Mrs. C. O. Kimball, Chairman; Mrs. E. W. Stricker, Mrs. L. J. B. Taber.

(Signed) Mrs. Ralph Lee, Chairman.

The Forum Period was held at 11:45 a.m., June 29, 1934. The meeting was opened by the singing of a hymn and Mrs. Cliff led in prayer.

The secretary was requested to send greetings from the Association to the following members who were reported to be ill: Mrs. R. R. Detweiler, Mrs. John N. Ashley, Mrs. R. B. Scott, Mrs. M. W. Bennett, Mrs. John Owall, Mrs. E. W. Stricker, Mrs. Thomas Grice, Mrs. George Steed.

Due to the crowded Conference program it was impossible to include a discussion hour. However, it was with a real sense of gratitude that we listened to the inspirational message brought to us by Mrs. James

C. Baker, who presented a real challenge to us as ministers' wives. In the face of changing social conditions and the breakdown of American home life in particular, she urged us to establish homes which would stand in the community for all that is highest and best, and to accept the responsibility which is ours for intellectual and spiritual leadership.

Friday afternoon, June 29, 1934, from three to five o'clock, Mrs. R. N. Merrill, our Conference Hostess, opened her home to us for a most delightful tea, affording us a much-to-be-desired opportunity for closer fellowship and acquaintance with one another. Vocal solos by Miss Mabel Anne Aaronson added much to our pleasure. We are deeply indebted to Mrs. Merrill for a most pleasant memory of the afternoon spent in her home.

Mrs. W. Alonzo Reynolds, Secretary.

FOREIGN AND HOME MISSIONARY MEETING

As usual Woman's Day at the Annual Conference was a high light in the week's interesting events. Mrs. Cora M. Cassill, Conference President of the W. F. M. S., was the presiding officer. An inspirational devotional service was in charge of Mrs. Will A. Betts, using the theme "Peace be Still." Mrs. Cassill gave an interesting talk on the year's work of the W. F. M. S. "Adventuring in Faith," all adventures resulting in added faith. Mrs. L. F. Sedgwick, Conference President of the W. H. M. S. reviewed the "Mended Roads" cared for during the year, and the Builders, such as David and Margaret Home, Frances DePauw Hospital, and others. Beautiful music was brought to the meeting by Miss Lillian Brandvig, Director of the Lyric Club, who presented the Club in three numbers. Mrs. C. F. Van de Water, President of the Conference Woman's Aid Federation, gave a summary of the work done by the Woman's Aid Societies of the Conference showing wonderful results for the year. Mrs. Byron H. Wilson gave a very spirited report of the work being done by the State Council of Federated Church Women and inspired all with the great future of the work of the Church women working together. The speaker of the afternoon was Dr. Roy Lamont Smith, who gave a splendid address on "Christianity—A Refuge or an Adventure." It was a message of courage, giving Christianity as a refuge for the individual and an adventure for the Race. He closed the meeting with prayer. Over 2500 women of Methodism attended the meeting which gave inspiration for the coming year.

"Whereas action of last year makes it imperative that we have three days of united sessions after one day of separate sessions of laymen and ministers, thus making it necessary to have matters strictly belonging to the ministers come before us today or else be deferred until after Friday,

Be it resolved that we go into executive session at two o'clock this afternoon, and that immediately thereafter we have the presentation of the candidates for admission in full connection, the bishop's address to the class and the formal reception of those voted admission.

Be it further resolved that otherwise the printed program be made the official schedule of the Conference and that items thus listed be made the order of the day for the various sessions at the hours named."

On motion of George A. Warmer, the resolution was amended to provide that the election of delegates to General Conference should not be held until after the discussion of the report of the Committee on Social Problems, and the discussion on the Memorials to the General Conference, thus permitting the Conference to know the stand taken by those who might be elected as such delegates.

The resolution as amended, was adopted.

Reception of Class into Full Membership: Bishop Magee addressed the class to be received into full membership in part as follows:

"I would like to talk to you for a little while, my young brothers, upon 'Realism and Idealism'."

"Life has a very genuine realism to it, but youth has a hard time to face realism.

"I was certain in the days of my youth that if any man did not accomplish a particular task, he was to blame and nobody else. I am not so sure of it today.

"Youth lives in the realm of hope and dream, in the realm of confidence that there are no restrictions placed upon personality, but that every person has free play.

"We find futility in the minds of people because they have found a world of realism about them.

"Naturally, after a person goes through this schooling of disappointment, they become more and more conservative.

"Having been active for thirty-five years in the ministry, I have come to learn that I am not free.

"And yet this realism means little to youth, because nature marks us so slowly. We do not realize that it is marking us, because it marks us so slowly.

"It is also true in regard to our mental twists.

"These things are just as true in regard to personality.

"If we are going to have health, we will have to pay for it. But while that is true in regard to health, it is ever more true in regard to our spirit and our brain.

"Idealism is superior to realism.

"I have no sense of futility, no sense of defeat, of failing, that the world is lost and hopeless, because I am persuaded that if I will draw upon God and His infinite resources, we can build ourselves into unified personalities.

"I want to say just one thing. Idealism does not need to ignore realism We will not ignore what is.

"Why should we be doubting Thomases concerning the spiritual forces of God, when we know that even the material world is dominated by spiritual force?

"The worst danger you face is self-deception."

The members of the class, Herschel Hughes Hedgepeth, Chester Rollo Lewis, Clarence Edward Miller, William James Pellow, Harold Preston, Norman Worsnop Taylor, George Albert Warmer, were called to the altar, They answered the required Disciplinary questions individually and the Conference voted to admit them into membership.

The Bishop closed the service with a prayer of blessing and benediction.

"We urgently request the President and the Congress of these United States to nationalize the arms industry, with a view to eliminate all private profit, all advertising and all propagandizing in the interest of future wars.

"That we further insistently urge a decreasing of munitions and ordnance appropriations together with a leadership on the part of our nation in leading in the reduction of armaments to an international police force, and that we oppose the pressure of the Government to put R. O. T. C. into our High Schools."

On motion of A. A. Heist, it was amended as follows:

"We recognize in the social security program now before Congress a too inadequate recognition of the demand of our Social Creed for 'Social insurance against sickness, accident, want in old age, and unemployment.' We urge far more venturesome legislation in these fields. As steps by which we may immediately move toward a more brotherly economic order we commend to the President and to Congress the enactment into law of the program advanced by the Central Conference of Jewish Rabbis as follows:

"In order that the national income may be distributed wisely and justly, we urge a radically revised system of taxation that will include a rapid increase in surtaxes upon current incomes; a marked increase in taxes upon inheritances and gifts; a heavy tax on corporation surpluses and reserves; taxation of tax exempt securities; the removal of competitive taxes upon commodities in current use . . . It is not safe for society to leave the basic enterprises in control of private groups that operate these enterprises for private profit instead of for the service of the entire community."

C. I. D. Moore moved that the Minority Report be substituted for the Majority Report. This motion was lost.

The Majority Report as amended was adopted.

On motion of A. A. Heist, the Conference ordered that the chairman of the committee on Social Problems and International Relations be asked to prepare letters to the President of the United States, the two U. S. "For the last quadrennium Bishop James Chamberlain Baker has been the Resident Bishop of the San Francisco Area.

"He has stimulated our mental and spiritual growth, and by the example of his own character has inspired our ministry.

"He has achieved an intimacy of fellowship with our ministers, and an understanding of our churches that has brought us into a closer knit brotherhood.

"He has lifted on high, Christian standards of religious education, and has helped to awaken in our youth 'an inquiring love of truth and a devoted love of goodness.'

"He has given our churches a poise and sanity of leadership very helpful in a day of change, conflict and hysteria.

"He has anticipated many of the inevitable adjustments our church must make 'to serve the present age,' and has fearlessly supported the movements to facilitate these adjustments.

"He has encouraged inter-church co-operation as a higher plane of activity than denominational rivalry.

"He has conducted our conferences on a high, democratic plane, with skill, patience and consideration.

"Therefore, because he thus brings to this presidency these invaluable qualities of leadership,

"We, the United Session of the Southern California Conference respectfully and urgently request your honorable committee to re-assign Bishop James Chamberlain Baker to the San Francisco Area."

The members of the Board of Stewards were excused, on request of George B. Cliff, their chairman.

Group Insurance: E. Dow Hoffman presented recommendations from the committee on Group Insurance and the matter was referred to the Committee for later report.

Constitutional Amendments: The Conference took up the various proposals for the amending of the Constitution of the Church, as proposed by the Rock River Conference, and they were adopted with the following votes:

Special Appointees: Fletcher Homan presented the report of the committee having to do with the Special Appointees in Relation to the Conference Claimants. This report was not adopted as it conflicted with the action of the Conference in having already ordered a special assessment for Conference Claimants to cover all men, whether in special appointments or otherwise.

Upon the payment on the death of any member, the treasurer shall be authorized to issue another call for a deposit of $2.50 for each member of the plan.

If any member dies with assessments in arrears his family loses any and all death benefits.

Reports

(a) District Superintendents

FRESNO-GLENDALE DISTRICT

In presenting the report of the Fresno-Glendale District I desire to pay humble tribute to the men who have preceded me in this ministry. Many years ago when received into this body on trial and appointed by Bishop Foss to a little charge on the Fresno District, I found Dr. T. C. Miller as the Presiding Elder of this fascinating section. His inspiring messages, his unfailing kindness, his contagious good humor, lingers like the afterglow of a gorgeous sunset. Then came J. B. Green, that Gibraltar of our Southern California Methodism; a man of steady purpose, of great vision and of deep sympathy. But time would fail me to tell of Peck and Oliver and White and Lewis who subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, but were unable to stop the mouths of lions—this being reserved for Sampson!

However, the above paragraph does not refer to the whole of my district. I must remember that I have but one predecessor. That the Fresno-Glendale District is but two years old. Bro. Leonard Oechsli served the first year. This year I have tried, but I fear in vain, to keep step with his majestic strides. To my predecessor and also to O. B. Waite and W. C. Buckner for valuable assistance, I am deeply grateful.

Death, the very familiar but unwelcome visitor, entered our homes during the year. In October, Mrs. Cookman, beloved wife of W. W. Cookman, fell asleep, and just one week later Wilbur W. Cookman, her husband, joined her in the House not made with hands. The Cookman name has an abiding place in Methodism. The great chorus—"Sweeping through the Gates of the New Jerusalem, Washed in the Blood of the Lamb," written by his lyric-souled father, has been heard around the world. Then on Easter, John C. Barker, a retired member of this body, went home to God. Brother Barker was at home in many kingdoms of knowledge. His library was blessed with the greatest collection of Bibles to be found in the West. Whether written in classical tongue or obscure dialect, his patient toil brought forth their deep revealing truths. And early in the year the aged mother of F. A. Lundberg went to the Heavenly Home.

Four lovely children have come to make glad the parsonage homes. Carol Raugust, Donald Ellis, Gertrude and Herbert Becker.

Sickness has given F. Bruce Ellis a tussle for several months. I now rejoice to announce his rapid progress back to health. Henry Stranberg was severely stricken with the flu, but is in normal strength again.

Our Church Periodicals: It is to be regretted that our church periodicals, especially our Advocate, do not circulate more freely through our homes. However, our District took a decided advance during the year in placing our Advocate in the homes of the people. In the report of one of our pastors the following observation was made—"Where the paper is not taken the church becomes weak in its sources of information regarding the activities of the church, and this inevitably reacts upon both the enthusiasm and the intelligence with which we support the various enterprises in which the church is engaged." It is our hope and our set determination that the Fresno-Glendale District shall be second to none, according to population, in the circulation of our church paper.

Salaries and World Service: Pastors' salaries and World Service do not measure up to where they should be even on this difficult District. Suffice it to say that pastors and people are in sympathy with the coming of the brighter and larger day, while many are earnestly pledged to the tithe. When the people who call themselves Methodists come to realize just what the tithe will do, then "cut budgets" and receding missionary giving will be things of the past. However, before the coming of that great and glorious day there must be the complete elimination of a certain note of uncertainty with reference to the purpose of the church to go forward. Not infrequently during the year in Quarterly Conference sessions this note has been sounded. Sometimes with an openly expressed acknowledgement of defeat. Let the Southern California Conference erase the question mark and go steadily to her high calling in Christ Jesus. Prorating and a spirit of fair play has brought up the giving of the Church.

Young People's work and the Missionary Societies are able to give a good account of themselves on this District. The greatest convention in the history of the District was held at Hanford. James McGiffin proved again his ability as a leader of young life. Jesse L. Corley put on a Family Institute at Camp Sierra which brought inspiration and help to all who were fortunate enough to attend. The Women's Aid Society, under the very efficient leadership of Mrs. Ina Hansen, has made steady progress in the District.

Changes of Methods may be needed: Then Jesus said unto them "Children, have ye any meat?" They answered Him "No." And He said unto them, "Cast the net on the right side of the ship and ye shall find." They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes. We have all known experiences like the experiences of the fishers of Galilee; hours when we feel most intensely; when we see more vividly and new vistas open. In such hours we are ready to make great changes—we will cast our nets on the right side of the ship. We have let devotion take the place of service, or we have let service take the place of prayer. Beware of the tyranny of habit in religion. "There are ruts for the heart as well as for the wheels."

The Saviour's command to the weary toilers of the sea is not only a lesson for the individual; it is a lesson for the whole Church of Christ. I have known too many years to be a devotee of ill-considered changes. A mighty Church must always be slow to move. With many another I can say: "I love old sanctuaries worn by the hand of time, where our fathers sleep; I love worship simply, and in quiet places where holy men and women have prayed and where there are rugged faces around me that have known the meaning of tears; where I can bow in reverence before God. I love solemnity and dignity in worship. I love a Church mellow and grey with years. But the question is not what I love. But the question of questions is: "What about the nets; are they full or are they empty; are there any fish?" Is the world being redeemed? If it is not, then let the dead past bury its dead, and cast the nets on the right side of the ship. Do not be eager for the change of methods; measure the matter by the nets and the nets only; by the power of the Church over our activities as citizens, as members of the social and economical order. We cannot claim that the nets are filled until we gather in lost men and women and a lost civilization. Christ must be all and in all in every realm, whether spiritual, moral, social or economical. We also need the mystic note. Mysticism is to religion what oil is to your motor; it keeps it from freezing. I am afraid of a church with clear-cut answers for every human problem. But the true salvation from a cold, dry, doctrinal church is the breath of a mystical spirit which opens eyes of awe upon the infinite.

Two days were spent in retreat at Bakersfield. The program was built around the question—"After Easter, What?" Bishop Baker was the leader of the discussion group, while several of our young men gave searching messages.

Churches: We were unable to save Trinity Church, Fresno, but both Magnolia Park and Lancaster have stepped from the zone of foreclosure into the safety zone. Unstinted praise must be given to Dr. J. Wesley Oborn, field worker for the Board of Home Missions, under the direction of Dr. F. W. Mueller, for this achievement, likewise the pastors and communities where the churches are located deserve special mention.

I would be untrue to my deepest feeling if I failed to mention the wise, patient and untiring help given by our resident Bishop, James Chamberlain Baker. For fairness and sympathetic understanding he is a prince among men. Nor should I fail to gratefully remember the fine cooperation given by all the pastors and laymen of the District. The parsonage homes have been retreats where welcome and cordiality, fragrant with the presence of Christ, and frequently with laughter of little children, cheered and encouraged a weary District Superintendent. To Almighty God we commend the pastors and their families.

S. S. SAMPSON.

LONG BEACH DISTRICT

It is an honor to represent the ministers and churches of the Long Beach District, in presenting to this Conference a brief summary of our labors for the year.

The stress of these trying times has told heavily upon the physical strength of the inmates of the parsonage homes, but with one exception, the preachers are all here and ready for their appointments: Brother Daniel Dundas will ask for retirement because of impaired health.

John Ashley was tragically near the border line between this world and the next when his car was struck by a speeding machine on an intersection in this city. After several weeks he was able to be back in his pulpit.

A great sorrow came to the family of Don Ford of Whittier. While on a vacation at Big Bear Lake last summer, David, his handsome son, ten years of age, accidentally stepped into a deep hole while bathing, and before help arrived he was drowned. Our deepest sympathy is with this saddened household.

After many months of suffering and weakness Mrs. Grice, wife of Bro. Thomas Grice, pastor at Oxnard, was translated to her heavenly mansion. Attended by a large concourse of loving parishoners and friends the funeral service was conducted by the Superintendent at the Oxnard Church on the morning of October 3rd.

Two unusually intelligent and attractive babies, according to their fathers, brightened the parsonages at San Luis Obispo and Santa Maria. They are Gordon Clark Chapman, Jr., and Nancy Ruth Nagle.

One wedding has taken place in our ministerial circle. The Redondo congregation is rejoicing that Bro. Marshall had such fine judgment and effective persuasion that he was able to bring into the parsonage Miss Flora Mae Cronemiller, a charming and talented member of First Church, Los Angeles.

The congregation at Piru is enveloped in a new atmosphere. The Woman's Aid has made improvements in the building; the sanctuary has been beautified with memorial art glass windows, presented by individual friends, classes, and societies and a pipe organ, the gift of the chairman of the Board of Trustees, has been installed.

The conditions at Wilmington seemed to be in a hopeless situation. However, the pastor, R. A. Blume, never knew there was such a word as defeat. For four years, with a smile on his face and undaunted courage in his heart, he kept on hoping, praying and working. But in the darkest moment, when the notice of foreclosure came, God touched the heart of a saintly mother in Israel and she presented the society with a piece of income property; the proceeds of which are to be applied on the debt until it is wiped out, and thereafter it will be divided fifty-fifty between the local church and the Conference Claimants Fund.

After a heroic struggle the membership of East Long Beach triumphed over the ravages of the earthquake and on November 4th Bishop Baker dedicated their new and beautiful sanctuary. On this occasion their joy was intensified by the generous gift, from one of their elect ladies, of a pipe organ.

East Long Beach

We all knew of the tragic condition in Venice. Few had any hope of redeeming the property. But Harry Shepherd never lost contact with the officials of the bank that held the fate of the property in their hands. In a skilful and statesmanlike way he dealt with the bank until that institution finally made a proposition of settlement which, with the aid of a long time loan from the Board of Home Missions, the Church was able to meet. Since this agreement was reached the Congregational Society has merged with us and our Venice Methodism is now facing the finest opportunity for real service and advancement that it has ever had.

About the middle of March a petition signed by upwards of one hundred families, from a sub-division known as Shore Acres, was presented to the Superintendent, asking for the establishment of a Church in this community. After securing from the interdenominational Council of Superintendents, the allocation of this unoccupied territory, E. J. Bradner, a retired member of this Conference, was appointed pastor, and with the speed and enthusiasm of youth he entered upon his work. A building was secured for a temporary meeting place. Bro. Bradner comes to Conference reporting the completed organization of the Shore Acres Community Methodist Episcopal Church, with fifty charter members and a Sunday School that is rapidly approaching the mark of an enrollment of one hundred.

The Cabinet has deeply deplored the serious illness of James Allen Geissinger. It was the privilege of the Superintendents to take over his district responsibilities for six or seven months of the Conference year. For six months my Superintendency reached from San Miguel on the north to San Diego on the south and from Riverside to Indio east. We have travelled through the most beautiful country in the world; with its border of silver sea, sunny blue skies, flower bedecked valleys and noble mountains. A veritable paradise.

The women of the district, through Aid Societies, Home and Foreign Missionary Societies, are facing the present situation with their unalterable attitude of devotion to Christ and His underprivileged children.

Our young people are the finest in the land and are taking second place to none, in their outreach toward the prize of their "high Calling of God in Christ Jesus." To sight one example: North Long Beach with two hundred and sixty-four members reports an enlistment of one hundred and twenty in their Epworth Leagues with an average attendance of one hundred of these young folk in both morning and evening preaching service.

It was my privilege to issue a Local Preacher's License to Edwin Inwood Armstrong. When Bro. E. J. Inwood lays his hands upon the head of this grandson, in ordination, it will initiate the fifth Inwood into the ministry of the Methodist Church.

The district objectives were outlined at the beginning of the year in a series of Group meetings at San Luis Obispo, Oxnard, Riverside and Long Beach. The deliberations of these groups crystalized in a decision to unite the whole district in a covenant to make the dominant note of our ministry during the Lenten Season evangelistic and the suggestion that we would simultaneously conduct some kind of evangelistic services during the two weeks preceding Palm Sunday. Each pastor chose his own methods and outlined his program. Quarterly Conferences were eliminated during this period, the Superintendent giving assistance wherever possible. The movement received the most hearty support of the laymen who gladly responded by organizing Gospel Teams in nearly every church. These teams gave their services freely and went from place to place to the delight and profit of our people. The following statistics indicate some of the results of our plans, prayers and persistent efforts to bring men face to face with the Master of us all.

Seven hundred seventy-two were received by certificate; 481 on confession of faith; 338 from preparatory membership; 247 into preparatory membership, the total being 1,838. These figures together with the recording of 631 baptisms represent the visible statistical results of our Lenten evangelistic campaign.

I could not say, if I tried, how much Mrs. Betts and I have enjoyed the personal relationships here among the friends and parishoners of former days and how much we have appreciated the generous and kindly treatment of both pastors and laymen.

First Church, Long Beach, with its pastor, R. N. Merrill, is a worthy center of a great district; always ready to lend a helping hand and to share with the rest of the churches. The plant, its office and staff have been freely placed at our disposal anytime and all the time.

Looking back over the past twenty-four months, as I do today, it seems to me that the cooperation and brotherly love have been 100% perfect.

WILL A. BETTS.

LOS ANGELES DISTRICT

Looking back over this past year, my first year as Superintendent of the Los Angeles District, if I were to be perfectly honest I would confess to something of a sense of bewilderment. For me it has been a problem of rapid adjustment to a multitude of new situations; serving as Superintendent of the District, getting acquainted with fifty-eight preachers and churches, forty-seven of the churches with debts; as Executive Secretary of the City Missionary Society; President of the Superintendent's Council of the Protestant churches of Southern California; as a member of eighteen different Boards and innumerable committees.

From the very beginning of my study of the situation facing us in Los Angeles I have had the conviction that the primary task just now is that of correlation within the churches and cooperation without. There is no sharp line of demarcation between the coordination of our own institutions, agencies and churches, and correlation with other churches and agencies. This entire matter was laid before Bishop Baker, and I received from him a virtual mandate to go ahead on a coordination and cooperation program.

The work of the Committee on Correlation is reported elsewhere. At the annual meeting of the Council of Social Agencies the following comment was made: "The changing attitude of the social agencies is evidenced by the request of many agencies to the Council for special studies of their organization and work. The self-study plan undertaken by the officials of the Methodist Church for its social agencies and their whole-hearted desire to cooperate with the Council in a constructive community plan, deserves special mention."

Reference should be made here to one feature of the year's program—the Forum, "Our Church and Our City." A series of five Monday night meetings was held at the First Methodist Church, with a three-fold program: First, the problems of correlation within our own Methodist organization; second, our responsibility as a Church for the social agencies working for the building of a better city; and third, the relation of the Church to national problems of security, public health and social justice.

It is appropriate to express here my appreciation for the splendid support given by the ministers and laymen of the District in this Forum, and for the coöperation of the Council of Social Agencies in building the program. Our program and set-up was carried out in several other Protestant denominations of the city.

The giving of the Pageant—"The Spreading Flame," in commemoration of the 150th anniversary of the founding of Methodism in America, is reported under the City Missionary Society. The bringing together of nine thousand Methodist people to witness this historical pageant, has brought a new spirit of enthusiasm particularly to the smaller churches whose people participated. Here is a field that should be capitalized on by the Church. It is our hope that the giving of some historical pageant may become an annual affair.

This report would not be complete without at least a brief record of the uniting of the Vernon Avenue and the Saint Mark's congregations. The two pastors—Harold E. Cunningham and John G. Ross, and the people of the two congregations, deserve to be heralded throughout the land as a living example of how to unite congregations. The Vernon Avenue Quarterly Conference has voted to turn over their property, consisting of three houses and the church building, together with $1600 worth of bonds, to the City Missionary Society, the property to be held for the use of the colored people now surrounding it and particularly for the Wesley Chapel congregation, who will at present conduct a Sunday School and hold their evening services at Vernon Avenue, as well as certain week-day activities, looking forward to the time when Wesley Chapel may want to relocate in that section of the City. Saint Mark's Church, under the leadership of their genial pastor, has wooed the Vernon Avenue maiden through the year. The engagement was formally announced and the wedding took place on June Second, when the entire Vernon Avenue Sunday School and congregation went in a body over to Saint Mark's Church.

This has been a perilous year for our churches with large debts. Much of my time has been spent in wrestling with church debt problems. A Conference-wide committee of seven laymen and the District Superintendents has made an analysis of our entire indebtedness, showing our main creditors, interest rates, delinquency, etc., a study which has been valuable in dealing with the banks. Eighteen churches have been delinquent in taxes, twelve of which were on the danger list at the beginning of the year. Eight of these twelve have made satisfactory working agreements with the banks. At Eagle Rock, where we have a union of our church with the Congregational group, an agreement with the bank has recently been worked out whereby the Methodist property is to be turned over to the bank to be applied against the obligation of the Congregational property, with the understanding that the Methodist group is to have a fifty per-cent equity in the Congregational property. This opens the way for the continuance of this successful venture in combined administration.

At Lynwood we have completed a definite agreement with the bank which gives every hope of reducing the indebtedness to $5,000. Through the generosity of a sister church there seems now to be a way out for the saving of the Annandale Church. York Boulevard closes the year with all claims met in full. No church on the district has been more loyal to the program than this splendid group and its pastor. Through the Save the Sanctuary fund we are hopeful of being able to rescue them. University Church is working on its difficult financial problem. While we have nothing conclusive to report at present, we are carrying on, hopeful that we may, with the cooperation of the University of Southern California, be able to find a satisfactory solution.

The Loyalty Campaign was pressed vigorously, with the result that this district led the Conference, both in percentages and total amounts subscribed. The same is probably true of the Save the Sanctuary campaign, although final figures are not yet in.

Improvements: Hamilton Church, one of our fine colored congregations located in the heart of the colored district of the city, has undergone extensive repairs, the entire exterior of the church being stuccoed and the interior redecorated, with all the effects of an entirely new structure. Belvedere has paid off its organ debt, while Chesterfield Square and Christ Church have greatly beautified their sanctuaries.

Personals: On January 2nd, 1935, after a brief illness of one week, the luminous spirit of our shining warrior of peace, W. Alonzo Reynolds, went triumphantly to his reward, and leaves a lonely place in our hearts.

Brother Geo. E. Monkman has been quite ill most of the year, and is asking for a Sabattic year.

Brother Maynard W. Beckwith has the sympathy of his brethren in the loss of his life companion—Edith Bien Beckwith, who died March 13th, 1935.

In January Chas. B. Johnson was transferred from the New England Southern Conference and added to the Staff at the Church of All Nations. In April, Gross W. Alexander was transferred to Pocatello, Idaho, in exchange with E. H. Longbrake. June first Bishop Baker appointed Floyd M. Reeves to Brawley, in exchange with Gerald B. Harvey, who is added to the Staff at the First Methodist Church.

During the year the following have been added to the roll of the P.K.'s: Lowell Lewis, son of Bro. and Sister Chester R. Lewis; Clark Chapman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Chapman; Sherwood and Sydney

Bennett, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Manford W. Bennett; and Thomas Malcolm, the adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald B. Harvey.

The ministers of the district have often spoken of the invaluable memory of the two different days which we spent together in fellowship at the Pacific Palisades. Those days have been potent in leading us into a splendid spirit of unity. We are planning for similar gatherings during the coming year for laymen as well as ministers.

Whatever has been achieved this year is due primarily to the fact that we have put as much responsibility on as many different people as possible. The problems have been many and difficult, but the challenge of the task has led us on. In it all we have been sustained by our faith in the fidelity of the ministers, the loyalty of the churches, and the dependability of God.

LEONARD OECHSLI.

PASADENA DISTRICT

This report opens with expressions of sincere appreciation of the forward looking and brotherly leadership of Bishop James C. Baker, the fellowship of the superintendents, the loyal co-operation of pastors and laymen, and the cordial hospitality of the parsonage homes.

Charles A. Kent, valiant as a knight, had his armour pierced by disease. He is motivated by a Christian social passion. As he takes the Retired Relation we place our hearts by the side of his heart and say, "Heaven's blessing on you, Christian Crusader."

S. J. Rogers requests the Retired Relation. His character is marked by compassion, brotherliness, and Christian gentlemanliness.

After thirty-nine years in the Methodist itinerary in which he served in widely spread areas among Swedish churches, J. H. Levedahl requests retirement. God keeps his good record in his Book of Remembrance. As did the Psalmist, so may he find that the way grows brighter and brighter unto the perfect day.

One of the lovely twins that came to the Harry Branton home last May went away to heaven during the winter, leaving an empty place in the hearts of the family.

Bro. V. Hunter Brink, retired, a good minister of Jesus Christ, came to the end of his pilgrimage last month.

Accidents laid up for awhile Bro. and Sister F. G. Elger and Elmer S. Andersen, Arthur E. Schultz, Mrs. H. G. Earle, and Mrs. F. G. Watson went under the scalpel. Happily all are recovered.

J. Lewis Gillies supplied at Monrovia during the last four months of the Conference year. F. H. Scharer asks to be left without appointment to take up post graduate studies at Boston University.

Nearly half of the members of our church at Prescott, the mother church of Methodism in Arizona, moved from that city within the last eighteen months, leaving the society so crippled that it requests that no pastor be appointed there for next year.

After a careful survey, our two strong churches in Pomona concluded that the interests of the Kingdom would be better served should they unite. Bishop James C. Baker, after a study of the field, agreed. The pastors, John Oliver and H. I. Rasmus, Jr., freely co-operated, the two congregations carried on a fruitful season of courtship by visiting each other, the various organizations, under the guidance of a Steering Committee of twenty chosen in equal numbers from each church, held meetings together and elected officers. When all legal and disciplinary steps had been taken Bishop Baker declared the merger effective. Our prayer and hope is that this new church be a tower of light and strength.

A more hopeful spirit has marked the life and activities of the churches this year. The church schools are in healthy condition for most part. Teachers and officers give freely of time, money, and strength and are worthy of commendation. Our Conference Director of Religious Education, J. L. Corley, renders an increasingly intelligent service.

Under the leadership of Regional and Conference officers, two League conventions were held and were attended by about five hundred purposeful young people. The flame of hope burns brighter as one contemplates our youth studying how to make the way of Jesus the way of the world. The Conference may count itself fortunate to have Mr. James McGiffin as Director of Young People's Work.

The various women's organizations continue to surprise us by their multiplied activities. The human interest work done by the churches is amazing in its variety and extent. The tens of thousands of calls, the thousands of flowers, letters, delicacies, meals, garments, goodwill bags, etc., give us a picture of the church going about doing good, and the major portion of it is done by the women. Heaven bless them.

A series of eight Cultivation Conferences was held in October. Nearly one thousand officers and leaders attended and studied the educational program of the church, the loyalty campaign, the equalization of pastor's salaries, our young people's program, and other subjects of interest. A team consisting of J. L. Corley, James McGiffin, J. Lewis Gillies, and J. Wesley Hole assisted the superintendent.

On Monday and Tuesday following Easter a Quest was conducted at Balboa Island for the preachers and their wives.

Blasted from their homes by the financial hurricane many of our members have drifted from the church, thus creating long inactive and non-resident lists. This is an increasingly baffling problem. Some of our pastors and church committees have visited the inactive members and tried to revive their interest, with discouraging results. One pastor reports that he and his committee sent 100 letters to non-residents and pastors in the communities where they resided. They were disappointed with the outcome. I still believe that this is a field for continued and systematic effort. Assuredly we must not let them slip through our fingers unnoticed and unsought.

The pastors have done faithful work and shared the burdens of their people. One third of them have not received their salaries in full. They received into their churches 740 by letter, 325 on confession of faith, 350 from probation, and 421 on probation. They report 560 decisions for the Christian life. Several of our pastors are developing skill in personal interviews. The conviction grows that we must give more time to intelligent and kindling personal work.

Old man debt who has stared us in the face with such threatening mien during the last five years has been attacked so aggressively this year that he seems somewhat less impervious. Several churches have been granted concessions and reductions in interest rates, some as low as three per cent. The following reported reductions of debt:

Grace Ontario, $50; San Gabriel, $66; La Verne, $150; Prescott, $150; Las Vegas, $200; First Ontario, $209; Monrovia, $300; Montebello, $400; Washington St., $400; Baldwin Park, $500; Covina, $600; Chino, $2,595; Monterey Park, $3,500; Trinity Pomona, $5,929; Holliston Ave., $11,100; Hartzell Mem., $13,624; Alhambra First, $17,000. This makes a total of $56,573.

Amounts for improvements were reported as follows: Needles, $20; Chino, $25; Rialto, $30; Holbrook, $40; Puente, $50; Kingman, $68; Lincoln Ave., $78; La Verne, $100; Marengo Ave., Alhambra, $100; Jerome, $155; Las Vegas, $187; Highland, $195; Baldwin Park, $222; San Dimas, $225; Winslow, $245; Glendora, $300; First Ontario, $350; Emmanuel, Pasadena, $500; Williams, $780; Grace Redlands, $1,750; Upland, $3,700, for a pipe organ. Total improvements, $9,120.

The human element behind this debt paying in days like these challenges the imagination. The cost to both preachers and laymen has been great. In the midst of financial distress when they might have stepped out from under, the laymen have manifested a courage and loyalty that calls for high commendation. As for the preacher, in many cases he has urged the payment of debts when he knew it meant that it would cut a slice from his salary. I take off my hat to the heroism of both preachers and laymen.

I believe that the statistician's report will show that the district has increased its World Service giving over last year's. The continuing depression has challenged the intense interest of vast multitudes who ordinarily pay scant attention to economic and governmental issues. The nation is engaged in seeking an answer to our national and world problems. Everywhere the tension has tightened until a spirit of intolerance is manifesting itself and threatening freedom of thought and speech. The lines of division tend to form between the ideas of a former generation and those of a new generation.

Now our young ministers have had their training in this new world of thinking. Moreover, the schools of theology taught them that the gospel has to do with the whole of life, with wheat bread as well as the manna from heaven.

Twelve million citizens have come to voting age since the depression set in, and a million of them are college graduates. The leadership in every phase of our national life will come largely from the latter group. If the church does not want to be left behind unrecognized and unconsulted, then both old and young in the church must see that it speaks of the deepest things of life in terms that can be understood by the group from which leadership is sure to come.

Both young and old must come together in a spirit of mutual respect and tolerance. Heaven grant that the church may become the voice of Jesus crying aloud in this spiritual desert, demanding the abundant life for all men, women, and children.

CHARLES F. SEITTER.

SAN DIEGO DISTRICT

With one exception James Allen Geissinger has answered the Annual Conference roll call for thirty-nine consecutive years. Last July he was stricken with serious illness. For many months his indomitable will led him to hope for recovery and resumption of his work. Finally he yielded to his physician's advice and resigned the District Superintendency, requesting that he be placed in the Retired Relation at this Conference session. For twenty-five years he has been one of the most vigorous and indefatigable leaders of Pacific Coast Methodism. His break comes as a result of his unsparing devotion to the work of this vast District. Although unable to attend this Conference session, Brother Geissinger is improved, and with characteristic fighting spirit expects to regain his health. From his home on Balboa Island, where Mrs. Geissinger has devotedly ministered to him all through the year, he sends greetings to this Conference.

On February fifth Bishop Baker summoned me and asked me to assume the Superintendency of the San Diego District. With a deep sense of personal inadequacy I accepted the call. The first duty of a District Superintendent specified in the Discipline is "To travel throughout his District." Since March first I have learned the meaning of the "traveling" ministry, covering more than ten thousand miles by automobile and train.

I here record my high appreciation of the warm cordiality and the fine fellowship of the parsonage families and of the laity throughout the District, and of the patience and courtesy of Bishops Baker and Magee, and of the other District Superintendents.

It will be a solemn moment when the time arrives for the motion to adjourn this Conference session "Sine Die." Clarence O. Kimball, to whom tradition had accorded the privilege of making this motion, received his last appointment at the Hands of the Eternal Bishop of all souls, October 12th, 1934. His genial smile and ready wit are sorely missed.

With breaking hearts Mr. and Mrs. E. Dow Hoffman parted with their eight year old daughter, Mary Alice, who answered the Death Angel's call November 7th, 1934. Last fall that dread malady, infantile paralysis, afflicted John, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Soules. Happily he has made a complete recovery. Mrs. Soules is able to attend this conference, recovering from a major operation. Mrs. John Nicholson is much improved after a serious illness. Mrs. E. W. Stricker has recovered her health, and Mrs. Randall Scott is much improved.

Adjustments in Appointments: Bishop Baker made the following appointments during the year: Royal H. Reisner to Escondido; Arthur T. Hobson to Orange. H. David Kingman, a senior in Boston School of Theology, was married February 27th to Dorothy Jean Smith of Zanesville, Ohio. The same day they started on their honeymoon trip, which ended at Somerton, Arizona, where David now is pastor. He asks for admission on trial to this Conference. June first, Floyd M. Reeves went to Brawley in exchange with Gerald B. Harvey.

Births: Ina Marie Carter, to Earl and Eleanor Carter; Norman Gregory Taylor, to Norman W. and Rosalind Taylor. Harold and Eunice Broughton have adopted two-year old Bruce David; similarly Gerald and Arletta Harvey added six-weeks old Thomas Malcolm to their household.

Debt Adjustments: The mortgage on Normal Heights Church, San Diego, was foreclosed last July, since when the congregation has paid a nominal rental. An adjustment has been made whereby the note-holders agree to accept $18,750 in full satisfaction of their claim. The Board of Home Missions furnishes a donation of $5,000 and a loan of $7,500; the courageous Normal Heights people have raised $3,225, and a movement is under way to raise the balance this summer among friends in San Diego.

Park Boulevard, San Diego, has arranged to pay the current interest and two year's back interest at 3%. The debt on this property is $30,000. The Conference Board of Home Missions is asking the privilege of designating World Service gifts to this church next year to the amount of $5,000. If this request is granted it is hoped many of our churches will accept this opportunity to help.

A very significant record has been made by Fullerton church. The formidable debt has been reduced by $18,850. Although the balance, including interest, is $95,000, the achievement of this year has greatly heartened these loyal people.

John M. Barnhart set to work to banish the long-standing debt of $2200 on the Chula Vista parsonage. Almost single-handed he raised this amount in cash and subscriptions.

At Holtville, H. B. Lang tackled a job that the people said couldn't be done, and by his enthusiasm inspired them to clear up a debt of $1097 on the Social Hall.

Yorba Linda has reduced indebtedness by $1400, and Trinity, San Diego, by $1050. Santa Fe Springs did a magnanimous thing by giving out of invested funds $3,000 to the Revolving Loan Fund of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension to be used immediately to save a difficult debt situation at Annandale Church, Los Angeles.

Improvements: The El Centro congregation moved their church to a better site last year. This year they have installed cement walks and have painted the church and annex at a cost of $600. A well built and beautiful building, well adapted for a social hall and worth at least $12,000, has been bought for $3,000. Next fall it will be moved to a vacant corner lot adjoining the church. This church leads the District in accessions reported, 104, and in net increase of members, 88.

La Mesa Church received the gift of a house which, completely re-modeled and renovated, makes a delightful and comfortable parsonage. The old parsonage was sold and the transaction leaves a debt of only $1,000.

Douglas, La Habra, First Church Phoenix, Santee, Somerton and Tempe report substantial improvements to church and parsonage property.

More than seven hundred definite commitments to the Christian way of life are reported, and no statistics can record the enriched experiences and the definite dedications in new areas of Christian living.

Two Epworth League Institutes drawing their enrollment almost wholly from San Diego District have been held this month, one at Granite Dells near Prescott, Arizona; the other at Cuyamaca in San Diego County. I spent three days at each of these Institutes. More than four hundred young people and leaders were in the combined enrolment. It is my profound conviction that our Methodist Church is doing no more vital educational work today than that of our Epworth League Institutes and Young People's Conferences. This is evangelism of the highest type. Thank you, Jim McGiffin!

There is growing interest in the unified Sunday morning program. This is an effort to eliminate competition between the Church and the Church School, and to identify all the constituency with the Church as a unit. At Orange four major churches joined in inaugurating this program after six months of careful preparation. Arthur T. Hobson reports excellent results. Santa Fe Springs, White Temple, Anaheim, Fullerton, and First Church Santa Ana have also instituted the plan. I believe it has excellent values, but there is danger in rushing in before the people are prepared and before the extended programs of the elementary groups and the physical equipment are ready.

Two Wesley Foundations, at Tucson and Tempe, are carrying forward a highly creative program among Methodist students at the two Arizona institutions.

N. F. Forsyth and Owen Geer, from the Chicago office of the Board of Education, brought rich reinforcement to our District. Bishop Baker's splendid leadership in various group gatherings has been wonderfully stimulating.

Institutions: Good Samaritan Hospital, Phoenix, has had a much better year than for several years past. J. O. Sexson is in the way of working out a solution for the troublesome problems of bonded debt of this valuable institution. Esther Hall, San Diego, is continuing to render invaluable service to girls.

The Woman's activities are well maintained. The Woman's Aid Societies report more than $19,000 raised and nearly 30,000 calls made. Orange reported 5,892 calls. The statistical reports will show the results of the persistent work of the various Societies.

World Service: Although some of the churches report diminished giving for World Service, preliminary reports show advance from Anaheim First, Costa Mesa, Wintersburg, Phoenix Creighton, Phoenix Garfield, Willcox, Yorba Linda and Yuma. We are anticipating the much needed program of World Service cultivation in this District next October.

Some estimates of pastoral support have been reduced for next year but in very few instances is the new estimate less than actual payment for several years past. A few estimates are increased.

These are difficult days for the Church, but they are challenging days.

I believe our Church was never more vital than today. We stand for Religion in Life, for a Christian Way of Life, for the practice of the presence of Jesus in all human relations, for the sanctity of personality, for Brotherhood that breaks down all barriers—racial, national, social, religious, economic—for the renunciation of war, for social justice and economic security for all. In short, for the realization of the prayer—"Thy Kingdom come, Thy Will be done on earth—."

This readjustment and reconstruction of our social order creates tension everywhere. We cannot all agree at all points, but can we not learn to disagree without being disagreeable?

Shall we not seek to maintain open minds, tear away the blindfolds of prejudice and ignorance, seek for facts and obey the truth whithersoever it leads? Is any test adequate for the Christian approach to this changing world save this—"Is it Christian?" And shall we not, clergy and laity alike, cherish and sustain a free and untrammelled pulpit, the right of the minister to speak with the voice of the prophet? This is one of our most priceless liberties. Shall we not make new dedication of self to the adventurous daring of those who would know the mind of God for this age and walk in that dangerous way of holiness that Jesus called "the Kingdom of God?"

RESOLUTIONS

As we come to the close of the 60th session of the Southern California annual conference it is our pleasure to express our appreciation of the presidency of Bishop J. Ralph Magee. He came among us as a stranger and has become a friend and brother, as he led us in the sharing and solution of our problems, and rejoicing with us in the accomplishments of the Kingdom tasks. His untiring zeal, alert interest, abundant energy, and vigorous personality have been an inspiration to us to do our work thoroughly and thoughtfully. Our brotherly affections and best wishes accompany him in his continued labors.

The work of our pastor-host, Richard N. Merrill, the Official Board of First Church, the Church Staff, the local Entertainment Committee, and that of other friends has been invaluable to us.

Our Program Committee has worked untiringly for our benefit. The bringing of Dr. Richard C. Raines, as our speaker, has met with popular approval. We would offer our word of appreciation also to those who have assisted the committee in providing music and other program features.

The Officers of the Lay Conference have given of their time, interest and cooperation in our mutual conference tasks. We are glad for the opportunity of discussion and cooperative action with our laymen in constructive creative Christian fellowship together.

The courtesy of entertainment for our retired pastors and their wives has made possible their attendance at the conference, the enjoyment of its fellowship and program.

We are grateful to the following for their part in the furtherance of our interests:

The churches and pastors of Long Beach Methodism.

The First Baptist Church, First Presbyterian Church, First Congregational Church, and First Christian Church for the use of their buildings.

The newspapers of Long Beach, Press-Telegram and Sun, for their generous use of news space in reporting our deliberations.

The Willmore Hotel, Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. for various courtesies extended by each to our fellowship.

The Flower Committee of First Church and Walter Armocost for the flowers found in beauty and artistic profusion throughout the church.

The Dictograph Products Co., Inc., for the installation and use of 50 acousticons.

The Municipal Convention Bureau for the provision of the souvenir programs.

Lack of time and space has not permitted us to make mention of each individual and organization rendering service contributing to the welfare of our Conference the past week. May brevity be the soul of sincerity in this instance and convey, "Thank you! to all to whom it should be said.

CONFERENCE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

As a Conference, our business is to spread scriptural holiness. The church is the only institution which specializes in introducing people to God. To do that we must use full-time workers—men and women. To these pastor-workers and their wives we do not promise a salary, but we do promise them a support, both while they are active, and when they retire for health or age reasons.

This money for their support, after they retire, comes from several sources: (1) Apportionments to the churches (which have an equal claim with the pastor's own salary); (2) Dividends from the Book Concern; (3) Money from other sources. In this, as in other Conferences, we have supplemented these items by raising endowment funds which, put at interest, would add to the income for these retired men, their widows or orphans.

This Conference has two such funds. One, known as the Hough Endowment Fund, named for its donor, is used exclusively to help necessitous cases, that is, those where the regular allowance is inadequate. The other is the Conference Endowment Fund which consists of properties, mortgages, stocks, bonds, etc., the assets of which before the depression were valued at \$1,271,576. The payment from the churches on apportionment added to the dividends from the Book Concern, and supplemented by the earnings of the Conference Endowment Fund have in the past enabled us to pay what is required by the law of our church, i.e., \$25.00 per year of service to each retired man, and $\frac{3}{4}$ of that amount to a widow. Meaning that a man who has worked 30 years before retiring would be entitled to \$25.00 for each year, or, be paid \$750.00 per year. This past year we paid \$16.00 per year of service, so he would receive but \$480.00, or a widow of such a man would receive \$360.00, or \$30.00 a month. The average amount paid to the retired man this past year has been \$483.00. A man who breaks down at the end of ten years of service ought to receive \$250.00 but is now receiving but \$160.00 from the regular funds. The Hough fund is used to help in such necessitous cases.

These funds are administered by seven trustees, some of whom are elected each year for a three year term. These men, one a Conference officer, one a District Superintendent, and five pastors, are asked to administer these funds. We recommend some one of our Conference to give full time to the work; in which capacity J. B. Green served for 20 years and A. Ray Moore for nine years.

In the book known as the Bible we are told that when the people of Israel were ready to go out of Egypt and death was decreed for the Egyptian homes, the Israelites were commanded to put blood on the door posts of their homes that the angel of death might pass over them.

God has made no provision that blood should be put on the door posts of Conference property, in order that the black angel of depression should pass over our holdings and leave us untouched. We have suffered along with all other institutions.

Our stocks and bonds have decreased in value. Some which formerly brought good returns discontinued paying dividends, while a few continued to pay. Practically all of these investments were made on the advice of laymen of business ability of our own Conference, bankers or investment brokers. With conditions as they are, these holdings have greatly decreased in value and the income has accordingly been reduced.

In the matter of rentals on our properties heavy reductions were necessary and collections were difficult to make. Interest on mortgages due us became more and more difficult to collect and in many cases the property was turned back to us with interest unpaid and often with back taxes also unpaid. This means that more than $100,000 of assets, which before the depression came were paying good dividends, has been returned to us and at once became an expense.

To an individual in such a condition the answer might be simple by applying the rule that if income lessens there must be a corresponding lessening of the outgo, but in Conference finance it is not so easy to do as certain obligations are involved in the solution. However, there seems to be four ways that this may be accomplished:

First—Reduce the overhead in office expense. This we have done by decreasing the staff and salaries.

Second—To secure a lower rate of interest on all our mortgage indebtedness. This we have been able to do and we have had a fine response.

Third—One of our largest items of expenditure is the dividend to the Conference Claimants. The first rift in the early church was on the matter of Conference Funds and Conference Claimants, when "there arose a murmuring as to the manner of distribution to the widows," Acts 6-1. The whole program of the Conference Endowment Fund (and the only reason for its existence) is to make all of the profits help pay the pensions of the retired ministers, widows and orphans of ministers. These dividends have helped greatly through the years. Before 1920 this Conference was paying the Claimants at the rate of $11 per year of service and at no time had the dividends been above $900. After 1924, with the help of the dividends, the rate was never lower than $25 per year of service until 1932 when it was necessary to reduce the amount paid from the funds.

In 1930, with the Conference facing a sharp reduction in the rate to be paid to the Claimants, the Board of Trustees voted to pay $19,000 to the Board of Stewards for the Claimants. Had this not been done the rate that year would have been $21.00 per year instead of $25.00. The Board took this action from the fact that our records showed a surplus of $23,421 in our funds. However, this surplus could not be liquidated without a loss as it was a part of the assets and not in cash.

In 1931 the surplus shown amounted to $30,528 and the Board again voted to pay a dividend in the amount of $25,000. Had this not been done the rate would have been $20.00 per year instead of the accustomed $25.00. Thinking that the hard times would, as in former years, last but "for a night", no apprehension was felt but that these sums could be paid within a short time. This proved to be a mistake and in 1933 the Board reluctantly faced the situation and made no appropriation and has made none since that time.

The fourth item of expense is more serious. A large percentage of the property and holdings of 1930 were on the annuity basis. When these properties ceased to produce a profit we were still under obligation to pay annuity dividends to those who had contracts with us. In every other avenue of investment the investor has faced a 60c dollar, a cutting of interest rate in Building and Loan, or Savings Bank deposits, all of which was by government orders. We have paid the "pound of flesh" at the expense of our claimants. This we decided could not continue. We felt that action was necessary and, as your trustees, we moved accordingly.

After consultation with the state insurance department, and receiving their moral approval and the written consent of a majority of our annuitants—72% having already signed—we have put the following plan into operation:

For the next two years we are agreeing to pay to these annuitants all the profits from the regular funds (not the Hough Fund, which is for necessitous cases) and guaranteeing to pay them at least 25% of their original contract.

They have received 100% until last Fall, and with a guarantee of 25% for the next two years it means they will receive an approximate average of 75% of their expected income during the six-year period.

This program of drastically reducing the office expense, lowering interest paid by us, eliminating all dividends to the Claimants and reducing annuity payments to approximately 25% enables us to confine our expenses to our income.

At this time we face the mistake in judgment of appropriating money to the Claimants over and above what we had in cash, for these appropriations have never been paid to the Board of Stewards. They are included in the assets of our Conference. To order them paid in cash would mean that properties must be sold at depression prices and to wipe out that obligation to another "member of our family," so that the Board of Stewards may have in cash what they now have on their books as a credit, would mean the sale of at least $200,000 of property to pay this indebtedness. This would represent a severe loss in capital and the almost certain wrecking of our entire financial organization.

We believe there is a solution without this being done. In co-operation with the Board of Stewards herewith we present a plan. It will mean sacrifice for all of us, but if we all share, it will not be too much. The plan is complicated and requires a full explanation in detail to be fully understood. In substance it provides that we cover this obligation in the next three years by doing the following:

1. In view of the fact that this money has been used for the Claimants, we propose to ask them to limit their claim this year to $15 per year of service. This will mean a reduction of $1 per year and if the income provides for $16 per year we could thus save about $4500.

2. The active Ministerial members of the Conference, which includes those receiving "special appointments," to assess themselves an amount equal to two per cent of the cash salaries, and to report the same paid before the meeting of our next Annual Conference. That we request the Board of Trustees to introduce a graduated percentage that will produce the estimated total instead of the flat rate of 2 per cent.

The laymen of Conference shall be extended an opportunity of voluntarily joining hands with the ministers in this noble sacrificial sharing with our Conference Claimants by subscribing 2% or more of one-twelfth of one year's salary or net income, to be put with the fund contributed by the Ministry. (Provision for making such an assessment is outlined in Paragraph 340—Section 2 of the Disciple).

3. The churches that did not raise their quota for the Loyalty Fund will be asked to complete this task, the money to be devoted to the same purpose. Another $9000.00 should be secured from this source, making a total of $22,500 this year from the three sources.

This would enable us to have a sufficient amount of cash in the treasury to pay each quarter in advance for most of the year and by supplementing with collections from the churches for the latter part of the year a recurrence of the difficulties of the past three years would be obviated. With this plan in operation for three years this obligation would be entirely met.

For those reading this report in advance we would ask that you kindly withhold a definite decision until the plan can be fully explained.

One of the unwritten proverbs of the day is, "More people are run down by gossip than by automobiles." But it was Artemus Ward who said, "I'd rather not know so much as to know so many things that aren't so."

When things go good, praise is profuse; when things are not so good, nerves get raspy and criticism flourishes like the green bay tree. The Conference Board of Trustees have received their full share of criticism. The fact that they have had their own personal problems to face, some carrying heavy financial burdens in church debts, in addition to the added care of the Conference obligations, the wonder is, that more mistakes in judgment have not been made. We have had, for the most part, the finest co-operation and, for this, we are thankful! As we have seen our mistakes we have tried to rectify them. We acknowledge that when we have had to choose between hard-headed business methods and the promptings of the heart, we have leaned toward the latter method.

We may have relied too much upon the judgment of one or two or three persons, either our own officers or leading laymen, but we felt justified in so doing.

The most of the minor criticisms have been met. Some of them were justified, some, in our opinion, were not.

One thing many do not understand is the interlocking of the work of the Conference office.

Our work as trustees is to handle the funds of the Conference Endowment Fund and the Hough Fund.

In addition to this you have asked us, or ordered us, or laid upon our Treasurer, the following duties:

1. To do all the detail work of making the apportionments for the Commission on Finance.

2. To collect and disburse the salaries of the District Superintendents and the support of the Conference Claimants through the Commission on Finance and the full expense of this work has never been paid.

3. To do the disbursing work of the Board of Stewards.

4. To collect the World Service Money.

5. To handle the work of the Conference Treasurer during the year.

We are thankful for the fine assistance that has been given by the Laymen's Committee. A little more than a year ago the trustees invited Messrs. C. H. Martindale, Arthur M. Loomis and Henri Lindsay to make a complete investigation of this corporation and to give advice. Much time has been given by them and very valuable has been their advice. We are very sure they have the gratitude of this Conference.

It has long been the judgment of your Board that laymen should be included in its membership. The invaluable service which Mr. Martindale has rendered during the past few months is evidence of the type of assistance which laymen may give. He has given weeks of his time to the financial affairs of this Conference, and while he feels that he cannot accept a place on the Board, we desire to acknowledge the splendid service he has rendered and to express our great appreciation therefor. We recommend that three laymen be included in the Board of Trustees. That two be elected this year, to take the place of two ministers whose terms expire and that one layman be elected next year to take the place of a minister whose term will then expire.

We would record our thanks to the employees of the office who have, under trying circumstances, carried on the work so faithfully. We appreciate the leadership given by our business manager, Mr. J. Wesley Hole. He has given faithful performance to the trust that has been given to him.

COMMISSION ON FINANCE

The Commission on Finance submits the following report with their recommendation that it be adopted:

Budget for the Coming Conference Year

District Superintendents	$22,500
Episcopal Fund	11,250
Conference Claimants	90,000
City Missions	10,000
Conference Missionary Society (M&E)	12,000
Entertainment, Travel & Minutes	4,000
California Church Council	1,500
Episcopal Office Expense	1,000
Harbor District	1,000

To each of the above apportionments shall be added 2 per cent as Office Expense for the collection and distribution of the Apportionments.

District Superintendents' Apportionment

Bishop Baker has called our attention, by special request of the Board of Bishops in a recent meeting in Chicago, to paragraphs 4 and 5 of Article 329 of the Discipline of 1932, which reads as follows:

"It shall be the duty of the Commission on Finance to make an estimate of the amount necessary to furnish a sufficient and equitable support for the District Superintendent of each District in the Conference, including suitable provision for expenses.

"The Commission on Finance shall make provision that the Treasurer may be able to and shall remit monthly to the several District Superintendents."

In harmony with the law of the church, as set forth in the above paragraphs we request this Annual Conference to authorize the Board of Trustees to provide not in excess of $5000 to be used by the Commission on Finance to pay the Superintendents' salaries as outlined above. This fund to be repaid to the Board of Trustees out of receipts for the year.

We wish also to call special attention to the fact that the apportionment for District Superintendents, amounting to $22,500, is built up as follows:

Salary	$3000
Travel Expense	900
Rent	600

Total$4500 For each of the five Superintendents.

Episcopal Fund: The amount recommended as an apportionment for the Episcopal Fund, as provided by the Discipline, amounts to $11,250.

Conference Claimants Apportionment: Again we face the need of the Retired Minister and his family and our recommendation of $90,000 apportionment is identical with last year. We have no receipts from the Book Concern and the investments are giving very little return for this fund.

California Church Council: The apportionment for California Church Council is the same as has been apportioned in prior years for the State Church Federation. The Council is a new organization which is taking over the State Federation work and is doing a much more comprehensive work among the Protestant Churches.

Finally, may we remind you that the above apportionments as recommended by your Commission are vital to the success of the Conference work. We most earnestly ask your hearty and sincere co-operation in urging each church to accept its apportionment in full and without reservation. The work of your Commission on Finance can only be of use to this Conference if its recommendations when accepted by this Conference, are then taken and recognized as Conference Apportionments and accepted by the churches as such.

R. O. DEACON.

LOS ANGELES MISSIONARY AND CHURCH EXTENSION SOCIETY

The Church of All Nations, under Robt. A. McKibben, will report elsewhere. It should be said here, however, that the Church of All Nations has had one of the best years in its history, and is recognized as an institution that has done an outstanding piece of work as a social agency. Mr. McKibben is winning wide recognition in the social field and has made a place for himself as an outstanding leader not only in Los Angeles but throughout the state. The finances of the Church of All Nations are very satisfactory. Recognition of the service being rendered by this institution is indicated in the fact that the support from the Community Chest has been increased $7,157.

The Hollenbeck Heights Social Center has requested that they be placed under the direction of the City Missionary Society, and the plan is that in the near future it will be operated under the Church of All Nations.

Southwest Community Church is coming of age and is requesting that it be allowed to incorporate and assume the obligation for its own indebtedness. This is highly gratifying and we are hoping that other churches fostered by the City Missionary Society will, in the near future, be taking similar action.

Mention should be made here of the special study of the City Missionary Society by the sub-committee on the Committee on Correlation, under the leadership of John Gabrielson. Mr. Gabrielson and his committee have done an outstanding piece of work in exploring the entire field of the relationship of such a missionary society to the problems of the growing metropolitan area. Fuller reference will be made to this in the special report of the Committee on Correlation which will be before the Conference at this session.

The Vernon Avenue congregation is uniting with Saint Mark's, and have authorized the trustees to transfer the property to the City Missionary Society for negro work and particularly for the Wesley Chapel congregation.

The Sesquicentennial Pageant, "The Spreading Flame," given at the Shrine Auditorium on May 9th and 10th, under the sponsorship of the City Missionary Society and the leadership of Robt. A. McKibben and Walter C. Loomis, was without question the outstanding event of the year. Approximately nine thousand people witnessed this presentation, which was of a very high order. We have been told that it was one of the most complete and finished amateur productions put on in Shrine Auditorium. We have heard words of highest commendation from individuals and churches all over Southern California as to the educational and inspirational value of this Pageant, so much so that it seems probable that some such pageant will be made an annual event. It has been suggested that in connection with the proposed World Service educational program we present a pageant portraying the early history of Methodism in California, during the coming year.

It would be difficult to picture all of the services rendered to the church by the City Missionary Society. It is to be hoped that when the studies now being carried on by the Committee on Correlation are completed that the work of the Society will be more clearly defined and the importance of its mission more deeply appreciated. At the present time the promotional foundation of the work of the Society is exceedingly unsatisfactory. We are compelled to carry forward our work on a hand-to-mouth, hit-or-miss, competitive basis. No more important consideration is before us today than that of correlation of all of our missionary and social agencies and placing them upon a sound basis of promotion and cultivation. We commend to the Annual Conference, for its very careful consideration and study, the report of the Committee on Correlation.

ALL NATIONS FOUNDATION

A Center for Christian Service which continues to challenge Southern California is evidenced by the following new developments which have occurred during the past twelve months:

An Adult Center opened in a four-room apartment next to All Nations has made possible the Southern California Dental Society post graduate classes at All Nations. The rooms and lounge being made available to the men and women for community activities.

The Community House Budget was increased $700 by the Community Chest making possible the securing of one of the most capable leaders of girls and women in the United States.

The establishing of the Child Welfare Clinic in 1931 was responsible for placing All Nations just four years ahead of other agencies in Child Welfare service. State and National Conferences are urging their local agencies to adopt similar service for underprivileged children. The unknown donor has again increased his monthly allocation for this work by $150.

Sunset Center was budgeted last year for a boys' worker by the Los Angeles Kiwanis Club. This year the Friday Morning Club has underwritten the salary for a girls' worker. In addition to all this, the First Congregational Church under the leadership of the Pastor, Dr. James W. Fifield, Jr., has completely financed a Daily Vacation Church School for the Center supplying three paid workers for the task.

The members of the Church of All Nations were challenged by a real friend, Mrs. Walter H. Fisher, who agreed to pay half the salary of an assistant pastor if the membership would raise the other half, all standards set by this Conference both as to training and salary to be observed. The membership, though small, has met the challenge and Carl B. Johnson and wife were appointed by the Bishop on January 1st, 1935. Already the community is responding to their leadership.

Because of the tremendous service rendered by the All Nations Clinic the Community Chest granted an increase of $6457 in the current budget. The services of the Clinic during the last twelve months totaled over 67,000. All this made possible through the volunteer service of doctors, dentists, and lay men and women.

Under the leadership of the All Nations Boys Club a permanent mountain camp for the boys and girls of All Nations was proposed. The idea immediately produced results. The County of Los Angeles granted exclusive use of a fine canyon at Big Pines. The State Emergency Relief Administration is supplying the labor which would have otherwise cost at least $5000. The materials for the construction of a recreation lodge, dining room, kitchen, showers, laundry, toilets and water and water lines costing approximately $5000 have either been donated or covered by cash subscriptions. This camp will accommodate 100 with tents for sleeping quarters. Within the next few years small cabins housing 10 persons, costing $500 each, will be added. There is already $1200 on hand designated for the swimming pool.

In addition to all these new developments, the Woman's Home Missionary Society still makes possible the services of two deaconesses for the children's work established in this community before the Church of All Nations was founded. With your cooperation through World Service, the assistance of the Community Chest, the help of the Service Clubs and the contributions of organized classes and individual donors, the opportunities for Christian service through All Nations ever increases.

ROBT. A. McKIBBEN.

WORLD SERVICE COUNCIL

Foochow Area: Two years ago the Southern California Conference agreed to take the Foochow Area as its field of foreign responsibility and as far as possible within the law of the church to designate the giving to Foreign Missions from our churches to that area. Already the interest created by such a step and the information gathered and disseminated have registered in increased enthusiasm and concern for Foreign Missions. We recommend that this relationship be continued.

Through the Continuance Committee a very fine program of education has been carried on. Five sets of stereopticon slides and lectures pertaining to Foochow are in constant circulation among the churches. A new set of slides, with lecture, has been made to be used in our Conference by Miss Sarah Bosworth, formerly of Foochow.

Two Chinese leaders, C. J. Lin, President, Fukien Christian University, and C. T. Yang, Principal, Foochow Union High School, gave us together seven weeks of visiting and speaking in forty-six churches. Missionaries from Foochow area—H. V. Lacy, Paul P. Wiant, Everett M. Stowe, and Frank P. Cartwright of the Board of Foreign Missions, have visited us and spoken in many of our churches.

Committees of the Conference Board of Education have completed three very attractive 75-page Leaders' Manuals on Foochow for the elementary, young people's and adult groups. These have been published by the Board of Foreign Missions and are here for sale at 25 cents each or, in sets of three, for 50 cents.

Have stimulated the sending of letters from our Foochow missionary friends to pastors and others. Arranged for the "Foochow News" to come regularly to the pastors, bringing fresh news from the field. Special edition of the "China Christian Advocate", by arrangement with the New York office and the Shanghai publishers, sent in ample quantities to all the churches of the Conference.

A film of missionary work in Foochow is being prepared by Harry R. Caldwell, which we hope may be available next year.

The success of this work is due in large measure to the leadership of Jesse Lee Corley and to the volume of correspondence which has been handled by his office.

We recommend that this Continuance Committee be asked to function for the coming year that the program of Education may be expanded and pushed with vigor.

We further recommend that the Foochow Area shall as far as is consistent with the wishes of individuals and churches under the law of the church, be the foreign mission field of responsibility of this Conference and that all funds for foreign missions not otherwise designated shall be applied to that field.

Home Missions: For many reasons the Southern California Conference is inescapably bound up with the cause of Home Missions. The main Oriental work of Methodism under the flag centers in the San Francisco area. The main responsibility for the attitude of the Pacific Coast is ours. Then to that is added the needs of an expanding population. New churches have to be built in new centers to meet the spiritual needs of people, while in a score of places churches have been compelled to rebuild to meet their task. In many instances these churches should have some outside help and encouragement but the only source of outside help is the Board of Home Missions. We hold that the Board of Home Missions should feel, as it does, a particular responsibility for work in this Conference and that every church in this Conference should actively and loyally support the Board of Home Missions in its great undertakings.

Designations for Home Missions: We endorse the following requests which come from the Southern California Conference Board of Home Missions. (1) That Church Extension funds be granted in these amounts to the following churches and ask the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension to permit the Church Extension funds gathered in this Conference to go to these designated projects:

Fresno-Glendale District:
Magnolia Park	$ 4,000.00
Long Beach District:
Elsinore	3,000.00
San Diego District
Park Boulevard	5,000.00
Los Angeles District:
Lynwood	5,000.00
Eagle Rock	1,000.00
Watts Mexican	4,000.00

TOTAL$22,000.00

(2) That the amounts, for the various causes which follow, shall be determined by the Conference Board of Home Missions and by a representative of the Home Board and that the appropriate share of these amounts be given to each charge, under these heads:

(a) General District Maintenance	$ 8,920
(b) Maintenance for territorial and racial work.
Alaska	1,000
Hawaiian Mission	6,000
Chinese and Filipino Mission	3,500
Japanese Mission	4,000
Mexican Work—
(a) Spanish American Institute	4,000
(b) Plaza Community Center	3,500
(c) Latin American Mission	12,000
TOTAL	$42,920

(3) Board of Home Missions General Fund.

Board of Education: This Conference ought to be strongly interested also in the Board of Education because of the significant work which is being done by that Board within our bounds through J. L. Corley's office and through our extensive Wesley Foundation projects.

For these two major educational interests we recommend the following amounts:

(1) Conference Church Schools	$5,000.00
(2) Wesley Foundation	$6,800.00

Applied as follows:

U.C.L.A.	$4,500.00
(Includes the Methodist quota to the University Religious Conference).
Stanford	$ 600.00
Berkeley	$ 600.00
Tucson	$ 800.00
Tempe	$ 300.00

We recommend that the Rally Day Offering be designated and applied to the Young People's Work in this Conference under the Conference Board of Education, 60% going to the Young People's Departments and 40% to Dr. Corley's work.

Negro Education: We recommend that the World Service Funds from this Conference for Negro Education be designated to Samuel Huston College.

Other Boards: We commend the interests of the other Boards of benevolence and service in World Service to our churches for sympathetic and intelligent support and backing.

Program of Conference Wide Missionary and Benevolent Education: In order to give to both pastors and laymen a more satisfactory and comprehensive picture of the out-reach of our church as it seeks to build a world kingdom of God, we propose:

1. A series of district and sub-district conferences be arranged for next fall in which the whole World Service program, including every project which our people by their gifts are supporting, shall be presented and described as forcefully and graphically as possible. To these conferences teams of helpers, representing the projects and the various boards of the church, would go to explain the work and give specific information most helpful to the churches in setting up their local World Service programs. These general arrangements should be the responsibility of the Conference World Service Council.

2. Those who should attend are: Pastors, representatives of Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, Woman's Home Missionary Society, members of the World Service Committee in the local church, representatives of young people's departments and Epworth Leagues, Church School teachers, Superintendents, and all others interested.

3. Those to be on the helpers teams are: Bishop Baker, whenever possible, District Superintendents, representatives of the various Boards and representatives of the Conference World Service Council and Women's Societies.

4. Literature of all projects should be assembled in quantities and distributed at these District meetings.

5. An Exhibit to be prepared by a Conference Committee and shown at each meeting.

6. Stereopticon slides and maps.

7. A World Service Pageant produced by and presented under direction of a special committee in each district.

8. The specific plans as to time, place, entertainment, etc., for the District meetings to be worked out by the District Superintendents and committees representing the Districts and World Service Council.

9. October is suggested as the month for the District Conferences, and January and February as promotional months in the local churches using schools of missions, exhibits, stereopticon pictures, pageants, addresses, discussions, etc.

That this Council may present a comprehensive report on the work being done in this Conference in the interest of World Service, each District Superintendent is asked to submit a written report before May 15, 1936, summarizing the response to World Service educational programs on his District and also stating what changes or improvements he feels should be made.

Financial Details: The World Service apportionment sent to this Conference is $161,734. We recommend: (a) that this sum be set as the amount we shall try to raise for the World Service causes.

(b) In order that the Conference treasurer's office may be paid for the cost of routing the World Service funds through that office, we recommend that an amount be added to the assignment for World Service to each church sufficient to cover this added cost of handling. These two items together shall form one quota for World Service and its handling and be so sent to each church in the Conference.

That this may be perfectly clear to every World Service giver we recommend that the designation for benevolences by the Official Board of each church in its Every Member Canvass shall read as follows: "For World Service and other benevolences under the direction of the church, I promise to give $———."

Conclusion: We realize that the deep springs of missionary zeal, effort and liberality lie in a vital Christian life and experience. Without that programs, literature, education will prove inadequate and the whole enterprise will languish. May the sense of the Divine Presence be so real in every church this year that we shall take Christ's command to go into all the world and preach the gospel as our inescapable personal responsibility.

Your World Service Council believes that the success of World Service is determined mainly by the spiritual life of the church. All of us, ministers and laymen alike, seek a fresh baptism of spiritual power and enthusiasm that we may do our full part to carry out the great command of Jesus to go into all the world with the good news of His grace. Empower us, O God, for the great task Thou dost put into our hands.

WILLSIE MARTIN.

MISSIONARY UNIFICATION

Your Committee on Missionary Unification has met a number of times during the year, and after careful consideration, begs to submit the following report.

We recommend that there shall be created

I.—A General Council on Missions.

(a) Purpose.

To renew interest in missionary enterprise.

To secure the largest measure of initiative, coupled with a unified program of interest, education and growth.

(b) Organization.

For the carrying forth of this purpose, we recommend a General Council.

1. This Council to be composed of twenty-four members, an equal number of men and women as follows: From the Board of Foreign Missions—eight members, six men and two women. From the Board of Home Missions—eight members, six men and two women. From the W. F. M. S.—four women. From the W. H. M. S.—four women.
2. We further recommend that a proper correlation shall be maintained, where necessary, with the World Service Commission and this General Council on Missions.
3. We also further recommend that the Boards of Home and Foreign Missions have an equal number of women on the Board of Management.
4. And further that members of the General Council be selected by the Boards of Management of the respective bodies who have representation thereon.

(c) Goal.

This Committee believes that the unification of all the missionary interests is desirable and to that end it recommends that when the General Council will have been effected, a very serious study be made as to the ways and means whereby this may be safely accomplished, thus making possible a united Methodism for a united field.

(d) Program.

1. The General Council on Missions shall plan the general program for the respective bodies who have representation therein, and face the total financial budget.
2. It shall present a unified system of education.
3. And shall approve the forward looking programs of the four organizations of the said Council.

II.—Annual Conference Council.

- (a) This Annual Conference Council shall be made after the same pattern as the General Council.
- (b) The Annual Conference Council shall have the responsibility for co-ordinating all the missionary work of the Conference, both at home and abroad.

III.—The Local Church Missionary Council.

- (a) Shall be formed after the same pattern as the General Council and the Annual Conference Council.
- (b) The Local Church Missionary Council shall be responsible for all missionary activity of the local church.

Note: It was ordered by a motion of the Committee on Missionary Unification that a special committee, consisting of Samuel Hughes, Mrs. Byron Wilson and Irvin A. Engle, be authorized to draft a memorial to the General Conference, to be submitted to the Annual Conference, using this General Council on Missions outline as a basis of recommendation.

SAMUEL HUGHES.

UNIFYING CONFERENCE MAINTENANCE

Your committee met and discussed the matters referred to us. However, owing to the questions pending as to Salary Equalization, Fellowship Fund, and resolutions covering kindred matters which are to be discussed at the coming session, it was deemed best not to make any recommendations until these matters had been decided by the Conference.

HARRY W. WHITE.

FELLOWSHIP FUND

The Treasurer's Office received for this fund up to July 1, 1934...$3,021.43
Disbursed toward maintaining adequate support in 29 charges... 3,018.00

Balance on hand July 1, 1934.....$ 3.43

The office expense prorata share awaited payment for 1934-35 receipts.

In 1931-2—196 ministers (62%) shared in the Fund.

In 1932-3—183 ministers (58%) shared in the Fund.

In 1933-4—170 ministers (55%) shared in the Fund.

Your committee has nothing more to say than is implied in the above figures, save that the funds disbursed rescued some of our brothers from literal hunger and want. It is a cause of some speculation why a percentage so considerable should withhold their hands from sharing. As a conference we approved this method of proving the solidarity of our ministry, wherein the strength of all should undergird everyone, and the hurt of one should be felt by all. Every underpaid minister has a claim upon the entire brotherhood. We urge this conference to pay attention to that claim.

Some have suggested a quarterly notice to remit. If the Conference approves without change at this point, we shall request the conference treasurer to include notice of the Fellowship Fund with all notices concerning the regular apportionments.

The time set for paying money into the Fellowship Fund is extended to July 15, 1935, and the Chairman of the Fellowship Fund Committee is asked by the Conference to submit a revised list of those participating in the fund to the Conference Secretary on the above mentioned date.

FRANK M. TOOTHAKER.

SALARY EQUALIZATION

I. History.

"In order to lessen the restlessness and unbrotherliness in our fellowship, and live as well as preach the gospel of service, we recommend that a commission of seven be appointed to study all suggested solutions of other conferences as well as our own and bring in a plan or plans . . . looking toward a minimum salary, a more equitable distribution of all salaries and a maximum length of residence in the frontier areas." Thus, on Sept. 28, 1929, this Conference began work toward the solution of one of the most difficult problems of our church life. On July 3, 1933, with two years' experience under the Fellowship Fund Plan the Conference took the following action: "We believe that the great disparity in salaries that creates the consciousness of professional levels, grades or classes . . . is one of the major hindrances to a deeper spiritual life and a sincere brotherly feeling. We further believe that the present rating system often makes it impossible for our administrators, when making appointments, to put men in the places where they will render the greatest service to the Kingdom and to the Church. We also believe that it is impossible for our ministers to speak consistently in condemnation of the un-Christian economic order with its extremes of wealth and poverty as long as any of our brothers are in desperate need, while others receive salaries which more adequately provide their needs. In view of these facts we recommend that the Fellowship Fund Committee study the systems now in operation . . . and bring in a report with concrete proposals for action." This was done and the report, commonly known as "Salary Equalization" but better called The Equitable Support Plan, came before the Conference.

II. The Present Situation.

With some amelioration the chief evils remain uncorrected and the main problem unsolved. The grade system still operates and unethical practices due to the system still continue. 49 per cent of our ministers last year received less than the recommended minimums of support, and 60 per cent fell below the U. S. Bureau of Labor, Minimum Decency Standard of Living. The average cash income of forty-two ministers, from July 1 to Dec. 31, 1934, amounted to $2.46 per day.

This committee was raised to find facts. We find that the German Methodists of Europe pool their ministerial support and maintain a schedule of support similar to that of the Board of Foreign Missions. They say it gives satisfaction. The Welsh Presbyterian Church of 100,000 members operates a guaranteed minimum support system, under which it is each minister's right to receive not less than $1800 and manse. They say they like their plan. The Seventh Day Adventists have a support pool similar to the German Methodists. They are enthusiastic in recommendation of this part of their temporal economy. Catholic priests profess a sense of brotherhood under a similar system.

We heard many assertions concerning supposed attitudes of ministers and churches. We sought for the facts. May we present first the results of a questionnaire sent to all the ministers. One hundred twenty-five replies were received. Eight questions were asked.

1. At present purchasing power, how much money do you consider necessary to a decent support for a minister, his wife and two children (house rent provided)? $1964.

2. In your opinion, would you work more efficiently, more zealously, if you were granted an increase of support? Yes, 52; No, 53; Uncertain, 16. Many remarks pointed out the cleavage in the question by saying, "More efficiently, yes; more zealously, no."

3. If you thought you could increase your income by hard and consecrated work, do you think you could do better ministerial work than you are now doing? Yes, 26; No, 61; Uncertain, 37.

From this point forward the unanimity becomes marked.

4. If you were aware that you possess security in your ministry, will not be thrown among the unemployed, and will not be appointed to any charge where you cannot expect a decent living, would your keenness and zest for your work decrease? Yes, 12; No, 100; Uncertain, 10.

5. How far does the increased income factor in the possibility of "getting an advance" move you toward more effective Christian service in the church you now hold? It moves me in an important fashion, 5; it does not influence me as far as I can tell, 97; I am not sure, 18.

6. Do you feel that salary grades figure too largely in making appointments? Yes, 103; No, 7; Doubtful, 14.

7. If you were in your present church, and the general church law set up a program whereby all salaries were adjusted to a scale of basic equality, and if your church had to "pay into the general fund" to adjust the salaries of other ministers upward, while yours was adjusted downward from its present level, would you play the game 100 per cent? I think so, 115; No, 2; Doubtful, 5.

8. Do you think it true, as some say, that "human nature being what it is" we can do nothing about the wide disparity in the support of our Methodist ministers? Yes, 14; No, 104; Doubtful, 4.

Whatever else the questionnaire indicates, it is clear beyond a doubt that the ministers, (1) repudiate the charge of money motivation, (2) believe that the grade system over-reaches itself, (3) contest the assertion that nothing can be done about the wide disparity in ministerial support, and (4) pledge themselves to any decision arrived at by the orderly processes of our church government.

Second, we present the official actions of churches which studied the Plan in conformance with the request of the 1934 Conference. A uniform report blank was devised to include a cross section of opinion regarding five statements. 94 churches thus recorded their official action. First, is the Equitable Support Plan practicable? 46 Boards state their belief that it is essentially workable; 24 think it is not workable; 23 are in doubt. Second, would the churches sincerely try the plan, if approved by the properly constituted authorities? 41 Boards believe the churches would sincerely try the plan; 15 believe not; 29 are doubtful. Third, is "the principle of fair support for all active ministers in good standing . . . a fundamental Christian principle"? One lone church appeared to be uncertain; all others said it is a fundamental Christian principle. Item four sought light upon the matter of ministerial inefficiency. Nearly one-third of the churches reporting did not wish to express any judgment. Only twelve Boards felt that "there are so many ineffective ministers that their inclusion under the Plan would work serious injustice to churches and pastors who work hard and give sacrificially". The Fifth and final statement involved the question of willingness to enter gladly and wholeheartedly into the plan, if adopted. 62 said they would; 17 said they would not, 9 remained undecided and 6 did not record their opinion in any fashion. On this item, with 1159 official members voting in the 94 churches, 788 voted yes; 237 voted no; 134 voted uncertain.

III. Recommendations.

We do recommend that the committee or a committee be continued or raised at this Conference to study and propose a plan to secure an equitable salary for every member of this Conference.

Based upon previous actions of the Conference, and in view of these above recorded facts, we recommend:

- (1) That the committee be continued.
- (2) That Section II, Basic Principles, of the Equitable Support Plan, (p. 101, 1934 Minutes) be approved.
- (3) That the Committee be instructed to work with the help of the Conference Board of Stewards and the Commission of Finance to (a) determine more exactly what administrative costs will be involved in the operation of the Plan as proposed under Section III; (b) to devise a schedule of basic salaries and adjustments for the various factors necessary to such a schedule, the same to be submitted for approval to the 1936 Annual Conference; (c) to study and recommend plans to include ministers who serve institutions outside the control of the Annual Conference; and (d) to secure such basic information as shall enable us to more accurately gauge the working of the plan over a fair cross section of our churches.

PRORATING

By resolution of the last Annual Conference the Prorating Committee was obliged to do three things.

First. "To call all Pastors and Lay Delegates before them whose churches have failed to prorate in accordance with the law."

Second. "In case their Quarterly Conferences should refuse to accept the apportionment the District Superintendent shall call together the member of the Commission on Finance residing in his District and give opportunity for such Quarterly Conference to present their objections to the apportionment."

Third. "That the committee send out a report form at intervals of three months during the year, to be filled out by the pastor, showing the amount of claims paid to date."

With respect to Number One we are ready to meet all Pastors and Lay Delegates who are delinquent if some agency can furnish us the necessary information on which to work. We have discovered that it would take the entire time of the session of the Annual Conference for a committee to secure this from all the charges.

Number Two seems to be the duty of the District Superintendent.

Number Three. In carrying out the requirements of Number Three we have sent out the forms for reports from the churches, and while the information secured is of little avail to the committee in enforcing the law, yet I believe it has had a fine effect in reminding the pastors and churches of their duty and has resulted in increased prorating in general. We recommend that the committee for next year continue to impress the pastors and churches as to the duty of prorating, but we do not believe it is possible for the committee to enforce the law if it is not complied with voluntarily.

SURVEY OF GERMAN PROPERTIES

The Commission of Survey of the former German Church Properties have made a very careful survey of all German properties and beg to report as follows:

Anaheim and Orange: A deed to the Orange Church property has been given to the Southern California Conference and the Anaheim Church is looking forward to the time when they also can deed over their property.

Santa Rosa: The church is being supplied for the time being but the congregation is very small and they are looking forward to terminating their work by next Conference and turning over their property to the Southern California Annual Conference.

Los Angeles First German: The pastor of this church is very hopeful that in the near future some adjustment of their church property can be made in favor of the Southern California Conference Endowment Fund. We recommend that some substantial amount should be paid this year to the Pension Fund.

Fresno: It is the opinion of the Committee that Fresno Church should be continued for another year.

Oakland: A resolution is being offered in both the California and the Southern California Conference with reference to this property.

Stockton: Progress is being made in the matter of transfer of property and the committee believes that within another year a deed will be in our possession.

The Commission is glad to report that the members of the erstwhile California German Conference are doing everything in their power to carry out the agreement of the merger declaration as made in 1927.

The Commission was ordered continued for negotiations with the California Conference, the new Treasurer of the Conference Funds to be added to the Commission.

Evangelism and Education

COMMISSION ON EVANGELISM

The Apostolic Church was born in an Upper Room in Jerusalem. Peter tells us it was about nine o'clock in the morning. Our beloved branch of that Church was born in a room in Aldergate Street, London. John Wesley tells us it was about nine o'clock in the evening. With his heart "strangely warmed" with those same fires which fell upon that waiting company in the first century, Wesley went out in the twentieth century to contest "the three kingdoms in the cause of Christ during the campaign which lasted forty years," as Augustine Birrell reminds us in "The Heart of John Wesley's Journal." Thus our church was spread abroad by evangelistic fire.

Your Commission believes that in these days of challenge and opportunity, our church must maintain this emphasis on evangelism of her great leader. She must give to the world first of all a leadership in whose hearts burn the pentecostal fires so that men shall be brought honestly to face their inner lives, and to cry, "Men and brethren what shall we do?"

We rejoice that all through this exceedingly difficult period our brethren in China have so pressed the claims of Jesus Christ upon men everywhere that days of financial poverty and distress have proved for our churches there to be days of spiritual riches and grace. We in this Conference may well emulate their example and follow in their footsteps. If, under the crushing weight of our terrific financial burdens we have lost some of our evangelistic passion, let us here and now pledge God and each other that in our church schools, from our pulpits, and in our homes we shall proclaim that Name in which, and only in which, there is salvation.

Some of our churches are finding it advantageous to lay down financial plans which shall extend through a period of five years. Your Commission suggests that a carefully worked out program of Evangelism which shall seek to revitalize the people within our churches and to reach with the Gospel message increasing numbers outside of our churches might well be laid down for five years to come. It may be necessary to re-think the methods which we once found so successful; new days may require new approaches; but by whatever means we may deem it best to use, your Commission believes that our Conference should unitedly enter into an aggressive campaign for vital religion in our churches.

We wish to commend the splendid work done on the Long Beach District this past year in this regard. There has been a well thought out plan, into which the churches have entered with a fine spirit of co-operation. The best of the old was combined with the wise use of the new and the results were gratifying. We should like to see some such plan worked in all our districts this next year.

W. W. KALER.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Both of the principle types of Christian education in which Methodists of the United States are now engaged had their origin in the year 1785. The current year, 1935, is therefore the 150th anniversary of the beginning of this most vital part of the Church' program.

The first Sunday School to be founded in America was begun by a Methodist layman, William Elliott, in 1785, and Francis Asbury has the following entry in his Journal for May 30, 1785, "We went to Abingdon to settle our college business, and took a bond for the conveyance of the ground; we then returned and fixed our plan for the approaching Conference." On June 5th he wrote, "I rode to Abingdon to preach the foundation sermon of Cokesbury College."

We might exclaim, "Lo, what a conflagration a little fire kindleth!" For today in the Southern California Conference alone we have enrolled in our Sunday Church Schools over 100,000 pupils, led by nearly 9000 officers and teachers—most of our pastors have received their training in Methodist colleges—all over the country multiplied thousands of our young people are in our institutions of higher learning, and literally millions of people every Sunday and through the week attend our schools of Christian learning in the churches.

In addition to these major phases of our program many other effective educational projects have developed. No part of the church is richer than our Conference in this respect. Read the following pages, and as you read give your imagination free rein. United in one Board we seek to understand each other better. As we conceive it, our function is thus to unite all our agencies of an educational character, so that we may more successfully produce well-rounded, effective Christian personalities, set on creating the realm of God in the world.

Snapshots of the Work

Local Church Visitation continues as the chief activity of the secretary. He has conducted discussion conferences on all the districts. The attitude of the pastors is one of invariable courtesy and encouragement. Our workers everywhere are open to suggestion and seem eager for the improvement of their programs of service.

Matters Educational gravitate to our Conference Board office; result, we have active committees (more properly described as project groups) at work on correlation of missionary education, the alcohol problem, our Parish Abroad (Foochow Area), a total World Service educational program for 1935-1936, a missionary exhibit, the Methodist League of Decency, etc., besides numerous other phases of work which naturally fall under the supervision of our regular Board committees which are: Elementary, Young People, Adult, Wesley Foundation and Schools and Finance.

The Coordinating Council Plan of Los Angeles County includes every organization and agency concerned with children and youth—civic, educational, religious, etc. There are fifty-four Councils organized by districts. They actively aid in integrating and coordinating programs and projects, and supply workers for activities such as handcraft, music, recreation, pageantry, etc. Results show greatly reduced juvenile delinquency and improved neighborhood morale. In eighteen high school districts, in Los Angeles, demonstration Community Vacation Church Schools are planned in which the Coordinating Council will cooperate in the activities features. A 95-page booklet, "Youth's New Day" (50c) describes the set-up and work of the Council. Address, 408 Law Bldg., 139 N. Broadway, Los Angeles.

A Procession of Helpers From the Chicago Office (and there are no better), came our way this year, greatly stimulating our work: Miss Sarah E. Green, N. F. Forsyth, Chas. F. Boss, Owen Geer, H. D. Bolinger, and F. C. Eiselen.

Forty pastors with Bishop Baker and Owen Geer, and led by Charles F. Boss, spent a week in Seminar a mile high at Idyllwild, in February. It was high in more ways than one. This annual event is open to all pastors.

Genuine enthusiasm in the New Leadership Courses was displayed in four largely attended one-day pastor discussions with Nathaniel F. Forsyth. Over 300 courses were selected at that time—but, when it comes to actually organizing classes around these courses, that is different. But if work will do it we expect to have more than that number of classes in the new courses in another year. Where given a real chance these courses change the morale of a church within twelve months' time.

Our children's leaders, both Methodist and interdenominational, were enthusiastic over the help they received from the Elementary Workers' Conferences with Miss Green as the resource person.

With Jim McGiffin at the helm of our young people's work, six Institutes are to be held this summer, at sea and mountain sites. We had Dr. Regina Westcott Weiman of Chicago University, recently, in a six-day coaching conference on counselling.

The Annual Meeting of the Conference Board of Education held in January, is a real occasion. It meets all day and consists of reports of the standing committees, addresses and discussions, closing with the yearly Pastors' and Presidents' Banquet. Fifteen hundred people attended the various sessions this year.

The Unified Sunday Morning Service is in for a new trial in this Conference. Churches, little and big, are trying it. Where the people have been thoroughly educated in advance the plan goes over. First Church, Glendale, one of the first to try it is now in the second year and unanimously for it, as are others on shorter trial. Their purposes are outlined as follows: (1) To do away with "separatedness" within the church; (2) To offer a more complete program opportunity for all ages; (3) To cut out duplications; (4) To provide one service with a time schedule in which all can participate. Departmental Schedules are:

We wish you, reader, might have attended the first Conference Family Institute at Camp Sierra last summer. There was the finest fellowship, plenty of useful information, abiding inspiration. Whole families enjoyed the institute together. There was a vacation school for the children. We have never seen more genuine interest, finer enthusiasm. But—you have another chance! The week of August 27-September 2 (Labor Day), the second Family Institute will be held at Camp Sierra. How about a vacation there? Rates are most reasonable. A wonderful group of leaders and discussion groups. And if you cannot make it on the 27th, then "come on along" the 31st and over Labor Day for the Laymen's and Pastors' Seminar on "Is Christianity a Practical Way of Life?"

Appointed chairman of the Program Committee of the Southern California Methodist Preachers' Meeting, the secretary with the other members of the committee, John Ross and Frank Lawyer, has sought to make the programs both interesting and educational. A great variety of subjects of immediate interest have been discussed by well-known authorities.

Motion Pictures. Stanley McKee is chairman of the committee, active in assembling literature; held public session in Preachers' Meeting on better motion pictures with a representative of the Catholic Church as speaker, published report in Advocate; courses on this subject will be in all summer institutes.

Alcohol Education. Harry I. Rasmus heads the Committee and is doing a good job. Their report was submitted at a recent Board meeting and was very well received and published in the May 15, 1935, issue of the Advocate. We have many valuable helps on this subject at the office for teachers and pupils.

We have cooperated in the Coordinating Program of Methodist agencies in Los Angeles and vicinity and with the aid of the committee submitted a report on the Spanish American Institute which included a number of suggestions with respect to the educational policy of the Institute.

There are many good mails secretaries in the churches — men and women selected by their pastors to receive announcements and other mail, study and properly publicize or distribute them, thus relieving busy pastors of much detail. If you have no Mails Secretary in your church and wish one, name whom you will and send the name and address to the office.

What Helps One May Not Help Another. One pastor can make use of materials that another cannot. Projects, activities, programs cannot be the same in all churches. But how can we, who must serve all, determine that? We cannot. We can follow no other rule than to send the same suggestions, materials, programs to all, trusting pastors and their committees to select what is useful to them. Such a "Service Station" — that is what we are trying to make of our office — if it functions well, must receive plans and suggestions from all sources and in turn distribute them to all the churches. If you receive too many letters from us please be patient, for what you may not care for may be just the thing your brother over there has been looking for.

Wesley Foundation Work came into closer cooperation with the Board two years ago. Improvement is indicated by the following financial record: 1932-33, $4073.00; 1933-34, $4658.00; 1934-35 (to be secured at Conference).

As chairman of the Educational Committee of the University Religious Conference, the secretary arranged a series of Faculty-Minister discussions at the University of California, Los Angeles, campus. Fifteen pastors and seventeen professors participated. General theme was "The Place of Religion in Education." Interests were discovered to be largely identical, mutual respect was deepened. The discussions are to be continued, together with participation in plans to meet practical social needs.

Participated actively in merger of six interdenominational agencies into one, creating the C.C.C. (California Church Council), with the following departments: Christian Education, Evangelism, Home Missions and Comity, Missionary, Social Relations, Inter-Faith and Inter-Racial, and Young People's Council. This means the concentration of resources and coordination of program. Eliminates waste and duplication.

Parish Abroad Information Service. Three standing committees of the Board of Education have prepared for publication three Foochow Manuals for Children, Young People, Adults. Alice Louise Brown, Helen L. McCaron and Frank M. Toothaker deserve hearty thanks for an unusually valuable piece of work. The New York and Chicago offices give high praise. Dr. Hargraves writes: "Extraordinarily fine piece of educational work." These Manuals deserve a very prominent place in the program of every Church. Price, 25c each or the three for 50c.

World Service for 1935-36. This office is assisting in the preparation of a special program for sub-district two-day meetings in October, and local churches cultivation period in January and February. These will be delegated conferences and will present the total World Service program, with discussion, resource people for the various projects, exhibits, pictures, pageant, etc. The Exhibit committee has as its chairman, Louis Fiske.

Five sets of stereopticon slides and lectures pertaining to Foochow are in constant circulation among the churches. A new set of slides with lecture has been made to be used in our Conference by Miss Sarah Bosworth, formerly of Foochow.

Two Chinese leaders, C. J. Lin, President, Fukien Christian University, and C. T. Yang, Principal, Foochow Union High School, gave us together seven weeks of visiting and speaking in forty-six churches. Missionaries from Foochow Area, H. V. Lacy, Paul P. Wiant, Everett M. Stowe and Frank P. Cartwright of the Board of Foreign Missions, have visited us and spoken in many of our churches. Speaking assignments for all these have cleared through the Conference office.

Have stimulated the sending for letters from our Foochow Missionary friends to pastors and others. Arranged for the "Foochow News" to come regularly to the pastors, bringing fresh news from the field. Special editions of the China Christian Advocate, by arrangement with the New York office and the Shanghai publishers, sent in ample quantities to all the churches of the Conference. A film of missionary work in Foochow is being prepared by Harry R. Caldwell, which we hope may be available next year.

Department of Children's Work. Girls and boys are not merely prospective women and men, future "elders in Israel." They are now, in their own right, persons with much to give and much to get. Our program must begin with them, and proceed to build for the future.

The Children's Work Committee centralizes attention upon our girls and boys as growing personalities, not as members of any particular organization or group within the church. While the Women's Missionary Societies, the Leagues, Scouts and Campfire and the Church School, are all represented upon this committee, each is united with all for one common objective—the guidance of these children of ours into experiences as shall eventuate in well rounded Christ-like lives.

The outstanding event of the past year was a series of conferences held by Miss Sarah E. Green, Director of Children's Work for the Board of Education of our church. She touched every section of the Conference.

Long hours and hard work have gone into the preparation of the Leaders Manual for Workers with Children in this Conference for our Parish Abroad program. Effort has been to make it a practical source and guide book adaptable to varied ages and groups, for both smaller and larger churches, and to furnish opportunities for the children to have actual, concrete experiences of world friendship with the children of Foochow Area.

With the Foochow Area project it is earnestly hoped that a better correlation of our total program of Christian service education may develop. A joint commission, representing the World Service Council, the Women's Missionary Societies and the Church School, have prepared a statement of policy for unifying our total work among the children of the Conference. It deals with methods of organization and administration of a correlated program, lists resource helps and suggests service possibilities. Personal counselling will be given churches requesting this so far as is practical with a volunteer force of leaders.

Department of Epworth League and Young People's Work. One of the most perplexing situations confronting the church lies in helping its youth to find themselves in this world of today. Youth might be classified into these groupings: Those who know, those who think, those who either cannot think or will not. Here is a statement from one of the group who knows: "You speak the truth when you say the biggest problem of the time is finding an outlet for the bottled energy of youth. As a dope fiend craves narcotics, so the wires of my energy struggle to free themselves from the 'bottle' that encases them. Each day of inactivity lessens their elasticity, and I realize that if this struggle continues too long, that if the 'bottle' is broken too late, those wires may come out gangled, cold, dead, without any spring. I am not speaking for myself alone; I know that every youth who is unemployed either realizes it or feels the evolution going on within himself. Society, too, knows this; feels it! Society knows that youth craves activity yet cannot find honest work. Society knows that more young men from 18 to 25 are receiving their education in prisons and penitentiaries than in universities and colleges." This represents altogether too large a group of American youth.

Our thinking group are recognizing in a very realistic way the collapse of the economic and social structure and are earnestly giving themselves in an effort to find an adequate solution.

The third group seems to have the philosophy of their life dictated by the comic strips and the movies. To use their own language, they "don't know what it is all about." Unfortunately, a large number of church youth constitute the last group. What solution has the church for this picture? Be it said to the everlasting credit of the Department of Epworth League and Young People's Work of the Board of Education in Chicago that they realistically faced this challenge a number of years ago and laid some basic principles for a program of Abundant Living in the true sense of the word. As unsatisfactory as statistics are, we cannot help but be thrilled with the report of our Central Office which shows a net membership gain of 55,235 young people in four years.

The Southern California Conference Department of Epworth League and Young People's Work feels that it has had a share in this program of Kingdom Building. Through a series of coaching conferences we have endeavored to train leaders to better interpret the lesson material and discussion method. Our conventions this year, numbering seven, ought to give meaning in group solidarity to a united effort of Christian Youth Building a New World. We will be forever obligated to the splendid leadership of Rev. Owen M. Geer of the Central Office staff in helping make these conventions so outstanding. We were well represented at the National Council of Methodist Youth held at Evanston last fall, and our young people were conspicuous among the leaders of the Council. Through the cooperation of the Continuation Committee of the National Council and the California and Southern California Conference Young People's Cabinets, we are planning such a gathering for Methodist Young People of the San Francisco Area, to be held at Fresno, November 8, 9, 10 and 11. Bishop James C. Baker is chairman of the General Committee. The young people of this Conference are deeply indebted to Bishop Baker for the fine, Christian, brotherly way he has contributed of his time and counsel to the young people of this Conference. He has indeed won for himself a warm place in their hearts.

Last year the summer Institute program reached a high peak in attendance as well as results, and we are looking forward not only to increased attendance but to more satisfactory and efficient results.

This coming fall our program includes a series of creative leisure time leaders' conferences, and group discussion leaders' training schools. Cooperating with the California Christian Youth Council, we are participating in a peace demonstration with other Christian young people's groups on Armistice Day. This is a part of a nation-wide program.

We are indeed conscious of the challenge of the hour as brought to us so vividly by Dr. E. Stanley Jones in his recent book, "Christ's Alternatives to Communism"; "The hour of the terrible strife has come. Christendom will have to pull up its roots from the present pagan order in which they are deeply imbedded and plant them deep into the Kingdom of God, and take its sustenance and life from it, or it will perish. We must teach as though we believed in the inevitability of the Kingdom of God."

With other Christian youth we affirm our faith in our church, the church born in a period of social unrest, with a passion for the voiceless and underprivileged. We must face the issue either of a religion that is nothing but nice sounding platitudes and ideals, or a religion that is a transforming power in the life of individuals and society. What will our answer be to the youth today? "Society! Civilization! Break the bottle that encases the energy of youth. Break it! Or youth itself will break that bottle over your head. It must be freed."

The Wesley Foundation. The Wesley Foundation movement has been integrated more adequately with the total program of our Conference Board of Education. The mission of this movement is being more widely recognized throughout our church. Each unit of our Wesley Foundation was stimulated by the helpful visit of H. D. Bollinger, national executive of the Wesley Foundation.

Tempe—Arizona State Teachers College. H. N. Beimfohr, Pastor and Director. Out of a 15 per cent increase in the enrollment of the college, there is a 50 per cent increase in Methodist preference students. The Administration of the college has encouraged our work, setting aside each Tuesday evening as Religious Activity night. An Inter-religious Student Council has been organized and supported for the first time on the campus, a Religious Emphasis Week and also conducted weekly chapel services. The activities of the Foundation include week-day religious education and an augmented Sunday program, deputation teams and a very active program of Lambda chapter of the National Society of Wesley Players.

Tucson—University of Arizona. Rector W. Johnson, Pastor, and Miss Mary J. Ryan, Director. Over two hundred Methodist students have been reached through the program of this Foundation. The extensive program is divided into two divisions: study groups and service activities. The study groups include a Peace Action group, a study in Social, Economic and Political trends and a Racial Relations group. In these groups the administration and faculty of the University have been of unusual assistance. Service activities include: Church School (twenty Wesley Foundation students on the faculty), choir, leadership in Leagues, Boy Scouts, Pioneers and Vacation Schools, dramatics—nine productions, and a very effective recreational program through the year.

Stanford—R. H. Silverthorn, Director. The Foundation has had a steady growth. This year the Director has had the added responsibility of the interim pastorate of First Church, Palo Alto, following the resignation of Dr. John Stevens. An outline of the Foundation activities includes: The continuation of the effective work of the Bible Class under faculty leadership, dramatics, the Stanford deputation team has travelled widely and has been effective in its work of interpretation, the foreign student work has been increased. The personal contacts of the Director with individual students is one of the most beneficial factors in our work with students.

Berkeley—Justin Follette, Director. The past year has seen the development of a more challenging program for the three hundred students who have participated in our group at Berkeley. Two outstanding events were the mass meeting on "Students and War" addressed by Kirby Page and a great conference on "Religion and Life" led by Dr. Bruce Curry. In the community, Wesley Foundation students have cooperated in forming a Junior Co-ordinating Council of which Allen Barr, a Methodist student, is the first chairman. The Wesley Foundation Players have had a successful year. The students have had a significant part in Dr. Houser's program in Trinity Church. "Along with these activities there has been a definite deepening of the spiritual life of many students in the group."

Los Angeles—David C. Shipley, Director. (I.) Los Angeles Junior College. One hundred, fifty students participated in the augmented program of the Foundation. The program included weekly Forums, Fellowship Groups, International Dinners, Campus social activities, Christian Action Projects, Guided Reading, Devotional Studies and Personal Counselling. (II.) University of California, Los Angeles. Over two hundred students have had a part in the developing program of the Wesley Foundation. Increased student leadership has provided ten specific programs grouped around five guiding principles: Education, Christian Fellowship, The Personal Religious Life, Christian Action, Through Deputation Teams to seek to interpret student thought to the churches. (III.) General—The organizational integration of the Conference Epworth League and the Wesley Foundation has been accomplished. Four deputation teams have conducted thirty church services and travelled over 2000 miles.

Department of Adult Work. The Adult Committee has undertaken the following lines of work this year:

It has sponsored the Family Institute at Camp Sierra which, in the estimation of all, was a success. Another is being planned for this year.

It has made a study looking forward to a united effort in reaching the total adult life of the church. Conferences were held with representatives from all groups working with adults within the Conference. One such conference was held with Dr. Eiselen while he was in Southern California.

The Committee also assisted in making the plans for a series of Leadership Education Conferences held by Dr. N. F. Forsyth early in the conference year.

The Committee has assisted in the promotional and publicity work in connection with the Foochow Parish Abroad project.

Looking forward to the future the Committee hopes to be able, with all other groups working with adults, to work out a unified educational plan to reach the total adult life of our churches, feeling that only in this way can advancement be made.

Spanish American Institute—Charles D. Lewis, president of the Board, reports: The Spanish American Institute, child of the Southern California Conference, now twenty-two years of age, carried in the heart of a loyal constituency, sponsored by the Board of Home Missions, directed by a Board chosen by this Conference, taught by a talented and consecrated faculty and supported by loyal friends, now makes its annual bow and covets your continued approval.

Financial. Property unincumbered; Maintenance bills met; Taxes and insurance bills, nearly $400, sending an S.O.S. Budget reduced to a minimum this year, $15,000, approximately. Need a number of non World Service credit gifts. Some improvements needed.

Faculty: Holding the ideals of Jesus for the seventy-five boys this year enrolled, devoting themselves to the work given them; working together in harmony under the leadership of Dr. A. C. Stevens, our consecrated and efficient President.

Student Body: Partly from Mexico, partly from the Mexican churches, a fine group of young men and boys. Their value revealed at the annual Lincoln day exercises. Three graduates are now assisting on the faculty. Several are taking graduate work.

Coordinating Plans: Closer relations with Frances DePauw School for girls in a coordinated program proposed; broadened curriculum; admission of other Latin races; emphasize inter-racial fellowship and good will; work cooperatively in similar work of other denominations; participate in the Y.M.C.A. program.

Needs: Budget enlarged by non-credit givers—for needed repairs, to restore depleted salaries and to utilize all of our space by enlarging the number of students; and the constant prayers and interest of our loyal friends in the churches.

Mr. Frank Wallace, one of the charter members of the Board, recently remarked, "I think that the Institute is now doing the work as originally intended, in a better way."

Woman's Foreign Missionary Society: Through regularly planned study courses, the women of the auxiliaries make their contribution to the general educational program of the church. The Young People's Department has a well constructed program of missionary education for girls and young women. The Standard Bearer Camp in the summer gives a week of intensive training to an average of 160 girls. Other girls take advantage of conference and district week-end retreats and house parties at which problems are discussed and plans exchanged and to which missionaries bring inspiration and information. Through thirty-nine Kings Heralds Bands, 693 children receive instruction. These with others receiving instruction through the correlated programs, total nearly 5000.

Woman's Home Missionary Society. With a membership in the women's auxiliaries totalling over 8000, the women in this organization carry on study and discussion groups, together with project activities in both local and national enterprises. Nearly fifteen hundred girls carry on a well planned program through the Queen Esther Societies. A large number of girls are registered in the Summer Queen Esther Camp. Through the Junior groups outside of the correlated program with the Church School over three thousand children receive missionary education. Mrs. Sedgwick, the president, reports: The correlated programs have been available and distributed when possible but the use of them has been rather limited, chiefly because the Church School Superintendents and officers are not informed on the plan and do not cooperate to any great degree. . . . We are hoping that some progress may be reported by the end of the year when all reports are in."

The University of Southern California: A child of our church, continues to flourish under the able leadership of President Rufus B. von KleinSmid, and to expand in its scholastic and building programs. It ministers to all the world, for in the student body of nearly 13,000 are found representatives from many nations and from nearly every faith.

For the School of Religion this year, 1934-35, has been one of intensification of standards. The raise in subject requirements for the Master of Theology degree from 74 to 91 units went into effect September, 1934. The quality of instruction has also been sharpened by holding all students enrolled this year in class work to a more rigid grade point level. A closer knitting together of the students and faculty has been accomplished through frequent staff meetings and student conferences, including a luncheon for Dr. Frederick C. Eiselen, a May breakfast for all religion majors, graduate and undergraduate, at Ferndale in Griffith Park, and a Deans' Breakfast, to be annual event for candidates receiving the M. Th. degree, was established.

To aid in the development of the individual student a plan has been evolved for a constructive criticism clinic to be effective September, 1935. Each instructor will turn in personality rating charts, and at least once a year each student in the School of Religion will appear before the entire staff for friendly counsel and helpful criticism.

School of Religion Forums under the able leadership of Robert J. Taylor have been conducted both semesters, the first around the theme, "Christianity and the Modern Temper", and the second, "Spiritual Struggle."

Under the leadership of Acting Dean John G. Hill, the instructional staff has placed a new emphasis upon the most vital things in religion—creative living and first hand experience with God, the feeling being that no amount of academic work can take the place of the glowing, growing spiritual life, and that to equip a minister for his task there must be a blending of spiritual richness with the keenest learning. It is the earnest effort of the School of Religion to seek and cultivate the closest friendly cooperation with different church bodies and sects, and to encourage them to use our school for the preparation of their ministers and religious workers. Already more than a dozen different Protestant denominations are sending graduate workers here to take the professional degree of Master of Theology.

California Church Council: Our Board of Education has for many years cooperated closely with the Southern California Council of Religious Education. When the organization became a part of the California Church Council through the merger which became effective January 1, 1935, we continued to use its Department of Christian Education as the agency through which we cooperate with other denominations.

Last October the Council conducted eight regional conventions for leaders in Christian education, covering all portions of Southern California. Our Board provided the services of Miss Sarah Green, children's worker from our central office in four of these conventions, and the Executive Secretary also participated in a number of them. The plan intended is to hold twelve conventions during the coming fall.

Methodist students have continued to participate in the interdenominational leadership training schools which are conducted under the auspices of the Council. Some sixty such schools and classes were conducted during the past year.

Thirty-one communities throughout Southern California are organized into Community Councils of Christian Education, and in almost every case the participation of the Methodist leaders is notable.

UNIVERSITY CHURCH

University Church enters this year upon the fourth phase of its "Forward Program." Real progress has been made this year in determining the type of church program best suited to this particular church and congregation. The amortization of the debt, a very trying experience, is still in progress, but the congregation, nevertheless, is more hopeful of a satisfactory settlement than it was at the beginning of the year.

Effective work has been carried on among Methodist students on the campus of the University of Southern California. The pastor has been assisted in his efforts by two student workers assigned by the University to the University Religious Conference and paid out of the S.E.R.A.

funds, allocated to universities. The work, however, has been greatly handicapped by the lack of available Conference and local funds.

The committee believes that everything possible has been done and is being done to meet the situation now obtaining in University Church. The members of the committee wish to take this opportunity of expressing their appreciation of the interest that President von KleinSmid, Bishop Baker, and District Superintendent Oechsli have taken in the amortization of the debt and organization of the "Forward Program." The committee also commends the pastor, Golder Lawrence, for his devotion to the interests of both church and university.

We believe that, under the circumstances, the Bishop's decision to "Carry On" is the wise one, and we hope that "all things will work together for good" in this difficult situation and that the work of this historic and strategic church may be saved to Methodism.

SCHOOL OF RELIGION

In the report of last year, page 85 of the minutes, your Commission on School of Religion stated that any further negotiations in regard to the establishment of a School of Religion under the auspices of this Conference depended on what arrangements could be made with U.S.C. for the return to us of Maclay endowment and also upon the more favorable turn in general financial affairs.

Both conditions are yet in force. Because this Conference has not given its consent to the severance of U.S.C. from Conference control the issue as to ownership of Maclay funds is yet an open question.

But definite action must await better financial conditions.

We therefore recommend the continuance of this commission or the appointment of another, the same to be determined by Conference action.

PACIFIC PALISADES ASSOCIATION

During this Conference year Pacific Palisades Association entered definitely upon what will be its last phase. In September the office moved to Glendale for convenience and economy. Since that time the attention of the executive office has been given chiefly to the liquidation of the Association's affairs and toward this end considerable progress has been made.

During the summer months of 1934 the Association operated the properties at Pacific Palisades on a lease to which was attached an option to purchase both the land and equipment. The epidemic of infantile paralysis proved a severe handicap, costing the Association some of its best summer business. Notwithstanding this, the proceeds from operations not only carried their own expense but maintained the administrative offices, the expense of which would otherwise have been a total charge upon the Association's slender resources. From every viewpoint the summer operations were a distinct success and advantage.

The option to purchase expired on December 29th. Prior to that date the Association took a postal card ballot from the lay and ministerial members of the annual conference to discover their attitude with reference to an attempt to re-acquire and operate these properties. The results of that ballot reflected a decided sentiment against such an undertaking particularly in view of the other demands resting upon the Conference. As a further test, the Association presented the matter to a representative group of laymen for their consideration. This group likewise, were unfavorable to any attempt to repossess the property even at the low cost involved, particularly in view of the fact that no assurance could be given that the enterprise could be operated for religious purposes upon more than a maintenance basis. Definite approaches were made to individuals for funds, but with such meager response that the option was allowed finally to lapse.

The Associations' Articles of Incorporation contain the provision that before it can be disincorporated legally it must have the consent of the Southern California Annual Conference. Several matters remain to be adjusted before disincorporation will be possible and these may require considerable time. There are forty-eight 99-year leases still outstanding which will need to be converted into deeds or otherwise provided for. One bit of litigation is still in the courts and awaits decision. While no definite date can be fixed, therefore, as to when disincorporation will be legally possible, it should be accomplished at the earliest possible moment. When accomplished, remaining assets, if any, will become the property of the Board of Trustees of the Conference. In order that there may be no unnecessary delay, your Board of Trustees submits herewith a resolution requesting your consent to its disincorporation and asks that this resolution be adopted formally.

Pursuant to our By-Laws which require your approval of a list of fifteen or more eligibles to membership on the Association's Board of Trustees, the following names are presented for your consideration with the suggestion that they be approved as nominees:

Merle N. Smith, I. J. Reynolds, Clyde M. Crist, W. R. Morehouse, Glenn Randall Phillips, A. Ray Moore, Ray C. Harker, James E. Dunning, John Anson Ford, F. G. H. Stevens, John Gabrielson, C. D. Lewis, R. G. Bose, J. L. Corley, and H. B. Mather.

Resolution in Relation to Discontinuance of Pacific Palisades Association by Southern California Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

WHEREAS, by Section Fifth of the Articles of Incorporation of Pacific Palisades Association it is provided as follows:

FIFTH: * * * * Should the Board of Trustees at any time deem it wise to discontinue this institution, it may do so by and with the consent of the said Conference. In such case the Board of Trustees shall dispose of the property and assets of the corporation in the manner directed by said Conference, or pay over to said Conference the net proceeds of its assets, after payment of all its obligations. * * * *

AND WHEREAS, by foreclosure of the trust indenture securing the bonds issued by said corporation the property of the corporation has been lost and there are no funds with which to continue the business of the Association for which it was incorporated;

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by Southern California Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, duly assembled on this 25th day of June 1935, as follows:

The Board of Trustees of said Pacific Palisades Association having deemed it wise to discontinue this institution and to dissolve the corporation as soon as it becomes legally possible so to do, the Southern California Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church hereby consents that it may do so and directs that in such case said Board of Trustees shall dispose of the Property and assets of the corporation by sale of the same and pay any obligations that may be existing against it; and if there be any net proceeds, to pay over the same to the treasurer of the Southern California Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

This resolution is deemed a consent and direction as provided in said Section Five of the Articles of Incorporation of Pacific Palisades Association.

Excerpts from Report of the Executive Vice President of Pacific Palisades Association to the Annual Meeting of the Board of Trustees, Held November 5, 1934

"The one fact that stands out glaringly from the ballot is that approximately 75% of the Conference both lay and clerical do not have sufficient interest in the project to even express themselves with reference to it. Next to that perhaps is the fact that only 12% of the members of the Conference have expressed themselves as believing that the project is of sufficient importance to Protestantism to justify its repossession and operation under the conditions. Only 6.1% believe that it should be under Methodist auspices, while 21% believe that if undertaken at all it should be on the non-denominational plan."

PERIODICALS

As the power of the press has become so apparently the most potent instrument of propaganda, the situation demands the immediate and lively attention of Methodism.

To cope with the dangers existing in the tyrannical oppression of the thinking of those who "think they think" by the blatant yellow press, our church should recognize their technique and borrow any honest values that might counteract their sinister and devastating influence.

We observe the disadvantage that exists in the fact that false standards of life may gain entrance to almost every American home by way of certain ubiquitous newspapers while Christian principles reach only a minority of our own membership through the denominational periodicals. Mass circulation represents enormous influence. Increased circulation of our Advocates and Epworth Herald would meet this particular phase of the problem, but there are many other phases.

The shrewd use of reiteration is a weapon that builds up propaganda powerful enough to rock civilization. Whether jingo journalism will precipitate chaos appears to depend upon whether ethical journalism can apply its own antidote. Hence, such newspapers as demonstrate noble standards, should be supported by our Methodist people as a matter of conscience. If every Methodist in our Conference took the trouble to communicate with the editor of such a newspaper as was selected to receive his subscription, and informed him of the reason for the choice, over 90,000 subscriptions would be involved! That heartening would help to hold the editors to a continuation of their course.

Too often our well-intentioned religious journalism is technically inferior to the more powerful secular papers. The latter have excellent typography, action, general readability, unconventional illustration and terse paragraphing. This deficiency in church publications is not always due to inept editing, but relates to costs which again relate to lack of subscribers.

However, better choice of subject matter, and less obvious intrusion of the reflection of official bias in thinking, would enable pastors to push more enthusiastically the denominational periodicals.

As a further practical development of the suggestion offered by your committee last year, urging every pastor to appoint a secretary of good literature, we herewith submit a more detailed plan.

Our ministers should draw the attention of their congregations to noteworthy articles in current periodicals. The recent good books should be requested at the public library and mention made from the pulpit when they are ready for release. Reading clubs in the local church are easy to maintain. Local librarians will invariably cooperate with the secretary of good literature in such projects.

A display permanently installed in the vestibule of the church should not only feature the products of our own Book Concern, but might have a method of loan circulation, purchase or outright giving of selected periodicals and books submitted to the pastor for his approval.

Some of the cults turn all their adherents into colporteurs and surprising finds can be made in the libraries of Methodist people. The open and intense canvass that places volumes of dubious value in such places, suggests that Methodism has largely lost one of her most effective channels of conquest. To meet the modern conditions, colportage might be revived not as a full-time task, but promoted by the pastor as a membership visitation between his people for the exchange of good reading material.

CRAWFORD TROTTER.

APTITUDE TESTS

The development of a set of aptitude tests for any vocation requires patient investigation extending to a large number of individuals, if it is to be valid. Bishop Baker, writing to the committee, said, "I am anxious that all we do in this particular task shall have the approval of men scientifically trained in this work so that we may be able to appear before the world unashamed in our work." To this end, your committee has consulted freely with regard to methods of procedure, both general and detailed.

One major project of investigation has been undertaken this year. Ministerial members of the Conference have received certain standardized psychological instruments to be filled out for use in developing a norm by which to measure future applicants for entrance to the ministry. Out of 238 receiving these blanks, 173 have sent in returns. The tabulating of these returns, together with other data collected, has been taken over by Roy Bose of Chapman College, to be done by students under his direction. The details of mimeographing, mailing, etc., have been handled in the Conference office through the courteous cooperation of Mr. J. Wesley Hole. To all who have thus given assistance, the committee expresses its appreciation.

The plan of the committee is to pursue an investigation among the laymen of the Conference to secure data against which to balance the findings of the research now being completed among the ministers. This, together with the careful interpretation of all data now gathered, must precede the construction of preliminary schedules of the tests being developed. At least one more year will be needed for this work. We therefore ask the continuance of the same committee, with the addition of Roy Bose.

The expense of materials used thus far is $41.65. The Conference office has handled all financial matters for the committee. For the work of the committee for next year, we recommend an appropriation of $50.00.

WORSHIP AND MUSIC

Introduction:—Worship, carried on the tide of human need, is too often left as a wasted derelict in our church services. Yet, it is that experience without which none pass or repass into the portals of God consciousness and spiritual fellowship. Man can live for a time without food. He cannot grow without it. Man's soul may maintain the semblance of being Christian for a time without worship, but worship is essential to the development of spiritual powers. Without worship no man sees God.

All men worship. They must worship. They always have. When a man ceases to worship his soul dies. The soul cries out for the beauty of the Lord; for fellowship with the Lord; for an abiding habitation. In spite of this, many leaders neglect the study of the practice of worship; Its rudiments, forms and values to the desolation of our people. If a minister majors in preaching and does not correlate his whole sanctuary service to the spiritual needs of his people, he has clipped the wings of his sermon. Its message will not rise to call God "blessed" nor find its way to prepared hearts for rich fruition.

Description of Worship: Worship is objective in that it is adoration to God. It is subjective in that it is an experience of expression toward God and His expression in the life of man. It is private in that it is personal. It is collective in that it is individually experienced within group action, yet enriched by fellowship and the interaction of ideals, aspirations, and dedications.

Worship, as man's momentary awareness of God, is molded by its atmosphere. Beauty, holiness, rest and quiet, color, music, symbols, physical conditions, mental attitudes and moral tones; all these blend into an experience of God.

Public worship is collective worship through the use of all these experiences of, and aids to worship to assist man in entering the Kingdom of God.

Pastoral Leadership:—Public Worship must be led. As a pattern for other worshippers, the minister must school himself in the art of worship. This will cause the formulation of some prohibitions.

1. He will not whisper to anyone during music or quiet moments. This applies during the conference sessions.

2. He will not mislead his fellow-worshippers by hand-clapping in appreciation of something that has stirred his soul. A reverent hush is holy applause.

3. He will not talk about things that do not add to the worship atmosphere.

4. He will not dress unseemly for the chancel leadership.

5. He will not read nor write while someone else is, for the moment, leading in worship.

6. He will not violate the patience of fellow-worshippers by long prayers, long sermons nor unnecessary announcements.

7. He will not be coldly formal. Public worship is social and must be made conducive to the generation of a warm heart.

Moreover, the minister will form habits which will mold an "audience" into a worshipping congregation:

1. By his own attitude of deep reverence, expressing the dignity which belongs to God's minister.

2. By preaching on what a man does and what happens to him when he worships.

3. By knowing enough about the psychology of religious experience and the social significance of worship to plan an order of service which directs and makes possible the free expression of the natural spiritual experiences of man's personality.

4. By making use of quiet moments for individual worship.

5. By choosing sermon, hymns, responses and the like which integrate in a unified whole.

6. By checking with his assistants, the janitor, ushers, organist, choir leader and visiting minister before he enters the chancel, to see that physical comforts and time schedules are well understood.

7. By explaining symbols and forms used as instruments of worship. e.g., pictures, tokens, prayers; that worship, by their use, may be meaningful.

8. By elevating the collection to an offering unto the Lord.
9. By elevating the place of worship from an auditorium of distraction to a sanctuary of attraction. This will make it necessary to hold secular meetings somewhere else than in the sanctuary, where the church building is adequate.
10. By making way, without haste, for the Beauty of the Lord to shine through.
11. By using printed or mimeographed orders of worship service.
12. By leading all in worship. Some do not sing. For them let there be printed prayers, responses and Creeds or Declarations of Faith. These are sociologically significant. They tie the present with the whole glorious past.

The Worship Service:—Worship services should indicate the solidarity of faith; the utility of mutual aid; the beauty of purity; and the sanctity of all life. No part of the worship service should be considered "routine." If any part is not an aid to worship it should be dropped, even though it be the sermon.

There is no uniform, no perfect order of service. For a rural congregation in a one-room, combined sanctuary and educational building, one must use an adapted service to fit the mind, attitude and experience of the people. A highly cultured urban congregation in a beautiful sanctuary may be no more worshipful but ordinarily that group should be provided with a more ornate worship service. Culture does not come wrapped in scented paper addressed only to city people. That is why the rural worshiper has as much need of beauty in worship as any other. Culture is an experience of the soul. The soul which sees God is always made beautiful.

The minister need not give people merely what they think they want. He should sense their needs, then by the adaptations of the arts in worship, he should lead them to the Throne of Grace by lifting their lives into the presence of the Infinite, by the impact of spiritual powers which he himself has experienced. Without a personal religious experience no man adequately can lead another in Christian worship. "Preach the Word" is the ordination commission to the young minister. It may be a command. It may be a privilege offered. It is a responsibility. Before there was an institution to commission men to preach the word, Jesus himself sent forth those who would, to declare the sufficiency of the Gospel. Preaching the Word means to establish men in the Gospel through goodness, truth, beauty in nature and the arts, and goodwill. To this end, the sermon becomes an instrument of worship. When it ceases to be that it ceases to preach Christ. When pulpit "rantings" are abolished those of the congregation will be quiet enough to rest in the Glory of God. In these anxious days our people need to learn the relaxation of heart and mind in the presence of Him who is able to keep us unto the uttermost.

Conclusion:—Let our leaders of worship forget the shibboleths of ancient meaning and enter the citadel of Now, where men struggle for mastery with grim realities. Modern Declarations of Faith are as genuine as ancient creeds and have more meaningful to a new age. Hymns of adoration, devotion and challenge are as spiritual and singable as the jolly up clap-trap songs of the sleigh-bell era. Let us use them to the glory of God and the salvation of mankind. Oratory cannot longer anaesthetize those who go to church to forget social injustices and look blankly at spiritual unrealities and still be "preaching." Stern Amositic declarations and wooing Hoseaitic entreaties, mellowed by Christ-likeness in the preacher are needed to join mystical experiences and social realities in a world waiting for transformation through righteousness, justice and perfect love.

Worship is this experience made personal. Its promised land victories lie before us. Jehovah, our God, and His Christ are our companions in the everlasting quest for the peace which brings rest and ecstasy to weary souls. Yet, worship is not complete until it challenges man to go out into a misguided, selfcentered, materialistically dominated world as a witness to the power and grace of God. When this happens the morning stars will sing together again and all the sons of God will shout for joy. Once again, angel wings will be heard bearing good tidings of a new era from the altar of Jehovah's love. Once again, humanity will reverently chant, "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of hosts, Heaven and earth are full of thy Glory; Glory be to thee, O Lord, most High. Amen!"

SOCIAL PROBLEMS, AND INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

The church must proclaim a gospel adequate to the needs of a world aware of its own weaknesses and helplessness. The old order is changing and giving place to a new. Men are confused in the presence of forces beyond their control or their understanding. Now is the supreme opportunity of the church to lead adventurous spirits in reorganizing our social order so as to provide for the abundant life for all. The Gospel of Christ is not only the power of God to integrate individual personality into realms of peace, freedom and effectiveness, but it is also the dynamic to shape our political, social and economic life so as to afford an abundant opportunity for the least of the Father's children.

The church in its long history has so often conformed to the standards of the world as to leave large areas of life essentially pagan. This calls for hearty repentance. The anguish of millions of unemployed in our land ascends to God as their homes are seized for debt, their clothing depleted, and their food supplies prove inadequate to sustain the vigor of their families. This, in a land of plenty and at a time when it is reported that dividend payments exceed those of many years called prosperous! Over the world there hangs the constant threat of war, an evil which the church denounces as "the greatest of our social sins". The common people of all nations shudder at the horrors of international mass murder while leaders lack the courage to plan disarmament in the face of pressure from those who get gain through human slaughter.

The prophets and Jesus felt the Spirit of the Lord upon them and an anointing "to proclaim good news to the poor; to heal the broken in courage and spirit; . . . to clear up the understanding of the ignorant; and to set at liberty them that are bruised". Does not the same compulsion rest on ministers and laymen today? Jesus in compassion fed the multitudes, healed the sick and pronounced his blessings upon peacemakers. Far greater things should his disciples do in this scientific age to make available the resources of heaven and earth through the building of an economic order consonant with His spirit and teachings.

The Methodist church has been clear in its moral judgments upon the kind of world in which we live. The General Conference declared: "The present order is un-Christian, unethical and anti-social, because it is based largely on the profit motive, which is a direct appeal to selfishness. . . . It is clear that the church must not acquiesce in the continuance of the present status. . . . It is an urgent duty devolving upon us to make clear the ethical issues involved in the current economic crisis. We must stir the conscience of mankind to create a social way of life in which all men shall have an opportunity to develop their capacities to the fullest possible extent".

These "ethical issues" inhere in the motive, the method and the goal of the present economic system. The "social way of life" which we call upon mankind to create involves their displacement by the motive, the method and the goal of Christ Jesus taught that in the order which he came to establish he who would be master must be the servant of all. Our economic overlords insist that profit, which by definition of our national tax authorities is "unearned income", must, of necessity, be the driving force. Yet because profit is not forthcoming, multitudes of our fellow citizens, even in normal times, rarely get food enough to satisfy their hunger or sufficiently nourish their bodies. Then, what must be God's heartache now, when for the sake of the profit of the few we ignore the bitter needs of the many as we waste our natural resources by sacrilegiously destroying God's bounty in food supplies and clothing materials? It is the inability of the profit motive to meet the needs of our complex society that millions in normal times cannot have the benefits of preventive medicine and today suffer and die needlessly for want of proper attention. High-minded men and women in the healing profession are at last awakening to the urgent need of some form of socialized medicine and should have the enthusiastic support of all followers of the Great Physician.

Again, ignoring God's law of human brotherhood, our economic order has made competition the method of the industrial system by which we live. However much this method may be modified by those who recognize what they term "unfortunate" manifestations, it must inevitably lead to some such maldistribution of wealth as we now have in our country, where less than 2 per cent of the people enjoy 80 per cent of the wealth while millions live in want. Looking farther, we find that economic competition is the root cause of war. In vain does our church demand that the war system shall cease until the people are taught to lay the axe to the root of the tree of such evil fruitage. The motive and the method of our economic order makes futile the protest against the preparation for war. We must change the system that makes war inevitable.

Just as clearly as does the church condemn the profit motive of the traditional economic order, so it teaches the need of a cooperative society to supplant the present competitive system. The General Conference of 1916 declared: "Christianity moves up to higher ground. It requires the supremacy of the principle of cooperation in the industrial order. . . . The church must clearly teach the fullest possible cooperative control and ownership of industry and of the natural resources on which industry depends." The Social Creed of the churches adopted by the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America brings the weight of united Protestantism to our support in these demands. We quote: "The churches should stand for social planning and control in economic processes for the common good . . . a wider and fairer distribution of wealth . . . subordination of the profit motive to the creative and cooperative spirit . . . the building of a cooperative world order."

We urgently request the President and the Congress of these United States to nationalize the arms industry with a view to eliminate all private profit, all advertising and all propagandizing in the interest of future wars.

Tha twe further insistently urge a decreasing of munitions and ordnance appropriations together with a leadership on the part of our nation in leading in the reduction of armaments to an international police force, and that we oppose the pressure of the Government to put R. O. T. C. into our High Schools.

Finally, the church has before it the great task of evangelizing the thinking of men concerning the goal of the present order. Jesus came that all men might have life and have it more abundantly. But our economic order makes the possession of rent, interest and dividend bearing property the measure of man's success and compounds the evil by developing the philosophy under which the common good is identified with the self-interest of the privileged few. The church must not accept this attitude towards life. To do so is to deny the teachings of Jesus that it is the responsibility of the strong to bear the infirmities of the weak and that the common good flows from the direct consideration for the interests of the masses.

We recognize in the social security program now before Congress a too inadequate recognition of the demand of our Social Credit for "social insurance against sickness, accident, want in old age, and unemployment." We urge far more venturesome legislation in these fields. As steps by which we may immediately move toward a more brotherly economic order we commend to the President and to Congress the enactment into law of the program advanced by the Central Conference of Jewish Rabbis as follows:

"In order that the national income may be distributed wisely and justly we urge a radically revised system of taxation that will include a rapid increase in surtaxes upon current incomes; a marked increase in taxes upon inheritances and gifts; a heavy tax on corporation surplusses and reserves; taxation of tax exempt securities; the removal of competitive taxes upon commodities in current use. . . . It is not safe for society to leave the basic enterprises in control of private groups that operate these enterprises for private profit instead of for the service of the entire community."

We would record our conviction that not since the early centuries has the church seen more clearly or witnessed more courageously to the need of a gospel powerful enough to save not only sinful men, but a whole social order built at variance with the will of God. The situation calls for new pioneering in adult education through open forums, community colleges, study classes leading to experimentation in cooperatives, credit unions and war resistance leagues, all energized by preaching that transforms "by the renewing of the mind". That veteran statesman, David Lloyd George, has well said: "When the chariot of humanity gets stuck, as it has now done, nothing will lift it except great preaching that goes straight to the mind and heart. . . . It is time that the churches should act together in the name of God and humanity."

To all lovers of the church as an instrument of Kingdom building there comes the call of one of our own ecclesiastical leaders, Bishop Edgar Blake: "We are fast approaching the parting of the ways. We shall move into a new social order, essentially Christian at the core, or we shall slump back into paganism. Whither we go depends in a large measure upon the church. If the church with prophetic vision and voice supports the new day, it will come; if it muffles its message and pursues a policy of 'let it alone', . . . the church itself is at stake. It will break or be broken. . . . The church will determine its own destiny by silence or prophecy."

TEMPERANCE

"Repeal has failed." That is more than a slogan, it is a cruel fact proven by police records, highway tragedies, and drunken debauchery. Repeal has failed economically. The advocates of repeal promised employment, reduced taxes, and prosperity. Every thinking man and woman knew it was a piece of lying propaganda. Repeal has failed to curb drunkenness; no sane person believed it would.

Inasmuch as the revelations of failure are all about us, it behooves us to gird ourselves for a more vigorous battle against a new and more dangerous liquor traffic than ever. This battle must be waged on many fronts.

God's army of righteousness will only succeed as it is manned by trained soldiers. We need an aggressive, positive program of education in church and school that will train God's army of righteousness. We note with joy that the State of California, by legislative action has taken a long step forward in promoting anti-alcohol education in our public schools. However, scientific temperance education is not enough. Multitudes know the effect of alcohol, but do not abstain from its use. We must also come to realize fully the social, moral, and economic issues involved. We need to develop a generation of men and women with a burning passion for righteousness who will see this unholy thing as an evil that is not only harmful to the bodies and minds of the drinker, but is waging war on all the forces of goodness and purity; as dangerous to human welfare as war, and, like war, having its chief victims among the innocent. We must help the American people see it as an unholy force that curses unborn children and unfits them for life's great demands; as a curse that regards neither youth nor age, and is destructive of all that is noble and pure in human personality. In a day when as civilized men we talk of abolishing the slums, and place new safeguards about youth and childhood, we must expose the ugly brute alcohol, that is a creator of slums and the murderous villain that slays humanity's highest hopes and tramples under foot mankind's noblest aspirations.

It is our business to make our people see that this monster has but one motive, the love of gain. For the sake of profits it will debauch and slay, degrade and destroy. According to the American Business Men's Research Foundation, "Motor accidents due to drinking, cost us $443,750,000 last year, or $8,442 a minute, or nearly $100,000,000 more than we received into the Government coffers through taxes on alcohol. Of course this takes no account of loss of life. (Quoted in Christian Advocate, April 4, 1935.) Why this waste? Like the waste of war—for somebody's profit. Not only do those profit who are directly engaged in the liquor traffic. This business has its ramifications throughout our whole economic structure. From financiers and bottlemakers to bartenders, gamblers and prostitutes there is a trail of unholy gain. Nor is this confined to the legalized traffic. Repeal was to end the golden age of the bootlegger, Rum Row was to be no more. But according to reports from the U. S. Treasury, it has come back and is reaping a profit of some 700 percent. Thus this slimy monster is lining the coffers of the greedy minority growing fat on human misery, while men in respectable business enterprises are burdened with an increasing load of taxes, labor threatened in its economic security, and an army of unemployed compelled to exist on the pittance handed out for relief work.

Our day is witnessing a wave of wild hysteria against "red" propaganda. Very often, however, that part of the press which cries most loudly against the inroads of "subversive" forces, is guilty of a far more dangerous propaganda. Through highly profitable advertizing contracts many of our newspapers are filling their pages with the praise of liquor. We condemn in no uncertain tone the magazines, periodicals, and newspapers that invade our homes and attempt by seductive publicity to make drunkards of our sons and daughters. We need a new Legion of Decency that will bombard publishers with protests, and by concerted action prevent a liquor-promoting press from defiling our homes with its indecencies. This should hold, not only for that section of the press which sings the praises of hard liquor, but equally for that hypocritical section which editorially condemns whisky, but in paid advertising tells the benefit of beer and the joy of good wine. These in fact are even more dangerous, for few men began the way that leads to drunkenness by the gate of whisky or gin, but rather through the portals of sparkling wine or "refreshing" beer.

We pledge ourselves to a vigorous protest against films that popularize drinking of intoxicants. We will work for legislation that will prohibit the use of billboards, the giving of free drinks, and the use of the radio, for liquor advertizing.

According to a recent article in our Christian Advocate, Pacific Edition, written by a member of this Conference, a radio program recently announced: "Beer is a food; every child should have a glass of beer with every meal." When a popular means of entertainment found in every home is prostituted by lying propaganda, it is time that an aroused Christian public opinion finds ways and means of safeguarding the home from its base influences.

That we may present a united front against this foe, we pledge our support to the movements now under way to reorganize and democratize the California Anti-Saloon League, under a new name, and with a strong and aggressive organization that will reach down into the smallest political unit. We urge upon the leaders to secure, at the very earliest date, a virile, well qualified man for the State Superintendency.

We urge upon the leaders to secure, at the earliest date, a virile, well qualified man for State Superintendent, and to plan a new campaign against the organized liquor traffic in the light of the experience of this and other countries under prohibition, giving particular consideration to social ideals of our churches, touching profit as a motive and competition as a method.

We believe that by a wise policy, and through aggressive leadership, this organization, with a history of noble achievements can in every way become the agency through which the church can wage war to death upon our powerful enemy. We also commend the educational work being done by the W. C. T. U., and recommend to our ministers that the representatives of that organization be granted the opportunity to present their plea for new members, annually, from our pulpits.

We urge the necessity of united action in the election of forward-looking, liberty-loving delegates to our proposed Constitutional Convention, who will write into the new document not only that which will curb the liquor traffic, but such Constitutional provisions as will make the business unprofitable in the State of California.

We commend our Conference church schools for the fine work done in providing scientific material for use in training in temperance. We also commend the Christian Advocate for the space given to the fight against the liquor traffic. We petition our Conference church schools to increase available material for class use and general reading, and also to organize and conduct seminars, and training classes for leaders; hold mass meetings in the interest of temperance; and secure dramas and films that can be used in our campaign for decency. We also urge upon our Conference Epworth League that classes be held in the Summer Institutes dealing with the liquor problem. To all such efforts we pledge our wholehearted support.

We appreciate the faithful service rendered by Orpha Jean Shontz, our Southern California Representative on the Board of Equalization, who in spite of all manner of handicaps is making an effort to enforce such feeble liquor laws as we now have. We pledge to her our support in every effort to keep liquor establishments away from our churches and schools; and we will make it our business to report to her any violations that come to our attention.

We urge the appointment of a strong committee on Temperance in every local church. Such committee should promote temperance instruction in the church, the church school and the Epworth League. Wherever possible we recommend that such committee sponsor the formation of a community committee of strong leaders who will act in the interest of moral and political control of the liquor traffic.

Finally, we believe in the words of Henry I. Rasmus, in a recent article in the Christian Advocate that: "It still remains for the reputable people of this entire country, on the one hand, to make decency fashionable, and on the other hand to so outlaw the traffic in liquor and narcotics that our youth may be relieved from the pressure of both those who indulge in and those who sell such articles." To that end we pledge ourselves as ministers of the Gospel and influential laymen to teach, write and preach in season and out of season against the legal blunder, the economic fallacy, and the moral wrong of a legalized and government defended liquor traffic, So Help Us, God.

JOHN GABRIELSON.

HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION

Two meetings of the Association have been called during the year. At the first meeting Wilbur Fisk was elected president and W. L. Y. Davis was elected secretary. It has been demonstrated beyond doubt that if this Association is to function efficiently it will be necessary to have the cooperation of all of the members of the Conference.

First. It is very urgent that the older members of the Conference make reports of the events and religious movements which have been inaugurated by them or come under their observation on the various charges they have served in years past.

Second. The pastors should have the work of the Association in mind when they are making up the historical records on their individual charges.

Third. Is is very important that these reports and all such data should be placed in the hands of the officers of the Association.

During the year the Association has suffered the loss of one of its members in the passing of Brother Clarence O. Kimball, who for a number of years was president of this Association. It is understood that Brother Kimball had given much time in recent years in tracing the debt paying campaigns on the various charges in the Conference.

It is the earnest request of the brothers that the vacancy caused by the death of Brother Kimball be filled by the election of Brother Alfred Inwood, who by his long career as pastor, district superintendent, and in various other responsible positions, is well qualified to render valuable service in the important work of this association.

WILBUR FISK.

COMMITTEE ON COMMITTEES

The two principal criticisms directed toward the committee assignments last year were, First, that a few ministers served on many committees and a large number on none, and Second, that the laymen constituted too small a minority on the various committees.

An analysis of the membership of the Boards and Committees appointed for this year reveals a decided improvement in both respects. Last year 127 ministers served on Boards and Committees; this year the number totals 149. Last year these assignments were divided as follows: one man served on 13 Boards and Committees, one on 12, nine on 9, two on 8, three on 7, five on 6, six on 4, seventeen on 3, twenty-nine on 2, fifty-four on 1. This year three men serve on 8 Boards and Committees, two on 7, two on 6, nine on 5, fourteen on 4, seventeen on 3, forty-two on 2, and sixty on 1.

The analysis further reveals that the laymen not only have equal representation with the ministers on boards and committees, but that they actually constitute a considerable majority. A total of 248 laymen have board and committee assignments, as compared with 149 ministers. The lay assignments are divided as follows: two men serve on 6 Boards and Committees, four on 4, three on 11, two on 26, and two hundred and five on 1. We are pleased to record that, as a whole, the laymen have taken their committee assignments seriously, have taken an active part in the many meetings, and have made their influence quite manifest in shaping the various reports. No one can now justly say that the laymen are merely figureheads.

The improved situation regarding board and committee memberships is due largely to the fact that the Committee on Committees for this year was composed, for the first time, of an equal number of laymen with the ministers, and to the fact that considerably more time was devoted to the task than had been customary. There is room, however, for further improvement, and we desire to make some recommendations which we believe will be helpful in this direction:

I. We recommend that Rule 5, Subdivision 1 of the Conference Rules of Order be changed to read as follows:

"A Committee on Committees, consisting of five ministers, and five laymen, shall be selected annually, the ministers by the Annual Conference, and the Laymen by the Lay Conference. It shall be the duty of this Committee, in consultation with the District Superintendents, to name all standing committees of the Annual Conference, the selection of which has not already been provided for by legislation, or by direct vote of the Conference. This Committee on Committees shall be selected not later than the Thursday morning session of the Annual Conference."

Comment. The last Conference adopted a resolution, providing for laymen on the Committee on Committees for this year, and we feel that this arrangement should be made permanent.

II. We recommend that, early in the present Conference session, there be appointed a committee whose duty it shall be to study our Rules of Order, and to so classify them that those applying to ministerial sessions only shall be placed in a separate section from those applicable to the joint sessions. We recommend that a similar committee be appointed by the Lay Conference to draw up rules governing the separate sessions of that body.

Comment. The Conference Rules of Order, as now set up, were prepared for an Annual Conference of ministers only. Inasmuch as we now have united sessions of the Ministerial and Lay Conferences, as well as separate sessions of both bodies, we feel that the Rules of Order should be changed to meet the new situation.

III. We recommend that committee chairmen be constituted a committee to arrange for an annual meeting of all Conference Committees, to be held shortly after Easter, or during the time of the annual coaching conference for Institute Faculty Members; and that the Conference Commission on Finance add to the apportionment for travel and entertainment an amount large enough to pay nominal traveling expenses for those who must travel more than one hundred miles to attend this meeting.

Comment. The present method of holding committee meetings virtually makes it impossible for those living in most portions of the San Diego, Long Beach, and Fresno-Glendale Districts to attend such meetings. This is not fair to those committee members, and the annual meeting, as proposed above, would go a long way toward eliminating this difficulty.

IV. We recommend that Committee Chairmen call meetings of their respective committees by notice in writing, mailed to members of the committee, at least ten days prior to the date for holding the said meetings, and that such meetings be held at times that shall be convenient for most of the members to attend.

Comment. Due to the fact that, heretofore, ministers constituted the majority on all committees, meetings were usually called immediately following the Preachers' Meetings, or at 10:00 or 11:00 o'clock in the morning. This practice has been continued in many cases during the past year, and has resulted in a smaller attendance of laymen than we feel would have been present if the meetings had been held in the evening when most laymen are free to attend. As one person aptly expressed it, it would be just as unfair for a layman to call a meeting of such a committee at 10:00 or 11:00 o'clock on Sunday morning, when he is free and the minister is occupied, as it would be for the minister to call a committee meeting during working hours when the minister, himself, happens to be free and the layman is occupied.

We hope that the above recommendations will be given earnest consideration, as we feel that they will go far toward developing a better understanding and a closer bond of fellowship between the ministerial and the lay delegates in their annual task of furthering the work of the church.

CHARLES F. REICHE.

Philanthropic PLAZA COMMUNITY CENTER

For the privilege of another year of service for the Master in the needy portion of His vineyard, we are singing "Praise God from whom all blessings flow".

Last year when the Conference voted unanimously to move the Methodist Headquarters to the third and fourth floors of the Plaza Community Center Building, the financing of the project seemed quite simple, but later, for some unknown reason, the holder of the mortgage refused the additional loan. However, in April, when it was necessary for the Headquarters to sign a new lease or move, the Plaza representatives offered to carry on their work in smaller quarters on the first floor and basement, if the second floor might be remodeled to meet the requirements of the Headquarters. This would eliminate the paying of a high rental to an outside organization.

With fine cooperation of all concerned, the necessary changes have been made, the Headquarters have moved in and seem quite comfortable. Bishop Magee officiated at the formal opening June 3rd.

While this move will mean very little financially to the Plaza Community Center, it is hoped that our Methodist people will become better acquainted with, and more interested in the work of this Institution.

We have not reached our goal this year, but we have seen some progress, regardless of the fact that we have been going through a period of reorganization.

Recognizing the great moral and spiritual need of the Mexican people, we are stressing evangelism through meetings in the church, the clinic, the homes, street meetings, and personal work. Our attendance shows an increase in all departments. Total attendance for the year, 34,766. Tracts distributed 4,000, bibles and gospels given, 800, pastoral calls 1312. New members 27, total membership 205. A junior church has been organized with fifty boys and girls in attendance. The young people's gospel team has charge of our cottage prayer meetings. The large group of fine young people in our Sunday School is an inspiration to all.

The recreational, social and educational department are doing much to give our young people good entertainment. The basket ball team has been scoring high. In the art class sponsored by the board of education we have discovered some fine talent, and one real artist.

In our medical and dental clinics we have tried to fulfill His commission to "heal the sick". 8,000 men, women and children were registered, this year. Free medical care has been given to 1680 needy worthy patients at a cost of $1,250.

The welfare department, through its many avenues of service, has rendered a very valuable and constructive piece of work. Finding employment for many folk, and creating a better understanding between the employer and employee through an educational program for both, and the English classes sponsored by the board of education. Assisting in securing naturalization papers, in court cases, interceding for justice, when advisable, home loans, accident adjustments, counselling, reconciling in domestic difficulties, comforting and encouraging.

Children's Home; recently a large moving picture concern called at our home and said, "We want to take some pictures of a real home for children". We have tried to make our children's home, a real home, not an institution. Because of this a number of the children who have left the home want to come back. Many of our Methodist folk know very little about this home. You are welcome to call at 72 West Algeria St., Sierra Madre.

While the Plaza board and staff are agreeing to the suggestions of the Committee on Co-ordination and Correlation, we are finding it very difficult to adopt all of the plan. The Latin-speaking people, who for many years have come to us with their ailments, are not easily turned elsewhere. Weeping, they beg for us to care for them. With the best cooperation, we find that out of a large number referred to All Nations Clinic, few have registered there. We trust they will not be lost to Methodism.

Our Methodist constituency should bear in mind that according to the suggestions of the Committee, there will be a loss of $3,770 per year in the Community Chest support. The new plan is to make this Institution an Institutional Church, doing but little remedial work, but extending in a much larger degree our preventive work. This will also cut the income we have formerly received from our clinics. In view of the above, more than ever, we will need your World Service Designations and your gifts not for credit, if our work is to be maintained at the proper level. We trust that, under the new program, Southern California Methodism will feel more than ever, that This Is Their Work.

We regret the going of W. T. Gilliland, who for thirteen years was Superintendent of this work, but we are happy that he is happy in his pastoral work, and wish for him abundant success.

The Plaza Community Center Club has been invaluable in assisting every department of the work, including the education of a young man who is studying for the ministry.

The work at the Center is being directed by the Pastor, B. E. Garcia and Miss Katharine B. Higgins as Executive Secretary, together with a committee from the Board.

While the plans for the new program have not been completed as yet, we hope to have it in force in the near future.

The church will continue in all of its departments as in the past, with some additional activities.

The Welfare Department will endeavor to conduct its many lines of service on a more constructive and preventive plan.

The Health Department will give Clinic service to our Church people and constituents. Family Health, Sanitation, Nutrition, and Child Welfare Classes will be held for the public, with a visiting nurse going into the homes for follow up work.

Educational, recreational and social clubs will be organized for children, young people and adults.

We thank you for your past interest, ask your continued interest and your earnest prayers that we may win many souls for the Master.

R. N. MERRILL, President, Board of Trustees

GOODWILL INDUSTRIES

The Goodwill Industries are organized to save material waste and turn it into human well being. Primarily the work is religious—in the name of Christ seeking to minister as He did to the poor and underprivileged. No day passes without its period of worship. The chapel is a sacred tradition in the Goodwill Industries. In its industrial and religious work the development of human personality to its highest usefulness is the business in which Goodwill Industries are engaged.

Within the bounds of this Conference there are three Goodwill organizations. Goodwill Industries of Southern California operating in Los Angeles, San Bernardino and Riverside Counties; San Diego in that county and Santa Ana for Orange county. The first two are affiliated with the Bureau of Goodwill Industries of the Board of Home Missions and report to them as Methodist organizations. Last year these two, with the branches in Long Beach and San Bernardino, report as follows:

	Different Persons		Total
	Hours Work	Employed	Wages Paid Disbursements
Los Angeles	844,979	1,223	$210,225.93 $322,666.35
Long Beach	46,582	55	12,407.42 19,063.38
San Bernardino ..	63,925	538	15,819.95 21,278.61
San Diego	68,684	1,054	15,792.30 22,930.63
TOTAL	1,024,170	2,870	$254,245.60 $385,938.97

Santa Ana reports $4,392.63 paid out in wages with total expense for the year of $7,375.42.

The Goodwill Industries of Southern California, the only one owning its plant, shows a net worth of $333,468.55 and total liabilities of $9,748.55.

Improvement along every line over last year is shown in these organizations despite adverse economic conditions. Long Beach suffered a total loss by fire of its plant and trucks but is on a better basis than ever with a more united public support. It is looking for a more permanent home now.

San Diego under Myron Insko's full time leadership has a finely organized institution and this summer is conducting for the National Association a Goodwill exhibit at the Exposition which will tell thousands what Goodwill Industries are doing throughout America.

In these days when so many are willingly leaning on government aid it should give our Conference peculiar satisfaction to know that every day more than 500 men and women, physically, mentally or socially handicapped, are receiving self-respecting work and support with daily inspiration to a higher life in our Goodwill Industries.

PACIFIC OLD PEOPLE'S HOME

In bringing this, my second annual report as Superintendent of the Pacific Old People's Home, I wish to express my appreciation of the fine cooperation given me by the Board and particularly J. H. Durbahn who has given so generously of his time and fine counsel. I want also to express my appreciation of the very fine staff of eleven who assist in various capacities in operating the Home. They are faithful, diligent and loyal and much credit is due them for the fine spirit that prevails in our Home. We have many people who visit the Home, some of them for the first time, and they are very generous in their words of praise for the fine atmosphere that prevails in the Home. It is our ambition that our Pacific Old People's Home shall not only provide adequately for the physical comforts of its members but that we may maintain a Christian atmosphere that will in reality be the greatest asset of the Home.

In spite of financial difficulties that have prevailed everywhere which would make it difficult for individuals to pay their way in the Home as roomers and boarders or to come as life members, the record for the year has been very gratifying. There have been comparatively few vacancies. Of the seventy-four rooms available, seven are occupied by staff members, leaving sixty-seven available for life members and boarders. At present we have sixty-four life members and boarders, twenty-eight of whom have entered the Home during our Superintendency—fourteen roomers and boarders and fourteen life members.

This year, as last, we have been unable to take care of a number of individuals who have desired to enter the Home because they were not able to meet the financial requirements which makes it imperative that we secure an endowment at the earliest hour possible.

In our report last year we called attention to our need of a new modern building that would more adequately provide for those who need nursing care. Last January the Board appointed a Building Committee who have made a study of our present and future needs as far as we could anticipate them and an architect has been employed who has drawn sketches not only of the proposed building but also other sketches showing future development and how the proposed building will fit into that development. At the meeting of the Board held more than a month ago the Board unanimously adopted the report of the Building Committee which calls for the erection of a two story class A building that will house about thirty people. This building will be erected at the southeast corner of our present site. This building will fill a long felt need and will be a great asset. It will cost in the neighborhood of $30,000 and we do not expect to borrow a dollar of that money.

Finances: Every individual against whom we have held a mortgage or trust deed has been given every possible chance to save his equity. In many instances we have accepted the responsibility of management of the property, collecting rents and taking complete charge, including repairs, of the property and making no charge for that service and crediting them with every dollar that can be realized out of it. But in spite of all we could do it has been necessary to take over, in the last two years, eighteen pieces of property. In some instances we have sustained losses but on the whole the record has been remarkably good. When such properties are taken over invariably heavy repairs are necessary. Repairs on such property in the past year has amounted to $2,270.60 and repairs and replacements at the Home has amounted to $2,624.02 or a total of $4,894.62. Our rental property is now bringing about $1,300 per month. The average for the year has been a little better than $1,000.

The present audit is based on eleven months instead of twelve due to the fact that the report had to be in by June 1. We had to change the ending of our fiscal year from May 31 to April 30.

During these eleven months of course all taxes and assessments have had to be cared for but, as you will note by the Auditor's report, the total assets as shown for this year were $6,798.72 in excess of last year. The current receipts exceeded current expenses by $6,608.65 from which $2,612 has been deducted for depreciation on the property at the Home itself.

The Pacific Old People's Home has contributed this year $2,000 to the Conference Claimants Fund.

The fact that the Home now has fifty-five different units of property that must be kept in repairs and rented in addition to various properties on which we have mortgages, and the work of Superintending the Home makes life rather strenuous. But the fine words of appreciation by those who share in the fellowship at the Home and the gracious providence of our Heavenly Father and the kindly cooperation of my Board makes it a real joy to serve in this worthy undertaking.

I desire to express my appreciation to the men of this Conference for their cooperation and pledge you my best endeavor to make this Home what it ought to be—a haven of rest for those who have reached the sunset years of life.

C. E. LEITZELL.

ARIZONA HOSPITAL

The interest on our bonded indebtedness of $250,000.00 is almost three years in default. A short time ago, a representative of the Bank of St. Louis, who holds the bonds, met with the Committee appointed by the Board, to make some kind of a settlement. The first statement made by Mr. George Mickle, Chairman of our Bonding Committee, to the representative of the bonding house, was about as follows: "The Committee has not met since their appointment, so we have no organized program, but I wish personally to make this statement: If we had been as good business people as we thought we were, we would not have borrowed this much money from you, and if you had been as good a banker as you thought you were, you would not have loaned us the amount you did, so as I see it, you are just about as guilty as we are. In my mind, the hospital cannot pay the full amount, and as much as I regret to suggest compromise, it seems to me we must either do that or you bonding people can step in and take the hospital and then we will have paid you in full." To this statement of Mr. Mickle, Judge Frank O. Smith and myself, the other members of the Committee, agreed, and then to our amazement, or especially mine, Mr. Peterson of the Bonding House agreed with everything said and then proposed to us an extension of payment on our principal for ten years and reducing the interest from six to three per cent, subject, of course, to the approval of the bond holders. Nothing definite has been done, but we are working on this line hoping to make a satisfactory settlement, and eventually hope to pay our debts as we should.

I have given you the above statement before telling you of the past year's operation of the hospital. In the honest opinion of the writer, it has been the most successful year in our history of eleven years of operating the new hospital. While we did not have as many patients as we had during the peak year, the patients and cash receipts greatly increased over the previous year, our cash receipts being 29% greater than the previous year. We cared for a total of 3,050 patients. There were 353 babies born. The deaths during the year were 124, or a little less than four per cent. Total laboratory examinations 10,301, tissue examinations 1,594, consultations 237. We have on our staff fifty seven active and twenty-nine associate doctors. Our records show an attendance at the monthly staff meetings of 72% of the active staff, and 103 different doctors had patients in the hospital during the year.

I speak of our wonderful year's work. We have an investment of more than three quarters of a million dollars, but as so often has been said, "brick and mortar do not make a hospital," it is the idea and the ideals of the institution represented by the doctors and the employees, or the employed staff of the hospital, that really makes the hospital.

But when I quote you figures which tell that the past year we gave service to people in distress who were unable to pay, to the amount of $20,382.85. This amount we knew we could not collect and charged off as the patient left, and when the Auditor went over our accounts he charged off an additional $9,731.81, making a total of $30,114.66 of free work the hospital gave to the community last year, an increase of $9,995.71 over the previous year.

Then when I tell you a year ago our current bills payable were $10,052.69 with less than $100.00 cash on hand and this year our bills payable were $5,637.93 with $3,600.00 cash and county warrants on hand, you can see that we have made real progress financially.

We have painted, laid heavy inlaid linoleum on the halls in two floors of the old wing, worked over our dining room and kitchen, nicely equipped a doctors' consultation and lounge room, installed a cooling unit in one operating room, bought some new surgery equipment, and in all have bought and paid for over $4,000 of these miscellaneous items.

The time has passed, or fast approaching, when the public is going to allow human beings to suffer and die for want of hospitals. Certainly the program is wrong to supply money to care for sick cattle, sheep, horses and hogs, to furnish competent people to see after them, and then let humanity suffer and die for lack of funds. In my opinion, out of all the change and progress that is being made, something must be worked out to care for suffering humanity as they have never been cared for before. With me it is no longer a personal or denominational pride in owning and operating a hospital, but rather a matter of how much good can be done for those who need our services and keep the doors open.

I believe the church, with its program of both spiritual and physical, is the organization that should do this work; unless the church rises to the responsibility and opportunity and gives this service, some other organization is going to.

I am very sure, that if the many problems that a hospital executive faces every day could be gotten to the proper authority and onto the hearts of the public as it exists today, they would not fail to see that this great need was supplied.

I often think that man, who was made in the image of God, has lost his sense of direction and is looking down instead of up, especially do I think this is happening in the hospital field, where the call from suffering, bleeding, dying humanity is calling to the Church for help.

J. O. SEXSON.

METHODIST HOSPITAL OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

During the last conference year the improvement in the condition of the Methodist Hospital of Southern California has continued. The daily average number of adult patients in 1934 was 70. From January 1st to May 1st, 1935, the daily average number of adult patients was 82. 613 babies were born in the hospital in 1934. 316 babies were born there between January 1st and May 31st, 1935. 1804 surgical operations were performed in the hospital between January 1st, 1934, and January 1st, 1935. 874 have been performed in 1935 up to May 31st.

The improvement in the hospital plant has continued. Increased patronage has made necessary the rehabilitation of part of the third floor which has been closed since May of 1932. A unit which includes eleven beds, five private rooms and three two-bed rooms will be ready for occupancy not later than July 1st of this year. There have been a number of occasions in the last few months when no private rooms on the medical and surgical floors of the hospital were available. During the last conference year three dozen new mattresses have been purchased. One dozen new beds for patients were obtained a short time ago. New gas ranges have been installed in the kitchen. A fireproof storage house for old X-ray films has been constructed. New dishes for use in the private rooms have been secured. Other general improvements have been continued through the entire year so that the hospital is now in a condition superior to its condition during several years last past.

New services include a selective diet which gives every patient a choice of food within the limits prescribed by his physician. The nursing is done almost entirely by graduate nurses. No student nurses have been admitted to the School of Nursing since 1932, so that the graduating class of 1935 is the last until such time as the nursing school is reopened. 22 of the graduate nurses now employed by the hospital are graduates of its school of nursing. It is regrettable that discontinuance of the nursing school was found to be necessary.

While a large burden of debt still remains, there has been a substantial reduction in indebtedness during the past year. The hospital is meeting all current bills promptly and within one month's time. It has reduced by more than one-fourth the old current accounts payable.

The hospital is enjoying the enthusiastic cooperation of a splendid medical staff which is under the leadership of Dr. E. W. Tice. Mary K. West, the Superintendent of the hospital, is outstanding. The employed staff of the institution is of unusually high excellence, so that with the plant improvements made, the hospital is in a position to give hospital service of the first order to all of the patients who take advantage of its facilities.

Through the medium of the All Nations Clinic, 187 patients have been given hospital care during the last year. It is regrettable that financial requirements limit the free service to the patients which come from this source.

The needs of the hospital are many and include particularly the following:

1. New equipment in the developing room of the X-ray Department.
2. Outside paint.
3. Soil for front lawn.
4. Bedding, varnish and paint for the nurses' home.
5. Steam tables in the kitchen.

The largest cash donation received during the last year by the hospital from any missionary society was one of $110 which came from the Young Woman's Group of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of First Church, Los Angeles. $500 was received from the estate of Lydia

A. Hall. $269.04 has recently been received from the estate of Ada C. Jewell. Because of the great financial need of the institution, gifts such as these are very greatly appreciated.

More than 98 per cent of all charges made to patients during the last year have actually been collected. This fact makes it evident that the only solution of our hospital problem lies in increased patronage. The greatest need of the institution is the active aid and cooperation of the Methodists in this vicinity. The board of directors and staff of the institution have labored diligently, and with cooperation from the entire church in this vicinity even greater improvement may be expected during the next year and an eventual solution of the many problems connected with this very useful institution will be accomplished.

ROLAND MAXWELL, President.

CONFERENCE DEACONESS BOARD

The Deaconess institutions of our conference have had a year of large activity and gracious results in the ministry of service.

No greater contribution can be made in these days of transition when so many changes are occurring than that of putting into practice those things which we as Christians most firmly believe—that the foundations of life and society must root and develop in the practice of the presence of Christ in all relationships.

The Deaconess Home has had a comparatively small amount of money to use in its manifold expressions of helpfulness, but the good women of the Conference have made possible the sharing of clothing, food and bedding, which has brought relief and inspiration to many. A number of folk of other faiths have felt free to seek this service which has no narrow boundaries, but has gladly reached out in a helpful way to folk of other nationalities. The work with children and older groups has been gratifying; hundreds of pieces of good literature have been distributed; the spirit of cooperation has been in evidence with little thought of race prejudice.

The ends of the earth meet at Thoburn Terrace. These folk who have served in many parts of the world have lived together in beautiful fellowship. These missionary folk, resting a bit as time goes on toward life's evening, have given an aggregate of more than five hundred years of service for Christ and the Kingdom among peoples of various races. Several additions have been made to the Board of Managers. The house has been full, and there is a waiting list. A lovely designation has been made of this family of retired missionaries living together in these years of rest from labor—"The House of Kindliness"—which is the finest sort of expression of Christian living and experience.

Robincroft has been fulfilling its mission as a rest home in a most wonderful way. Throughout the year the house has been full. No changes have come to the permanent family. Eight retired deaconesses and missionaries call this delightful institution "home." During the past winter the family has numbered between twenty and twenty-four, including transient guests who came for a few months' stay. This family, although retired, is an active one, always busy doing something for those less fortunate. Robincroft Memorial Guild, organized to perpetuate the memory of Mrs. George O. Robinson, the donor of this beautiful home, is actively at work.

The Conference Board reports no transfers "in" this year, and only one transfer "out," Miss Mary Lockhart to the Northeast Ohio Conference. Our probationers have been giving effective service as pastors' assistants during the past few months. There are no requests acted upon for recommendation to the Bishop for consecration at this session.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CORRELATION APPOINTED BY BISHOP JAMES CHAMBERLAIN BAKER, NOVEMBER 2ND, 1933

In October of 1933, Bishop James C. Baker issued a call to all of the members of the Boards of the various missionary and social agencies in the metropolitan area of Los Angeles, to meet together to consider how there might be achieved "a closer correlation of our Methodist Social Service Agencies in Los Angeles". All of the ministers of the Los Angeles District were included in this call. The group met for dinner at the First Methodist Church of Hollywood, on November 2nd, 1933. At this meeting a Committee on Correlation was set up, with Dr. Martin H. N. Neumeyer as general chairman, Mr. Henri A. Lindsay as vice-chairman, and Robt. A. McKibben as secretary. J. Lewis Gillies, District Superintendent, ex-officio member of the Committee. The general committee was divided into various sub-committees along functional lines as follows, under the chairmanship as indicated:

Financial—(Yearly budget; sources of support; method of appeal; cost per unit of service). Mr. C. J. Shepherd.

Properties—(Capital assets; value of properties; physical equipment; availability for additional service). Walter C. Loomis.

Statistical—(What is being done; in our agency; in other agencies; helpful data for improvement). Willsie Martin.

Standards—(Minimum for work; minimum for personnel; policies of operation). Mr. D. Raymond Brothers.

Values—(Values to be conserved for Kingdom; new values to be sought through re-alignment of program). Jesse Lee Corley.

Under this set-up valuable studies were made during the balance of the year. Among other things the study led to the proposal that the unoccupied space in the building of the Plaza Community Center be utilized as Methodist Headquarters.

Very specific problems of policy and program had arisen in connection with the Plaza Community Center in its relationship to the Council of Social Agencies. The latter asked that we give them a statement of our policy and program for the Plaza Community Center. It was the request of the Plaza Community Center for a study of its work in relation to the Methodist Social Agencies, which led to the raising of the Committee on Correlation. Faced with the necessity of making a statement to the Council of Social Agencies before the end of December, 1934, regarding the problems at the Plaza, the Committee turned aside from its study along functional lines and attacked the specific problems of this one institution in its relation not only to other Methodist agencies but its relation to all other agencies of the City. This method of procedure proved of such practical value that it was decided to proceed along that line by appointing sub-committees to make a study of each agency in its relation to all the others. In the absence of Dr. Neumeyer on an extended trip around the world, the newly appointed superintendent of the Los Angeles district, Leonard Oeschli, was asked to serve as general chairman of the Committee.

Study of the Plaza Community Center

The method of procedure in the study of the Plaza Community Center was as follows: A sub-committee met at frequent intervals, two or three hours at a session, together with the Superintendent of the Center and several members of the Board of Trustees, and such members of the Staff as were needed from time to time. All the departments of the institution were thus reviewed in their relationship to the Center and other agencies. In this way a fairly complete picture was presented of the various departments of the center, as carried on at that time, which included the following:

1. The Plaza Church.
2. The Medical and Dental Clinic.
3. Family Welfare Department.
4. Educational Department, including the Christian Training School.
5. The Childrens' Home.

After getting clearly before the Committee this picture of the Center, the sub-committee next took up the study of future plans of operation, with the view of eliminating overlapping of functions of our various social agencies, providing economy of operation and the highest effectiveness in serving the Mexican community. When this proposed program had been prepared, with the advice and help of the Superintendent of the Center, it was presented to the members of the Board of Trustees of the Center, when it again underwent a process of revision and modification. The final result was a plan and program which was the product not only of the Committee on Correlation but of the Staff and the Board of Trustees of the Center.

These recommendations were not mandatory, but merely suggestive. Some of them have already been put into operation, and others are still in process of further study and modification. These features already adopted and now in operation are as follows:

First: The program of the Plaza Community Center should follow the lines of an institutional Church.

Second: It should function as an agency for relating Mexican people to the already existing social agencies now operating under the Council of Social Agencies, rendering a distinctly religious and social service, thus relieving the workers of the burden of administration of a social agency and leaving them free for more distinctly personal and Christian social service.

Third: The distinctly clinical work of the Medical and Dental Clinics was transferred to the All Nation's Clinic, but the Plaza is to continue to operate a family health service, including medical examination, non-clinical and emergency treatment, health lectures of a preventative educational type—including mother's counsel, pre-natal and post-natal instruction for mothers' well babies' clinic, etc.

Fourth: Elementary legal advice is to be continued as in the past, but technical legal aid work is to be referred to a qualified lawyer or the University of Southern California legal clinic.

Fifth: The Christian Training School is to be continued in cooperation with other Protestant denominations, for the training of Mexican leaders.

Sixth: The Childrens' Home is continued for study, with the feeling that for financial reasons and because of social trends away from institutional care for children, toward foster care, we should consider very carefully the question as to whether or not the Childrens' Home should be continued.

There are still problems relating to the Women's Employment Agency and other activities carried on under the Welfare Department, the study of which is being continued.

Special mention should be made here of the cooperative and unselfish spirit of W. T. Gilliland, who voluntarily took a pastorate in order to allow the readjustment of the budget at the Plaza made necessary under the new program, which is now going forward under the leadership of Benito Garcia and Miss Katherine Higgins, both of whom have been very vital factors in carrying over into the new regime.

It is contemplated that there shall be a closer cooperation of the work of the Plaza Community Center with the Church of All Nations and the Goodwill Industries, through Brother Garcia caring for the religious meetings of the Mexican people of each of these institutions, and sitting in on staff meetings of both groups.

Following out this plan of studying each agency separately, the following sub-committees, with the chairman indicated, were appointed:

All Nations Foundation: Walter C. Loomis.

City Missionary Society: John Gabrielson.

Frances De Pauw School: A. W. Tower.

Goodwill Industries: Willsie Martin.

Hollenbeck Heights Social Center: Henri A. Lindsey.

Methodist Hospital: C. J. Shepherd.

Pacific Old People's Home: Martin H. Neumeyer.

Spanish American Institute: J. L. Corley.

All studies were carried on under the following outline, which was suggestive only and was shaped in each case to meet the needs of the specific institution under study:

1. Brief historical study.
2. Study of institution:
 - (a) Activities
 - (b) Objectives
 - (c) Constituency
 - (d) What is the institution contributing toward the Kingdom.
3. Study of comparative standing.
4. Future as related to social trend.
5. Relationships:
 - (a) to National Board
 - (b) to Conference organizations
 - (c) to local churches and organizations
 - (d) to similar organizations within the Methodist Church
 - (e) to similar organizations outside the Methodist Church
 - (f) Personnel; government; final control
 - (g) Interlocking directorates
 - (h) in building of better city.
6. Finance; capital and operating conditions and adequacy of physical equipment.
7. Promotion and Publicity.
8. Findings.

The work in the sub-committees in studying the various institutions has been greatly facilitated by the splendid spirit of cooperation on the part of the executives and the staff in every instance. The committees have tried to work in a sympathetic but frankly realistic and scrutinizing way. The executives have been willing to subject their work to the most frank and critical examination. Full information has been placed at the disposal of the committee.

At the request of the Board of the Hollenbeck Heights Social Center, the work of that agency is in process of being placed under the direction of the Church of All Nations.

The report of one of these sub-committees, namely, that of the Los Angeles Missionary and Church Extension Society is of such outstanding importance and significance that the Committee on Correlation felt it should be put in the hands of the members of the Annual Conference. This study goes into the heart of our problem of the Methodist ecclesiastical machinery in its relationship to the rapidly developing metropolitan area of Los Angeles. We have here in Southern California a straggling group of separate communities growing up into a great metropolitan area, undoubtedly destined to become one of the great cities of the world. At the present time Methodism has no way of grappling with the problems of this great metropolitan area as a unit. Methodist institutions have grown up in a hit or miss, haphazard fashion, each coming into existence to meet a specific need, but without plan in reference to any other. We have in this metropolitan area in the neighborhood of twenty different agencies, most of them quite unrelated to each other and none of them geared into our ecclesiastical machinery. A study of the relationships of these agencies reveals a maze of complexities. Some are entirely independent of each other, related to distant National Boards, some to one Superintendent and others to another, not a few of them related in a most contradictory way to three or four overhead controls. The following list of these agencies will perhaps make this clearer:

The Los Angeles Missionary and Church Extension Society is in a sense under the Department of Cities of the Board of Home Missions at Philadelphia. Hollenbeck Heights Social Center has been operating independently under a Board elected by Grace Church Quarterly Conference. The Spanish American Institute has been related in various ways to the Latin American Mission, the Los Angeles District, and the Board of Home Missions. On recommendation of the Committee on Correlation and by the decision of Bishop Baker, it is now being placed under the supervision of the Superintendent of the Los Angeles District. The pastor of the Chinese Church is responsible to the Superintendent of the Los Angeles District, the western representative of the Board of Home Missions, and is a member of the California Conference. The Japanese Church in Los Angeles has no relationship to the other churches of the district or the City Missionary Society, but is under the Superintendent of the Pacific Japanese Mission. The Goodwill Industries originally received a gift of one hundred thousand dollars from the Board of Home Missions, which made possible the purchase of the Baker Block, which they now occupy, but it seems difficult to clearly define the relationship of the Goodwill Industries to the So. California Annual Conference and the Los Angeles City Missionary Society. All of this would indicate there is need for the clarification of relationships.

It is a rather significant fact that out of all the recommendations coming from the sub-committees, one recommendation appears in varying forms in every report, namely, that some kind of correlating agency be set up, whereby these various agencies might together plan their programs, build their budgets, and present their claims to the Church. It should be borne in mind that the problem here is not alone one of correlating institutions and agencies, but also a problem of the coordination of the churches in the carrying out of planned programs in its relationship to a rapidly developing metropolitan area. At present we are following the district lines of our ecclesiastical set-up, which are purely arbitrary and incidental. If we are to intelligently and effectively face the problems of the city we shall require a more flexible set-up, that is capable of adapting itself to the rapidly developing and constantly changing metropolitan area. All over the country, in our great metropolitan centers, Methodism has been grappling with this serious problem, and has not yet developed a satisfactory answer, but Methodism must find an answer to this question, or be left hopelessly behind in her struggle to solve the problems of the city.

Recommendations

The Committee on Correlation presents the following recommendations to the Annual Conference for their consideration:

First: That the Committee on Correlation be recognized by the Annual Conference and authorized to continue its studies. Accordingly we recommend the appointment of the original committee, as established by Bishop Baker, with such additions as will give a Conference-wide representation. The following persons are nominated:

The District Superintendents ex-officio, Mrs. R. W. Bolton, D. R. Brothers, R. A. Brown, F. H. Blair, C. E. Carver, C. B. Cliff, J. L. Corley, R. W. E. Cole, Mrs. C. P. Colegrove, C. M. Crist, R. R. Detweiler, C. J. Elsasser, B. H. Forney, W. T. Gilliland, A. A. Heist, Alfred Inwood, C. E. Leitzell, Mrs. Byron Wilson, H. A. Lindsey, A. M. Loomis, W. C. Loomis, R. N. Merrill, C. H. Martindale, Alexander MacKeigan, Willsie Martin, James McGiffin, R. A. McKibben, M. H. Neumeyer, Mrs. E. E. Olson, Grover C. Ralston, J. D. Randles, C. J. Shepherd, A. C. Stevens, Mrs. L. F. Sedgwick, A. W. Tower, Mrs. L. L. Williams, J. L. Gillies.

It is further understood that the Committee is authorized to call in additional persons to serve as members of sub-committees and others for resource purposes.

Second: That the Conference authorize and instruct the Committee on Correlation to set up a temporary council to be known as "The Council of Methodist Agencies of the Southern California Conference", to be composed of representatives of the following institutions and agencies:

City Missionary Society	Goodwill Industries
All Nations Foundation	Methodist Hospital
Sunset Recreation Center	Arizona Hospital
Hollenbeck Heights Social Center	David and Margaret Home
Plaza Community Center	Esther Hall, San Diego
Plaza Church	Deaconess Home
Plaza Children's Home	Frances PePauw School
Plaza Christian Training School	Robincroft Home
Spanish American Institute	Pacific Old People's Home
Chinese Mission	Westley Foundation
Japanese Church	First Church, L. A., Welfare work.

Third: that the Committee on Correlation, in cooperation with the Council of Methodist Agencies, work out a plan for a permanent council, the purpose of which shall be to correlate the activities, programs, budgets, financial campaigns, and to promote the agencies and institutions of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the Southern California Conference.

Fourth: That the Committee on Correlation be instructed to make a further study of the Los Angeles Missionary and Church Extension Society and the Conference Missionary Society and any other organizations or agencies that may be involved, with a view to working out some plan whereby the Church may more effectively relate itself to the missionary and social problems of the metropolitan area of Los Angeles and of the rural areas of the Conference, with the request that a specific plan be presented for the consideration of the next session of the Southern California Annual Conference.

CALIFORNIA CHURCH COUNCIL

After two years of study and consideration, six major interdenominational bodies in the state of California have merged in a single organization, known as the California Church Council, and for the first time the Protestant forces throughout the state present a united front. The merger was completed in November, 1934, and became effective on January 1st, 1935.

The following organizations have united to form the new Council: The State Church Federation, the Southern California Council of Religious Education, the Northern California Council of Religious Education, the Southern California Superintendents' Council, the Northern California Superintendents' Council, and the Home Missions Council of San Joaquin Valley.

With a unified program of activities, the California Church Council serves the various denominations in all phases of cooperative Christian work. Its program is carried on through departments of Christian Education, Evangelism, Home Missions and Comity, Missionary Education, and Social Relations.

Although only a few months have elapsed since the completion of the organization, twenty denominations have affiliated, and in every department of work plans are actively under way which demonstrate that the California Church Council is filling a real need in the Protestant life of the state.

Each denominational body which participates in the work of the California Church Council is entitled to name ten representatives to the Council. It is desired that these representatives reside in various sections of the state, and that they represent the different interests of the denomination which appoints them. Other organizations whose chief objective is character education may become affiliated members of the Council, upon election to such membership by the Council.

For administrative purposes, the Council's activities are conducted through two administrative areas. The membership of the area groups is made up of those who are representatives on the state-wide organization, but who reside within the territory of the area. All details of program are determined by representatives of the denominations and other organizations which make up the membership of the Council, thus giving assurance that at all times the program will be exactly what the membership desires it to be.

Dr. Harold V. Mather, who for some time served as General Secretary of the Southern California Council of Religious Education, is the Associate General Secretary of the California Church Council, and to him has been assigned major responsibility for developing and carrying out the total program of the Council. At the present time Dr. Guy W. Wadsworth is the Acting General Secretary, serving in this capacity on a temporary basis.

BETTER AMERICA FEDERATION

One of the basic ideals of American life as stated in the First Amendment to the Constitution is:

"Congress shall make no law—abridging the freedom of speech or of the press; or the right of the people to peaceably assemble, and to petition the government for redress of grievances."

It is unfortunate that many individuals and groups in our land during the last few years of change have deliberately disregarded this fundamental safeguard. Senator Borah recently stated what we believe should be the position of all true Americans:

"But I reject, I utterly reject, I denounce, as subversive of everything which we Americans hold sacred, the theory that in fighting communism and fascism, you must surrender Americanism. It is my contention that to oppose communism and fascism by surrendering the very things,—as free speech, the right of assemblage,—which distinguishes Americanism from fascism and communism, is blundering leadership and unworthy of the support of true Americans.

"When you deny even for a time the right of assemblage, the right of full discussion, the right of debate, you have taken the first step which the communists and fascists always take in their effort to establish arbitrary power.

"We should not make the mistake of branding as communists or fascists the great number of people in this country who believe that changes are now due in our social, economic and financial systems. These are the people whom I am particularly interested in protecting in the matter of free speech.

"The safety of our form of government, the safety of the democracy, rests upon the orderly program which comes from the clash of conflicting opinions. Repression is not only the enemy of free government, but it is the breeder of revolution. It is the enemy of progress and human happiness. And above all, it is neither a test of error nor of truth."

The same position concerning free discussion and searching for the mind of Christ should be the practice of our churches. Dr. E. Stanley Jones, in his book "Christ's Alternative to Communism," gives the motto on the wall of his Ashram in India:

"Here we enter a fellowship,
Sometimes we will agree to differ,
Always we will resolve to love,
And unite to serve."

We believe that this should be the guiding principle of every church and church group of our Conference.

Your committee has met several times during the year and presents the following conclusion:

First: The Better America Federation and other groups have used their influence to have denied to groups with whom they disagree the fundamental rights of free speech and assemblage as guaranteed by the constitution. Furthermore these groups have tried to create suspicion concerning liberal leaders and thinkers.

Second: We believe that the best answer to communism and fascism in America is the reconstruction of society along the lines suggested by Dr. E. Stanley Jones in his last book. This would eliminate all those subversive influences making for dishonesty in government, graft, protected vice, crime and injustice which furnish the basic causes of unrest. A study of Dr. Jones' book in every church would be a splendid approach to the problem.

Third: There are numerous individuals and groups which have resorted to the age long practice of applying false labels, which arouse prejudice and create suspicion, to people with whom they disagree. Often sincere people have done this because they did not take time to investigate the truth of the label. Other times it is an attempt to divert attention from the real issue.

Fourth: We have canvassed the possibility of forming a larger committee as ordered by the last Conference and believe that due to the mind set of the public it is unwise to do so now but that there should be a qualified group instructed to do so as soon as specific issues arise.

We recommend: First: That the Southern California Conference affirm its loyalty to the fundamental liberties of free press, of free speech, and of free assemblage, guaranteed by the constitution, as one of our basic principles of Christian social action, and urge every church in the Conference to do its utmost to apply this in every local situation.

Second: That we call upon all our people to dedicate themselves anew to the teaching of the Master, "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." We urge all Methodists to refrain from the common practice of using labels in discussion of people and social questions. We should state our position with such accurate terms that those with whom we disagree will not be misrepresented. We must be willing to follow truth wherever it leads us. We must be truthful to be Christlike.

Third: That the freedom of our pulpits be the fundamental practice of every local church. We do not believe that we should insist on uniformity of opinion in our churches but unity of purpose to follow Jesus. We suggest the formation of discussion groups in the local churches to face, in the spirit of Christ, controversial issues.

Fourth: That the Social Service Commission of the Conference be asked to assume the responsibility of studying and presenting, to the Conference, the facts of specific issues and situations where these above principles are violated.

Fifth: That this committee be discharged and the work assigned to it by the last conference be transferred to the Social Service Commission.

Memoirs

In Memoriam

C. O. KIMBALL

Clarence O. Kimball was well equipped by training and inheritance for the work of the ministry and he gave it all.

Born in Golconda, So. Illinois, his father having the first flouring mill in that region, he had the feel of the pioneers. His parents were devout Christians. He was attracted by the revival meetings of another faith and was converted in a Methodist revival.

For him, being a Christian meant to work at it, so he became a Sunday school teacher, then superintendent.

His was an active mind, a broad one. Next he is a country school teacher, a "boy orator" in politics before he is 20. Naturally the next thing was the law and he was admitted to the bar.

But that conversion meant something and next he answered the call to the ministry, entering the So. Illinois Conference in 1894. Eight years later he went to Colorado for pastorates at La Junta and Trinidad. Then followed work in the Columbia River Conference, and in Kansas and Missouri the pastorate there being at First Church, St. Joseph. During this time he went as a delegate to the General Conference of 1912. In 1890 he was married to Josephine Dear while both were employed in one of the Illinois state institutions. Three children came to their home, Mary Jo, Dorothy, and Clarence O., Jr.

California called and he was transferred to our Conference in 1916 and appointed to Glendora. Here his wife closed her earth life. He carried on his work there, as he would, then at Porterville, Highland Park, San Pedro, Burbank, Vermont Square, Ontario, First, and Escondido.

To the Highland Park church he brought May Agee Miller as the mistress of the parsonage and later the baby Patricia came to complete the family happiness. He loved his family, gave of his best to it.

Nothing was too good for the church. So he prepared for the ministry by college work at Austin, Ph.D. work at McKendrie and was given his D.D. by Willamette. Then he studied, always a lover of books. He stood for dignity in worship, for the churchliness of the church. "Who's Who in America" says of him, "Life long campaigner against the liquor traffic, child labor, and for woman suffrage—lecturer on Abraham Lincoln."

His experience as Conference Secretary brought him to the secretarial force of this Conference and he labored well, always alert, always his humor to brighten the hard grind of the after Conference work. How we will miss him.

His wife and all his children survive him. His brethren loved him. Almost a half hundred of them took the long trail to Escondido to pay tribute to his memory. The community loved him—they crowded the church. Under the oaks in the cemetery near Glendora his body lies. Into the span between Aug. 23, 1868, and October 12, 1934, was crowded a life of devotion to his God, love for his family, service for his fellows.

F. G. H. STEVENS.

(For his comrade secretaries).

STEPHEN GASCOIGNE

Next to the last of the group of our Conference who wore the Grand Army button, it was fitting that Stephen Gascoigne should end earth's career by answering the final roll call at the National Military Home at Sawtelle where he had been an inmate for several years.

Born in Oxford, England, January 11, 1844, young though he was his country's call found him ready to go in the early 60's.

Following the close of the war he faced another call from a higher source and answered it, beginning work as a Methodist preacher in Marysville, Mo., in 1869. After seven years of work in the neighboring St. Louis Conference at Ozark, Osceola, Stockton and Humansville, he located but located but after five years was readmitted, joining the Columbia River Conference in 1881. After several pastorates he spent three years as presiding elder of the Dallas District.

He was for the man who did not know Christ for he gave five years of his ministry as a missionary to the Yakima Indians.

Transferring to the Southern California Conference in 1893 he gave of his best to the then frontiers of the Conference—Los Alamitos, Estrella, Traver, Simi and Simi Circuit. These years also included pastorates at Porterville, Kern, Delano and Bardsdale. He retired in 1905.

Few of the men of this Conference know what those charges meant in those days—long rides, the charges mere settlements or "wide places in the road", the salary often paid in produce.

Only 16 men of the Conference now live who were members when he joined in 1893. Only 53 of those now living were members when he retired. The other 399 have joined since.

He sat in our Conference sessions with a smile in his eye, with an understanding heart, an alert mind.

His death occurred Oct. 31, 1934. He leaves one son, William.

To know Brother Gascoigne was to know a humble spirit, unassuming, brave, a hard worker, a lover of men and a lover of God.

WILLIAM WILBERFORCE COOKMAN

William W. Cookman, born in Philadelphia December 24, 1859, died in Glendale, California, on December 2, 1934 in his seventy-fifth year, surviving his devoted wife by hardly more than a week.

Brother Cookman had an amazing inheritance which he nobly sustained in his own princely character, being in the fourth generation of Methodist preachers. He was the distinguished son of his eminent father, Rev. Alfred Cookman, who wrote "Sweeping through the gates to the new Jerusalem;" and the grandson of the unique and brilliant Rev. George G. Cookman of Philadelphia, who was easily the most conspicuous Methodist preacher of his day, renowned for his eloquence, Chaplain of the United States Senate, and who lost his life when the ill-starred steamship "President," March 11, 1841, sank, enroute to Europe, and all on board perished and no trace of the vessel was ever found.

After being at Wesleyan University and Drew Seminary, William Wilberforce Cookman was received into the Philadelphia Conference, and after fifteen years was transferred to the conspicuous

First Church in Jamestown, New York, where, in the midst of a brilliant pastorate, his health gave way, compelling him to seek a more favorable climate. In 1905 he became a member of the Southern California Conference, where he had successful pastorates, and was noted as an exceptionally fine preacher, a much beloved pastor, and a genial and delightful companion, with a most ingratiating personality. If "the perfect saint is the perfect gentleman," then he lived in the high altitudes of knightly courtesy and of undefiled goodness. The exquisite affinities of his superb soul were revealed in the majesties, and enthusiasms, and perfections of his lofty aspirations, and in the abiding friendships he treasured; the divinities he hospitably entertained, and all the cultural things of his radiant life. If anyone were looking for a poetical panegyric to fittingly describe this consecrated and gifted Christian minister he would not need to go farther than:

"His life was gentle, and the elements so mixed in him that Nature might stand up and say to all the world, This was a Man."

He was suddenly bereft of his loving comrade with whom he had dwelt in increasing marital bliss for full forty-five years. She was Caroline Taft Cookman. In his much enfeebled condition his powers of resistance were so reduced that he could not stand an insidious attack of pneumonia. He gathered his broken-hearted family together about him and bade them affectionate farewells, saying, "Goodbye, Carrie is calling me, and I must go."

CHARLES EDWARD LOCKE.

HENRY D. KAMP

During the Conference session a year ago one of the choicest souls of this Conference went to his eternal reward. Henry D. Kamp was born April 17, 1853 near Watertown, Wisconsin. He was converted at the age of ten and while still a boy felt his call to the ministry to which call he gave his hearty assent. He entered Baldwin Wallace College at Berea, Ohio and received his degree of B. A. in 1879 when he was 26 years of age. He then entered the Chicago German Conference and was appointed to Melvin as Assistant Pastor serving with Rev. Florentin Feistkorn. While he served this charge as Assistant Pastor he lived in the parsonage and there met the pastor's daughter, Carrie, and October 13, 1880 they were united in marriage. These two beautiful and rare souls for almost fifty-four years walked down life's pathway together, sharing each others loads and lending to each other joy and inspiration that, in spite of their heavy responsibilities, made all of life beautiful for them and others. They not only preached righteousness from the pulpit but by their daily conduct. To know them was to love and admire them, their long and beautiful service together was not only a joy to them but of great profit to the kingdom.

Brother Kamp was a man of remarkable ability, strong in his convictions, courageous in his expression and untiring in his efforts. After preaching four years he entered Garrett Biblical Institute from which he received his B. D. degree in 1886. He served the following charges in the Chicago German Conference: Melvin, Valpariso, Michigan City, Hammond, Fort Atkinson, Madison, Milwaukee and Kenosha. He was also secretary of that Conference for many years.

In 1904 he came to California and entered the California German Conference in 1905 and was appointed to Bethel Church. In 1909 he was appointed to the Los Angeles City Missionary Society. The outstanding piece of work while serving in that capacity was the establishing of what is now the Pacific Old People's Home. He secured from Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Amman the gift that made possible the erection of the present two-story building and laid well the foundation during the three years he served as Superintendent and General Manager of this home. To the day of his translation he always had a deep interest in all that was being done in this institution.

After serving for three years as Superintendent and General Manager of the Pacific Old People's Home he held the following pastorates in the California German Conference: San Jose, Los Angeles and San Diego. He retired in 1923 and resided until the day of his death in Los Angeles and worshiped in the South Hollywood Church which is a part of the Pacific Old People's Home.

When it was decided that the California German Conference and the Southern California Annual Conference should merge he was made a member of the Merger Committee and again served well.

Because he lived such a rich and beautiful life himself his presence was always an inspiration and a blessing and his going was a great loss. He was translated June 28, 1934. He leaves his devoted wife and two brothers, Dr. John C. Kamp of New York and George Kamp of Lowell, Wisconsin. His funeral services were conducted in the South Hollywood Methodist Church by the pastor and superintendent of the Pacific Old People's Home who was assisted by eleven other brethren of the Conference. He was laid to rest in the Hollywood Cemetery.

C. E. LIETZELL.

HENRY C. JACOBY

On Tuesday, December 11th, 1934, Henry C. Jacoby, a retired minister of our Conference, passed peacefully from this life to the Eternal.

He was born April 21st, 1861, in Brighton, Illinois, and converted at the age of seventeen while attending Nokomis camp meeting. In preparation for his life's work he attended Central Wesleyan College at Warrenton, Mo., and while in school there he supplied the Methodist Church in St. Charles, Mo.

On Nov. 9th, 1885, he was united in marriage to Mrs. Lydia Fiegenbaum. Three children came to bless their home. Their Golden Wedding anniversary was less than a year away when he passed to his reward.

Brother Jacoby spent thirty-seven fruitful years in the ministry. He was devoted to his home and to his work. His life was a benediction to his people. He was a good preacher and a faithful pastor. He served the following charges in the St. Louis German Conference: Baldwin, Mo.; DeMoines, Iowa; Taylor Avenue, St. Louis; Granite City, Ill., and Quincy, Ill. He was transferred to the California German Conference and served at Los Angeles, Bethel, Immanuel, San Jose and at Anaheim.

Although he retired from the active ministry in 1922 he was often called to supply the pulpits of his brother pastors. He lived close to God and family devotion was a part of the daily program. His children honored and loved him. He was a good father, devoted husband and a true friend and a great help and encouragement to his pastor. The one slogan of his life was "Owe no man anything." Good music and inspiring services he always characterized as "Immense".

After several months of sickness, Brother Jacoby passed to the Father's house at the age of seventy-two years. Besides the many friends to cherish his memory he leaves a widow, Mrs. Lydia Jacoby of Los Angeles; Prof. and Mrs. John Kienle, a daughter and son-in-law, of Burbank, California; a son, Arthur Jacoby, of Inglewood, California; one granddaughter, Roslie; two brothers, William Jacoby of Bunkerhill, Ill.; Louis Jacoby of Jersyville, Ill., and Mrs. Mary Hanold, a sister, of Brighton, Ill., and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Nancy May Jacoby of Los Angeles.

The funeral was held in Bethel Trinity Methodist Church, Friday, Dec. 14th in charge of the pastor, William R. Hessel, assisted by J. H. Durbahn, B. C. Voll and Clyde M. Crist. The interment was at Inglewood cemetery.

WM. R. HESSELL.

W. ALONZO REYNOLDS

W. Alonzo Reynolds—valiant knight of the cross of Christ—knight of the pure heart—seeking “first the kingdom of God and His righteousness”—unselfish in his eagerness to serve the good of all—a notable preacher—a faithful and discerning pastor—brother to all men—a good minister of Jesus Christ.

He made the difficult adjustment of his own religious approach to meet the challenge of our confused and chaotic pagan world. He had the soul of the poet, and occasionally the Westwood church bulletin contained lines from his burning pen. One of these poems reveals his own response to the need “to serve the present age”:

“Though old the Gospel in our hand,
New is the life it brings to men;
Though old the message we must bear,
We sound it forth again! Again!

“He calls us out to frontiers far,
To spread His message ever new;
Though way be long, the journey hard,
We pledge Him now: We will be true!”

To Alonzo Reynolds all of life was to be dominated by the Christian ideal and dynamic. When his son Alonzo, sharing the father's hatred of war, dared to challenge the right of the state to require military training as a condition of academic education, he rejoiced, and staunchly supported his son in his courageous stand. He discerned that spirituality is not an experience apart from life, but depends upon right relationships in life itself. He sacrificed to go into difficult situations and to stand stalwartly for a vital interpretation of the Gospel. That is why he gave his life so early. He refused to live without a cross. Bearing his cross, he at last gave his life upon it.

W. Alonzo Reynolds was born in Fairmount, Illinois, September 16, 1891, the son of Wm. A. and Julia F. Reynolds. His father was an active minister in the Illinois Conference for thirty-five years. His mother survives him.

Dedicated to God from earliest infancy, he devoted his entire life to Christ. His parents consecrated him to the ministry before birth. They never told him of this, but his youth so clearly indicated the trend of his ambitions that it brought no surprise to his parents when he wrote of his decision for the ministry.

He was an eager seeker after knowledge. He entered Illinois State University in 1909, meanwhile serving as student pastor in Urbana.

Thence he went to James Millikin University. He came to California in 1913, completing his work for the A. B. degree at the University of Southern California. From 1917 to 1922 he took graduate work in Boston University in both the School of Theology and the School of Religious Education. Meanwhile he served as director of religious education at Washington Park Methodist Church, Providence, R. I.

In 1912 he was married to Mary McKennan, a friend of High School days. To them were born two sons who survive him, Alonzo, Jr., and Philip. This happy union was broken by the early death of Mary Reynolds in 1929.

Subsequently he married Anna Beall Clark, director of religious education of Upland Methodist Church, who bears witness to "four and a half supremely happy years."

In the Southern California Conference he served the following churches: E. 38th Street, L. A.; Delano; Euclid Heights, L. A.; Pacific Palisades; Glendora; First, Pomona; First, Bakersfield; Westwood, L. A.

Few ministers are more beloved by their people; few succeed so well in building the Kingdom of God into the lives of their parishioners. His judgment on the conference floor and in committees was highly respected. He was a genuine leader, and we shall miss him sorely.

Another poem he penned well expresses his spirit and motivation:

"I am a slave, when driven to my task
By forces from without, be what they may;
When naught but harsh compulsion, want of food
And clothes for naked back, a sheltering roof
Drive ruthless on. Head down, with leaden heart
Each day drags past. The night alone relieves
Between two hells of labor, never marked
By thrill or song or shout of joy released.

"I am a son, though laborer none the less
When what I do is done for love of Him
I serve. For, driven to creative tasks
By forces from within, affection's power
Puts song and beauty, joy and prideful zest
In every hour. And now, no slave am I,
But partner in creative toil divine.
No joy so fine as that which comes from work
Where father-heart and son's in one art girt."

Six months before his death he foresaw the end; but he refused to surrender and expressed the desire to work out his life's day. The dawning of the New Year, 1935, was for him the dawn of the life everlasting. Before he went he talked over with Mrs. Reynolds his desires for the funeral, and these were fully carried out. Private interment was made in Inglewood Cemetery in the morning of January 4th, with Bishop C. Baker and Leonard Oechsli reading the ritual. That same afternoon a great company of ministers and laymen filled Westwood Church for a memorial service devoid of funereal sadness and vibrant with the note of triumph. Leonard Oechsli presided and tributes were paid by Bishop Baker and Walter Buckner.

JAMES EDWIN DUNNING.

MATTHEW GOSSNER WENZ

Life began for this servant of God, on September 10, 1862, in the home of devout German Methodist parents, in Hazel Green, Wisconsin. The call of the Father to a new and larger experience of life came in the Santa Monica Hospital one o'clock in the morning, on January 14, 1935.

When his soul took its wonderous journey one of God's noblemen entered the home eternal. One who had known him since the early days of his ministry said to the writer: "You can't say anything too good about Brother Wenz." The fine Christian and the good minister of Jesus Christ was the product of wholesome training in his parental home. Truly the good home is "God's dominion."

Brother Wenz was well trained for the ministry. At the age of fifteen he graduated from the Galena, Ill. Normal School. The school later removed to Charles City, Iowa, and merged with Morningside College. For one year after graduation he worked in the printing office in the Capitol, at Springfield, Ill. After that he taught school for a time in the same vicinity, and then enrolled as a student in Northwestern University, from which he graduated in 1892, having completed his work in three years. For one year prior to his admission to the Annual Conference, he served as assistant pastor of St. Paul's Church, Chicago.

For thirty-eight years he served in the active ranks of the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Nineteen of these years were spent in the Rock River Conference and in the following charges: S. Englewood, Chicago; Chicago Lawn; Merrill, Chicago; Morrison; and Diversey Blvd., Chicago. In 1912 he came to the Southern California Conference and was stationed in First Church, Bakersfield. Other churches served by him were: Colton; Taylor, San Diego; Lompoc; Bardsdale; Marengo Ave., Alhambra; Glendora; and Puente. In 1931 he took the retired relation by reason of impaired health. Since then he had made his home in Pacific Palisades, beloved by all who knew him and a real benediction to his associates.

On Nov. 7, 1901, M. G. Wenz and Miss Millie Braidwood were united in marriage. This union blessed of God continued for thirty-three years, and to that home came four children who all remain to share with their mother the memories of blessed days in a godly home. The children, two sons and two daughters have all graduated from the University of Southern California. The oldest son, William, is a physician with offices in Wilmington, California; the youngest son, Gordon, graduated with Phi Beta Kappa honors, and is now doing graduate work in the University of California, at Berkeley. One daughter, Mrs. D. M. Rutherford, lives in Berkeley, California, and the other, Miss Florence, remains at home with the mother. Brother Wenz also left two grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Mary Klaus.

This good man achieved neither fame nor wealth, but he gained what is of far greater worth, the love and respect of a host of friends who looked upon him always as a noble character and a good minister of Jesus Christ. He was never a seeker after place and power, but eager to give himself unreservedly to the sacred task entrusted to his care, in the firm conviction that the hand of God was upon him. His God-possessed personality made itself felt in the lives of young and old, and it happened that children wept when they heard that he was to move from their church. His youngest son could not be present at the funeral services, but he wrote this beautiful tribute: "As little of his life of service as I saw is of far greater value to me than any amount of money or things that he could have left me." Beautiful is the life of a man when his children arise to bless his memory because they found in him the embodiment of sacrificial devotion to life's highest calling, self-forgetful service in the name of Christ.

The tabernacle in which M. G. Wenz had made his home for seventy-two years and four months was laid away in Inglewood Cemetery on January 16, 1935, after services to his memory had been conducted in the Pacific Palisades Church, in charge of the writer assisted by Howard Clark, and A. Ray Moore. The poet's words can be fittingly applied to this brother beloved:

"Servant of God, well done!
Rest from thy loved employ;
The battle fought, the victory won,
Enter thy Master's joy."

JOHN GABRIELSON.

GEORGE W. GOODELL

George Wayland Goodell, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jackson Goodell, was born at Lyndon, Vermont, on October 24, 1847. At the age of seventeen years he left the common school and learned the tinner's trade at which he worked until he was twenty.

At the age of nineteen he was genuinely converted under the ministry of Rev. George Bickford. He soon felt the call to preach the gospel of Jesus and accordingly attended the Newbury Seminary to make farther preparation for his life work. Before finishing his education the way closed for farther study and he went to Chicago where he worked again for three years at his trade.

On November 26, 1872 he was united in marriage with Miss Emma Fidelia Lanpher, at Lyndonville, Vermont. He was given a Local Preacher's License in the summer of 1875. He then took his wife and young son to Montpelier, Vermont, where he took farther schooling. At a conference, held at St. Johnsbury, Vt., he was appointed by the Presiding Elder, Rev. W. R. Puffer, to Bloomfield, where he preached for three years and then at Glover for two.

At the session of the Vermont Conference, held at Barton Landing, in 1880, Bishop Wiley presiding, he was admitted to membership. He was ordained as a Deacon in 1881 and an Elder in 1884. He was stationed at Walden and South Walden, Westfield, Troy and Jay, in the Vermont Conference.

In 1885 he was transferred to the Southern California Conference and served at the following charges, Fresno, Bakersfield, Epworth and Westminster. At the conference of 1893 he was compelled, on account of asthma that affected his voice, to ask for and he received the Retired Relation. Going to a ranch near Bakersfield, his health was, during the following eight years, nearly restored but his voice did not permit him to again resume his pastoral work.

Since 1902 he has made his home in Los Angeles County. On August 22, 1929, his precious wife went to her coronation and her ashes were placed by the side of her son in the cemetery at South Walden, Vt. At a later time, he was married to Mrs. Flora P. Shanks of Los Angeles, who faithfully cared for him until the end of his life.

Brother Goodell was for many years, a trustee of the Southern California Conference, where his ability in business was freely given as his contribution to the cause of Christ, whom, in this way, he delighted to serve.

He always had a keen and saving sense of humor which, together with his great faith in Jesus Christ, and his fine loyalty to the church, made him a delightful and interesting companion. He was a loyal citizen, husband, father and friend. He was loved by those who, in spite of his modest and retiring disposition, were privileged to come to know him well. During the summer of 1933, he and Mrs. Goodell drove to the Atlantic seaboard, through the New England of his early manhood and back across the continent, without accident or mishap of any sort. Within a few months after his return, the machinery of life began to fail and he knew that the other world was coming rapidly to meet him. Christ did not fail him and his soul grew exultant. He said "I have a mighty Savior. Jesus is all the world to me." He put his house in order, attended to every earthly detail, left a sketch of his life and work, wrote the program which he wished carried out at his funeral, and, on Thursday, December 11, 1934, he left the scene and the house of his earthly labors and then passed through the gates into the city which is the goal of the Christian's hope, and is now "Forever with the Lord."

His funeral was held at beautiful Forest Lawn. The organ played softly, Charles D. Lewis, his pastor, read the scripture and the hymns which he had selected, C. P. Metcalf, a friend of many years, spoke a few words of appreciation of this faithful soldier of Christ. His ashes were placed by the side of his wife and son in Vermont. There remains deeply inscribed in the life of two conferences and in the affections of a host of friends and relatives and acquaintances, the memory of a consecrated Christian brother, a devoted and loyal Minister of Jesus Christ and a heroic man who has showed us how to live and how to die. He requested these lines be read at his funeral:

"When sinks the soul, subdued by toil, to slumber,
Its closing eyes look up to Thee in prayer;
Sweet the repose beneath Thy wings o'ershading,
But sweeter still to wake and find Thee there."

So shall it be at last, in that bright morning,
When the soul waketh, and life's shadows flee;
O, in that hour, fairer than daylight dawning,
Shall rise the glorious thought—I am with Thee."

C. D. LEWIS.

HARCOURT W. PECK

Harcourt W. Peck, D.D., was born March 16, 1861, in Lansdowne, Ontario, Canada, and departed this life to be with his Lord on June 27, 1934, having attained the age of 73 years, 3 months, 11 days.

He lived in Lansdowne during his youth. He graduated from Victoria University, Conburg, Canada. In 1888 he accepted the Vice-Principalship of the Royal School in Honolulu, Hawaii.

It was during his residence in Honolulu that he met Miss Nannie Needham, also a teacher, to whom he was married in October, 1891. To this union were born two children, Robert G. and Evelyn M. (now Mrs. Cooper). Mrs. Peck, after 33 years of devotion to her home and church as a pastor's wife, went to her heavenly home May 9, 1924.

Brother Peck returned from Hawaii to Canada and accepted a Professorship in Columbian Methodist College, B. C., Canada. In 1894 he joined the California Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church and was sent that year to Hawaii to re-establish our Mission in those islands. Successfully accomplishing this task he returned to California in 1897 and was appointed to Trinity Church in San Francisco.

Transferring to the So. Calif. Conference in 1899 he was appointed to Prescott in the Arizona Mission. In 1902 he returned to So. Calif. and was appointed to Covina. In 1904 to First Church, Fresno, made District Superintendent of Fresno District in 1906 and served to 1912. While in this District, according to his own records, he opened new work in 104 towns and villages, helped to build 90 new churches, organize 114 new Sunday Schools and organize 75 Epworth and Junior Leagues. The church membership increased over 8000 with a like increase in Sunday School scholars. In the same period there was added 55 new pastors. During his Superintendency on this District he held 60 weeks of revival meetings which resulted in 700 new members.

In 1912 he was appointed to First Church, Redlands, and in 1913 was made Superintendent of the Los Angeles District where he served three years, going in 1916 to the pastorate of First Church, Santa Ana. In 1918 he went to First Church, Phoenix, and while there helped greatly in efforts to make Arizona Mission a part of the So. Calif. Conference.

In 1920 Brother Peck took his Sabbatic year and in 1921 was Conference Evangelist, followed by pastorates at Grace, Santa Monica, and Central Ave., Glendale. In 1926 he took the Retired relationship, living in Fullerton, Calif., until Jan. 20, 1933, when he was united in marriage to Mrs. Hattie E. Thayer Warner of Anaheim, Calif., where he lived until his death.

There were two outstanding characteristics of this servant of God. First, loyalty to his convictions. On his first visit to Hawaii he became convinced of the corrupt reign of King Kalakhua and Queen Liliuokalani. As soon as he arrived at this conclusion he immediately joined the forces of Colonel Fisher and was made an Adjutant and was present when the Queen was dethroned and the provisional government was established.

He was elected the first Chaplain of the Senate of the new Hawaiian Republic and served two years. His convictions on the evils of the liquor traffic made him always and everywhere a militant leader in the crusade for its overthrow and destruction.

His was a passionate conviction concerning the truth of the orthodox interpretation of the Scriptures. One might not always agree with him but you could not help respecting his courageous loyalty to the truth as he understood it.

Second, zeal, for he was an untiring worker for the advancement of his church and the Master's Kingdom as evidenced by the record as cited above. This zeal continued to the very end. His last message sent to his brethren through his pastor was to increase their zeal for evangelism and their fight against the liquor traffic. As the crowning day approached this scripture was constantly on his lips, "For me to live is Christ, to die is gain." Truly he could have said with Paul, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith."

Memorial services were held June 30 in the White Temple church in Anaheim and were in charge of his pastor, Ray C. Harker, who brought a splendid tribute to the life and work of this heroic soul. He was assisted in the service by the following brethren: Bede A. Johnson, C. H. M. Sutherland, E. Dow Hoffman and P. P. Carroll. Quite a number of the members of the Conference were excused to attend the service. Interment was made in Loma Vista Memorial Park near Fullerton.

BEDE A. JOHNSON.

RUFUS J. WYCKOFF

Any preacher who could hold Bar Harbor (Me.) in his Boston University student days, leap into one of the best pulpits in Ohio, at Cincinnati (Mt. Auburn), immediately after graduation from theological school, later hold Ravenswood and Oak Park, Chicago (Ill.), and then Madison Avenue (Md.), was more than just another Methodist preacher.

This is the record of Rufus J. Wyckoff!

He began a bundle of nerves in the Ohio Wesleyan University and was never stilled until the power was turned off this Conference year.

"Judd" Wyckoff, as his intimates knew him, was a strong pulpiteer. Upon arriving in Cincinnati at the beginning of his ministry, he was called upon to preach at a city-wide gathering in old downtown Trinity. His striking introduction has never faded from the memory of one of his auditors . . . "Jew looked at Jew . . . Teacher looked at teacher . . . Jesus looked at Nicodemus . . . Nicodemus looked at Jesus . . . Man looked at man . . . man looked at Son of Man!"

However, he was more than a vivid orator. He was a real pastor. A great "mixer," it was not work for him to call upon his parishioners. He had a passion for people. He was not just a bell-ringer for a record. Upon entering the Southern California Conference in 1923, he was willing to fill the humblest charges. But as usual, his work soon became outstanding. He left one of the noblest edifices in the Southland as his monument . . . beautiful Rosewood.

He became a connoisseur of church architecture in his travels abroad and brought home blue-prints in his heart from the classic chapels of England.

Taking the Supernumerary Relation in his early sixties, because of the frailty of his wife, they traveled together over the country for a year in their car in quest of her health . . . in vain.

Rufus Wyckoff was a great student. He never died at the top; he never reached the deadline. When he retired three years ago, he did not retire from his beloved books. In his new leisure, he found more opportunity than ever for study. He often told his friends how he and Anne (his new helpmeet) were having the time of their lives reading to each other and discussing their reactions. Perchance he was preparing himself over against the new life.

His spirit was too active for one body and wore it out before its time. How he must be using his resurrection body in the quest for truth among the stars!

Never depressed by pessimism, he was always forward looking. Youthful in his thinking to the last, he was not afraid of the new. Living a normal religion as if it were a part of life, he passed into the Great Beyond with the love that only a lover of men ever knows.

JOHN P. BARKER

The first full day John Pitzer Barker spent in heaven was Easter Sunday. We scribbled on our notes, "He will be at home in Heaven for he was so thoroughly at home in this little bit of God's universe we call 'our earth'." This thought must have been in other minds also, for the first words his District Superintendent, S. S. Sampson, said as he opened the funeral service in the Magnolia Park Church was "Brother Barker will be wonderfully at home in Heaven."

This was because J. P. Barker was no ordinary man. From his remote ancestor the John Barker who printed the first edition of the King James version of the scriptures in 1611, through his father, Jesse N., and his mother, Mary Smith Barker, who came to the Northwest in the early fifties by caravan over the Oregon Trail, he had an exceptional ancestry. His father served as Indian Agent in the new territory, as Quartermaster General in the Modoc Indian War, as State Senator, and as the United States Land Commissioner.

Then his intimate knowledge of the world around him was exceptional. To his course in the Spokane Methodist College he added explorations into astronomy until the Mount Wilson Observatory always had an open door for him together with the group of boys who were apt to be his companions. Beside this he was an artist of note, often supplementing his income by the sale of his paintings. In fact, one of his latest addresses was before the Wilshire Art Association. Then as a member of the Audubon Society the government looked to him for reports on the flight of certain migratory birds, and the Indians had long ago admitted this lover of nature into membership in one of their tribes.

In addition to possessing some rare copies of those early volumes printed by the remote ancestor mentioned above, his collection of ancient manuscripts, and especially old versions of the English Bible was probably unexcelled outside of the great museums. A Greek and Hebrew scholar of ability, his sermons were rich in reference to the messages of the prophets and heroes of the Bible.

To this knowledge of science and art and literature he added a sincere love and understanding of men and women and boys and girls. When told he was endangering his life by working so hard he said, "I would far rather spend myself in service than to decay in a useless old age." This spirit dominated his life. He began his ministry by organizing with the aid of the one who later became his life companion, the boys and girls of Union Park section of Spokane, securing a hall, starting a Sunday School and Young Peoples Religious Center, which later was taken over by the Presbyterian Church.

Born in Roseburg, Oregon, Feb. 13, 1872, and entering the ministry at the age of twenty-one, he served a number of charges in Washington and Idaho, coming to Southern California in 1911. He served acceptably several charges in our Conference, among them First, Burbank, where he purchased the lots for the building which now stands at Third and Olive. In 1926 he was retired on account of impaired health—but it was impossible for so active a soul to be idle, so he took supply work, and gave the last three years of his life in an heroic effort to save the Magnolia Park church threatened on account of debt. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Maude Barker, two daughters, Mrs. Eula B. Shay and Miss Virginia Barker, and a little grandson, Carleton Barker Shay.

He died Saturday, April 20, 1935, in his sixty-fourth year, leaving a memory of a life of rare honor, purity and devotion. He is the kind of guide one would like to have in Heaven. He knew here on earth where the most brilliant poppies and the finest lupines were—where the most resplendent yuccas, and the grandest oaks held sway. He knew when the birds would visit us on the pilgrimages, and when the planets were to be seen at their best. He knew, too, the very heart of the great prophets of other days, and he knew how to bring into the fellowship of the Master the boys and girls of the community in which he lived. Brother Barker will certainly be at home in Heaven where, as Kipling puts it—

Only the Master shall praise them,
And only the Master shall blame,
And no one shall work for money
And no one shall work for fame,
But each for the joys of the working,
And each in his separate star
Shall draw the thing as he sees it
For the God of things as they are.

JOHN A. WOOD

The apostolic succession of Methodism is its "burning heart". John Wesley got it; other caught it; multitudes fought it; but John Wood, militant Methodist, brought it to the past generation. His descendants, like unto a Methodist Jonathan Edwards family, have handed on the torch to the Southern California Conference.

John A. Wood, whose warm heart ceased its valiant beat the morning of February 5, 1935, was the oldest son of the great John Wood. His merry blue eyes first opened to the beauty of his Heavenly Father's world on January 1, 1854, in Osborn Hollow, N. Y. On January 27, 1878, he was united in marriage with Ida Perry, a daughter of a family very prominent in Baltimore, the cradle of Methodism. Her father was an intimate friend of the famous preacher and writer, John Wood. This very happy and fruitful minister's home was blessed with the presence of both father and mother for nearly fifty years, until ten years ago when Sister Wood bade "Good night" but not "Good bye" to the large family.

The pastoral record of J. A. Wood, spanning 41 years, shows steady advancement from his first charge in 1878 in the days of the circuit riders at Martinsburg in the Central Pennsylvania Conference, until his transfer to this Southland in 1906. He was retired from the Southern California Conference in 1919, taking bivouac between the blue hills of South Pasadena's Arroyo and the lovely Sierra Madre Range where in fancy he beheld the very hills of God.

Of a Sunday when not on supply duty, he loved to worship in the South Pasadena Church. To his left was the great window which enshrines the name and memory of his famous forbear, Doctor John Wood. In the presence of that window and memory, his final service was held. He graduated from Drew Theological Seminary in the days of the giants of Methodism then on the faculty, John Miley, James Strong, George R. Crooks, Henry A. Buttz, Robert W. Rogers and Samuel Upham. He was president of the Drew Alumni Association of Southern California for ten years. Three Alumni of Drew, Merle N. Smith, Charles D. Lewis and Vernon M. McCombs, spoke in his honor. A. Ray Moore offered prayer, his last pastor, Samuel Hughes, conducting the coronation rites. The goodly family clan who paid honor to their loved one includes a brother, Mel Wood, and a sister, Mrs. E. E. Barden, both of South Pasadena; and the far and favorably known sons, Judge John Perry Wood, John Allen III, and the twins, Earle and Mel, and a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Morse of San Marino. One son, Gilbert, awaited his father on the heavenly shores. At the service, other loving hearts who called him "father", "uncle", or "grandfather" mingled their smiles of noble pride and Christian faith with their tears of the parting.

The affection in which this pastor father was held is expressed in their memories of him. They recall how everybody seemed to love him. They remember how undaunted was his faith and how constantly he exhorted others to have faith. Lines which he often quoted were memorized by his children:

"There is no unbelief.
He who plants a seed beneath the sod,
And waits to see it push away the clod,
He trusts in God.

There is no unbelief.
Whoever says 'Tomorrow—the Future'
Trusts the power alone
He dares disown.

There is no unbelief;
And, day by day—and night, unconsciously—
The heart lives by that faith the lips deny:
God knows why!"

Like the founder of Methodism, John A. Wood was small of stature. Also, like John Wesley, he ever maintained a cordial ministerial dignity, yet with very human sympathies. His rich, vibrant voice; his scholarly, precise messages; his fidelity to appointments and program; his modest valor as a defender of his high ideals, the great causes of Methodism, and the evangelistic message, all this may account for the respect and affection in which he was held by family, congregations and Conference.

VERNON M. McCOMBS.

V. HUNTER BRINK

After being in failing health since his retirement from the active ministry in 1926, Vincent Hunter Brink passed to his eternal reward at his residence in Pasadena on Sunday, May 12, 1935.

He was born in Blandinsville, Ill., in 1865, his father Stephen Brink, being one of the best known Civil War veterans and later Methodist itinerant preachers of the Middle West. Hunter entered the ministry before he was twenty, and was for fifty years a sturdy evangel of the cross carrying the message to numerous charges in Kansas and Illinois before transferring to the Southern California Conference in 1903.

Here he first made himself known in the building of the beautiful Lake Avenue church in Pasadena, which church was the forerunner of the Holliston Avenue church. After service in Pasadena, he and Mrs. Brink were stationed at a number of important churches in Southern California, the last being Gardena, where he launched the ambitious building program which is now under way.

Brother Brink was a full-salvation preacher, dealing faithfully with many souls and bringing them into the knowledge of sins forgiven and hearts made clean. Because of his evangelistic gifts he served a number of years as Conference evangelist.

Funeral services were held Thursday, May 16, in the Holliston Ave.

church, with the pastor, Alfred J. Hughes, in charge. He was assisted by the following ministers of the Conference: J. L. Corley, W. L. Y. Davis, L. T. Guild, Alfred Inwood, A. Ray Moore, John Oliver, S. J. Rogers, F. G. H. Stevens. The music, which had been planned by Brother Brink, was by Dr. Joseph Marple of Glendale, and Howard Brink Clark of Los Angeles, with a great nephew, John Paul Clark, at the organ.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lorena F. Brink, and a sister, Mrs. Sadie E. Clark.

HOWARD BRINK CLARK.

J. M. HUSTON

To many in our Conference the name J. M. Huston means First Church, Pasadena, but back of that is a life's preparation. James McCready Huston was born in Ohio Feb. 17, 1853, the son of a minister, John Huston, and his wife, Eliza J. McCready.

He took his college-work in Mt. Union, graduating in 1874. Entering the Pittsburgh Conference in 1876 he served at Warrenton, then went to the E. Ohio Conference, where he held appointments at Unionport, Lynch, Irondale, Braceville, Brenfield, Talmage, Kingsville, Jewett, Ulrichville and E. Liverpool.

In 1880 he was married to Katie Drummond. One son came to this home, James Drummond. Mrs. Huston died in 1887.

While at E. Liverpool he was married in 1894 to Eliza Holloway. During this successful pastorate he was invited by First Church, Pasadena, to exchange with Clark Crawford and the transfer was completed.

He came to a large and brotherly church. Their church building was too small. But under Clark Crawford's leadership they had built Lincoln Ave. Church, paid for most of it, and setting off several hundred members had assumed three-fourths of the remaining debt.

To this task came J. M. Huston—facing an old building and some debt. He called his people to prayer. For weeks the prayer meetings had this as the theme. The result—the “most beautiful brown stone church in Methodism” completed at a cost of $80,000, a supendous sum for 1901.

The strain took the toll in health and the next year he took the Supernumerary Relation and the Retired Relation in 1901. Soon thereafter he was invited to the pastorate of one of Methodism's outstanding churches but the health of both himself and wife made this impossible.

His death occurred in Los Angeles Feb. 1, 1931, the services in his honor being in charge of his pastor, Roy L. Smith, with burial in Hollywood Cemetery. He is survived by his wife and son.

His was an evangelistic ministry. He was a man of prayer, one who saw the goal and “pressed toward the mark.”

That brown stone church, now the Holliston Ave. church, stands as a type of his life—substantial, well equipped, pointing to the eternal.

MRS. W. W. COOKMAN

Mrs. Caroline Taft Cookman passed away November 23, 1934, at Glendale, California. Her husband wrote this sketch of her:

"Caroline Taft Cookman was the product of good, sturdy, Methodist stock. The Taft family was prominent and well-known throughout Methodist circles in the East and Middle West for several generations. Her uncle, James L. Taft, of Brooklyn, New York, was, for some years, Chairman of the General Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church. She was also a relative of the former President of the United States, William Howard Taft.

She was born in the city of Brooklyn, New York; daughter of Azariah and Caroline Elizabeth Taft, on January 30, 1865. She was 69 years of age. Converted in early childhood, she grew up a loyal, devoted and enthusiastic member of the Methodist Episcopal Church. While always modest and retiring in her nature, she nevertheless took an active interest in all the varied activities of the church, especially the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society. This was probably due to the fact that she had four cousins in China who were missionaries, notably the Rev. and Mrs. Hobart, the latter being shot and killed during the Boxer uprising in China.

Being a graduate of the Packer Collegiate Institute of Brooklyn, New York, she had fine educational advantages. She was united in marriage to W. W. Cookman of the Philadelphia Conference. After serving for some years some of the prominent churches of that conference, they were transferred to the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Jamestown, New York, the leading representative church in the Erie Conference. From there, for reasons of health, her husband was compelled to seek a more friendly climate and was transferred to Ontario of the Southern California Conference.

In the various churches in which her husband served as pastor she was universally popular with all with whom she came in contact. She possessed a bright, happy, sunny-faced disposition. Indeed it may be said that her most manifest characteristic was her cheerfulness. This shone through her countenance and rang in her voice. Her company was as exhilarating as a sea breeze. Her glad vitality gave a new, inspiring spring to your own powers of enjoyment. Moreover, she possessed good common sense, and a strength of womanly courage that made her a model wife and mother and neighbor. There have been few more devoted wives, more indulgent mothers than she was. She seemed to entirely forget herself in her devotion to her husband and children as well as to those around her. A true Christian woman.

Surrounded by her loved ones, although unconscious, she simply fell asleep, and her life went out as beautifully as the setting of the evening sun upon a cloudless sky.

She is survived by her husband and four children: Prof. Alfred Cookman, W. W. Cookman, Jr., Mrs. Harry W. Perry of Glendale, California, and Mrs. Earl J. Thomson of Annapolis, Md. She is also survived by nine grandchildren and two brothers, Alfred and Francis Taft of Brooklyn, New York."

Mrs. Cookman was a Christian lady of rare accomplishment. She was a full complement to her husband with all of his rare culture and ingratiating personality. In all of his churches she was his abiding inspiration. She loved the ministry, and none of the multiplied duties of the pastor's life was irksome to her. Her whole life was blissfully engrossed in the minister's relation to the church and to the entire kingdom of Christ on earth.

The ethereal loveliness of her character, exquisitely embellished with cheerfulness and kindness, made a profound impression upon all the churches of which her husband was ever the able pastor—the ideal minister's wife.

"A perfect woman nobly planned,
To warn, to comfort and command
Shalt show us how divine a thing
A woman may be made."

CHARLES EDWARD LOCKE.

MRS. THOMAS GRICE

Georgina Armstrong was born in Omagh County, Tyrone, Ireland, November 28, 1868. Loosed from her physical moorings, she began to adventure with God amidst the realities of an unseen world October 1st, 1934.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery Armstrong of Bunnynubber and Innishowen, Ireland. The Model schools and the Methodist college at Belfast were the educational centers in which she received her training. The home atmosphere, coupled with the schools bent toward religion, produced in this alert, forceful young woman an early desire to unite with the church and dedicate her powers to the cause of Christ. Her home was a center of hospitality for the traveling Methodist ministers of her native land.

Thomas Grice, a student minister of the Methodist Church of Ireland, wooed her and won her. They were married at Londonderry January 7, 1905.

The call of the West early gripped this young couple. Less than three months after their wedding, they migrated to Duluth, Minnesota, where they gave themselves, without stint, to the work of kingdom building in the Methodist Episcopal Church. There is a beaten trail in the Northern Minnesota Conference that will forever bear the imprint of their feet.

Twenty years ago health conditions brought them to California. Here, in the land of enlarged opportunity, Mrs. Grice served as husband's helper; friend of the aged, lover of children and radiator of gospel-good-cheer, in the following charges: Brooklyn Heights, Los Angeles; First Church, San Pedro; First Church, South Pasadena; Grace, Long Beach, with a few months at Oxnard before her passing.

When Brother Grice enlisted as Chaplain in the United States Army during the World War, she adopted a courageous and helpful attitude and gave sacrificial service to her adopted country. On his return to America from overseas service, she met him at Hoboken and together they labored at Embarkation Hospital Number One.

Strangely, for Methodist polity, the reassignment after the war was to San Pedro. Here Mrs. Grice made the parsonage the "Home Ashore" for the boys of the United States Navy, and equally, a home for the Army lads at Fort McArthur.

Mrs. Grice had a rare gift of humor, and a pleasing approach to the aged, shut-ins, and the children in all the churches. Her work as church school teacher and in the woman's societies was unassuming but very effective.

Beside her husband, she is survived by two brothers, William, who resides in Ireland, and Hugh, who lives in Montana.

Of Mrs. Grice it might well be said "Servant of God well done."

A considerable period of illness preceded her death. Loving hands ministered to her until the hour of adventure arrived. Having known her makes us more sure that,

They are not lost who find
The Sunset gate, the goal
Of all the weary years.
Not lost are they who reach
The summit of their climb,
The peak above the clouds
And storms. They are not lost
Who find the light of sun
And stars and God.

GEORGE A. WARMER.

MRS. W. F. WENK

Mrs. Harriet L. Wenk, widow of Wilbur F. Wenk, was born March 29th, 1849, in Paris, Ohio. She departed this life April 13, 1935, in Palo Alto, California, where she had lived for several years following her husband's death.

She leaves one daughter, Elizabeth, a teacher in the Palo Alto High School.

The funeral was held April 15th in Palo Alto with the Rev. R. H. Silverthorn in charge assisted by the Rev. Daniel W. Stevens, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Mrs. Wenk was a loyal and faithful member of the First Methodist church of Palo Alto where she had lived ever since the death of her husband. She always took an active part in the work of the church and was sought after to lead in many of the devotional meetings. The world has been made richer because sister Wenk passed this way.

Full of years and good works she entered into a well earned rest.

R. H. SILVERTHORN.

MRS. S. J. McCONNELL

Ida May Weedin was born in Wakeman, Ohio, November 21, 1863, and passed to her reward at her home in Covina, California, November 20, 1934, seventy-one years of age lacking one day. She received her education in the schools of Ohio, having attended Oberlin University.

On December 16, 1884, she was united in marriage to Samuel J. McConnell in her parents' home in Columbia, Ohio, at which time her only sister, Minnie Weedin, married Mr. Adams.

Brother and Sister McConnell moved from a pastorate in Clyde, Ohio, to Los Angeles in 1900, and have lived in the following Southern California cities, where he served as Methodist pastor: Selma, Hanford, Covina from 1912 to 1917, Selma a second time, Echo Park, Los Angeles, and Moneta. In 1922 the husband of the deceased retired from the active ministry and the beloved couple took up their residence in a cozy home on School street in Covina, from which place her husband heard the last call on April 11, 1926, and where the deceased was residing at the time of her death.

Mrs. McConnell was an ideal helper to her minister husband all through the years, and was deeply devoted to her foster daughters, Mable and Julia. Quiet, gracious and unassuming she greatly endeared herself to young and old alike in every parish her husband and she served.

Mrs. McConnell was exceedingly active in all the women's societies of the church, having held important offices in the Ladies Aid Society and the Women's Missionary organizations. She worked untiringly with the young girls of Covina, organizing them into a Queen Esther Society, which later became the Alice Davis Missionary Society. In 1925 this last society made her a perpetual member of the W.H.M.S. in loving recognition of her splendid service in that great organization.

The word devotion tellingly illustrates the entire life of Mrs. McConnell. Devoted to God, her home and family, her church and her friends was she.

The deceased leaves to mourn her passing, her two foster daughters, Mrs. Mabel Peterson of Portland, Oregon, and Mrs. Julia Croley of Los Angeles, California, a niece, Mrs. Ruth Bernsden of Cleveland, Ohio, three nephews, Russell, Vernon and Leonard Adams in Ohio, a sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary Ellen Black, and her daughter, Mrs. Verna Hagerman of Los Angeles.

"There is no death! The stars go down
To rise upon some other shore,
And bright in Heaven's jewelled crown
They shine forevermore."

Geo. B. Cliff of Glendora and H. G. Earle of Covina officiated at the funeral.

H. G. EARLE.

MRS. EZRA A. HEALY

Mary Edmunds Healy, daughter of Ira and Emma Edmunds, was born in Aurora, Canada, October 19, 1844. Her parents moved to the Queens Bush and took up government land, when she was about four years of age. The Edmunds home, known to their many friends as "Maple Bank," became "The House by the Side of the Road" to the traveling preachers and the passers-by. Here it was that Mary Edmunds received her first training in hospitality and in the love that "beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things and endureth all things": which training was so admirably to fit her for the career of a minister's wife.

At the age of sixteen she began to teach school, and later enrolled as a student in Hamilton Ladies College.

In 1872, at the earnest entreaty of a young minister just graduated from Victoria University she agreed to leave her teaching duties for the higher duties of a parsonage; and on July 15, 1872, she was united in marriage with Ezra A. Healy, beginning at Montreal, Point St. Charles, Canada, "to meet the exactions incident to the life of a pastor's wife, to be met with ever-growing success through the ensuing fifty-four years."

Of Quaker ancestry, Mary Edmunds Healy was wont to dwell on the wonders of the spiritual life. Even at a very early age she seemed to have learned "the practice of the presence of God." She was one who seemed as being always "full of joy." Her religion made her a most inspiring person with whom to live. Self-effacing; in honor, preferring others; managing her own affairs and the affairs of her household with efficiency; bringing up her children to be an honor and a credit to their parents; winning the esteem and good will and trust of her husband's parishoners; bringing those who confided in her, especially young people, into touch with spiritual forces which they otherwise, perhaps, would never know—she made herself and the parsonage "a most efficient helper of the pulpit."

Her reward was in the love of her devoted family and in the respect and admiration of all who knew her. She had a genius for placing the right people in the right places, and many a successful man and woman of today owe their achievement to her keen mind and her heart's wise counsel. It was not because she "knew God better" than others but because she did all things "by the method of love" that the Healy parsonage-home, whether at Point St. Charles or at North Dakota, or First Church, San Diego, or at University Church, Los Angeles, became the center of spiritual life and of a beautiful and kindly hospitality. As wife of the Dean of MacLay School of Theology, which was her husband's last appointment, she had opportunity to crown her career as a minister's wife with signal success.

The cheerful courage that had never failed her, "the faith inwrought by the Holy Spirit" gave her strength for the tasks that pressed during her sunset days. At the beginning of her parsonage-life she expressed the hope "so to live that at the end it could be said 'She hath done what she could'." But, that was not the end for Mary Edmunds Healy, for "God was at the end of the journey." A beautiful life had its crowning when she went home to God.

The memorial service was held in University Church, April 1, 1935, in the chapel dedicated to the memory of Dean Healy. It was simple, according to her wish, yet great because of the spirit of sincere respect, which was the tribute paid her by those who honored and loved her.

GOLDER LAWRENCE.

MRS. JAMES C. HEALY

Not often does a motherless man discover a woman whom he would be glad to call "mother." To the writer such an one was Mrs. James C. Healy,—devoted widow of that pioneer Methodist preacher of rare gifts who gave himself to our Southern California Conference when its lay membership enrolled less than five thousand. To the native sagacity of a Scotch-Canadian of good stock, Mrs. Healy added the fine insight into human minds and hearts which develops in a consecrated mistress of the manse who enters heartily into the work of a parish with her husband. With father and mother who had made their home in Guelph, Ontario, where Mrs. Healy was born, the overnight and week-end home of all the traveling preachers who came that way, how could this woman have lacked in appreciation for the church and its ministry? No young church in all that territory but sought the services of Donald Wallace as trustee. No preacher, young or old, but found the mother, Harriet Lasby, wonderfully kind. Of the ten children of that home Matilda Healy, Mrs. S. F. Johnson, Albert J. Wallace, and Frank S. Wallace have served Southern California Methodism with honor and distinction.

Few women, anywhere, knew their Methodism as did Mrs. Healy,—its personnel, its program, its story, its spirit. She discussed her church, its world-wide program, its changing polity, its heaven-given purpose with rare discernment.

For many years she served as district corresponding secretary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, and for at least an equal time she gave herself enthusiastically as president or other officer in the home church auxiliary.

In First Church, Long Beach, where she held membership for twenty-two years, Mrs. Healy made herself a force in personal contacts with newcomers. How long she served as "greeter" at the entrance to the sanctuary I cannot say. How well she performed that duty I know from more than a score of active members of the church who have told me that it was Mrs. J. C. Healy who made them feel they would like to make her church their own.

Positive, because that was her inherited quality, and better because she had well informed herself on things Methodistic, she was nevertheless tolerant of those she felt had studied a proposition conscientiously even though their conclusions were not hers. Outspoken to the point of bluntness at times she tempered her pronouncements with a kindly humor that brought her the sincere friendship of many who could not see as she saw.

In Canada, the place of her girlhood, in North Dakota, the scene of her first experiences as a pastor's wife, in Southern California churches where she labored with her husband, and in Long Beach where she entered all the church life so happily she was a queen in her own right. And when, on January 11, 1935, she went to that

"Sweet and blessed country,
The home of God's elect,"

It was easy for those who knew Mrs. Healy best to feel that there with "her James" who had preceded her by twenty-nine years she had found a place near the throne.

R. N. MERRILL.

MRS. A. W. ADKINSON

We are reminded today of that which is written in the scriptures, "Be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life." We believe that statement to be true for in Connorsville, Indiana, on April 25, 1857, there was born, to a devoted and loving father and mother, a little girl to whom they gave the name of Kate Luella Cassell, and for 78 years and a few days she was faithful to every trust that was bestowed upon her. In very early life she claimed the promise of "Lo, I am with you always" and the pages of history have been greatly brightened by the beautiful Christian life she lived. When she gave her heart to the Lord she gave it for service, and faithfulness to her call was the dominate note in her life.

Educated in the schools of Indiana she completed her preparation for service in the Terra Haute, Indiana, Normal School and went into the teaching profession. To her the school room was the workshop of God, but no room could contain the missionary spirit. In 1878, she was married to Rev. Alvah W. Adkinson and immediately she began with her husband a missionary journey that crossed and recrossed the continent. It began in Indiana, then out to Ogden, Utah, over to the Dakotas, down to Albuquerque, New Mexico, back to Ohio and then to Southern California. After serving a pastorate in First Church, Riverside, these missionaries of the cross became father and mother to the Methodists of the great state of Arizona and for eleven years they wrote an indelible record in that state. Only a few weeks ago I was in Arizona and heard on a number of occasions the tributes of love that were still being bestowed upon this devoted couple.

Mrs. Adkinson was not only faithful to the call of the church, but she was a great mother. Five children came to bless this couple and a large part of her reward in heaven will be for the loving service she rendered in that home. Her daughter says that one of the first things she remembers was her mother in prayer. Three of these children have gone on before and with her husband and children the family circle is larger in heaven than it is on earth.

Besides a loving heart she had a keen and discerning mind. She was ever alert and even to the very last day she was interested in the affairs of the world, the church, her community and her friends. She never forgot her friends and many were the prayers she offered for them.

She was a great lover of the beautiful. The beautiful of Heaven may be an astonishment to many of us, but I doubt if it will be to her. She lived in the beautiful here and she expected Heaven to be a consummation of her hopes and faith.

She leaves a son Paul, a daughter Katherine, two sisters, Mrs. Lillian Braden of Meade, Kansas, and Mrs. Harriett Stegner of Martinsville, Ind., two daughters-in-law, three grandchildren—Frank, Helen and Mary, besides a host of friends, who testify that she was "faithful unto death." Among these friends was none more faithful than Miss Alice Peden, her home companion for many years.

The funeral services were held in the First Methodist Church of Los Angeles with Roy L. Smith, the pastor, in charge, assisted by Bishop Charles Edward Locke, Walter C. Loomis, John Gabrielson and A. Ray Moore. Interment was in the family plot in the Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

A. RAY MOORE.

MRS. M. W. BECKWITH

Edith Bien Beckwith was born in the college town of Lebanon, Ohio, came to California in 1891, completed her college training in the University of Southern California, and nearly 31 years ago married her college classmate, Maynard W. Beckwith, with whom she has served in the parsonage life of the Methodist Episcopal ministry, in the Southern California Conference, giving unstintedly of her strength and talents and beautiful character, in building Christian life in the various charges served by this noble couple.

In the midst of her beloved work, she came to her coronation, after rallying her strength for her birthday visitors on Tuesday, March 12, and entered the service beyond, before the morning of the new day had come, March 13, 1935. She leaves the inspiration and benediction of her fine Christian character to her companion, Maynard W. Beckwith, her daughter, Sylvia Shilling, and her host of friends, both in and out of the churches they have served.

Mrs. Beckwith was exceptionally well known by the men of the Conference, because of her work with her husband during the many years of his work as Conference Treasurer, always serving by his side during Conference week.

Exceptionally gifted in musical talent, she began her active service in the church at 13 years of age, which service was continued as a major contribution in every church this noble couple served. She excelled as an accompanist and her keen sensitiveness was ever revealed in her work, as she seemed to be able to anticipate those with whom she played. Any note of discord was detected at once, with remarkable ability of the placement of the true note. And this was but an illustration of her fineness of judgment of character; a lover of harmony in the church, community and the home; her soul crying out for everything that brought out the harmonies of life. A lover of the beautiful, the birds, the flowers, the trees, art wherever found, lover of the people of her church, and especially the young, in whose lives she could sense the unfolding beauty of Christian grace; anxious always to be doing something for them.

One thing in the parsonage life that never quite satisfied her, was the lack of the stability of her own home, her own flowers to cultivate and plan its beauty. A poem that expressed her longing, might well have been written by her:

"God send us a little home
To come back to when we roam.
.....simple things.
Great talk in little nooks,
Dim colors, rows of books.
One picture on each wall,
Not many things at all.
God send us a little ground
Tall trees standing round.
Homely flowers in brown sod,
Overhead, Thy stars, O God."

Genuine always, she appreciated genuineness in her friends. In her own handwriting in her Bible a treasured motto expressed her aspiration, "A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches."

Gone to her service yonder, some beautiful service to make heaven a more beautiful place for others.

"Her face has caught the light of God's own peace,
No grief around her quiet form we bring,
She hears Heaven's music, and with eyes undimmed,
Beholds the sunshine of Eternal Spring."

Suitable Memorial Services were held in the Annandale Methodist Episcopal church, in charge of the District Superintendent, Leonard Oechsli, with A. Ray Moore and Frank Leak assisting. Interment was made in Mountain View, Pasadena.

F. A. LEAK.

MRS. O. J. McFADDEN

Mrs. McFadden whose maiden name was Emma Josephine Miley, was born in Illinois January 25, 1855. Shortly after her birth her parents moved to Iowa, settling at Oskaloosa, and it was in that city that she grew to young womanhood. She was married to Oscar J. McFadden at Knoxville, Iowa, October 20, 1880, and for a time the couple lived at Fremont, Iowa, which was one of his first pastorates in the Methodist church. They came to California in the early 90's, first settling at San Diego. It was about this time that the Epworth Colony was formed, which made its appeal especially to Christians and Methodists who were prepared to live the simple life. Brother and Sister McFadden and their two sons, Royal A. and Vernon Miley, were among the first settlers and she made her home in Moorpark continuously for 38 years.

Her husband died at Moorpark in 1922 as a result of an automobile accident. For 17 years she worked and labored with him, his pastorates in the Southern California Conference being Paso Robles, Central San Diego, Williams, Arizona.

In 1898 he took the Supernumerary Relation and in 1902 the Retired Relation.

Funeral services were held in the Moorpark Community Church in charge of the pastor, Geo. Steed, assisted by L. C. Elver and W. H. Fulford. Interment was in Ivy Lawn cemetery.

MEMORIALS TO GENERAL CONFERENCE

Aptitude Tests

Be it resolved: that we hereby petition the General Conference to enact such legislation as may be necessary to permit any Annual Conference to require candidates for admission on trial or into full membership in the Conference to take such aptitude tests, designed to reveal the probability of effective ministry, as that Annual Conference may determine.

Missionary Education and Division of Funds

Whereas, great confusion as to meaning and methods of administration for a correlated program of missionary education for children in the local churches of our denomination, is resulting in failure to give adequate and balanced development to our boys and girls, and

Whereas, no general agreement or statement of policy covering the total program of missionary education has been presented to children's leaders in the local church by the agencies responsible for missionary education, namely World Service, Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies, and the Board of Education, and

Whereas, present legislation of the church assigns the total funds raised for missionary education in our Church Schools to World Service, making impossible, in a program of missionary education correlating the work of the Church School and the Women's Missionary Societies, for funds raised by the children to be divided among these agencies,

We petition the General Conference of the Methodist Church

1. That a commission be appointed by the General Conference to include representation of the total leadership of work for children and that this commission be authorized to prepare and issue a statement for the guidance of local leaders in this matter,

2. That provision be made for the inclusion of one representative each from the W. F. M. S. and W. H. M. S. on the local church committee of Religious Education, and that the Committee on Religious Education be made responsible for the institution and supervision of a correlated program of missionary education in the Children's Division of the Church School, the same to be administered by the Church School leaders in collaboration with representatives of the Woman's Missionary Societies.

3. That a proportionate amount of the funds raised in those churches using a correlated program of missionary education be allotted to the various agencies cooperating in this correlated program, the basis of division having been agreed upon and included in the statement of the above suggested Commission on Correlation of Missionary Education of Children.

World Service Fund

Whereas, World Service moneys collected within the bounds of this Conference are frequently for the use of regularly recognized World Service projects within the bounds of the Conference, and

Whereas, it is now required that such money shall actually pass through the World Service office in Chicago before being returned here for its intended purposes, and

Whereas, a delay of from 30 to 90 days is occasioned which could be obviated if an exchange of credit memoranda were arranged to take place of actual transfer of funds,

Be it therefore resolved, that we petition the General Conference to pass such legislation as will permit this exchange of credit memoranda between the World Service office and such Annual Conferences as are so organized as to handle the business efficiently.

A General Pension Fund

Whereas, there is great need for a general campaign throughout the Church to provide a pension for the retired preachers, their widows and orphans, and as several of the denominations have provided a fair support for their needy servants through general and specific appeals to individuals and churches,

Resolved, that we petition the General Conference to inaugurate a campaign under the leadership of the Board of Bishops to raise a fund of $10,000,000 for the retired preachers of Methodism, their widows and orphans.

Salary Fellowship

Dear Fathers and Brethren:

While Bishops and preachers are calling for a more equitable distribution of the income of the nation in justice to a brotherhood of citizenship,

Resolved, that we memorialize the General Conference to suggest an equitable brotherhood in ministerial support, that will inspire the Methodist preachers to practice what they preach, and thus to mirror the Kingdom of God in actual financial fellowship. We believe the General Conference has the wisdom to work out a plan of equitable ministerial support, and the spirit to make this a Christlike relation in Methodism. We are playing the game to some mutual advantage, but we need your help and inspiration to enlarge and deepen the spiritual efficiency of the service.

United Methodist Missionary Society

To the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church of 1936 by the Southern California Annual Conference.

Whereas, there is a growingly insistent demand at present on the part of many members of the Methodist Episcopal Church for a consolidation and unification of all Methodist Missionary Boards, commissions and societies now extant, in the interest of denominational solidarity, and

Whereas, there is unquestionably considerable overlapping and duplication, and, at times, even competition in the missionary program of Methodism at present, and

Whereas, there is, when all the facts are compiled, only one family pocket book to draw from for all Methodist missionary efforts, and

Whereas, the heavy overhead expense involved in pushing forward the Missionary enterprise of Methodism under the many now existing boards, and societies ought to be and can be drastically reduced, and

Whereas, the sage advice of John Wesley, making the entire world one great parish, can most successfully be consummated by the entire denomination working together as a unit along missionary lines, and

Whereas, the missionary programing and giving throughout Methodism should, and undoubtedly would be brought up to the splendid effectiveness now enjoyed by the W. H. M. S. and the W. F. M. S. by establishing a united Missionary Society, and

Whereas, the distressingly pressing problem of securing adequate leadership for the various missionary organizations in the local Church, especially such leadership in the smaller churches, would undeniably be infinitely less acute under unification:

Therefore, Be It Resolved, that we, the members of the Southern California Annual Conference, in session at Long Beach, California, June 25, 1935-July 1, 1935, respectfully memorialize the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, petitioning that body to enact legislation looking toward the consolidation of all Methodist Missionary Boards, Commissions and Societies into one United Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Missionary Unification

Preamble—We believe that there should be an integration of the Missionary Boards and Societies of the Methodist Episcopal Church, making possible a united Methodism in a united field. Furthermore, we believe that such a change necessitates a series of reorganization steps. Therefore, we memorialize the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church to effect the steps indicate as follows:

To wit—To organize

I—A General Council on Missions

Whose purpose it shall be

To renew interest in missionary enterprise

To secure the largest measure of initiative coupled with a unified program of interest, education and growth.

To do this, there will be a General Council

1—To be composed of 24 members, an equal number of men and women as follows:

From the Board of Foreign Missions—8 members; 6 men, 2 women

From the Board of Home Missions—8 members; 6 men, 2 women

From the W. F. M. S.—4 members

From the W. H. M. S.—4 members

a—Relationship—

It is understood that a proper correlation shall be maintained where necessary with the World Service Commission and this General Council on Missions.

2—That members of the General Council be selected by the Boards of Management of the respective bodies who have representation thereon.

Program—

1—Plan general program and face the total budget

2—Work unified system of education

3—No advances to be taken by any of these four organizations without the approval of this Council

4—To study methods of further unifications of interests

II—The Annual Conference Council

A—Made up after the same pattern

B—The Annual Conference Council shall have the responsibility for co-ordinating all the missionary work of the Conference both at home and abroad.

III—Local Missionary Council in Each Church

A—Made up after the same pattern as General Council

B—The Local Council shall be responsible for all missionary activity of the local church.

World Peace Petition

Dear Fathers and Brethren:

Over a quarter of a million British Methodists petitioned the Parliament of the Empire to abolish negro slavery. We believe that petition influenced action toward a peaceful plan whereby that reform was accomplished without bloodshed and hatreds.

We believe that the popular voice of our church should now be added to the official statements of our General Conference.

We therefore memorialize you to request the Commission on World Peace to take all necessary steps to circulate and promote the signing of some such petition as the following, and when completed, to present the same with fitting public ceremonies to the President of the United States and to Congress.

A Million Methodists for World Peace. WE THE UNDERSIGNED, members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, a society formed to serve all humanity with the spirit of Jesus Christ; whose organic life began with and roots in the soil of our national beginnings; whose growth has paralleled that of our nation, suffering with it and sharing its successes; whose "patriotism . . . has never been challenged";

Having by acts of our General Conference repeatedly declared our renunciation of "war as an instrument of national policy" and affirmed that "the agencies of our Church shall not be used in preparation for war; they shall be used in preparation for peace";

Do hereby petition the President and the Congress of the United States to act for the prevention of war and the organization of peaceful, civilized life, by taking all necessary steps

- (1) To organize, staff and finance a Department of Peace, co-ordinate with and on a budget comparable to those of the Departments of War and the Navy.
- (2) To amend the Constitution so as to vest the power to declare war in the will of citizens of the ages of military service, as determined by plebiscite.
- (3) To alter our foreign policy, withdrawing armed protection from all American investments outside continental United States and Hawaii.
- (4) To nationalize the munitions industries.
- (5) To prohibit domestic banking houses from serving in any capacity, directly or indirectly as fiscal agents for belligerents.
- (6) Amendment—To nationalize all industries in case of war involving the United States, for the period of the war, paying in rental or purchase price a fair peace time value.

Conference Approval of Chaplain Appointments

Whereas, there is a growing conviction that no member of an Annual Conference should be eligible to appointment as Chaplain in the Army or Navy without the confirmation of the Annual Conference of which he is a member, therefore be it

Resolved, That the General Conference be memorialized to make such change in the Law of the Church as shall require the recommendation of the District Superintendents and a two-thirds vote of the Annual Conference in every case where such appointment is desired.

— 10 —

War Is Sin

Whereas: It is plain that modern war, whatever be the provocation under which it may arise, is an utter denial of Jesus Christ and the effectiveness of his spirit. Thus it is scarcely less than incumbent upon an organization of followers of Christ to use its influence to the uttermost limit in the attempt to avert war.

Whereas: The Methodist Episcopal Church has been enthusiastic in its efforts to clarify and emphasize the irreconcilability of Christ with war. Even more vigorously has it worked to spread the complete acceptance of Christ's alternative. However, the position of the Church as an organization has not been made completely unambiguous.

Therefore: We, the Southern California Conference, memorialize the General Conference which convenes at Columbus, Ohio, in May, 1936, to declare that war and the preparation for war is a national and social sin and unequivocally affirm its determination never to sanction or in any way support another.

— 11 —

Affiliated Membership. See Paragraph 59

Whereas: The principle of comity implies that one pastor shall serve the several religious groups some of whom will not become members of our denomination, particularly among the foreign groups; and

Whereas: There should be a close relationship for these and other professing Christians,

Therefore: The Southern California Conference memorializes the General Conference of 1936 to add a paragraph to the article on Affiliated Members which shall include proper Christians of the community who desire this relation to the Methodist Episcopal Church.

— 12 —

Change in Wording of Apostles' Creed

Whereas: The phrase in our creed, "The Holy Catholic Church" has largely ceased to have its original connotation, and

Whereas: The non-evangelical peoples resent the use of exactly the term which is used popularly and almost universally now by the Roman Catholic Church,

Therefore: In the interests of clarity and connectional goodwill we memorialize the General Conference of 1936 to change the wording of this portion of our creed as to avoid the use of the word "Catholic" and substitute some such phrase as the "Universal Church."

— 13 —

Episcopal Residence

Because two-thirds of Methodist work takes place in Southern California,

And because the presence of the Bishop is demanded constantly in Southern California, thus necessitating a great financial burden to the church in caring for the expense of travel,

And because a great deal of a Bishop's time is wasted in travel because of the present location of the area headquarters, be it resolved that we request the General Conference to change the Episcopal headquarters of our area from San Francisco to Los Angeles.

— 14 —

Election of 2nd Reserve Lay Delegate

Whereas, there sometimes arises an emergency which prevents both the regularly elected delegate and regularly elected reserve delegate to an Annual Conference from attending said Conference

And whereas no provision is made for electing or appointing a second reserve delegate

And whereas a church might not be represented at an Annual Conference unless such provision is made

Therefore be it resolved that this body memorialize the General Conference to make such provision at the next General Conference.

— 15 —

Seating Lay Conference Officers

We believe that a large representative body of laymen should not be subjected to the danger of embarrassment and confusion in opening and organizing its annual session due to a failure of local churches to return any of the elected officers of the Lay Conference.

We therefore memorialize you to declare the elected officers of the Lay Conference be ex-officia members to the full term of the next Annual Conference, subject to all privileges of such membership, and that they be considered as members at large for the conference territory without counting as lay members against the local churches which originally elected them as lay members.

— 16 —

Leadership in the Temperance Movement

Believing that any business that may work havoc with the health, the morals, and the character of a state ought to be nationalized to prevent men from exploiting the public for the sake of revenue therefrom:

And believing that the state itself should be safeguarded against the insidious temptation to profit at the expense also of morals and health:

And realizing that some form of control and regulation must be framed to handle the liquor traffic until prohibition can be secured once more;

We, therefore, memorialize the General Conference of 1936 to initiate a temperance movement which will make for the complete elimination of profit and competition from the liquor traffic, substituting a government monopoly of both manufacture and distribution as a step toward ultimate national prohibition, using all the advertising mediums for education as to the effect of alcohol on the individual and society, instead of for the creation of an appetite to increase the consumption of liquor. Thus our church energy and treasure expended in fighting this organized traffic will at the same time be a direct contribution toward the building of such a Christian social order as has been envisioned by previous General Conferences.

General Conference Committees

We the members of the Southern California annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, hereby memorialize its General Conference to amend No. 558 rule 41, section I—after the word “applied” in line 7 add “Neither chairman nor secretary of any committee or commission nor anyone who is a member of any executive committee or of the Book Committee may be selected from those whose administrative functions are governed or changed by the committee or commission under consideration.”

— 18 —

Equitable Support Plan

Dear Fathers and Brethren:

For the past five years the Southern California Conference has seriously worked upon the problems of adequate ministerial support and of more complete ministerial brotherhood. Pertinent thereto a plan known as the eEquitable Support Plan—a copy of which is appended hereto (Minutes 1934—pp. 100-103)—is under consideration. Section II, Basic Principles has been adopted by action of the 1935 Annual Conference. To clear the way for further consideration we memorialize you to adopt such permissive legislation as will empower this conference to institute a plan embodying the Basic Principles above cited, if and when its details shall be satisfactorily perfected and approved by the conference.

— 19 —

Removing Time Limit—District Superintendency

In order to provide a more efficient superintendency of the work of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Metropolitan areas we memorialize the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, at its Quadrennial Session in 1936 to amend paragraph 237 (2) of the Discipline so as to read:

“He shall not allow a District Superintendent to preside in the same District more than six consecutive years, nor more than six years in any consecutive twelve years in the Annual Conference,” except where by consent of the Resident Bishop and the Presiding Bishop, and upon a two-thirds majority vote of the Annual Conference the term of a District Superintendent in a Metropolitan Area is extended beyond the six year limit.

— 20 —

Annuity for Ministers Serving in Missions

Whereas, The Southern California Conference, with other Conferences of the West, have accepted into membership and thereby given a Conference home to our brethren working in one or more of the Pacific Coast Missions, and

Whereas, These Missions are, and have been, recognized as the responsibility of the whole Church and not solely of the Conferences in contiguous territory, and

Whereas, Membership has been given these men by the Annual Conferences in the full expectation that the pension claims of men thus having membership in the Conferences and working wholly in the Missions would not be thrown entirely upon the Conferences concerned, but would be assumed by the whole Church through its Board of Home Missions and Church Extensions, and

Whereas, A special committee of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension has made report denying all responsibility for the pensions of these Mission members on the ground that the pension claims of these men are the responsibility solely of the Annual Conference to which they belong, therefore, we do

Memorialize the General Conference of 1936 as follows:

1. That the General Conference enact legislation recognizing the fact that the pension claims of the members of the Missions within the territory of the United States who have their Conference membership in one of our Annual Conferences is, and ought to be, the responsibility of the whole Church, and

2. That the General Conference take such action, and make such provision, as may be necessary to relieve the Conferences of which these men are members of the unfair and unjust load placed upon them by the present conditions.

Widow's Annuity Claim

Insert a new section in Paragraph 345 to be numbered 4, and renumber all the succeeding sections in the paragraph; the new section to read as follows:

"At its option, any Annual Conference may permit a widow to base her Annuity Claim on three fourths of the Annuity claim of her deceased husband provided, (1) that such option shall be made operative by not less than two thirds of the members of an Annual Conference present and voting: (2) that the total annuity claim of the widow and any children entitled to claim on her husband's account, shall not exceed the total claim to which the husband was entitled.

REPORT OF PRESIDENT OF THE LAY CONFERENCE

This session of our Annual Conference brings to a close the first quadrennial period of our church history since the adoption of the constitutional amendment, providing for the Lay Conference and the united session of the lay and ministerial members. By reason of this, I felt that a brief review of the results achieved might not be amiss.

The first motion in a General Conference, favorable to the proposal that laymen should participate in the Annual Conference, was made in adopted in the year 1932. In spite of the fact that the proposal was looked upon with considerable misgiving for so long a time, it seems to be the consensus of opinion of both ministers and laymen that the plan is a good one, and that the participation of the laymen in the Annual Conference of the Church has developed a greater bond of fellowship between laity and ministry, which will result in a more effective work on the part of the Church in the days to come.

There are, however, some danger points to be guarded against, lest this bond of fellowship be disrupted. There seems to be prevalent, on the part of a few laymen, a feeling that we, as laymen, must organize to protect our rights against the ministry, and not "let the ministers run us."

Just previous to the Annual Conference of last year, one or two informal meetings of certain lay delegates were held, and, almost immediately, this aroused some suspicion on the part of some of the ministerial delegates. Whereupon, recriminatory articles in the "Advocate" followed. Likewise, during the current year some have urged the calling of a meeting of the delegates to the last Lay Conference, in order that they might consider plans for this coming Conference. Again, repercussions were heard.

I felt, therefore, that a frank statement should be made regarding the situation, and trust that, as a result, any misunderstanding or suspicion on the part of either laymen or ministers may be thus allayed.

The constitutional amendment, providing for the Lay Conference, reads, in part, as follows:

"1. A Lay Conference shall be organized within the bounds of each Annual Conference to meet at the seat, and during some part of the time of the session of the Annual Conference, for the purpose of voting on constitutional amendments, considering and acting upon matters relating to Lay Activities and such other matters as the General Conference may direct. The Lay Conference shall be composed of Lay members, one from each Pastoral Charge within the bounds of the Annual Conference, elected by the Lay members of the Charge, over twenty-one years of age, in such manner as the General Conference may direct. Each Pastoral Charge shall, also, in the same manner, elect one alternate.

"2. The Lay Conference shall meet with the Annual Conference to consider and act upon all business other than those matters reserved to the Annual Conference as specified in No. 36, of Article III, Chapter I, Division III, entitled 'Articles of Organization and Government,' and those matters that relate wholly to Lay activities.

"3. The Ministerial and Lay members of the united sessions shall deliberate as one body. They shall also vote as one body, except when requested by one-third of either order present and voting; then the vote on any question shall be taken by separate orders, and a majority of each order shall be required to pass a measure.

"4. Qualifications for Laymen admitted into any Lay Conference within the boundaries of a Central Conference may be determined by the Central Conference in which the Lay Conference is located."

It should be quite evident from Section 1 of the above Amendment that no official meeting of Lay Delegates can be held, except at the time set for the holding of the Annual Conference, and that the President of the Lay Conference has no authority to call, and could not legally call, a meeting of the delegates after the Conference has adjourned. It should also be quite evident from Section 2 and 3 of the above Amendment that the Lay Conference is to act with the ministerial delegates in united session on all matters, except those especially reserved to the ministers alone, and to those which relate to lay activities alone; and that any meeting of Lay Delegates, in advance of the united session, to discuss or caucus on matters scheduled to come before the united session, would be in violation of the law of the Church and most certainly against its spirit. I have, therefore, refrained from calling any meeting of the delegates during the year, and, in doing so, feel that I have acted in strict accord with the law of the Church.

It must be kept in mind at all times that the laymen are members of the Lay Conference and are not, technically speaking, members of the Annual Conference. Our church polity and structure are such that it would not seem wise to make the laymen actually members of the Annual Conference, and I think that a large majority of the laymen are in accord with this feeling.

It is unfortunate that there are still a few who seem to take the attitude that because the laymen pay the bills, they should control the situation. After all, such an attitude is a very mundane one and is certainly not conducive to the development of a high spiritual leadership on the part of the ministry. It seems to me that it is our part, as laymen, to help and to guide—not necessarily to control. If we expect our ministers to lead us to higher spiritual standards, we must develop a spirit of cooperation, rather than a spirit of antagonism.

In spite of these few friction points, I feel that great progress has been made during the past year on the part of the laymen in their relation to Conference activities. It was my privilege to serve as Chairman of the Committee on Committees for the past year, and my report, which is in your hands, speaks for itself. Certainly the laymen, as a whole, can have no complaint when 248 laymen have board and committee assignments, as compared with 149 ministers likewise having board and committee assignments. There may be some individual complaints and disappointments on not receiving some assignments which were expected, but, so far as I know, there were only one or two such cases, and even those were inadvertent and certainly not by design. Reports have come to me from every quarter which indicate that the laymen appreciate their responsibilities to the Church and realize the high privilege granted them, as members of the Lay Conference, in allowing them to sit in united session with the ministerial delegates. Their influence in shaping the various reports and in guiding the future of the Church has become quite manifest.

It may be that, as the years pass by, it will be wise to make some changes in the present plan which we now follow. In the meantime, let us continue in the spirit of Christian brotherhood—minister and layman, hand in hand, working to advance the cause of the great Church we serve.

CHARLES F. REICHE.

WOMAN'S DAY MEETING

An audience of women filled the First Methodist Church to capacity on Thursday afternoon, when the Conference Women's organizations held their annual anniversary service.

Mrs. Will A. Betts gave a devotional message well fitted to inspire women in their work.

Mrs. Charles F. Van de Water, Conference President of Federated Woman's Aid Societies, gave a summary of the work contributed by Aid Societies to the program of the Church.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society was represented by Mrs. Cora M. Cassill, the Corresponding Secretary, and the Woman's Home Missionary Society by the President, Mrs. L. F. Sedgwick.

Emphasis was placed upon the spiritual objectives of these organizations, their well planned program of education for all groups, and the need of Methodist women recognizing their opportunities to serve and their responsibilities in spreading the Christian message at home and upon the foreign field.

The speaker was Bishop J. Ralph Magee, who emphasized the importance of training children so that high Christian ideals and moral standards may be instilled into their lives.

(MRS.) LAVINA F. SEDGWICK.

WOMAN'S AID FEDERATION

The annual meeting of the Woman's Aid Federation was a most successful one, over 1,500 women being in attendance. The meeting opened at 9:30 a. m. on Thursday, June 27th, with the President, Mrs. Edith Van de Water, presiding in her usual gracious manner. The Board showed it's very great appreciation of Mrs. Van de Water by presenting her with a corsage bouquet. Mrs. Van de Water presented Mr. J. W. Patterson, a singing evangelist who accompanied by his wife, led the women in singing, and opened the meeting with prayer.

Mr. Fred Ross thanked the women for their aid in the sailor's work at San Pedro, and spoke of some of the wonderful results being accomplished there. Mrs. A. L. Howard, of Fresno, treasurer, presented her report showing a balance on hand of $157.08 on June 15th. The following District Presidents presented their reports: Mrs. Ina Hansen, Fresno-Glendale District; Mrs. Guy Mowry, Long Beach District; Mrs. C. N. Bisbee, Los Angeles District; Mrs. Wood, Pasadena District, and Mrs. M. Lamont, San Diego District. Many increases were shown for last year and a very encouraging attitude was displayed with confidence for the coming year.

Mrs. L. C. Toney, First Vice President, reported on the vast amount of welfare work being accomplished throughout the conference, and presented Mrs. Elaine Dudley of Goodwill industries, and Miss Katherine Higgins, of the Plaza Community Church, who stressed their work for the coming year.

The comprehensive report of the Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Guy N. Parsons, showed the following totals for the work of the past year: Aids 294, Members 14,535, Calls 267,441, Goodwill bags 22,157, Bouquets 88,994, Church Debts $36,045.03, Welfare $5,550.69, Receipts $115,638.56.

Mrs. Kenyon, of San Diego District, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the following nominations, which were duly elected for the offices for 1935-36:

President—Mrs. C. F. Van de Water.

First Vice President—Mrs. C. N. Bisbee.

Second Vice President—Mrs. R. A. Young.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. Ben L. Goodheart.

Treasurer—Mrs. F. C. Onion.

Mrs. Guy N. Parsons, of Los Angeles, was appointed Corresponding Secretary, and Mrs. L. C. Toney, chairman of Goodwill and Plaza work.

A most inspiring message was given by Dr. Roy Smith, of the First Methodist Church of Los Angeles, who in his inimitable way, showed what is really the sin that must be combated: Sin is anything that lessens the intelligence, anything that debauches the judgment, anything that impairs the reason and anything that weakens the will.

Beautiful music was furnished by Mrs. Steinecker, Soprano, accompanied by Miss Bradlick Johnson, on the piano, and accompanied also with violin obligato. The meeting closed with a noontide meditation by Mrs. R. A. Young. She used as her theme, "The Relentless Love of Jesus," and gave a very spiritual message.

Luncheon was served at the Chrustian Church for the women, after which they attended the afternoon meeting at the First Methodist Church, the all-women's meeting.

MRS. C. F. VAN DE WATER, President.

MRS. BEN L. GOODHEART, Recording Secretary.

MINISTERS' WIVES ASSOCIATION

A meeting of the members of the Executive Board was called to order by Mrs. Frank Linder the latter part of February in Long Beach. She was a most delightful hostess at a luncheon given in the Robinson Hotel for the following guests: Mrs. Kemp Winkler, Mrs. Frank Toothaker, Mrs. R. N. Merrill, Mrs. W. A. Betts, and Mrs. Paul F. Huebner.

Plans for the activities during Conference week were discussed and arranged. The Executive Board felt that the specific desire, as expressed by the women last Conference, was for "get-acquainted" activities. The program was as indicated in the Conference program.

Tuesday P. M.—Mystery Party.

Friday A. M.—Business Session.

Friday P. M.—Tea as guests of Mrs. R. N. Merrill.

A motion was made and carried that cards of information be sent to members of the association before Conference as sent by the Board last year.

A request was made for the Secretary to send notes of cheer to those of our number who were ill, and also notes of sympathy to those homes where sorrow had come. The Secretary took the privilege of waiting until the Easter season to send these notes, at which time eight cards were sent.

The Board expressed their deep appreciation to Mrs. Merrill, our Conference Hostess, for her constant cooperation with the M. W. A. affairs through the years.

The first day of Conference was full of activity for the members of the Ministers' Wives Association. Ministers' wives were registered during the morning to assure each one receiving a mystery pal for the Mystery Party scheduled for Tuesday afternoon. One hundred ninety-seven members registered.

The afternoon Mystery Party had as its real motive the desire to get better acquainted. The party was held in the Solarium of the Wilshire Hotel. The first part of the afternoon was spent in finding a sister, after which a lovely program was given. Each district, under the leadership of the wives of the District Superintendents, prepared a short skit pertaining to the life of the parsonage which proved well worth while and entertaining. Mrs. R. Marshall entertained with a delightful solo, accompanied by Mrs. Lillian Brandvig Johnston.

Each one of the District Superintendent's wives introduced the brides and new-comers to our group, after which Mrs. Marshall sang "All For You," and while singing presented a corsage to each one. The New Mothers were introduced and corsages were presented to each by Mrs. Kemp Winkler.

Added to our entertainment was a group of solos sung by Kermit Holden, accompanying himself on the guitar.

An enjoyable afternoon was closed with refreshments.

The business meeting was held in the Junior Room of the church Friday A. M.

Mrs. Linder called the meeting to order. Two verses of "I Love To Tell The Story" were sung, after which Mrs. Martin led in prayer.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Treasurer's report read and approved as follows:

Balance on hand	$25.74
1935 Dues	9.12
Interest51
Total	$35.37
Disbursements:
Hotel	$ 3.00
Refreshments	1.85

Mrs. Linder expressed her appreciation to all those making our activities of the week successful, especially to Mrs. W. White who had prepared all the corsages for the Mystery Party. Mrs. Linder then presented a basket of flowers which was prepared for Mrs. R. N. Merrill, our hostess, also reported a telegram of good wishes sent to Mrs. Baker before she sailed for Europe.

Communications were read; one from Rev. C. A. Kent in appreciation for a note sent him during his illness, another from Mrs. Burge in regard to the M. W. A. having individual pictures taken for the Conference Journal. After due consideration, a motion was made and carried that the suggestion be laid on the table.

Mrs. George Cliff reported greetings from Mrs. Woodcock, our eldest member, who was unable to attend.

Mrs. Howard Taylor presented the following Resolutions:

1. Again we have been permitted to enjoy the fellowship of this Conference season with its privileges and blessings; and for this we give thanks to the Giver of All Good.

2. We wish to thank our gracious hosts and hostesses, Dr. and Mrs. Richard N. Merrill, and the Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Kent, and all others who are again extending the fine courtesies which make our stay here so pleasant and profitable.

We anticipate with pleasure the tea to be enjoyed this afternoon in Mrs. Merrill's home.

3. We wish to thank our president, Mrs. Frank Linder, and her officers: Mrs. Kemp Winkler, Mrs. Paul Huebner, and Mrs. Frank Toothaker for the splendid arrangements which they have made for our enjoyment. We appreciate the time and effort that this must have taken, and we compliment their success. We hereby congratulate the nominating committee of last year!

4. We feel a deep sense of loss that Mrs. Magee cannot be with us. We appreciate the messages received from her, but to meet her personally would have been a privilege for each of us.

5. We recommend that the secretary be requested to send a note of greeting to each minister's wife who has been unable to attend the Conference because of illness or responsibilities in the home.

6. Our love and prayers go out in behalf of those of our parsonage homes who have passed through the Valley of Sorrow during this past year. We recommend that the pictures of the deceased minister's wives be placed in the Conference Memorial.

7. We welcome the brides of the Conference to our Sisterhood, and we extend to them our love and our best wishes as they grow into the parsonage life.

8. We welcome all parsonage babies, and we congratulate the happy mothers.

9. Resolved, that we, individually pledge ourselves anew to meet in Christ's Spirit the opportunities and the obligations that come to us as mistress of the parsonage.

Respectfully submitted,

Helen D. Taylor, (Mrs. Howard C.)

The report of the Nominating Committee was given as follows:

President, Mrs. Glenn Phillips; Vice President, Mrs. Fred B. Trotter; Secretary, Mrs. Harold E. Broughton; Treasurer, Mrs. Russell E. Clay; Resolutions Committee: Mrs. Golder Lawrence, Chrm., Mrs. Don S. Ford, Mrs. Recter Johnson; Nominating Committee: Mrs. E. Dow Hoffman, Chrm., Mrs. K. L. Danskin, Mrs. John N. Ashley.

Respectfully submitted,

Mrs. C. O. Kimball,

An order was approved for the purchase of a new record book. It was interesting to note that the first entry of the old record book was made in 1907, prefaced with the Constitution of the Minister's Wives Association, dated 1899.

Mrs. Linder asked the Retired Minister's wives to stand, after which she presented each with a red rose in appreciation of their years of service.

Mrs. C. W. Young of Eagle Rock, was introduced as our speaker, who gave an inspirational address on the subject, "Lovely Ladies of Long Ago." Mrs. Young surprised most of us with the fact that Methodist Missionaries and their wives were the first Protestants to bring the Christian message to Los Angeles and San Francisco in the pioneer days. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bryor were the first to arrive in Los Angeles and establish a Protestant mission. Mr. and Mrs. Bland came two years later. The third lovely lady of Long Ago was Mrs. Anne Taylor, wife of Bishop William Taylor, who were missionaries in San Francisco. The outstanding contribution made by Mrs. Taylor was the planting of the seeds of the eucalyptus tree which were sent to her by Bishop Taylor during his mission in Australia. Mrs. Young expressed a desire that the Methodist women of California make a memorium to Anne Taylor in the forty acres owned by the Methodists at Atascadero and call it the Anne Taylor Park.

The meeting was adjourned after the members expressed their deep appreciation to Mrs. Young.

MRS. P. F. HUEBNER, Secretary.

On the motion of W. C. Buckner, the matter was referred to a Committee to be appointed by the Cabinet for a report before the close of the Conference session.

Question 42: "Who are the Triers of Appeals?"

On the motion of F. G. H. Stevens, the nominations for Triers of Appeals were referred to the Committee on Committees of the Ministerial Annual Conference.

Constitutional Amendment: The Secretary presented the Constitutional Amendment on the Unification of the Methodist Episcopal Church, south; the Methodist Protestant Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church as proposed by the General Conference of the latter church.

After a thorough discussion, with an intervening recess, on the motion of Walter C. Buckner, the Constitutional Amendment was adopted. The vote, taken by orders, was: Laymen: 168 for, 26 against. Ministers: 227 for, 49 against.

On the motion of J. L. Corley, it was ordered that a committee of five, including S. M. Beane and L. E. Jordan, be appointed by Bishop Baker to study a recommendation regarding the re-alignment of Jurisdictional Conferences. The Bishop later named J. L. Corley, Daniel L. Scott and Carl C. Seitter to complete the committee.

Devotional Message: Bishop Baker gave his first address to the Conference on "Creative Preachers" using a biographical sketch of the life and ministry of Alexander Whyte, after which he pronounced the benediction and the Conference stood adjourned.

SECOND DAY

Wednesday Afternoon

Bishop Baker announced the hymn, "Jesus, Accept the Tribute That We Bring" and it was sung.

Introductions: Rev. Y. Yomato, pastor of the Japanese Methodist Church, Los Angeles, Rev. J. C. Kono, pastor of the West Los Angeles Japanese Methodist Church, and W. H. Fry, Superintendent of the Hawaii Mission, were introduced and Mr. Yomato offered prayer in his own language.

Bishop Baker's Gavel: The Bishop announced the personal gift of a gavel from C. C. Douglas which he would use during the Conference. The head of the gavel is made from the notable Strawbridge Oak and the handle from a piece of wood from the old ship "Constitution".

District Superintendent's Report: The character of James Edwin Dunning, Superintendent of the San Diego District, was passed and he read his report. (See report).

Board of Pensions: Bishop Baker presented Dr. W. B. Farmer, of the Board of Pensions and Relief, who spoke regarding the work of his Board. He stated that it was the request of the Board of Pensions and Relief that J. M. Jeffers be reappointed as a representative of the Board, after which he presented a check for $65.00 from the Chartered Fund. On the motion of George B. Cliff the Conference treasurer was authorized to receive and cash the check.

Questions: Several questions were asked relative to the meaning of certain statements in Article 17 of a circular coming from the Board of Pensions and Relief. Dr. Farmer assured the Conference that the Board of Pensions and Relief is taking seriously the recent legislation of the General Conference pertaining to the years of service and annuity obligations and that it will endeavor to follow the injunction of the General Conference provision to the letter of the law.

District Superintendent's Report: The character of Leonard Oechsli, Superintendent of the Los Angeles District, was passed and he read his report. (See report).

Tellers: Bishop Baker asked for the appointment of tellers. The Secretary announced the following list of tellers to act under the direction of Assistant Secretary Arthur H. Wallace: R. R. General Conference Provision: Bishop Baker explained the legislation of the General Conference pertaining to a two-year period of extended service of a District Superintendent. He requested permission of the United Session to reappoint Leonard Oechsli to the Los Angeles District, indicating that while an affirmative vote on the part of the Conference covered a two-year possible reappointment, the presiding bishop would use his discretion as to re-appointment for either or both years.

The ballots were cast and ordered impounded until Thursday.

Commission on Finance: R. O. Deacon was given the courtesy of the floor to present the report of the Commission on Finance. After discussion, action was deferred until a later time.

Introduction: Bishop Baker presented Dr. George M. Rourke, minister of the First Presbyterian Church in Long Beach.

Oliver, the pronouncements of the General Conference, on matters of Social and Economic questions. World Peace and International Relations, were substituted for the report printed in the "Preliminary Reports". (See report "A").

Newspaper Reports: On the motion of Roy L. Smith, the layman, from whose remarks at the Laymen's meeting the following mis-quotation was made, in the Long Beach Morning Sun of June 24th, 1936: "One lay-member charged that at a recent gathering of the Methodist young people in Fresno, one thousand pledged themselves to the overturn of the present form of government," was requested to deny and correct that statement in the daily press for evidence indicates a wholly different attitude on the part of that assembly.

Military Training: On the motion of John Gabrielson, the Secretary and presiding Bishop of this Conference were requested to convey to the Boards of Regents of all California State Schools to which our General Conference action applies, the conviction of this Conference relative to the recognition of the democratically-determined will of student groups asking that military training be made optional—this same action to be taken in regard to Boards of Education in our respective communities.

Eiselen, Executive Secretary, 740 Rush Street, Chicago, Illinois: Whereas the creed of the Department of Epworth League and Young People's Work of the Board of Education has met with such general approval, balancing, as it so adequately does, the two phases of the Gospel—individual and social:

'I surrender my life to Jesus Christ and His way of living, and I enlist in His service.

I believe that it is the purpose of God to establish His kingdom upon the earth, in which all human relationships are controlled by the law of love, and I propose to live, so far as I am able, as if that kingdom were now here.

I will faithfully observe a "Quiet Time" each day for meditation and prayer.

I will regard my life work as my share in the building of God's kingdom.

I will choose my life work in accordance with what I can discover to be God's will, and not for personal gain.

I will practice restraint and self-discipline in all my personal habits.

I will keep my friendships on a high level, not conforming to lower standards, but helping to lift the standards of my group to the best that I know.

I will serve Christ through the Christian church, doing all that I can to make it the effective instrument that it must be if the world is to be made truly Christian.

I will oppose war and the war system and will work ceaselessly for the establishment of peace.

I will treat those of all races as my equals and brothers.

I will refrain from the use of alcoholic liquors in all forms and will work to rid the world of the liquor traffic.

I will give myself to the creation of economic and social conditions wherein every member of society shall have opportunity to earn a livelihood for himself and those dependent upon him and wherein every member of society shall have a sufficiency to meet his economic and cultural needs.

I will use my leisure for recreations which are wholesome and which enrich and uplift personality and will refrain from amusements which degrade personality.

I will give of my time as far as possible to working for the building of a Christian world, in personal work, public speaking, circulating literature and in every possible way evangelizing for Christ.

I will give sacrificially of my earnings and substance to support the enterprises which are working to build a Christian world."

And, Whereas, the program developed has met with such striking response in inspiring our young people to renewed activity and in attracting such widespread interdenominational acceptance—fifty religious groups having adopted it as their own:

And, Whereas, the program "Christian Youth Building a New World" is widely recognized in religious and educational circles as one of the most promising Christian movements of our day:

Therefore, be it Resolved, that we heartily commend the staff of the Department of Epworth League and Young People's Work for the wide variety of material they have provided and for the fine sense of proportion it presents, yet in the interest of future developments of Methodist young people we request that the Central Office place the same emphasis upon that which is essentially spiritual as upon that which is distinctively social.

Scientific investigation reveals the balance and variety in the Epworth Herald, our official youth paper. And we urge our Epworth Leagues and Young People's Departments to actively promote the circulation of their official organ and advise the more general use of the units of study provided.

And, be it further Resolved, that we join with the General Conference and Church Board of Education in approving the personal and social objectives which the Secretaries of the Department of Epworth League and Young People's Work have formulated and in harmony with which they have developed our vital youth program. We express our confidence in and our support of their program and leadership and we earnestly urge their continuance.

The Board of Education can greatly hearten the church and maintain the confidence of youth by the re-election of Dr. Blaine Kirkpatrick and Rev. Owen E. Geer to their present positions of leadership. We strongly urge that these men be re-elected to the positions they now administer."

On the motion of Robert McKibben, the above resolution was ordered to be wired to Dr. Eiselen, General Secretary of the Board of Education.

Conference and their friends to subscribe to the 500,000 units of advance adopted by the General Conference. Of this amount, 418 monthly units at $1.00 were subscribed by those present.

On the motion of Willsie Martin, the following pronouncements of the General Conference were adopted as the pronouncements of this Conference:

One of the most significant pronouncements of the last General Conference was the report of the special Committee on World Service. It seems fitting that a brief summary of that statesmanlike utterance should be given to this Annual Conference. There can be no adequate recovery of a great missionary passion until the Christian obligation to carry out Christ's commission on world evangelization "becomes the primary and determinative conviction of the Church as a whole. . . . We can rightly pray for new Pentecosts only when we are undertaking tasks for which Pentecosts are required." The complete and enthusiastic cooperation of all leaders, pastors and laymen will be necessary if an adequate devotion to world redemption is secured.

It was recommended that the Bishops lead in this holy undertaking by appropriate reorganization in their areas, and that the Secretaries of all Boards and heads of Departments cooperate in a new arousement of interest and earnest solicitation for the missionary causes.

It was further recommended that this new missionary urge be called THE WORLD IS MY PARISH MOVEMENT, and that it be launched at once in every Annual Conference in the United States for the recovery of a renewed personal devotion to the redemption of the world through the Church's great missionary agencies.

It was the conviction of the committee that this Movement should give proof of its practical reality by securing this year 500,000 units of $1.00 per month for the support of General World Service Benevolences, and that a million units should be the final objective.

This report was enthusiastically and unanimously adopted. So, amid prayer and song and a general signing of units of all the delegates and many of the visitors, THE WORLD IS MY PARISH MOVEMENT was launched.

Cooperation: On the motion of Willsie Martin, it was ordered that this Conference shall be among the first to accede to the request of the General Conference, and that we as a Conference adopt the plan, that we give evidence of our purpose to support it practically by each ministerial and lay delegate signing for as many units as each can possibly do, and that we pledge Bishop Baker that we will loyally follow his leadership in carrying this movement victoriously to every charge in this Conference.

In addition we endorse and recommend that the request of the Federation of Methodist Agencies of this Conference that it be allowed to share in this educational and cultivation program by granting it the privilege of nominating seven of its members to membership on this Cultivation Committee be granted; and that this Committee so constituted shall be empowered by this Conference to arrange and carry on this educational program.

World Service Cultivation: It was ordered by the motion of Willsie Martin that (1) A World Service Cultivation Commission be raised to carry out the recommendations of the General Conference on World Service Cultivation (see list of committees).

(2) As part of the World Service Cultivation program in the Southern California Conference, an exhibit, featuring the work of all the Boards, especially the projects of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension, has become, under Mr. George G. Becktel, an employee of the Southern California Goodwill Industries, an invaluable factor. If this exhibit is to be continued in its present effective form it is necessary to provide for the expense of travel time and transportation involved. We therefore ask the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension to provide an amount for this purpose, not to exceed $1500, to be paid through the Goodwill Industries of Southern California permitting designations from our churches as part of their contributions to the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension, if the above amount cannot be otherwise provided.

(3) The tentative dates for World Service Cultivation Conferences be included in the World Service report. (See report).

Reception of Class into Full Membership: With all the undergraduates present sitting in a body, Bishop Baker addressed the class to be received into full membership in part as follows:

"A minister does well to have a careful program for his physical life. Plato, in 'The Republic,' mentions the necessity for those who would be leaders in state affairs to keep the body under control and in good condition. . . . We may be too dutiful to our pleasure, but we must keep in good physical condition.

"Be diligent' is the first rule John Wesley put in his Rules for a Preacher's Conduct. Alexander Whyte . . . said 'I would have all lazy students drummed out of college, and all lazy ministers out of the Assembly.' I say to our young men in the Seminaries that if they do not exercise diligence constantly they will pass out of the period of their usefulness by the time they are fifty, and it will be tragic for them and for their churches. Be diligent in reading! Set up a program of reading; make it hard; beef-steak for the spirit and not milk. We need to read with intelligence and with diligence. Beware of aids! The road to Commonplace is through the use of "crutch" material. Be diligent in writing! Write your sermons! Study how men say things. Notice the use of terms. Remember words are used as instruments of thought. Be diligent in prayer! Boye, in 'The Renewing Gospel,' says the minister must be 'fortified by fellowship, and overshadowed by God.' The same writer speaks of prayer as being like home-made bread baked in the oven of a man's own soul. There are problems, but sometimes the best solution of a problem is to get away from it through reading—reading Dante, Shakespeare, and their kind.

"A man must be a man among men. One must mix with various groups. Young men, learn to move among men. Your life will be richer.

"Be recognized in the community as fine in spirit. Learn to be sensitive, understand others, and enter into their experiences.

"We ministers ought to be men of expectancy, having in us a flame of hope. The Christian religion is radical at heart. Realize again and again new things have come because of the Christian Church. Should we believe that force is the only way? That is paganism! Our General Conference adopted a great statement on World Peace, and you in this Annual Conference have accepted that statement.

"Professor Sweet, of the University of Chicago, speaks in 'Early Methodist Preachers' about 'Men of Zeal.' Of Jesus, John wrote, 'The zeal of thine house hath eaten me up.' Zeal must be a part of our ministry.

"Out of the love for fine things one gains a great liberty, and the preacher becomes an impassioned artist.

"This I say to you and to me! 'Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed.'

"Great days for the ministry are just ahead and not in the past. People are hungry for 'home-made bread' and to that need the preacher must minister."

Bishop Lee, at the request of Bishop Baker, closed the session with prayer.

Bishop Blake, speaking to the General Conference gave figures to show that, in the past six depression years, Methodist Episcopalians have laid on the altars of the Church, one hundred million dollars annually, for ministerial support, current expenses, benevolences, interest, philanthropic and educational work, all of which has been publicised through the Advocate. No doubt much of the success of this gigantic enterprise is due to the participation of the Advocate-reading Methodists. We do not ask our Sunday Schools and Epworth Leagues to be self-supporting in their character-building programs. Neither should we make a cry for the discontinuance of our Church periodicals merely because they are not wholly self-supporting. The success of every Church enterprise is dependent upon the cooperation of our Church press.

Organization Session of the Lay Conference

The fifth annual Lay Conference of the Southern California Conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, was called to order at 3:15 P.M. June 23, 1936, in the First Presbyterian Church, Long Beach, California, by President Charles F. Reiche.

Dr. George M. Roark, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, offered the opening prayer.

President Reiche then announced the following Committees and they were introduced:

Committee on Nomination—John P. Howe, Chairman; Chas. W. Stream, Dr. W. E. Daniels, Charles Carver and Guy Jaggard.

Committee on Credentials—H. A. Nordahl, Chairman; J. E. Kienle, N. M. Hill, Paul Spring, Harry Gump, W. D. Woods, C. E. Knott and J. W. Mott.

Committee on Resolutions—Henri Lindsay, Chairman; Daniel Scott, R. E. Paxton, H. A. Harding and W. F. Hannaford.

Committee to Analyze Preliminary Reports—A. B. Stevens, L. A. Copeland and W. T. Smith.

The Secretary reported that Credentials had been received by mail from 214 churches and that over half of these had come in during the past week, which condition had made it difficult for the Conference officers to organize Committees in advance. This report further indicated that only 32% of the 214 had been in attendance at the 1935 Conference.

The Treasurer's report sent in by Irwin Davis showed receipts of $21.00, expenses of $1.78, leaving a balance on hand of $19.22. Upon motion the report was approved.

A. B. Stevens explained the delay in getting the Committee Reports printed and mailed out, some having received them two weeks in advance and others did not receive them due to the delay in receiving reports on elections in local churches. He then called attention to the more important features in the reports.

The matter of expense fund for Lay delegates was brought up for consideration. It was pointed out that many churches have not paid their full share and that the ministers were also being paid a small amount.

A motion presented by S. W. McCulloch was unanimously adopted urging each local church to raise its full quota of the Conference Entertainment Fund to provide equally for Lay Delegates and Ministers, and that the Conference Commission on Finance be requested to notify the local churches of this action.

It was explained that some of the Lay Delegates elected after June 1, 1936, were for a term of four years in harmony of the action of General Conference.

The Credentials Committee reported 201 delegates as being seated representing the districts as follows: Fresno-Glendale 47, Long Beach 40, Los Angeles 44, Pasadena 32 and San Diego 38. The report was adopted.

The Committee on Resolutions presented the following resolutions: Whereas:

The pronouncement of the General Conference of 1936 on Social and Economic questions, which is the official pronouncement of the Methodist Episcopal Church on this subject, achieved at once both a vigorous indictment of our social and economic ills, and a recognition that there are legitimate differences of opinion among our members as to the best means of curing those ills, and

Whereas:

It is essential that we be not divided as a Church on questions of political and economic policy;
Therefore, Be It Resolved:

That it is the sense of the Lay Conference of the Southern California Conference of 1936, that the aforesaid pronouncement of the General Conference of 1936, be adopted as the expression of the united session of the Southern California Conference.

Resolved:

That Chairmen of the Conference Boards, Commissions, and Committees be requested so far as practicable to set meeting times to suit the convenience of the Lay members as well as their Ministerial members.

Resolved:

That we express our sincere appreciation to the Officers and Members of the First Presbyterian Church for the use of their Church for our meeting, and that we take an offering to care for expenses incidental thereto.

That we express our appreciation for the use of the First Presbyterian Church for the Lay Conference Session and that an offering be taken to pay the janitor. Adopted unanimously.

Upon motion, the chair was authorized to appoint a Committee of 15, three from each district, said Committee to make nominations of Lay representatives on the Conference Boards and Committees.

Upon motion, the Lay Conference voted to reconvene Thursday, June 25, 1936, at 10 A.M. in the First Presbyterian Church to receive the report of the Committee of 15.

The Lay Conference voted unanimously to recommend to the United Session that all Conference Reports, except the Commission on Finance, be placed in the hands of the Conference Program Committee in ample time to be printed and mailed two weeks in advance to the delegates or churches.

The Nominating Committee presented the following names for the respective officers and upon motion were duly elected:

President—Daniel L. Scott.

Vice President—Ernest W. Oliver.

Secretary—H. A. Nordahl.

Treasurer—J. Frank Burke.

The closing prayer was offered by W. A. Armacost.

(a) District Superintendents

FRESNO-GLENDALE DISTRICT

S. S. Sampson—District Superintendent

The tradition of this district is to tell of something big or about some big thing on the district, so, true to my predecessors, I begin by saying that the richest fossil pit in the world has recently been unearthed in Red Rock Canyon. So far the four-tusk elephant, the horse with three toes, the camel with many humps have been found, but the geno homo has not been found. However, I am not discouraged for I feel sure that this specimen will be found in great abundance on the other districts of the Conference.

The District Superintendent was greatly surprised when just a few days before Christmas that small boy who is Pastor of First Church, Bakersfield, called him up and said—"A situation has arisen on the district over which I have no control. I think you would better come by and see if you can straighten it out." And so, with my heart in my mouth and my spirit very apprehensive, I drove the additional twenty-five miles to locate the trouble and pacify the disturbed preacher. "What's the matter; what's the trouble?" The preacher grinned and said—"The fellows of the district have given you a radio for your Ford and want to have it installed!" Following the installation I started for home feeling so kindly toward the boys of the district, and feeling the need of soothing helpful music thought I would turn on and tune in. But it was already tuned in and the moment I turned on, with great volume the thing started to play "Turkey in the straw"; the Ford pricked up his ears, took the bit in his mouth and passed everything on the road. After considerable 'zigging and zagging' I quieted him down and not until then did I realize that the preachers of the Fresno-Glendale district were not sanctified, neither were they "groaning after it."

Amid shifting conditions throughout the country the Fresno-Glendale district can report advancement during the third year of existence. A steady forward look on the part of pastors and people must be recorded. In fact, spectacular changes have occurred in some places. If the limits of this report could be expanded fourfold, or my descriptive powers increased as zero is increased when one is placed in front of it, then a faint suggestion would be brought to you of what this report ought to be. Men who have been adventurers to the point of heroism, charges manifesting a most generous response, communities seeing as never before the value of the church and all together working for the coming of Christ into the heart, home, school, social, economic and political life of all the people.

Young People: One of the greatest gatherings of young life in the history of Methodism in this State occurred at Fresno, last November. Our resident Bishop was with us in public addresses and private council. A few churches are still impatient of youth. Youth is, as it should be, in the time of autocratic joyfulness. It is inhospitable to restraints and only slightly inclined to look into the deeps of life. Here the elements of character and the needs of the soul being as yet untested by long and hard experiences, are not classified and rated according to their relative importance. The ideals are also in a nebulous state. When in this mood we do not think of God as the eternal friend who is ever present in the mystic shadows about us and ready to commune with us. He is more like a great intellectual fact, sublime, but remote.

Changes: Early in the Conference year, Roy C. Mason of Lemoore was appointed to our mission work and at once took up the task in Seward, Alaska. H. B. Sellers who was appointed to Corcoran at our last Annual Conference, exchanged with Floyd Charles Johnston of the Detroit Conference. Hugo Becker, not a member of this Conference, was serving as a supply to our German speaking church in Fresno, accepted a call to a Congregational Church in Portland, Oregon. The German property in Fresno is now in the hands of the Conference Trustees and many of our German members have been transferred to our English-speaking churches. John B. McGee takes work at the Goodwill Industries in Boston as Director of Young People's Work.

Sickness: Four of our parsonage homes have known the burden of sickness during the year. In September, J. M. Ocheltree, our pastor at Tulare, suffered a severe heart attack which has kept him confined to his bed at this hour. Brother Ocheltree has directed his work through an able supply—Brother Roy Swift, and the fine loyalty of a good Church. He asks for retirement and reference to Board of Stewarts. Harry Thomas Lewis, one of the very able preachers of this Conference, our pastor of Grace Church, Fresno, comes to the close of the year in broken health, and asks for the retired relationship. Harry I. Smith, our pastor at Carruthers, was brought close to the valley of the shadow in a critical operation. Following the operation septic pneumonia seized him and he was out of his pulpit for months. However, his work was ably carried on by his wife—Celia Erwin Smith, who was ordained a Deacon by Bishop McGee at our last Conference. Our pastor at Kernville is truly being tested. Brother Raugust has spent five months in the Kern Hospital at Bakersfield, and his baby girl has been in the same hospital for a year, both victims of Infantile Paralysis. Mrs. Raugust is taking care of the Church work and uncomplainingly and lovingly caring for her sick. Where will you find the greatest courage: In the heart of a man, the heart of a woman, or the heart of a little child?

Four blessed events have brought gladness to the district during the year. Anna Lee Miller of Reedley; Shelley Vesta Gorman of Parler; Lois Claire Wagner of Delano; and Richard Bacon of Chatsworth. In each case mother and baby are doing nicely, father has greatly improved.

Improvements: A new parsonage has been erected at Magnolia Park, Burbank; and grounds beautified. Considerable improvements made on our parsonage at Trinity, Bakersfield.

New church under construction at Taft, to cost $15,000, of which $10,000 is in hand. New church at Sepulveda; this church pay as we go. In each case plans approved by district superintendent and forwarded to Bishop Baker.

A fine spirit of optimism pervades the district. A notable gathering was held in Bakersfield. W. C. Hodgson, Walter C. Buckner and R. J. Taylor brought great inspiration to our group. Likewise a gracious meeting was held in Porterville, when Bishop John Gowdy and Mrs. Gowdy of China paid us a most delightful visit. Dr. Willsie Martin was our invited speaker on this occasion. So helpful and inspiring was Dr. Martin in the truly great address delivered that we look with eager expectancy to his coming again.

A very unusual event took place at Independence when, under the inspiration and leadership of our pastor, a monument was unveiled to the memory of the pioneers of Inyo county. Several notables were present; the Governor of the State and members of his Staff. One of the jurists of the State took part in the great pageant that was given. The whole affair was classical and of very high order.

The Woman's Aid Society, the Missionary Auxiliaries and organized classes in our Sunday Schools, as well as the Epworth Leagues, have worked together in a fine spirit, making the Church stronger in each community. The High Sierra Epworth League Institute, the Family Institute at Camp Sierra have been sources of strength to many of our people both old and young.

Finally, while the hand of death has not broken heart strings in our parsonage homes, the residence of the district superintendent has not fared so well, for on May the 20th, Stella, a foster daughter, consecrated at the altar of this Conference to the work of a Deaconess, closed her beautiful life in a hospital at San Jose. Then, in my home, on the 25th day of May, my big brother and your big brother, Walter C. Loomis, ceased to walk with God on earth that he might walk with God forever in Heaven.

To Bishop Baker, to my fellow district superintendents, to a fine group of preachers, to the parsonage homes, and to a noble group of laymen, I owe profound gratitude, and above all these to Mrs. Sampson, who has traveled with me in all sorts of weather more than 25,000 miles, and to our gracious Lord who knows mountain trails, desert pathways, and the broad plains. He also knows the path of prayer and has taught us that:

Prayer makes the darkest cloud withdraw
Climbs the ladder Jacob saw
Gives exercise to faith and love
Brings every blessing from above."

S. S. SAMPSON.

LONG BEACH DISTRICT

F. G. H. Stevens, District Superintendent

I did not ask my speedometer to tell me how far the car has traveled this year, for you would forget it anyway, and neither does the travel allowance pay the bill. But it costs no more to take a car load than for just the two of us to go. So, since the Conference pays the bills, let us travel together over this district for ten minutes.

We start over 250 miles up the coast. San Miguel is a three point circuit. At Shandon, back in the country from San Miguel was a fine revival with a score converted and received into the church. The salary is paid and overpaid. When folks get religion they support the church.

Paso Robles, the "Pass of the Oaks" has done foundation work, paid $450 on indebtedness, and increased its salary item $200. Brother Ellis, pastor here, lost his mother by death last Saturday.

San Luis Obispo is a typical Northern California Roman Catholic town. This year's work has been done steadily.

Arroyo Grande and Oceano have a happy people. Furnace and improvements in church and parsonage add up to $330. The salary is overpaid, World Service is doubled. Oceano is to be separate next year. A down payment on a new Chevrolet sedan made by the community is a proof of what they think of the Methodist preacher.

A gain in membership and $850 paid on debt, with our church in a place of leadership in the community, is part of Santa Maria's record.

Lompoc has made a gain of 30 per cent in membership, and has its budget all subscribed for next year.

Santa Barbara's official board roll call sounds like "Who's Who in Santa Barbara", and they are leading in Christ's work too, for they show a net gain of 61 in membership and $1250 paid on debt.

Meet the Ventura County folks! There is something more than an old mission in Ventura; the Methodist Church is there—a live one! Fine young people's work indicates growth. There is an increase in both membership and salary.

Brother Woodside at Santa Paula had months of illness, and Mrs. Woodside followed suit after his recovery. Those Ventura County pastors supplied the pulpit, and the year shows a gain of membership and payments on both debt and improvements.

The Fillmore Church will not merge with the Presbyterians in exchange for a similar proceeding in Elsinore, as the sister church has turned down the proposition. The whole question of church merging may well be studied in the light of what churches were before and after merging. A fine work among young people is on at Fillmore.

The pastor has raised the money and added over $300 in improvements on our Piru property again this year.

Over the hills to the Simi Valley! Moorpark has made some improvements on property. At the parsonage home in Simi death came and the mother of Mrs. Jennings went to her other home. Here is a fine example of a merging of two Methodist churches well financed. The year shows a gain in membership.

There are 67 more Methodists in Oxnard now than a year ago, and $650 has gone into improvements.

Now come down the coast to Santa Monica where the "mountains meet the sea." The merging of two Methodist churches here years ago meant a merging of debts in full and the membership in part. That made a real problem which was unsolved by the former pastor, the writer of this report. None can better solve that problem than the present pastor and he is hard at the work with real results.

Ocean Park and Venice fight the wide open town seven days and eight nights a week, for Saturday is two nights long. Ocean Park shows all its old finances paid and a gain in membership but a deficiency in salary. The "pastor pays" but they are putting in an organ.

Venice, with the help of a loan from the Home Board has removed their three buildings to their new site. The cost will be $3,000. We need another $1,000 in designated gifts, then they will have a plant equipment in good taste and well located. It's a fight for righteousness in this beach town.

The oil city of El Segundo has a fine church plant. Fifteen hundred dollars and much donated labor resulted in one of the finest of parsonage homes, free of debt. They have a good vacation church school.

The Cronemiller memorial organ at Redondo Beach was dedicated on Palm Sunday. It is the gift, to the church, by Mrs. Cronemiller, her daughter, Mrs. Marshall, and the daughter's husband, the pastor, in memory of the husband and father. The harmony of the organ seems to have permeated the church. One or two other organs might well be placed at other points on the District.

Shore Acres has had an unsettled year, but seems to be settling down to Christian work after the Methodist fashion.

Torrance is an industrial city, but our community church serves groups at both ends of the same gospel program—a difficult problem. $660 has been paid on debt.

Some improvements have been made at Harbor City, north of San Pedro, and other improvements are planned for the care of the large Church School. After over thirty years of service, our genial brother, the chorister of this Conference, will ask for the Retired relation. God bless you, Bob!

San Pedro parish hums with activity day and night. Evangelism of any type is used which gets folks to God and then trains them in Kingdom vision and work. Whether it is over Terminal Island or up on the hill at Grand View, or among the sailors from Norway and Sweden this church, where much of the "inasmuch as ye did it unto them ye did it unto Me" is done, is doing Kingdom business. The larger parish is a success here. A gain of over 50 in membership, a $3,000 gift made by a Presbyterian was applied on their heavy debt, and other finances better than for years.

Wilmington is one of the old towns of Southern California. Here our Church in a good plant is doing lasting work. Most of the debt is being paid by income from a gift of property.

This brings us to Long Beach, but we are here already so let us go to the other end and start back. We started beyond the halfway line to San Francisco. Now we start more than halfway to Arizona.

We are below the sea level at Indio, where we grow dates. Here is a job that needs a man and we have one. A fine work among the boys of this desert town is the outstanding feature of our work.

The mid-Conference change brought a new man to Banning to face a church well united under the leadership of the former pastor but with a hard financial task because of a heavy debt. The current finances are all met and we will look for some inroads on that debt soon.

Now down into the orange groves! Highgrove is a good country church such as was and still ought to be one of the strong phases of our work. Over $100 has been put in improving property and the folks have been led Godward.

Merging has been forgotten in Riverside and will remain so unless some one starts to sing "Lest We Forget." There seems to be places for two Methodist churches in Riverside.

Grace Church has paid $470 on debt and shows life and growth in all departments. First Church has spent $650 on improvements, held a large summer camp for their young folks and was host to a great Woman's Home Missionary convention.

Arlington, to the south, shows a gain of over forty members and $700 paid on debt.

Now to the other end of Riverside County! It may cost only $8 per person to belong to a City church but it costs $30 per person at San Jacinto, but who gets the most out of it? The Kingdom is not built by saving, but by sacrifice. The church building shows the hundreds of dollars spent on improvements. The church membership has religion.

Hemet has had a remarkable work with young folks. Two weeks ago they were at League, Church, Quarterly Conference and then served refreshments, washed the dishes and then paid off with the old folks next day to raise the deficiency which they did and more!

You have helped at Elsinore by designating gifts. The church has paid $650 for improvements, paid up all back interest and has $500 subscribed for principal. $1,000 has already come from the Board of Home Missions.

Murrietta has added two rooms to the parsonage with our help and is carrying on a young people's work, combining five country communities. A Local Preacher from this circuit has opened up work at Temecula.

Another local preacher, a woman, is carrying our work at Winchester, up on the mesa, where the superintendent preached on Easter to a congregation of 60, half young folks; baptized 13, took 17 into the church on preparatory membership, held communion, preached and held quarterly Conferences.

Now we cut across to Corona! A new home for Boy Scouts has been built and remodelling of the church under the new Disciplinary requirements is now being discussed.

The continued illness of Don Ford brought a new pastor to Whittier in January. Did they forget their former pastor? The answer is—They did not! They paid him full salary for two months, half salary for four months, and $100 a month for the remainder of the year, although he did not preach once during the year. Here is our model combined service which can work well in a settled community like Whittier.

Artesia increased salary this year and has done a good year's work.

We have to cross a part of other districts in getting to Compton, where the sale of a piece of property provides for the ultimate ending of their debt.

Hynes is paying $200 on debt with the help of the Harbor Missionary Society and is to increase salary $300. What a group of young life here! They are redecorating their church.

Davidson City is a student charge and is in charge of a good student.

Now we are back to Long Beach. Out five miles north, at Lakewood Village, where the new Junior College is now in temporary quarters we will open work this coming year. This community has been allocated to us by the Superintendents' Council.

North Long Beach, again with the help of the Harbor Missionary Society, is planning to build a parsonage this coming year.

California Heights has made a gain of 44 in membership, an increase of $300 in salary. They have an offer of $3,500 toward a new $10,000. This is a pretty good year's work.

Atlantic Avenue is handling its property matters well, and has a fine work among the student body of the High School. They report a gain of 33 in membership.

The Kernahan meetings brought wonderful results in personal evangelism in North Long Beach. East Long Beach gained 46 members, paid $500 on indebtedness, and added $700 for interior finishing. They have 125 tithers signed up.

Grace Church also reports 37 gain in members with $3,700 paid on debt.

Seal Beach has increased the salary and has been a force for a clean community in a way to make Methodists gladly proud.

Our host church, with a membership of over 2400 has added a clear gain of over 50. They have paid $5,750 on debt, and pastor and people do the all around work of a vital Christian church.

We end at Belmont Heights. And there is a reason. Here for the last twelve years has worked E. J. Inwood, the Dean of this Conference in point of service. Today he closed 55 years in the ministry, 52 given to this Conference. For 18 years he was our Secretary, 7 years on a District, then breaks the record by taking a Long Beach Church with over $59,000 debt and in these years reduced it to less than $8,000 and all that is covered in wills and bequests. And always he has exalted His Master and led men to know God. Today he lays down the work of the active pastorate, having made a lot of us better men because he has shown us how to work and live and love.

Illness has exacted strength this year—Mrs. A. Ray Moore of Santa Monica, E. F. Gates, and Don Ford. All have recovered. We are thankful that Don Ford will again go into the active pastorate.

The District gathered in three worth-while World Service Cultivation conferences at Santa Barbara, Long Beach and Riverside. We all gathered in an informal District gathering at Ventura without preliminaries, program or propaganda and studied and learned together.

That good brother and former Superintendent Will A. Betts, has been a brother and helper whenever asked and never failed.

Laymen and ministers and their wives alike have been brothers and sisters with us. They have been cheerful whether meeting the 10:58 at night or driving to the 4:29 in the morning. It has been a year gone all too fast; filled to the full.

F. G. H. STEVENS.

LOS ANGELES DISTRICT

Leonard Oechsli, District Superintendent

Coming to the end of a term of six years in district administration I am truly thankful for the distinctly upward trend of this past year along all lines. There has been the feeling for the previous five years that pull as we might against the tide, we were not only making no progress but even slipping back at times. This turn of the tide is reason for gratitude and hope for better days.

During the year death came unexpectedly and tragically to take from us two of our comrades of the way. John Wesley Robinson— young, vigorous, enthusiastic, whole-souled; he was our John the Beloved. Walter Loomis, loyal, devoted, ingenious, man of integrity, soul of honor, bearer of burdens, loved and honored by all. How we shall miss these valiant souls as we journey on without their companionship.

Little messengers of light and love—Wanda Jacqueline Pellow and Philip Wesley Kendall, have entered the homes of their parents to bring them joy and happiness. Soon after Conference last year the Stanley McKee's took into their home little Dorothy Jeannette.

During the year Rolland Tincher has recorded a double achievement; completing his schooling with an M.Th. degree, and taken unto himself a wife, Miss Katherine Hall, daughter of a former member of this Conference of honored memory.

Problems of property indebtedness have again this year absorbed an enormous amount of time, attention and nervous energy. Two years ago, with a delinquency in interest payments alone to the extent of $19,734.34 which has been reduced to $8,074.20, most of which is owed by one church, indicating that practically all of our interest payments are now being made on time. In addition to this there was a deficit on current expense of $16,975, which has been largely absorbed and wiped out by pastors in unpaid salaries.

During the year Lynwood, Annandale, Eagle Rock and York Boulevard churches reached a financial crisis. Through the splendid cooperation of Dr. F. W. Mueller, of the Extension department of the Board of Home Missions, and the loyal response of our pastors and people, all of these churches except York Boulevard were rescued and placed on a safe operating basis. York Boulevard church has been closed and the membership transferred to Highland Park Church. It should be recorded here that we did everything possible to meet our obligations to the Bank, offering to pay them six thousands dollars in cash. They refused to accept a cent less than $9,000.00. We are reliably informed that the Bank is now offering this property for sale for five thousand dollars.

Pacific Palisades Church has during the year burned the mortgage on their fine property; and at Rosewood the debt on their parsonage has been entirely paid off.

Hollywood First Church possesses a plant that is conceded to be one of the most beautiful and serviceable in the City of Los Angeles. It was erected at a cost of more than half a million dollars, but has been under an enormous load of debt, due to many factors, including the return of two valuable properties which had supposedly been sold. The net result is that the church has had an indebtedness—including the mortgage on the property, back interest, furnishings, art glass windows, organ, etc., totaling no less than the staggering sum of $487,845.58. One can have nothing but the highest admiration for the pastor and group of efficient business men who, together with the congregation, have not faltered in the face of what seemed an impossible task, but have patiently worked out their problem in such harmony with their creditors that they have finally effected a settlement whereby all their obligations will be gathered together in one note to the Security First National Bank. By this arrangement the Bank takes over the old church property and business lot and all outstanding obligations are taken care of, so that the total indebtedness of the church has been reduced from approximately $488,000 to $214,000, this amount to be amortized on terms which the church will be able to carry. This settlement has greatly cleared the atmosphere and is sending the congregation forth with confidence and assurance.

Compton Avenue church, originally Emmanuel German Church, has gradually been surrounded by an influx of negro people until there is no longer need for a church ministering to white people. The property was one of those listed in the German merger and is being transferred to the Trustees of the Annual Conference for the benefit of the Conference Endowment Fund.

Robertson Boulevard Church, built about seven years ago, located in a rapidly growing section of the City, has overflowed its walls and cannot make further growth in the Church School without more room to expand. Mrs. Walter Harrison Fisher has seen this church and community, its needs and outstanding opportunity, the strategic place which Methodism occupies, and out of her generosity has come forth with an outright gift of ten thousand dollars for the erection of a beautiful building that will supply our needs for a number of years to come. The Church has purchased two additional lots giving ample room for a ground floor building in Spanish style around a patio. This building is now under construction under the leadership of Charles Kendall and will be ready for dedication, free of all debt, early in the fall.

Westwood Church has likewise outgrown its facilities, Church and Sunday School overflowing into every nook and cranny. In the absence of a generous friend to make a donation, the Church has felt it necessary to erect an additional temporary unit at the rear of the church.

We have experienced this year a pronounced revival of personal evangelism. Some of our churches have had a new birth of evangelistic zeal in which many lay workers have captured the teachings of the New Testament in winning people to Christ, and the entire atmosphere of the Church has been transformed. The pity of it is that we do not have more of this. Here is an age-old method that is as fresh and effective today as it was when Jesus spoke to the woman of Samaria at Jacob's well. There have been added to the Church this year, mostly by this method, 2,320 persons.

World Service giving for the year shows an increase of $1,809, the first in seventeen long years. This increase is attributable in large measure to the very splendid and most effective cultivation work done under the leadership of Dr. J. L. Corley. Many of our people have expressed their amazement as they have seen the total picture of our Methodist activities throughout the world, as presented in these cultivation meetings. Dr. Corley has also cooperated with the district in holding a very successful leadership training school with an enrollment of 265. This school will be made an annual event.

The work among the young people, under the direction of Mr. James McGiffin, is in excellent condition. If any one is pessimistic about this, saying that our work is failing, that person simply does not know our young people. In the past decade church membership in the Los Angeles district has increased 10 per cent as over against an increase of 31 per cent in membership in the Epworth Leagues. Never in all my experience have I known Christian young people who were more sincere, eager, dead in earnest, more devoted, loyal and intelligent than are our young people, and that in a decade admittedly the most difficult to hold youth for the Church. This has not just happened by mere chance; it is the direct result of our leaders—Mr. James McGiffin and Dr. J. L. Corley.

The year has been one of restlessness and uneasiness. Living as we are in times of social, economic and political tension, the Church has not escaped its share of unrest. It should be said to the credit of pastors and laymen that these problems have been before us and have been discussed in a spirit of tolerance and openmindedness. One of the notable events of the year on the district was a meeting of some sixty-five laymen, together with the Superintendent, for a 24-hour period at the Pacific Palisades, when the disturbing problems of the Church were fully and frankly discussed without a trace of rancor or bitterness. A number of sub-district groups of pastors and laymen have met for discussion, some of them with very great profit. There has been considerable demand for more such opportunities for meeting together in discussion groups. We have the conviction that this is one of the most helpful procedures that we could follow.

Some Major Objectives: (1) Adjustment to environment. One of the most serious and difficult problems in the City of Los Angeles is that of the Church adapting its life and program to the changing community. We have too often been membership-centered rather than community-centered. Churches located in the midst of rapidly shifting population have needed to put on a more progressive program but have been the least able financially to do so. How can we hold our own in the older sections of the City where there are still large percentages of people needing the ministrations of the Church?

(2) Correlation of our Methodist program. How can we bring unity of approach, oneness of purpose, and a sense of the wholeness of our task into the consciousness of our Methodist people? The report of the Committee on Correlations has indicated our attempt in this regard.

(3) The Church and community welfare. How can we bring our churches and Christian people to a realization that they have a tremendous responsibility as well as a wonderful opportunity in the relating of the socially maladjusted and the needy to the private and public agencies of the community?

(4) The coordination of the Protestant forces of Los Angeles, of Southern California, and in fact of the entire state is an acute problem right now in a state of flux, and a perilous state it is. How may we create a framework upon which to achieve at least a measureable degree of unity among Protestant forces? No Protestant group has a greater responsibility in this respect than has Methodism.

We have been attempting to make some contribution to these four major problems, but we must confess to a feeling of total inadequacy. In some cases we do not seem to have been able to make the Church conscious that the problem exists. If we could but bring our people to a conviction that the highest achievement of the Kingdom of God in this great metropolitan area will never be made until we have more adequately dealt with these and similar underlying problems.

LEONARD OECHSLI

PASADENA DISTRICT REPORT

CHARLES FRANKLIN SEITTER, District Superintendent

In the words of the ancient gladiators: "We who are about to die salute you." I have requested Bishop Baker not to consider me for re-appointment to the district. The six years of my administration, spanning the most trying period religion has experienced during this generation, has laid on the district superintendents unusually heavy tasks, and I, for one, have often found myself wondering if I were matching them with strength and genius. It has not been reassuring to watch a declining membership in the church and church school, fewer enlistments of new recruits, decreasing salaries for hard-working and hard-pressed pastors and reduced incomes for church members, shrinking totals in World Service and other benevolences, and tragically reduced funds for the retired veterans of the cross, their widows and dependents. It gives a lover of the Kingdom scant satisfaction to know that the same losses characterized the work everywhere. But the courage of the pastors and their families, the unshrinking devotion and loyalty of great numbers of laymen, the sturdy undergirding of fellow superintendents and Bishop Baker, and an unshaken faith in a God for this and all times gave me the will to go forward. This experience has magnified in my own estimation the importance of the District Superintendency in Methodism.

It may be that we have fallen short of our goals and desires, but it is good to know that in a world where sin is rampant, where paganism is widespread, where personal and national honor have been discredited, where truth has been betrayed in the house of its friends, where the liquor traffic has become lewd and arrogant and has in our state a retail license for every 86 persons, where war promoters are in the saddle and are riding hard, where poverty has desecrated millions with its foul blight—I say that in such a world as this it is good to know that a challenging voice of protest has been raised and a revealing light has been thrown on the teachings of Jesus as they relate to these evils and all their foul brood of miseries, and that the Church is now taking the aggressive.

Progress in Debt Reduction. Even during these depression years progress has been made in debt reduction. Not a church has been sold on the auctioneer's block. Nearly every church has reduced its indebtedness, and three have liquidated. Two mergers have been effected, Trinity and First Church, Pomona, last year. This year Grace, Ontario, was united with First Church, the parsonage and two vacant lots were sold, all local obligations met and $900 paid on a $1400 loan from the Board of Home Missions, with more than enough yet to come in from these sales to clear this indebtedness. The proceeds from the four lots and the church building yet to be sold will be placed at the disposal of the district superintendent for use on the district. This was made possible by the generous compliance of First Church with the request of the district superintendent. By the action of the Quarterly Conference, I am asking this Annual Conference to authorize the sale of our church and parsonage property at Prescott, Arizona.

Better times in Jerome have enabled our church there to reduce a $2000 debt to $200, which will be mopped up this fall. A delectable lady in Pasadena by a gift of $2500 made it possible for our church at Blythe to wipe out its $3600 indebtedness. Ontario First Church paid off its debt of $1000. Needles reduced from $4900 to $1600—$1850 this year. A debt of $1240 at San Gabriel has been reduced to $1000. Montebello has shaved its debt from $26,000 to $20,700; Chino from $23,000 to approximately $15,000; Monrovia from $31,000 to $26,300; and Monterey Park from $5400 to $3500.

Marengo Avenue, Alhambra, reduced its debt from $18,300 to $16,350; El Monte from $7400 to $6735; Temple City from $9350 to approximately $7000; and Baldwin Park from $15,000 to $12,300.

Alhambra First has taken a sizable slice of $21,300 from her $96,800 debt to bring it down to $75,500 and is going strong. Hartzell Memorial has battered a $23,700 debt down to $9100 and is paying on principal and interest at the rate of $150 a month. Washington Street, Pasadena, reduced its $8000 debt to $3983, and, assisted by the Pasadena Methodist Council, completely renovated both church and parsonage inside and out at a cost of $8000. Victorville sold a lot on the main street for $4000 cash, paid the Board of Home Missions its loan of $1600, purchased a six-room stucco residence (one of the best in town) for a parsonage, and had nearly $400 left for improvements on the church building. Some high financing!

The Pasadena Methodist Council also reduced the debt on Scott Chapel from $24,000 to $19,000. Likewise, the Council assisted Holliston Avenue to bring its $163,000 debt of five years ago to the point where its mortgage can be lifted for $50,000, leaving the church owing only the Board of Home Missions. A plan involving Holliston Avenue, First Church, the Board of Home Missions, and the loaning bank is in process of being worked out looking toward the cancelling of the mortgage by the first of next January. Holliston has already completed the first step of her part of the program with great credit to all concerned. That heroic people have put into that property $240,000, and in addition to that paid $73,000 in interest. First Church, Pasadena, has already put into Holliston $44,700, besides donating that magnificent stone structure. If the present plan is carried through to the end about $25,000 more will be added, making a grand total of $69,000. It is altogether likely that that constitutes an all-time record in Methodism. Most certainly it gives us a vivid picture of the generous spirit of that great church and its distinguished pastor, Dr. Merle N. Smith, who has adorned that exacting pulpit for twenty years. I regret, more than I can say, that I cannot pay individual tribute to the pastors that have so ably and sacrificially led in all these debt-raising and church building campaigns, but it happens that more than one preacher has had something to do with most of the debt reductions, making personal credit impossible in the time allotted for this report. In my mind I gladly bow to them.

New Buildings and Organs. Trinity, Pomona, erected one of the very best buildings for religious education and social purposes in the Conference at a cost of $61,000, all of which was subscribed and nearly all of which has been paid. Puente built a separate structure for additional church school and social facilities at a cost of $2600 and paid for it in cash. Grace, Redlands, excavated under the church building and finished rooms there for social and educational purposes at a cost of $2250 and paid for it in cash. Upland reared the lovely "Cathedral of the Foothills" at a cost of $45,000 and paid for it in cash. Holbrook built a beautiful church at a cost of $5900 and paid for it in cash. Upland, Chino, Colton, Las Vegas, and La Verne installed pipe organs. Congratulations to all these churches and pastors.

Mid-year Changes. A series of mid-year changes affected nine churches on the district. The illness of Will H. Rogers made it necessary to supply Lincoln Avenue during the greater part of the year. Ray Orr transferred to Colorado, and C. B. Dalton was transferred from Grand Junction, Colorado, to fill the vacancy at Las Vegas. I. A. Engle went from Upland to Whittier, Paul Huebner from Lynwood to Upland, E. D. Goodell from Montebello to Lynwood, E. S. Anderson from Chino to Montebello, L. E. Warren from Banning to Chino, Paul Lomax from Blythe to Banning, and R. W. Tautenhahn from Compton Avenue to Blythe. The 7000-foot altitude of Flagstaff proved too high for Dr. William Dando, Presbyterian pastor of our Federated church there, and he resigned. Ray W. Ragsdale was moved from Holbrook to Flagstaff, and Berlyn V. Farris was brought from Garrett Biblical Institute to Holbrook. The illness of Dr. Merle N. Smith brought Henry I. Rasmus, Jr., from University church to the Associate pastorship of First Church, Pasadena. I imagine that this constitutes an all-time record of mid-year changes in the Southern California Conference, and possibly in Methodism.

Two Lovely Laddies. On July 19th William Temple Branton came to brighten the parsonage family at Winslow, and on January 6th the advent of Claude Stanley Young made glad the hearts of the parsonage home at Colton. Heaven's blessing on them! With the exception of minor illnesses the health of the parsonage families has been good, but the hand of sickness fell heavily on Mrs. Samuel Hughes, Dr. Merle N. Smith, and Rev. Will H. Rogers. Our prayer is for their recovery.

World Service Cultivation. Three World Service Cultivation Conferences were held on the district last October under the auspices of the Conference World Service Council, all ably served by Bishop Baker, and representatives of the Boards. Dr. J. L. Corley was the moving spirit. I, also, arranged twenty-five speaking engagements for Mrs. Elizabeth Brewster in March and some for Dr. John Springer. My hope is that the district will register for the second consecutive year an advance in World Service giving.

Activities of Laymen and Preachers. In spite of world-wide attacks on religion and the spirit of paganism so prevalent the men of the church are manifesting an increasing faith and loyalty. They see no rational and worthwhile outcome except in the ongoing purposes of a living and Christlike God. The women, through their thousands of calls, bouquets, letters, social service activities, Goodwill bags, missionary teaching and giving, have spread good cheer and the glorious Gospel, and their money-raising has stopped the mouths of deficits. And what shall we say of our young people who in their local churches, conventions, winter institutes and summer institutes have carried on studies of the problems of religious living in an unreligious world. Many of them have come into a loftier conception of the riches and implications of the Gospel than any generation since the first and second centuries. They are experiencing a vision of God and an insight into his plan to reconstruct society that bids fair to inaugurate a new era of thought and effort. James McGiffin has proved himself a safe and inspiring leader. And what shall we say of our preachers who have worked righteousness, read books, preached sermons, comforted the sorrowing, buried the dead, married lovers, directed churches in a modern hurlyburly world, and besought sinners to be reconciled to God. I could become sentimental as I think of these preachers. But that is verboten. I will venture to say, however, that only heaven knows how deep has been my affection for them and their families; how truly their sorrows have been my sorrows, their joys my joys. Like Emerson, "I awake each morning with profound gratitude for friends, old and new." My only regret is that I have not been a better minister to them all.

Appreciation of the Cabinet. Membership in the Cabinet offers a fellowship that is distinctive and unexcelled on earth. I thank my brother superintendents who through the years have so richly blessed me. My gratitude goes out to Bishop James C. Baker whose gentleness has made him great, whose intellectual alertness and voluminous reading have been at once my inspiration and despair, and whose sympathetic understanding has dealt kindly with my faults.

I bequeath to my successor the best preachers in the world, the best churches in the world, covering an area 650 miles in length, extending into three states and including the largest vineyard in the world, the largest dam in the world, the largest man-made lake in the world, the largest canyon in the world, the largest painted desert in the world, the most altitudinous appointments in the Conference, and presided over by the best Bishop in the world.

To the Omnipotent God I give thanks for the privileges and responsibilities that have crowded these six happy years and for his unfailing care and presence. May His Name be hallowed, His Kingdom come, and His will be done on earth as in heaven!

C. F. SEITTER.

SAN DIEGO DISTRICT

James Edwin Dunning—District Superintendent

Following upon the illness which forced his untimely retirement the previous year, death wrote a period on October 21st, 1935, to the earthly career of James Allan Geissinger. A quarter of a century of his devoted service was given to Pacific Coast Methodism. Unflagging in his zeal, passionately devoted to his conception of right and truth, he never hesitated to stand boldly for his convictions, and all men knew where he stood. His last years were given to the Superintendency of this great district.

A. S. Hale, retired, mourns the loss of his wife during the year.

Two pastors have suffered serious illness: H. K. Holtzinger was stricken in February, and came very close to the Jordan, but he has made a remarkable come-back and hopes to carry on as well as ever. The LaHabra Church has been beautifully loyal and kind, and neighboring pastors have shared in filling the pulpit for these four months.

Mrs. Harriet C. Schultz, pastor at Encanto, has been in a sanitarium for a month. She had almost completed the requirements for Deacon's Orders as an accepted Supply, and had expected Ordination at this Conference session.

In several homes serious illness has given way to renewed and greatly improved health.

Happier experiences have come to some of our parsonage homes. Immediately after receiving his first appointment to Globe, Arizona, Edward C. Erny brought from Chicago as his bride—Miss Marguerite Hammer. Ethel Malan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Malan, will be married June 28th to Franklin Garrett of El Centro. Two district homes have rejoiced in the sound of "a baby's low cry". Dorothy Jean Kingman, born December 12th, 1935, and Emilie Claire Cunningham, born June 13th, 1936, have brought joy to these two homes.

Mrs. J. E. Dunning has come through a serious hospital experience in the Fall to renewed health. This happy outcome, and two other family events, have broadened the smile on the face of this district superintendent: (1) The marriage of a son—Charles W., to Miss Barbara Welch of Anaheim; and (2) The advent of the first grandchild, christened James Edwin II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Dunning of Pacific Palisades.

Following a two-year precedent, the first Quarterly Conferences were held in six group meetings, including the six natural geographical areas of the district. In each instance the morning and afternoon were devoted to seminar discussions by the pastors and their wives. In the evening the members of the several quarterly conferences included in the group met at a central point at a dinner meeting, presented written reports, and considered vital phases of the work.

The additional time released by this method I spent with those churches that asked for special services. Addresses were made and seminars of local church workers conducted, in visits varying from one to six days at eighteen churches during the winter.

In January, Bishop and Mrs. Baker shared in a two-day district Quest at Balboa Island, attended by all the pastors and their wives from the California section of the district. J. L. Corley, James McGiffen and Oren B. Waite shared in this fellowship. It was one of the most enriching experiences in the life of many of those present. A similar Quest for all the Arizona preachers, planned as part of a tour of the Arizona churches by Bishop Baker in March, was prevented by the illness of our Bishop. We are happy not only in his recovery but also in his return with Mrs. Baker to this Area for another quadrennium. We of the San Diego district believe his leadership will bring the Church closer to a modern realization of the Kingdom of Heaven on earth.

Changes in Pastorate: Russell S. Stroup, with the consent of the Bishop and the Cabinet, left his work at Newport Beach on October 1st, 1935, to spend some time caring for a sick brother on a farm in Virginia. He is unable to resume his pastoral work at this time and requests the supernumerary relation for next year. October 15th, Kemp J. Winkler began his pastorate at Newport Beach.

An exchange with Frank Linder, for eleven years pastor at First Church, San Diego, brought Walter John Sherman to that pastorate on November first.

Robert S. Porter, accepted supply pastor as Nestor, surrendered that work on March first because of other duties, and Morris W. Singer, a local preacher, filled the vacancy.

More About Debts: Several perplexing debt problems of long standing have been adjusted this year, and others are in process of adjustment. W. A. Jennings led the Normal Heights congregation in a victorious movement whereby that noble society has out of their meager resources laid on God's altar for all purposes more than $9,000 this year. Assisted by other pastors and churches in San Diego and vicinity, additional funds were raised and this congregation is now rejoicing in the redemption of their property. The Board of Home Missions and Church Extension made possible this victory by a donation of $5,000 and a loan of $7,500. Special mention is due to J. W. Mahood for services rendered in this and several other debt situations.

Fullerton has refinanced, obtaining the donation of $14,000 of accrued interest and negotiating a loan of $77,500 at three per cent, with provision for amortizing forty per cent of the principal in ten years. In two years the total indebtedness has been reduced from $113,000 to $84,800, and the people now have courage to go forward.

To date about $3,000 has been reported as designated to Park Blvd., San Diego, of the possible $5,000 allowed by the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension. The Conference Board of Home Missions has agreed to ask the entire Conference to unite in completing this project within the time limit set by the General Conference—September first. When this donation is matched by an equal amount of local money this debt will be reduced by one-third.

Through an offer of Mrs. G. H. Maxwell of Pasadena, and a loan of $3,500 from the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension, it is expected that a crushing debt of $10,000 on Point Loma Church, San Diego, will shortly be reduced to $5,500, all held by the Home Board.

Central, San Diego, has reduced its principal and obtained the reduction of interest rate from seven per cent to five per cent. During the year the Methodist Episcopal Church Union of San Diego has incorporated under the terms of the Discipline as a City Missionary Society, and I expect that this will furnish Methodism with an adequate agency for a more united impact upon that City.

First Church, Phoenix, has begun to reduce a long-standing debt of $20,000, paying the first thousand and providing for annual payments hereafter. Tucson has raised $16,000 in cash and new subscriptions on its debt of $50,700, and has obtained a three per cent interest rate for three years. Other churches are making progress in working out difficult debt situations. Creditors have generally shown willingness to co-operate.

Improvements: Two new parsonages are occupied. Garfield, Phoenix, built a seven-room brick parsonage adjoining the church at a cost of $3,500 but worth $5,000, all paid through the gift of $2,500 by Mrs. Ida L. Townsend and Mrs. Rosevere, members, and $1,000 by Mrs. Geo. H. Maxwell. Magnolia's new parsonage is not complete, though already tenanted; it will cost $2,000.

Two Salt River Valley churches have installed pipe organs: Chandler and Mesa, Arizona.

El Centro has moved its social hall to the church lot, and greatly improved its corner. Mrs. G. H. Maxwell again was a benefactor in the sum of one thousand dollars.

Garden Grove and National City re-roofed their church buildings. Brawley, Asbury, San Diego; and Yorba Linda made extensive improvements to their social halls. Santa Fe Springs has provided a small community building adjoining the parsonage, and the Oil companies are donating equipment for a community playground. Improvements to the parsonage have been made at Brawley, San Marcos, Fallbrook, Wintersburg, Orange, Park Boulevard, San Diego, Tucson, and Yuma.

World Service: The World Service cultivation conferences in the district were well attended and genuinely helpful. Pastors and churches followed up this program, and we are reporting an advance of about $3,000 over last year's World Service giving on apportionment. About two-thirds of the churches share in this increase.

Membership Gains: Pastors report to me a net gain of seven hundred members. I make no prediction of what the statistics will disclose. Many church records are woefully inaccurate. Official Boards are ruthless in increasing the inactive lists. I believe that we should be as much concerned to hold and reawaken the indifferent as to win new recruits. One new congregation has been organized at Cochise, Arizona, served by the pastor at Willcox. Bisbee, Arizona, is to be left without appointment after forty-eight years of history, its membership having decided they can no longer carry on.

The two Epworth League Institutes within this district—Prescott, Arizona, and Cuyumaca, San Diego County, report the best results in their history. They demonstrate the breadth and depth of the Young People's program developed in recent years by our Board of Education and its skillful leaders,—Blaine Kirkpatrick and Owen Geer, as well as our own Conference leaders. J. L. Corley and James McGiffin, have rendered valuable service in many churches.

The new Methodist Hymnal has been widely introduced greatly enriching the worship by its hymns and responsive readings.

The unified morning program of worship and study is in use in a number of our churches, with distinct advantage from the standpoint of worship. In nearly all cases there has been a slight decline in enrollment and attendance for the Church School program. I hope the Conference Board of Education will make a careful study of this plan in action.

I have long questioned whether the average church is best served by two Sunday services of identical type. Several pastors have had much success in building evening programs around their young people, providing study and discussion groups and social fellowship, and a well-planned, beautiful period of worship for all. Sunday evening forums also minister to a real need.

The Wesley Foundations at Tempe and Tucson are achieving notable results in creative thinking and activity, and in transformed personality. A group of students at San Diego State College have organized unofficially this year.

Considerable study has been given to the Cooperative movement, and in both San Diego and the Salt River Valley cooperatives have been organized under the patronage of Methodist pastors and people.

Time fails me to tell of personal victories won. One pastor writes: "Three homes transformed for Christ; one official member saved from habitual gambling, to a life of joyous victory and tithing; another member delivered from appetite for drink; these results worth the year's efforts."

Another lists among outstanding achievements of the year: "Good-will amidst confusion". This has been true in most of our churches this year, although there are a few churches in which groups have vigorously opposed the proclamation of an all-inclusive gospel of social and individual transformation. I have never seen a braver, more unselfish group than our pastors and their wives, possessed by a consuming passion for idealism of Jesus in ministering to human need, and utter disregard of the consequences of that passion to their personal fortunes.

Some people appear to think that the ministers are responsible for the demand for social change, and that if they were silent the demand would soon cease and the world would sink back in contentment with the status quo. They do not sense that we are in the midst of social changes which will be more radical ultimately than anything most of us have dreamed of; that these changes are being brought about by world forces more powerful than a Boulder Lake let loose. God knows there are terrible wrongs to be righted, gross injustices and exploitation to be banished forever.

My concern is that the Church shall be at the center of this changing world, releasing the power of Jesus' gospel to turn this rising tide into creative channels, to build the new world that shall realize God's own dreams and make Brotherhood a fact. Is it not too of the Church that Jesus speaks: "If anyone wishes to come after me, let him deny himself, take up his cross and follow me; for—whoever loses his life for my sake will find it"? God can use only an utterly renounced Church in this tragic hour.

"Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, today, and forever". He and His gospel are the only hope for this hour. Let us follow Him!

J. E. DUNNING.

(b) Standing Committees and Boards

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

In presenting its report, your Board first records its grateful appreciation of the co-operation it has received from churches and pastors throughout the year. To these should be added the long list of annuitants whose patience and generosity in accepting one-fourth of their contract claims have helped to bring the Endowment Fund a long way back from the brink of disaster. To the steadily increasing number of those who are accepting a permanent adjustment on a greatly reduced scale go our special thanks. Our auditors, whose careful examination of our records for the fiscal year has just been completed, have earned our respect for the thoroughness of their work, and our thanks for the clarity of their analysis of our accounts. Their certified condensed balance sheet will be found printed in its usual place in the Journal. The statements appearing in this report, dealing with the present status of the Fund and the results of the year's operations, are all based on their audit and its supporting schedules on file in our office.

At the beginning of the Conference year, your Board found itself confronted with a corporate fund whose net capital had been reduced from a high point of $796,180.04 April 30, 1931, according to the audit of that year, to $146,553.13 on May 1, 1935, (See Auditor's statement, page 166, Journal 1935) and which was being still further depleted until on August 31st it stood at $134,388.75, using the adjusted book values for the worth of the property owned. Its budget was badly out of balance. It had put into effect a 25% payment of the amounts due annuitants on their contracts, most of the annuitants having accepted this compromise for a two-year period ending May 1, 1937, but some refusing and threatening suit. It was confronted with perplexing refinancing problems when money was hard to get.

Facing these conditions, policies were put into effect in September which had certain definite goals in view. Before stating these goals, we should recall the nature of the Fund and the processes by which it was accumulated. Only as this is done can we understand the problems the Board sought to solve.

The Corporate Fund is composed of two elements: The first is an Endowment Fund created by the free and unconditional gifts, some small, some large, from people and churches, the income from which was to be used perpetually for the support of the claimants of this Conference. The origins of this fund date back to the early years of our corporate history.

The second is the Annuitants Fund created by gifts of individuals who were promised a definite annual payment during their lives as consideration for their donations. The foundations of this were laid much later in our Conference history.

Gifts to the first of these funds totalled over a half million dollars; those to the latter fund represent a larger sum, the amount of which it is almost impossible to determine because of the difficulty in calculating residues at the death of the donors, and various settlements and modifications of contracts through the years.

With this history in view, the following two primary goals were established:

1. To save for the annuitants the largest possible portion of the money and properties they had conveyed to the Conference for their contracts.
2. To save for those who had given upwards of a half-million dollars, mostly in cash, without condition or reserve, such residue as might be possible for the benefit of the Conference Claimants in whose behalf it was given.

To realize these ends it became necessary to secure a careful survey and appraisal by competent agents of the real properties and other assets held by the Board, and to institute a campaign of sale of property and liquidation of liabilities. The results of the survey and appraisal seemed to warrant the expectation that a salvage approximating 50% might be realized. Annuitants were approached with the proposal either to rewrite their bonds for 50% of the annuities pledged in the original contract with re-insurance of the new bond in established insurance companies, or to pay them 50% of the legal reserve in a cash settlement. Most of those approached met the Board's proposal in a spirit of generous co-operation with results which will appear later in this report.

The year just closed has seen some real progress. Our Net Worth now stands at $211,734.81 as compared with $146,553.11 a year ago, a gain of $65,181.68. In addition to this we have absorbed losses growing out of deflation of property values totalling $51,476.78. We have reduced the total liabilities of the Fund $189,139.10 at a cost of $123,653.42. In other words, for every dollar of resources we have used in these transactions we have liquidated $1.53 of liability. We have improved our operating experience by $14,872.36, of which $8,645.79 is an increase in cash income, and $6,226.57 a reduction in property expense. This, with some minor adjustments, has resulted in a net reduction of operating loss by $15,130.63, or a cut of three-fifths. Our annual interest charge has been reduced by $4,240.37, and our managerial and office overhead by $1,986.20. Twenty annuity settlements have been made which have given the Conference an advantage of $45,241.72. The accumulated Operating Deficit, which stood at $231,816.05 a year ago has been reduced by $33,639.12, leaving a present deficit of $198,176.93. The one figure to emphasize among all these, however, is that which represents our increase in Net Worth, which increase, after balancing all gains and losses, amounts to $65,181.68.

At the last session of the Conference certain policies were adopted as a three-year program to wipe out the Fund's indebtedness to the Board of Stewards. The effective ministers of the Conference undertook to pay an assessment totalling nine thousand dollars as their annual contribution. The Conference restricted the distribution of Conference Claimants fund to $15.00 per year of effective service, the balance to be applied to this indebtedness. The laymen, voting separately, made provision for co-operation on a voluntary basis. The churches were to complete the Loyalty Campaign. At this writing 192 of the ministers have made payments totalling $4,953.42. The laymen have sent in $271.05. The Loyalty Campaign feature has been a serious disappointment, only three churches having presented the matter during the year, so far as the Board has been informed. The ministers, both pastors and special appointment men, have made real sacrifices to meet this self-assessment. The retired men accepted a lower distribution than might have been made and the indebtedness will have been cut approximately one-third during the year.

After giving consideration to the effect which the recent General Conference legislation will have on the Claimants' Fund, your Board is recommending a modification of the three-year program as follows:

1. We ask the Conference to restrict the distribution of Conference Claimants funds to the basis of a minimum of $15. per year of effective service, and to authorize the Commission on Finance to turn over to the Board of Trustees any balance up to the amount of $5,000. to be applied as a credit on its deficiency to the Board of Stewards, this action not to be construed as limiting the Board of Stewards in handling of any surplus.

2. That we levy an assessment equalling 2% of the total cash salaries paid during this Conference year, distributing the assessment to the effective men on the gradual scale used during the past year, and using as a base the amount of cash salary paid during the Conference year 1935-36, pastors moving to pay on basis of salary paid by the new charge during 1935-36 as shown in the Journal.

From these two measures we shall be able to reduce this indebtedness by approximately $15,000.00 during the year. This is proposed as a program for the second year of the three-year program. By next Conference we shall be in better position to calculate the effect which the new General Conference legislation will have upon the Claimants in this Conference.

The Loyalty Fund Continuation Campaign has been the supreme disappointment of the year. The title is a misnomer, since neither loyalty nor continuation has been evidenced by most of the charges involved. Only three out of a total of 48 churches which had not presented the matter have done so during the year. There are 89 others which have raised less than half their quotas. Of the $100,000.00 asked, only $53,441.00 has been paid to date, of which $17,000.00 has been paid during the past year. For these contributions your Board expresses its profound appreciation. They have had a vital part in making possible the achievements of the year. For the goodwill of those pastors who made an effort to reach their quota but were defeated by local conditions, we have both respect and sympathy. For the churches that would gladly have given but lacked leadership, we are sorry. We are compelled to say to the Conference, however, that if the stabilization proposed when this fund was created is to be realized, the balance called for must be provided from some source. If the Campaign could be completed, we believe our program would be secure. We appeal to the sense of fairness in those pastors and churches who have up to this time failed to meet the responsibility of an honest effort to raise the amount asked, and ask them to take their places with those who have proved their loyalty by their deeds.

To meet the situation we submit the following recommendations:

(a) That the Conference definitely order the continuance of the Campaign on those charges where it has never been presented, and on those where the pledges taken fall short of 50% of the goal.

(b) That each District Superintendent be requested to appoint an efficient promotion committee of five on his district, of which he shall be one, which will co-operate with the office in planning a presentation campaign for October, 1936 on charges above classified.

(c) That it be definitely understood that the future proceeds from this campaign are to be used for stabilization purposes as needs of the Fund may demand.

The question has frequently been asked as to any penalty which would attach to any failure on the part of effective men to meet the 2% assessment ordered last year. The answer to that question lies in the present law of the church, not with your Board. This Conference may enact supplemental legislation but could not change the law. This makes any indebtedness of any member of the Conference to any of the Boards of the Church a charge against his annuities when retirement comes. (See Article XIV of the Pension Code, General Conference 1936.)

Some progress is being made in the transfer of properties listed in the German Merger of 1927. During the year the properties of the Stockton German Church have been conveyed to this Board. In view of the problems being confronted by this Board and by the Board of Stewards, and in view of the fact that up to date we have received property to the amount of $163,500.00 for the uses of this Fund out of the total of $1,297,082.00 listed at the time of the merger, we urge the transfer to this Board at the earliest possible moment all properties then covenanted, it being understood that the rights of the German-speaking congregations to the use of this property for worship purposes shall be protected as long as needed.

In closing we voice our belief that the Endowment Fund is definitely on the way to the solution of its problems. There are difficult problems ahead; there are heavy losses yet to be taken; but if the co-operation of the Conference and our annuitants continues through the next two years, the difficulties can be met and the losses absorbed without disaster. We therefore face the future with courage and assurance.

OREN B. WAITE

BOARD OF STEWARDS

The Board of Stewards asks permission to borrow from the "Commission on Finance" an amount sufficient to complete the quarterly distribution to the Conference Claimants as they become due during the coming Conference Year: this amount to be loaned from current payments from the charges to the Conference Claimants fund. (Art. 22, Sec. 7.) (Ordered by three-fourth vote.)

The Board of Stewards recommends that the annuity rate for this year be fixed at $15.00 for each year of approved service.

The Board of Stewards asks permission to appropriate $400.00 from next year's "emergency" fund to repay that amount granted to D. W. Wilt this year because of permanent disability.

The Stewards ask permission to correct the record of J. H. Levedahl, by adding one year of approved service.

The Stewards request that the firm of Arthur M. Loomis & Co. be appointed to audit the accounts and records of their Secretary and Treasurer in accordance with the new legislation enacted by the General Conference.

GEORGE B. CLIFF.

Rent	600

for each superintendent.

We recommend that an assessment of 2 per cent be levied on all collections for the year 1936-37 to apply on the deficit of the treasurer's office expense account which was created prior to Conference, 1934.

Note: The annual expense of the treasurer's office at the present time is about $1800 per year less than it was two years ago.

Whereas, when the Entertainment and Travel Fund was inaugurated the laymen were not in the Conference and since their coming no provision has been made in the apportionment to cover their expenses, therefore we recommend that for the coming year the apportionment for this fund be increased from $4,000 of last year, which included the expense of publishing the minutes, to $4,400 and that a separate apportionment of $1,600 be made for the minutes.

We further recommend that the special appointment men be apportioned for the Entertainment and Travel Fund on the basis of one-half of one per cent of their cash salary.

We recommend that the Treasurer be authorized to pay retired men attending Conference travel expense only on the basis of one cent per mile under two hundred miles and one and one-half cents over two hundred miles.

We most heartily commend all churches which have made it a practice to pay monthly on their apportionments, and we earnestly urge all churches in the Conference to follow this practice. It will eliminate the need for borrowing money and reduce the total operating expense.

Basis of Apportionments: The apportionments for 1936-37 Conference year to cover the above budget have been figured on a three-year survey of 1933, 1934, and 1935 Conference years and are based on the membership, benevolent giving and pastoral support for each church.

The method of computing these apportionments was studied very carefully during the year by a special committee with the thought that we might arrive at a more satisfactory method, but the committee concluded that the present grade figure plan was by far the most equitable and acceptable. In arriving at this conclusion the Commission has taken into consideration the great inequalities in our churches in giving ability. In order to determine what proportion of our obligations any one church should meet, we have to consider: (1) what they have been in the habit of paying for salaries, (2) what they have been able to give for benevolences over a period of years, and (3) their membership. From these we can determine what that church really should pay toward the total obligations of the Conference.

We recognize that after the grade figure apportionments have been set up, there are still inequalities in each District which must be overcome. Some churches cannot possibly pay their apportionments because of unusual conditions, and to meet this situation other stronger churches have for years accepted and paid additional amounts, in excess of their regular apportionments. The apportionments to the churches which we have prepared for 1936-37 and which we hereby recommend to the Conference for adoption, have been adjusted with the churches in question to meet these unusual conditions.

The total apportionment for this year, exclusive of the General Administration Fund amount of $1800, is three and four-tenths per cent greater than last year because of the increase in Entertainment and Travel Fund and the two per cent to take up the treasurer's office expense deficit of years previous to 1934.

World Service Funds: We recommend that all World Service Funds be paid through our Treasurer's office and the expense of handling same will be absorbed. Thus the entire World Service payment will be forwarded to World Service headquarters with no deduction.

Conference Minutes Fund: We recommend that $1600 listed above for this fund be left entirely in the hands of the Secretaries and that the Secretaries make an annual audited report of such funds as have been allotted to them for publication of minutes.

Benevolent Giving: We recommend that when the benevolent giving in any church for a single year is in excess of twenty per cent over the amount paid during the previous year, because of special gifts or other unusual circumstances, that any increase above the twenty percent be eliminated from the survey in arriving at the apportionments for the current year. This recommendation is made because at times unusual burdens have arisen in certain churches where unusual gifts in previous years have unduly increased the apportionment.

Your Commission on Finance has attempted this year to be of help to the individual church by studying information which these churches have supplied to us through monthly statistical reports to the District Superintendents. The information received has been useful to us, and, we believe, the supplying of it has been useful to the churches. We thank you for what you have done for us, and we solicit your further cooperation to the end that all of our work may be more successfully carried on.

R. O. DEACON, Chairman.

CONFERENCE MISSIONARY SOCIETY REPORT

The Society desires in this report to briefly call attention to its aims and purposes and to earnestly request the assistance and cooperation of all pastors and laymen in collecting the entire amount which will be apportioned to the work of the Society for the next Conference year, so that the work of the Society may be more efficiently carried on.

The Society is carrying on the work which was originally done by the Missionary and Evangelistic Society organized about thirty years ago under the leadership of John L. Pitner. In the minds of the founders of that organization it had two purposes; namely, the raising of money to keep an evangelist working in the fields where otherwise he could not be supported by the local churches, and the assistance of pastors in financial ways where their charges were unable to give them proper support.

Inasmuch as the Los Angeles District of the Conference has its own society, membership in the Conference Missionary Society is restricted to the district superintendents, pastors and laymen from each of the other four districts. Each year the amount of money to be received and used by the Society is suggested by the Commission on Finance. For the past year this amount was $12,000.00 and was apportioned to the churches in the four districts. The money received on account of this apportionment is allocated for use as follows:

Twenty per cent to each of the four districts and the remaining twenty per cent to a reserve fund which is drawn upon in special cases.

Each district superintendent uses the amount allocated to his district to supplement low salaries of pastors in needy charges, and also to assist pastors in financial emergencies.

It is the aim and desire of the Society when money shall be available to use some of it for the following additional purposes:

FIRST: For the employment of a well trained man for part-time work to make a survey of the Conference and to open up new fields where there is promise of creating new charges, with a view of developing them for a short period and then turning them over to supply pastors. In this connection it is also the purpose of the Society to provide assistance to pastors in charges where such assistance seems necessary; and

SECOND: To provide leadership in the conducting of financial campaigns for some of the smaller charges heavily burdened with debt. In any such case the remuneration of the person doing the work will be guaranteed by the Society and if the campaign is successful a part or all of the amount expended by the Society will be repaid by the benefited church or churches.

These additional purposes can only be carried out providing a greater part of the amount apportioned is raised and paid in by the churches, and we earnestly request the pastors and laymen to lend their active assistance to the end that this may be done.

DONALD A. ODELL, Chairman.

LOS ANGELES MISSIONARY AND CHURCH EXTENSION SOCIETY

One of the functions of the City Missionary Society is to own and administer property of those churches which require the assistance of an established, continuous body. These churches are of two kinds: First—those which are newly organized in growing communities; and, second—those in communities of shifting population of a missionary character. The society owns and administers six such church properties, in addition to the property of the All Nations Foundation.

A second function of the Society is that of assistance in the maintenance of smaller churches, through supplementing the support of the pastor. During the past five or six years the demands for assistance in maintenance have increased, and at the same time the resources of the Society have been greatly depleted, and the increased expenditure on account of the upkeep of property has greatly increased, to the very great embarrassment of the assistance in the support of pastors of smaller churches. This has created very grave problems for the Society. However, the income of the City Missionary Society has remained the same during the past two years, and we earnestly hope that its revenues will be augmented in the near future.

One of the outstanding events of the year in Methodist circles was the annual meeting of the Society, which was combined with a reception for Bishop and Mrs. James Chamberlain Baker, held at the First Methodist Church of Hollywood on Monday evening, February 17th, when there was present one of the largest groups of Methodist people to sit down at the banquet table together in many years. Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes was the speaker of the occasion.

An additional service rendered by the Missionary Society, inaugurated this year, is that of the repository for sets of stereopticon slides. Ninety-seven sets of slides have been sent out from the office since its inauguration the first of March. Having these lecture sets accessible here in Los Angeles has greatly simplified their use, and we believe has been an important factor in World Service and missionary education.

Innumerable services offered through the facilities of the office of the Society have been rendered in the way of sending out notices of meetings, giving publicity, arranging for committee meetings, booking missionary speakers, assisting pastors with mimeographing work, furnishing pulpit supplies, and in other ways too numerous to mention. In fact it is doubtful whether the pastors and churches appreciate the enormous volume of business carried on through this office. It has come to be a clearing house for many forms of service.

WORLD SERVICE COUNCIL

World Service Cultivation: Through the work of the Continuance Committee, the ready co-operation of the District Superintendents, the support of Bishop Baker and the general interest of the pastors of this Conference a very notable World Service Cultivation Program has been carried on in this Conference.

The following World Service cultivation activities have marked the last Conference Year:

Twenty-three missionaries and leaders (Home and Foreign) have been in the Southern California Conference in the interest of World Service:

Rev. and Mrs. E. M. Stowe (Foochow); Rev. and Mrs. F. Bankhardt (Foochow); Mr. I. Hsin Liu (Peiping); Rev. and Mrs. Abel Eklund (Malaya); Bishop and Mrs. Gowdy (Foochow); Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Springer (So. Africa); Pres. James L. Ding (Foochow); Pres. and Mrs. H. W. Worley (Foochow); Rev. and Mrs. E. Pearce Hayes (Foochow); Rev. John W. Lanham (India); Mrs. Elizabeth F. Brewster (Hingwha); Pres. Stanley E. Grannum and Quartette (Samuel Huston College, Austin, Texas) and others who were dated with the churches by the pastors.

Number of Churches visited above: 217.

Thirteen World Service Cultivation Conferences were held throughout the Conference during October and the first week in November. The agencies in World Service sent representatives to present their work, among them being: Dr. Corliss P. Hargraves, Dr. J. S. Stowell, Dr. M. N. English and Dr. M. J. Holmes from the East. The Home Missions work on the Pacific Coast was represented by Chinese, Japanese and Mexican leaders. Missionary pageants were written by local groups and produced at four of the Conferences: Tulare, Glendale, First, El Centro and Phoenix. Two of the pageants, written by Mrs. Floyd M. Reeves and W. A. Matson, have been mimeographed and are available for use. Other pageants or demonstrations were given at the other cultivation conferences. An exhibit of the work of the World Service Agencies was one of the outstanding features of the Conferences. This exhibit has been enlarged and scheduled with local churches. It has been shown in twenty-four churches, under the direction of George G. Becktel. The work of the Woman's Home and Woman's Foreign Missionary Society was shown through the exhibit and their leaders participated in the Conferences.

Following the World Service Cultivation Conferences, the pamphlet by Charles Kendall, "The World You Serve," was issued, giving the World Service program in the Southern California Conference, for use in churches for their local set-up program.

The Foochow Manuals for leaders of Children, Young People and Adults have been thoroughly distributed throughout the Conference. In order to help the local churches initiate and carry forward their Parish Abroad programs, provision has been made by the Board of Foreign Missions for Miss Alice Louise Brown, author of the Manual for Children's Leaders, to conduct conferences in local churches or groups of churches. To date, 35 conferences have been held.

Considerable correspondence has been carried on with the missionaries and Chinese leaders of our Parish Abroad by the secretary of the World Service Council. A more effective plan is being proposed through which each District will have a specified time during the year to write to our Foochow Area leaders. Also a like plan gives a wider distribution of our missionary and Chinese speakers in our midst by assigning them to special Districts of our Conference, the Superintendents to make up the schedule with the local churches. Very effective schedules have been made during the past year with excellent results.

The appreciation of the Conference should be extended to J. L. Corley and his office for the extra work which they have done in directing and making possible this extensive cultivation program.

Believing that information, education and a renewal of interest are vital to the continuance of World Service giving in this Conference, we recommend that October be set aside particularly for World Service Cultivation, that there shall be set up in every district and in every charge Cultivation Meetings similar to those of this past year.

The tentative schedule is September 24 and 25, San Luis Obispo; September 28 and 29, Ventura; October 1 and 2, Long Beach; October 5 and 6, Bakersfield; October 8 and 9, Fresno; October 12 and 13, Van Nuys; October 15 and 16, San Diego; October 19 and 20, Orange; October 22 and 23, Los Angeles; October 26 and 27, Alhambra; October 29 and 30, Pomona; November 2 and 3, Redlands; November 5 and 6, El Centro; November 9 and 10, Phoenix; November 12 and 13, Tucson.

We recommend that the District Superintendents, the Chairmen of the Boards of Home Missions and Education; the Secretary for Church Schools and the Director of Young People's Work; the Presidents of the Conference Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, Woman's Home Missionary Society and the Conference Brotherhood shall constitute the committee to arrange and carry on this educational program.

We request the pastors and church treasurers to remit all World Service funds through our Conference Treasurer's office, and that monthly remittance be made from that office to the Chicago office.

Foochow Area: As far as is consistent with the wishes of individuals and churches under the law of the Church we recommend that the Foochow Area shall be the Foreign Mission field of responsibility of this Conference and that all funds for Foreign Missions not otherwise designated shall be applied to this field.

While this Conference directs its main giving to the Foochow Area, we believe that it is important that our people should be kept informed about our total Foreign Mission work and be led to feel a deepening responsibility for the world wide parish.

Home Missions: The Board of Home Missions has an especial claim upon the liberality and interest of this Conference. Here center great Home Mission fields of need, Hawaiian, Japanese, Mexican, Filipino and Chinese. These people living mainly in this Conference must be cared for spiritually. That care is the function of the Board of Home Missions. Southern California is the mecca of the transient. That ever increasing group is a Home Mission responsibility.

Literally we have a new frontier in Southern California, hence some of our churches will have to be stabilized for a time. Others menaced by debt will have to be subsidized. We feel that the Board of Home Missions must continue to help this Conference with statesmanlike leadership and generous grants of funds. But if we as a Conference are to expect generous treatment then we as a Conference must stress the work of Home Missions and call on our people to give sacrificially to this mother of needy churches. There should be an aroused interest in the cause of Home Missions.

We recommend that the amounts for the various causes which follow shall be the appropriate share of these amounts to be given to each charge, under these heads:

(a) General District Maintenance	$ 8,920.00
(b) Maintenance for territorial and racial work:
(1) Alaska	1,000.00
(2) Hawaiian Mission	6,000.00
(3) Chinese and Filipino Mission	3,500.00
(4) Japanese Mission	4,000.00
(5) Mexican Work:
I. Spanish American Institute	4,000.00
II. Plaza Community Center	3,500.00
III. Latin American Mission	12,000.00
Total	$42,920.00
(c) Board of Home Missions General Fund

Board of Education: We recommend, in view of the recent General Conference legislation changing the status of the Rally Day and 24-hour Day funds, that the Annual Conference request the Board of Education at Chicago to include in its budget and askings from the World Service Commission for educational work in the Southern California Conference, and approve the following funds for which World Service credit on apportionments may be given to the local churches:

Board of Education: We recommend that $16,500 be asked from the Board of Education for work in this Conference, to be apportioned as follows—

- | | |
|-------------------------------------|------------|
| (1) Conference Church Schools | $5,000.00 |
| (2) Wesley Foundation | $6,800.00 |

Applied as follows:

Conference Director of Wesley Foundations	$3,500.00
U.C.L.A. (University Religious Conference)	1,000.00
Stanford	600.00
Berkeley	600.00
Tucson	800.00
Tempe	300.00

|--|
| (3) Further we ask for $3,500.00 for Rally Day, and |
| (4) $1,200.00 for the 24 Hour Day Work. |

Negro Education: This Conference has bonds of interest and acquaintance with Samuel Huston College. We recommend therefore, that the World Service Funds from this Conference for Negro Education be designated to Samuel Huston College.

Other Boards: We commend the interests of the other Boards of benevolence and service in World Service to our churches for sympathetic and intelligent support and backing.

World Service Asking: The World Service apportionment sent to this Conference is $155,914. We recommend that this sum be set aside as the amount we shall try to raise for the World Service causes.

Conclusion: A Church which loses a missionary passion is a decadent Church. We are engaged in the greatest business in the world. We must not falter nor turn back, rather must we gird our loins afresh and go on with renewed vigor.

Much can be done by wise plans and aggressive education. But continuing missionary interest always goes deeper, it finds its true dynamic in the love of God shed abroad in men's hearts, it comes from a vital Christian experience.

Therefore, your World Service Council prays that the power of Christ may fill our hearts and quicken in us and our churches a new passion for the extension of His Kingdom.

REPORT OF COMMISSION ON SURVEY OF FORMER GERMAN CHURCH PROPERTIES

Pursuant to the instructions of the Conference to continue negotiations with the California Conference regarding German Church properties covered by the merger, the Treasurer of the Conference met with the German Merger Commission of the California Conference in San Francisco on December 17, 1935. Bishop Baker and the District Superintendents of the California Annual Conference, with the exception of Dr. Bent, and all the pastors of German churches in that Conference were present. After prolonged discussion we agreed upon the following points:

(1) That the work in the German-speaking churches shall not be neglected. Since at the present there are certain incomes from properties other than churches and parsonages which seem necessary to the maintenance of the church at Santa Rosa, Calvary Church in Oakland, and the United German Church in San Francisco, it is agreed that these incomes shall continue so to be used on the recommendation of the cabinet of the California Conference as long as the ministry to the German community is maintained.

(2) That in case the continuance of these churches, or any of them, is, in the judgment of the California Conference, necessary as English-speaking congregations, these incomes above referred to shall no longer be used for their support but be turned to the uses contemplated by the merger agreement.

(3) That the Quarterly Conferences of these churches shall definitely take formal action recognizing the binding force of the merger agreement, and that ultimately title to these properties is to be vested in the Southern California Annual Conference but subject to the following conditions: That in case the California Conference finds it necessary to continue these churches, or any of them, as English-speaking congregations, then there shall be a reconsideration by a Commission appointed by the California and Southern California Conferences of the question, both as to the title to the property involved and the retired relation of the German brethren in the number involved.

(4) That title to all income property shall be conveyed to the Southern California Conference as quickly as possible.

It was agreed that this Memorandum of Agreement, after approval by our Commission, should be submitted to both the Annual Conferences for adoption as a basis for future action. We so recommend.

Within the past six months all the properties lying within this Conference, and the properties at San Jose and Stockton, have been inspected and found to be in a fair state of maintenance.

During the year the properties of the German congregation at Stockton and at Orange have been conveyed to the Board of Trustees of this Conference, and these properties, together with those at San Jose, Fresno and San Diego, can now be sold for the benefit of the Fund. We, however, call attention to the fact that of the properties listed in the merger agreement on page 19 of the Minutes of 1927 totalling $1,297,082.00, to this date there has been turned over to the Board of Trustees properties and securities totalling only $163,500.00, the Pacific Old Peoples' Home being held by a separate corporation.

We strongly urge the conveyance to the Conference Board of Trustees at the earliest possible moment, of all properties included in the merger, and as listed therein, even though they may for a time be continued for use by the German-speaking congregations; their rights being protected by definite agreement as the transfers are consummated.

Your Commission also approves the recommendation of the Board of Trustees of the Conference that this body shall authorize its Board of Trustees to sell all abandoned church property coming to it from the merger, and such income property as may be deeded in connection therewith, at its discretion, for the benefit of the Conference Endowment Fund.

EVANGELISM

It is reported that when the opportunity came to E. Stanley Jones to participate in the preaching mission to be held in this country this fall, he gave up his plans which were of very great importance to him, and gladly accepted. He plans to spend the summer in the Himalayas in the preparation of his own life for this great work. What would happen if every preacher among us would spend his summer in like manner, that he might be ready for whatever part he might play in this great evangelistic movement! The Book Concern have brought some books to Conference which will be very helpful in this direction.

It is suggested that as soon as possible after Conference, the district superintendents call their men together to consider and set up a plan for evangelism for all their churches, and that in every way possible, every church shall be encouraged vigorously to carry out the plan through the year.

Your Committee on Evangelism wish to call your attention to this fact, however: Evangelism is a life-long process. After the soldier has enlisted, we must see that he is trained. After the pupil has entered our Lord's School of Life, we must see to it that through our neglect or carelessness he is not denied education in that School.

As a basis for your thought, your Commission bring to you the following questions:

1. What does decision for Christ mean?
2. What are the most effective methods of getting decisions?
3. To what extent are individuals, as you know them, having an experience of conversion and beginning a life of new moral integrity and spiritual power?
4. What are the conditions, as you know them, on which any re-birth of vital Christian experience depends?
5. How do you, as a pastor, prepare yourself for your evangelistic preaching and program?
6. How can pastors and laymen co-operate in the program of Evangelism for the local Church?
7. What shall we do with backsliders?
8. What is the relation of Evangelism and Christian Education?
9. What use shall we make of our church literature in our program of Evangelism?
10. How do you prepare your (a) Children; (b) Young People, for Church membership?
11. What is the best program of Evangelism your Church has ever conducted?
12. How may we permeate the total program of our Church with the spirit of Evangelism?

W. W. KALER

CONFERENCE EVANGELIST

At the time last year when I should have prepared my conference report, I was so near death that it was impossible for me to do so, so I include it at this time.

During the conference year of 1933-34, I held 19 meetings, as follows:

Seven camp meetings—Washburn, No. Dakota; Ridgeview Park, Pennsylvania; Fig, No. Carolina; Beulah Grave, Sharon Center, and Sychar, Ohio; and Clarksburg, Ontario, Canada.

Two Prayer Conferences—one in a Nazarene church in Hartford, Connecticut, and one in a Methodist Episcopal church in Alexandria, Minnesota.

Ten revivals—one for the Akron Holiness Association in Akron, Ohio; one for an Evangelical church in Everett, Massachusetts; one for a Congregational-Christian church in Westgrove, Ohio; two for Nazarene churches in Haverhill, Massachusetts, and Danielson, Connecticut; two for Wesleyan Methodist churches in Coshocton, Ohio, and Greer,

So. Carolina; and three in Methodist Episcopal churches in Ortonville, Minnesota, and in Olivesburg and Moreland, Ohio.

During this conference year I have held only 13 meetings. Because of my sickness, I lost 22½ weeks which cut seven camp meetings and two revivals out of my scheduled engagements. The 13 meetings which I held were as follows:

One Prayer Conference in a Christian and Missionary Alliance church in Livermore, California.

Twelve revivals—one in the Pilgrim Tabernacle, Pasadena, California; two in Bible Institutes in Portland, Oregon, and Huntington Park, California; three in Nazarene churches in Kansas City, Kansas, and in Hartford and Danielson, Connecticut; three in So. Methodist churches in Orosi, California, and in Roseburg and Coquille, Oregon; and three in Methodist Episcopal churches in La Verne, Yorba Linda, and St. Pauls, Los Angeles.

It is with more than usual gratitude to God that I submit this, another report. The goodness and mercy of God shown to me in the sparing of my life, has profoundly influenced me. What I saw and felt and was made to understand of my Lord and His salvation, as I lingered on the border of eternity in restful fellowship and communion with my Christ, has given a new depth, vision, reality and earnestness to my Christian experience. The hour when Jesus spoke so plainly and recommissioned me to return and continue to preach and evangelize, will stay with me as long as I have a memory. As never before, I feel the urgency and responsibility connected with the work of evangelism, and long to do my best to win the lost to Christ. I love my Lord and rejoice in the consciousness of His abundant grace in my heart. Jesus is all to me and I am wholly and forever His. I am determined to keep in His will and serve Him faithfully, the Holy Spirit helping me.

For my work last year, I received $2458.98.

For my work this year, I received $1334.91.

With sincere appreciation of your love and prayers, Brethren,

WARREN C. McINTIRE.

METHODIST CAMP MEETING ASSOCIATION

The members of our Association believe the Christians of today should do all in their power to recover the spiritual dynamic of first century Christianity, which also characterized the days of early Methodism. A society which is to function in harmony with the spirit and teachings of Christ must be made up, for the most part, of people who shall have been spiritually transformed. Our age is exposed to sin in its most subtle insinuating, alluring, deceptive forms, blighting the lives of multitudes like a devastating plague, not sparing youth or the members of the Church. To help people to become strong in the Lord and in the strength of his might that they may become valiant soldiers to carry the gospel of a supernatural salvation to the ends of the earth, is our task.

To help to accomplish this purpose we offer the finest program we have ever had. Dr. Mert S. Rice will preach twice every day, August 16th to the 23rd, in First Church, Long Beach. He is a preacher of wide repute and evangelistic fervor. Bishop J. W. Pickett of India will speak every afternoon on Missions and Evangelism with Round Table. F. G. H. Stevens will be our Bible expositor every morning.

Young people's day will be Friday, Aug. 21 with a banquet at 6:30, half price for young people of High School age.

We ask the prayers and cooperation of all pastors, and official members of all our churches.

JOHN M. BARNHART.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

"This generation has an appointment with destiny," says Walter Lippman. Great issues are in the balance and momentous decisions, affecting the life of the race for good or evil for generations to come, will be made before the twentieth century reaches the half-way mark. "Which will prevail depends mainly upon education."

What place should the Christian Church hold in this gigantic and dramatic scene? To such a question no simple answer can be given, but one comes close to the heart of the matter when he replies that the task of the Church is to permeate the whole situation with the spirit of Jesus by the Christ-like living of Christ-like people. By its work the Church is to produce Christ-like personalities whose chief business is to produce social and world conditions in which such personalities may continue to thrive.

"It is a race between education and catastrophe," says one authority. "What is to prevail depends mainly on education," says another. Whatever the point of view relative to Christian fundamentals, all rely upon educational processes to carry out and complete our work. All of us believe in Christian education. It is indispensable. We depend upon it to lay deep and secure the foundations for a Christian super-structure, as well as to reveal the kind of super-structure that should be.

Conditions that harm and hinder, conditions that help and enhance, demand our attention. Human personality is the supreme value. It is our point of reference by which all other values must be appraised. "If Jesus Christ is the perfect revelation of God and the perfect revelation of the possibilities of man, what difference should that make in human living? If we accept the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man, what about present economic and industrial conditions, war and international relations, discrimination against other races and peoples? There is need of an intelligent and comprehensive program of Christian education administered in a patient, painstaking and sympathetic spirit. Christian education has an almost unlimited opportunity, an almost super-human responsibility."

The Conference Board of Education does not seek to usurp the places and functions of the agencies it represents. With representatives of all agencies in its official group it may become the coordinating agency through which the entire Church may be served with a well wrought out, balanced and supervised educational program. This end can be achieved only through the cooperation of all the boards, societies and agencies which are interested in an educational approach to the local church, such as the several benevolence boards of the church, the Woman's Home and Woman's Foreign Missionary Societies, the Spanish-American Institute, the Committees on World Peace and Social Problems, the California Church Council and similar organizations. In line with the cooperation of agencies is the development and promotion of special emphasis in Christian education, such as Peace Education, Stewardship Education, Temperance Education. It is only through an alert central agency that this cooperation can be achieved and made effective.

We earnestly solicit the cordial sympathetic help of the leaders of all our educational agencies, and of our pastors and people, as we seek to coordinate our efforts for the largest and most effective impact that can be made. Coordination of efforts will effect integration of personality. Our aim is a common one, our efforts should be unified.

To this end representatives of our various institutions and agencies have accepted membership in our Conference Board of Education and together with the leaders of our age groups and departments are seeking a closer fellowship and are endeavoring to discover the common elements that should unite us in our efforts to produce people of well-rounded and effective personalities. We mention briefly some of the departments and the agencies represented, and outline their particular emphasis:

Elementary Work Committee: Counselling and holding conferences with local leaders and teachers of the Beginners, Primary and Junior Departments of the Church School.

Young People's Work: Through the departments of the Young People's division and Epworth Leagues in the local church, Summer Institutes and conferences, religious education is promoted through various channels: Personal religious living with special instruction in Worship and use of the Bible, Peace, Temperance, Social Action, Missions and Recreation. Last summer, the six Summer Institutes with their helpful courses and quest groups, enrolled a total of over 1400 young people.

Adult Work Committee: Promoting vital courses for Sunday morning discussion groups that will lead to intelligent action in church and community projects.

Spanish American Institute and Plaza Community Center: Spanish American Institute; enrollment this year, 80. Nine received diplomas this spring. The Plaza Community Center; through its clinic, legal welfare and church groups, approximately 10,000 contacts during the year.

World Service Council: Promotion of educational phase of the Council's work. World Service Cultivation conferences set up. Missionary speaking schedules formed.

Wesley Foundation Work: Denominational programs at tax supported educational institutions, ministering to over 1200 Methodist students.

University of Southern California: School of Religion, Leadership Courses and Forums.

Woman's Home Missionary Society: One hundred ninety auxiliaries, membership 7865, regular study texts used; Educational work carried on through 147 children's and youth organizations with a membership of 2737. Objective: Correlation of work in missionary education.

Woman's Foreign Missionary Society: Membership 9178, 185 auxiliaries, carried on educational program through prescribed study texts. Young business women, in the Wesleyan Service Guilds, have promoted study programs; 147 children's and youth societies, membership 2882, also organized for study.

California Church Council: Interdenominational educational work: Leadership training, Vacation Church Schools, Week-day Religious Instruction, and Summer Conferences.

To save printing expense detailed reports of the various agencies and departments in the Board of Education are being mimeographed for distribution during Conference.

J. L. CORLEY.

SCHOOL OF RELIGION

The Commission on School of Religion reports that the time has not arrived for the carrying out of the will of the Conference on the matter of a Divinity School under the complete control of the Conference; but we recommend the continuation of the Commission.

HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION

In order to make the Historical Association of real value to the conference it will be necessary for every member to take its work seriously. This may be done.

First let every pastor make clippings from the local papers, that may be published in his community, of all of such items that relate to the work of the church and send these clippings to the historical Association.

Second, in reviewing the historical records on the various charges items of historical value will frequently be found, all such should be placed in the hands of the chairman of the association for classification and preservation.

SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC QUESTIONS, WORLD PEACE AND INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

General Conference Pronouncements

Social and Economic Questions

I. The Religious Grounds

1. We are in the seventh year of the most devastating depression of modern times. The people called Methodists refuse to pass by on the other side while millions for whom Christ died are in misery. We will not be silent in the presence of hunger, injustice, and exploitation. We insist that it is not only the right of the Church to speak; it is its bounden duty.

2. We, who are the heirs of the Hebrew prophets and the followers of Jesus of Nazareth, declare that the Church is morally obligated to teach the divinely revealed principles of personal and social conduct, to voice judgment against those practices that contradict the commandments of our Lord, and to proclaim the necessity of establishing the kingdom of God on earth.

3. In the revelation made manifest in Jesus, God is a Father and we, belonging to the family of God, are brothers. Man is of infinite worth because he is a son of God. Christianity holds that personality is the supreme value; it tests all institutions and practices by their effect upon personality. It condemns all practices that are destructive of personality and commends those practices that enrich personality. That Jesus died for the redemption of man is sufficient warrant for Christians to labor for his emancipation from every personality-destroying influence, just as we through Christ would seek to save him from sin.

4. Because of its insistence upon the sacredness of personality, Christianity has been a social force. It has released the transforming power of Christ, which, working out through transformed individuals, has resulted in social action that has, in part, transformed society. The early Christian may have recognized the achievements of Greek and Roman civilization, but, because of his acceptance of the fact of man's infinite worth, he was forced to demand the abolition of slavery upon which that civilization rested. Similarly, with full appreciation of the cultural contributions of Renaissance Europe, serfdom nevertheless had to go. The Christian of today is the very first to recognize the rise in the standard of living made possible by the emergence of modern industrialism, but he demands the elimination of all those factors that result in the destruction of human values, brotherly relations and cultural advance.

5. Because modern science offers Christianity the possibility of realizing all of the physical conditions essential to brotherhood, the Church is forced to demand whatever reconstruction of society is essential to that realization. We refuse to submit to a state of affairs wherein grasping interests seize the contributions of science and prostitute them to selfishness. We insist that the contributions of science shall be used for the purpose of enriching the life of all. We must not allow the very achievements of science to be used by the selfish in such fashion as to destroy society itself.

6. We do not claim to possess sufficient information to pass upon the specific measures essential to the realization of the Christian goal in society, but we do believe that, as we approach the Christian ideal, brotherly co-operation will supplant competitive struggle, the appeal of creative service will increasingly replace the desire to acquire, and democracy will be extended as autocracy is curbed. While we do not pass judgment upon the techniques of attainment, we, as Methodists, do declare ourselves in favor of a personality-making economy; that is, an economic order wherein the fundamental objective is fullness of life for all. To that end we summon our membership, and we believe our ministers and laymen should face this task together.

II. The Facts

1. There is wide divergence of opinion among us as to the meaning of a Christian society, as well as to the means for its realization. That fact reveals the necessity of united study. We call upon the Church to make such a study which might well mark the beginning of a revival both personally and socially significant. We suggest this united approach to the social issue because we desire a united Methodism moving toward a Christian social order. In this united endeavor certain undisputed facts which confront us constitute a challenge to the Church. Among these facts are the following:

2. Privation in the midst of potential plenty;
- Gross inequality in income and property;
- Insecurity;
- Unemployment, with its resultant effect upon national morale;
- Long-continued public relief, slowly destroying the self-respect of the recipient and contributing to the pauperization of a nation;
- Preventable sickness, accompanied by a menacing rise in tuberculosis and diseases of undernourishment;
- Reduction in the support of public and private education, a fact that strikes at the very foundations of constitutional government;
- Extensive denial of equal opportunity as a result of economic circumstance or racial condition;
- The wasteful and unintelligent use of natural resources;
- The excessive debt carried by American productive enterprise, due to over-capitalization, unplanned expansion, and financial racketeering, resulting in a carrying charge that precludes adequate wages for workers or reasonable dividends for owners;
- The increasing burden of armament;
- The closed doors confronting American youth, with the consequent loss of their service to the nation, and the destruction of their faith in our institutions;
- Outbreaks of mob violence;
- The growth of tenant farming and the creation of a peasant class with no property stake in the nation.

3. The Christian conscience declares that the continuance of these conditions is sinful in the sight of God, and the Christian Church summons its membership to the task of saving us from our sins. The kingdom of God cannot be built upon foundations of economic injustice. We are told by some that it is not the function of the Church to discuss such matters. The Church makes no claim to expertness in economics and engineering, although within its membership are many highly trained economists and engineers. Methodism does assert, however, that since every unit in the statistical table descriptive of unemployment is a human being, we are vitally concerned and have full authority from the teachings of Jesus to demand the elimination of these anti-social facts. We will not be silenced by critics who offer no solution to these problems.

III. Some Proposed Solutions

1. Within the membership of Methodism there are differences of opinion as to the causes that have produced these unchristian facts and as to the methods of solving the problems that confront us. Among the positions taken, are the following:

2. One group of Methodists believes that the fundamental cause lies in the fact that we are organized around an acquisitive principle, and that the basic method of modern industrialism is the struggle for profit. It is declared that this method is the organized expression of selfishness, and that the system requires this dynamic for its success. Methodism is urged by this group, therefore, to pronounce judgment upon this profit-seeking economy, and to call upon its members to abandon the method of the struggle for profit and to replace it by a method that does not violate the divine law of service. This end is to be achieved, these members believe, by establishing a planned social economy which continuously adjusts economic effort to measured needs, cultural as well as material, thereby introducing intelligence and knowledge and eliminating speculative guessing; that the motive of service is required for this method just as the motive of self-interest is required and generated by the profit-seeking economy. To be successful, it is argued, a planned social economy must rest upon social ownership of the resources and plant necessary to its operation. It is declared that brotherhood becomes real, because such a system enables a large increase in, and the widest possible distribution of, property for personal use and development. It is believed that such a process leads to a society in which there is no class distinction or privilege, in which all are free to develop their capacities and to contribute creatively to the maintenance and progress of humanity; in which the struggle for profit and power is gradually replaced by mutual aid and in which the Christian principle of service is made concrete. This group, like all other Methodists, repudiates the use of force and recourse to violence in social change, and pledges itself to the democratic method of change, and to the resistance and defeat of all attacks upon the democratic process.

3. Another group utterly repudiates this answer to the economic problem. Its contention is argued with force and clarity in a recent publication from the Brookings Institute as follows: "The American people have come a long way on the road toward plenty in the relatively brief space of 150 years. Indeed, during this period standards of living in all industrial nations have been enormously improved. The era of less than two centuries in which our present system of economic organization has developed has magnified man's power over nature vastly more than had all the preceding span of human history. Viewing the problem of economic progress in the large and in this historic perspective, it must be conceded that the economic system which has evolved along without technological development has achieved truly remarkable results. . . . Before discarding the institutions and procedures under which the material civilization of our times has been achieved, it would seem to be the part of wisdom to recognize that this system has shown great capacity for evolutionary growth in the past. May it not be simply in need of readjustment to new factors which have entered the economic situation, or of adaptation in the light of clearer understanding of the fundamental economic forces which govern continuing economic progress. If we can discover definite types of maladjustments now existing, and devise specific ways of correcting them, this road to progress seems much surer than the uncertain and always costly pathway of revolutionary change." The Brookings report holds that our technical capacities for production are not fully brought into play under the system of distributing income and handling the pecuniary side of the economic process which is now in vogue. The particular point in this maladjustment is a failure promptly and fully to pass on the results of improved production techniques to the masses of the population, the report states, and continues: "The more acute minds within the ranks of business leadership have perceived these basic facts of the economic process and recognized that only by acting in conformity with them can they assure the long-time success and growth of their own companies as well as administer to general well-being. The voices of such business leaders are still sounding in the economic wilderness of lesser men who have not as yet seen their place in the larger picture of national economic progress."

4. Still another group among us has turned to the consumers' and producers' co-operation, believing that in the co-operative movement there lies the possibility of expressing brotherhood and at the same time of conserving the values that lie in private ownership and operation.

5. Because of the differences of opinion as to method, and the sincerity and standing of the individuals arguing the cases at issue, we do not pass judgment on techniques. We will test concrete proposals and systems by the Christian doctrine of personality.

IV. The Case for Democracy

1. We are unalterably opposed to any method of change that is based upon war or that condones violence. We will oppose, likewise, attempts to maintain privilege by recourse to violence upon the part of those who refuse to obey decisions made by the people through the democratic process. We repudiate the entire concept of class war. The fact that class consciousness exists is a challenge to remove it, not to accentuate it. Class consciousness has no place in the democratic community; the very idea of brotherhood assumes co-operation in the interests of all rather than war in the interests of a class.

2. We declare ourselves for democracy. All dictatorships challenge democracy. Is faith in a government conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal a forlorn hope? We of Methodism answer, No!

3. The passing of democracy would mark the passing of the freedom that is essential to the proclamation of the Christian message. A free church cannot long survive the death of a free school, free press, free speech, and free assemblage. Methodism, because of its emphasis upon preaching and education, has a vital stake in the retention of democracy. We refuse to go with those who would destroy political liberty to win economic justice. To the contrary, we will strive to maintain democracy, to the end that free men may use their freedom to win economic justice for themselves and for their brothers. For that reason we will resist dictatorship; economic justice is to be won by extending democracy to the industrial order, not by setting up therein the autocracy of dictatorship.

4. The interplay of ideas and the struggle of conflicting interests cannot be avoided in a democracy. But in a democracy such conflict is under law and order, with the constitutionally elected representatives of the majority pledged to enforce law and maintain order, and pledged likewise to guarantee those civil liberties that protect the minority. Thus the minority has opportunity to be vocal, to scrutinize, to criticize, to educate, and through the use of the ballot, to become the majority. Change is thus achieved within the democratic structure by free men who may turn to religion for motivation and to science for method, for the purpose of creating a truly Christian social order. The avenues through which originality flows are kept open. Democracy thus maintains a technique of change which is, in fact, the fundamental principle of stability. It is not at all impossible that, by this method, a splendid synthesis may be developed whereby the creative initiative that flows from individualism may be conserved and the values that lie in collective endeavor be appropriated.

5. Dictatorship decapitates opposition. Democracy dignifies it. Under dictatorship, the creative mind in opposition is destroyed and the nation moves toward intellectual sterility. In democracy the creative mind is protected and conserved. But democracy is more than a political form. It is a political philosophy expressed in terms of Liberty, Equality, Fraternity. It is identified with such ideals as Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness. The Methodist Episcopal Church calls upon its people to use the democratic form to realize this ideal.

6. Consequently, believing in both the democratic form and the democratic ideal, we propose to resist every form of dictatorship, whether it come from the left of Communism or the right of Fascism. We will resist all attempts of those who profess to fight subversive movements, while in reality they pursue policies which destroy the very democracy they profess to defend. We will make every effort to maintain democratic government, and to retain those great guarantees of freedom that have been written into the Constitution of the United States and the other great democratic constitutions of the world, because the truth that makes men free cannot be proclaimed in states wherein freedom itself is destroyed."

World Peace and International Relations

"The patriotism of the Methodist Episcopal Church has never been challenged. Neither our motive nor our loyalty must be impugned when we insist on the fulfillment of pledges made to the dead, and assert our Christian ideals to the living."

In these terms, as in the General Conference of 1924, we set ourselves to create the will to peace, the conditions for peace, and the organization for peace. "The agencies of our Church shall not be used in preparation for war: they shall be used in preparation for peace."

The threats of war in the world today are so grave that we feel called upon to restate our convictions on this subject. Therefore in the name of Jesus Christ, the Prince of Peace, and with the hope that His Spirit may be evident in these words, we make the following declarations:

War as we now know it is utterly destructive. It is the greatest social sin of modern times; a denial of the ideals of Christ; a violation of human personality; and a threat of civilization. Therefore, we declare that the Methodist Episcopal Church as an institution does not endorse, support, or purpose to participate in war.

If civilization is to endure, nonviolent methods of overcoming evil must be found and demonstrated. We are convinced that intelligence and good will can find them. As Christians we shall earnestly seek to discover and recommend ways, in harmony with the mind of Christ, by which mankind may deal effectively with evil, whether in the relations of nations or in the relations of economic or racial groups.

Freedom of conscience is one of the most valuable heritages of Christians. It has been won by long struggle and should never be surrendered. "In the long run any people have far more to gain by cherishing freedom of conscience than by any regimentation which takes away that freedom." We therefore petition the government of the United States to grant to members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who may be conscientious objectors to war, the same exemption from military service as has long been granted to members of the Society of Friends and similar religious organizations. We petition all educational institutions which require military training to excuse from such training any student belonging to the Methodist Episcopal Church who has conscientious scruples against military training.

We earnestly petition the government of the United States to cease supporting all military training in civilian institutions. We rejoice in the position taken by the General Conference of 1928 and reaffirmed by the General Conference of 1932, which declared that "we are opposed to all military training in high schools and to compulsory military training in colleges and universities." We urge Methodists in all parts of the world to make a like request of their respective governments.

We believe that the United States should lead the other nations of the world in a program for the progressive reduction of armaments. The governments of 59 nations having, by the Pact of Paris, officially renounced war, should now abolish weapons designed primarily for aggressive warfare. The drastic reduction or total abolition of such weapons would greatly enhance the significance of the peace pact, allay suspicions and fears among nations less prepared to make war, prevent rivalry in armaments among the nations, and help to promote peace in the world.

The exposure of the aims, methods, and practices of the munitions makers of the United States and of other nations is of great value in the development and understanding of the causes of war. We commend the Committee of the United States Senate under whose direction this investigation was made and express it as our conviction that their findings are making a valuable contribution to exposure of one of the primary causes of war. We urge the passage by the Congress of the United States of a neutrality bill designed to keep the United States from international entanglements incident upon the sale of materials to belligerent nations.

We recommend that the Federal government assume exclusive responsibility for the manufacture of munitions of all kinds. We further recommend prohibiting the sale of munitions of war to any individual, group, or nation.

We recommend the creation of a Department of Peace by the United States government, the head of which shall have cabinet rank, this department to be financed through appropriations equal to not more than five per cent of appropriations for purposes of national defense. The department should be authorized and directed to carry on a constructive program of education as a part of its functions, utilizing every known avenue of approach to the mind, on the causes, cost, and waste of war.

We recommend that Methodist bodies in all parts of the world make similar requests of their respective governments.

The amount of financial support to be allocated to the work of this Commission shall be referred to the World Service Commission for favorable consideration. The General Conference authorizes the appointment of a Committee on World Peace in each local church and a similar committee in each Annual Conference and Episcopal Area, these to be listed among committees to be appointed.

We recommend that if men are conscripted in time of war, money, industry, and materials shall also be conscripted to the end that individuals may not derive profit from war, war materials, or war supplies.

We appeal for such modification of the present Immigration Act as will place Orientals on the same quota basis as now governs immigration from European countries.

Recognizing the imperative need for international organization, we urge the government of the United States to enter the World Court and to state the conditions under which it will consent to membership in the League of Nations.

We urge the government of the United States to call an international economic conference for the purpose of securing a more intelligent and just distribution of natural resources and also for the purpose of removing all dangerous barriers to international trade. Toward the success of that conference we urge our government to be willing to surrender inequitable national advantages, even as we shall ask other nations so to do.

We endorse the program of peace education as now being conducted by the Emergency Peace Campaign and the National Peace Conference."

Missions, World Peace and International Relations

"As missionaries, by virtue of their vocation, are intermediaries between races, nations, and classes, we urge that they take full advantage of the opportunity thus afforded them for the creation of understanding and good will in these groups. In the interests of its primary spiritual responsibility and in the interest of world peace itself, the Board of Foreign Missions has a major interest in this field.

The promotion of world peace is an interdenominational, inter-racial, and international activity. The Board of Foreign Missions with its worldwide contacts has the well-established co-operative relationships necessary to make peace action possible and effective.

The Board also has exceptional access for accurate information with reference to the causes of stress and strain which are likely to lead to war.

World Missions cannot be separated from the peace issue, yet is separated in the minds of the youth of the church. Youth today needs to realize that the greatest world peace movement is the World Peace Mission of Jesus Christ.

We, therefore, recommend that the Board of Foreign Missions express its willingness to co-operate with the World Peace Commission of the Methodist Episcopal Church in ways mutually acceptable to relieve mankind in every land from the brutalizing effects of war."

"B"

The Church is called upon to make a study of the meaning of a Christian society in order that there may be a united Methodism moving toward a Christian social order. To this end, Bishop Baker is instructed to appoint a committee of ministers and laymen to promote and aid as a clearing house of information for the churches of the Conference a comprehensive and unbiased study of the social questions, as they are related to the Christian program, to the end that Methodists may be able to act with more unanimity and understanding as citizens and Christians in the solution of the social problems which confront us in this day. In accomplishing this the committee shall work in close connection with the Conference Board of Education so that the coordination of all organizations in the Conference, having the same objectives, be effected.

CORRELATION

In accordance with the action of the Annual Conference a year ago, instructing the Committee on Correlation first, to set up a temporary council to be known as the Council of Methodist Agencies of the Southern California Conference; and, second, that the Committee also make a further study of the missionary societies with the view to formulating such an organization as might deal effectively with the missionary and social problems of the metropolitan area of Los Angeles and the rural areas of the Conference; the Committee on Correlation submits to the Conference the following report:

Early in the fall, following Conference, the Committee on Correlation met and raised two sub-committees to carry out these two distinct purposes of the Conference. However, these committees had not proceeded far until it became apparent that if we were to effectively correlate the entire educational, social, missionary and financial program of the Conference, we were moving in the wrong direction in setting up two distinct groups. As a result the matter was referred back to the Committee on Correlation, and one sub-committee was constituted to study the entire problem as a unit.

This sub-committee has continued its work throughout the year, with frequent sessions, as a result of which they have arrived at the definite conviction that there should be, first—one correlating agency for the entire program of the Conference; and, second—that all of these correlated agencies should be divided into two separate groups, according to the main division of their interest.

At a meeting held at the Church of All Nations on Friday, June fifth, the Constitution and By-Laws of such a correlating body was adopted by the Committee on Correlation, and the resulting organization was formally set up. The Constitution and By-Laws follow herewith:

Constitution and By-Laws of the Federation of Methodist Agencies

I. Name. The name of the organization shall be The Federation of Methodist Agencies.

II. Purpose. The purpose of the Federation shall be to aid in correlating the activities, programs, services, budgets, financial campaigns, and to assist in the general promotion of the missionary, educational and social agencies operating within the bounds of the Southern California Conference of the Methodist Church.

III. Membership. (1) Institutional Membership: Any institution, agency or missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal Church operating within the bounds of the Southern California Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church may, by the vote of its governing body, of which written notice shall be given, become an institutional member of the Federation. The relation of the Federation to such institution or agency shall be advisory only. Any such institution or agency may withdraw from membership upon giving written notice of such withdrawal.

(2) Active Individual Membership: The active individual membership of the Federation shall consist of members of the Methodist Episcopal Church who have made a contribution of at least five dollars per annum to any one or all of the institutions or agencies belonging to the Federation.

(3) Associate Individual Membership: The associate individual membership of the Federation shall consist of persons other than members of the Methodist Episcopal Church who have made a contribution of five dollars or more to any one of the agencies or institutions composing the Federation.

IV. Board of Managers: The Board of Managers shall consist of the executive or administrative officers of each institution, agency or missionary society within the Federation, together with two members of the governing body of each, who are not paid officers, as they shall be elected by such body.

Divisions: The Board of Managers shall be made up of two divisions:

First—The Council of Methodist Social and Educational Agencies.
Second—The Council of Methodist Societies.

(a) The Council of Methodist Social and Educational Agencies shall be made up of these institutions and agencies which have to do primarily with social and educational service, such as:

All Nations Foundation	Goodwill Industries of Southern California
Board of Education of the Southern California Conference	Goodwill Industries of San Diego
David and Margaret Home	Methodist Hospital of Southern California
Deaconess Home, Los Angeles	Pacific Old People's Home
Esther Hall, San Diego	Plaza Community Center
Frances De Pauw School	Robincroft Home
First Church Welfare Department of Los Angeles	Spanish American Institute
Good Samaritan Hospital, Phoenix and such other social and educational agencies as shall be organized from time to time.

(b) The Council of Methodist Societies shall be made up of those Boards, Commissions, institutions and agencies which have to do with matters of church extension, maintenance, mission churches and special work, such as:

Conference Missionary Society	Los Angeles Missionary and Church Extension Society
Conference World Service Council	Pacific Chinese Mission
Conference Board of Home Missions	Pacific Japanese Mission
Conference Board of Trustees	San Diego Methodist Episcopal Church Union
Commission on Finance	Woman's Aid Federation
Harbor Missionary Society	Woman's Foreign Missionary Society
Latin American Mission	Woman's Home Missionary Society
Pasadena Methodist Union and such other societies as may be organized from time to time.

V. Meetings: Regular meetings of the Board of Managers shall be held in May and November of each year, at the time and place fixed by the Board of Managers. Special meetings may be called by the President whenever deemed necessary by the Board of Managers.

The Council of Methodist Social and Educational Agencies, and the Council of Methodist Societies shall meet at the call of their respective chairman.

The Board of Managers shall call an annual meeting of the active and associate individual members of the Federation, as early in the Conference year as is deemed advisable, for the purpose of acquainting the members of the Federation and of the Methodist Episcopal Church with the benevolent, social welfare and educational activities of the Church.

VI. Promotion and Cultivation: The Board of Managers shall co-operate with the World Service Council, the Commission on Finance and other benevolent organizations within the Conference, in a Conference-wide educational campaign, followed by systematic cultivation of the field in the interest of World service and other benevolent causes of the Church.

VII. Officers: The Board of Managers shall, at its May meeting, elect the following officers, who shall serve during the succeeding Conference year:

President

First Vice-President (Chairman of the Council of Methodist Social and Educational Agencies).

Second Vice-President (Chairman of the Council of Methodist Societies).

Secretary
Treasurer

VIII. Amendments: These By-Laws may be amended from time to time at any regular or special meeting of this Federation, by a two-thirds vote of those present and voting.

It becomes at once apparent that the main function of the Federation of Methodist Agencies is, first, the correlation of the entire program of the Methodist Church in Southern California, and, second, the presentation of this total program to the Church in Southern California and the effective cultivation of our entire constituency in the interests of the total program.

It further becomes apparent that by the formation of the two Councils within the Federation, opportunity is given for those organizations of a missionary character to cooperate in their program, and likewise those institutions and agencies engaged in social and educational work to effectively cooperate in the correlation of their programs, raising the standards and otherwise uniting and solidifying these institutions and agencies in a common purpose.

The Committee on Correlation recommends:

First—That the Conference approve the Constitution of the Federation of Methodist Agencies; and,

Second—That the Committee on Correlations be discharged and the entire responsibility for the correlation of the program within the Conference be committed to the Federation of Methodist Agencies.

Third—That the Bishop of the San Francisco Area and the District Superintendents of the Southern California Annual Conference be ex-officio members of the Federation.

LEONARD OECHSLI.

TEMPERANCE

After the very able and strong pronouncement of last year, your present committee felt that the time for action had come. Early in the year, Mrs. Eva Wheeler, a member of this committee, was authorized to carry our request to the California Council of Churches that the Council call all temperance organizations together to plan a united forward campaign against alcohol. The Fresno meeting was held, a program agreed upon, and the local option movement initiated. The United Dry Forces, headed by Roy L. Smith, are pressing the battle and we pledge ourselves and our churches to obey orders and give sacrificially of our time and money to obtain local option.

Local option was the process twenty-five and thirty years ago by which two-thirds of the area of California was freed from the dominance of the open saloon, under the leadership of Dr. Chapman and later, Dr. Gandier. We realize that the task before us is no easy one. For over seventy-five years the church has fought the liquor traffic. Our ministers especially have sacrificed and suffered, yes, many of them have given their lives to bring about the abolition of this great evil. We must do this again. It cannot be done by apathy and indifference. Men will have to die again before we will finally be freed from the curse of liquor.

We pledge our loyalty to the W. C. T. U., whose work of education has been and will be the most important part of the battle. Our churches will be open and our gifts given to these wonderful women.

We are glad for the reorganization of the Anti-Saloon League and the union of the American Temperance Federation. There are numerous improvements yet to be made in this organization. Its name should be changed; younger men should become the burden-bearers. There should be new emphasis on temperance and not too much playing of politics.

We are also glad for the remodeling of our own Temperance and Public Morals organization. We note with great satisfaction the selection of Dr. Cherrington as head.

The great task is to educate our youth and we pledge ourselves to renewed activity of our Quarterly Temperance Committees, and to more vital teaching of temperance in our Church Schools and Epworth Leagues.

1. We extend greetings to the State Senate Investigating Committee and offer any aid possible in uncovering graft and vice conditions in the Board of Equalization, now under investigation.

2. We request the District Attorney's office to assume full responsibility in a relentless prosecution where cases come before the courts.

3. That we urge Governor Merriam to carry forward a complete investigation and pledge the investigating committee sufficient financial support to meet their needs in such investigations.

We nominate for directors of the California Anti-Saloon League: ministers—John Gabrielson and Walter John Sherman; laymen—Hugh C. Gibson and Dr. M. A. Wilkinson.

A. L. BAKER.

ALL NATIONS FOUNDATION

Under the leadership of Dr. G. Bromley Oxnam, recently elected a Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the All Nations Foundation had its inception fifteen years ago with the purchase of two two-story houses and a vacant lot, located at 810-24 East Sixth Street, which is the present site of the main building.

The purpose of the All Nations Foundation, under the City Society, is to establish settlement house activities in the less privileged sections of Los Angeles, in an effort to meet the physical, mental, social, and spiritual needs of the underprivileged boy or girl, and to render this service without distinction as to class, creed, or color.

Child Welfare Clinic: In 1931 the gift of an unknown donor, the Child Welfare Clinic was established in an attempt to make a clinical study and provide clinical treatment for the 1200 children who are included in our activities. This project comes to a conclusion on July 1, 1936. No finer service has been rendered in any institution or through any organization than has been made possible by the generosity of this unknown benefactor. The work that has been started and demonstrated in this five-year period has attracted nation wide attention, and an adaption of this service is now being seriously considered by the American Youth Commission, which is funded by the Rockefeller Foundation.

Sunset Center: In 1933 through the co-operation of the service clubs, (Rotary, Kiwanis, Exchange, Friday Morning) municipal departments, private character building organizations, and the co-ordinating council, Sunset Center was formally opened. It was reported that in 1932 there were 660 cases before the police or courts from this area while in 1935 there were only 156. This represents a decrease of 77%. This Center is located in what was the old Epworth Church. It now operated with a staff maintained by the Los Angeles Kiwanis Club and the Friday Morning Club under the direction of the All Nations Foundation. Over five hundred children and young people are officially connected with the activities of this organization. The First Baptist, First Congregational, and First Unitarian Churches are uniting this summer in funding the vacation church school for a four-weeks' period.

Hollenbeck Center: In November, 1935, Hollenbeck Social Center, which was formerly the quarterly conference of the Grace Methodist Church with Ben F. Forney director, became a unit of the All Nations Foundation. A thorough study of the community revealed the tremendous need in that area for such work, showing over 153 girls between 10 and 21, who resided within a two-block radius of the institution.

Donation: In January, 1936, through the allocation of special funds from the California Community Foundation, five departments of the Foundation were able to refurbish their quarters or add new equipment in the sum of $750.

Pickfair: Through the wholehearted co-operation of Mary Pickford, the gardens at Pickfair were made available to the girls' department of the Foundation, and under the leadership of the executive board a benefit tea was scheduled for May 12, 1936. Four thousand people visited the gardens, and the girls' department netted $1325, which is to be used for the all-year-around camping program, including their summer camp at Catalina. Many of the churches were most generous in their co-operation.

Camp: June 20, 1936 marked the completion of the first units of the All Nations Camp at Big Pines, comprising a main recreation lodge, dining room, and kitchen, with separate sanitary and shower buildings with the necessary water storage and fire lines constructed. This has been done at a cost of approximately $6,000 for materials. This gives the All Nations Foundation a year-around camp valued at a minimum of $15,000.

Chapel: Because of the interest in and concern for the Church of All Nations on the part of Mrs. Walter Harrison Fisher, it has been possible to add to the staff as of June 1, 1936 Louis M. Fiske as the associate minister in charge of the chapel work. With the experience of Mr. and Mrs. Fiske in the mission field, more particularly among the Spanish speaking people, a vital and worthwhile Christian ministry will be made possible through their efforts.

GOODWILL INDUSTRIES

Goodwill Industries was born of the conviction that the Christian program today should provide economic rehabilitation through self-respecting work for the handicapped, aged and needy.

The Goodwill Industries of Southern California, with branches in Long Beach, San Bernardino and Santa Ana, and the Goodwill Industries of San Diego County, operating within this Conference, report for 1935 as follows:

	Hours Work	Different Persons Employed	Wages Paid	Total Expense
Los Angeles	1,030,549	1,458	$264,011.30	$410,202.20*
Long Beach	65,470	75	17,942.77	26,924.58
San Bernardino	70,182	132	18,035.10	24,033.50

Total Goodwill Industries of S. Calif.	1,181,911	1,729	$303,592.09	$468,555.83
Goodwill Industries of San Diego County..	105,127	643	20,521.51	32,696.82

TOTAL	1,287,038	2,372	$324,113.60	$501,252.65

*Capital and building accounts not included.

†Four months only, September to December, inclusive.

For every dollar contributed in cash to operating income, $27.38 was paid out in wages.

Salvaging waste and reconditioning cast-off materials during 1935 in the Los Angeles Goodwill Industries provided wages for a daily average of 448 persons, denied gainful employment elsewhere largely because of physical handicaps or age. The free employment bureau obtained outside work for 890 different persons.

Chapel services for all workers start the day. The popular designation of the Los Angeles Industries as "the house of a thousand smiles" amply testifies to the pervading Christian spirit. Los Angeles reports a total chapel attendance for 1935 of 83,363; San Diego, 12,657.

Each of the Industries has shown substantial gains. A small building in Long Beach and a building site in San Bernardino have been purchased.

Conference members are invited to visit the Industries and see the complete picture. This practical Christian ministry is filling a very real need in the Methodist program of Southern California.

PLAZA CHURCH AND COMMUNITY CENTER

The Staff and Board of Directors of the Plaza Church and Community Center thank God for the opportunity of "working together with Him" another year; and also the members of the Southern California Conference for their prayers and kindly cooperation.

The CHURCH, under the pastorate of Rev. B. E. Garcia, has moved forward in a very fine way. We know that "prayer moves the hand that moves the world." The prayer group has met every night, excepting Saturday, for one hour, since January 1st. This accounts for a Spiritual Church, Growing Sunday School, Vital Epworth League, Live Junior Church and Loyal Temperance Legion, Busy Ladies' Aid and W.C.T.U. group, Staunch Brotherhood, and a Tither's Band, which has grown from 7 to 53. These tithers bring their tithes to the altar for consecration each Sunday morning.

The contributions of the Church have increased self-support considerably; the World Service is paid in full and various other contributions made. The Lord has truly manifested Himself as He promised in Malachi 3:10.

Attendance in all services amounted to 30,887; pastoral calls 1620; new members added to the church 68; Bibles and tracts given through all departments 4000.

The WELFARE DEPARTMENT through its many avenues of constructive service has made over 3000 contacts. Many discouraged folk have taken a new lease on life through the kindly counsel given, and the help in solving their domestic, unemployment, legal, poverty and many other problems. In this and all other departments of the work we have had fine cooperation with Religious, private and public Welfare, Legal, Health and other Institutions.

The CLINIC, through its various departments, has rendered a much-needed service. While we have tried to "cut-down" on the remedial work, by referring folk to other clinics, we have found it very difficult, as all clinics do not have interpreters; and if the doctors and nurses do not understand the patient, and the patient cannot understand or speak the English language, an intelligent diagnosis cannot be ascertained, and the patients gravitate back to the place where they are understood. With fine, Christian men and women physicians and others ministering, the clinic has done a very consructive work among its 6000 contacts during the year.

The work among the YOUNG PEOPLE is going forward in an encouraging way. An orchestra, which has been long-wanted, has recently been organized; also a Glee Club; Boys' and Girls' Clubs; Dramatic Club, which is now working on a religious drama for the Epworth League Institute. The way has been opened at the Center for some of the young people to get training and experience in various lines of work, such as student pastor, occupying the pulpit, experience in teaching, in leadership, in church and secular music, in clinic and welfare work, home visitation, the Chldren's Home and in office work.

In the Methodist correlation plan, it was suggested that the CHILDREN'S HOME merge with some of the other Methodist institutions. This was undertaken, but the Boards of the other institutions would not take the younger children the Plaza Home has been caring for; the question arose "Where shall they go?" There was no other Home and very few Mexican children are ever adopted. These children are held in such high esteem by teachers and residents of Sierra Madre, that when they heard that the Home might be closed, an overwhelming protest was sent in. A steadily increasing financial interest is being shown by the Mexican churches, and the debt on the property has been materially reduced.

The PLAZA COMMUNITY CENTER CLUB, sponsored largely by some of the fine Methodist women of Los Angeles District, has served all the interest of the work in a very splendid way. It means to the Center what a Woman's Aid means to a church.

Space forbids mentioning the full program of the Institution. Figures mean little; the important thing is the kind of service rendered. Service rendered at the Center is rendered as friend to friend, and not just so many "Cases." We have endeavored to know and to do His will.

KATHERINE B. HIGGINS, Executive Secretary.

PACIFIC OLD PEOPLES' HOME

As Superintendent of the Pacific Old Peoples' Home I take pleasure in bringing to you my third annual report and acknowledge with gratitude my indebtedness to one of the finest Boards any man ever had the pleasure of working with. Their faithful and whole-hearted cooperation together with the efficient service of a loyal staff makes it possible to bring to you a record of achievement that has not been equalled in the history of the institution and this has all been made possible by my faithful predecessors who laid well the foundation of this Home.

Last March we dedicated one of the finest and most beautiful buildings of its kind to be found anywhere in America. There are sixteen living rooms on the second floor and fourteen on the first floor with a complete bathroom between each two rooms. In addition to that every room has a private lavatory and a closet. The rooms are eleven by fifteen.

The building is beautifully furnished with Doehler metal furniture. In less than sixty days after the building was completed every room in the building was occupied and there is little or no room available in any of the eleven buildings on the grounds.

Like every growing institution there are always needs that have not been met. We need another new building.

Additional Site: During the time the new building was being erected an additional site was purchased including eleven pieces of property just west of the old site. This provides an additional site 181 feet by 200 feet and will be a great asset in the future development of the Home. This property was paid for in cash except a trust deed in the amount of $2,000 which amount we assumed. The buildings on this site will yield a very satisfactory return until such time as it is needed for additional buildings.

The greatest asset of the Pacific Old Peoples' Home is not its physical equipment and conveniences but the marvelous Christian fellowship that prevails in the Home. If you were to visit the Home you would be convinced that we have one of the happiest and most congenial groups of people, regardless of age to be found in all California. I wish I could take time to bring to you some of the many remarkably fine statements expressing the keen appreciation of both our members and our guests. A recent visitor said when leaving, "I think you have an ideal situation here for elderly people. I only have one criticism. I do not like the name. I should like to see the name changed to Sunset Paradise. Our most enthusiastic boosters are those who live in the Home.

Finances: I do not think it is necessary for me to say much about finance. The accompanying statement will speak for itself.

In closing this report I desire to express my gratitude to Almighty God for His patience and marvelous leadership.

The future of your home is bright but its needs are great and only through that leadership that comes from above can we hope to make this Home what under God it ought to be, a Sunset Paradise, for those who have toiled through the heat of the day and now in the twilight of the evening shadows wait for the dawn of the eternal day.

I count it a great joy and a high privilege to be able to serve these beloved sons and daughters of the king.

CONFERENCE DEACONESS BOARD

In the records of the services rendered by the various institutions of our Conference, must be recorded the deeds of the several Deaconess organizations within its bounds.

The work of the Deaconess Home has been accomplished in the face of difficulties. The lack of workers has been the greatest handicap in this day of "Repeal" when the need for visitation in the homes is an absolute necessity. Much of the relief work has been carried on from the Deaconess Home. The work with the children in the nursery and kindergarten, the primary and junior grades, including many nationalities, has shown most gratifying results. Daily vacation Bible schools were held with large attendance. Helpers in the schools were former pupils and came from many foreign speaking homes. Through clinic, class and club, by call and personal contact, suffering has been relieved, spiritual help given, new ideas planted and Christian literature distributed. Some, who had lost their way, found again the path that leads to Christian living. The Conference Board reports no transfers in and the transfer out of Miss Mildred Hewes to the St. Johns River Conference in Florida. Our probationers have been employed part time as local pastors or pastors' assistants.

Thoburn Terrace culminated another successful year with the Thirteenth Birthday Party on April 25th, 1936. Her ministry of kindness to retired Christian workers continues with a full house and an increased waiting list.

Robincroft has given another year of rest and happiness to those who have spent much time in serving others. The building has been filled. The family is in fairly good health with but one death, that of Mrs. Luella Umlauf, 94 years of age, who gave all but twenty years in the work of Missions.

"To be a strong hand in the dark to another in the time of need, to be a cup of strength to a human soul in a crisis, is to know the glory of life."

FELLOWSHIP FUND

Balance July 1, 1934, and receipts to April 30, 1936$3,560.97
Distributed to Charges toward maintaining adequate support

From 1935 Fund 2,417.35

From 1936 Fund 350.00

Balance on hand April 30, 1936$ 793.62

Paying participants increased from 55% of effective ministers in 1934 to 69% in 1935. Fully paying participants decreased. Ministers under special appointment, who paid into the Fund, increased from 29% in 1934 to 37% in 1935.

The committee recommends:

1. That the District Superintendents explain the importance of the Fund, and its place in Southern California Conference church economy, to the Pastors in each charge.

2. That total aid to any charge shall not exceed $250 in any year.

3. That it shall be the responsibility of ministers in charges or appointments not furnishing a parsonage to report to the Fellowship Fund Committee at each conference session the cash rental paid or rental value of homes owned and occupied by them.

4. That the Fellowship Fund be continued for 1936-37.

FRANK M. TOOTHAKER.

EQUITABLE SUPPORT PLAN

The Southern California Annual Conference of 1935 approved the basic principles of the Equitable Support Plan as printed in the 1934 Conference Journal, Page 101. It also continued the Commission to study the four items indicated in the final paragraph of the 1935 report and to "propose a plan to secure an equitable salary for every member of this Conference."

The Commission feels that we do not have sufficient available data concerning the four items of study, but recommends a continued study. Realizing the necessity of immediate action we propose the following plan of equitable support.

I. Disciplinary Provision

The 1932 Discipline, Paragraph 338, Sections 3 and 4, provides that "if it is necessary in order to maintain a satisfactory schedule of Minimum Support or to assist pastors in special need, a Sustentation Fund may be apportioned to the Pastoral Charges, collected and disbursed as the Annual Conference may direct."

"In order to supplement such a fund an equitable assessment may be made on the salaries of all effective members of an Annual Conference above the minimum salary fixed by said Annual Conference."

II. Present Organizations and Funds

The Conference now has the following organizations and funds which supplement ministerial salaries: (a) The Conference Missionary Society, which disburses funds for sustentation purposes; (b) The Los Angeles City Missionary Society, which applies some of its money for this purpose; (c) The Fellowship Fund, maintained by ministerial members of the Annual Conference disbursed $2369 last year; and (d) The Board of Home Missions and Church Extension appropriates some money to this end.

III. Proposed Organization

We recommend that:

1. The salary maintenance features of the first three above organizations, and any other funds used for sustentation purposes, be combined and known as the Equitable Support Fund.

2. A Conference Committee on Equitable Support consisting of five ministers and five laymen to administer the Fund be elected annually by the Conference on recommendation of the Conference Committees on Nominations.

3. District Committees consisting of three ministers and three laymen from each district shall be elected in a like manner, which will cooperate with the Conference Commission as suggested in later provisions of the proposed plan.

IV. Recommended Procedure

1. Each District Superintendent shall report to the Conference Commission on Equitable Support, not later than the opening day of the Conference session, on forms supplied by the Commission, the estimated amount needed to assure the minimum salary for every effective member of Conference in his district for the following year, together with the amount of available resources from the Board of Home Missions for this purpose and any other outside support.

2. The Conference Commission shall report the total amount needed to the joint session of the Annual Conference which shall set the total amount to be apportioned for the ensuing year.

3. It shall be the duty of the Commission on Finance to apportion this amount to the individual churches on the same basis as the other items of ministerial support (Episcopal Fund, District Superintendents, and Conference Claimants). This apportionment shall be prorated as other items of ministerial support as provided in paragraph 338 of the 1932 Discipline.

4. All funds shall be paid to the office of the Treasurer of the Commission on Finance, who shall disburse them as directed by the Conference Commission on Equitable Support.

5. Each District Committee shall: (a) Investigate every charge that has set a salary lower than the minimum set by the Conference to ascertain whether or not the charge is doing its utmost to meet the standard, and to recommend, in writing, to the Conference Commission on Equitable Support the maximum amount to be paid to said charges.

(b) Report to the Cabinet in writing any members of the Conference serving charges on their district who in their opinion are permanently ineffective and suggest that the Cabinet take action as provided in paragraph 188 of the 1932 Discipline.

6. The Conference Commission on Equitable Support, on the basis of reports from the District Committees, shall determine, with the District Superintendents of the respective districts, the amounts to be given each charge, and (in writing) order the Treasurer of the Commission on Finance to make monthly payments as funds are available.

7. The Treasurer of the Commission on Finance shall prepare an itemized account of the receipts and expenditures by charges, which shall be printed in the statistical tables of the Conference Journal, as provided in the 1932 Discipline, Paragraph 449, Section 2.

8. The Conference Commission on Equitable Support shall recommend to the joint session of the Conference the minimum salary for the ensuing year, as provided in paragraph 338, Section 1, of the 1932 Discipline.

9. The apportionment feature of this plan shall become operative beginning July 1, 1937; all other features to go into effect immediately. In order that this may be done we recommend: (a) That each District Superintendent be instructed to present this plan to each Quarterly Conference on his district during the coming Conference year; (b) That the minimum salary shall be one thousand dollars and living quarters for single men, and twelve hundred dollars and parsonage for married men, except those serving in our Annual Mission. (c) That the Conference Committee on Equitable Support for next year be appointed early in the Conference session and that they report later in the session the estimated amount of the apportionment.

RUSSELL E. CLAY.

PRORATING

Your Committee calls attention to the new legislation which relates to pro-rating as found in The Pension Code and which is as follows:

Article X, Section 4. "The apportionment to the individual charge for Conference Claimants shall be stated as a percentage of the cash salary to be received by the pastor."

Article XI, Section 1. "The amount payable by any Pastoral Charge on the apportionment for Conference Claimants shall be directly proportional to the amount of cash received by the pastor on his salary."

Section 2. "The Treasurer of the Pastoral Charge shall be primarily responsible for the application of the provisions of the first section of this Article, but in the event of his failure to apply such provisions, the pastor shall adjust his cash salary and the payment to the Conference Claimants according to the proper ratio, as provided above, before he enters the respective amounts in his statistical report to the Annual Conference. See Article XIX, Sec. 3, for records of default. In the event that a pastor in charge violate this section, a permanent record of such default shall be kept as provided in Article XIX, Sec. 3, and, on retirement, the amount of such defaults shall be deducted from his annuity in such installments as the Board of Conference Stewards shall direct."

Section 3. "It shall not be permissible for a Pastor-in-Charge to receive a bonus or other supplementary compensation intended to defeat the object of the regulation in Sec. 2 of this Article, by the stipulation that such bonus or other supplementary compensation be not counted on his salary. For so doing, on the complaint of the Board of Conference Stewards, presented to the Conference by the Committee on Conference Relation, his annuity claim may be disallowed by order of the Conference, for the particular year of service during which such bonus or supplementary compensation was so received."

Paragraph 328. "The specific amount for the support of the pastor having been determined, the other three items of ministerial support shall be related to the pastor's salary on a percentage basis, so that the respective payments required for the support of Bishops, District Superintendents, and Conference Claimants in each pastoral charge shall be exactly proportional to the amount paid to the pastor."

WALTER C. BUCKNER

GROUP INSURANCE

Late in the 1935 Conference the Group Insurance Committee was instructed to "study further into the matter of Mutual Benefit Plans for men of the Conference, and to act in matters of adjustment during the year".

One of the first things which the committee did was to adjust the Plan adopted by the Conference to conform with certain legal requirements which resulted in the formation of the Southern California Conference Fraternal Aid Society. Most of the details of the Articles of Agreement which were signed by the members of the Committee and the men of the Conference who joined the group were identical to those included in the outline which the Conference adopted.

While the Plan has not operated without criticism, a consistently large group of men has seen the plan through the year and has cooperated with the Committee in a brotherly way to carry out the Fraternal spirit of the Conference. During the year the Committee has had the privilege of reaching out to five beneficiaries of the Plan and of expressing true "Fraternal Aid" in the hour of greatest need. One member whose wife passed away was paid $152.00, and four widows received a total of $1700.00, at a total cost per member in the Plan of $12.00. One widow says of the Plan: "I wish I could find words to express my appreciation for such an organization . . . if ever a widow needs help it is certainly when her husband and dear companion has gone to join the church triumphant . . . I wish I could say something to convince every member of the Conference to see it his duty to become a member of the Fraternal Aid Plan".

In accordance with instructions your committee has diligently investigated many other plans of mutual benefit and insurance. The most attractive group insurance policy which was discovered would give coverage as follows: The amounts of life insurance range from $15.00 up to age 35 to $125 at age 71 or over, on the monthly premium bases of $1.25 each plus an accidental death and dismemberment benefit of $1,000 and an additional ten cents per month to the age of seventy. The complete schedule is on file in the Commisison on Finance office.

The Committee feels that our own Plan is preferable to any of the eight plans which have been considered. In order to stabilize our Plan more members of the Conference, particularly the younger men, should join. The Committee recognizes the principle employed by the insurance companies of assessing a lower rate to younger men, and recommends that the rate of assessment be changed as follows: Under 30—$1.00 per death; 31 to 40—$1.50 per death; 41 to 50—$2.00 per death; 51 and over—$2.50 per death. We recommend that upon the death of the wife of a member of the Fraternal Aid Plan that the assessment be one-half of the regular assessment. We further recommend that members on trial be invited to join the Fraternal Aid Plan. In case of their discontinuance they will cease to become members of the Plan. We earnestly urge all members of the Conference to join this Plan.

Technically the assets of the old Group Insurance plan, consisting of a dividend balance of $1749.07 and unpaid notes and accounts covering premiums due from some 19 members totaling $845.80, should be distributed proportionately among the members who were policy holders, on a basis of premiums paid. This distribution would be difficult to make, and the Committee feels that it would be consistent with the wishes of the men to give the Conference Claimants the benefit of these assets. The Committee therefore recommends to the Annual Conference that the assets above mentioned be assigned to the Conference Board of Trustees to be applied on the Board of Stewards Deficiency Fund.

E. DOW HOFFMAN.

PROPHECY

Your committee is asked to bring in an estimate of the number of new members this Conference may reasonably receive in the next five years. There is no seer in the committee, and any statement is as much a guess as a calculation. Our best means of a fair decision seems to be in using statistics of the past five years—that is, from 1931 to 1935 (1936 figures not available).

In those five years this Conference lost: by death, 35; by retirement, 24; transferred out, 17; withdrawn and located, 3; total, 79. In the same period there were received into the conference: transferred from other conferences and other denominations, 31; from completing course of study, 24; total, 55. Thus 24 more have left the conference than were received. The number of charges is reduced by 9, district superintendents, 1 and special appointments, 1. There were 8 supply pastors used in 1935, where none are reported in 1931.

The relation in number of pastors and charges seems about the same proportion in 1935 as in 1931.

The element of contingency here is large. There is no age at which members can be compelled to retire; no one knows how many will die during these years. But if the five years of our calculation are a fair criterion we can do better than guess. If there is a member transferred out for everyone who comes in, then it would seem safe to assume that this conference may reasonably receive 10 or 11 each year.

WM. C. HODGSON.

APTITUDE TESTS

This committee reports progress in the development of a means for discovering the aptitudes of applicants for admission to our ministry. Every project of research is slow. Thanks are due to Dr. Roy G. Bose of Chapman College, and Dr. Welty C. LeFevre of U.S.C. for valuable assistance given in tabulation of data and in making extensive statistical analyses. At least one more year, perhaps more, will be required to complete the task.

The Committee on Itinerancy reported non-concurrence on the memorial from this Conference asking permissive legislation for aptitude tests. (Report 47, p. 483, The Daily Christian Advocate. This report was accepted by the General Conference in the blanket motion covering all non-concurrence reports. The committee, therefore, asks the consideration of the Conference as to whether it shall continue its work.

Of the $50.00 appropriated for the work of the committee, $10.00 was paid out by the Conference Office for clerical help. If the work is to be continued, we recommend that the committee be continued, and an appropriation of $50.00 be set up as part of the Conference Expense Fund.

CARL C. SEITTER,

METHODIST HOSPITAL OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

The progress of the Methodist Hospital of Southern California has continued during the current year. The extent of this progress is perhaps best evidenced by the following figures:

Daily average number of adult patients, 1933.....	59
Daily average number of adult patients, 1934.....	70
Daily average number of adult patients, 1935.....	82
Daily average number of adult patients, January 1, 1936 to June 1, 1936	99 5/10

This increase in patronage can be explained only through the giving of proper recognition to the fact that hospital service meeting the highest standards has been provided. Miss Mary K. West, the hospital superintendent, is outstanding. Her associates in the hospital staff are capable, well qualified, loyal, and efficient. No factor has been more important in the accomplishments of the hospital than the service rendered by this group.

The medical staff under the leadership of Dr. Gail Fehrensens, as Chairman, and Dr. Kenneth H. Boyer, as Secretary, has rendered all possible assistance to the hospital. Monthly meetings have been held during the year, and the staff organization has functioned in accordance with the highest standards.

The reconditioning of the hospital plant has continued during the past year. The maternity division was completely rehabilitated. Twenty-four rooms in the nurses home were redecorated. New equipment includes beds, mattresses, surgical instruments, short wave diathermy machine, linens, dishes, etc. A soda fountain and lunch room near the main entrance has been installed. A unit providing fifteen additional beds on the third floor of the hospital was opened in October, and the reconditioning of the remainder of the third floor will be started in the immediate future. Since June of last year the sum of $2,500.00 has been expended in the purchase of new linens.

The following additional statistical information is of particular interest:

Babies born, 1935	812
Babies born January 1, 1936 to June 1, 1936	378
Number of operations performed, 1935	2,151
Number of operations performed January 1, 1936 to June 1, 1936	850

During the year 1935, 200 patients from the All Nations Clinic were cared for in the hospital. Ninety-eight and one-half per cent of all charges made to patients during the past year has been collected. Numerous opportunities for much needed hospital service, in cases where the patients were without the ability to pay, have had to be declined by reason of the financial limitations of the hospital. It is most sincerely hoped that improved financial conditions and the further interest of the friends of the institution will make it possible for an extension of this type of service.

Of particular interest to the general membership of the Methodist Church in Southern California will be the news that a plan has been agreed upon by the representative of the bond holders, the Board of Trustees of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Southern California Conference, and the hospital board for the rewriting of the bond issue which encumbers the hospital, and the release of all missionary society properties which have been involved by the litigation which has been pending for some time. This plan will be consummated at the earliest possible time, and while the details involved will require a considerable period within which to be completely worked out, the plan agreed upon is rapidly going forward. Satisfactory arrangements for the payment of all hospital indebtedness, including taxes, have also been made, and the arrangements agreed upon have in each instance been carried on without default up to the present time. The rewriting of the bonded indebtedness upon conditions which are fair and equitable to all concerned, should create a new interest in the Methodist Hospital and make possible the rendition of an even wider service than has been rendered during the past year, having in mind the progress evidenced by the figures quoted.

ROLAND MAXWELL,
President.

GOOD SAMARITAN HOSPITAL—ARIZONA

We only wish that the Conference could see and know the inside workings of our hospital. We wish that they could know something of the relief and help given to the 3,494 patients that went through our institution last year. The worth while things of a hospital cannot be put on paper in cold type. The writer's ability to describe the real happenings do not begin to picture the happiness and satisfaction that comes from worth while work, well done, dealing with pain and sickness.

The past year has been a very successful one at our institution. Successful from the standpoint of the number of patients handled, the results of that work as surveyed by the American College of Surgeons, the increased collections for work done, the improvement of the physical equipment of the institution, and the general co-operation between our nursing staff and our doctors' staff.

In our physical equipment we have bought and installed new operating lights, operating tables, portable X-ray, Diathurmy, fracture equipment, put linoleum on the corridors on two floors, completely painted the inside of the old building, improved our laundry, and many other material improvements.

Among the outstanding accomplishments of the past year has been the refinancing of our bonded indebtedness at a reduced rate of interest. Our bonded indebtedness of $250,000.00 has been refinanced in such a way that the average interest rate for the next ten years is 3 1/10 per cent. This new agreement went into effect as of Dec. 15, 1935.

We are exceedingly happy to report that for the first time in more than ten years we closed the year with our current obligations paid in full and a small cash balance in the bank. The Conference will be interested to know that last year in addition to all these things we did $18,645.52 of free work. This amount represents charge off as the patients left the hospital. In addition to that amount, when our audit was taken and after going over our bills receivable, we charged off

$4,160.89 as uncollectable, making a total of $22,806.41 that the hospital contributed to those in dire need of our services and no funds to pay for same; or to put it another way, we spend over $1900.00 each month in the year on poor, needy people.

The expense of operating the hospital was $136,984.19.

For years we have been deeply interested in the problem of crippled children. Once a year from 75 to 100 of these unfortunate ones come to our institution for a free clinic, coming from all over our state, seeking help and more than that number come in our regular way.

We have from time to time improved this department, until I am sure we have the best orthopedic department of any place in the state, but yet the desire and constant pull on our heart strings has never been satisfied. So some six weeks ago we put our problem before Mrs. Carrie A. Maxwell and she has very generously and graciously given us $10,000.00 to enlarge and better equip the department so that we can do more and better work. We are indeed grateful to Mrs. Maxwell and wish that she could receive that thrill and satisfaction that has been mine when some nurse brings a little tot to my office and the little one says: "Mr. Sexson, I thank you because I can now walk."

It is the sincere conviction of mine that the good Lord is not interested in any part of our great Methodist Church's work more than he is in the splendid healing ministry of our hospitals.

J. O. SEXSON,
Superintendent.

RESOLUTIONS

Once more we would express our gratitude to God for the privilege and opportunity to participate in the blessings, fellowship and service of another annual conference.

The return of Bishop James C. Baker as our resident bishop for the next quadrennium has met with the approval of Southern California people, and especially ourselves and our congregations. His scholarly Christian culture, kindly and comprehensive understanding of our needs, his moral courage, Christian statesmanship, and brotherly fellowship have endeared him to us beyond our ability to express. We rejoice in his presidency of our Conference, and with loyalty and anticipation of an ennobling future, face the tasks of Methodism in this area, as the sharing of a great enterprise together for our God.

We would mention appreciation of the method used in directing the exceptionally large number of communicants at the Lord's Supper, making for quiet and reverent orderliness. We would also commend the manner of conducting the Memorial Service, giving it a unity and effectiveness which added much to its sacred character.

The beautiful and colorful floral decorations furnished by Mr. Walter Armacost and the Flower Committee, as well as those of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hancock, have been a daily and continuous inspiration.

Again would we thank the Sparkletts Water Company for its very generous contribution of drinking cups and of palatable and refreshing water for the Conference thruout its sessions.

We thank the Acousticon Company for the installation of its extensive apparatus for the benefit of those who otherwise would have been unable to hear the addresses and proceedings; we also appreciate the thoughtfulness and kindness of the Stricklin Company in providing an emergency amplifying set.

We would convey our appreciation to Rolla Alford and Anne Aaronson for the beautiful and inspiring special music furnished on the many different and important occasions by organists, soloists, quartets, and choir. We are grateful to Director William Hartshorn and the Vermont Square Church choir of Los Angeles for their particular contribution of the numbers which brought us spiritual refreshment.

The Program Committee deserves our thanks for their painstaking and long continued labor in arranging the many details and providing the special features of our conference program. It has been a labor of love well done.

We would here express our commendation of the plan to secure the pastors of local churches of different denominations to bring the morning devotional messages, and hereby express our appreciation to those who accepted the invitation and made possible for us this varied program of devotional inspiration.

Dr. Oswald W. S. McCall, our conference guest speaker, has stirred our intellect and esthetic appreciations in his series of addresses. Greater still, he lifted us to new heights of the spirit by his revelation of the love of God and Christ and fellow men—as being real to him. As we listened, we moved into fresh areas of living, and pitched our tents in the realms of a more god-like humanity and a society like unto the Kingdom of God.

We would be ungrateful, indeed, if we did not express once more our sincere gratitude to First Church, Long Beach, to the church staff and to the special Conference Committee who have been untiring in their efforts and most careful in their attention to details for our every comfort and convenience during our attendance at this the seventh session of the Southern California Annual Conference to be held here.

We would extend our special thanks to the caretakers upon whom has devolved an excess of arduous work in meeting the many additional demands in connection with the holding of the sessions and the transaction of the diversified business of the Conference.

Special personal mention should be made of the work of the handling the almost incredible amount of pre-conference correspondence by Miss Mary Higgins, the local church secretary, and the accurate management of details involved in the financial arrangements by Mrs. Elma Reed; in addition, these two secretaries have been in control of the amplifying system all thru the day and night sessions. To R. N. Merrill, our pastor host, we extend our heartfelt thanks for his brotherly and unselfish giving of himself, and for the organizing of his church to care for the multitudinous needs of this large conference of ministers and laymen; his fine and generous spirit has made us feel truly welcome.

We would express most cordial appreciation of the unostentatious conscientious, and almost continuous service rendered by the secretaries, treasurers, and statisticians of both lay and ministerial conferences, as also the members of the different boards and committees whose duties have deprived them of much of the Conference, and have required many extra hours of hard work in order to dispose efficiently of the innumerable items of vitally important Conference business.

The unfailing and continued courtesy and generosity of the First Presbyterian, First Baptist, First Congregational, and First Christian Churches, and the Y.W.C.A. of Long Beach in placing at our disposal their buildings and facilities merit our sincere and hearty thanks. We would also gratefully recognize the courtesies extended to our Conference by city officials and departments, as also by the Chamber of Commerce of Long Beach.

We truly appreciate the generous consideration of the Conference by the Willmore Hotel in the matter of its entrainment of our guests and courtesies extended.

We hereby record our appreciation of the attention and space given in the local papers to the deliberations and proceedings of our conference session.

We would note and commend the spirit of fair play and brotherliness which has prevailed, and the absence of acrimony and personalities in the debate of delicate and difficult issues on the floor of the Conference, all of which have made for a sense of liberty in expression of opinion and the maintenance of an atmosphere of reasonable consideration.

To all who have contributed in any way to the mechanical, organizational, or inspirational success of this conference session, and whose efforts seem to have been unnoticed, we would convey our gratitude and the reminder that the service has been rendered to Him who said that any who should give so much as "a cup of cold water" in His name "should not lose his reward."

W. T. GILLILAND, Chairman.
RECTOR JOHNSON.
FRANK WEBER.

COMMITTEE TO STUDY CHURCH MEMBERSHIP

This committee was appointed to "discover the facts with respect to the loss in membership reported by our Statistician and the causes for these losses." It was also ordered that the committee report to the Conference the results of its study together with "suggestions of ways and means if deemed advisable, for remedying the situation."

With the gracious help of the Statistician, we have sought to discover the facts. This has been an almost impossible task, largely because the so-called statistical data of the Conference is highly unreliable. This is through no fault of the Statistician who can assemble only the figures that are given him in pastors' reports. Every effort to trace churches or districts through a period of years, and justify the printed totals has resulted in futility. At least three separate attempts have been made to produce a defensible analysis. Each has failed. Only two or three facts can be noted.

1. At least a part, perhaps an important part, of the reported decrease in membership is due to confusion in reporting "non-resident members." In accordance with the directions given with the statistical reports, the Statistician subtracted the number of non-resident members reported from the total membership. This was done for each church. In filling out their reports a number of pastors had already made this subtraction with the result that the totals were decreased twice. Just how great this error is, we have no practical way of determining.

2. Our statistical data are so inexact that deviations in totals from one year to the next are without much practical significance. A seven year period was studied, however, and reveals the fact that Southern California Methodism has been practically static during that period.

3. The most significant decrease during the 7 year period has been the decrease in the number received into the churches by transfer. Assuming that the economic situation has halted much of the immigration from which Southern California Methodism had drawn its increases in membership in years past, we note that the churches are not replenishing themselves with new blood fast enough to make any gain against the natural stream of losses.

4. There seems to be no correlation between increase or decrease of membership, and the theological or sociological concepts of the ministers. The problems of increase or decrease in membership do not seem to hinge on the conservative or liberal factor in the ministry.

It is the judgment of your committee that valuable studies might be made if reliable data could be produced. The actual balancing of membership figures from each church by recording accessions of all types, losses of all types, and all changes in classification, would provide a foundation for such studies. Augmented statistical forms would be required for this. Additional columns in the minutes, however, would not be needed.

We recommend, that a committee be named to work with the Statistician during this Conference year in the preparation of such additional forms as may be necessary to provide for the accurate recording and balancing of our statistical data regarding membership, and that this Conference order the full and careful use of these forms by each pastor in making out his report, prior to his coming to Conference.

CARL C. SEITTER,

CALIFORNIA CHURCH COUNCIL

Largely through the interest, participation and support of nineteen Protestant denominations which have cooperated in the work of the California Church Council, that organization has established itself as the efficient agency through which Protestantism in California can act in matter of an interdenominational nature.

The merger which resulted in the formation of the California Church Council is only a year and a half old. The various merging groups have carried into the new Council their individual programs, which are rapidly being amalgamated into one, with most satisfactory results. It has been found that most effective work can be done by throwing the major responsibility for program development upon the Northern and Southern geographical areas. Very recently the Northern Area has engaged Dr. Paul H. Buchholz as its executive secretary, and a rapid development of the program in that territory is expected.

In the Southern Area, the program of Christian Education has been maintained at the high level which has prevailed for many years. Leadership Training Schools, Vacation School Institutes, supervision of Community Councils, regional conferences, and service to denominations and individual churches, indicate a part of the activities in this field. The Department of Home Missions and Comity includes the work of the Superintendents' Council, in which many matters of church comity and inter-church relationships have been adjusted. The Department of Evangelism finds a place of large usefulness at this time in the plans for the National Preaching Mission, especially in the second and third phases of this significant movement, which carries it into the communities and the local churches. The Department of Social Relations is representing the Council in the Local Option campaign which has for its objective the elimination of liquor from the Constitution of the State of California in November, and provision for local control of the liquor evil.

It is recommended that the California Church Council take steps to organize the Protestant Churches of Los Angeles as a unit of its Council and that the Southern California Conference appoint a committee of five to serve on the Council. These should be representative of the clergy, and laity; of the institutions and interests.

In brief, the Council is, not a separate, outside organization; but, the cooperating denominations, working together toward the bringing in of the Kingdom.

HAROLD V. MATHER, Executive Secretary.

JURISDICTIONAL CONFERENCES

As we seek to bring about the union of Methodism, and preserve in the highest degree the interests of each constituent group, as well as their confidence in the proposed organization, we, the United Session of the Southern California Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in session, June 25, 1936, respectfully petition the Uniting Conference, if and when it shall be held, to readjust the provisions for Jurisdictional Conferences as now provided in the Plan of Unification, so that no Jurisdiction shall be determined on purely racial lines while all others are based on geographical boundaries.

By way of example, and not in the sense of proposing a specific plan to which we are committed, we offer the following:

To the Northeastern Jurisdiction add the Delaware and Washington Conferences.

To the North Central Jurisdiction, add the Lexington Conference.

To the Western Jurisdiction, add the Central West Conference.

Create a South Central Jurisdiction to be comprised of all Negro Conferences, Mission Conferences, and Missions in the states of Arkansas, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, and Oklahoma.

The Southeastern Jurisdiction would remain as now provided.

A Southwestern Jurisdiction, comprising the balance of the Conferences in the states of Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana, Nebraska, Kansas, Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico, would complete the list.

We request the Secretary of this Annual Conference to communicate this resolution to all other Annual Conferences, with the hope that they may take similar action.

We request further that this resolution be sent to the Secretary of the General Conference with the instructions that it be given to such persons or committees in the Uniting Conference, if and when it shall be held, as may be necessary to secure consideration.

Memoirs

In Memoriam

ENRIQUE NARRO

Our hearts are moved by a deep and common grief in the death of our beloved father, Enrique Narro. We stand with bowed heads and hearts in great sorrow. While our grief is assuaged and sorrow mitigated by the profound conviction that God "doeth all things well," and that a good man has gone to his eternal reward after a hard day's work, we sit quietly and wonder sadly at the mystery of it all.

Enrique Narro was born in Saltillo, Coahilla, Mexico, February 22, 1867, and died in Glendora, California, February 20, 1936. Born of Spanish parentage, his parents were Don Antonio Narro and Dona Galindo de Narro. His father died when Enrique was but a boy five years old. His early education was secured in a Jesuit convent. He was converted at the early age of fifteen.

On June 3, 1890, he was united in marriage to Miss Emilia Garcia Morales in Nogales, Arizona. To this happy union was born seven children, four of whom are still living.

In a few years, he established a tailor shop where fifty men and women were employed. Soon after this business was well launched and in the midst of successes as a young business man, he heard the voice of God calling him to the ministry and, with the same courage and unfaltering fidelity that so characterized him all through his marvelously useful and eventful life, he turned his face resolutely towards the new field of endeavor.

In 1905, he took his first charge under the leadership of Rev. R. C. Elliott, a Superintendent in the Methodist Church South, and thus he began a career of splendid achievement for God and the church. In 1909, he was the first minister to start working in Cananea, Sonora, Mexico and this was one of his most successful charges, having a total membership of 400.

In 1912, he came to Los Angeles, to visit his three daughters who were in Frances De Pauw School for Girls in Hollywood. He met Dr. Vernon M. McCombs, the Superintendent of the then Spanish and Portuguese District of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, and became the first pastor of the Plaza Mexican Church in Los Angeles, and one of the first preachers in the Mexican work in California. He served appointments in Los Angeles, Long Beach, Santa Paula, Anaheim and Glendora, where he retired in 1927 because of ill health. His ministerial career stretches over a period of thirty-one years.

He is gone from us, but in a deep and profound sense he is still here. His spirit will always abide with us who knew him. In the evening time of our own earthly lives, there will continue to come to us those inspirations and tender memories that now so greatly help us in the performance of life's tasks.

Interment was made in the family lot in Evergreen Cemetery in Los Angeles.

"Servant of God, well done!
The glorious warfare's past;
The battle's fought, the race is won,
And thou art crowned at last"

Written by his daughter, EUNICE NARRO.

JAMES ALLEN GEISSINGER

James A. Geissinger was an imposing and chivalric idealist. His sermons pulsed with convictions. Preaching was to him an infatigating soul-recreation. He began preaching when he was only sixteen years old, and it was his chief ecstasy. His diction was finished and often picturesque. He was a reformer, but not fantastic. He struck hard blows, but he was always constructive. He was an omnivorous searcher after truth. No one among us was more familiar with great books. He had an unwavering confidence in the dominancy of great Biblical truths. He believed that a banal materialism, with its Protean idiocies, was running out. He not only read great books, he wrote them! His "Heart Problems and World Issues" was a notable, widely-read volume. One of his brochures reached a popular distribution of eight million copies. His deep erudition did not give him any pontifical superiority, nor result in mere rationalization nor mystical interpretations of the truth. As a friend he was affectionate and companionable.

James Allen Geissinger was born in Burbank, Ohio, October 14, 1873, and was translated October 21, 1935, in Los Angeles, Calif.

His home life was idyllic. His devoted wife was his sweetheart from childhood. They lived blissfully together for forty years. His two sons, Wayland and Roger, found in their father a genial comrade. His grandson, Bob, had his confidence and tender affection. Besides these one brother, A. W. Geissinger of Columbus, Ohio, and one sister, survive him.

His scholastic preparation was in Ohio Wesleyan and Ohio State Universities. He held conspicuous pastorates in Cincinnati, Los Angeles, Long Beach, Pasadena and Phoenix. His last work was as Superintendent of the San Diego District, which he led forward for nearly six years.

Doctor Arthur H. Compton, a Methodist preacher's son, and a world famed scientific explorer says, "There is stable ground for a belief in immortality because the light of a candle continues through space after it is extinguished or burned out." So we may confidently believe that the radiant soul of James Allen Geissinger throbs on into the eternal realm. This is our steadfast faith as we press forward to that "one far-off divine event to which the whole creation moves."

BISHOP CHARLES EDWARD LOCKE.

N. J. BURTON

Last Conference N. J. Burton was very ill. He had answered the roll in fifty-four annual conferences and he could not miss his fifty-fifth so his doctor brought him to Long Beach and for a few hours he was with us. Then he underwent a serious operation in July but the shock was too great and he passed away Sunday morning, August 4th. Until the very end his faith triumphed and his going was full of hope.

Brother Burton was born May 2, 1852, near Columbus, Ohio, and moved, when a small boy, to Lima where he secured his elementary education, graduating from Ohio State Normal. He taught school for a number of years in Ohio and at Louisburg, Kansas.

At the age of twenty-seven he felt the call to the ministry of the Methodist Church and in 1880 he was appointed missionary to the Seven Confederate Tribes of the Indian Territory. The Seven Tribes were the Ottawas, Cherokees, Modocs, Chickasaws, Gages, Iroquois, Wyandottes and Senecas. He learned their dialects and lived among them as they lived, journeying on an Indian pony from tribe to tribe. He was the first missionary sent out by the New York Board to these Indians of the Southwest. His work was very successful and many accepted Christ under his leadership.

During this time he also served as "sky pilot" in wide open western towns, his pastorates being Garfield, Wichita, New Salem, Hazelton and Augusta.

In 1888 he was married to Miss Gertrude Staub at Garfield, Kansas, and soon after, in 1890, came to Southern California, serving the following charges: Otay and Oneonta, Garden Grove, Colton, Corona, San Jacinto, Lompoc, Hueneme, Glendale, Burbank, Elsinore, Mountain View, Lennox Ave. Inglewood and Easton, Fresno. In 1921 he retired and having loved the Mountain View folks so much, he came back, bought an acre of ground at 757 No. Oak, Temple City and for nearly fifteen years gave himself to the service of the community. He called on the sick and aged and made more pastoral calls than did the pastor. Everybody far and wide knew him and loved him.

His presence at church and Sunday school was an inspiration. His Bible class was a benediction to all.

Besides his beloved wife he leaves four sons and four daughters, also fourteen grandchildren. They are: Major Vincent Burton, Eureka; Dr. Chaffee N. Burton, Alhambra; Clifford N. Burton, Pasadena; Marion S. Burton, Los Angeles; Mrs. Irma Nicolaus, Glendale; Mrs. Edna Fearon, Los Angeles; Mrs. Cecil Hamren, North Hollywood; and Mrs. Sarah Arenschield of Montebello.

Brother Burton and F. D. Ashleigh had long been friends and had made arrangements that whichever one went first, the other was to preach his funeral service. When this time came, Brother Ashleigh was too feeble. He was, however, at the funeral and made a very touching prayer.

The funeral services were in Temple City Church, August 7th, Rev. A. L. Baker, the pastor, conducting the services assisted by John Nicholson, Rev. Wilbur Wilson and John Oliver. The Church was crowded with his friends and those to whom Brother Burton had given loving service. Interment was in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

A. L. BAKER.

SILAS HENRY ENYEART

Silas Henry Enyeart was born in Lagro, Indiana, December 31, 1846. He died in Huntington Park, Calif., October 15th, 1935. Age 88 years 9 months and 14 days.

He was married to Florence Buck, March 30th, 1871. His faithful companion of these years still survives, together with three sons, LeRoy, Clarence, and Wallace Enyeart, and two daughters, Mrs. Grace Goble, of Santa Maria and Mrs. Ethel Richardson, of Berkeley, California, and their families.

He was reared in a deeply religious home with a large family, in that day when the home was the center of the religious education of the children, when father and mother felt themselves called to be the priests of God, in the Church of Christ, which was in their home. It was no accident that four of the five brothers of that home entered the ministry of the Church, and the fifth was for years a Local preacher and Class leader in the Church. The four girls have had a lifelong interest and active relationship with the Church. The four who entered the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Nathan M., Silas H., Thomas J., and William R. all entered the Missouri Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church within a few years of each other. Their united ministry in the active relation in Mo. Conf. was 121 years. Their total years as members of Conference was 160 years, with an additional ministry under appointment as Local Preachers of 15 years, or a total ministry under appointment of 175 years. They have all been translated to the better world. Silas and William during this Conference year.

Silas joined the Missouri Conference in 1869. He transferred to the Southwest Kansas Conference in 1885, and to the Southern California Conference in 1895. He retired in 1911. It was his proud boast that he had not missed a session of his Annual Conference from 1869 to the session of last June, 1935, or a total of 67 consecutive annual sessions.

For 29 years he has been a resident of Huntington Park, Calif., where he, with his family, have been connected with the Huntington Park church during its entire history.

He was a graduate of Garrett Biblical Institute.

He served in the Union army as private in Co. B, 137th Illinois Inf. Serving under General Thomas—and was an honored member of Stanton Post of the G. A. R. of Los Angeles.

He was a good man, a good husband and father, a good minister of Jesus Christ, a faithful witness to the very end. Loyal and true. A disciple of hope and good cheer, his last sickness was the cheerful getting things ready to be off and be with his Lord.

O. L. ENYEART.

WALTER C. LOOMIS

Rev. Walter C. Loomis was born in Putneyville, Penn., on December 15, 1880. He died May 25, 1936, age fifty-six years.

In the day when the full tide of manhood's strength was coursing through his body, he stood erect like a tall pine, and announced in that quiet, firm manner so peculiar to him, that he had given his life to the service of Christ and proposed to enter the ministry of the Christian Church. The country neighbors, accustomed to judging men by their essential character, placed the seal of their approval on his decision and said, "He was cut out for the ministry." No man ever questioned his fitness for he had lived his life among them and they knew its quality.

He was educated in Allegheny College, Meadville, Penn., and also took work in U. S. C.

In the day when his training had been completed and his mind was matured, he stood, with shoulders squared and eye clear, before the bar of the conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and pledged God and the church that he would give his whole life to the ministry That pledge was never violated in the least degree.

He entered the Pittsburgh Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1904 and served Liberty Chapel and Enow Valley. In 1907 he was transferred to the Southern California Conference and served the following churches: Moneta; Central Church, Long Beach; First Church, Hanford; Lincoln Ave. Church, Pasadena. Secretary of the Conference Claimants Endowment Fund; First Church, San Bernardino; District Superintendent of the Long Beach District; and Associate Pastor of First Church, Los Angeles. He was in active service thirty-six years, the past three in First Church, Los Angeles.

For more than a third of a century he was a Methodist preacher. He went to the churches to which he was assigned. He sought nothing for himself, shirked no duties, avoided no dangers, asked for no light loads. In the words of an old farmer friend, "he always kept his tugs tight."

He trusted the church. To it he had given his life, and to him it had given a promise—"a support." That is all the Methodist church ever promises any man. He kept his pledge to the church and the church, to the last day of his life, kept its pledge to him. True, there were times when that support was very modest, but the hard necessities laid upon him never stilled his laughter nor embittered his wit.

In the day of his seasoned experience and matured wisdom, the church gave him authority over other preachers and for four years he poured out his health and strength in behalf of "his men." Week after week he stood in their pulpits and preached; again and again he presided over their quarterly conferences and adjudicated differences, inspired them to new leadership, and heartened their people. "He came to us like a flame," said one preacher to whom he had come in an hour of discouragement, "and lighted our lamps anew."

He was accepted as a chaplain in the World War and stationed at Camp Taylor, Ky.

While on the Long Beach District he gave much time to evangelism, and many young people were saved in the meetings.

He originated many contests which brought thousands of people into the Sunday Schools. These contests are used in the United States and foreign countries.

On one Easter Sunday he received four hundred and twenty-five people into the First Church, San Bernardino. He baptised one hundred and four on Palm Sunday.

Always interested in civic affairs, he served as president of the Lion's Club in San Bernardino.

He was a man's man. His unerring judgments, his convulsing humor, his charity of mind, his tender heart underneath a certain taciturnity, all combined to give him a powerful appeal to the most masculine.

He was God's man. Uncleaness was as foreign to him as cowardice or hypocrisy. He was incapable of pretensions or conniving. He lived, with all his actions and thinking, in the sunlight; there were no subterranean passages in his character.

He was as versatile as a sunset. His mind moved with the speed of a flying planet: his resourcefulness was as amazing as his endurance.

He was married to Jennie Ella Wick on May 20, 1903.

Three daughters were born: Mrs. Pearle Price, Mrs. Pauline Anderson, and Miss Dorothy Loomis, and there are four grandchildren. There is one brother, Arthur M. Loomis of Huntington Park, and his father, John Merrill Loomis of Bell.

ROY L. SMITH.

JOHN WESLEY ROBINSON, JR.

John of the happy heart—the radiance of which shown with unfading splendor upon his face—went out to walk the streets of the City of God, April 16, 1936.

He was born in a Methodist parsonage in the City of the Angels May 28, 1895, the fourth child of John Wesley Robinson and Rosamond Burnett Robinson. From the earliest years, his educational opportunities were of the best including work in Long Beach High School, the University of Southern California, Boston School of Theology, Harvard and Northwestern Universities. Travel on the Continent, and a complete circuit of the world served to broaden the horizons of this man, who never closed the door of his heart against anyone.

As a very young lad, John showed an aptitude for public address with the result that early manhood found his heart set on the ministry of Jesus the Christ. To this ministry, the best of his exceptional talents were given. Many opportunities of rare attraction in other fields knocked at the threshold of his life, but none found entrance. Always, the answer to their insistent claims for recognition was "I want to preach." And preach gloriously he did for the short, but crowded, span of his years.

For two years, John travelled with the famous evangelist, Dr. George Wood Anderson, as young people's worker; and, at the outbreak of the World War, the Young Men's Christian Association enlisted his services. But as the awful conflict drew out its weary months, he entered one of the United States Officer's Training Schools, where he was commissioned Second Lieutenant. So outstanding were his qualities of leadership that had not the Armistice been signed when it was, the commission was to have been Captain.

On June 15, 1923, he was united in marriage with Loreen Buffum, and four lovely children came as messengers of joy to their home: John Wesley III, Robert, Shirley and Anita.

During the period of his seminary training at Boston, he served as minister of "The Church of the Harbor" Scituate, Massachusetts; and, on the completion of his seminary work, came to Los Angeles as Associate with Dr. G. Bromley Oxnam in the work of the City Parish. Later, the organization of the Westwood Methodist Episcopal Church was committed to his talents. To this task, he brought an executive skill which was notable.

No man in the Southern California Conference had a greater genius for making friends than did this friend of the Christ. He simply went about loving everybody; the response was, of course, inevitable. Being an indefatigable worker, possessing an eager soul, this minister packed into his very few years the accomplishments of an average man's life time. Men sensed instinctively his willingness to assume responsibility.

The result was that they heaped the burdens high. At the time of his going, John was a member of the Boards of Directors of the Methodist Hospital, The Los Angeles City Missionary and Church Extension Society, the Latin American Mission; Secretary of the Los Angeles Ministerial Union; Vice-President of the Hollywood Ministerial Union. Organizations and individuals found his shoulders broad; his willingness to lift, boundless.

His spirit was like the sweep of a morning breeze from off the salt sea bearing tang, healing to those who were privileged to pass his way.

So another John, another beloved one, journeyed the highways of this world; the highways of men's hearts. They marked his passing and, like those disciples, who walked with Jesus along the Emmaus Road, found within their hearts a strange, new glow.

HARRY RASMUS.

WARD WESLEY HULL

Ward Wesley Hull converted when a young man, decided to get an education and enter the ministry. Was first licensed a local preacher in 1896. Took his preparatory and College work in Baker University, Baldwin, Kansas, graduating in 1903. In that same year joined the South Kansas Conference serving Mont Ida and Buffalo. At the latter place was married to Alice Irwin whom he had known in Baker University. At the session of his Conference in 1906 was ordained deacon and left without appointment to attend Boston University School of Theology. While a student here he supplied at Linden, Malden and Broadway, Lynn.

In 1909 he transferred to the Southern California Conference, where he served at Calexico; Taylor, San Diego; Garden Grove, and Hanford. From the latter place, he went as a chaplain into the United States Army with seven others of his brothers from the Conference. As a transport chaplain he made four round trips across the Atlantic and also spent five months in various camps in France. It was while in the service that he contracted the disease which later resulted in his death, at the Veterans Administration Hospital, November 13, 1935.

In spite of a disease which nothing could stop, with a marvelous courage and strong will power, he spent ten years more in church work at Colton, Washington Street Pasadena, Orange, and Normal Heights San Diego. He took the Retired Relation in 1928, and settled in his own home in West Los Angeles.

Here with his wife he spent much of his time with his flowers and with his books. He had enjoyed all the work of the pastorate, but best of all he liked to prepare sermons and preach. His was a constructive ministry.

He loved people and he knew God and it was a joy to him to get those whom he loved to know the God whom he also loved.

Underneath the seemingly quiet outer surface of his being there lay a fine sense of humor, a deep analytical mind, and a brotherly regard for the opinion of others. In the eternities he will meet many to whom he gave the first instructions on the pathway to God.

The body lies in Forest Lawn Memorial Park, his soul went Godward, his influence remains with us.

JOHN REINHOLD ANDREWS

John Reinhold Andrews was born on the Island of Oland, Sweden, May 5, 1851, and departed this life in his home, Kingsburg, Cal., Feb. 10, 1936. At the age of 18 he came to America. Here he soon found employment as a salesman, with a successful business career open before him. But God had other plans for this promising young man. Soon after his arrival he came in touch with the Methodists, was gloriously converted to God, surrendered his life to Christ, and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. Feeling the call to preach, and "not disobedient to the heavenly vision", he entered the Swedish Theological Seminary in Evanston, Ill., where he received the preparation for his high calling. In 1880 he married Jenny Marie Danielson, with whom he lived a happy and beautiful married life for almost half a century until her death 6 years ago. To this union, blessed of God, came 7 children, all living except one daughter, Sophie C. Tucker, who went before the parents to her heavenly home.

As a minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church Brother Andrews had a rather singular record, and a very successful and blessed ministry. Admitted on probation into the Northwest Swedish Conference in 1878, he was ordained to deacon's orders the same year, under the missionary rule, by Bishop Merrill. Four years later Bishop Peck ordained him an elder. It was Brother Andrews' just pride that for 55 consecutive years he never missed answering "present" to the roll call at the annual session of his Conference. Successfully he served the following pastoral charges: Ishpeming, Mich., 2 years; Norway, Mich., 2 years; Atwater, Minn., 3 years; District Superintendent, St. Paul District, 2 years; transferred to the California Conference 1887; San Francisco 5 years; Los Angeles 5 years; San Francisco again 2 years; Kingsburg 5 years; Fresno and Easton 4 years; District Superintendent, Swedish churches in California, 2 years; special appointments until 1917 when he took the retired relation. Since 1928, when the Swedish Mission Conference was merged with the English-speaking Conferences, he has been a member of the Southern California Conference in the retired relation. Retired, we say! A man of his mind and vision could not stay still and inactive.

His latter years have been neither idle nor fruitless. In his comfortable country home surrounded by friends, pilgrims of the Infinite always found an oasis in the desert. His wise counsel, his radiant faith, his unfaltering belief that truth alone makes right, his willingness to take part in any and every good work, is felt not only in the church he loved, but also in the community at large.

Brother Andrews was a christian gentleman in the best sense of the word. With depth as well as height, his thoughts took in a large range of vision, which made him not only clear in judgment, but also sure in action. This made him a valuable asset on the Conference floor, as well as in smaller gatherings. As a member of the Official Board of the Kingsburg Methodist Church, which church he organized almost half a century ago, he rendered valuable service. Cosmopolitan in his vision, brotherly in his sympathies, optimistic in his outlook, tolerant in his convictions, and well poised always, he stood four square to every wind that blew, one who never turned back, but marched breast forward. As a preacher he was positive; he voiced no doubts, and sounded no uncertain notes. He loved to preach the "unsearchable riches of Christ". His implicit trust in God, and his child-like faith in Christ, whom he knew through a wonderful christian experience in His redeeming grace, gave him a deep insight into God's plan of human redemption, and the truths of divine revelation.

Brother Andrews knew hardships a plenty, and he was fully "acquainted with grief", but these did not sour him; he kept sweet until the very end. The closing days of his earthly life, as the shadows lengthened, were beautiful and serene. He died as he had lived—a true soldier of Jesus Christ, a fearless man of God, who to the last wore the white flower of a blameless life. We loved him dearly, trusted him always, and we never found him wanting. We bow in sorrow at the departure of this good man and soldier of the Cross, but this sorrow will be changed into a benediction, as in loving appreciation we are reminded of the fine christian life of this minister of Jesus Christ.

He is fallen, this "grand old man" of Kingsburg. Through his life we have learned to know God better.

The funeral services were held in the Kingsburg Methodist Church, with the pastor, F. A. Lundberg, in charge. He was assisted by the following ministers: C. H. Sundstrom, J. H. Levedahl, G. E. Kallstedt, O. W. Ostrom, and Abel Eklund, his friends since the early days of his ministry, and former members of the Swedish Mission Conference. Interment was made in the beautiful Kingsburg Cemetery.

"Servant of God, well done!
Rest from thy loved employ;
The battle fought; the victory won,
Enter thy Master's joy."

F. A. LUNDBERG.

G. S. UMPLEBY

G. S. Umplesby was born on September 19, 1849. His college work was done in Mt. Union College in Ohio where he was graduated with the class of '76. He continued his training at Boston University School of Theology and took his degree there in 1878.

The same year he was married to Izina Cole of Smithfield, Ohio, who had been a classmate at Mt. Union. With his bride he went as a missionary to Mexico where they spent four years before taking work in the United States. During their sojourn in Mexico, George Stewart was born to them but died at the age of 18 months. Two other children were born to them, Joseph Betram, in 1883, and Acha May, in 1887, both of whom are living. The former is a geologist in Norman, Oklahoma. The latter, Mrs. E. B. Wilkinson, makes her home in Reno, Nevada. In 1889 the mother slipped away to rest.

Upon returning from Mexico in 1883 Brother Umplesby took a managerial position with the Methodist Book Concern for about 2 years. A nervous breakdown sent him to a ranch in southern California. By 1887 his health had improved so that he entered the Southern California Conference, serving charges at Lordsburg, Ensenada, Plano, and Hanford.

In 1901 he was married to Elizabeth Thornborrow of Belmont, Ohio. This union was broken by death in 1924.

Ill health forced him to take the supernumerary relation in 1891 and the retired relation in 1896. In 1907 he came to Escondido to make his home.

On June 18, 1935, the Father to whom he had dedicated his life in youth said, "Come," and he answered the call of the Great Shepherd of Souls. Three days later funeral services were held in Escondido and the earthly house which had lost its tenant was laid to rest by loving hands.

MRS. MAY UMPLEBY WILKINSON.

MRS. GEORGE COCKING

Laura Lee was born in Wabash County, Indiana, July 30, 1863. Her family, of Revolutionary stock, came from Virginia. They moved to Indiana before the Civil War, and her father fought in the Union army.

As a child she was always religious, but when a young woman she was converted to God, and united with the Methodist Episcopal church in Huntington, Indiana. Possessed of rare talents, she was soon sought out for definite christian work in the Church and Sunday School, and a life of intense interest for Christ and His Church was in the making.

While teaching school in Colorado, she became acquainted with George Cocking, who shortly afterward was admitted into the North Indiana Conference on trial, and the same year, 1893, they were married and began their life together at Coesse, Indiana.

Mrs. Cocking proved herself well fitted for the task that they had undertaken together, both in the church and the home.

Two children were born to this union, but both preceded her in death, one passing in infancy, the other, Ezra James, passed to his reward at the age of 24 years, during his father's pastorate at San Jacinto in 1917.

Because of a break in health, the family came to Southern California Conference, the transfer being effected in 1905. And since coming to Southern California ten charges have been served by this splendid couple, and in every charge Mrs. Cocking won her place in the hearts of the people they served, both within and without the church, through her happy disposition and religious zeal.

At her funeral many former parishioners and friends came from long distances to pay the last tribute of respect to one whom they had loved through the years.

For some time before her departure she was conscious of the fact that her work was done. She was ready and anxious to meet her Lord. Death to her was the shining gateway to eternal glory. She fell asleep in Jesus on the 29th day of January, 1936. A very impressive service was conducted in the First Methodist Episcopal church, Riverside, the Rev. B. D. Snudden, her pastor in charge, assisted by the Rev. Frank A. Leak, and the Rev. J. Lewis Gillies. She was laid to rest by the side of her son, Ezra, in beautiful Evergreen Cemetery, Riverside.

She is survived by her husband and two sisters, Mrs. Margret Kline, of Seattle, Washington, and Mrs. Vivian Beaver of Wabash, Indiana.

"There is no death. The stars go down
To rise upon some fairer shore,
And bright in Heaven's jeweled crown
They shine for evermore."

FRANK LEAK.

MRS. BENJ. C. CORY

Caroline Elizabeth (Ward) Cory, widow of the Rev. Benj. C. Cory, daughter of Philip and Martha (Chaney) Ward, was born in Athens County, Ohio, August 30, 1854. On her father's side she was descended from good Philadelphia Quaker stock, and on her mother's side from John and Priscilla Alden of Mayflower fame. These high strains of good blood, united by marriage in the stirring days of Ohio's pioneer history, could but produce a family of sturdy and gifted character. Nine children were born, the fifth being the daughter Caroline Elizabeth. While she was still very young, the family, spurred by the general westward urge of those days, left their comfortable home in Ohio, and migrated to the new state of Wisconsin, locating at the village of Cadiz. The Civil War followed shortly and the father and two older sons enlisted in the Union Army, the father, after only a few months of service, having been sent home to die.

The widow, with the indomitable courage of her Pilgrim ancestry, bravely took over the responsibilities for the family. Assisted by her sons, she established a home on a small farm, and managed to give her children the benefit of the meager educational advantages afforded in a pioneer region. The family were Methodists, and Caroline, with one of her brothers, attended Lawrence University at Appleton, Wis., for a time in its early days. Later, three sons and three daughters attended Cornell College, at Mt. Vernon, Iowa, another Methodist school, from which two sons graduated, one into an eminent career as a minister, and one to an honorable life as a lawyer. The other sons became successful business men.

About 1875 the mother removed from Wisconsin to Mt. Vernon, where she made her home until her death. There, in the autumn of 1878 the writer of this sketch first met Caroline Ward and her future husband, Ben C. Cory, as students at Cornell College, and a life-long, intimate friendship resulted. They were married Oct. 2, 1879 at Mt. Vernon and for 8 years served very efficiently together in the ministry in the Upper Iowa and the North-west Iowa annual conferences. They transferred to the Southern California conference in 1887, three years subsequent to the coming of this writer, and partly by his influence.

They had a most useful and happy ministry in important charges here until the decease of the husband in Sept., 1931. In all these fields it was the writer's great privilege to have had close association with them, often being a guest in their home for days at a time, assisting them in their work. From this close up view of Mrs. Cory as wife, mother, and help-meet to her husband, her remarkable qualities became well known and most sincerely appreciated. She was a very unusual woman, a saint of God if ever there was one.

With the quiet, strong traits of her Quaker and Puritan ancestry, she combined the beautiful patience and unvarying gentleness which only come from a deep religious experience; a calm faith that met all difficulties with a smile because she "knew in whom she had believed", as did Paul; and the "love that beareth all things, hopeth all things, believeth all things", was in her heart.

The church people always loved her, her children revered her as the embodiment of motherly devotion and tenderness, and "the heart of her husband did safely trust in her". What greater crown can woman-hood wear; God gave her His coronation when He called her to himself on Nov. 26, 1935.

Her memory is sacred to her children, Miss Mabel Cory, City Librarian, San Pedro; Mrs. Thomas McDougall, Santa Barbara; Mrs. William Brewster Park, San Pedro, and Arthur Cory, City Engineer, Inglewood, and six grandchildren. Also, her eldest sister, Mrs. Mary Deniston, living at South Pasadena, and her youngest brother, William A. Ward, living at 2315 West 20th St., Los Angeles, holding her in hal-lowed affection. "She hath chosen the better part which shall never be taken away from her."

GEO. W. WHITE.

MRS. A. S. HALE

Florence May Dale, daughter of William and Mary Jones Dale was born May 25, 1867, near Iowa Falls in Harden County, Iowa.

At the age of five she went with her parents to Brookings, South Dakota, where they homesteaded for three years and then returned to Iowa, when she became a graduate of the Iowa Falls High School. After that she attended and graduated from the Valparaiso Indiana University. Upon completion of her college course she experienced splendid success as a teacher. She also became an expert newspaper writer and was the author of several widely read articles.

In 1893 she was united in marriage to Rev. A. S. Hale, and became the fond mother of four children, two of whom preceded her to the "home overthere". Frederick in 1908 and Dorothy in 1934. John is principal of the Mesa Union High School, Mesa, Arizona and Bryant a teacher in the Elsinore, California, public schools.

Mrs. Hale was a devout Christian of the practical kind. One who loved people and took great pleasure always in helping others. Her ability and her disposition made her an ideal ministers' wife. She always rendered fine service in teaching classes of young people in the Church School. Many young people came to her for private instruction. With her husband in the charges they served, some of them prominent churches in Methodism, she proved herself a true and faithful servant of Jesus Christ.

When they retired and sought rest of mind and body from the exacting duties of the ministry, she found it not, until in a short time she found it in "That rest that remains for the people of God." Among her last words were, "Father, is there any room in heaven? I am coming home today". Thus she verified the statement of John Wesley, when he said, "Our people die well".

The fitting text used at her funeral was, "She openeth her mouth with wisdom and her tongue is the law of kindness".

Report of Resolution Committee Liquor Traffic Resolutions

Whereas: The Church of Jesus Christ always has proclaimed its interests in the welfare of entire man and believes fully in Christ's teachings and examples, advocating human brotherhood, and deplores the fact that many who profess the name of Christ have been the oppressors of their fellowmen.

Now, be it resolved by the Southern California Conference Brotherhood in Annual session at Long Beach, California, that we affirm our belief in the right of every human-being to receive a proper share of worldly needs and to be made secure from privation in food, clothing, home education and pursuit of happiness. To that end we call on our State and National leaders in Legislation, in industry and in all economic business life to bring about a better system of production and distribution of daily necessities, shorter working hours for labor, better provision of the use of leisure time and greater control of the destructive forces now active in our Social Order.

Whereas, the Beverage Liquor Traffic has grown to such enormous proportions and assumed such arrogant disregard of all regulations for its control, depriving children and parents alike of life's essentials for comfort and happiness.

Now be it resolved by the Southern California Conference Brotherhood in Annual Session today, June 22, 1936, that we hereby reaffirm our undying enmity to the alcoholic traffic and pledge ourselves anew to a continual vigorous warfare for its extermination and ultimate destruction from country and the entire world and we hereby declare our never ending enmity to the Liquor Industry in whatever form it may appear, and pledge ourselves to total abstinence.

Social Service Platform Resolutions

Resolved, that we do hereby endorse the Social Service Platform adopted by our recent General Conference that convened this year in Columbus, Ohio, and adopt it as the expression of our attitude upon the Economic, Social and Industrial situation in the United States of America today.

Use of First Baptist Church, Caretakers work, Director of Music and Musicians, Floral Decorations—Mr. Frank J. Brejcha, Asst. Auditor, Long Beach.

President Wray Andrew asked all newly elected officers to stand so that the audience might see them. He also thanked the outgoing officers and the Conference officers whom had worked with him in the past year, for their cooperation during the year.

The meeting was adjourned until the Evening Session.

EVENING SESSION

The Banquet was held in the Masonic Temple at 6:30 p.m. About 275 people were seated at the tables, representing Brotherhood delegates, visitors, pastors and wives from all parts of the Southern California Conference. Among the visitors were five members of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. Rev. Aker of the South Church brought the invocation.

After the meal the program was opened by the Conference President, Wray Andrew, who introduced the song leader, John King. Mr. King led in a community sing which was greatly enjoyed by everyone. Mr. Rolla Alford, director of the choir of the First Methodist Church of Long Beach, entertained in the singing of three vocal numbers. Prior to and during the meal an orchestra from the Belmont Heights Methodist Church of Long Beach played background music, winning a hearty applause.

Mr. Andrew introduced the Toastmaster of the evening, Mr. John Yates. Mr. Yates delighted his audience with a ready flow of wit and humor. The Toastmaster introduced the speakers. Bishop Baker of the San Francisco Area brought a forceful message on the subject, "An Ideal Layman". J. Russell Throckmorton, Secretary of Men's Work, addressed us on the subject of "The Significance of the Laymen's Work in the Church." The close attention and hearty applause of the auditors reflected the acceptance of the scholarly addresses.

GEO. E. FAIRES, Secy.

WOMAN'S DAY MEETING

The Auditorium of the First Methodist Episcopal Church was well filled on Thursday afternoon when the Conference Women's organizations held their annual anniversary service.

In the absence of Mrs. L. F. Sedgwick, Conference President of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, Mrs. George R. Gross, Conference Vice-President, called the meeting to order.

Mrs. B. Dudley Snudden led a very impressive devotional service. The Morning Choral Club, singing several numbers, under the direction of Rolla Alford, was greatly enjoyed.

Reports of the three organizations were given by Mrs. E. M. Edler, Corresponding Secretary of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, Mrs. C. F. Van de Water, President of the Federated Woman's Aid Societies, and Mrs. Cora M. Cassill, Corresponding Secretary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society.

The address of the afternoon was given by Dr. Oswald W. S. McCall, pastor of the First Congregational Church, Berkeley. His message on "Inspiration of the Unfulfilled," gave a new vision of the possibilities and opportunities for service by Christian women.

MRS. CORA M. CASSILL.

WOMAN'S AID FEDERATION

An enthusiastic group of women gathered in the First Christian Church of Long Beach for the annual meeting of the Conference Woman's Aid Federation, Thursday, June 25, with the President, Mrs. C. F. Van de Water, presiding.

Meeting opened at 9:45 with a lovely song service led by Mrs. Earl Dickens with Mrs. J. W. Patterson as accompanist.

A very spiritual message was presented by Mrs. R. A. Young, using 1st Corinthians, fourth chapter.

Mrs. Van de Water was the recipient of a beautiful corsage from her Board as an expression of its great appreciation of her.

Mrs. L. C. Toney, Welfare Chairman, presented Mrs. Elaine Dudley of the Goodwill Industries and Miss Katherine Higgins of the Plaza Community, each expressing her gratitude for their interest in their work and urged a continuance of cooperation.

Wonderful reports were made of the year's work, showing an advance along all lines, especially in philanthropic work, calls made and the spreading of good cheer. These were given by the District Presidents: Fresno District, Mrs. Julius Hansen; Long Beach District, Mrs. G. L. Mowry; Los Angeles District, Mrs. O. J. Hill; Pasadena District, Mrs. David Wood; and San Diego District, Mrs. M. Lamont. The following were elected to serve the Federation as officers for 1936-1937: President, Mrs. C. F. Van de Water; 1st Vice President, Mrs. S. N. Bisbee; 2nd Vice President, Mrs. R. A. Young; Recording Secretary, Mrs. M. Lamont; Treasurer, Mrs. F. C. Onion; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. G. N. Parsons; Historian, Mrs. Geo. Frampton, and Parliamentarian, Mrs. R. O. Taylor.

The report of the Corresponding Secretary showed 281 Aids in the Conference with a combined membership of 16,019; calls made, 297,616; Goodwill bags, 22,403; bouquets, 81,627, and receipts, $135,796.25.

A challenging message was given by Dr. Ira Landrith to the womanhood of today—to live and vote for the home.

MRS. C. F. VAN DE WATER, President.

MRS. G. N. PARSONS, Secretary.

MINISTERS' WIVES' ASSOCIATION

The 1936 activities-at-Conference of the Ministers Wives' Association were confined to one meeting which was held in the Y. W. C. A. beginning at 9:30 on Saturday morning, with Mrs. Glenn R. Phillips, our president in the chair. The hymn, "What A Friend We Have in Jesus", was sung and Mrs. George B. Cliff led in prayer. After the secretary's and treasurer's reports had been read and accepted, the officers for 1936 were asked to stand for introductions. The report of the Nominating Committee which was read for which the secretary was instructed to cast a unanimous ballot, was as follows: President, Mrs. George Root; Vice President, Mrs. Carl Allen; Secretary, Mrs. J. D. Van Buskirk; Treasurer, Mrs. Joseph Thompson; Resolution Committee, Mrs. Lois Fiske, Mrs. H. K. Holtzinger, Mrs. Mardiros Stone, Nominating Committee, Mrs. Harold Preston; Mrs. W. A. Matson, Mrs. L. C. Kline.

After being presented with a bouquet of red roses, in appreciation, our Bishop's wife, Mrs. James Chamberlain Baker, speaker of the occasion said in part.

"The church, in which all of you are so vitally interested, is being accused of harboring "reds" We must be sure that we are not misleading by definitions. We must be ready to define, with no uncertain sound, our policies, and in such a manner as to leave no doubt in the minds of those whom we influence, but that our concern is for the under-privileged and trodden-upon but with a Christ-like attitude toward all men and situations Mob rule in these United States takes one life every three days Let us not sow the dragons teeth.

While traveling in foreign countries last summer, we were impressed by the evidences of hate and the constant use of that word throughout Europe. Of the three outstanding revolutionary governments in Europe, Communism, Fascism and Naziism, the one showing the greatest glimmering of hope and promise is that in Russia. What kind of religion is the opiate of the people? is being asked and the Russians show promise of some day being willing to differentiate between religions and not class all alike Let's not let Russian youth have all the fun building a new world. Let us realize anew our responsibility as persons of influence and leaders in our communities."

The group was impressed by the evidence of careful preparation and deep conviction in Mrs. Baker's talk.

The following report of the Resolutions Committee was read and accepted:

1. For the many courtesies extended us by our gracious host, Dr. Merrill and his able assistants, Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Kent, as well as the hardworking office force, the musicians, committees, organizations and janitors, we wish to express our sincere appreciation and thanks.

2. We wish to extend special thanks and appreciation to our own Mrs. Merrill, who has so endeared herself to us during the years she has been our hostess. The loveliest affair of each Conference has been the delightful Friday afternoon tea she so graciously has given us in her home.

3. To Mrs. Glenn R. Phillips, our president and her corps of officers we wish to express our sincere thanks for the year's work.

4. We desire to express our thanks to our hostess Church, the Christian Church and the Y. W. C. A. for the use of their buildings.

5. Again we are privileged in having our charming Mrs. Baker with us and wish to express our joy in her speech, her graciousness and her inspiring presence.

6. We wish to extend a whole-hearted welcome to the young women who are just entering this sisterhood of minister's wives and resolve to lose no opportunity to help make their parsonage life full and happy.

7. We rejoice with those parsonage folk who have been blessed with new babies during the past year.

8. Our prayers and sympathy go out to those whose homes have been bereft of their dear ones during the past year.

9. May we, as parsonage women, go forth into the next year to serve more faithfully Him who came, "not to be ministered unto but to minister". May we be loyal in the tasks which confront us. May we trust more implicitly in our Master and exemplify Him more. Thus may we be of greater assistance in helping the loyal group who seek to hasten the coming of God's kingdom here on earth.

Respectfully submitted,

Mrs. Golder Lawrence.

Mrs. Don S. Ford.

Mrs. Lloyd Taber.

In appreciation of her delightful hostessing during the eight years we have been in First Church, Long Beach, Mrs. R. N. Merrill was presented with a boquet of Talisman roses to which she responded graciously.

The president called on each of the District Superintendent's wives to introduce any brides on her district for our welcome. They also directed our congratulations to new mothers and our condolences to the bereaved loved ones in the parsonage homes of our sisters. Mrs. James Edwin Dunning of the San Diego District told us of the serious illness of little Jean Warner and prayed that the doctors be given skill and the family comfort and assurance.

Letters of sympathy because of bereavement were ordered sent to Mrs. J. W. Robinson, Jr., Mrs. Walter C. Loomis and Mrs. James A. Geissinger. Greetings were authorized to be sent to Mrs. E. W. Stricker, Mrs. Samuel Hughes, Mrs. R. R. Detweiler, Mrs. Gordon Chapman, Mrs. George Steed, Mrs. Daniel Dundas, Mrs. C. B. Dalton, Mrs. Paul Abbey, Mrs. E. E. Marshall, Mrs. F. H. Woodside, Mrs. O. L. Enyeart, Mrs. Harriet Schultz.

Mrs. F. S. Woodcock, oldest member of our group was escorted to the front and by her talk made us feel that to live to be 94 would be a most desirable thing.

We were entertained by a trio of young ladies, who sang a group of songs. These Phoenix girls were Ethel and Jean Malan and their friend Norma Jane Shaw. Mrs. Will Malan accompanied them.

On the motion of Mrs. Kemp Winkler, it was ordered that Mrs. Paul Huebner select a committee to write up a historical resume of the Minutes in the old secretary's book and place it in the new book.

On the motion of Mrs. George B. Cliff, it was ordered that we transfer $20 from our funds to those of the Conference Board of Stewards for use as they deem necessary.

A communication from our last year's president, Mrs. Frank Linder, was read.

After a call for dues to be paid at the door the meeting was ordered

Respectfully submitted,

Eunice A. Broughton,

Secretary.

OUR VETERANS THE RESPONSIBILITY OF THE CHURCH

These men gave themselves to the ministry without stipulation as to financial reward, trusting only in the promise of a "support" from the Church throughout their lives.

Many of them suffered severe losses through non-payment of salaries during their active ministry. Many now are in need of the promised "support".

The beneficiaries of our Conference Claimants funds in The Southern California Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church represent almost 5,000 years of ministerial service.

We are now able to pay them only three-fifths ($3/5$ ths) of their legal claim as established by the law of the Church.

Most of the Old Age Pension measures, now being considered by the law-making bodies of the Country, either definitely exclude Religious and Philanthropic workers from the list of beneficiaries, or hedge the benefits about in such a way as practically to exclude such workers. This throws the responsibility for their care squarely on the Church.

How shall we meet it?

You can help in any or all of the following ways:

- (a) Increase your annual offering to the Conference Claimants fund through your local church, designating the increase as "additional support".
- (b) Make a direct donation to the Southern California Annual Conference Endowment Fund, the income from which to be perpetually distributed to these veterans.
- (c) Write a bequest into your Will naming The Southern California Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church as beneficiary, with the provision that your gift should be put into the Endowment Fund, and the income only to be used for the support of our retired veterans and their dependents.

Further information will be given gladly by Oren B. Waite, Treasurer, Conference Endowment Fund, 125 Marchessault Street, Los Angeles, California.

1. "THE CHRISTIAN LIFE"—No. 279 in the New Hymnal

God of grace and God of glory,
On Thy people pour Thy power;
Crown Thine ancient Church's story;
Bring her bud to glorious flower.
Grant us wisdom,
Grant us courage,
For the facing of this hour,
For the facing of this hour.

Lol the hosts of evil round us
Scorn Thy Christ, assail His ways!
Fears and doubts too long have bound us,
Free our hearts to work and praise.
Grant us wisdom,
Grant us courage,
For the living of these days,
For the living of these days.

Cure Thy children's warring madness,
Bend our pride to Thy control;
Shame our wanton, selfish gladness,
Rich in things and poor in soul.
Grant us wisdom,
Grant us courage,
Lest we miss Thy kingdom's goal.
Lest we miss Thy kingdom's goal.

Set our feet on lofty places;
Gird our lives that they may be
Armored with all Christ-like graces
In the fight to set men free.
Grant us wisdom,
Grant us courage,
That we fail not man nor Thee!
That we fail not man nor Thee!

Save us from weak resignation
To the evils we deplore;
Let the search for Thy salvation
Be our glory evermore.
Grant us wisdom,
Grant us courage,
Serving Thee whom we adore.
Serving Thee whom we adore.

Amen.

2. "SERVICE", No. 454 in the New Hymnal

The voice of God is calling
Its summons unto men;
As once He spake in Zion,
So now He speaks again.
Whom shall I send to succor
My people in their need?
Whom shall I send to loosen
The bonds of shame and greed?

I hear my people crying
In cot and mine and slum;
No field or mart is silent,
No city street is dumb.
I see my people falling
In darkness and despair.
Whom shall I send to shatter
The fetters which they bear?

We need, O Lord, Thy summons,
And answer: Here are we!
Send us upon Thine errand,
Let us Thy servants be.
Our strength is dust and ashes,
Our years a passing hour;
But Thou canst use our weakness
To magnify Thy power.

From ease and plenty save us;
From pride of place absolve;
Purge us of low desire;
Lift us to high resolve;
Take us, and make us holy;
Teach us Thy will and way.
Speak, and, behold! we answer;
Command, and we obey!

Amen.

COMMITTEE STATEMENTS

The Local Entertainment Committee has had real pleasure in anticipating the needs and desires of the members of the Southern California Conference and the laymen who will attend the united sessions this year. We know our joy in serving you will continue throughout the conference. If there is anything we have overlooked, please call it to our attention.

MRS. LUELLA KESLER

Your Conference Program Committee presents this schedule with the hope that it may appeal to the judgment of ministers and laymen alike. A sub-committee on seminars was given power to arrange for the afternoon sessions and also to divide the time of the entire conference. Their judgment was accepted by the general committee. If you have any suggestions along this line, you should see the members of this sub-committee, who are Jesse Lee Corley, chairman, Mrs. Lavina Sedgwick, F. G. H. Stevens, R. A. McKibben, Charles F. Reiche, and J. Stanley Robson. Likewise the general program committee delegated to a sub-committee full power in arranging for the morning devotional period. This sub-committee, composed of Will A. Betts, chairman, Wray Andrew and James Edwin Dunning, did a happy thing in inviting leading pastors of other denominations in the city of Long Beach to bring the messages at the morning devotional period. While we cannot agree to stand for every change that may be suggested, the committee would be happy for amendments that would make for the efficiency and the goodwill of the Conference.

IMPORTANT NOTICES

1. Monday, June 22d, the Conference Brotherhood will meet at 10:00 at the First Baptist Church, Locust Avenue and Fourth Street.

2. Conference Examinations will take place Monday morning at 9:00, and Conference Relations Committee will meet at 3:30 Monday afternoon.

3. The first session of both the Lay Conference and the Ministerial Conference will be the Communion Service at 1:30 Tuesday afternoon, June the 23d.

4. Printed committee reports—Though copies of the reports have been mailed to all members of the Conference, if you have not received yours ask for it at the registration desk when you register. The supply, because of the expense, must be limited, but we wish every delegate and minister to have one.

5. Since all reports have been printed, it is incumbent on all of us to save the time of the Conference from audible reading of reports by committee chairmen. Prepare for Conference by reading the printed reports as thoroughly and carefully as possible.

6. The Amplifier—Again we ask the members of the Conference, both lay and ministerial, who may be addressing the body, to step to the small platform behind the microphone so that all in the body of the church may be able to have a good chance to hear. This should apply to those who make motions or speak to them or who take part in the debate from the floor of the Conference.

7. As last year, Cabinet members have their own private interview rooms approached only through the office of the Associate Pastor on the second floor, Pacific Avenue entrance. The cabinet secretary will make the schedule for seeing the Bishop and the Superintendents. Interview hours daily, except Sunday, by appointment, from 1:30 to 2:30 and from 7:00 to 8:00.

8. The bishop, visiting speakers and board representatives are being entertained at the Willmore Hotel.

9. First Church young people have a refreshment stand in the basement where sandwiches, drinks, and so forth, are served every day except Sunday. Proceeds will help the young people to go to our various institutes.

10. Harry W. White has been asked by the other members of the Conference Program Committee to preside at the evening services. Robert J. Coyne for the 26th year will lead the congregational singing at the meetings. Will A. Betts has been asked to preside at all morning devotional periods.

READ AND OBSERVE

ON ARRIVAL please register immediately at the church office, Pacific Avenue side of the building. Telephone or Telegraph communications may not be delivered unless we have your local residence.

MEAL TICKETS—Only those who have secured tickets for the various meals, announced on another page, will be admitted to the dining halls. Bulletin board announcements will call attention to the deadline for securing such tickets for various events. We believe that this is the only fair plan for all concerned. Please cooperate in it. It will help us if you will get all of your tickets when you register. If they must be returned later, within reasonable limit, you may do so; but it would help us to know how many are to attend the various functions.

ROOMS—For your convenience only, our committee has listed various hotel and apartment accommodations on the inside of the back cover.

RETIRED MINISTERS and their wives (of this Conference) will be entertained on the Harvard plan. Assignments have been made in the order in which replies to our letters of inquiry have been received. If for any reason you have failed to make your request for this entertainment without expense to you, please write to the local entertainment committee immediately on receipt of this program. Deaconesses desiring entertainment should do likewise.

OFFICES AND COMMITTEE ROOMS are marked above the doors. Directory of such rooms listed on page 17.

TELEPHONES—All long distance calls should go through the desk on the first floor lobby, Fifth Street side, where attendants will care for your needs.

INFORMATION DESK is in the Church Office adjoining Pacific Avenue entrance to the church.

READING ROOMS and rest rooms for women are available at the Young Women's Christian Association. For this we are very appreciative.

SUGGESTED PLAN FOR CONDUCTING SEMINARS AT ANNUAL SESSION, SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA CONFERENCE

PREPARED BY J. STANLEY ROBSON

Reasons for Using the Seminar Method:

1. To get as much as possible before the members of the Conference in the time available.
2. To allow for a facing of facts, trends and needs, and the presentation of tested attitudes and appropriate methods.
3. To provide opportunity for members to supplement the matters under discussion and to share their best thought and experience in a cooperative effort to find means of making the church most effective in adjusting to present day situations.

Attitude desired of all during the Seminar:

1. Thoughtful, attentive, cooperative, generous, sharing, friendly, constructive, open-minded, Christian.
2. Team-work: not sides in debate (antagonistic, defensive, resistant).
3. Cooperative search for information vital to intelligent and effective direction of the business of the kingdom.
4. Contributing in thought and word to the building of a finished structure without obstructing or tearing off timbers already laid. (Compare: I Cor. 3:10—As a wise masterbuilder I laid a foundation: and another buildeth thereon. But let each man take heed how he buildeth thereon.)

The Method of the Seminars:

1. Leader: Carefully prepared presentation of the topic with the raising of questions and problems for discussion.
2. Members of Group: Replies to questions, discussion of problems, supplementary statements, constructive questions.

The Procedure in the Seminars:

1. Brief statement by chairman and introduction of leaders.
2. Presentation of theme and discussion by leader appointed.
3. Discussion and continuation of theme by members directed by leader or chairman.
4. Summary or conclusions by leader or chairman.

Regulations and limitations during Discussion:

1. Direction of discussion from the floor by recognition of the usual rights of leaders and chairman to choose and restrict.
2. Of necessity, discussion by any one member must be as brief as possible and limited to two minutes. A person may seek to be recognized a second time if he were not called down by the timekeeper before. Any time discussion lags these restrictions may be disregarded by the chairman.
3. Suggestion: Instead of interrupting a speaker by applause, hold up hand silently to show strong approval.

Recapitulation of Purpose of Seminar:

To find facts, trends, needs and effective procedures for use during the next year.

Composite Scripture keynote:

Seek ye first His kingdom. Be not children in mind: yet in malice be ye babes, but in mind be men. Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong; having the eyes of your heart enlightened, that ye may abound unto the edifying of the Church. (Matt. 6:33, I Cor. 14:20, I Cor. 16:13, Eph. 1:18, I Cor. 14:12.)

OUR APPRECIATION

"SPARKLETT'S—CALIFORNIA'S FINEST DRINKING WATER"—We are greatly indebted to the Sparkletts Water Company for cups and the good water with which they are filled for this week. No better, safer water can be found than Sparkletts. Remember this concern which has helped us so wonderfully this week when you come to order your water.

ACOUSTICON—The Dictograph Products Company with their Los Angeles office at 510 South Spring Street, and their Long Beach office at 2234 E. 4th Street, have provided us a battery of acousticons to aid those who have difficulty in hearing. R. N. Meloney of the Acousticon concern will have a table in the basement to explain the use of the hearing aid to those who may need instruction or who are interested. We are grateful, indeed, for this help toward the enjoyment of this conference week.

THE CONFERENCE PROGRAM—The Convention Bureau of the City of Long Beach has aided us in presenting to you the conference program. Without their assistance a complete schedule would be impossible.

THE WILLMORE HOTEL—The management of the Willmore Hotel has generously assisted in the entertainment of the conference and deserves the patronage of our people.

Mrs. Mary Millner is in charge of Registration and Information.

AN OFFICIAL WELCOME

The City of Long Beach, the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce, the Municipal Convention Bureau, the Los Angeles County Chamber of Commerce, and the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors once again join in extending a hearty welcome to the 61st Annual Session, Southern California Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. We have had the pleasure of entertaining your convention for the past seven years and are proud and happy of the privilege of being host again to such an outstanding organization and so many distinguished guests.

This message of hospitality is echoed by every business, civic, and fraternal organization of the city. Long Beach is keenly alive to her responsibility to convention visitors, and everyone of her approximately 143,032 residents join in this official greeting.

We hope it will be our privilege to entertain your convention again in 1937, and we trust that the pleasant memories of this year's Session will bring you back again next year. We want you to know that there is always a warm welcome awaiting you at "Nature's Convention Metropolis."
